Broncos Make Good Showing In Scrimmage Against Iraan

By Bob Granger
King Football made its 1975 debut Friday night in Bronco Stadium before a large crowd as the Bronco Junior Varsity and Varsity hosted a tough tribe of Iraan Braves in a controlled scrimmage.

The Bronco Junior Varsity No. 1 unit and the Iraan No. 1 unit initiated the scrimmage as each team reeled off 20 plays each on offense followed by a series of 20 plays each by the No. 2 units of each team. Both squads looked good as this was the first action for most of the boys on the team. Coaches Don Patton and Bob Snodgrass felt the J. V. has a long way to go as far as improvement is concerned, but due to the relative youth on the squad, felt the boys did a fine job and will improve with each outing this season.

The Bronco Varsity took the defensive side to open the varsity portion of the scrimmage session and gave up a couple of big plays as the Braves ran their opening plays of the scrimmage. When the Broncos went on offense the first time they had some difficulty in moving the ball with any consistency.

It was a different story as the Broncos went on defense on the second offensive series of plays for the Braves. The Bronco defense rose to the occasion and completely stymied the Iraan offense for practically no gain on 20 consecutive plays.

The Bronco offense then took over for their second series and moved the ball consistently for good gains on the ground and air to overpower the Braves and punch across the goal line for a couple of scores.

Coach Bill Bundy felt the boys did a good job and will be ready for the season opener against the Coleman Bluecats in Coleman Friday night. The Broncos edged the Bluecats last year in Sonora by a score of 7-0.

Johnny Creek was named president of the sophomore class and Nancy Mooney vice president. Terri Simpler was named as secretary.

Freshmen chose Billy Bob Galbreath as president and Dan Lawson as vice president. Linda Lozano will serve as secretary to that class.

Booster Club Officers Elected

Re-elected as president of the Bronco Booster Club was Jamie Parker. Boosters met August 21 in an organizational meeting. Don Lawson was named vice president and Mrs. Don Lawson was re-elected secretary.

Named as new directors of the club were Lin Hicks and Luther Creek. Hold-over directors are J. D. Cook, Bob Mooney and Jim Mathews.

Booster meetings are held each Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m., in the school cafeteria. All townspeople are urged to join the organization and to attend the meetings.

Sonora Broncos made a good showing in Friday night's scrimmage against the Braves from Iraan, although five starters on the varsity squad were out with injuries. The Broncos will travel to Coleman Friday night where they will meet the Bluecats in the first clash of the pre-district season. Game time is 8 p.m.

FOAMCRAFTING

Surprise your little one with his or her very own giraffe. This easy-do animal project is one of a zany zoo collection we will offer from time to time. Youngsters love this colorful "pet", and this is one giraffe even adults will find hard to resist.

The project, along with dozens of others, is from a new book — "Foamcrafting With Styrofoam" at most craft and hobby stores.

Giraffe

Materials needed

- One 4" ball of Styrofoam plastic foam for the head
- One 3" egg of plastic foam for the nose
- One 5" ball of plastic foam for the body
- Two 1 1/2" balls for the antlers
- One 1 1/2" diameter pole of plastic foam, 14" long for the neck
- Three pieces of felt: 1/orange, 1/black, 1/hot pink
- Three chenille stems—orange
- One acrylic paint, yellow
- One bunch of artificial flowers
- Six toothpicks for assembly

Procedure

To form nose, cut a slice from one side of the 3" plastic foam egg. (Figure 1 — front view, and figure 2 — side view.) Cut a small slice from other side of egg and from a 4" ball (head) so that the head and nose fit together tightly. Secure using two toothpicks dipped in glue.

in place. Pin felt flowers to top of nose, on neck and body. Make two small orange circles for nostrils.

Place a bunch of forget-me-nots into mouth and secure with a small length (1") of chenille stem bent into a hairpin shape and forced into the foam mouth.

GOOD PSYCHOLOGY

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ.....

