Pehl's famed Oompah Band, just back from their week's appearance in Washington, D. C., will play each afternoon with a fine array of marches, polkas, waltzes and other crowd favorites.

Amoco Area Office Under Construction

Amoco Production Company, the second largest producer of crude oil in Texas and the state's sixth largest producer of natural gas, is in the process of building a new sub-area office on a ten-acre tract adjacent to the city limits of Sonora.

The foundation for the new office building, located one mile south of town on Highway 277, is complete, according to local employees, and the pre-fabricated building is expected the middle of July. The building will be a 2,400 square foot metal type construction and will house some ten employees assigned to the new office. These employees will be directly involved in the company's operations in Sonora and surrounding counties.

Company officials state that due to the increased production activity and the forecasted future drilling activity by Amoco in the Sutton County area, they felt it necessary to more closely monitor the operations here.

Daily Amoco operations will be handled out of the new Sonora office, but the overall program is coordinated out of the Odessa area production office headed by Dave Davidson, Amoco's Odessa area superintendent.

Earlier in the year Amoco announced plans to drill more than 100 wells in 1975 on the 260,000 acres it is exploring in Sutton, Schleicher, Crockett and Val Verde counties. Most of the wells are being drilled into the Canyon and Wolfcamp gas sands which lie from 3,000 to 8,000 feet beneath the surface.

Sonoran's Mother Buried Wednesday In Winters

Mrs. Frank (Jewell) Teague, 87, died early Sunday morning, June 29, at Lillian M. Hudspeth Memorial Hospital. Funeral services were held Wednesday in her hometown of Wingate at the Baptist Church. Burial was in the Wingate Cemetery.

Mrs. Teague is the mother of Mrs. Dennis Dunnam and had been making her home with the Dunnam family for the past several years.

She was born April 30, 1888 in Coleman County and moved, along with her family, to Runnels County in 1899, settling in the Wingate community. She was a member of the Baptist Church and of the Winters' Eastern Star chapter. Married to Frank Teague November 9, 1910, Mrs. Teague was widowed in 1962.

Other survivors include a son Artie Teague of Tye, another daughter, Mrs. L. N. Turner of Abilene; one brother; 17 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Butterfield Resigns

John Butterfield, band director of the Sonora Bronco Bands for the past five years, resigned that position Monday to take a job with Continental Oil Company in Hobbs, New Mexico.

Resigning along with Butterfield was his wife Sue, who serves as a teachers' aide in the school system.

During his five year tenure as band director, Butterfield led the Sonora Band to their first sweepstakes in the school's history. He also has three firsts in marching contests, three firsts in concert and two firsts in sight reading contests to his credit. His direction has also given the band two first place wins at the annual Six Flags Band Festival.

Dr. Joe Andrews, superintendent of Sonora Schools, who accepted Butterfield's resignation, stated that applications for a suitable replacement are being accepted, but that he is terribly disappointed at losing Butterfield, as good teachers aren't readily available.

Five years and many honors later, school accepts resignation of band director.

Application Filed For Sonora Radio Station

Application has been filed with the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D.C., for application by Sonora Broadcasting Company, Inc., for authority to construct a new broadcast station in Sonora.

Filing the application are Walton A. Foster and Donald W. Griffis of San Angelo. The proposed station will operate on a frequency of 980 KHZ daytime only, subject to FCC approval.

Foster, who is associated with radio station KIXY in San Angelo, has stated that the proposed station, should it be approved, will be located on U.S. 277, southwest of the Sonora City limits, in the building located on the Rip Ward Ranch. At one time this same building housed a Sonora radio station, owned and operated by Albert Ward.

Foster stated that should the application be approved, the station would lean mostly to the country and western type music, although there would be segments of rock-type music to suit the younger listeners' tastes, as well as agricultural programs and direct weather service.

These youngsters, along with their teachers, finished a week of co-operative Vacation Bible School last Friday held at the Methodist Church School.

