Cable Company Informs Council Of Various Increases in Charges

Glenn Scallorn, Bill Arnold and Everett Ogburn, representing Divide Cable Corporation, appeared before the City Council Monday morning, informing them of their intention to raise cable installation and reconnect fees effective March 1 of this year.

Aldermen were also informed that effective that same date, customers who had paid the tie-on charges of $150 and $35 in order to receive the $6 and $7.50 monthly rates would no longer receive these preferential rates but would be charged at $10 per month as all other customers pay. Allowances for recent tie-on customers, will be made.

Some of the charges to be changed by the cable company will include an installation of first outlet to $19.95; relocate outlet on same premises, $10; installation charge for additional outlet, $10; transfer of service to new residence, $10; and reconnect fee, $10.

Construction Work at Football Field on Schedule

The work at the football field is just about on schedule according to Ernest Lampier, construction superintendent for the Reece Albert Construction Company. Last week the curb around the track was completed and the football field was moved approximately 15 feet west to center it inside the new track.

This week a 6-inch base for the track will be laid and a 1 1/2 inch hot mix layer will be applied. However, the final resilient surface cannot be applied until the weather is warmer. Completion date is March 1.

To the south of the football field, two tennis court slabs have been poured and the other two will be finished by next week.

In the final phase of the project, the areas around the concession stands and entrance into the field will be graded to take care of the drainage and the areas and walkways will be paved. A chain link fence will be erected around the track in the last phase of the project. The additional seating project has been completed and the clean up work is in progress.

After the project is completed, the football field lights will be checked to determine what adjustments must be made to provide sufficient light upon the field.

The first track meet, with Sonora and seven other teams competing, is scheduled for April 9, 1976.

THE DEVIL'S RIVER PHILOSOPHER SEZ.....

He Gives Unhelpful Advice On Filling Out Income Tax Returns

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River looks ahead this week toward income tax paying time.

Dear Editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night, the Internal Revenue Service now has toll free phones in its offices around the country that any taxpayer can call to get help in filling out his income tax form. Also, the IRS has a large staff of people hired to give such help in person if you will drop by their office.

However, the article went on to say, from 20 to 50 percent of the advice these IRS people give is wrong. In fact, the IRS has posted signs in its offices warning taxpayers that whatever advice they get there is not legally binding.

As I understand this, it's the last man who checks your return that decides whether you owe any more money, regardless of how many O.K.'s you'd previously gotten from his co-workers. I'm not sure, but he's probably lean and hungry and can't get his mind off of how much money the government needs to meet its bills.

But I got to thinking. Say there are 30,000 of these income tax helpers in IRS offices around the country—maybe two or three times that many if everybody who needs help with his tax form gets waited on—and 50 percent of them make errors on their own tax returns. Isn't this going to put such a burden on the other 50 percent trying to straighten out their fellow workers' errors that nobody's going to have time to make errors for the general public?

The IRS is smart to put up those signs saying it's not responsible for any errors it makes.

What you've got to understand is that the burden of filling out your income tax forms correctly is on you. The government's position is: "It makes no difference what our employees told you, it's wrong if it's wrong and the skin is off your back, not ours." You've got to be ultra-careful. If the form says subtract line 19 from line 4, the safest way is to do it twice and if you get two different answers, add them together and divide by two, and enter that on line 10. If this is still wrong, you'll hear about it, with penalty and interest added.

Remember, Watergate, Vietnam, inflation, unemployment, the fall of the Alamo, the Battle of Bull Run, and Custer's Last Stand, were taxpayers' errors, not the government's.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Bob Krueger's Weekly Report

Last week the House voted on the Public Works Employment Act, which, like most bills, has strong and weak points which I should like to discuss with you in this column. You may recall that a bill with a similar title was vetoed by the President last year, a veto I voted to sustain.

But I voted to support the bill we passed (321 for - 80 against) last week because of some important differences from the previous bill. The authorization for the extension of the Jobs Opportunities Program was cut in half. The extent of authorization for the interest subsidies in the working capital loan program was cut from ten years to the end of 1976, giving us an early opportunity to evaluate the program's effectiveness and the state of our economy. Those of us who voted against the bill last time have worked hard to encourage a fiscally responsible program to ease the economy toward health while avoiding the inflationary pressures of typical public works projects. Although the restrictions are not as strong as I urged, no public works grants will be made until applicants can assure that on-site labor can begin within 90 days of project approval. This will help greatly to reduce the long lead times that result in high cost-overruns and irresponsible project development.

