

Broncos Gallop Past Coleman

By Bob Granger
The Sonora Broncos opened their 1975 season in Coleman Friday night with an impressive 20-6 victory over the Coleman Bluecats.

Using fine offensive blocking by the line and quick offensive bursts by the backs, the Broncos racked up 223 yards rushing. The Bronco defense gave up 218 yards on the ground but were able to hold Coleman to one touchdown.

Both teams were guilty of early season miscues as Coleman lost three fumbles and the Broncos lost two. Each team intercepted one pass, so turnovers were fairly even on both sides.

Coleman made the first serious threat of the game as they worked from their 22 yard line down to the Bronco 20 where a fourth down field goal try was wide to the left.

From this point the Bronco offensive team went to work and drove the ball 80 yards in eight plays with David Snodgrass capping the drive with a 35 yard blast over right tackle to score with 11:17 left in the final quarter.

John David Cook's try for the extra point was no good, leaving the score Sonora 6, Coleman 0.

Coleman came bouncing back and drove the ball 61 yards to a first and goal situation on the Bronco 9 yard line. In three plays, Coleman was able to gain only eight yards on the Sonora defense. On fourth down, Grant Brown tried the right side of Sonora's defensive line and was hit for an apparent loss but fumbled the ball into the end zone where Robbie Mitchell recovered for a Coleman touchdown. Coleman's extra point try was no good and left the score tied at 6-6.

Later in the second quarter the Broncos recovered a Coleman fumble on the Coleman 30 yard line and seven plays later Snodgrass plunged one yard for the touchdown. Cook tacked on the extra point and Sonora led 13-6 at halftime.

After intermission, the Broncos took the second half kickoff and moved 61 yards in 12 plays climaxed by a two yard run by quarterback John Elliott to score the third Sonora TD. Cook again added the PAT to send Sonora ahead 20-6.

Coleman made a couple of scoring threats later in the game as they drove to the Sonora 27 yard line and 20 yard line only to be stopped by a stout Bronco defense.

Coach Bill Bundy was pleased with the overall effort but feels the Broncos have to improve in several areas to be a top-notch ball club.

The Broncos entertain the Junction Eagles Friday night in Bronco Stadium at 8:00 p.m. The Eagles are always ready for the Broncos and this year will be no exception.

Booster Club Projects Set

Sonora Bronco Booster Club members have made plans for projects for the coming year totaling $2,503.00.

Included in this expenditure are a 20' x 20' Insulite mat for the weight room, hydraulic weight machine and basketball rebounder.

Last year the club purchased a projector for use by the coaches and had a very successful year financially due to the support and help of the many Bronco Boosters. Not only are the Boosters interested in football projects but want to assist in other sports areas also to help form a well balanced program for our youth.

The Boosters will again have their football sponsorship program where an individual or individuals can sponsor a varsity member for $25.00. This program was very successful last year and was most helpful in securing money to pay for Booster Club projects.

Raising The Price Of Gasoline Unlikely To Cut Down On Driving

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River reviews the gasoline situation this week.
Dear editor:
I have been puzzling over the idea some people in Washington have that the way to conserve gasoline is to raise the price.
As I understand it, this theory is based on the notion that people drive their cars needlessly, so if you can get the price of gas up high enough a man will think twice before getting in his car when he could have walked or taken a bus, less and less gasoline will be used and then maybe there'll be enough to go around, at least for those in the upper brackets.
However, some people already are as thrifty with their car as they are with their money, and a man of this turn of mind is already holding his driving down to a minimum, which means, under the Washington theory, that while he won't drive fewer miles, he'll pay a lot more for the same miles. Right here, a man gets confused over whether raising the price of gas is a conservation measure or a revenue measure.
Now as far as making less thrifty people cut down on their driving is concerned, I don't believe Washington understands human nature. With a lot of people, driving a car is like drinking coffee. A cup of coffee used to cost a nickel, then a dime, and now it's all the way from 15 cents to 30 cents, but nobody is drinking less coffee. As a coffee-conservation measure, raising the price is a flop. The same goes for cold drinks, chewing gum, cigarettes and for all I know lollypops and all-day suckers. Why, Congress has just raised the price of a Congressman, but you don't see fewer of them, do you?