Participants from the Methodist, Episcopal and Presbyterian Churches, attended. Mrs. Bob Nevill served as director of the school and Mrs. Jack David Wardlaw was assistant director.

News Letter By Bob Krueger

Patience is a quality that we hear little of these days. We take pills for immediate health, turn on TV for instant entertainment, and live in a society that often expects instant gratification and instant solutions. But government and legislation require patience and time.

People frequently and legitimately complain of regulations handed down by government agencies. Oftentimes representatives have drawn their legislation so hastily that they leave rulemaking authority entirely to the agencies which then sometimes act in high-handed doctrinaire and obtuse fashion.

One check in our system against badly drawn legislation is the Presidential veto. Equally the legislative branch must act to control the excesses of the Executive Branch. Democracy is not a speedboat going swiftly and directly to its destination, but it avoids the submerged obstacles that can sink swifter totalitarian governments. Democracy is much more the raft which goes from side to side making its progress slowly, but which seldom sinks and can carry large numbers of divers and passengers safely.

This past week the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee on which I serve reported out what is probably the largest bill dealing with energy ever written in this country. I voted against reporting out the bill from committee in spite of the fact that I had spent a good part of almost every day for the past five months working on this bill. It has some good provisions but it seems to me to have even more bad ones.

The oil pricing provision which is the keystone of the bill is one that I had written and which passed in subcommittee 8-7. It was defeated 22-21 in full committee and I will now need to work to restore it on the floor of the entire House. My provision would encourage exploration and development in this country. The provision that narrowly defeated mine, in my judgment, would guarantee higher imports. I believe we can defeat it on the floor and if not, it will be vetoed.

On the other hand, I was successful in committee in introducing an amendment that removed a major section of the bill which would have treated our section of the country and many other Americans very unfairly. That section would have required that refiners of oil charge substantially more of their costs against gasoline in order to raise its price, but must charge substantially less for fuel oil. Such a move would have benefited people with access to mass transit and people in New England who spend heavily on fuel oil. But it would have discriminated unfairly against people who must drive long distances such as those who live in West Texas, people who do not have access to mass transit, and people who unavoidably use their cars for extensive transports. Further, since many people in rural areas who travel long distances earn less than commuters who use mass transit, it would have placed an unfair burden, a regressive tax, on many of the people of our area. The amendment that I offered successfully removed that offending section.

All of this will again be debated in the full House and will be worked on by both the House and Senate and may, in the end, be vetoed by the Executive. Somewhere in that process, however, we will hope that legislation leading to better energy supplies and better energy conservation will be achieved.

HONOR AMERICA — JULY 4

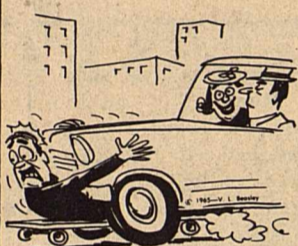

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice, and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it; to support its Constitution; to obey its laws; to respect its flag; and to defend it against all enemies.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ.....

Take Something Of A Serious Look At The Increase Of Nuclear Power

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterwedded ranch on the Dry Devil's River gets a little serious this week. Must be the weather.

Dear editor:

According to a small item in the paper the other day, the big countries now having the ability to make nuclear bombs are worried over the sale of nuclear power plants to smaller countries. As I understand it, such power plants are being sold already, and the nuclear powers are trying to figure out some safeguards to keep these small countries from using their nuclear power plants for making bombs along with electricity.

I'm afraid it's too late. Once nuclear power has been discovered by one country and two or three others catch on to how it's made, safeguarding against the further spread of the secret is like trying to safeguard against the spread of the secret of the bicycle.

The problem now is not how to keep some small country most of us never heard of from getting hold of nuclear power and therefore a nuclear bomb, but how to keep anybody from dropping one of the things and starting an all-out nuclear war and destroying three-fourths of the people on earth.

All I know is that there never was a child who didn't want to try out a new toy or a country that didn't want to try out a new weapon, and if that happens now with nuclear weapons scattered all around the world, look out.

