Wildlife Assn. Names Officers

New officers of the Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association were named last week with Turney Friess elected to the presidency.

Elected as vice president was Tony Renfro; treasurer, Corky Schwiening, and Clint Langford, secretary.

Varsity Girls To Host BB Tourney 4, 5, 6

The Sonora girl's varsity basketball team will host an invitational tournament December 4, 5, and 6. Teams from Fort Stockton, Bye, Crane, Eldorado, Del Rio and Alpine will participate in the three day event.

Crane and Eldorado will begin the tournament Thursday, December 4 at 1:45 p.m. The championship game will begin at 6:30 p.m., on Saturday, December 6.

Trophies will be awarded for championship team, second high team, consolation, and six individual trophies will be awarded to all-tournament players.

Neville's Department Store, Food Center, White's Auto, Ruth Shurley Jewelry, Dairy Mart, Gosney's, Bronco Pharmacy, Dairy Queen, Thorp's Laun-Dry and First National Bank will provide the trophies.

Broncos Enter New District Next Season

Sonora will enter into a new district in AA football next season. The district will consist of four teams including Crane, Ozona, Sonora and Kermit. Kermit has just come out of AAA play where they finished second in their district.

The Broncos will begin their season next year in Coleman. They will then travel to Ballinger followed by Mason there, Big Lake here, Brady here, Burnett there, and an open date. They will conclude pre-district play in Alpine.

In the first two district games the Broncos will host Kermit and Crane and conclude the season when they travel to Ozona.

School Board Approves Audit

The Board of Trustees of the Sonora ISD met in regular session November 20 to approve the audit for the year ending August 31, 1975.

In addition to reports from Superintendent Joe Andrews, the board also heard reports from Mrs. Donna Hill and Mrs. Dora Gallardo, teachers in Sonora Elementary School.

The Title I project for counseling in grades kindergarten through 12 were approved as was the textbook committee.

Dr. Andrews is chairman of the textbook committee with Lori Solis, Donna Hill, Kay Campbell, Anita Lane, Edwina Friess, Nellie Moore, and Nancy Tittle, serving on the committee.

The 4-H Center was filled to overflowing for the 15th annual wildlife hunting party. 900 persons were on hand to partake of the wild game dinner and the after dinner program.

Capacity Crowd Attends Annual Hunting Party

Approximately $2,138.00 in prizes were awarded to lucky ticket holders at the fifteenth annual hunting party held November 18 at the 4-H Center. Sponsoring the event was the Sonora Chamber of Commerce, Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association, Downtown Lions Club and the Sonora Jaycees. A wild game dinner was served prior to the evening program.

Mrs. Joe Kiowski was awarded a trophy for bagging the heaviest, field-dressed buck. Howard Brittain was the winner of the trophy for men 17 years and younger bagging the buck with the most points. The Sonora Chamber of Commerce was sponsor of this contest.

Many valuable door prizes, donated by Sonora merchants, businessmen and individuals, were given as door prizes. Chick Aikman was the winner of a Remington Model 788 bolt action 22, donated by White's Auto Store. Britain Construction and A&A Bitterweed Wash donated a Remington Model 572 22 rifle, which was won by Jack Baker. Bill Whitehead was the lucky winner of a Remington 12 gauge shotgun, donated by the Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association. The wildlife association also donated a Remington 243 rifle which was won by Bill Wade.

Other valuable prizes consisted of a 4X scope, binoculars, a television set, hunting supplies, cameras and cash prizes.

In addition to the above mentioned prizes members of the Independent Cattlemen's Association donated four beef halves, a number of goats and a registered bull.

The beef was won by Bob Mills of Austin, Tom Keene of Dallas, and Bill Wade and Amy Fields of Sonora. Bob Barton of Sonora was the winner of the registered Hereford Bull, donated by Gene Wallace.

Goat winners were Linda Mavis, Barry Black, Lottie Puckett and Wayford Tyler of Sonora, Dan Rode of Fredericksburg and Bill Shurley of Marfa.

L. P. Bloodworth served as master of ceremonies at the program. Bob Ramey, wildlife biologist, was the featured speaker.

Broncos Place In District Statistics

Coach Bill Bundy's Broncos ended the season with a total of 165 points scored during the ten game season. They had 1474 yards rushing offensively and 2113 yards rushing defensively.

Among the top twenty rushers in the district were David Snodgrass who had 145 carries for 809 yards, and an average of 5.5 per carry. Garry Jones had 100 carries for 350 yards and 3.5 yards per carry average. Tony Mathews had an average of 4.2 yards per carry with 141 yards in 42 carries.

John Elliott, Bronco quarterback, holds a record of 428 yards passing in 31 completions and 68 attempts.

Craig Parker, Robbie Hard and Jeff Doan were among the district's top 15 receivers. Leading scorers for the district included John David Cook who scored two touchdowns, 18 PATs and three field goals; and Snodgrass who scored six touchdowns.

Howard Striegler Buried Tuesday

Funeral services were held Tuesday in St. James Episcopal Church for Mr. Howard Striegler, 64, who died in Shannon Hospital November 23. Burial was in Fort McKavett Cemetery. The Rev. Norman Griffith, officiated.