He Knows Why Russia Is Unable To Produce Enough Needed Grain

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River gives a scientific explanation of why Russia can't produce all the food it needs.

Dear editor: A neighbor the other day asked me a question. "Why," he said, "can't the Russians grow all the grain they need? They've got more land than we have, they've got more people, they've got enough tractors, they're even exporting tractors, so why can't they feed themselves?"

Obviously, he doesn't understand the soil of Russia. You see Russian soil is not all the same.

For example, as you know, the state over there owns all the land, and what a farmer produces on that land goes to the state, with one exception. Each farmer is allowed a small plot, maybe a fifth of an acre, maybe a half, but not more than one whole acre, on which he can grow what he pleases and keep it all himself or sell it and keep the money.

It's amazing how much better those small plots are than the rest of the farm. Why, the average Russian farmer can grow ten times as much per square foot on his part than he can on the state's.

This has baffled the Soviet leaders. They just can't figure it out. The land is the same, they say, one part gets just as much or as little rain as the rest, yet invariably the small plots out-produce.

I understand this matter has come up before the Politburo year after year, but not a single Russian leader has found the answer. Even Russian scientists are baffled by the problem, or if they aren't baffled they ain't saying nothing. It's cold in Siberia.

I can see the Minister of agriculture tackling the problem himself. "Ivan," he says, after Ivan has just come in from an 8-hour day on state-owned land driving a state-owned tractor that needs oil but he'll get around to that tomorrow or sometime, "how is it that you always produce better cabbage in your garden here than you do out there in the field?"

"I've always wondered about that myself," Ivan probably says. "It's hard to explain. Maybe the soil is better. Here, take this nice head of cabbage home to your wife and kids. Want some of these potatoes? They taste better than those field-grown ones."

There's a great opportunity in Russia for better soil scientists.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

It's Superlative!

Diamonds are, chemically, pure carbon. But it was no carbon copy that actor Richard Burton bought in October, 1969, for Elizabeth Taylor, then his wife. It was a 69.42-carat flawless diamond ring and he paid $1,200,000 for it, making it the highest-priced diamond ever sold at auction.

Texas Medical Association

FEW DIE FROM SNAKEBITE

Snakebites very seldom kill.

Some 45,000 persons are bitten by snakes each year in the United States, says the Texas Medical Association.

Of the 45,000 bites, some 8,000 are by venomous snakes. Despite these many bites by poisonous snakes, deaths from snake venom poisoning have not exceeded 12 per year in the past five years.

In some 20 per cent of the bites of poisonous snakes, no venom is actually injected.

While there are more than 3,000 species of snakes, only 300 or so are sufficiently poisonous to be of danger to man. In the United States, there are some 120 species of snakes, about 20 of which are venomous. These latter include rattlesnakes, cottonmouth water moccasins, copperheads and coral snakes.

Injection of antivenin as soon as possible after the bite is highly important in treatment.

Incisions over the fang marks and suction from the cuts are helpful only within the first 30 minutes after the bite. A tourniquet above the bite may help. The patient should be kept warm, not allowed to walk or be given alcohol, and should be given constant reassurance.

The most important act following snakebite is to get the victim to a hospital or doctor as quickly as possible. New studies have shown that the antivenin is most effective when given within four hours of a bite, the earlier the better. It is of less value if delayed for eight hours, and of questionable value after 24 hours.

The Now Washbasket

By Bobbie Hill

Simply following directions eliminates many laundry problems, and one of the basic rules is: Sort out clothes and you sort out problems.

First, sort by color. Separate whites from colors, then separate light colors from bright or dark ones. A white fabric that's been damaged by dye transfer can possibly be restored by a color remover. Read and follow package directions carefully.

Next, sort by temperature and cycle. Fabrics like white cottons need hot water and normal agitation. Washable woolens need warm or cool water, a short cycle and gentle agitation. Permanent press and synthetics look best when washed in the "wash 'n' wear" or "durable/permanent press" cycle. If your machine doesn't have a special cycle, use warm water for normal soil and a cold rinse.