The American public is hooked on cars, and while it's hard to see how we can do it, if the price of gas goes to a dollar a gallon, there'll be just as many traffic jams as ever. Actually, the only sure way to conserve gasoline is to abolish weekends, holidays, summer vacations, and football games, require teen-agers during the week to stay home and study, and then look out for a revolution.
I'm afraid Washington has been getting some bad advice. Raising the price of gasoline to cut down on its use is like raising the price of milk to keep babies from drinking so much of it. Even if it worked, you'd wind up with a lot of unhappy babies.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Bob Krueger's Weekly Report

Citizens everywhere recognize and rightly complain of waste in their government. One type of waste derives from unnecessary regulation. A second type, however, comes from the unwillingness of government agencies to abide by the laws they are to administer.
In recent weeks, the Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigation on which I serve has been studying the question of whether some few physicians paid by Medicaid funds have practiced unnecessary surgery. In studying this, our committee discovered that the administrators within the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare lack basic data and have not required adequate reporting from the state recipients of federal funds.
An HEW-funded report reveals that two states have never turned in cost statements on Medicaid funds expended and yet received federal dollars. In other words, the states have never turned in an itemized bill to the federal government and yet have had millions of dollars paid to them for their disbursement. Further, there are documented instances of hospitals that have been paid by state funds (which are matched by federal funds in the Medicaid program) without submitting their costs. There are ten states that have been found (after two reviews) not to be complying with utilization standards, and yet they have received full federal funding, contrary to specific instructions of the law passed by Congress.
Certainly the people have a fundamental right to see that their money is being spent as wisely and frugally as possible. When the administrator responsible for the Medicaid Program pointed out to the new Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare that the Department was in violation of the law and should not be spending money without adequate accounting for it, the Secretary refused to reduce the federal matching contribution as the law requires. Instead, he ordered a "study", familiar words to us all.
Last year, expenditures in the Medicaid program increased 16 percent over the previous year. We expect a greater increase in 1975. To find that a federal agency acts in knowing violation of its mandate is hard to justify, as is the expenditure of the peoples' money without adequate accounting. This type of action is one reason that so many citizens are alarmed by the growth, complexity, and apparent imperviousness of some federal agencies. We must restore the basic principle of public accountability which we have a right to expect of all public servants, those who are appointed as well as those who are elected. And we must assure that executive agencies of the government faithfully execute the laws which they are charged to administer. Our subcommittee's oversight of the Medicaid program is a good example of the potential effectiveness of our system of checks and balances, but our job is obviously not finished.

The Consumer Alert
by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Early fall is a time when many Texans are trying to locate an apartment, duplex, or house to rent.
And many persons may be depending on getting some professional assistance with the job of finding a suitable spot that fits their pocketbook from a rental listing agency.
Our Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division suggests that the selection of a rental listing agency be made with care, since reports from other states indicate that some consumers have had problems involving misleading or deceptive trade practices in dealing with a few such firms.
Rental listing agencies operate by charging a fee to persons who want to gain access to their special listings of rental property, since most such agencies obtain exclusive contracts with owners to advertise and rent their property.
Some rental listing services specialize in property in certain areas of town. Others specialize in certain types of rental units, such as efficiency apartments, luxury townhouses, or duplex units.
Thus, persons interested only in certain types of rent property or property only in a certain location, may save a great deal of time and effort they might otherwise have spent in looking at property that doesn't meet their needs or wants by dealing with a listing agency.
Real estate advertisements placed in the newspapers by such rental listing agencies may sound like ads placed by owners or real estate brokers, except that the agency name, and sometimes the stipulation

Reddy's helpful tips for your Home Laundry

- ★ Avoid wasting hot water while laundering. Use the cold and warm water setting as much as possible to cut down on the energy needed to heat water.
- ★ Use the water level control on your washer. You should use less hot water for small loads.
- ★ Follow detergent instructions carefully. Over-sudsing makes your washing machine motor work harder than it needs to.
- ★ Clean the lint filter on your washer and dryer after each load to keep your machine running efficiently.

Easy Way To Mole

The chocolate is a surprise ingredient only to those who are not familiar with Mexico's scrumptious mole.

Perfect for a summer party is this simplified version of Mexico's glamorous national dish, Turkey (or Chicken) Mole. Almonds are essential in Mexican cookery and contribute their usual crunchy elegance to this colorful main dish.

Mole Norteamericano

- | | |
|---|--|
| 2 tablespoons vegetable oil | 2 cans (7 oz. each) green chile salsa |
| 1 cup slivered almonds | 1 can (15 or 16 oz.) tomato sauce |
| 1 cup chopped onion | 2 cups bite-size pieces cooked turkey or chicken |
| 1 medium clove garlic, minced | 4 portions hot cooked rice |
| 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon | 1 avocado, sliced |
| 1/8 teaspoon cloves | 1 orange, sliced |
| 1/4 teaspoon pepper | Slivered almonds (additional) |
| 1 oz. unsweetened chocolate, coarsely chopped | Dairy sour cream |

In oil, sauté almonds, onion and garlic 10 minutes over medium heat, stirring often. Stir in next 6 ingredients; heat, stirring, until chocolate melts. Puree mixture in blender. Return to skillet, stir in turkey; simmer about 5 minutes. Serve over rice and garnish with avocado, orange, additional slivered almonds and dollops of sour cream.

