Brown Pleads Guilty

Jurors were dismissed shortly after being empaneled Wednesday, August 14 in District Court of Sutton County, when the defendant in the case, Charles Robert Brown, pleaded guilty to the charge and waived trial by jury.

Brown, 18, was indicted March 18 after being charged with the rape March 17 of an elderly Sonora woman. The attack on the victim occurred at her home.

Sutton County's District Judge, Charles Sherrill of Fort Stockton, presided when the defendant made his plea of guilty. Judge Sherrill has set September 3 as the date when sentence will be passed.

The maximum penalty for the offense of rape in the State of Texas draws a maximum sentence of life imprisonment, or not more than 99 years or less than five years. Brown was represented by court-appointed Attorney Glen Aaron, Jr., of San Angelo. District Attorney Dixon Mahon represented the state in the case.

DES Certification Meetings Set

Briefings which will outline the new Canadian livestock and meat import requirements will be held Thursday and Friday, August 22 and 23, in five major livestock producing areas of Texas. Officials will explain to producers how to certify that their cattle and sheep are diethylstilbestrol (DES) free and eligible for exports to Canada. Attendance at one of these meetings is mandatory if producers plan to sell cattle or sheep now or in the future to Canada. These are the only meetings scheduled.

Because of their involvement in carrying out functions under this agreement, accredited veterinarians, local packers and market representatives are encouraged to attend, as well as producers and feeders. The meetings for importers in this area will be held in San Angelo at Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, located on Highway 87, at 10 a.m., August 22. Those unable to attend may desire to attend the meeting to be held Friday, August 23 at 2 p.m. in Uvalde. The Uvalde meeting will be held at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center. Texas Agricultural Extension Service is charged with the responsibility of conducting the educational meetings in asso-

4-H Food Project Enrollment Set

Enrollment for 4-H food and nutrition projects is now underway, according to Mrs. Jean Holland, County Extension Agent-At-Large. Any youngster who is interested in learning to cook, learn more about nutrition, food buying and menu planning, is invited to enroll by calling the County Agent's office at 387-3101. There is no fee for enrollment and the project is open to youngsters from the third grade up to nineteen years of age.

Adult leaders are also needed to work with boys and girls in the project. Anyone interested in helping is urged to call the County Agent's office, concluded Mrs. Holland.

ciation with officials of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of the USDA. USDA officials explain that in order to export sheep, cattle, or any meat products thereof, to Canada, an owner must certify to the best of his knowledge and judgment that the meat or livestock identified on the certificate have never been fed or implanted with DES and that he has had the livestock in his possession for at least 120 days. Livestock cannot be exported to Canada without his certification. Producers must attend a USDA certification briefing.

U.S. meat plants exporting to Canada must identify and certify specific lots delivered for slaughter as being DES free. Arrangements must be made by the plant to have written certification from the producer or feeder accompany slaughter animals to be used for export of meat to Canada.

In addition, an accredited veterinarian adds his verification to the owner's certification. In the case of meat, the owner certification will be delivered to the inspector-charge at a slaughter establishment before ante-mortem inspection. The inspector must be satisfied that the identity and integrity of lots of livestock are maintained until export shipment arrangements are made.

the sprigs on 18 inch centers. For new lawns or seedbeds, plant on 12 to 18 inch centers," suggests Walla. "Keep unplanted sprigs out of heat and drying conditions. After planting, water the grass thoroughly and keep it watered. Apply a complete fertilizer when the new runners begin to grow.

"Be sure to purchase Floratam sod or sprigs from a reputable nursery since it is hard to distinguish from the common type," advises Walla. "A list of certified Floratam producers is available from your local county extension office."

County Commissioners to Consider Budget

Members of the Sutton County Commissioners Court will meet September 9 at 9 a.m. to consider the budget for 1975, according to County Judge J.W. Elliott.

The meeting will be held at the courthouse.

The weather compiled by Pat Brown

Rainfall for the month, 5.84; Rainfall for the year, 17.64.

City Approves Budget

City Aldermen and newly hired city manager, Bob Nevill, met Monday to approve a budget of $697,265.00 for the coming year.

City representatives approved monies of $177,405.00 for general fund; $466,600.00 for power and light fund; $111,780.00, water fund, and $52,000.00 on the sewer fund, with expected receipts totaling $807,785.00.