Sorting by fabric is important, too. For example, don't wash lingerie with jeans. If you don't sort loosely knit, lace-trimmed and hand-washable garments from rougher fabrics, the delicacies may come out torn, twisted or snagged.

And separate the lint-givers from the lint-catchers. Terry-cloth and chenille are common lint-givers while nylon socks, synthetics, permanent press, corduroy and velveteen are common lint-catchers.

Good Nutrition by

Jaroslava M. Kalkmann, Ph.D.

Q. How can I reduce my intake of saturated fat and still have a nutritionally sound diet?

A. No problem! Making wise menu choices is the heart of the solution.

Current recommendations are to have no more than 10% of your day's calories from saturated fat. For a man who eats 2700 Calories a day, this amounts to about 30 grams of saturated fat in all meals and snacks. In terms of foods, this is the amount in a dinner of standing rib roast, baked potato with butter and a piece of butterscotch pie—or a lunch of a cheeseburger, potato chips, glass of milk and dish of ice cream.

In making menu decisions, it helps to select the low saturated fat foods in each of the familiar food groups needed nutritionally each day:

MEAT GROUP (2 or more 3 oz. servings). Avoid luxury cuts of beef, bacon, spareribs, and visible fat. Emphasize lean cuts of beef, fish, chicken, veal, dried beans and peas, peanut butter.

VEGETABLES AND FRUITS (4 or more servings). Most fruits and vegetables are virtually fat-free. However, butter is high in saturated fat, so dress vegetables with Mazola corn oil or margarine instead.

MILK GROUP (2 cups for adults and up to 4 cups for children, pregnant and lactating women). Avoid whole milk, most cheeses and ice cream. You get the nutrients expected from this group using skim milk, cottage cheese and ice milk but with less saturated fat.

BREAD-CEREAL GROUP (4 servings). Flours and cereal grains contain little fat of any kind, so avoid adding saturated fat in using them. Make breads and baked goods with corn oil or margarine. Fry in oil. Dress pasta with oil or margarine. Snack crackers and potato chips produced commercially may be high in saturated fat.

Be careful about extras. Cream soups are high in saturated fat but clear soups are not. Cakes and pastries vary; you can keep the saturated fat down by doing your own baking with margarine or corn oil.

Here are some figures to illustrate your options:

Food	Saturated Fat
3 oz. rib roast, cooked	16 grams
3 oz. round steak, cooked	5
3 oz. oil packed tuna, drained	2
3 oz. haddock, fried	1
3 oz. roast chicken	1
1 cup pork & beans	2
2 tsp. peanut butter	3
1/2 pint ice cream	8
1/2 pint ice milk	4
1 slice bread	trace
20 potato chips	4
1 sweet roll	5
Pc. angle food cake trace	1
1 cup cream of tomato soup	3
1 cup beef broth	trace
1 tsp. margarine	2
1 tsp. corn oil	2
1 tsp. butter	6

HOME

What is home? A blend of memories and mortar . . . walls and roof and smells of breakfast cooking . . . a place of rest at the end of the day . . . a feeling of possession, of belonging . . . a place of hates, loves, anger . . . center of things living.

Home may be a mansion on a hill, a cramped apartment, a farmhouse, a hovel, a new suburban split-level, the house Father built . . . but only to you and your family is it home. No one else may call it that. For home is a part of you!

Centuries ago a shepherd-poet felt this. Lonely seasons on the grazing slopes had taught him to love . . . to long for . . . HOME.

But he realized that, through this life and beyond, the nearness of God is part of the sense of home. Goodness and mercy would follow him all the days of his life. And he would dwell in the house of the Lord forever!

A Bishop Looks at Life

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of Episcopal Church A Few Words In Favor Of Fidelity

Some of the wisest words I have read on the growing prevalence of divorce come from Dr. Page Smith, retired UCLA professor and distinguished biographer of John Adams (whose marriage to Abigail spanned 54 years.)

