City Files Charge Against Local Utility User

Charges were filed last week against a local man, by the City of Sonora Utilities, for tampering with city meter boxes.

City officials say the warrant was issued when the accused used city owned meter boxes to install electrical power to his place of residence without making proper deposits with the local office.

The offense of turning off or on any city supplied utility is a misdemeanor offense and persons are subject to a fine of $200 to $2,000, depending on the amount of utilities consumed.

Any person moving into or out of a house, mobile home hook-up or apartment, should notify the city hall of their move and city employees will make the necessary meter changes.

The Bronco Booster Club's annual All Sports Banquet will be held Tuesday, May 6 at the 4-H Club with Melvin Robertson, defensive coordinator at Texas A&M University, the featured speaker.

Robertson coordinates A&M's defense and coaches the secondary. He joined the staff in January of 1972 after serving for seven years on the University of Houston staff, the last five as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator.

His first coaching job was at Stanton High School, where he was an assistant two years and head coach two years. After a 16-4 record he moved to Sweetwater High School where he was an assistant coach for six seasons. Following that he was an assistant at Amarillo High School one year and assistant at Odessa High for four years before going to Houston in 1964.

Robertson is widely known as one of the most knowledgeable defensive coaches in the country.

The banquet is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m., and following the meal all students participating in athletics in Sonora High School will be recognized. Outstanding athletic awards will also be presented. Students engaged in varsity and junior varsity football, varsity and junior varsity basketball, both girls and boys, tennis teams, golf teams and members of all track events, will be recognized. Special awards will go to the outstanding boy and girl athlete of the year and the coveted Nathan's award will also be presented, as well as a basketball award.

Everyone is invited to attend the banquet and may purchase tickets at $5 each from any member of the Bronco Booster Club or at the Devil's River News.

complete 20 miles except Mrs. Edwina Braden, who sponsors the NHS; she completed 14 miles. The Rev. Jim Miles, Presbyterian minister, walked 10 miles of the trek to become the farthest walker of his group. The walk-a-thon began at 9 a.m. with a speech by City Manager Bob Neville and six hours later, the last of the trekers arrived at the Wallace Ranch. Jaycees set up rest stops and first aid stations along the route and the Sonora Fire Department directed traffic. This was the honor society's only fund raising function of the year.

Reports Needed

During the last half of May, a random sample of some 24,000 Texas farmers will receive a crop acreage questionnaire from Charles E. Caudill, Agricultural Statistician in Charge of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, Austin, Texas.

This information will be the basis for determining the planted acreage for the state of Texas and for each county. Texas covers such a wide area that state totals alone do not provide adequate information on Texas' most basic industry—agriculture. The Texas Legislature has provided a program of estimates for each county. This is a cooperative effort of USDA's Statistical Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Accurate estimates are of great importance to farmers in planning production and marketings and in providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture. Farmers who receive questionnaires are urged to complete and return them by mail.

Ted McClung, manager of the local Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Company, holds the barrel for Oscar Galindo to draw the person's name to be awarded a colored television set. Mrs. Lucy Martinez was the lucky winner. Everett Ogburn was the winner of the second place prize, a $50 gift certificate, and Mrs. Duke Wilson was winner of the $25 gift certificate. The prizes were awarded in celebration of the lumber company's 75th anniversary.

News Letter

By Bob Krueger
Washington, D.C.—The present Congress began to approach the federal budget in a more sensible way. That Congress mandated that a Budget Committee would be established to bring together revenues and expenditures so that the Congress could consider these matters together, instead of separately, as it has been doing. The present Congress does not have the new budgeting process in effect, but it is beginning to bring it into place.

By anybody's standards, the budget for next fiscal year will have a massive deficit, from $65 billion to $100 billion. Most of these expenditures have been set into motion in previous years and many of the programs requiring funds cannot immediately be stopped. Nonetheless, the prospect of a deficit of this size gives cause for great concern.