The problem then becomes, who among us should be protected against such a holocaust, who should we save in underground fortresses to start civilization all over again? I have given this some thought and have worked up a list.

In the first place, we wouldn't want very many scientists, lest they come out of their hiding place underground and start right back to work figuring out how to make a hydrogen bomb. No, the list should run more to poets, editors, teachers, farmers, repairmen, housewives and other less harmful members of the species, with maybe a banker thrown in here and there, and maybe a few politicians to give the survivors something to laugh about. After all, you know, all work and no play....

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

VINEYARDS IN WEST TEXAS?

Experiments are under way to see if the arid lands of West Texas that are owned by The University of Texas can produce wine, in addition to oil and gas.

Vineyards have been planted on about 12 acres of UT land near Van Horn, as the University seeks new agricultural uses for its West Texas lands.

Cooperating in the grape project are University of Texas Lands, UT Austin's Balcones Research Center, Texas A&M's Agricultural Extension Service and Evergreen Farms, which leases UT lands near Van Horn.

Eddy Smith Receives Communication License

George E. (Eddy) Smith, Jr., a May graduate of Angelo State University, has recently attained his communication engineering license and was named a member of the Society of Broadcasting Engineers. He is employed by a San Angelo radio station as a projectionist engineer.

Smith graduated from ASU with a BA degree in journalism.

A 1971 graduate of Sonora High School, Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Smith, Sr., of San Angelo, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Luckie.

TAYLOR NAMED HONOR STUDENT

James Robert Taylor, enrolled in the air conditioning and refrigeration program at Texas State Technical Institution in Sweetwater, has made the President's Honor Roll, according to a release from the school.

Miss Debra Lee Young Becomes Bride Of C. Adam Morriss, III In Denton

Miss Debra Lee Young of Denton became the bride of C. Adam Morriss, III during candlelight ceremonies held Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Denton. Dr. L. L. Armstrong performed the double ring rites.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dorcell Young of Denton and Aubrey and Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Morriss Jr., of Dallas.

Candlelighters for the ceremony were Miss Lucy Morriss, cousin of the bridegroom; and Miss Connie Crane of Denton.

The bride, given in marriage by her mother and father, chose a white bridal gown of re-embroidered lace over hooped peau de soie, with accent trim of Venice lace and sheer organza. The princess style gown featured a wide scooped neckline and long fitted sleeves with organza ruffling. The entire hemline of the gown was accented by a wide organza flair extending around the chapel length train.

Her mantilla bridal veil was double-tiered net edged in Venice lace. The fingertip style included a blushing veil, and was held by a curved headband overlaid in lace. She carried a spiral cascade of mixed white spring flowers centered by gardenias atop a white prayerbook.

Providing traditional wedding music was Mrs. Bob Benton of Denton. Miss Mollie Morriss, cousin of the bridegroom, was soloist.

Miss Jamie Higgs of Denton served the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Debra Cole, Dianne Groening, and Lyn Morriss, all of Denton. Miss Tara Chancellor of Sweetwater and Miss Pam Van Horn of San Antonio. Miss Lisa Bybee of Aubrey was flower girl.

The bride's attendants wore identical designs of apricot evening-length gowns with fitted bodices, v-necklines, long full sleeves and flared a-line skirts. They carried French hand bouquets of apricot carnations, miniature roses, yellow daisies and baby's breath. The maid of honor carried a similar design in white. All wore floral headpieces to harmonize with the bouquets.

The flower girl wore an ankle length gown of white eyelet over apricot and carried a garden basket of spring flowers. She also wore a small floral headpiece.

Best man was the bride's brother, Rick Young of Denton. Groomsmen were Mike Sipes of Sonora, John Weid, cousin of the bridegroom, of Corpus Christi, Buddy Adams of San Saba, Tony Sauer of Fredericksburg, Gordon Morriss, cousin of the bridegroom of Mountain Home, and Tully Shahan of Bracketville.