Mr. Striegler moved to Sonora in February of this year. He had been a rancher in Christoval and in Erath County.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, John Striegler of Richardson and Allan Striegler of Stephenville, two sisters, two brothers and one grandson.

Dr. Owensby Attends Nevada Obesity Clinic

Dr. D. E. Owensby has recently returned from Las Vegas, Nevada, where he participated in the 25th Annual Obesity & Associated Conditions symposium held by the American Society of Bariatric Physicians.

The symposium dealt primarily with practical aspects of obesity therapy, said Dr. Owensby, and the increased awareness of obesity as more than an aesthetic problem is reflected in the growing interest in this annual meeting which is attended by physicians from all over the United States and Canada.

Honor Roll Announced

Those high school students listed to the honor roll during the second six weeks of school are as follows:

Seniors - Marsha Finklea, Larry Finklea, Bernice Street and Mike Street.

Juniors - Susan Dunnam, Stephen Terry and Debbie Crownover.

Sophomores - Lucy Morriss, Kelly Carta and Donna Gray. Freshman - Denise Neal.

Beal Locke, Jr., and Beal Locke, III, of Shreveport La., were enjoying the climax of their Sutton County hunt placing bets on whose buck was the biggest. Son, Beal III came out winner with 104 pounds, field-dressed. Dad ran a close second...96 pounds, field dressed. Both bucks were killed on the Bud Whitehead Ranch.

Mrs. McLaughlin Dies In El Paso

Funeral services for Mrs. Pearl McLaughlin, 78, were held November 19 in El Paso. She died November 17.

Mrs. McLaughlin had lived in El Paso the past 35 years and was a member of the Nazarene Church.

Among her survivors is a brother, Charles W. West, Sr., of Sonora.

Letter To The Editor

Dear friends:

Well how is everything out Sonora way and all my beloved friends? We have had too much rain here. Well I got a surprise in my mail today...I got the Devil's River News that was printed February 13, 1975. Well I went to reading it and everywhere was February news and one place was the trustee election set for April 5. I said to myself that they are putting it in the paper early these days.

Well a lot of other events that happened in February were enclosed. Well this caps my pistol. It has been almost a year getting to me. I just had to write you about it so you can pass it along to the rest of the readers.

I have read about letters being a long time getting to their destination, but not newspapers. I am sending you the top of the paper to see for yourselves.

So long. We love all our friends.

Yours truly,
Carl M. Farrar

Basketball Roundup

By Bob Granger

Last week all teams in the Sonora Basketball program opened up their 1975-76 season. All games were played in the Sonora Gym against Eldorado.

JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS

In Junior High action Thursday night, the Eldorado 7th grade girls walloped the Sonora 7th grade by a score of 53-7. In eighth grade girl's play, the young Eaglettes captured a 37-29 victory over Sonora. After taking a three point first quarter lead, the Sonora girls hit a cold spell in the second quarter and scored only two points. Eldorado ripped 12 points to take a seven point halftime lead and held the lead to win.

JUNIOR HIGH BOYS

In boy's action, the Sonora seventh grade boys won on a last second shot by Tommy Burch to win 24-23. The eighth grade boys had an easier time as they won 39-21. The Colts blasted to an eight point first quarter lead and won going away.

JUNIOR VARSITY ACTION

In J.V. boy's and girl's play last week, the Sonora J.V. girls lost to Eldorado by a score of 38-30. In boy's J.V. play, Sonora blasted the Eldorado J.V. by a score of 58-19.

VARSITY

The Eldorado varsity girls proved their power as they waltzed by Sonora by a score of 67-28. Becky Cavaness led Sonora scoring with 19 points while Eldorado was led by a trio of girls. Jay hit 17 points while Warnock and Yates had 16 each for Eldorado.

In boy's action, the Broncos opened up a 20 point halftime lead and continued to roll as they posted a 72-45 victory over the Eagles. Sonora was led in scoring by Perez with 16 points while Elliott added 12 points to pace the Broncos. The Eagles were led by Bosman who had an outstanding night as he collected 36 points.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ..... He Finds New School System That Assures Education For All

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River discusses education this week, whether it's in his field or not.

Dear editor:

Some people are always lambasting the school system, saying it's not meeting the demands of modern times, there are too many drop-outs, too many absentees, that kids can finish high school without being able to pass a test in reading, writing or arithmetic.

Well, I just read an article about how one big city school-Dallas, Texas, to be exact-is solving the problem and heading off such criticism.

It has abolished exams for most kids.

That's right. It has a rule that if a student is not absent more than 3 days in a quarter he doesn't have to take that quarter's final exam. Gaze out the window if you want to but answer present to the roll call. Anyway, it's an invasion of privacy to try to find out if a kid can read or write.

This seems to be the answer on how to attain universal education.

Thus I suppose if a kid will go through grammar school and high school without missing more than 3 days every quarter, he gets a diploma unexamined. If he'll make the same record 4 years in college, he gets a Bachelor's degree. Go another year and he has an M.A. degree. Stay in there 3 more years and he has a Ph. D.

So to reach the pinnacle in education all he has to do is stay healthy and not play hockey, provided his cross-town bus doesn't break down more than 3 days in a quarter, although I can't believe the Supreme Court would rule a person uneducated just because his bus had a blown gasket 4 days in a row back in the eighth grade.