As more people are out of work, unemployment compensation will increase. At the same time, while people are producing and earning less, tax revenues will decrease. My concern is that when the government borrows from the private sector to pay its debts, we will see several things. First, interest rates will rise as the government and business compete to borrow available funds. A credit crunch similar to last year's will follow. Thus, cities, towns, utility companies and businesses that count on selling bonds to finance their long-term growth will be unable to market all those bonds. At the same time, money will leave banks and savings and loan institutions, and thereby bring new problems to the housing industry, agriculture, and business generally.

As you know, I voted against the tax rebate bill because it substantially increased the federal deficit. But Members of Congress of both parties outvoted me, passed it, and the President signed it. Policies such as this create inflation for the future. The best we can hope for is that the confidence of the people in their government and their economy will remain strong enough to turn the economy around this summer. At some point though, people in the government will have to learn that you cannot spend consistently more than you earn without creating tremendous inflation and future problems.

We need seed corn, we just can't consume everything today and expect tomorrow to produce for itself. The American people have generally recognized this much better than the federal government has. I hope that the Congress and the President can learn this lesson soon, without bringing any greater pain to us all.

Texas State Travel Magazine Now Available

Texas now has an official state travel magazine.

The Legislature has passed and Governor Dolph Briscoe has signed a resolution declaring Texas Highways, a colorful monthly magazine produced by the Texas Highway Department, the official travel magazine of the State of Texas.

In a concurrent resolution passed by both houses, the Legislature said the magazine is a "vital component of the official State of Texas travel development effort."

Considering the unsettled energy situation, the magazine will become a new vehicle to help Texans discover their own state for vacations closer to home.

"The Department's magazine, Texas Highways, beautifully interprets scenic, recreational, historical, cultural and ethnic treasures of the state and recalls the best of our Texas heritage," the resolution said.

The resolution was co-sponsored by Rep. James Kaster of El Paso and Rep. Dave Allred of Wichita Falls. Sen. W. E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland introduced the resolution in the Senate.

The resolution noted that the Highway Department, through its Travel and Information Division, for four decades has conducted a major part of the official state travel development program.

Annual subscriptions to the monthly magazine are $5 and may be ordered by writing: Circulation Office, Texas Highways Magazine, Texas Highway Department, 11th & Brazos St., Austin, Texas 78701. Checks should be made payable to the Texas Highway Department.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ.....

He Comes Out In Favor Of Proposed Law Requiring Windows That Open

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River apparently needs a carpenter at his house, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

It used to be that people saved energy in order to keep their electric light bill down, not because it was patriotic or to prove something to a bunch of Arab oil barons.

I knew a man once who even turned the light off in his living room when he was listening to the radio, back in the days before television, on the reasonable grounds that you don't need a light on to hear something. "What could be sillier," he asked, "than sitting in a brightly-lit room listening to the radio with your eyes shut?" If his bill ever went above the minimum of $1.35 he'd call the power company to see if the meter was leaking.

What brought this to mind was an article I read saying the government is working on some energy-use standards to be enforced by law, and among these would be one requiring buildings to have windows that open.

As I understand it, architects have gone wild in designing buildings with year-round "climate control" and thought they were saving energy by including windows that are sealed shut and are never intended to be opened.

On the moon, where the nights are 40 degrees below freezing and the days as hot as an oven, such a building might be necessary, but on earth it seems a little odd. It's like the stairway of the eccentric woman I read about recently. She had one built in her 40-room house that went against a blank wall.

It seems we're in peculiar shape when Congress has to pass a law prohibiting us from doing such things.