Of these city officials expect expenditures of $152,135.00, general fund; $392,010.00, light and power fund; $106,675.00, water fund; and $46,445.00, sewer fund, totaling $697,265.00.

Surplus estimated monies of $110,520.00, council members feel, is not a realistic figure as they can use only current costs in projecting expenses. Costs of materials needed in electrical construction work and sewer and water expansion programs, continue to rise.

CITY TAX RATE

Aldermen set the tax rate at $1 per $100 evaluation, the same as in the past year. Evaluation will also remain the same...45 percent of value.

Air Control Board Advises Council On Problems At City Dump Grounds

Greg Short and Jim Mahon of the Texas Air Control Board of Odessa, met with City of Sonora Aldermen Monday to discuss the problems and the solving of same, of the city's garbage disposal grounds. The representatives had made three previous visits to Sonora regarding the dump grounds and had prior to this visit, found the pits burning. City officials gave assurance that it was not city policy to burn and that city employees were not responsible for setting the fires.

Residents of the city had been advised some time ago that burning at the local dump ground was in violation and were asked not to start fires. Even so, the Sonora Fire Department had to be summoned on a number of occasions to extinguish fires started by persons other than city employees.

Following the first notice that it had become unlawful to burn refuse, the city employed Carl J. Cahill, Inc., to cover pit areas twice weekly in order to meet sanitation requirements and have also pursued other avenues to meet requirements of the pollution board.

Aldermen, at their August 5 meeting, appointed Hershel Davenport to head a committee to look into the possibility of securing additional lands, located further out of the city limits, on which to re-locate the city's disposal ground. It was hoped by city officials at that time, that a member of the County Commission, would serve on the committee. The committee has been unable to purchase any land at this time.

As a result of the Monday visit of the control board representatives, a motion was passed to create an ordinance closing the dump ground except between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. It is hoped this will eliminate unlawful burning.

The ordinance will also set penalties of from $250.00 to $500.00 for person or persons convicted of setting these unlawful fires or for dumping any refuse in an unauthorized place.

West Texas Boys Ranch Sets Horse Sale In Brady August 29

Willard Jordon, 1974 West Texas Boys Ranch Roundup Chairman, has announced a special horse sale will be held in Brady at the Brady Livestock Commission Company on Thursday, August 29, as a special feature of the annual roundup.

"We held our first horse sale in Brady last year and it was quite successful," Jordon said, "we hope with enough advance publicity to have an even better sale this year. I cannot stress the importance of this year's sale too much," the Roundup Chairman continued, "things have been tight for all of us and especially charitable institutions. West Texas Boys Ranch needs your help. You can help by donating that kid's pony you don't want to feed this winter, or any horse, mule, donkey or colt. Miers Johnson at Brady Livestock Commission Company is conducting the sale and will not charge commission on horses donated to the boys ranch.

All boys ranch horses will be sold following the sale of tack and prior to the start of the regular horse sale. All donations to West Texas Boys Ranch, either cash or livestock, are tax deductible, Jordon pointed out. Horses may be delivered to Brady on the day of the sale, or will be picked up in advance if you call West Texas Boys Ranch at (915) 949-1936. Donors may contact their area Wagon Boss if they prefer.

School will begin September 3.

Because of lack of funds for food, there will be a weekly charge of $1.25 per child or $25.00 monthly. The amount must be paid in advance either weekly or monthly. This decision was made and accepted unanimously by those in attendance at the opening meeting of the Advisory Committee and parents, August 13th.

The Sonora Childhood Development Center welcomes a new addition to the staff, Ms. Maria Rivas, curriculum specialist. ### There's A Way

There has never been "a gun control law that works" for the simple reason that law-breakers always find ways to slip around legislation aimed at curbing crime. As one law enforcement official ruefully notes, "Criminals are making a mockery of the 1968 gun-control act by going out and stealing guns." Indeed, the list of stolen firearms in the U.S. is increasing at the alarming rate of over 100,000 annually, according to National Crime Information Center statistics.

"It shows gun laws just aren't practical," says Mr. Ashley Halsey, Jr., editor of the American Rifleman, a publication of the National Rifle Association. "The criminals can get the guns anyway." The true control of crime is not to be found in ant-gun legislation, which infringes upon the constitutional rights of law-abiding citizens to own firearms for sport and the defense of home and business. Instead, there must be more emphasis on hard-hitting laws which concentrate on apprehension and punishment of criminals—not their weapons.