He said he turned for guidance to a young friend of a generation behind his own. It was her opinion that 80 percent of the broken marriages came apart because they were "open." That is to say that these couples, before they got married, (which was often not much more than a concession to convention) solemnly agreed not to be "possessive" of one another.

To be nonpossessive was to be open, progressive, modern, enlightened-free. The most crucial test of nonpossessiveness was in the matter of sexual relations. Yet, said his young friend, it was the inability to live with the consequences of these high-minded (and simple-minded) commitments that had wrecked their marriages. Strange old things like guilt and possessiveness and disappointment and humiliation, not to mention loneliness and sense of betrayal, rose up to haunt them in their modern, enlightened wisdom.

Says Dr. Page: "I was reminded of how much we are the victims of ideas. So much of what happens to us is the consequence of ideas that have been embedded in our funny little brains. When the notion of fidelity was lodged there, we were reasonably faithful, mate to mate; at least we tried our best and stuck it out, the good and the bad, and often we grew old and loving and somewhat wise in the process."

"Nowdays, with a quite different set of ideas firmly implanted and with all our fine freedoms and liberations, I haven't noticed that we come out any healthier, wiser, kinder, more generous, or above all, any happier. (If we did, it would be hard to argue with the new ethic.)"

"Fidelity is made up of mutual belonging. Of belonging to each other. It is composed of the ties of affection and selflessness that allow us to enter deeply and tenderly into another's life, that precious kingdom so desperately vulnerable to indifference and cruelty...."

"For as long as I can remember I have wished, I suppose above all else, to belong to someone and to have someone who belonged to me. I'm afraid I lack the courage, moral hardihood or resolution to go it alone...I need all the support I can get from my wife, my friends, my children, all those I love and who, I trust, love me; all those I belong to and who belong to me."

"It's those of another generation who don't even understand the principle of fidelity that I mourn for. What will the ripeness of years mean to them when the landscapes of their lives are strewn with the wreckage of dead romances?"

Snob originally meant a low-born dolt.

Local Artist, Barbara Earwood Has A Love For Watercolors

Barbara Earwood, a New Englander by birth, came to Sonora from Weymouth, Massachusetts, and in home life is Mrs. Armer Earwood. She has been drawing all her life, has a great fascination for each painting or drawing media, and a special love or feeling for watercolors.

The mother of three children, Mrs. Earwood, enjoys attending workshops throughout the year, and has studied with John Pike, N. A., of New York, and Millard Sheets, N.A., of California. A member of the San Angelo Art Club, and three-time winner of their Painting of the Month Award, she began her serious studying at Angelo State University under Otis Lumkin. Her many other teachers include Margaret Stites, Tincie Heddens, and Charles Blsick of San Angelo; Sherwood Suter of Abilene; Juanita Pollard, Lubbock; Kitty Palmer, Ft. Worth; Michael Frary, Austin; Bud Biggs, Richardson; Ronald Thamason, Wetherford; and with Clay McGaughy of San Antonio, for many summers at the Hill Country Art Foundation, Kerrville.

Two of her paintings were accepted in the Texas Watercolor Society's 25th Anniversary Show at the McNay Institute in San Antonio. One painting, "Lost Earth", received the Russell Rogers Purchase Prize for Transparent Watercolors and went on circuit during 1974. It was featured in the Award Magazine of the Society. Two of her watercolors have received State Citations from the Texas Fine Arts Association, and last October "Circus" won the purchase prize. In August this painting hung in the LaGuna Gloria Museum in Austin and was selected to go on circuit during the coming year. Mrs.

Earwood has won two Region XVII Circuit Awards; four ribbons in '72, first place, '73, Best of Show, '74 of the San Angelo Stock Show Exhibit; and holds a certificate of Merit from the WSA International Show in N.Y.

The painting "Adobe Doorway" was selected as Purchase Prize at the San Angelo Arts Festival, and now hangs in the First National Bank of San Angelo.

