4-H'ers Shear In Preparation For Carcass Show

34 Sutton County 4-H members sheared 129 market lambs at the Sutton County 4-H Center on Saturday to start the feeding period for the 1975 4-H market and carcass lamb classes. 25 4-H members will feed 40 crossbred lambs and 31 4-H members will feed 89 finewool lambs.

All of the lambs were sheared, weighed, vaccinated, drenched and ear-tagged to start the feeding period which will be concluded on January 6, 1975. The lambs will be weighed and a committee of three judges will select the top 10 finewool and the top 10 crossbred lambs to be slaughtered for the lamb carcass show at this time. The remaining lambs will be shown in regular market lamb classes at the 4-H Livestock Show on January 10. The 20 lamb carcasses will be displayed at the Livestock Show on January 11 prior to the auction sale at noon.

The First National Bank of Sonora sponsors the Lamb Carcass Show and provides two trophies and $300 in prize money to encourage boys and girls to participate in this event.

Claire Langford won second place in poetry interpretation at the Odessa Speech Tournament held Saturday in Odessa. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Langford.

CITY ALDERMEN MEET IN REGULAR SESSION

Members of the City Commission met Monday at the City Hall in regular session to discuss city business and to approve accounts payable.

It was also approved that city employees would have a two day holiday during the Thanksgiving season.

COMING OR GOING? ... It was hard to tell when these two elementary students joined in the spook parade last week prior to the opening of the annual Halloween Carnival. The "onesome twosome" was made up of Eric Neal and Bryan Hunt.

Pedestrian Injured In Hwy Accident

Desiderio Espinoza of Sonora was admitted to Lillian M. Hudspeth Memorial Hospital Sunday evening with head lacerations after he attempted to cross the highway in the 600 block of Southwest Crockett Street. Witnesses on the scene said Espinoza apparently failed to look for oncoming traffic and walked into the side of a stock trailer being pulled behind a pickup. The accident occurred about 7 p.m.

City Police Department officials who investigated the accident, said the vehicle was driven by J. B. Rogers, Jr., of Crane, a contractor, who was headed west at the time of the accident. Hospital officials said Espinoza was released Tuesday.

Merchants To Stay Open Late

Merchants in the downtown area will begin staying open until 9 p.m. each Thursday night for the convenience of their customers who are unable to shop during the day.

This Thursday opening time will begin November 14 and remain in effect until Christmas.

Southerly Extension of IH 27 To IH 10 and IH 20 Feasible

A southerly extension of Interstate Highway 27 to IH 20 and 10 is feasible and necessary, a report prepared by the Texas Highway Department has determined.

Not only that, the extension is wanted. The report, released recently, said seven public meetings were held during the study period with a total attendance of 1,725.

"It is most interesting to note that although hundreds of people attended the various meetings, not one word of opposition to the proposed project was voiced," the report said.

In fact, the report said the key question is not "Should this highway be built?" but "Where should it be built?"

The study was undertaken as a result of special provisions included by Congress in the 1973 Federal-Aid Highway Act. Ten proposed additions to the IH system nationwide were singled out for study in the act. Only the IH 27 extension had no special route prescribed by Congress.

In all, 23 routes were proposed by various members of the regional communities in a broad area of Texas. The Highway Department study said examination of all the routes indicated that any of the routes would be feasible. The various proposed routes intersect with IH 10 at points ranging from Ozona in West Texas to Houston on the Gulf Coast.

"The 23 proposed routes are spread across many miles of the midriff of the state, but all routes would serve a large area," the report states. "In the final analysis, the people at the meetings were in agreement that more important than the location was the need for the project.

The extension would serve many needs. The Panhandle - Plains and Central Texas are among the most important areas in the production of beef, cotton, grain sorghums and oil and gas products, the report said. Since beef, cotton and grain are among the most important of Texas' exports, the need for economical and safe highway transportation is apparent.

The report said the route would better serve important military installations as well as educational institutions throughout the region. It would also benefit the growing tourist industry in Texas. Each of the 23 proposed routes was studied in detail. Included were route lengths and an analysis of facilities along the routes which might be incorporated to some extent in an Interstate-type highway, as well as facilities along the present routes which are deficient for present traffic. The analyses also include estimated costs.

"Initial review has revealed no adverse or detrimental impact of the proposed project," the report said. "The impact of extending Interstate 27 should be beneficial to residents of the entire regional community."

Something new has been added to the Bronco Fieldhouse -- a bucking Bronco -- symbolic of the Sonora football team. Mrs. C. F. [Maxine] Browne was busy last week painting the Red Horse on the fieldhouse and fans at the Friday night game were quick to notice the eye-catching addition.

Hunters Making Ready For Opening of Season

Sunrise Saturday, November 16 marks the opening day of hunting season in the state of Texas and hunters from all over the state have already begun to make ready their vehicles and equipment in preparation for bringing home that big one they've been dreaming about all year.

The local Chamber of Commerce has been receiving requests for hunting leases and day hunting facilities in the county since early January. According to Chamber officials, very few day leases have been made available through information to the local office.

The annual hunting season in Sutton County runs through January 1 and any licensed hunter may take his quota of three deer of either sex, but no more than two bucks. Antlerless deer permits were issued to landowners or their agents at the courthouse on November 6.

According to game biologists of the Edwards Plateau, deer hunters this year will have to work to get their quota as good range conditions and abundant feed will eliminate the need for the deer to seek forage.