Scarcity Creates Appreciation

The moment something becomes scarce, people want more of it. This truism of human behavior has been demonstrated in some surprising areas lately. Even those colorful squares of paper known as trading stamps have been in short supply as gas-short stations have cut back efforts to attract customers, and supermarkets have dropped stamp giving in place of other business promotional practices such as discounting. This finding of an authoritative nationwide survey shows that, ironically, more people like trading stamps than actually save them.

As one press report comments, "The survey showed an expected decline in the number of households that saved stamps—down to 64 percent in 1973 from 70 percent the year before. But there was an unexpected rise in the number of people who said they liked stamps—up to 71 percent from 66 percent in 1972." In commenting on the rise in the numbers of people expressing a liking for trading stamps, the company making the survey said, "It may be part of human nature that something that is readily available is taken for granted, but as it becomes more difficult to obtain it receives greater appreciation."

It is almost inevitable that, in the light of the facts of public desire for trading stamps, prophets of doom for trading stamp companies will sooner or later have to eat their words. If families want trading stamps, promotion policies of industries and companies will tend to emphasize stamp-giving programs. No private enterprise knowingly violates the natural laws of the marketplace. Those natural laws are the consumers' greatest protection. They are superior to the wisest man-made laws ever devised.

A Nation of Horse Beaters

Senator Dewey F. Bartlett of Oklahoma, in the course of testifying before the U.S. Senate Commerce Committee on the Consumer Energy Act of 1974, commented that, "the current travail of the oil industry can be likened to a horse whose master has ridden it long and hard, without giving it sufficient feed along the way. Then when the animal falters, the master begins to beat it to death because it has failed" him.

The senator's analogy holds a greater measure of truth than the average person realizes. For over a century, the petroleum industry in war, in peace, in depression and prosperity has never failed to produce vital petroleum products when and where needed. Prices have been comparatively low—low enough so that gasoline powers over 100 million automobiles on America's roads and highways, and fuel oil or natural gas is used to heat and power a majority of homes, farms and factories. Principally because it has labored under a handicap of a slow starvation diet of punitive regulatory and tax policies, the industry at last faltered under the impact of the oil import embargo and an avalanche of wasteful environmental strictures. The gasoline shortage arrived, and with it vilification of oil companies.

The Consumer Energy Act has become the club which vote-carrying politicians apparently now intend to use to beat the oil industry to death. The Act provides for the establishment of a Federal Oil and Gas Corporation on the apparent assumption that oil producers are monopolistic. The senator observed, "The fact is that the oil producing industry is highly competitive. There has been no evidence to show that the industry is noncompetitive despite years of study by the Federal Trade Commission and the Department of Justice. Moreover, both the Federal Power Commission and the Supreme Court have stated that the producing segment of the industry is highly competitive." The senator emphasized that the federal government need not become involved in the business of producing petroleum. That function can be fulfilled by private enterprise as history has shown. He observed that, "The government's role is that of being a referee, not a player. If the government is a subsidized participant, its fairness as a referee would be doubtful."

The U.S. should stop behaving like a nation of horse beaters and concentrate on putting the petroleum industry back on the road to good health.

News Letter

By O. C. Fisher

The historic transfer of the presidency from Nixon to Ford was disarmingly quiet and orderly.

I was among a select group of the President's friends who were invited to the White House for a half-hour meeting with Mr. Nixon shortly before his TV appearance. Other Texans included were Omar Burleson, Olin Teague, George Mahon and John Towner.

It was an emotion-packed occasion. The President expressed his everlasting gratitude for the understanding and loyalty that the group had accorded him. Choking up at times, he emphasized that although his family was unanimous in the desire that he fight to the end, he felt that the nation came first and a Senate trial would consume most of his time and that of Congress for a trial which would likely consume six months or more. The country, he said, could ill afford a half-time president and a half-time congress during a very critical period in our history.

Although loyalty to some of his aides during the Watergate melee got him involved in some aspects of the scandal, his culpability was incidental and, at best, allegations of wrongdoing were nebulous and circumstantial. He had a weakness for trusting some people who proved to be untrustworthy.