In this connection, I read that an industrial leader in Japan has complained that his country is turning out so many educated people that they are "bogging down the country's decision-making process with their suggestions." He said Japan's colleges have increased from 50 during World War II to 1,000 now, and everybody is so informed everybody has his own answer to every problem, plus thinking up new ones, and nobody can decide which is right.

If Japan will adopt this new system, it won't have that problem.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Bob Krueger's Weekly Report

As this column is being written it looks as though the long question of whether or not the Congress can pass an energy bill which the President can sign has been ended. I am told that the President will sign an energy bill agreed upon by the conference committee of the House and Senate. And I am disappointed. The bill is bad and should be vetoed.

As one who has spent six months working on this bill, I have perhaps as large a personal investment in it as anyone. Yet, I voted against it because it has many unfortunate provisions. For the longest, we have been told that the President was interested in energy independence, in gaining energy independence through enlarged domestic production, and wiser conservation policies. I believed him, and worked consistently to achieve legislation worthy of bipartisan support and Presidential concurrence. Now, I find the President, who is the last line of defense for those who were striving to fashion policies to meet the long term energy needs of this nation, has apparently retreated. He has adopted the politically comfortable policy of saying that we can roll back prices and pay Americans less than one-half what we pay foreigners for oil. And he has brought about greater governmental controls and more bureaucratic price setting than we had before. He has adopted the policy of enlarged import dependence rather than energy independence. As one who had defended some of his policies in the past, I am surprised and saddened to hear that he has adopted the same political expediency of some Members of the Congress.

The policy which the conference committee agreed upon and which the Congress will pass and, I am told, the President will sign, has the following features: (1) an average price is set on all domestically-produced oil of $7.66 per barrel. This rolls back the price to American producers by about 15 percent. (2) The average price of domestic oil will gradually rise as the cost of living rises but at a maximum of 10 percent per year. (3) These controls will continue for 40 months.

Several consequences will follow this unfortunate plan: (1) domestic production will fall because of lower revenues to producers and imports will rise. As imports rise, the cost per barrel for imported oil will be twice as high as for domestic oil. Therefore consumers will save little because imported oil is more expensive, and in the long run, consumers will lose a great deal as we grow more heavily dependent on the Arab nations. (2) The small independent oil producers will suffer more than major oil companies because they produce only American oil and do not import from overseas. Further, most of their production is "new oil" unaffected by the price roll back. (3) The new policy therefore lessens competition and puts the smaller businessman at a disadvantage compared to major corporations.

All this will be done in the name of the consumer yet the consumer and the producer in the United States of America will, in the long run, all suffer because of an unforunate political expediency shown by the President as well as by some Members of the Congress. It's a victory for expediency and a loss for our country.

CANCER ANSWER LINE

American Cancer Society
M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute
National Cancer Institute

An avid newspaper reader notes: "I have been reading claims about a drug called laetrile for cancer for a very long time. What's the real story about it?"
ANSWERline: Laetrile is a derivative of apricot pits that has absolutely no value in cancer treatment. In recent months four leading cancer research centers reported studies which concluded that laetrile has no benefit in treating animal or human cancer. It is interesting to note that animals who did not respond to laetrile in these studies did show a response to regular cancer drugs. It is illegal to transport laetrile across state lines.

A career girl asks: "Does a woman's age have anything to do with uterine cancer?"
ANSWERline: From the time she is old enough to bear a child, a woman could get uterine cancer. However, age does seem to make a difference in the place cancer is likely to begin. In young women and those in the pre-menopausal years, uterine cancer is most often found in the cervix or the neck of the uterus. In older women cancer more often strikes the body or main portion of the uterus. For more information ask your local American Cancer Society for a leaflet entitled "Stay Healthy - Learn About Uterine Cancer."

A grandfather recalls: "When I was young no one even liked to say the word, cancer. Now, people talk about it all the time. How did this change in attitude take place?"

ANSWERline: Cancer was once considered a taboo subject and it was often seen as a punishment for a misdeed or something shameful. Today, we regard it as a disease to be understood, treated and conquered. The change probably began to take place when volunteers from the American Cancer Society and leaders of the medical world appealed to the press and then radio to tell the true story. Then too, as more and more people were cured of their disease and spoke openly about it, attitudes changed. For example, our brave First Lady, Mrs. Betty Ford, has set a wonderful example in her courageous attitude towards breast cancer.

Question: "Is cancer of the urinary system a rare form of cancer?"
ANSWERline: In 1975 some 43,000 new cases of cancer of the kidney and bladder will be diagnosed. In terms of death rates, urinary cancer accounts for six percent of all cancer deaths among men and three percent of cancer deaths among women.

A movie buff wonders: "Is it true that John Wayne had lung cancer? I thought that's fatal."
ANSWERline: Yes, John Wayne was extremely lucky because he was one of the 10 percent of lung cancer patients who could be saved. Now, in volunteer work for the American Cancer Society, he stresses the fact that a physical checkup helped to save his life because his disease was detected in a curable stage. He urges everyone to have a checkup regularly.

Do you have further questions? Call your local unit of the American Cancer Society or write: Cancer Communication Center, The University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital & Tumor Institute, Texas Medical Center, Houston, 77025.