She has been invited to participate in the "Arts About Town" in Dallas, and the "Sunshine Auction" in San Antonio; and has been the cover artist for the Ranch Magazine with her drawing "Raul's Saddle" in '73, and the current issue of August '75 with "Nanny and Kids".

Mrs. Earwood is a member of the Southwest Watercolor Society, The Texas Watercolor Society, The Texas Fine Arts Association, San Antonio Watercolor Group, The San Antonio Art League, and a Director of the Big Country Arts Association of Abilene. She has exhibited widely in this area, most recently in the Hilton Palacio

Del Rio in San Antonio; and her paintings hang in many private collections.

Mrs. Earwood's paintings will be on exhibit this month at the Angelo West Branch Library in the K-Mart Plaza of San Angelo. Her show will include pencil drawing, scratchboard, oil, and watercolor paintings, depicting landscapes and ranch scenes of the sheep and goat area. Angelo West Branch Library is open 9 a.m. - 1 p.m. and 2-6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

During September, The Helen King Kendall Art Gallery will host a showing of watercolors by Dianne Maxey, and Vernell Leach both of San Angelo, and Mrs. Earwood. The exhibit, sponsored by the San Angelo Art Club, will open with a tea on Sunday, September 7, from 2-5 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend. Kendall Art Gallery is located at 119 W. First, and is open 2-5 p.m. on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday. There is no admission charge for the tea or for either show.

A theater's green room was the off-stage sitting room used by the actors, and gets its name from the fact that its walls were often painted green to rest the eyes exposed to bright stage lights.

Bob Krueger's Weekly Report

One of the most important tasks of the Congressman is to serve as a representative. And one way to keep in touch, particularly with people in the city, is to go directly to them. The Congressman gets invitations to speak to civic groups, to public meetings, and through the media, but nothing can substitute for the direct personal encounter, not just with "community leaders", but with the broad cross-section of the people in the district.

During this Congressional recess, I have made a hard effort to keep in touch with various parts of the district. In small towns, I had town meetings to hear from the people there. In San Antonio, I walked door-to-door to hear peoples' concerns.

People spoke about many problems: inflation, crime, energy, and more particular concerns like the possible removal of commissary privileges, bank loans, and their personal needs. What was particularly striking to me was the strong public feeling that something must be done about our energy problem; yet there remains some uncertainty about the nature of the problem itself. I hope to help clarify that again in the future. But more important than knowing of particular problems was my learning that the American people still have confidence in their capacity to move into a better future.

While there was concern over unemployment and inflation, there was no despair. People seemed to be feeling their way gradually, and cautiously, toward an enlarged confidence. Banks are still making many loans for the short term, because they are uncertain of the future.

Some businessmen are still holding back from heavy investment, because they want to get a clearer sense of the economic climate. At the same time, however, classified advertising is up, businessmen are increasing their inventories, and people are gradually feeling better about the direction of our economy.

The higher prices we now face, particularly for food and utilities, have hit especially hard the retired, the elderly, and our lower income citizens. And it is the responsibility of all of us to see that all Americans have an opportunity to share in the economic improvement that now seems likely. The most crucial factor for a healthier economy is confidence in our own future. This will depend on responsible government, on the integrity of public officials, and of our own awareness that this nation has not only survived far worse situations, but that we have begun once again to get our economy back on track. It is healthy and refreshing to hear directly from the people whom I have the privilege of representing. It was very good to feel their confidence about the future.

Something to count on!

At a time when the economy is unstable, it's hard to pick a winner. The stock market jumps up one day and down the next. Even experts are unable to reliably predict the future of investments. That's why SASA's four certificates of deposit are truly something you can count on for any period from 90 days to 4 years. SASA certificates of deposit pay from 5.75 to 7.50 percent annually. With daily compounding, they produce from 5.92 to 7.79 percent annually. They are insured up to $40,000 by the FSLIC. Now, that's something you can count . . . and count on!