Turkey season comes during the deer hunting season and these birds may be hunted the same as deer. From thirty minutes before sunrise until thirty minutes after sunset. Licensed hunters may kill two turkeys...either gobblers or hens.

Local game warden Nolan Johnson reminds those persons who are owners or acting as managers of any hunting preserve or resort that they should obtain a license from the Game and Fish Commission and are required to keep an accurate record of each guest or member or be subject to fine.

The annual hunting party to be held November 19 is being sponsored by the Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association, the local Lions Club and the Sonora Chamber of Commerce.

Speaker for the event this year will be Mr. Charley McTea of San Antonio who hosts the Outdoor Texas Radio Show.

McTea is a native Texan and is an avid hunter and fisherman. He is a life-time member of the National Rifle Association and a member of the Hill Country Casting Club and Trout Unlimited.

All local and visiting hunters are invited to attend this annual event where they will be served an evening meal and be eligible for valuable door prizes.

Fur Trappers Reminded To Obtain License

Local game warden Nolan Johnson said Monday that he is in the process of obtaining trapper's licenses. This type of license has been unobtainable in this county heretofore.

Any person, Johnson added, who intends to trap wild animals for hides, must have a license or be subject to penalty by fine.

Persons desiring a trapping license should contact Johnson for more information.

Broncos Win Over Owls

The Sonora Broncos won 21-0 over the Reagan County Owls Friday night at Bronco Stadium to remain undefeated in district 7AA play.

The Broncos took over on their own 40 yard line for their first possession of the night and drove down to the Owl 10 where the drive was stopped by a fumble. The next time the Broncos had the ball, a holding penalty stopped the drive deep in Owl territory.

Well into the second period Curt Mooney intercepted an Owl pass on the Bronco 49 yard line. Good runs by David Snodgrass and Larry Kirby carried the Broncos to the 12 where quarterback Paul Browne hit Scooter Surber in the end zone for six points. John David Cook added the extra point giving the Broncos a 7-0 lead with 3:45 left in the half.

After half time activities, Larry Kirby returned the kick-off to the Big Lake 35 yard line and the Broncos needed only six plays to score their second touchdown of the night. The score came on a one yard plunge by Browne which was set up by an 11 yard pass from Browne to Hector Perez. Cook added the PAT just four minutes into the third quarter making the score 14-0.

The Owls returned the kick-off back to their own 30 and drove to midfield where a fourth down attempt for short yardage failed and the Broncos took over.

The Owl defense held and forced the Broncos to punt. An Owl receiver fumbled the punt and the Hicks brothers, Clay and Lindsey, covered the ball on the nine yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Juan Perez blew off right tackle for the final touchdown. Cook added his third extra point, making the score 21-0.