Nonetheless I'm in favor of this open-window regulation, but it doesn't go far enough. It's one thing to pass a law requiring a builder to install windows that open. What I want is a law requiring a window to stay up when it's raised. I'm getting tired propping mine up with a stick.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

PEANUT MARSHMALLOW LOG

2 Tbsp. butter or margarine 1/4 cups chopped peanuts
1/4 of 10-ounce package marshmallows 1/2 of 14-ounce package caramels
1 cup confectioners' sugar 1 Tbsp. water
1/4 tsp. vanilla extract

Melt 1 Tbsp. butter. Add marshmallows and stir until melted. Beat in enough confectioners' sugar to make mixture of kneading consistency. Add vanilla and 1/2 cup peanuts. Knead further with more sugar and shape mixture into thin roll, 12 inches long. Place remaining peanuts on wax paper cut into 12 x 4 inch rectangle. Combine caramels with remaining butter and water. When melted, pour caramel over peanuts in a thin even stream, spreading caramel mixture with a knife dipped in hot water. When caramel peanut layer is cool, place marshmallow roll in center. Using wax paper, lift caramel around marshmallow center and seal edges, pressing peanuts in carefully. Place in refrigerator long enough to harden, then slice. Wrap pieces individually and store in an air-tight container. Yield: 24 1/2-inch slices.

For additional recipes write Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Tex. 78711.

During the Middle Ages, it was believed that the consummation of marriage could be prevented by anyone who, while the wedding ceremony was taking place, either locked a lock or tied a knot in a cord, and then threw the lock or cord away.

GETTING A NEW START

"I never want to move again!" I told a friend. Even before the moving van arrived, there were days of sorting, discarding and carefully packing the things we treasure. There were farewells and last minute errands.

Then early one morning, the huge truck came lumbering up the street, and the movers began loading beds, tables, chairs, dishes and books. After several hours, the last box was in the van, and our belongings were on their way to a new home.

A new home, new friends, new community—so many things with which to become acquainted.

The church is a fine place to get a new start—to make new friends and strike up a vital relationship with the Maker of us all.

$11.8 Billion Surplus Result Of Farm Trade

AUSTIN—Spurred by a heavy demand for food, U. S. agricultural exports reached a record $22 billion last year, leaving the country with a net agricultural surplus of $11.8 billion in the balance of payments.

This 25 percent increase in national agricultural exports helped to offset a $14.8 billion trade deficit in non-agricultural products caused by rising oil imports and prices.

The U. S. petroleum import bill shot to $24 billion, three times higher than it was in 1973.

Overall, the U. S. had a $3 billion trade deficit compared with a favorable balance of $1.3 billion in 1973.

According to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, Texas export sales more than doubled 1973 levels, recording nearly $1.7 billion in sales. Texas ranks third in the country in agricultural exports.

Nationwide, export volume dropped six percent, but worldwide inflation pushed values up more than 33 percent. Wheat, feed grains, rice, soybeans and vegetable oils all showed price increases. Prices for meat, hides and skins and soybean meal fell from the previous year's records.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported that exports of food and feed grains reached a high of $10.3 billion, more than a fifth above the 1973 level. Exports to the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries and other less-developed nations accounted for most of the increase.

While prices were high, volume for most grains except rice dropped. Feed grain exports were down because of the smaller domestic crop. When adverse weather conditions reduced U.S. yields, supplies became tight and prices high, discouraging most foreign shipments.

Cotton exports fell six percent but their value increased 44 percent to $1.3 billion. Most of the increase was due to forward contracting in 1973 when prices were high. White reported that Texas contributed more than a third of all cotton exports.

Nifty Decorating Idea—'Marbleizing'

Marbleizing is the name of the method used to simulate marble on a glass or wood surface. Authentic marble is made up of many colors, with base colors such as white, cream, pink and black. They are often mixed with other colors to produce interesting shades and effects.

This project is in the 3M "Home Pro Furniture Refinishing And Antiquing Guide", one of a new series of step-by-step how-to books at hardware, department and building supply stores.