ANNUAL RATES COMPOUNDED DAILY
PASSBOOK: 5.25% ANNUAL YIELD 5.39%
SAVINGS CERTIFICATES: 5.75% to 7.50%
ANNUAL YIELD 5.92% to 7.79%

Bronco Sideline Shots

By Bob Granger

Five varsity members did not suit up for the scrimmage Friday night against Iran due to injuries and illness. Steve Chandler, Tom Valliant, Clayton Wadley, Hector Perez and Scott Brasher watched from the sidelines as their teammates scrimmaged. Valliant, Wadley and Perez should be ready for the season opener against Coleman.

Coaching assignments for the year find Coach Dale Ethridge handling the 7th Grade, Coach Oliver Wuest and David Patton coaching the 8th Grade, Don Patton and Bob Snodgrass working with the Junior Varsity and Head Coach and Athletic Director Bill Bundy assisted by Roland Pfeiffer and Tommy Miller, working with the varsity.

We would like to take this opportunity in welcoming Coach Dale Ethridge and his family to Sonora. Coach Ethridge will handle the 7th Grade Colts and scout during football season. Coach Ethridge was named as head Basketball Coach earlier in the year.

The Bronco Junior Varsity will open their season in Mertzton September 11 at 8 p.m. against the Mertzton Hornet Varsity. This will be Mertzton's first venture into 11 man football, having competed in 8 man ball in the past.

Remember the Booster Club meets at the School Cafeteria each Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is urged to attend and support the club.

Police Reports

City Policeman Joe Fincher investigated a vandalism report August 27 at Frank's Body Shop. The shop's owner, Frank Potmesil, advised the police department that a window had been broken out of a car parked at his business. Damage was believed to have been caused by a rock.

At 4:55 that afternoon Fincher investigated a traffic accident at the 100 block of North Wardlaw where a vehicle operated by Stephen W. Kneese of Sonora struck a parked vehicle.

A local restaurant summoned police aid in the early morning hours of August 29 when three persons left the restaurant without paying their food check. Officer Jerry Kemp apprehended the three suspects and charged them with theft of services. They were placed in Sutton County Jail.

A minor accident occurred at 11:45 a.m. in front of White's Auto Store. No damage was reported.

At 1:40 p.m., police were asked to aid in the search for a three-year-old girl who apparently strayed from her home. She was found at a local restaurant.

Angel Huerta of San Angelo and Betty Hearn Weant were involved in a minor accident at 3:40 p.m., on that day. Minor damage was reported to both the Huerta and Weant vehicles.

An auto owned by Donnal Wampler was reported damaged while parked in front of a Sonora lounge. The other vehicle involved left the scene of the accident.

Another minor traffic accident occurred in a local restaurant parking lot Sunday when Dennis M. Collins, Jr., of Kermit hit a parked car belonging to Joyce Ann Miller of Sonora.

There were nine citations issued during week.

Dollars & Good Sense

by William J. Martin
Special Consultant to SAVED FINANCIAL SERVICES

The time comes in every driver's life when he has to sell his car.

Whatever your reasons for selling, the manner in which you handle the deal can make a difference of hundreds of dollars in the price you get.

If you simply take the car to a local dealer and accept his offer, chances are you'll be getting the wholesale value of the car or possibly less. If you sell the car to a private party, you stand a better chance of getting the retail value of the car.

Before you start showing your car, put it in showroom condition. Look at the car from two points of view: running condition and appearance. Repair only the cheaper mechanical items such as brakes and steering. A major engine overhaul will not pay for itself when you sell.

Most buyers will pay a lot of attention to appearance. Make sure the car is clean inside and out, and waxed.

To spread the word about your car, place a newspaper ad listing the year and make of the car and the options it has. If you're the first owner, say so. And list your price, but don't use a phrase like "Best offer," because that suggests you'll settle for less.

When you talk to the buyer, be as honest about the car's faults as its good points. Don't let a customer take the car for a test drive alone. And accept only cash or a certified check for payment.