Pumpkin Trivia

Pumpkins were originally grown in Mexico and Central America and brought to Northern America by the Indians. Early New England colonists found the common field pumpkin could be used to make a very potent beer. Having failed at growing barley and hops, the settlers invented a brew made from pumpkins, maple sugar and persimmons.

In 1973, the USDA newsletter "Food and Home Notes" (December 10 issue) carried front-page story on the "naked" pumpkin seed. "Lady Godiva" pumpkins were developed by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service, a pumpkin variety whose seeds are hull-less.

Sam Perez of Post 4395 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Sonora, makes a presentation of appreciation citation to Bill Webster, Police Chief of the Sonora Police Department, for the outstanding work being done. Another such award was presented to Fire Chief Louis Olenick, on behalf of the Sonora Fire Department.

Cattle Lice Treatment Time

With the onset of cooler weather, livestock producers need to turn their thoughts to the problem of lice control. Generally, lice problems are more severe in the northern United States but sufficient numbers are often present in the Southwest to cause economic damage.

Both types of lice--blood-sucking and biting--attack cattle. The sucking lice pierce the animal's skin and draw blood while the chewing lice feed on particles of hair, scales, scab and skin exudations. The life cycle of both is similar with increase in populations starting in the fall. Peak populations normally occur in late winter and early spring and then a rapid decline occurs.

Low numbers of lice may be present on certain animals year round. Since lice do not do well at high temperatures, the reproduction nearly ceases in the spring and the lice will migrate to the tips of the ears or tail to avoid the excessive body heat. With the arrival of cooler temperatures, lice reproduction increases. Cattle will tend to bunch or crowd up more, allowing transfer of lice from one animal to another. Heavy hair coats also offer more protection to the parasites.

Often the first signals of lice problems are signs of rubbing and intense irritation to the animals. Large patches of hair may be "rubbed off" and fences may be pushed down. Lousiness is generally first noticed on poor, weak and unthrifty animals. Some animals will have heavy infestations every year while others seldom have a problem. There is definitely a resistance factor present in many animals.

THE KITCHEN ALMANAC

The rule for cottage cheese is just the opposite of that for all other cheeses -- namely, "the fresher, the better!" Cottage cheese is not ripened and should be stored as you would fresh milk. If possible, use it within a day or two after bringing it home from the store.

If baked products are made without any wheat flour, they may be heavier and more crumbly than those made from wheat flour. This, according to home economists at USDA. Most fresh, raw, unweetened fruits contain less than 100 calories per serving.

Seasoned garlic butter: combine one tablespoon garlic salad dressing mix and 1/2 cup softened butter, mixing thoroughly. Makes 1/2 cup.

C.B. Club Meeting Held

Officers were elected permanent office when the second meeting of the local C.B. Club was held November 13. President Lonnie Pollard opened the meeting by introducing Chief of Police Bill Webster who discussed the possibility of the club assisting local police in reporting crime, accidents, emergencies and other related business.

The club is presently working to get base stations to monitor channels 19, 9 and 1 for certain periods of the day. These channels will be used to assist motorists with information and in emergencies. Channel 9 is the national emergency channel and is to be used for this purpose.

Webster told the club that police cars do not have C.B. radios at the present time but hope to have them installed in the near future.

There are presently approximately 60 members of the club. Anyone interested in becoming a member may contact Texas Lady, Brewmaster, Lady Blue Jay, White Wing, Lady Wing or Bald Eagle on Channel 1.

A Bishop Looks at Life

By Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of Episcopal Church

Things To Be Thankful For
A while ago I made a list of things that made me happy. (It paid off handsomely: I have just received a jar of honey from a friend who brought it all the way from Greece.)

Now is a good time to share with you some of the things I'm thankful for:

--That I am allowed to write this column once a week.

--That I have known so many really great people in my lifetime.

--That some people still come to me for counsel and spiritual help.

--That men are now allowed to wear more colorful clothes without being considered kooks.

--That women have about given up that ugly and boring costume called a mini-skirt.

--That God is so great there are always new things to learn about Him - and we will never learn them all.

--That I am blessed with my share of "maintenance love."

--That my wife proves her love for me by the time she spends on planning good meals.

--That I have lived long enough not to get excited when I hear people say the world is going to the dogs.

--That God has made such a variety of beautiful flowers for us to grow and enjoy.

--That it is now so easy for people of any age to return to school and continue to learn.

--That there are so many good books to be found today (and lots of them in paperback)-if you ignore all the trash.

--That churches today are experimenting with so many new and exciting forms of worship and study.

--That we no longer have to go to New York City or Chicago to see great paintings-or to learn how to paint.

--That more people are learning how to stay young as they grow older.

--That at least some people are using the Bicentennial to think seriously about how we can make America what our founders meant it to be.

--That we still have people who can reason without being unreasonable, differ without being difficult and disagree without being disagreeable.

[Bishop Jones has published a new brochure entitled "Some Thoughts on the Christian Approach to Growing Older."

fine furniture cabinets for kitchens & elsewhere.

This is Town Classical. The nicest thing that's happened to kitchen cabinetry since the hinge. It's solid oak with reversible panel doors and a rich patina finish. It won't warp, stain, or cost you a lot of money. And it's easy and economical to install.

Not surprisingly, these fine furniture cabinets are also finding their way into other parts of the house. Like the den or even the living room. Wherever you might be needing fine cabinets. Why not come see us and Town Classical oak as soon as you can? You'll be glad.