Makes 4 generous servings.

Woman's Club Holds Sept. Meeting

Members of the Sonora Woman's Club met September 4 in their first meeting of the new club year with Mrs. Lonnie Pollard presiding.

Following the noon luncheon members attended the Country Store Art Gallery's showing held on the courthouse lawn. Mr. Carl Barho, manager of the gallery, spoke to club members on art appreciation.

Other officers of the club are Mrs. Warren Hemphill, vice president; Mrs. Tommy Love, recording secretary; Mrs. Mickey Powers, corresponding secretary; treasurer, Mrs. Vestel Askew; auditor, Mrs. P. J. Taylor, and parliamentarian, Mrs. Norman Rousselot.

Club members made a resolution concerning useage of the clubhouse. In the future anyone desiring to rent the clubhouse building for private parties must first contact Mrs. Pollard or Mrs. Jerry Don Balch. The clubhouse rents for $10 and may be used by adult groups only. No alcoholic beverages are permitted on the premises.

Members of the club also state that they still have a few of the cookbooks published by the club each year. The books sell for $4 and may be obtained by calling Mrs. Norman Rousselot.

'Aspirin May Endanger Baby

A Food and Drug Administration advisory panel is considering recommending that a warning against the unapproved use of aspirin during pregnancy be placed on every aspirin bottle label, an FDA spokesman said Thursday night.

Women who take aspirin regularly during pregnancy suffer a high rate of complications such as bleeding and infection and endanger their babies, according to a report by two Australian doctors.

The FDA recommendation under consideration was prompted by similar studies.

The spokesman said the exact wording of the warning has not been decided upon but it would probably advise the consumer to check with her doctor before taking aspirin if she is pregnant.

In the Australian study, among 63 daily aspirin users—women who took two to 12 aspirin doses a day—four had still births, compared with none among the babies of 63 comparable nonaspirin users.

Among 81 women who took aspirin less often but at least once a week, there was one stillbirth and three babies died after birth.

The Australian study was published in the August 23 issue of the British medical journal Lancet.

Thirty per cent of the daily aspirin users and 27 percent of the lesser users had complicated childbirths, such as Caesarean section or breech or forceps deliveries, compared with 11 percent of nonaspirin users, according to the study.

AMERICAN INGENUITY

We are a nation of innovators, as is shown by these excerpts from the new Life Bicentennial issue on the 100 great events in U.S. history.

George Eastman took the trouble out of picture making in 1888. His cameras were small, inexpensive, easy to use and came with a roll of film—a big change from bulky glass plates—which was developed free.

A Bishop Looks at Life

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of Episcopal Church

San Francisco—"San Francisco's premiere museum flabbergasted of all time"—this is the way a local paper described the Exhibition of Archaeological Finds of the People's Republic of China which has attracted almost a million visitors during its stay at the Asian Art Museum.

The exhibit is astounding in its breadth and variety. There are 385 works of art covering the cultural history of China from the paleolithic age (about 600,000 years ago) thru the 14th century A.D. They include prehistoric artifacts, ceramics, bronze vessels, pottery and stone sculpture, wood carvings, vessels of gold and silver, all of them recovered from burial mounds explored in the last 26 years.

One of the joys of joining the vast throng that daily made its way thru the museum was to see the pride and excitement reflected in the faces of Chinese people as they saw the wonders of their own cultural heritage.

It is hard to single out one object that had the greatest appeal. For some it would be an enormous jade suit sewn with gold threads which was the shroud of Tou Wan, wife of Prince Ching of Chungshan.

For me it was the "flying horse", a galloping figure in bronze, a vigorous embodiment of power and beauty created by some gifted craftsman about 2000 years ago. To show that its speed is greater than that of a bird, the artist placed its right hind foot on a swallow in flight and the others in the air, while the flying swallow looks back in amazement.

When the Chinese Exhibit was in Washington, D. C., last March Canon Clement W. Welsh of the Washington Cathedral was so impressed with this figure of a celestial horse that he preached a sermon about it in the Cathedral.

He pointed out there is something special about beauty which persists over the centuries. He continued: "At about the time the flying horse was made, an event was taking place several thousand miles away: the ministry of Jesus, the formative years of Christianity, and the entire writing of the books of the New Testament. We know how fragile those events were: A little group of ordinary people in a minor corner of the world, producing a few documents for their own use...But with astonishing toughness that moment of power and beauty persists."