Master Brian Bingham of Aubrey was ring bearer.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Texas A&M University and received his doctor of jurisprudence degree from St. Mary's University. He is county attorney for Sutton County.

The bride is a graduate of Denton High School and Texas Tech University.

After a wedding trip to Acapulco the couple will make their home in Sonora.

RECEPTION

A reception was held at the Denton Country Club immediately following the ceremony. Organ music was provided and the predominant colors of apricot and white were used in decorations and floral arrangements.

REHEARSAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Morriss, Jr., parents of the bridegroom, hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Double Tree Ranch near Lake Dallas Friday evening.

BRIDAL PARTIES

Several pre-nuptial parties honored the bride-elect including a bridesmaid's luncheon held at the Denton Country Club Saturday. Approximately 15 guest attended.

Josie Mata Weds Ben Torres June 29

Miss Josie Mata and Mr. Ben Torres were united in marriage June 29 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Mata. Justice of the Peace Mat Adams officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Maria Torres is the bridegroom's mother. Sponsoring the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Martinez.

Following the ceremony, wedding cake was served at the bride's home. Relatives of the bride were hosts to a wedding supper. Approximately 80 guests attended.

A Bishop Looks at Life

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of the Episcopal Church (This is the third in a series on "Faith of Our Fathers," dealing with religion in America 200 years ago.)

Dr. Richard B. Morris, a noted scholar of early U. S. history, was recently asked whether the men of the American Revolution had a greater sense of morality than politicians generally today.

He replied: "They had a greater sense of morality--there's no doubt about that. They also had a greater sense of personal honor...I would say that the Revolutionary leaders viewed their public offices with great seriousness and dignity and operated with great integrity, although some conflict-of-interest situations were not unknown then as now."

But what of the rank and file of people in the colonies? Here, too, the standards generally were certainly higher than those of today. Many of the early settlers brought their Puritanism with them and this influence continued. In addition the religious revival called "The Great Awakening" (1735-1750), led by Jonathan Edwards, stirred new spiritual and moral commitments.

Historians have pointed out that the religious foundations of colonial America helped to create the spirit that made the Revolution possible--and successful: a new self-awareness, a new confidence, a consciousness of common purpose, a willingness to break with European customs and norms.

But it would be a mistake to over-idealize the moral character of all that was said and done 200 years ago. There were areas of weakness as well as areas of strength; our forefathers were men of flesh and blood, not angels.

The Declaration of Independence included a scathing indictment of the institution of slavery, but this draft was rejected by the Continental Congress. Jefferson himself is a good example of the gulf between word and deed in regard to slavery. The same man who wrote about the slave trade, "This abomination must have an end, and there is a superior bench reserved in heaven for those who hasten it"--this man owned throughout his lifetime from 100 to 200 slaves of his own.

Perhaps one valuable way to observe the Bicentennial is to ask, in all earnestness: What are some of our moral "blind spots" that will be clear to our descendants 220 years from now?

Mrs. Glen Berry Named Chairman

Mrs. Glen Berry has accepted the annual Breath of Life Campaign of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, according to Chuck Laurent, president of the Lone Star Chapter of the foundation.

The annual door-to-door drive has been scheduled for September, according to Mrs. Berry. Those who would like to support this worthy cause are asked to contact her at 387-2026.

Though there is no cure for Cystic Fibrosis, today there is real hope, based on the realities of more public understanding, more public support, more advanced research and better care. But with this progress, the need of six million children who struggle to breathe, grows larger, and with it, the need for more volunteers and more funds.

Use as little water as possible when boiling potatoes to prevent loss of important vitamins and minerals. Save the liquid to be used as part of the liquid ingredient when making cakes, quick breads and other baked goods, advises Mrs. Mary Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

FROM LAW COMES FREEDOM

When God gave Moses the Ten Commandments they were largely NEGATIVE appreciate God's feeling for us! For if you were privileged to rewrite the Commandments would you choose to make them POSITIVE? "You MUST... polite political name for that kind of prying of it!"