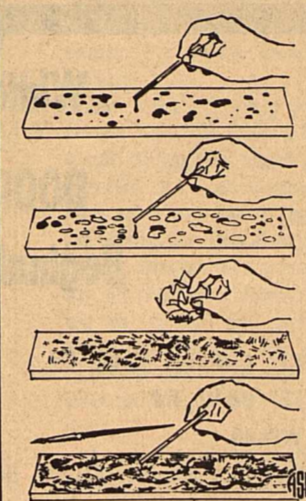

First take a color photograph of a suitable piece of marble and it as a guide when marbleizing. Usually two other colors are used with the base coat. In addition, black is often used for accenting.

Oil-based paints should be used for marbleizing as well as for the base coat. Be sure the surface is properly sanded and sealed before beginning.

1. Apply base coat and allow to dry until tacky.
2. Using artist's brush or small stick, apply one color in an uneven dribble pattern.

In succeeding colors, apply only about one half the amount of paint used in Step 2.

3. Repeat Step 2 with additional colors, as desired.
4. Using a crumpled paper, pat the surface lightly, following the basic pattern of the colors. (Be sure to change paper occasionally when it becomes saturated with paint.)

5. Continue patting surface and edges until desired effect is obtained.
6. Using a stick, apply small amounts of black across surface in a random pattern. Lightly pat these areas with crumpled paper.

For a more realistic effect, veins may be added in thin, uneven lines.

7. Using a stick or thin artist's brush and white paint, apply veins to surface.
8. Allow surface to dry thoroughly.
9. Apply a clear, semigloss finish.

Texas Weather Ideal For Screwworms

Moisture and temperature conditions throughout most of Texas are ideal for screwworm infestations, warns Dr. J. E. Novy, director of field operations for the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication Program.

"About the only exception to this dangerous situation is the southern portion of the state which has received no appreciable moisture since November. Northeast Mexico has also been experiencing droughty conditions," reports Novy.

The 54 infestations of this parasite confirmed by identification at the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) laboratory the first 21 days of April brought the year-to-date total to 85 cases. Early April cases came from 15 Texas counties.

The winter distribution center for sterile screwworm flies at Tampico, Mexico, was closed the third week of April. On April 18 a distribution center opened operations at Del Rio.

April cases have been recorded as far north as Val Verde, Kinney, Uvalde, Frio, Atascosa and DeWitt counties, requiring distribution of more sterile screwworm flies in the state. These northerly cases pose a direct threat to the Big Bend, Trans-Pecos, Hill Country, and Coastal Bend regions.

Novy points to the fact that May and June were the two months of heaviest screwworm infestation before the control program started in 1962. Rancher and program work to suppress infestations at this danger time has kept annual population growths slower, resulting in the year's heaviest infestations coming in September and October most years.

Livestock owners are urged to carefully watch navels of newborn animals for signs of screwworm infestation. In addition, shearing, docking, ear-marking, castration, and other "working" wounds are prime prospects for screwworm infestations at this time of year.

Spraying or dipping with a USDA approved insecticide can reduce the risk if it is absolutely necessary to "work" the animals.

When an infested wound is found, Novy asks owners to carefully collect a sample from deep in the center of the wound and submit it for laboratory identification. Sample kits are available from livestock inspectors, county agents, veterinarians, or the lab at Mission.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—If you're like many Texans, your billfold may contain more charge cards than cash. Certainly, in the amount of purchasing power they represent, charge cards are often more valuable than dollars.

Few users of charge cards, however, have a clear idea of the amount they pay for the convenience of using such cards, or just how a store determines what to base its finance charges on, according to our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division lawyers.

But under provisions of the recently-passed federal Fair Credit Billing Act, which goes into effect next fall, consumers have some new rights regarding billings for their charge accounts. One is that a customer has 60 days after receiving a bill to register any protests about it. Within 30 days following such a protest, the creditor must answer his questions.

Another provision is that a creditor must mail bills at least 14 days before the date finance charges will be tacked onto revolving charge accounts.

Even though these new regulations aren't yet binding, the consumer still is protected from false, misleading, or deceptive acts by the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act.