On the plus side, Mr. Nixon's decisions won the war in Vietnam, obtained release of POW's, and brought a half million American troops home. He performed brilliantly in the Mid-East war to halt fighting and establish the base for a lasting peace in that war-torn area. His initiatives for world peace excelled those of any other American President since World War II.

On the domestic front, he changed the complexion of the Supreme Court by appointing four judicial-minded men to fill vacancies. This must be recognized as one of his major achievements. A true patriot, President Nixon was profoundly devoted to our country, its preservation and its destiny.

Viewpoint

By T. Driskell

There is a matter which it seems should be brought before the community for contemplation and some individual corrective action. I feel that this is a sensible, logical, christian community, otherwise this will not be worth the ink expended on the draft copy. I will concede, avoiding controversial issues is not, and has never been my long suit, so here goes.

The matter I wish to call to your attention amid our over-extended utilities, living space limitations, and general social upheaval, are the social graces known as hospitality and discretion, particularly with regard to the semi-transient human beings associated with the gas boom.

Often, all too often, I have heard them referred to as "Oil Field Trash" and I cannot but feel ashamed for individuals who will not grant other human beings the possibility of being individuals. It must be conceded that in our newer citizens there are some undesirable, but after years of observation, it is hardly avoidable to conclude that our indigenous production runs high enough to raise the question about sweeping in front of our own door.

Looking from another angle, consider the business effect of the boom. How many ranchers drifted from the red into the black with mineral production benefits? Several who probably would not have made it otherwise, so economically we are not hurt, and across the board it would seem in the area of jobs and standard of living the gas boom would seem an unqualified blessing, with some strains to make up for our lethargy of the past two decades.

We must not, however, lump the entire group of production and exploration people, and their families into one lump and degrade it. They are individuals, and among them are as fine a people as I have ever encountered—so look at them, each on his own merits, and treat them according to your sensible evaluation. It would seem the logical course would be to treat them as fellow American guests unless their actions indicate otherwise.

Our community is a little short of recreation facilities for youth, and youth has a certain amount of energy which will be expended, so there will be some difficulties. The young gas field worker represents youth away from home. Before I condemn them, I must look at the individual and remember the natives whom I have had the opportunity to observe away from home—all over the world. I urge you consider each human you meet, native or transient, on the basis of his, or her individual merits. After such a consideration, they will all fall into groups with which you enjoy associating, those you shun, and a large group about which you are non-committal.

After the groups are classified by you on an individual basis—discretion is the cheapest commodity in the world in terms of the social dividends it pays.

As a christian community we must look at an individual as an individual and there is nothing in christian tenets which precludes us giving him a "fair shake". Can we really do less?

The Devil's River Philosopher Sez....

U. S. Needs More Truth - Telling If It's Worked Into Gradually

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on the Dry Devil's River works around the edges of truth-telling, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor: I have about decided maybe that everybody in this country ought to start telling the truth or everybody ought to decide not to believe anybody.

What went on in Washington is one thing, even the revelation that some boy scout leaders were lying about how many boys they had enrolled in order to get more federal money was bad enough, but I guess the final straw came when it was revealed that the new World Football League has lied about how many tickets it sold at its opening games.

According to an article I read the other day, the head of one team announced that 64,179 fans paid their way in to see a nationally televised game, and while there were that many in the stands, only 6,200 actually paid to get in. The rest were given free tickets so the stadium would be packed and things would look good on television.

This leaves a person with no place to turn. If he didn't see the game how does he know the report of the final score is even right? It'll spread everywhere. It's one thing for example to doubt the weather forecast for tomorrow, but to doubt if the figures on how much it rained yesterday are true, leaves everybody floundering.

If we have to take everything that's said or printed with a grain of salt, I'm going to clean up by buying stock in a salt mine.

What the country needs I guess is not only elected officials who tell the truth but ordinary people as well. However we don't want to rush into this too fast. If everybody in government and out started telling the truth all at once it might be too much to believe. We've got to work into this gradually. Personally I won't mind answering truthfully any questions you put to me if you'll let me pick the questions.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

LIBERTY LINES

The Social Security System Is Broke

WASHINGTON, D.C. (LLNS)—For many years the Social Security system has been considered a sacred cow, untouchable except for increasing benefits and carefully raising taxes. Now it appears something is very wrong with the program.

The Social Security System is broke.