"Unlike a piece of bronze that can lie buried, or an idea whose time has come and gone, the Christian moment of excellence was a structure of persons—it was, as we say, a community—and it shared its special vision of perfection, perhaps the rarest treasure the world has known..."

"Unless a vision of power and beauty awakens a people, they do not live. Unless an archaeology of the spirit recovers for us the rare, mysterious event of salvation, we are lost in the sands. The celestial horse does not fly, and the world becomes a wasteland."

Sykes Family Reunion Held

Growing up

Look at your lanky, teen-age son! It's hard to believe that he once wore these shoes. It seems only yesterday that he was a baby, yet he himself is the best testimonial that the years have passed. Now he stands almost as tall as you. He is a fascinating maze of contradictions—an eager, lovable youngster one minute, a scowling, angry adolescent the next.

It takes patience to understand a teen-ager—patience, and a lot of love. Though he strives to be adult, he is still a boy. Though he clings to childhood, he is almost "grown-up." You may not always be aware of it, but he still looks to you for many things. And he sees in you an example that he will, almost unconsciously, follow in many ways.

Are you setting a good example? How about church, for instance? If you haven't been going lately, start again next Sunday for your son's sake, as well as your own. And don't forget to take him with you!

Pay Total Balance Due To Keep Credit Charges To A Minimum
Paying the minimum payment on revolving charge accounts means paying the maximum cost for using credit, Lynn Bourland, a family resource management specialist, pointed out.
Consumers can keep the cost of using credit to a minimum by paying as much of the total balance due as possible, she said.
"Paying only the minimum amount each month keeps the credit user out of trouble, but increases the purchase cost 18 per cent more a year."
"Also, credit users may end up paying 200 per cent or more in interest cost if new purchases are added and the total balance due increases or remains at the maximum amount the creditor will allow."
Miss Bourland is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.
She explained that the minimum payment is the amount you must pay to avoid repossession of merchandise bought, immediate payment of the total due and sometimes legal cost for settlement of credit claims.
"Credit is a valuable consumer tool and creditors who allow consumers to use a line of credit continuously must charge these interest rates to stay in business."
"But it's up to the consumer to recognize ways to cut the cost of living on credit."
"Of course it's necessary to pay at least the minimum payment-but it's smarter to pay as much as possible on the 'total balance due', she said.

Re-creation Of Frontier Post Fair Attraction
AUSTIN-It's going to be a "Yankee Doodle Time" at the 1975 State Fair Food and Fiber Pavilion, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.
The Bicentennial theme of this year's Fair, which will be held October 3-19, will be carried out at the Pavilion with red, white and blue decorations and exhibits which will show highlights of the nation's history. Special emphasis will be placed on agricultural highlights of the past 200 years.
An 18-foot reproduction of Independence Hall, on loan from Time, Inc., will be located at the forestry booth. It will contain an animated audio-visual diorama of the Federal Convention of 1787, during which the Constitution was debated and adopted. Another diorama will show the drafting of the Declaration of Independence.
TDA marketing personnel are working on a re-creation of a frontier trading post. It will feature relics of the past, as well as contemporary food products. The Pavilion's own Town Square Band Stand will feature continuous entertainment in the form of a marionette show, bands, and other acts from seventeen Texas junior colleges.
Free food samples or recipes will be available at every booth.

Parents Can Help Child Avoid Football Injuries

Football season is almost here and parents are again worrying about their children getting hurt playing the game, but there are ways to minimize the risk of injury.

"Conditioning is a vital element in preventing sports injuries," says Dr. Gerald S. Modjeska, vice president and medical director of CNA Insurance's Continental Assurance Co., "and preventive efforts should be the name of the game."

Injury Prevention Tips

- MEDICAL EXAMINATION—be sure your child receives a thorough medical examination.
- CONDITIONING—seek advice from the coach about the proper type of conditioning.
- DON'T OVERDO—don't let the youngster overdo training. Several hours on a hot day or losing five or more pounds in one workout can prove destructive.
- DIET—a good, balanced diet is a must. Check with the coach, team doctor or family physician.
- SLEEP—if the athlete needs eight hours of sleep nightly don't let him cheat on it.
- EQUIPMENT—insist that the athlete wear protective gear and that it fits properly. Have him check it every week or two and repair or replace as necessary.
- KNOW THE COACHES—the coaches should discourage "dirty tactics" and emphasize safety.