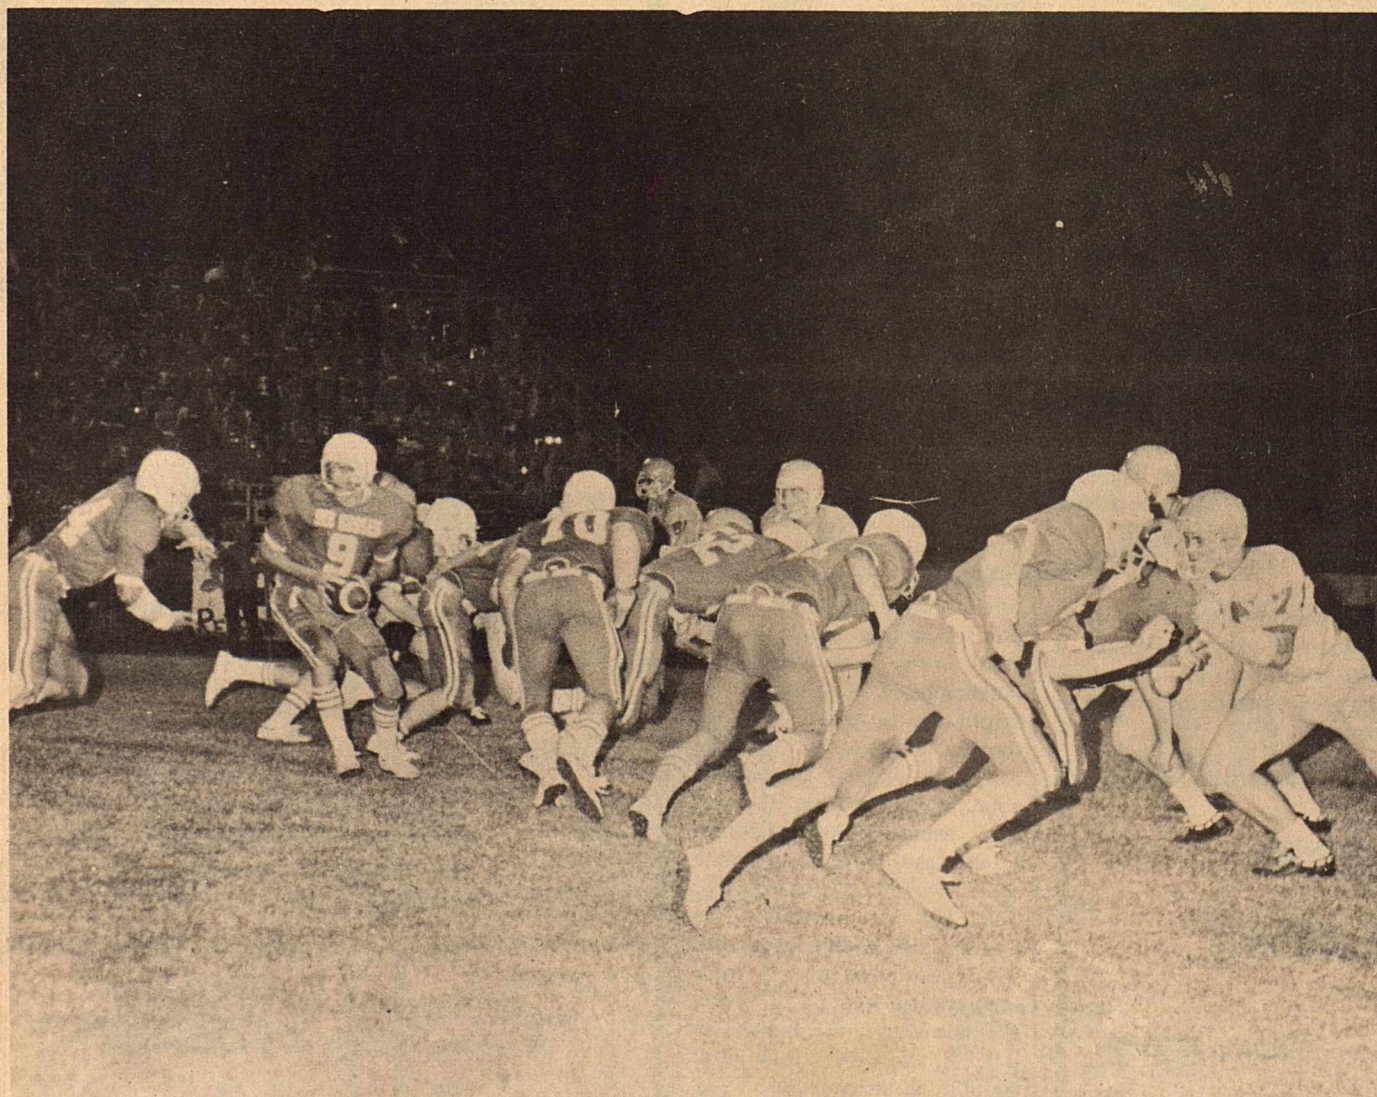

This win ties the Broncos with McCamey for district honors. The Badgers will play Big Lake next week in Big Lake, while the Broncos have an open date.

Should McCamey win over Big Lake, this will set the stage for a final season game between Sonora and McCamey on November 15 in McCamey to determine district championship.

The most effective single force in building a good community is a good newspaper

Cause of It All

As everyone knows by now, 1975 cars are going to cost approximately $400 to $600 more than this year's model. You, as the great American consumer and decider of the fortunes of all elected politicians in Congress and elsewhere, are really to blame.

You voted in senators and representatives who obeyed your will and passed air quality laws so stringent as to be almost unenforceable. In the name of environmental preservation, each 1975 car will bristle with expensive, gas-consuming antipollution devices. Part of the several hundred dollars of increased new car cost is nothing more than inflation. But you voted for the congressmen and presidents who authorized massive federal spending programs and budget deficits that caused inflation and cut the buying power of the dollar.

It is your fault and mine. Isn't it time the American people made the best of their bad judgment, changed their voting habits, quit griping and enjoyed their $6,000 compact cars?

Hurricane George

It had to happen someday, but was anyone really prepared for "men's lib"? It seems the struggle for sexual equality has now assumed a new meaning for American males.

In response to the women's liberation movement, many men are taking a second look at traditional "female jobs." The Equal Opportunity Commission reports that male charges of sex discrimination are on the rise, and some men are stepping into new careers as nurses, airline stewards, clerical personnel and telephone operators. Some groups feel that divorce laws must be revised because they are unfair to ex-husbands. Indeed, the entire concept of masculinity is being challenged.

Where it will end is anyone's guess, but don't be surprised if your newspaper someday carries an article deploring the destruction evoked by Father Nature as "Hurricane George" roared in off the Gulf of Mexico-it will only be men's lib at work.

Who Failed... Me?

"Have you ever failed?" asks a publication of Kansas Power and Light Company. It continues, "All of us probably have at one time or another. Maybe you have tried to improve your spelling or golfing ability, but the harder you tried, the less progress you made. Finally, you admitted defeat. Don't feel too badly about your mistakes.

Even successful people have left trails of failures behind as they climbed the ladder to the top. The difference between successful and unsuccessful people, however, is that successful people learn from their experiences. You've probably heard the saying, 'If you never made a mistake, it's because you never did anything.' It's true. You have to risk failure to get ahead. Next time you fail, don't blame your troubles on the world. Instead, set your goal and work toward it.

Of course you'll make mistakes along the way, but learn from them and keep trying. Success isn't being 100 percent right. Success is only a favorable balance between achievement and failure. Remember Babe Ruth hit 714 homers, but he also struck out 1,330 times doing it."

Watch Those Feet!