It is about two and a half trillion dollars in the hole. This means if no new workers were admitted today, and taxes collected remained the same, and benefits paid only to those already covered, the system would be two and a half trillion dollars short over the next 75 years.

To make it a little more clear, the experts figure the system will be short $20 billion by 1980, and we have a national debt six times larger than estimated.

One Washington legislator, who prefers to remain anonymous, said, "Should the Social Security system be reformed, or be discarded in favor of something else? There's no question, it can't survive long in its present form." It isn't that responsible Americans haven't tried to do something about the Social Security system. Senator Barry Goldwater advocated a re-examination of the funding of the Social Security system during 1964. His opponents branded the Senator as antisenior citizen, anti-widow and anti-American. Regardless of sentiment, he was a prophet.

America's Social Security is verging on becoming America's "social insecurity". One reason is that the system is running out of money. The reason it is running out of money to pay benefits is because some Congressmen decided that their pet projects were more important than the Social Security system. Over recent years Congress has spent billions in and for other countries... while ignoring responsibilities at home. After spending nearly 10 billion in India, it is difficult not to assume some U.S. dollars were used to develop their nuclear bomb.

Nearly $6 billion were spent in the Mideast, where it appears the area is once again on the verge of renewing hostilities. The U.S. subsidized the discontinuance of poppy farming in Turkey at the cost of millions of dollars. Tens of billions were expended in Southeast Asia and the war goes on.

America's productive capacity and her economic system are capable of maintaining a sufficient cash reserve to pay off Social Security claims, if our legislators will consider the needs of their constituents instead of the rest of the world.

Brenda Louise Lee Weds July 28

Mrs. Blackman Hosts Auxiliary

Mrs. James Blackman was hostess August 12 at the fire hall to members of the Sonora Fire Auxiliary.

Attending were members Mmes. Mike Sipes, Vernon Humphreys, Gene West, Carl Teaff, Kyle Donaldson, Joe Renfro, Mollie Hite, Bill Jolly, Louis Olenick and Ervin Williams.

Guests were Mrs. Ann Boyd and Mrs. Carolyn Olenick of San Antonio.

42 was played and Mrs. Sipes was high club winner; Mrs. Humphrey, low, and Mrs. Adkins won the 84 prize.

Monday Night Club Meets

Mrs. Joe Neil Smith entertained the Monday Night Bridge Club at her home August 19. Peach cobbler and ice cream were served.

Attending were Mmes. W. H. Hill, Albert Ward, Clayton Hamilton, Horace Hill, Frank Adkins and guest, Mrs. Don Jones.

Winning high was Mrs. Hamilton; travel, Mrs. Granger, and bingo, Mrs. Adkins.

Brenda Louise Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Morris of Sonora, and Doyle Wayne Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jones of Dublin, were united in marriage Sunday, July 28 at First Baptist Church in Blanket.

The Rev. Charles Johnson, pastor of First Baptist Church in Sidney, performed the double ring ceremony before a background of greenery and a brass heart shaped candelabra filled with an arrangement of fresh white figi pompoms. The heart was flanked on each side by brass candle trees. Satin bows and greenery marked family pews.

Mrs. Gary Don Swearingin of Comanche was organist and Mrs. Kenneth Gibson of Sidney was soloist.

Given in marriage by her step-father, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of ribbed silk organza and Cluny lace, combined with satin jersey. The gown featured a Watteau train of silk jersey. It was fashioned with full sheer sleeves with Cluny lace trim, and featured an empire waist. The bodice and gown front were of ribbed silk organza. Her headpiece of Cluny lace held an elbow length veil of bridal illusion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white mums in which was centered a Cymbidium Orchid corsage.

Miss Linda Lee, twin sister of the bride, was her sister's maid of honor. Bride's matrons were Mrs. Terry Moseley of Brownwood and Mrs. Jimmie Deen of Zephyr. Their dresses were of flocked dotted swiss over satin in pastel blue, pink and yellow. The dresses were designed with an A-line skirt, an empire waist and featured a wide scoop neckline with a circular ruffle and cap sleeves. The attendants carried cascades of spring flowers.

Miss Melissa Jane Henderson of Longview, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress identical to the attendants in pastel blue and carried a basket of spring flowers.