- DOCTOR AVAILABILITY—a qualified doctor or hospital emergency room should be available for practice and games.
 - INSURANCE—the team should have adequate insurance coverage. Generally, the accident insurance offered to all students each year by most schools excludes football.
 - YOUNGSTER'S DECISION—let the decision to play football be the youngster's. But, don't let the youngster play when sick or hurt.
- "Scholastic football is not the only area needing parental attention," according to Dr. Modjeska. "Many communities and organizations also offer extensive athletic programs. And sandlot—or 'pick-up'—games require even more attention than organized football," he points out.

It is sometimes said that home is a place where the great are small and the small are great.

PUBLIC NOTICE

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS (S.J.R. NO. 11) SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1975

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the separation of powers, legislative and executive provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article II, Separation of Powers, is amended to:

Provide that the powers of government of the State of Texas are divided among three distinct branches: legislative, executive, and judicial. Except as otherwise authorized by the constitution, members of one branch may not exercise any power properly attached to either of the others.

Article III, The Legislature, is amended to:

Continue the present structure of the legislature consisting of a senate with 31 members and a house of representatives with 150 members. The present organization and procedure of the legislature are continued except that the provision allowing closed executive sessions of the senate is omitted. Provisions on the conflict of interest of members of the legislature are continued, as is the governor's power to veto bills or line items in appropriation bills. The article provides for single-member senatorial, representative, and congressional districts. A compensation commission is created to recommend the compensation and allowances to be received by members of the legislature. The legislative compensation, set by law, may not exceed this recommendation and does not take effect until after an intervening general election. The article provides for annual sessions of 140 days in odd-numbered years and 90 days in even-numbered years, and a veto session of 15 days upon request of three-fifths of the membership of each house. The legislature may meet in organizational sessions prior to the convening of the legislature in regular sessions.

Article IV, The Executive, is amended to:

Continue the present status of the governor and all other statewide officers, and include the commissioner of agriculture as an executive department officer. The governor is limited to two consecutive terms. The governor is authorized to designate chairmen of state boards, and to remove gubernatorial appointees to state agencies for cause unless the removal is vetoed by the senate. The article mandates the legislature to provide a new governor-elect an appropriation so the governor-elect may organize an office prior to inauguration, and permits the legislature to grant powers of fiscal control to the governor. All governmental agencies, with several exceptions, have a life of not more than ten years unless extended by the legislature, and, at the regular session held in odd-numbered years, the governor shall submit to the legislature a report on the organization and efficiency of the executive branch.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the SEPARATION OF POWERS, LEGISLATIVE, AND EXECUTIVE PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective January 1, 1976, except Article III, Section 5, which becomes effective January 1, 1981.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the judiciary provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article V, The Judiciary is amended to:

Establish a unified judicial system consisting of the supreme court, court of appeals, district courts, and circuit courts. Existing county courts and county judges are continued until otherwise provided by law. All judges (except municipal judges), district attorneys and district clerks must be elected by the people. The supreme court and the court of criminal appeals are merged into a single court of last resort, and this supreme court is authorized to provide for efficient administration of the judicial system and to balance case loads. Individual rights for a trial by jury and appeal by the accused are continued. The state is granted the right to appeal in criminal cases in limited circumstances, and the legislature is permitted to establish methods of appeal to the courts from decisions of state agencies.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the JUDICIARY PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the voting and election provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VI, Voter Qualifications and Elections, is amended to:

Provide for registration and qualifications for voting including voter residency requirements to be established by law. A citizen of the United States who is at least 18 years of age and who meets the registration and residence requirements provided by law is a qualified voter unless the person has been convicted of a felony and for that felony is incarcerated, on parole, or on probation, or unless the person is mentally incompetent as determined by a court. Voting by the people in all elections must be by secret ballot, and the legislature shall provide by law for residence, registration, and absentee voting requirements, for the administration of elections, and for the protection of the electoral process. The general election for state and county officers is to be held in even-numbered years on a date prescribed by law.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the VOTING AND ELECTION PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the education provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VII, Education, is amended to:

Provide that the Permanent and Available School Funds and the county public school funds are continued for the support of the free public schools. The State Board of Education is retained and the Permanent and Available University Funds are continued for the benefit of The University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems. A new Higher Education Fund for Texas is established for the benefit of colleges and universities outside The University of Texas and Texas A&M Systems. The state ad valorem tax of ten cents on $100 valuation is continued as the source of revenue for the Fund. The ten cent higher education tax may be changed by law within the ten cent maximum. The legislature may allocate by law a portion of the Higher Education Fund to certain state vocational and technical institutes. The article provides that the public education system must furnish each individual an equal educational opportunity, but a school district may provide local enrichment of educational programs exceeding the level provided by the state consistent with general law. Authority to issue Permanent University Bonds is continued but the bonds may not exceed 30% of the Permanent University Fund.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the EDUCATION PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976, except Article VII, Section 9, which becomes effective January 1, 1979.