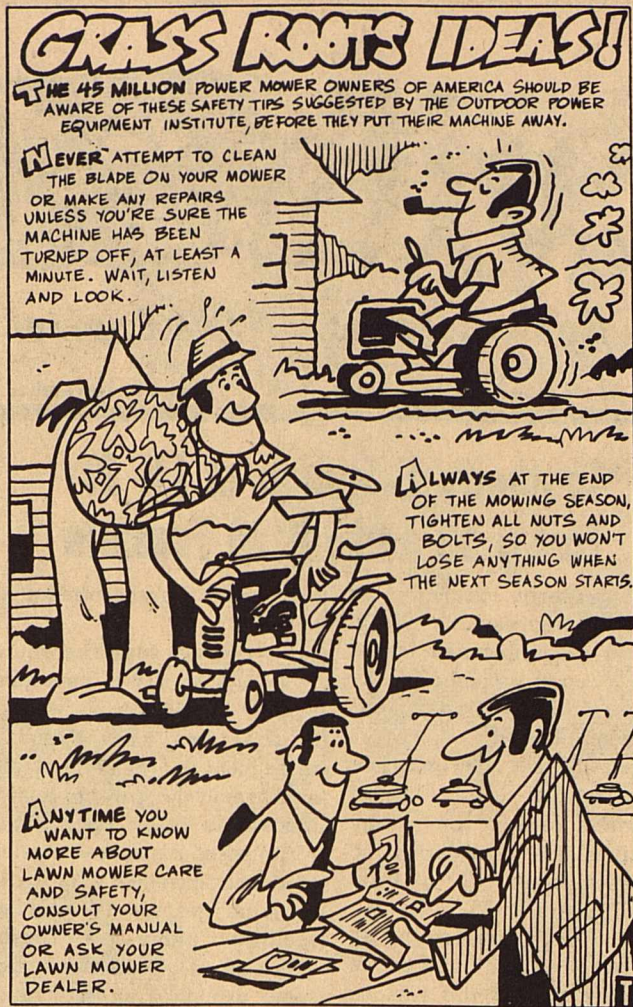

Would you believe that a man was shot to death in Detroit, Michigan, because he had bad smelling feet--at least in the opinion of the "friend" who plugged him when he took his shoes off? According to an Associated Press dispatch this actually happened and was duly noted in police records as a homicide precipitated by "allegedly odoriferous feet."

The news story notes that Detroit saw 751 killings in 1973, with the 1974 murder pace running 27 percent above last year's record rate. Most of the murderers and their victims are acquainted and local residents. Both perpetrator and victim are generally black males, about half of them single and 40 percent unemployed. Guns figure prominently in the killings, and gun control has been suggested as a remedy. Plainly, this is ridiculous. The problem is a social one that will not be solved simply by outlawing firearms. After all, anyone willing to kill another person so casually will not hesitate to devote all his resources to buying an illegal gun at a high price in order to retain his position as big man on the block. And there are plenty of criminal elements eager to enter the lucrative illegal gun trade. For those financially embarrassed, there will always be a knife, an ice pick, a club or a handy brick or baseball bat.

Social problems of such magnitude will not succumb to simplistic answers. Nothing less than new opportunities and deep-seated cultural change is likely to change the outlook in a neighborhood where you can get shot for taking off your shoes.

Viewpoint

By T. Driskell

It is seldom that I find myself in agreement with Angela Davis and Jane Fonda, so rarely in fact that it might be well to look at the area of agreement and the perspective of viewpoints.

The Puerto Rican liberation movement claims credits for the several bombs detonated in New York and the two naive anti-Americans appeared in support of the liberation movement. They, and the liberation movement for that matter, have an extremely short-sighted viewpoint where liberation is concerned. The only thing that can be said in their collective favor is that the timing of the bombs was chosen to minimize human casualties. Liberation of Puerto Rico? Let us look at it because its denial represents a tremendous rip-off of the American taxpayers, as usual for the benefit of a select few.

Puerto Rico, as a commonwealth in conjunction with the United States, is not too impressive as a piece of real estate. It is a lush tropical island of 3,435 square miles. Fine, until you superimpose upon it a population of 2,403,000 plus fourteen years of a reproductive rate you would not believe. Almost 700 people per square mile -- nasty arithmetic. Due to a surplus work force, wages and living costs are much lower than the continental U. S. Lying within U. S. territorial area, both its products and people are admitted to the U. S. without restriction or control.

Lower labor costs, tax write-offs and duty free shipment to U. S. markets -- a real industrial sugar plum. U. S. industry pounced on it like the proverbial feline on the catnip. A plus value for including and retaining the island in commonwealth status, very succulent to industrial profits, for comparatively very few people. Like so many sugar plums, it has turned sour. Our cities with their relief funds are a lucrative lure for the surplus population of Puerto Rico. Result, American cities have become an open disposal pit for Puerto Rico's population offal. Not a useable skill in a car load, but only an eager gulping maw for relief funds -- a burden the taxpayer neither requested nor in any sense of justice should be asked to bear -- still it goes on.

If you like figures, take the basic New York relief data, the cost of sustaining a family in Puerto Rico, and compute how many children a man would have to sire to allow him to fly round trip to New York and collect his welfare check, then return to Puerto Rico and live it up. Arriving at your figures -- check the people from Puerto Rico deploping in the last week of the month, and departing the first week of the month. We are left with the question -- are that many playing the game?

Looking at the sociological problems, the welfare fund drain, and the growing tide, the benevolent social curiosity of "West Side Story" is a little nauseous. The only real plus is as a military base, but in the days of ICBM's, missile launching subs and other modern sophisticated weaponry; is it that real? Is it worth the cost?