Our Consumer Protection attorneys also note that the interest rate on revolving accounts is fixed by state law, although the base on which it is calculated can be determined in several ways.

The two methods most often used at present are "previous balance" and "adjusted balance." In the "previous balance" method, the finance charge is based on the unpaid balance at the end of the previous billing period, before current payment and charge purchases are figured in.

The "adjusted balance" method is one in which any current payments are subtracted from the previous balance before finance charges are figured, but current purchases are not added on.

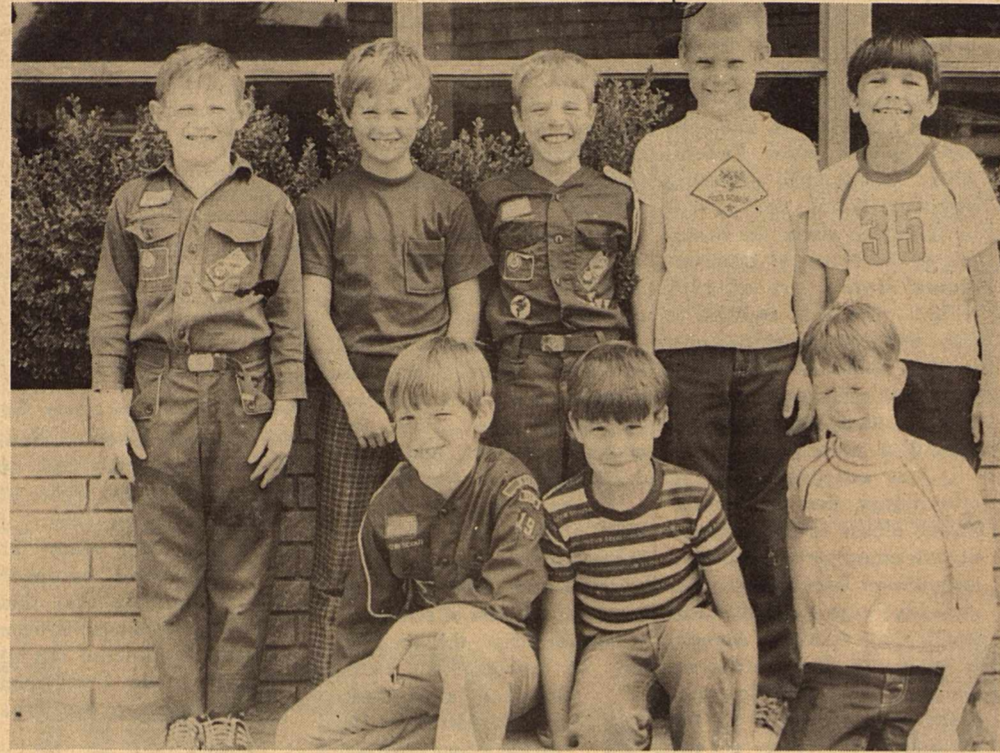

A method that some department store chains and bank credit card companies are turning to is the "average daily balance." This generally requires a computerized billing system, which many smaller stores don't have. The main difference between this and one of the two methods mentioned above is that in the "average daily balance" method, the earlier in the billing cycle you pay, the lower your interest charges.

Finance charges under this method are figured by adding up each day's unpaid balance and dividing the total by the number of days in the billing cycle. In one of the two forms of this method, your current purchases and payments are figured in, while in the other current purchases aren't included.

Some credit managers say few persons complain about monthly finance charges, others say they get complaints about even a few cents' possible error. Our Consumer Protection attorneys note that some consumers who do complain may not fully understand the billing procedure.

So, if you have a question about how interest charges on your revolving account are figured, check your monthly statement. The information is there, although it may seem a bit complicated. If you still have a question, contact the credit or accounting department of the company and ask for information.

If you have a complaint about a bill that cannot be resolved, get in touch with the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

Texans Honored In Registry

AUSTIN--Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced publication of the first edition of the Texas Family Land Heritage Registry, a history of pioneer families and their land.