An important addition to the bill in its present version is the Senate-added increase from $75 million to $200 million for the working capital loan program for businesses. It is designed especially for small-business borrowers faced with unusually high interest rates; the interest subsidies provide essential assistance to businesses in particularly troubled parts of the country; but the legislation is designed to end in 1976, when we expect interest rates all over the country to be stabilizing. We will not be asking the taxpayers to continue to pay for programs ten years beyond a demonstrated need for those programs.

There are some serious weaknesses in the bill. The bill intends to provide anti-recession aid to state and local governments to maintain basic services during these times of high unemployment. If there were a way to assure that federal efforts could be coordinated with state and local efforts to maintain only essential services, and if we could be sure that federal monies would not be spent irresponsibly on programs which then can be maintained in the future only with more federal funds, I would be more optimistic about the short-term value of the "Counter-cyclical funding" section of the bill.

The major reduction in the civilian force recently announced by Kelly Air Force Base has dealt a heavy blow to San Antonio's economy. The short-term bill we passed last week should help San Antonio to adjust as the responsibility for employment passes from the public to the private sector. Our next effort in Congress should be to find more effective ways to help the private sector to re-hire workers it has had to lay off, rather than looking to the public sector for a bail-out. The strength of this particular bill is that federal funding is tied in several important ways to the redevelopment of the private sector.

ALL "MAXIMUM RATES ALLOWED BY LAW" ARE NOT THE SAME

When a financial institution advertises they pay the "maximum rates allowed by law", it is a true statement. Insured savings rates are limited by law.

But, some financial institutions have lower maximum rate limits than San Angelo Savings. Plus, not all financial institutions compound interest daily. So, how do you determine which financial institution pays more? It's very simple. Ask for the ANNUAL YIELD percentage.

Before you deposit your hard earned money into a savings account, compare SASA's ANNUAL YIELD (shown on the following chart) with the ANNUAL YIELD of other financial institutions. WHY TAKE LESS?

Sauerkraut's Superb In This Reuben-Style Pie

Since everyone's on the lookout for creative entree recipes that are practical too, here's an adaptation of the popular Reuben Sandwich in a casserole pie. It's current food fashion news, for hearty rye bread, Swiss cheese, canned corned beef and sauerkraut have the "layered look," baked in a delectable egg custard sauce. Crisp 'n tangy canned or glass-packed sauerkraut provides the tartly delicious flavor zing in this thrifty recipe that will nicely serve eight.

"Reuben" Pie

8 slices dark rye, caraway rye or pumpernickle bread	1 can (27 oz.) Libby's Sauerkraut, well drained
2 tablespoons prepared mustard	6 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup shredded Swiss cheese	2 1/2 cups milk
1 can (12 oz.) Libby's Corned Beef, broken into small pieces	1 teaspoon salt
	1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
	Paprika, garnish

Spread whole or half slices of bread lightly with mustard. Arrange in single layer in 3-quart oblong baking dish (13 1/2" x 8 3/4"). Sprinkle bread with half the cheese and all the corned beef. Press moisture from sauerkraut until almost "dry"; arrange kraut over beef. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Combine eggs, milk, salt and Worcestershire; pour over all. Sprinkle with paprika. Cover tightly; refrigerate 6 hours or overnight. Bake uncovered at 300°F. for 1 hour 10 minutes or until egg mixture is firmly set. Yields 8 servings. For a zesty accompaniment sauce, serve ketchup seasoned with a bit of prepared horseradish.

STORE HOURS:

MONDAY - SATURDAY 9:00-5:00

We all know the shock of losing something we value. A misplaced book or valuable papers — even a treasured heirloom — gone astray can frustrate us for hours or even days. Diligent search often ends the mystery, but the memory of our exasperation lingers.

Yet while the loss of something material is easily grasped, many of us never realize that we may be missing important intangibles . . . like the secret of a richer, more satisfying life.

This search needn't take long, though. Millions find the faith that fulfills — every Sunday in church. So can you.