I believe Puerto Rico should be given its independence, not now, but ten years ago. If we no longer serve as a sediment pool for the surplus population to be flushed into, other reliefs must be sought. The difficulty of finding a disposal area leads to the conclusion that social and economic chaos would result in five to ten years after independence. At that time it might be a good idea to forcibly, if necessary, send the two naive angels? as ambassadors to Puerto Rico, crediting them achieving independence. In any case, there is no visible reason why our taxpayers must bear the responsibility for Puerto Rican population growth -- independence now -- and immigration quotas! A living example exists, the Indians in Britain, can we look and stumble on so stupidly?

Some people believe that dragon-flies will sew up the mouths of nagging women.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ.....

Battle Against Shortages Brings About Still Another Solution

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitter-weed ranch on the Dry Devil's River, continues to wage war on the economic situation, in his own fashion.

Dear editor:

In the on-going drive to conserve energy and fight inflation the head of a large commercial fertilizer company has suggested that people not fertilize their lawns next year and thus save an incalculable amount of tonnage for the farmers who are facing a fertilizer shortage plus a shortage of money to pay for the high-priced stuff. Food, he suggested, should come before a pretty lawn, until we get the economic problems whipped.

This is another of those stop-gap proposals, like driving 55 miles an hour when you had to wait in line to get gas but now forgotten about unless there's a cop in the vicinity.

Even if you saved a lot of lawn fertilizer, grass will still grow when it rains and have you ever stopped to think how much gasoline is being burned when 20 million lawnmowers across this land are all running at the same time? I estimate enough gas is used to keep lawns mowed in one summer to allow four times as many more people to drive to football games in the fall.

Thinking about this problem, I at first came up with the idea that nobody should trim his lawn any shorter than his son's hair, but I don't think lawn-lovers will go for it. You might not be able to do anything about your son, but by gum you've still got control of your lawn.

No. The answer is to hold back a few million dollars from Turkey and Greece and let them fight each other with what they've got on hand for a while--isn't the idea anyway to make do with what you've got these days?--and turn the money over to some scientists with instructions to develop a lawn grass that won't grow any taller than two inches. It shouldn't be such a tough assignment. After all, left alone lawn grass won't grow over a foot or two, maybe three in some instances, but it's a scientific fact it won't grow upward forever, it has a stopping point, and all the scientists have to do is lower that point to two inches and we've got the problem of wasted lawn mower gasoline licked. How you like that, Sheik?

Naturally this will deal a blow to the people who make and sell lawnmowers but they will just have to turn to something else, maybe say coming up with an appliance that'll play out twice as fast as the ones we've got now. I believe it can be done.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

RELAX-AND BEAT YOUR INSOMNIA

Although modern Americans are the worst sleepers on earth (insomnia claims every other adult), the problem is as old and cosmopolitan as the human race itself.

Centuries of sleeplessness have tossed up many cures and theories. Even in the Dark Ages, men knew that mental and physical tension were foes of sleep. Relaxation, gradual or sudden, has always been the goal. People worry so much about the sleep they are losing -- that they lie awake and think of sleep. Next time you board this treadmill, think this fact: you get 80 percent as much rest by just relaxing completely with your eyes closed as you'd get if you were sound asleep.

Reassuringly, doctors have learned that sound sleep can become a habit. The human temperature rises and falls every 24 hours. The lowest point, which is ideal for sleep, will occur at bedtime if you retire roughly at the same time every night.

If you're away from home it's a good idea to choose a hotel where you know you'll be comfortable. Holiday Inns all over the world, for example, give you American-style comfort (often with local decor) and you'll be able to sleep soundly no matter what exotic locale you're in.

Miss Trisha Lane Hamilton Weds Jay Ledbetter In Austin Friday

Miss Trisha Lane Hamilton and Mr. John Jackson (Jay) Ledbetter, II, were united in marriage during sunset ceremonies held at St. Luke's On The Lake in Austin, November 1.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George V. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Ledbetter, all of Austin.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a long gown of white crushed velvet. The high fitted-shaped midriff featured a V-neckline that was outlined in re-embroidered Alencon lace. The flared skirt was accented by a chapel length train. A flat bow of crushed velvet held the chapel length illusion veil, also trimmed in Alencon lace. She carried a cascade of white roses, baby's breath and greenery.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Donna Seukalla of Austin. Bridesmaids were her cousins, Mrs. Terry Hines of Monahans and Mrs. Mike Stewart of Hurst, and her sister, Miss Tyra Hamilton of Austin.

Attendants wore long A-line gowns of floral Cuprashan screen print in golds and browns. A matching Juliett cap and mums with greenery and gold ribbons highlighted their attire.

Mr. Mike Emery of Austin served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Inky Uptmore, Larry Miller and the bridegroom's brother, Robbie Ledbetter, all of Austin.

Dr. R. P. Rapp provided organ music. The bride is a graduate of L. C. Anderson High School and is employed by an insurance company in Austin. The bridegroom graduated from A. N. McCallum High School and is employed with a retail furniture firm. The couple will make their home in Austin following a wedding trip to San Antonio.

A reception honoring the couple was held in Riker Hall of St. Luke's Church, immediately following the ceremony.