YEAR-ROUND HOLIDAY SALAD

"California Ambrosia Salad" adds elegance to your holiday table but don't stop there. This mouth-watering salad can be served any season since the ingredients, western iceberg lettuce, oranges, bananas and dates, are available in markets across the country every month of the year.

The crisp chunks of iceberg lettuce contrast nicely with the fruit, and the ambrosia dressing turns this tossed salad into an exotic delight...a salad for all seasons.

CALIFORNIA AMBROSIA SALAD

1 head western iceberg lettuce
Ambrosia Dressing
3 large California oranges
2 large bananas
1/2 cup pitted fresh California dates

Core, rinse and thoroughly drain lettuce; chill in disposable plastic bag or plastic crisper. Prepare dressing. Pare and section oranges. Shortly before serving, cut lettuce into bite-size chunks. Peel and slice bananas. Slice or halve dates. Combine lettuce chunks and half the fruit in large chilled serving bowl. Arrange remaining fruit on top. To serve, toss with Ambrosia Dressing. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Ambrosia Dressing: Stir together 1/4 cup lemon juice, 3 tablespoons (packed) brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon powdered ginger until sugar is dissolved. Gradually blend in 1 cup dairy sour cream; stir in 1/4 cup flaked coconut. Makes about 1-1/2 cups dressing.

The first piano was manufactured in the United States in 1775 in Philadelphia.

prayer for tomorrow

My Susan took part in the Thanksgiving pageant at church school. Of course, I made her pilgrim costume. Later, as I watched her singing, she looked just like the pictures I have seen of pilgrim children. I felt a lump in my throat and had a real sense of identity with those men, women and children who long ago withstood the hardships of life in a new and alien world.

These immigrants weren't superhuman; they were people just like you and me. They had the courage to believe in a new life—a new country. They believed their ultimate struggle would lead to the freedom they so fervently sought.

Over three and a half centuries have passed. The foundation the pilgrim fathers laid for us seems to be shaking beneath our feet, and even our faith wavers.

But, reconsider. We owe it to those pilgrims as well as to ourselves to reaffirm our belief in God and in our country. And what better way than in your church—this Thanksgiving?

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF SONORA AND SUTTON COUNTY

At this Thanksgiving time Mary and I want to express our appreciation to all the people who have so graciously accepted us into this community. We have been unable to adequately thank each one of the many individuals who have given us so much, so are taking this opportunity to thank you all.

The Hospital Board helped us with our move and made available a house and a beautiful new office. Dr. and Mrs. Browne have helped us immeasurably both professionally and personally. Many good neighbors helped us unpack, brought us baked goods, presented us with plants for the new office, helped us with our "Open House" and have continued to come to our aid in many ways.

In the short time we've been here we have already begun to feel at home. We feel confident in our work, comfortable in our new community, and secure in our many new friends. For this we are truly and humbly thankful.

DAVID AND MARY OWENSBY 1c13

What's 'Bugging' You?

It's that time of year when millions of Americans with aches and fevers, coughs and sniffles wonder why doctors who can transplant hearts neither can prevent nor cure the common cold. Be assured that doctors have been working on anti-cold vaccines for more than 30 years, but the more they learn, the farther away they seem to be from developing something completely effective.

Doctors first thought that just a handful of different viruses might be responsible for cold miseries. But modern laboratory techniques have unveiled more than 100 bugs which could be the culprits. Some researchers estimate there may be as many as 100 more cold viruses yet undiscovered.

No More Snake Skins
While the development of an anti-cold pill in the near future is considered doubtful, we've come a long way from "cures" which included swallowing a snake skin and wrapping a fresh-off-the-foot sock around the neck.

Doctors first isolated the flu virus in 1933. This enabled them to recognize and then to begin developing immunizations for the bug which hit Asia in 1957, the deadly variant which bit Hong Kong in 1968, and that sinister sister - London flu - which caused an epidemic here the winter of 1971-1972. Worldwide efforts to create vaccines for particular types of flu now apparently have begun to show positive results. Last winter, although outbreaks were reported in 34 states here, the National Center of Disease Control reported they were not as serious as in previous years. Colds, however, are still catching.

What To Do
Advisors from the Scott Paper Home Service Center

suggest you get into bed at the first sign of a cold. You'll be more comfortable, less likely to develop serious complications, and will not spread your disease to fellow employees and friends. Drink plenty of liquids, eat moderately and when you blow your nose, blow gently. Don't force infection into your sinuses and ear canals.

Since handkerchiefs may be a storehouse of germs, it's wise to use Scotties Facial Tissues for wiping your nose and covering coughs and sneezes. Because they're strong even when wet, the tissues don't fall apart. Then drop them into a paper bag after each use so they needn't be touched again.

It's especially a good idea to send the kids off to school with a supply of the tissues. There's scarcely a child in the country who doesn't catch a cold at least once during the school year.

While handing out advice, here's something else to remember. Don't experiment with pills, nose drops or inhalers left over from past illnesses. Colds are not all alike. If you feel that you need more than an aspirin tablet for those aches and coughs, let your doctor prescribe it for you.

The proportions of small rooms with high ceilings can be improved by painting the ceiling a strong bright color or covering it with wallpaper in a colorful, busy pattern.