White said the registry is an outgrowth of the Texas Department of Agriculture's first Family Land Heritage Program which honored 563 applicants last fall. Honorees were from families who had worked the same farm or ranch for 100 years or more.

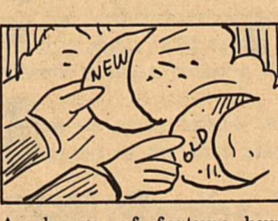

The registry contains the names of all honorees and a brief history of their land. A photo album compiled from old family pictures and a history of early land grants are included also.

Honorees will receive one copy of the book. It will also be sent to public libraries, county historical societies, county judges and high school libraries in counties where honorees live.

White said plans for the 1975 program are underway. Persons whose families have worked the same land since 1875 or earlier will be eligible. Those honored last year may not participate again.

More information will be announced later this spring.

The other honor students are as follows: Margarita San Miguel, 94.20; Beverly McDonald, 93.13; Maggie Galbreath, 92.88; Laura Gibbs, 90.99; Cathy Ward, 90.68; and Roy Adkins, 90.37.

--SHS--

The walk-a-thon was a great success. But I'll tell a few behind the scene stories. Such as Rosemary Espinosa who rode 8 miles while pumping her son Michael on a bike. Then a catastrophe happened - a flat tire - so Rosemary walked (carrying her son) the other 12 miles to complete half of the route.

Patty Merrill had a fright when the horse she was riding tried to roll over while getting a drink in a caliche water hole. Rattlesnake! was what Mrs. Braden, Laura Gibbs and Edward Earwood screamed as they rode their horses upon a snake coiled up in their path.

Then there was Shirley Bolt who had an accident when her horse spooked and pitched her to the ground.

Of course Robbie Hard had to put on a little show for Debbie and added to the activities by performing an on-the-road "rodeo".

The day got so hot that Mike Stewart and Paul Browne took time out to go swimming in full clothing because riding horses bare-back sure is tiresome.

Tommy Mounce decided that his bike was not moving fast enough so he left it "flat" while he jogged on to the end of the 40 mile route.

Poor Ernestine Vazquez, who got to day dreaming while riding her bike, pedaled right off the bridge.

...Or Juan Perez who wore a fish-net shirt while riding a bike and has a checked sunburn. But he completed the 40 miles!

POLICE REPORTS

City of Sonora Police Department officers issued eleven citations during the week of April 21 thru April 28. Four of these were for burglary, one for no driver's license and others for various traffic violations.

On April 18, a car/pedestrian accident occurred in the 600 block of Crockett Street when Mrs. Lodessa Pope attempted to cross the busy street at 9:17 p.m. A car driven by Amalio Telles of Junction struck Mrs. Pope. She was taken to the local hospital and officials say she sustained no severe injuries. No charges were filed against the driver of the vehicle.

A call to the local police department on April 21 reported that an automobile being driven in the vicinity of Highway 277 South was going at an excessive speed and causing a disturbance. Officer Jerry Kemp apprehended the driver and issued a citation for DWI.

An accident involving two automobiles occurred April 22 in front of the First National Bank Building. Drivers of the cars were Mrs. Lura Sawyer and Darlissa Ann Galindo. No injuries were reported. Ms. Galindo was charged with having no driver's license.

Some people say that putting a letter in a friend's left hand will end the friendship.

Cub Scout dens met at the school grounds Sunday for a picnic followed by a bike rodeo, their last pack meeting of the school year. The rodeo consisted of bicycle races, three-leg races, potatoe sack races, potatoe relays, marble relays, crab races and barrel races. Dens competed against each other with the winning den winning hamburgers from the Dairy Mart.

PUBLIC NOTICES

BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION
NOTICE

FINANCE DOCKET No. 26449

THE ATCHISON, TOPEKA AND SANTA FE RAILWAY COMPANY ABANDONMENT - TOM GREEN COUNTY, TEX.