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the finance provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article VIII, Finance, is amended to:

Provide that state taxes may be levied and collected only by general law and to prohibit any state ad valorem tax on real property or tangible personal property except the ten cent tax provided for in Article VII and a tax of two cents on the $100 assessed valuation to provide funds for the State Building Fund. Provides that all real property and tangible personal property must be taxed equally and uniformly in proportion to market value. Existing exemptions from ad valorem taxation are continued. The present deduction of motor fuel taxes for highway purposes and the Available School Fund is retained. The "pay-as-you-go" principle for the operation of state government is retained. The legislature shall establish separate formulas for appraising land to promote the preservation of open-space land devoted to farm or ranch purposes and may establish separate formulas for appraising land to promote the preservation of forest land devoted to timber production. The $3000 exemption from state ad valorem taxation for residential homesteads is continued and the legislature by law may increase this amount. A separate $3000 exemption from ad valorem taxation is provided for the residential homestead of persons at least 65 years of age and the political subdivision may increase this amount. The legislature by law may exempt from ad valorem taxation certain property owned by veterans' organizations, non-profit water corporations, and persons in need because of age or disability, and economic circumstance. The legislature may also exempt property to preserve historical, cultural or natural history resources. Taxpayers are provided a new method of correcting inequitable tax assessments by paying ad valorem taxes under protest and suing for a refund in a district court. State debt may be authorized by law only if approved by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and submitted to and approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the state voting on the question. Public funds and public credit may be used only for public purposes and no public funds or public credit may be used to influence the election of a public officer. The article prohibits a retail sales tax on agricultural machinery or parts, fertilizer, feeds or seeds, prescription drugs or medicine, or food, except food sold by restaurants for immediate consumption. An assessment voted by marine food or agricultural producers on their product sales is not a tax if provision is made for the individual producer to receive a refund of the assessment when the producer does not desire to be assessed.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the FINANCE PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective on September 1, 1976, except Article VIII, Section 2, Subsections (b) and (c), which becomes effective January 1, 1978, and Article VIII, Section 6, Subsection (c), which becomes effective January 1, 1979.

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the local government provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article IX, Local Government, is amended to:

Provide that the counties of the state are those that exist on the date of adoption of the local government article and that county boundaries may be changed if approved by a majority of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. Counties may be merged or county seats relocated if approved by two-thirds of the qualified voters in each affected county who vote on the question. The present elected constitutional county offices are retained and four year terms of office are provided. The voters of a county may create additional offices, eliminate offices, or combine the duties and functions of offices. The voters may also grant ordinance making power to the governing body of the county. Cities and towns having more than 1,500 inhabitants may become home-rule cities. Tax limitations are established for operating purposes for cities and counties and the legislature is required to fix debt limits for cities, towns, counties, and school and community junior college districts.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the LOCAL GOVERNMENT PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective on September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the general provisions of the Texas Constitution. Article X, General Provisions, is amended to:

Provide the basic requirements relating to public officeholders such as the official oath and residency requirements. The provision defining the separate and community property of spouses is retained, and the protection of a homestead from forced sale is continued. The legislature is required to protect certain personal property from forced sale. Current wages for personal service are not subject to garnishment. A private corporation may not be chartered except under general law, and no bank may engage in business at more than one place in this state. The legislature must provide for the regulation of bank holding companies. The present system of local-option elections for the prohibition or sale of alcoholic beverages is continued. The legislature is required to prohibit lotteries and gift enterprises but may permit certain bingo games and raffles. The presently existing provisions for retirement benefits of teachers and other public employees are modified to allow the state to contribute more than 10%. A policy that the quality of the environment of the State of Texas is to be protected is established, and the legislature is required to implement and enforce this policy. No state funds may be used to remove surface water from the river basin of origin if the surface water is necessary to supply the reasonably foreseeable water requirements of the basin for the ensuing 50 years, unless the removal of water is sufficiently replaced to the point of removal from outside the state or is on a temporary, interim basis. The seaward beaches of the Gulf of Mexico and coastal submerged lands belonging to the state are held by the state in perpetual trust for the people, and subject to reasonable limitations prescribed by law, the public has the free and unrestricted right of use and benefit of the beaches. The provision is continued that, except as otherwise provided by law, a rate of interest in excess of ten percent a year is usurious, and that if a contract does not specify a rate of interest, the rate under the contract may not exceed six percent a year. Discrimination against handicapped persons is prohibited, and a goal of the state is established to provide every resident access to adequate, comprehensive health care.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the GENERAL PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Revising the mode of amending provisions of the Texas Constitution. The proposed article will be the last article of the constitution. If only Proposition No. 8 is adopted, the article will replace Article XVII of the present constitution. If other propositions are adopted, the article will be appropriately renumbered to remain the last article of the constitution. If all propositions are adopted, the article will be Article XI, Article XVII, Mode of Amending the Constitution of the State, is amended to:

Establish a procedure for constitutional amendments requiring a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature and majority approval by the voters. The calling of a limited or unlimited constitutional convention with voter approval is provided. The question of whether to call a constitutional convention must be submitted to the people every 30 years.

The wording of the proposed constitutional amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment revising the MODE OF AMENDING PROVISIONS of the Texas Constitution."

If adopted by the voters, will become effective September 1, 1976.

CANCER Answerline

American Cancer Society

A young boy writes: "I have to do a paper for school about our nation's health problems. How many Americans get cancer?"

ANSWERline: In 1975, some 665,000 Americans will get cancer. For more help with your assignment, why don't you ask your local American Cancer Society for a book called, "Cancer Facts & Figures." No charge.

A woman relates: "A doctor has told my uncle to have a wart on his neck removed for some kind of test. Does that mean he has cancer?"

ANSWERline: To diagnose cancer, it is necessary to examine part of the suspicious area under a microscope to find out if cancer cells are present. This examination is called a biopsy. A change in a wart or mole can signal cancer. But then again, a biopsy can show when a wart or mole is not malignant and perfectly innocent.

Question: "I'm almost 70. Does that mean that I have escaped cancer?"

ANSWERline: Unfortunately, the cancer risk follows us through life, increasing with age. But, cancer safeguards follow us through life as well. The same advice that was useful when you were 40 holds true now: have a regular physical checkup including cancer tests. Indeed, a "procto", the test for possible bowel cancer, might be especially important for you now because this form of cancer is more prevalent in your age group. It's more curable when detected early.

A reader is convinced: "Viruses cause so many illnesses, do they cause cancer too?"

ANSWERline: We know some of the causes of cancer: cigarette smoking can lead to lung cancer; over-exposure to the sun might cause skin cancer. Excess radiation and some chemicals are also involved in the onset of a number of animal and human cancers. At present we know that some viruses cause cancer in animals. While there has been no firm scientific proof as yet of a virus causing human cancer, there is a great deal of research going on about the whole question.

A teenager asks: "Is there anything I can do to help my parents stop smoking cigarettes? I really care and I think that they want to quit."

ANSWERline: Your concern could go a long way to inspiring your folks. Why don't you check with your local American Cancer Society for some helpful information for them. The ACS Unit near you might have a smoking withdrawal program for them. They can also get an ACS pamphlet, "If You Want To Give Up Cigarettes."

A regular feature of this newspaper prepared by your American Cancer Society to help save your life from cancer.

Diabetes Is Treacherous

Diabetes is a treacherous disease because it develops slowly. It may be unrecognized or neglected, and can lead to complications such as heart and blood vessel changes and damage to the eyes.

Diabetes is characterized by the inability of body tissues to utilize sugar and starch, both for immediate energy needs or to store for future needs. To utilize these foods the body must produce insulin. In diabetes, too little effective insulin is present.

Diabetes cannot be cured, the Texas Medical Association points out, since the insulin-producing mechanism will never again produce normally. Diabetes, however, can be controlled by medical management. Many diabetics can manage their problem by diet alone. The doctor may be able to adjust the kind and amount of food intake to match his patient's insulin production and still provide enough calories to maintain normal weight and physical activity. Patients with more severe diabetes will need to take insulin to make up the deficiency.

Regular exercise is an important part of managing diabetes. It helps to use up sugar and thus reduce the insulin needed.

When blood sugar falls too low in a diabetic taking insulin, he is having an insulin reaction. This can occur from too much insulin, too much exercise or not enough food. Insulin reaction may cause weakness, trembling, tiredness and drowsiness, double vision, slurred speech, sweating and extreme hunger. Sugar, fruit juice or candy often will offset the problem.

Diabetes can be controlled, and patients whose diabetes is in reasonable control can live their lives with only minor inconveniences and do nearly everything they might have done without diabetes.

The clues to successful control of diabetes are early detection, understanding rather than fear, and a well-managed balance between food intake, physical activity and medications.

Ignorance of proper self-care is the greatest single hazard of diabetes.

School Board, Administrators Meet Scheduled

The Fifteenth Joint Annual Convention of the Texas Association of School Boards and the Texas Association of School Administrators is slated for the San Antonio Convention Center, September 27-29.