GIFT-GIVING IDEAS

HELPFUL TIPS
If the holiday season presents you with that annual decision - what sort of present to present to the woman in your life - then here are some helpful hints on gift giving.

1. A gift should be something a person would not usually buy herself. It should be something either whimsical or pretty or especially luxurious.
 2. A good gift should appeal to the eye in its packaging. For example, interesting scents packed in interesting forms make a present many women appreciate.
- Keep a presence of mind when choosing presents, and this Christmas your loved ones may consider you a super giver.

Keep Holiday Meals Eating Safe

Holiday foods can carry food poisoning bacteria—but simple precautions can prevent food poisoning and ruined holidays, Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

"Bacteria need the right combination of time, temperature and moisture to grow. When foods remain between 40 and 120 degrees F. for three or four hours, bacteria grow and make the food unsafe to eat.

"And the only way to kill the bacteria is to heat food to 170 degrees F. Freezing doesn't kill bacteria, it simply slows growth," the specialist said.

She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Turning to specific food safety guidelines, she said to thaw the holiday turkey in the refrigerator. Fresh or freshly-thawed turkey should be refrigerated and used within 24 hours.

"When preparing the turkey, cook it until done throughout—with an internal temperature of 180 degrees F. And if it is to be stuffed, wait until just before placing the bird in the oven to stuff the cavity.

"Good sanitation during food preparation is important to prevent contamination. Make sure hands, utensils and cutting boards are clean when handling turkey and other holiday foods. Also, keep hands away from mouth, nose, hair or skin infections such as boils, open cuts and sores while working with food," Miss Reasonover reminded.

After the meal is over, don't leave the turkey at room temperature long. Staph germs multiply rapidly between 45 and 115 degrees F.

"If turkey is part of the holiday buffet, use several serving trays instead of only one to keep the meat from remaining at room temperature too long.

"Bring out a fresh tray frequently to replace that partly used. The turkey stays at the right temperature—and bacteria don't have a chance to grow."

Food-borne illness can cause diarrhea, vomiting, stomach cramps and other unpleasant symptoms which can last for several hours or days. Young children and elderly people are most susceptible, the specialist said.

SMALL WONDER How Little Things Can Really Mean A Lot

Sometimes the way to solve big problems is to make them smaller. One good example is the use of micrographics (the science of reducing any piece of information to small images), which touches the life of every American in some manner.

At the Poison Control Center of the National Institutes of Health in Washington D.C., a complete file of all antidotes and treatments for poisons is kept on microfilm. Doctors call from all over the world and in seconds a piece of microfilm can be retrieved that describes the treatment and antidote of any poison.

Although the science of microphotography is over 100 years old, the real growth in the use of microfilm did not begin until World War II, when American servicemen's "V-mail" was put on microfilm for shipment overseas. During the four war years an estimated one billion letters were processed on film.

TSA Urges Holiday Safety

--Many Thanksgiving holiday travelers may find themselves giving thanks to be home alive and in one piece after a harrowing battle with the perils of holiday highways. So if you are planning a Thanksgiving trip, Texas Safety Association offers the following tips to improve your chances for surviving the Thanksgiving holiday and being alive for Christmas:

--At 55 miles per hour, driver fatigue can be a very real hazard. A four-day holiday is a poor time for a cross-country trip, especially if you have to drive into night to make your destination. Either plan shorter trips or have another licensed driver with you to trade stints in the driver's seat. Wear your seat belts and shoulder harnesses, and don't let the speedometer needle creep over the posted limit. A traffic ticket can cost you the price of a couple of Tom Turkeys--and a high-speed accident can cost more than you can ever recover. Neither one is worth the risk!

--Take it easy on the turkey. A full stomach leads to drowsiness, and the driver's seat is no place for a nap. Don't eat and run; rest or nap for a short while after eating before doing any extensive driving.

--It's a holiday for your children, too, so take along appropriate games, toys (ones that can be safely enjoyed in the confines of an auto) and books to help defeat the boredom that can plague your young traveling companions. Nothing distracts a driver like a wrestling match in the back seat!

--If it takes spirits to move you, better stay home. Getting intoxicated before the trip could send you farther than you're willing to go. If your celebration includes alcohol, make it after--not before--you've completed the day's driving.

--Texas Safety Association wants Texans to enjoy Thanksgiving without paying the terrible price of an accident. Drive carefully.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—In previous columns, we've discussed problems the average citizen may have when he or she unwittingly writes an occasional check that "bounces" due to insufficient funds. In most such instances, when the problem is discovered, the person makes good the check.

But there are a few individuals who make a living by writing hot checks. These hot check "artists," "paper hangers," or "passers" are a special problem for merchants and banks, although individuals too may be victimized, either directly or indirectly. That's because "passers" increase the cost of doing business, sometimes forcing merchants to raise prices to cover their losses and the cost of tightened security arrangements. Some estimates place the amount of check fraud losses at $1 billion annually.

Lawyers in our Attorney General's Consumer Protection, Law Enforcement, and Crime Prevention divisions all say there is a wide variety of ways a merchant can lose money through bad check transactions. But there are several safeguards that may help merchants foil the professional "paper hanger," too, they add.