Try This Fare For Fall Fiesta

Polenta-Topped Tamale Pie makes tasty eating.
Stir up a hearty Polenta-Topped Tamale Pie and invite some friends over for a fiesta. This dish is marvelous for after-football game get-togethers or Saturday night parties. Make the meat mixture ahead of time. Refrigerate it, then top with the cheesy polenta mixture right before baking. Evaporated milk keeps the polenta moist, light and fluffy. Add a crispy green salad, your favorite hot beverage and fruit for dessert. Here's the best part of all—the meal is easy on your budget.

Polenta-Topped Tamale Pie
(Makes 8 to 10 servings)

2 pounds lean ground beef	2 cups water
1/2 cup chopped green pepper	1 cup pitted ripe olives
1 cup chopped onion	1 3/4 cups undiluted Carnation Evaporated Milk
3 1/2 cups Italian style tomatoes	1 teaspoon dry mustard
12-oz. can whole kernel corn	1/4 cup butter
2 pkgs. (1 1/4 oz. each) taco seasoning mix	1 1/2 cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese
3 teaspoons salt	4 slightly beaten eggs
1 1/2 cups yellow cornmeal

Brown beef; add green pepper and onion. Saute until tender. Drain off fat. Break up tomatoes. Stir in tomatoes, corn, taco seasoning and 1 teaspoon salt. Stir in 1/2 cup cornmeal mixed with 3/4 cup water. Cook covered over low heat 10 minutes; stir frequently. Add olives. Spoon meat mixture into 13 x 9 x 2-inch baking dish. Heat evaporated milk, remaining 1 1/2 cups water, remaining 2 teaspoons salt, dry mustard and butter. Slowly stir in remaining 1 cup cornmeal. Cook over medium heat until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; stir in cheese and eggs. Spoon over meat mixture. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 30-40 minutes or until cornmeal in center is set.

Deer To Test Hunting Ability

Hunters can expect deer to be in good condition during the early part of the 1974 season. Biologists of the Edwards Plateau say that because of the good range conditions and abundant acorn crop, deer will not have to search for forage. Deer will tend to feed for short periods and then bed down. This will directly affect the hunting success this year.

Baiting with artificial feeds is not expected to be as effective this hunting season as last season and hunters will be required to work harder to get a deer. Although hunters may feel that in some areas the deep population has declined, in many cases the number of deer seen is a reflection of food availability. Under good range conditions, deer are not forced to move as much. As a result, the hunter sees fewer deer and thinks the population has declined.

Deer census surveys are about half completed, with only slight declines showing in some areas. Fawn production appears to be normal, with some late fawns being seen.

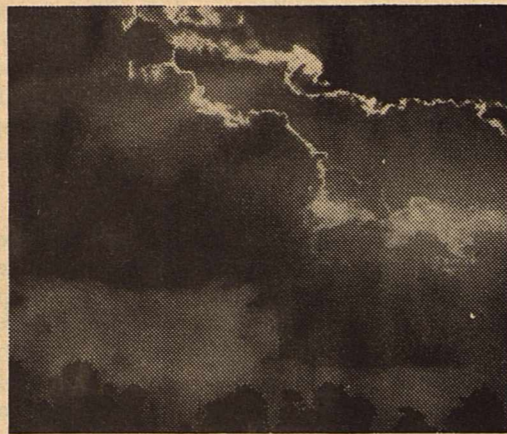

Landowners and sportsmen are urged to utilize antlerless deer permits or tags early in the season. Deer will be in better physical condition during November than later in the season. By removing surplus animals early, additional forage will be available for deer hunting during the late winter months.

The 1974 hunting season is shaping up to be a year which will test the hunter's ability to outwit the deer.

ELECTRICITY

We Couldn't Do Without It!

You might think that is an odd statement for a natural gas company to say about electricity. But it's true! There are some things that only electricity can do...like lighting, refrigeration and the many other jobs that it does so well and so easily.