Buffet Supper Honors Bishop

Saturday, January 31, the Rt. Rev. Scott Field Bailey, Coadjutor Bishop of the Diocese of West Texas, and his wife Evelyn were guests of honor at a buffet supper given by the Rev. Ray Nations, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, and his wife, Ann.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McMillan, Mrs. George Brockman, and the Rev. and Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell.

Police Reports

Police found a coat hanger, believed to have been used to gain entry to a company truck parked at the Dyno Oil Company yard, located on the old Del Rio Highway. The report came to law officials at 10 a.m., January 26 from company employee, Charlie Preston. Joe Fincher was the investigating officer. Speakers were all company officials could report missing from the truck.

On January 28 Tim Thorp of Tim's Liquor Store, reported the break-in of a soft drink machine located in front of his business. An instrument approximately 3/4 of an inch wide was found at the scene and estimated to have been used to gain access to the machine. Approximately $20 in coin was taken. On that day at 4:10 p.m., a three-car accident was investigated at the 400 block of Crockett Street. Vehicles were driven by Jackie T. Dunn, Mary Jo Proctor and Jane E. Mullins, all of Sonora. Fincher was the investigating officer.

City police investigated a report from D&M Company employees January 29 regarding a bathtub stolen from construction site of a new home on Sawyer Drive.

Junction Sheriff's Department asked city police assistance in apprehending a suspect believed to be heading toward Sonora driving a car with New York license plates. Suspect was wanted for using a stolen credit card, burglary and violation of parole. Arrested here January 31 by Officers Jerry Kemp and Dick Jones, was Charles Aubrey Phillips of Chatanooga, Tennessee. He was placed in Sutton County Jail and held for Junction officers.

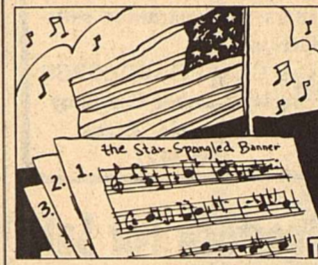

Only three traffic citations were issued during the past week.

After a study of traffic accidents investigated by Sonora Police Department, it was discovered that in January of this year, ten accidents were worked by local officers in comparison with 15 during January of 1975.

Traced back to Latin, the word "atimny" literally means, "eating money."

HOME OF THE BRAVE

Not many Americans, according to the U.S. Marine Corps Reserves, are familiar with the third stanza of the Star-Spangled Banner. Here it is.

Oh, thus be it ever when freemen shall stand, Between their loved homes and the war's desolation; Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n-rescued land Praise the Power that has made and preserved us a nation. Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just, And this be our motto: "In God is our trust"; And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

"He who listens understands." —Old proverb

CHICKEN WITH SNOW PEAS

Rice is right for all seasons, and it can be used in dishes that can be served any time of day. Because of its special bland flavor, rice goes well with most foods. It can be used as a meat extender, as an accompaniment for meat, poultry or seafood, with vegetables, in a salad, with a stew and as a dessert. You can even make a pizza with a rice crust! In any case, rice adds to the economy, as well as to the nutrition and good taste, of the foods it accompanies.

Here is a dish you may think you can enjoy only in a Chinese restaurant. But it's easy to make at home, economical, and oh so delicious.

CHICKEN WITH SNOW PEAS

- 3 whole chicken breasts (about 8 ounces each) boned and cut in thin strips
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 3 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 3 cups diagonally sliced celery, cut 1/4 inch thick
- 1-1/2 cups sliced onions
- 1 package (6 ounces) frozen (or 2 cups fresh) snow peas
- 1-1/2 cups chicken broth (canned or made with bouillon cube)
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 3/4 teaspoon each sugar and salt
- 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- 3 cups hot cooked rice

Season chicken with salt and pepper. Saute in oil for 1 minute or until tender. Add celery, onions, snow peas, and 1/2 cup broth. Cover and steam for 1-1/2 minutes. Remove cover and stir once. Blend cornstarch, sugar, salt, soy sauce, and remaining broth. Stir into chicken-vegetable mixture. Cook and stir about 1/2 minute or until sauce is slightly thickened. Serve at once over beds of fluffy rice. Makes 6 servings.

We would like to thank all our friends who helped make our 3rd birthday celebration a tremendous success.