Truly, every "thou shall not" inspires earnest believers to find their own rightful expressions of conviction and commitment. Our secular Law with its protections of the rights of others does not restrict into more constructive channels, more fruitful aims.

Never does the Law say "Thou shall go to Church every Sunday." It does say "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy". REMEMBERING OUR SPIRITUAL NEEDS IS THE ESSENCE OF FREEDOM!

Sonora School Needs- Assessment Program Told

The Sonora Public Schools have been led by Superintendent Joe Andrews and supported by their school board, in doing a needs assessment as part of a federally funded project called Comprehensive Planning, Budgeting and Evaluation.

The first steps in the project involved a committee of students, teachers, and other community members in setting goals for the Sonora Schools. Then large segments of the community, faculty, and students were asked to rank the goals according to their importance. In the Sonora Community, the goals which ranked highest involved students accepting responsibility for their own actions, developing basic reading skills, developing a positive self-image, acquiring the ability to think critically and constructively, and developing career plans.

The administrators and faculty have been involved with studying the present teaching practices and test scores in order to determine the students' achievement of the goals.

Dr. Andrews spent three days in St. Louis, Missouri at a meeting where successful school programs from all over the nation were demonstrated. He studied these projects and selected for further investigation ones which he felt might be of benefit in meeting the goals for education in Sonora.

The response from throughout the Sonora community and within the faculty has been very positive. With the cooperation of these groups, the Sonora Schools will continue in efforts to give their students a better education every year.

Dr. Peebles Joins TAMU Lab Staff

Dr. Joe Gray Peebles, 1963 graduate of Texas A&M University, has joined the staff of the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory at TAMU as a case supervisor.

A former practitioner in Plainview, Sonora and San Antonio, he was recently employed by Coddling Embryological Sciences Inc. of Foraker, Oklahoma. Peebles practiced at San Antonio and Sonora after his graduation and later was at Plainview six years.

Holiday Death Toll Estimated At 54

The director of the Texas Department of Public Safety has estimated that traffic accidents in the state over the July 4 holiday weekend will claim 54 lives.

Colonel Wilson E. Speir said his department expects travel will be heavy in Texas over the holiday period "particularly in and around recreational areas" such as lakes and beaches.

He added that the estimate covers a 78-hour period starting on Thursday at 6 p.m. and counting until midnight Sunday. Last year during a 102-hour Independence Day celebration, 46 persons were killed in traffic mishaps in Texas.

Speir also pointed out that highway traffic deaths are about 25 per cent over the total at this time one year ago. "This is due to increased travel and somewhat higher speeds," he added.

In a concerted effort to keep deaths down, the DPS and local law enforcement agencies will be cooperating in the all-out effort to make the streets and highways as safe as possible. All available DPS troopers will be on duty, Speir said, and they will be especially watchful for drinking drivers, speeders and persons driving in a reckless manner.

In addition, the DPS will be working with the news media in a special public education program termed "Operation Motorcide" which focuses public attention on where and why fatal accidents are occurring during the holiday.

Blaine Crawford Awarded Grant

Blaine Crawford, 1975 graduate of Sonora High School, has been awarded a $600 King Foundation Scholarship by the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation.

The King Foundation provided funds for 10 of the $600 grants this year to be administered by TILF.

Crawford earned eligibility for the King Foundation Scholarship by participating in University Interscholastic League science competition at the 1975 State Meet in Austin. He placed first in district and regional science contests in 1975.

In 1974 he won first places at district science and number sense competition, and in 1973 he placed second in science and number sense at the district level.

Crawford was valedictorian of his graduating class with a four-year high school grade average of 96.24. He was a member of the National Honor Society and won awards in algebra I and II, geometry, advanced math and physics. He was also a West Texas Scholar nominee.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Crawford, and plans to major in mathematics and computer technology at Angelo State University.