Gary Hall of Sidney was best man. Groomsman were Terry Moseley of Brownwood and Jerold Irish of Dallas. Eric Henderson of Longview, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. Norman Moore and Norman Chandler of Sidney were ushers and assisted Mrs. Jerry Damron of Zephyr in lighting the candles.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Morris chose a beige lace dress and wore a corsage of melon colored Cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother chose a pink dress with a lavender throated Cymbidium orchid.

A wedding reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church immediately following the ceremony.

Rice bags of white and pink net were distributed during the reception.

The bride chose a red and white sheer voile dress, featuring an empire waist with white collar and cape jacket, for her wedding trip.

The bride is employed by a bank in Brownwood and the groom is self-employed. They will reside in Comanche.

Mushrooms Star In A Summer Salad

When the weather gets hotter and hotter, it requires extra ingenuity to dream up appetizing meals. This Hearty Mushroom Vegetable Salad gives off an inviting aroma; teamed with cold cuts or a simple cheese or egg dish it makes an ideal lunch or supper.

Mushrooms give this salad a meaty, satisfying texture tossed with potatoes, zucchini and green peppers or other vegetables from your garden or nearby produce counter. These alternates might be crisp-tender green or wax beans, cucumbers, cauliflower, tomato chunks, spinach or other leafy salad greens.

It's a good idea to marinate the cooked potato chunks in the dressing for at least an hour. The other vegetables — especially the mushrooms — pick up dressing if mixed just before serving.

HEARTY MUSHROOM AND VEGETABLE SALAD

3/4 cup salad oil	1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/2 cup wine vinegar	1 quart potatoes cut into 1/2-inch chunks
1/2 cup chopped scallions	1 pound fresh mushrooms or 2 cans (6 to 8 oz. each) sliced mushrooms
1/4 cup chopped parsley	2 cups sliced zucchini
2 teaspoons salt	1 cup diced green pepper
1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon oregano leaves, crumbled

Combine oil, vinegar, scallions, parsley, salt, sugar, oregano and black pepper; mix well. Cook potatoes in boiling salted water to cover for 15 minutes or until tender; drain; place in a large bowl. Stir oil mixture; pour over potatoes; mix gently; cover and chill thoroughly. Rinse, pat dry and slice fresh mushrooms or drain canned mushrooms. Add mushrooms to potatoes along with zucchini and green pepper; toss lightly. Serve in a lettuce-lined bowl, if desired. Yield: 8 portions.

EASIER WITHOUT THE NET

Why do we enjoy games that make it harder on us? We equip our tennis courts with nets. We line our golf courses with narrow fairways and dot them with sand traps. On a chess board we grant wide movement to only one piece, the queen. In football a team has but four downs to gain the required yardage.

This is because man at his best is innately honest. He demands that his every skill meet reasonable tests. He's convinced there is no satisfaction—no "fun"—without challenges.

Man's religious awareness, which inspires our weekly worship, continually cultivates that innate honesty. Our Christian faith prompts us to develop divine resources of character and commitment. Far more than any game, LIFE tests strength and weakness, rewards achievement not failure.

Texas Blackleg Cases Increasing

Cases of blackleg in cattle are increasing over Texas, according to the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas A&M University. Thus, County Extension Agent D. C. Langford urges cattlemen to take the necessary precautions to protect young animals from the fatal disease. Raising calves without immunization is hazardous, emphasizes Langford. Most cattlemen realize the danger of blackleg and routinely vaccinate their calves. However, some become complacent because they don't hear of blackleg outbreaks and therefore fail to vaccinate. Langford points out that vaccinating calves too early may not prevent blackleg. Calves up to three months of age fail to develop a lasting immunity. Vaccination should be at the age of four months and should be repeated annually until the animal is at least two years old. Before beginning a preventive vaccination program, the county agent suggests a visit to the local veterinarian for advice of disease problems in the particular area. Certain vaccine combinations are available at a relatively low cost that will protect calves from a series of diseases.

Trotline Fishing Requires Control

You have to know more than how to bait a hook and how to set a line if you're going trotlining in Texas.

There are several laws which trotliners must observe. If they don't, they are subject to fines. And their trotlines can be confiscated by game wardens.

Trotline laws regulate the number and spacing of hooks and the length of the trotline. A $1 trotline tag is required for saltwater lines and no artificial baits will be allowed on saltwater lines as of September 1, 1974.

A trotline is defined as a main fishing line constructed of a non-metallic material.