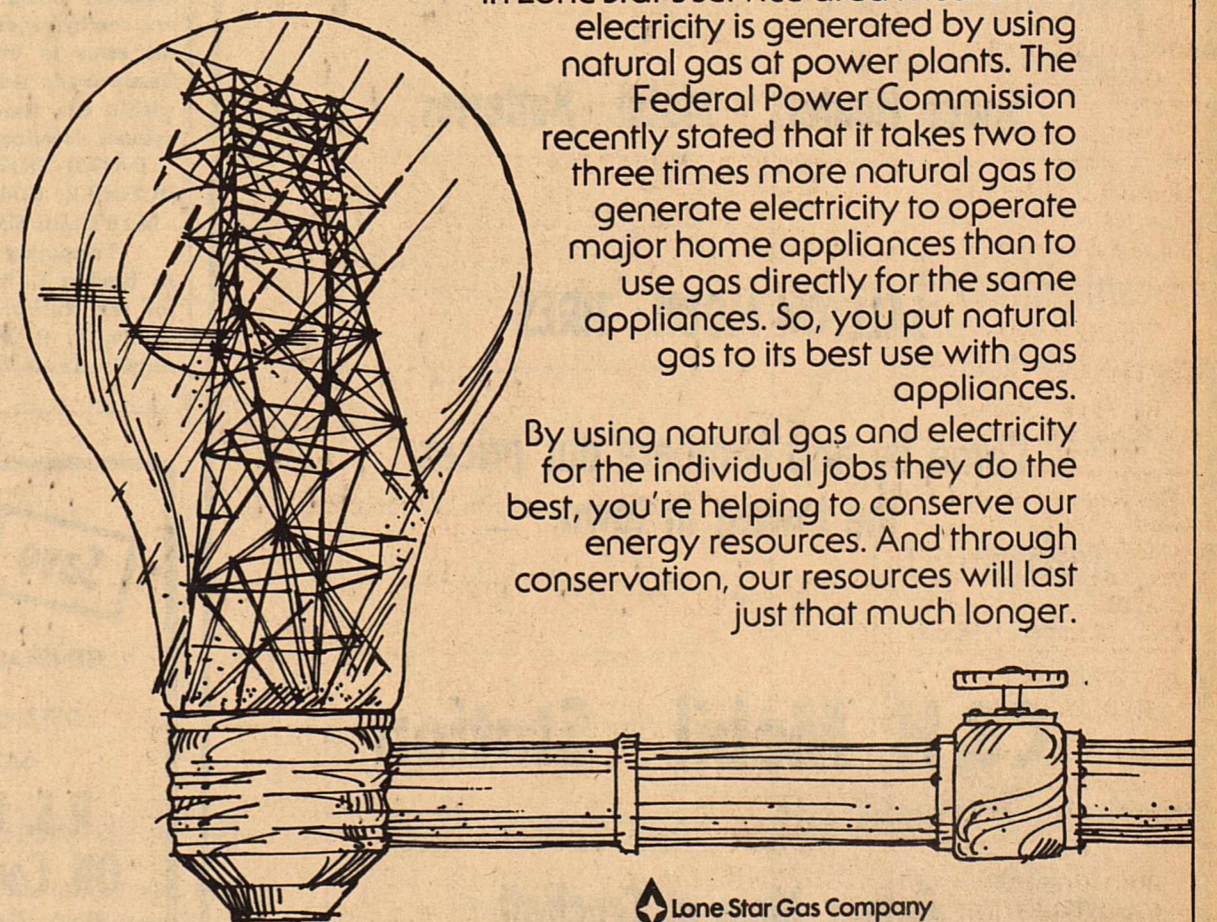

But—

NATURAL GAS

Generates The Electricity You Use!

In Lone Star's service area most of the electricity is generated by using natural gas at power plants. The Federal Power Commission recently stated that it takes two to three times more natural gas to generate electricity to operate major home appliances than to use gas directly for the same appliances. So, you put natural gas to its best use with gas appliances.

By using natural gas and electricity for the individual jobs they do the best, you're helping to conserve our energy resources. And through conservation, our resources will last just that much longer.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

Within the next few months, many of us will be asked to contribute to a charitable cause, since various fundraising organizations concentrate their efforts in the period from Halloween through Easter.

There are three ways people commonly are asked to help a charitable cause: by donating money, by donating services, or by donating the use of their name for advertising or fundraising purposes.

All of us are familiar with the seasonal appeals of well-established charitable organizations, and few of us question the value of the work they do. But the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division cautions persons contacted by any unfamiliar charitable organization to check carefully before committing money, time or the use of your name.

Our attorneys suggest that you ask these questions before agreeing to support such a group:

*What are the organization's goals? Do you believe they are worthwhile? Are they realistic? Are their fundraising campaigns and charitable programs well-planned?

*Who heads the group and where are its central offices? Who are the local officers or representatives? Are they genuinely committed to the organization and its aims?

*What services does the organization provide in your community? Are they effective? How is the group regarded by your friends and associates?

*Has the organization met local or state regulations for charities soliciting funds? *How does the charity solicit its funds?

Some organizations use methods of fundraising that are questionable at best. Some send unordered goods through the mail, then later request—or even demand—payment. Our attorneys remind customers that both state and federal laws say you don't have to pay for or return unordered merchandise.

Another practice to be on guard against is misrepresentation of a group as employers of handicapped, disabled, rehabilitated, retired, minority, or student workers when in reality only a very few, if any, such workers are employed. If approached by a group with such an appeal, you should inquire what percentage of such workers is employed, or what percentage of profits is paid to them.

In recent years, some questions have been raised by concerned citizens as to how much of the funds collected by various charities actually go toward their stated goals and how much is spent on administrative costs, salaries and the cost of raising funds.

While low operating costs may tend to make a group seem efficient, it's important, say experts, to remember that many factors must be considered in evaluating such figures. The purpose of the charity, whether it employs professional fundraisers or depends on volunteers, costs of printing informational material, and whether the organization is an old, established one or a new one -- all of these things affect operating costs.

Most of us are eager to support worthwhile organizations, but we want to be sure that our money or our time is being well spent.

The Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce can provide both individuals and businesses with information on charities that may be conducting fundraising drives in local communities.

And the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division can help you if you have a complaint against an organization or firm that has engaged in misleading or deceptive practices.

Card Of Thanks

It is with deep appreciation that we send this word of thanks to all our friends and neighbors who were so kind and considerate during the loss of our loved one. We gratefully acknowledge the many floral offerings, food and visits. The family of Willie Bolt 1p10

Local Teachers To Attend Workshop

A two day vocational guidance workshop for secondary teachers, counselors and administrators will be held in San Angelo November 11-12. The workshop is sponsored by Region XV Education Service Center. Cynthia Kroeger and Celest Prugel have been invited to attend.