The Interstate Commerce Commission hereby gives notice that by order dated April 16, 1975, it has been determined that the proposed abandonment of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company of its 64.8 mile line between S.N. Junction and Sonora, all in Tom Green, Schleicher, and Sutton Counties, Texas, if approved by the commission, does not constitute a major Federal action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment within the meaning of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 [NEPA], 42 U.S.C. ss 4321, et seq., and that preparation of a detailed environmental impact statement will not be required under section 4332 [2] [C] of the NEPA.

It was concluded, among other things, that the environmental effects of the proposed abandonment are considered insignificant because adequate area highways exist that can handle any resulting increase in motor carrier traffic, no specific local development plans are dependent on the continued existence of the railroad, and the historic, safety, pollution, and ecological aspects of the proposed abandonment are absent or minimal.

This determination was based upon the staff preparation and consideration of an environmental threshold assessment survey, which is available on request to the Interstate Commerce Commission, Office of Proceedings, Washington, D. C. 20423; telephone 202-343-2086.

Interested persons may comment on this matter by filing their statements in writing with the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D.C. 20423, on or before May 15, 1975.

This negative environmental determination shall become final unless good and sufficient reason demonstrating why an environmental impact statement should be prepared for this action is submitted to the Commission by the above-specified date.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS

TO: WAYNE MCKAY, Respondent, Greeting:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear before the District Court 112 of Sutton County at the Courthouse thereof, in Sonora, Texas, by filing a written answer at or before 10 o'clock A.M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 9th day of June A.D. 1975, to Petitioner's Petition filed in said court, on the 26th day of March A.D. 1975, in this cause, numbered 1881 on the docket of said court and styled in the matter of the marriage of VICKI MCKAY, Petitioner, AND WAYNE MCKAY, Respondent. A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: Suit for Divorce.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after the date of its issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The officer executing this writ shall promptly serve the same according to requirements of law, and the mandates hereof, and make due return as the law directs.

Witness, Erma Lee Turner, Clerk of the District Court(s) of Sutton County, Texas.

Krueger Announces Full Support Of Voting Rights Act Of 1965

Congressman Bob Krueger announced April 25 his full support of the extension of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, H.R. 6219. Several versions of the bill are currently under consideration before the Congress.

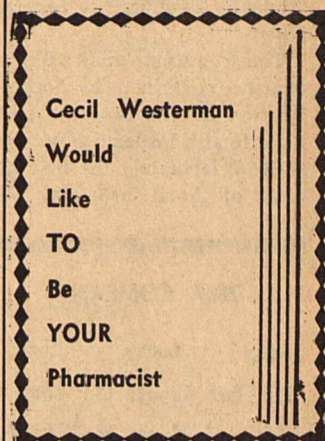

Krueger indicated his support for the Subcommittee on Civil and Constitutional Rights version originally sponsored by Representative Barbara Jordan (D-Houston). This act would apply to areas where less than a 50% voter participation occurred in the 1972 Presidential election and where more than 5% of the population is of a single language minority group. The legislation is currently under committee deliberation and should reach the House floor for a vote later this spring.

"One of the fundamental rights of every American citizen is the right to vote and we must do all in our power to insure that this right is not abridged," Krueger stated. "I am pleased to see the substantial progress our Texas Legislature has made in this direction and commend their thoughtful efforts," Krueger continued.

"However, as a national legislator, I must not only be concerned with the rights of Texans, but with those of citizens of other states as well." "Because evidence exists to indicate that this fundamental right has not been adequately protected for all American citizens, I will lend my full support to the extension of the Voting Rights Act of 1965, and the inclusion of Mexican-American and other minority citizens in its coverage."

"No other single piece of legislation has done more to insure all citizens an equal right to vote than the Voting Rights Act of 1965, and I am pleased to support its extension," Krueger concluded.