The most important one is to require valid identification from check writers. Recommended are Texas driver's licenses, Department of Public Safety-issued I.D. cards, student or service I.D. cards, or two or more major credit cards.

Always check to see that any photo or description matches that of the check-writer. See, too, that the address and signature match that on the check. If a check has spelling errors, messy printing, or a name and address that don't correspond to that of the I.D. card, the check could be counterfeit.

Be cautious if a stranger who is writing a check chats excessively, drops packages, or is in a big hurry. Not all such persons are hot check writers.

of course, but it's best to be careful.

You should also always keep checks, checkwriting equipment, bank statements, and cancelled checks in a safe place. A professional "paper hanger" can use any or all of the above to get information about your checkwriting procedures and bank account, then use that information to defraud you.

Our Law Enforcement attorneys and the Texas District and County Attorneys Association note that hot checks now can be prosecuted under two sections of the new Texas Penal Code: (1) interfering with commerce (by issuing a hot check) and (2) theft by check. The first carries a maximum penalty of $200 fine. The second varies in punishment according to the amount stolen. If it's $20 or more but less than $200, maximum punishment is a year in jail and/or a fine not to exceed $2,000. If it's $200 or more but less than $10,000, maximum punishment is two to 10 years in the penitentiary and a fine of $5,000.

In order to prosecute hot check cases successfully under the "theft by check" section (which most hot check artists fall under), the District and County Attorneys Association cautions merchants that they must be able to identify the individual who wrote the check and to describe the property given. The most practical method of describing property is to note on the check a "reasonable classification," such as groceries, two suits, cash, etc.

And the most practical method of assuring that you will be able to identify a hot check passer in order to prosecute is to check carefully any I.D. with the individual's appearance. Some merchants now also take fingerprints or photographs of checkwriters for assurance of identification.

The large majority of honest checkwriters usually are happy to comply with I.D. procedures that help to thwart the professional "paper hanger."

Tips To Keep Your Kitchen Safe

Which room in the house belongs to the whole family? Where does everyone gather to discuss the day's events? The kitchen . . . the focal point of family life.

To many people, the kitchen is synonymous with feeling good, for no matter how busy family members may be, it is the one place that brings everyone together, at least at mealtimes. But it can also be the scene of tragedy. The kitchen is among the most potentially dangerous rooms in the house, the place where many accidents can occur, unless you are careful.

Look over the following hints for keeping your kitchen safe, and see how they compare with your cautious efforts. Be certain you haven't overlooked these possible problem-causers and are prepared for emergencies.

* FIRE is a very real danger in kitchens. If there are window curtains near the stove, tie them so they can't be blown into an open flame. Grease fires are a danger even in everyday cooking—keep a fire extinguisher or a box of coarse salt near the stove so you can douse a small fire quickly. Should fire spread, get everyone out of the house and call the fire department on a neighbor's phone.

* HOUSEHOLD CLEANING AGENTS should be stored out of reach of children and pets, preferably in a locked cabinet. Always read instructions before using any cleaner, and whenever possible use those which do not contain harsh chemicals. For example, instead of using drain cleaners which contain dangerous caustic lyes and acid, use one that relies on pressure, such as Drain Power, to unclog pipes.

* TAINTED AND SPOILED FOODS can cause illness and even death. Look at dates on prepared foods and use items no more than two or three days past the "safe"

Household cleaning agents stored under your kitchen sink can be harmful to inquisitive children. One way to avoid accidents is to use products, such as Drain Power drain opener, that contain no dangerous lyes or acids.

* A FIRST AID KIT is a must in any kitchen. Make sure yours is fully equipped, including burn ointment and tourniquet.

* GAS LEAKS are another possible hazard. If you smell gas, open windows, check range dials to see if they're in "off" position. Do not light matches or use any spark-producing items. Check if an extinguished pilot light is the problem. If pilot lights are working, you may have a major leak—turn off the master dial, get everyone out of the house and call the utility company immediately!

* POWER FAILURES do happen, so keep a flashlight handy. You might want to use one with a magnetic handle which can be latched onto the side of your refrigerator for easy accessibility. Do not open refrigerator doors more often than is absolutely necessary—loss of cold temperature can cause foods to spoil. If electricity is off long enough for frozen foods to thaw, do not refreeze them—either use within a few days or cook and then freeze them as prepared meals.

dates—they are printed there for your protection. Before freezing meats you've rewrapped, mark and date each package. Most meats can be kept up to six months, but time varies depending on the freezer.

A way to determine the difference in the weight of gold and silver was discovered by the Greek mathematician and inventor, Archimedes, who accidentally learned how much silver alloy was in a gold crown by the amount of extra water it displaced when submerged in a tub.

The difference between nuclear fission and nuclear fusion: nuclear fission is the splitting apart of heavy atoms, while nuclear fusion is the joining together of light atoms. All our 55 nuclear reactors operating today operate by nuclear fission, which releases enormous amounts of energy, that is safely turned into electricity!

Insects Will Be Moving Indoors

Insects will soon be looking for a warmer place of residence, and it will probably be your home.

Insects likely to be moving indoors include cockroaches, elm leaf beetles, boxelder bugs, fall webworms, crickets, clover mites, house flies, cluster flies and spiders.