The purpose of the program is to train teachers to give students a head start on their labor market or post high school activities by providing them with an opportunity to develop decision making skills, analyze their interests and aptitudes, and share information, concepts, ideas and fears about past high school plans. This will be accomplished by the task group interaction using Group Guidance Program curriculum materials. Each school will be given a set of materials and operations manual.

Mrs. Prugel and Miss

Kroeger will share their information with other Sonora teachers as the school begins development of a comprehensive guidance program.

Wool Payment Deduction Voting Is Underway

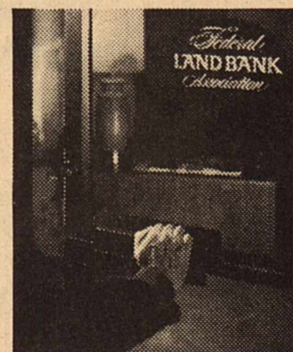

Balloting is underway in the U. S. Department of Agriculture's wool and lamb promotion referendum.

Sutton County wool and lamb producers who have not received a referendum ballot and an explanation of the proposed new agreement covering wool payment deductions for product promotional purposes may pick them up at the County ASCS offices, reports Clifford W. Elder, County Executive Director.

The mail referendum is being conducted nationwide by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to determine if wool and lamb producers want USDA to continue to make deductions from wool payments for use by the American Sheep Producers Council for advertising and sales promotions programs for wool and lamb.

To be counted, ballots must be mailed or delivered in person to the County ASCS office before 5 p.m., Friday, November 15. Anyone who has owned sheep or lambs six months old or older for the last 30 consecutive days during 1973 is eligible to vote.

Come to the Land Bank for a long-term loan at reasonable cost

...and for other advantages you might find even more important.

Extra years in which to repay and an interest rate kept as low as possible are big reasons farmers and ranchers choose Land Bank financing. But your Land Bank also recognizes that each borrower needs a loan carefully planned to meet individual needs. A better loan—and better loan service. Come to us for both.

Scout News

By Dr. L. M. Pollard

Pack No. 19 of the Cub Scouts will have their pack meeting Wednesday, November 20 at 7 p.m. in the Parish Hall of the Episcopal Church. At this meeting the pine wood car kits will be issued to all cub scouts at 75c each. The scouts will have three weeks in which to construct their autos for the running of the Pine-Wood Derby, to be held on December 15 from 2-5 p.m., at the 4-H Center.

Most of the dens have gotten under way but there is still time for boys ages 8-10 to join a den and compete in the derby. Anytime a boy turns 8, he is encouraged to contact a den mother and join a den. The following dens are still open and receiving cubs: den 4, Mrs. Marlene Young, 387-2112; Den 6, Louise Hulsey, 387-3477 and Judy Friemel, 387-2218; and den 8, Wanda Halford, 387-3165 and Darla Fincher, 387-2331.

Please contact these mothers if you have a boy who would like to have fun with scouting this year. We have many exciting events planned for the year that you don't want to miss.

At the pack meeting on November 20, the "Cubby" award will go to the den with the best attendance of parents present. There is also scheduled a barnyard frolic for that night.

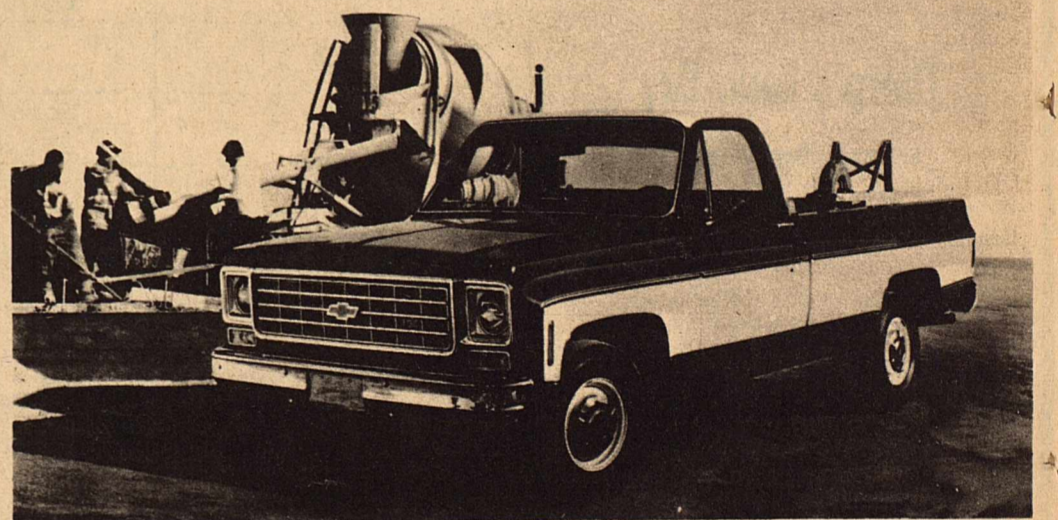

We urge you to become involved with our Sonora youth, to help build character and morals in our future leaders of tomorrow through scouting.

With the fuel shortage, we aren't able to drive as much, go as many places, take as many trips, spend as much money. But let's look at the bright side. We can really save money like never before — and just when the bank is paying such high interest on savings!

WE DO WELCOME YOUR SAVINGS AT FIRST NATIONAL BANK, AND PAY A HIGH 5% INTEREST TO ENCOURAGE YOUR SAVING WITH US.