Trotlines are lines with more than five hooks and include rubber band lines and sail lines, all hooks at least three horizontal feet apart. All freshwater trotlines except in Kendall County and non-regulatory counties must be identified with a legible tag, constructed of a material as durable as the trotline, bearing the name and address of the fisherman and the date it was set out. All trotlines which remain in Texas public waters must be redated at the expiration of each 90 day period. No lines must be set in the vicinity of any public boat dock, public bathing pier, public bathing beach or any public place commonly used as a swimming or bathing area.

Trotlines, throwlines and jug lines may be placed in any body of water 500 acres or less lying totally within any state park or in that portion of any stream bordering a state park.

Mrs. Charlotte Wilson, who teaches both high school English and Spanish, confers with a new freshman student who entered SHS for the first time Wednesday when classes for the 1974-75 school year began.

Preparations for the opening of school classes began Monday with school faculty members getting items such as classrooms, books and even clocks, in readiness. Mrs. Gwen Kordzik sets the hall clock by school time while Tally Kelso watches to see the results.

Cattle Feeding Still Depressed

The cattle feeding industry is still in a depressed economic condition, says a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Feedlot losses have continued since last August but daylight is now on the horizon," says Dr. Ed Uvacek. "Some feedlots may already be in the breakeven zone. Unfortunately, much of the equity capital of the commercial feeders has been used, so financing is still a real problem."

As a result, the loss situation of feedlots is now being felt by cow-calf producers in the form of reduced prices for replacement calves. Demand for lightweight calves is extremely low. Feedlots can buy the weight cheaper than they can put it on; consequently they are buying more larger type replacement animals, points out Uvacek.

Two things seem certain, according to the Texas A&M University System specialist. First, cattle numbers on feed as of July 1 will not provide a very large marketing level for the fourth calendar quarter of this year. Uvacek estimates marketings at about 5.5 million head, or 15 percent less than last year. And, placements of cattle into feedlots during the April-June period were down about 29 percent from levels a year ago.

Secondly, a changed attitude toward refilling the lots is necessary before any price strength can develop in the feeder market, notes Uvacek. "This might develop fairly soon if feeders see some profit opportunities, if government guaranteed loans can be made effective rapidly, and if marketing of feeders is not bunched because of drought conditions."

Q. My name isn't Noah, but I know how he felt. A washing machine hose broke, and my beautiful finished basement became filled up with water to a height of eight inches. The damage is around $1,700. At the supermarket, a woman said that my homeowner's insurance policy covers me, but my husband says this is crazy since the water didn't result from a fire. Who is right?

A. Your friend at the market is right. File your claim for the $1,700. Most homeowners policies cover water damage of the kind you describe—even though the water didn't result from efforts to put out a fire!

A Bishop Looks at Life

by Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church

DON'T STOP DREAMING
One of the most influential Americans of the past century was Henry Thoreau of Massachusetts. As a young man he felt the need to go apart and discover for himself the meaning of life. He built a small cabin on the shore of Walden Pond and lived there for two years. Later he reported on this experience in a book called "Walden", published in 1854.

In a notable passage Thoreau wrote: "I learned this, at least, by my experiment: that if one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams and endeavors to live the life he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours... If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. Now put the foundations under them."

I recall these words because there is a serious shortage of dreams in America today. We are in a mood of discouragement, disillusionment, and despair. We feel unsure of our future, both as individuals and as a nation. Now more than ever we need our dreams, our castles in the air, to keep alive our hope and to show us the direction in which to move.

We often make a false distinction between the dreamer and the practical man of affairs. The truth is that all great achievements begin as dreams. As Thoreau points out, when we move in the direction of our dreams we have unexpected success. The goal we set has its own creative power to draw us to itself.

A few days ago, on educational television, I learned the history of the famous Rolls Royce automobile. In the early years of this century two men in England formed a partnership. One named Rolls was the wealthy son of an aristocratic family, fascinated by the new forms of rapid transportation; the other named Royce was an impoverished auto mechanic. The one thing they had in common was a dream; to build the finest motor car in the world. Together they put foundations under this dream, and the result is a matter of history.

Our times call us to renew our dreams. We need to dream about our own lives and what God wants us to be—about our homes and families and what God wants our children to be—about our city and how it can be a happier place—about our nation and the kind of rebirth it needs—about our world and the ways we can build toward peace and brotherhood.