The best way to halt the insect invasion is to spray the outside foundation of your home, says D. C. Langford, a county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He advises spraying walls, porches, steps, baseboards, doorways and window ledges with an approved insecticide to control crawling insects.

"The best way to keep cockroaches out of the house is to keep it clean," says Langford. "If they do get in, spray or dust window and door frames, drainboards, under the sink, in cracks and holes, around pipes and in cupboards."

If ants are a problem in your home, try to find their nest and spray it. You may have to remove some flooring or carpeting to find it.

Crickets sometimes cause damage to fabrics and foods and can be controlled by spraying on the ground and around the foundation of the house and the edges of sidewalks, patios and curbs.

"When spraying, keep rooms well-ventilated and keep people out of the spraying area for several hours after application or until the spray dries," says the county agent.

And a Good Morning to You...John Pulte of Midland was probably unimpressed with the alarm that awakened him last week while a guest of the Twin Oaks Motel. A General Telephone Company truck rolled out of control at 5:15 a.m., hitting another telephone company truck, and crashing into a parked car...which all came crashing through the front wall of Pulte's motel room...leaving nothing but rubble and chaos. The Midland man came through the crash unscathed but alas...his car was a shambles.

Caucus Tables Amendment To Stop Busing

The Democratic Caucus of the House of Representatives voted recently not to consider a resolution proposed by Congressmen Dale Milford and Olin Teague which would have called for a Constitutional Amendment to prohibit the busing of school children for racial reasons.

Bob Krueger of the 21st District of Texas voted with the majority. The final vote was 172 to 96.

Following the vote, Krueger commented, "I am opposed to busing as a means of improving the educational system of our children. The decisions should be made at the local level in order to improve the education of our young people. A Constitutional Amendment on this matter, however, would be inappropriate."

Krueger added, "Thomas Jefferson warned in the Declaration of Independence that we should not go about changing our government for 'light and transient causes.' And although we all agree that busing is not only unnecessary but also wasteful and counterproductive, it is not the type of thing we should attempt to remedy through an amendment to the most important document in the free world."

"I voted against busing earlier this year on the floor of the House," Krueger continued, "and matters such as this should be dealt with legislatively."

"We cannot change the Constitution in order to deal with problems that bother us today but that will not be present in future generations," Krueger said. "The Constitution is a timeless document because it has not been altered to deal with immediate problems. It is directed to guaranteeing basic human freedoms. We cannot allow our frustration with the problems brought on by busing to cause us to tamper with the Constitution."

"Instead," he added, "we must deal with busing through regular legislation, and I support such legislative remedies toward ending busing."

Police Reports

Police were called to the scene of an accident November 17 in the parking lot of the Dairy Queen when a camper type vehicle driven by Steven N. Felton of Gulf Port, Mississippi collided with an awning and sign case while attempting to park. Officer Jerry Kemp was the investigating officer.

On November 18 at 5:15 a.m., an accident occurred in the parking lot of the Twin Oaks Motel. A large truck belonging to General Telephone Company collided with another telephone company truck and a car belonging to a visitor at the motel. The vehicles were pushed into the front of a motel room, causing considerable damage to the building. The car involved belonged to John Pulte of Midland who was asleep in the motel room at the time of the accident.

At 9:55 a.m., on the 18th, a minor accident occurred in the 1000 block of Crockett Street. Vehicles were driven by James S. Chandler of California and Louis W. Edwards of Mt. Joy, Pa.

On November 19 local officers arrested a Sonora resident regarding an accident in the parking lot of the Dairy Queen some weeks back. The driver was charged with hit and run and having no operator's license.

An accident in the 1000 block of SW Crockett Street on November 19 sent a local woman to the hospital with minor injuries. Injured was Rosemary DeHoyas, driver of a vehicle that collided head-on with a parked, unattended vehicle. She was later released from the hospital. The parked vehicle was owned by Frankie L.

Garrett of Odessa.

Officers were called to St. Ann's Catholic Church on two occasions Saturday night and in the early morning hours Sunday. The first call advised officers of rock throwing vandals and the second call was in regard to a fight going on in the area. No disturbance was found upon arrival of officers.

A total of 13 citations were filed during the week.

ENTERTAINING IDEAS

A favorite holiday tradition of Europe is opening doors here: bell pull decorations that dramatize your doorway.

You can create one easily and quickly by gluing strips of red, white and green cotton cloth or felt together, and decorating it with gold braid and jingle bells.

Sew a set of matching mats for the holiday table, by cutting the sturdy, washable cotton into star shapes, also trimmed with braid.

The First National Bank Is Now Offering An INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT

If you are not covered by a retirement plan where you work, the government now allows you to establish an IRA. Simply stated, you can put up to 15% of your earned income into an IRA account each year. Maximum annual contribution is $1,500. This is a tax-sheltered contribution, too.

Look at it this way. If your tax bracket is 22%, for every $100 you put in IRA, you pay $22 less income tax. The actual result is that you are paying $78 and the government is paying $22. The interest earned, and the principal in your IRA, are not taxable until withdrawn at retirement. By then most people are in lower tax brackets.

This does not affect your social security in any way. Working spouses may have their separate IRA's. Except in the event of disability or death, withdrawals may not be made prior to age 59½ without penalty. You must begin withdrawal at age 70½.

For further information or to establish your IRA contact one of First National's officers.