Over 3,500 Texas school officials will attend the three-day convention. The program is designed to provide information for and inspiration to local school leadership and to advance the philosophy that teamwork is essential to ensure a quality educational system in Texas, says the official convention invitation.

Representing the Sonora ISD will be James Hunt, Lin Hicks, Bud Whitehead, Mrs. Dorothy Pope, Mrs. Mary A. Balch and Dr. Joe Andrews.

Various Stages Of Construction Evidence Of Sonora's Growth

Construction sites...completed, near completion and in initial states...are in evidence all over town. New home sites as well as businesses have begun to show the evidence of Sonora's new growth. A number of new businesses have moved into Sonora, bringing in new families and in effect causing the housing situation to become almost impossible. The local Chamber of Commerce has been, and is still in the process, of taking a city-wide census to determine the population.

Two new homes are presently under construction in the new Meadowcreek Addition located on Hudspeth Street. The addition, when eventually completed, will have 56 homes. All residences in the addition will have not less than 1200 square feet of living space and will have at least 75 percent brick or rock exteriors. D&M Company of Del Rio are developers.

Other homes presently being built are the James Alexander home on Castle Hill Road, East; the Charles Graves home and the Joe Lane home, both located on a section of deBerry ranch land, west of Sonora.

Hubert L. Hays Contractors of Fort Worth, are nearing completion on the new addition to the First Baptist Church. Expected completion is November 1. The new addition will be Sunday School rooms, kitchen and a fellowship hall which will seat 250 persons around tables for banquets, etc. The Devil's River Motel is in the process of having a restaurant constructed adjacent to the motel area. Completion is expected in December or January and will consist of dining areas as well as a private club.

Recently moving into newly constructed office buildings are Pool Company, Amoco, and Intra Tex Gas Company. Both Pool and Amoco are located on the Del Rio Highway. The office of Intra Tex, a division of Houston Natural Gas Company, is now located behind Brown Construction Company, in East Sonora. Rucker Tool Company is building on the IH 10 access road near Braden Motors. Baker Tool Company, another new business in Sonora, is located in the old city park area, across from Teaff Oil Company. Smith Inspection Service has leased a building, just recently completed on FM Road 1691. A new bank, radio station and several other home sites, are in the planning stages.

The rambunctious natures of young toddlers may often lead them into situations where they can be easily burned or scalded. But, according to Dr. Albert H. Domm, child safety specialist and former medical director of the Prudential Insurance Co., parents can prevent many tragic childhood burns by exercising caution and educating their youngsters to the danger of fire.

Parents should make certain that matches and lighters are kept out of reach of the tot. "Parents who use matches must get in the habit of returning them to a safe place as soon as they are finished with them," says Dr. Domm. "Any forgetfulness in this regard could easily lead to tragedy."

Similarly, young children should be kept away from kitchen stoves, heaters and fireplaces. Dr. Domm warns parents never to leave a toddler alone in the kitchen where he might be tempted to turn on the stove or in the living room when there is a fire in the fireplace.

"Always turn pot handles in to prevent children from pulling scalding liquids over on themselves," Dr. Domm said. Education can begin by the time the child is two years old, according to the former medical director. At this age the child must still be given 100 per cent protection against major fire hazards, but he can be taught the meaning of "hot" and learn respect for fire through educational experiences.

Committee On Aging Meeting Held Aug. 12

Ms. Duncan reported that cards, dominoes, a bridge table, dishes and a monopoly game had been donated for use in the recreation program. The turn out for the program is less than had been expected and the committee decided to do telephoning prior to the recreation meetings in order to boost attendance.

The Rev. Mr. Hancock stated that we would look into the possibility of obtaining the Santa Fe depot as a community center, especially for senior citizens.

Ms. Kinard reported that the Girl Scout Cadets were interested in working with the elderly, with girls to adopt an elderly person or couple.

It was determined that the committee would assist in obtaining volunteers from among older persons to do volunteer work in the Child Development Center.

Bronco Sideline Shots

By Bob Granger

We would like to compliment the Broncos and their coaching staff on a job well done Friday night in Coleman. One of the more pleasing aspects of the game was the sportsmanship and clean play exhibited by both teams. Although it was a hard hitting contest, all the boys showed good sportsmanship and kept their cool very well. When your hometown team gives a good effort, plays clean, and display themselves the way the Broncos did Friday night, you walk out of the stadium realizing our youth have not gone to the dogs as some people claim.

The Junior Varsity came up with three injuries last week as R. B. Alexander, Dan Lawson and Scott Cain were injured.