Card Of Thanks

I would sincerely like to thank members of the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department and Mr. Ed Harrell and his county road crew for the prompt and efficient manner in which they extinguished the fire at my ranch last week. It is astounding how quickly our fire department responds to a call.

A Bishop Looks At Life

by Everett H. Jones, Retired Bishop of Episcopal Church

LET'S TALK ABOUT HALLOWED THINGS

Recently a Yale professor of English, Dr. Richard B. Sewall, made a speech at a Williams College convocation in Williamstown, Mass. He began by saying that his wife had died of cancer a short time before, and thru this experience he had learned some of the greatest lessons of his life.

"Here's the first thing I've learned this past year," he said. "Never be embarrassed about hallowed things, like love and death. We Americans are a little finicky about both. We reduce love to sex, and talk about it clinically as in Kinsey and the sex books, or grossly as in the epidermatic magazines, or sentimentally as in the popular songs. There's very little serious talk about love."

"And as for death," he continued, "we hide from it, pretty it up, pack it away in hospitals, spend millions on lavish funerals...I think we'd understand it better if we shared our experience of it more frankly."

This man's courageous willingness to talk about hallowed things makes me realize how much of our conversation with each other is trivial and superficial, how little is about deep and important matters such as God, death, love, suffering, or the meaning of it all.

Some would say these questions ought to be discussed in churches or by ministers...and of course that happens. But that's not enough. They are everybody's business and everybody should think and talk about them, at least some of the time.

Moreover, some of the best insights I have ever received on these subjects have come from lay people, often from people with very little formal education.

There is some indication we are more willing to discuss these matters than we used to be. For example, on the subject of death and dying. Due largely to the writings of a Swiss psychiatrist, Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, we have learned that patients who are terminally ill yearn to talk with doctors and loved ones about their condition and their future.

Discussion of these subjects does not need to be dull or heavy or depressing. Some of the most joyful and exciting moments of my life have come thru sharing insights and experiences in these areas.

I am grateful to magazines and newspapers (such as this one) when they open their columns to life's deeper questions. And I am grateful to people who allow conversation to be lifted, at least occasionally, from the inane to the profound.

52 Screwworm Cases in January

Worm samples collected January 28 on the McAllen Ranch northeast of Linn, and the Diamond O Ranch at Santa Elena, brought the January case count to 52, say Screwworm Eradication Program officials.

Dr. M. E. (Cotton) Meadows, director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) operated program, commended the ranches for sending in these samples.

"Only by laboratory identification of worm samples from wounds in livestock can we know where fertile populations of this livestock pest exist," says Meadows. He adds that submission of samples from every worm infested wound is particularly important as cooler weather thins the past year's heavy population of screwworm flies.

Texas counties with confirmed screwworm cases in January were Duval, 1; Frio, 1; Hidalgo, 5 (one of these was collected in December); Jim Wells, 1; Kinney, 4 (2); Kleberg, 2; La Salle, 3 (2); Medina, 5; Starr, 3 (1); Uvalde, 1; Webb, 15 (4); Willacy, 4; Zapata, 3 (2); Zavala, 4 (1).

West Texas Outdoors

by Roger McKown
Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept.

Back in the 1960s when construction began on Amistad Dam, West Texans were talking about what a fantastic bass fishing lake the big impoundment would become. But it takes more than just a large body of water to make a great bass lake.

Amistad has, at times, produced some fine black bass fishing and very likely will produce some more good fishing for this popular game fish. But some people feel the real future for the big border lake lies in fishing for some other species. Some are so optimistic about some of these other species that they feel the best overall fishing at Amistad is yet to come.

Ronnie Stapleton, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department fisheries biologist, is excited about the future of the striped bass and white bass/striped hybrid program that is being developed at Amistad.

Amistad winds some 30 miles up the Rio Grande and covers approximately 67,000 acres. Stapleton points out, however, that only a small portion of this area is ideal largemouth bass habitat, probably less than 10 percent.

Bass prefer shallow water with vegetation for cover. Amistad, for the most part, is a deep, steep-sided reservoir. Acres of open water far outnumber those of ideal, shallow-water bass habitat.

The striped and the hybrid both are open water fish that grow to large sizes. Striped bass were planted in E. V. Spence Reservoir in 1969 and six years later, in 1975, fisheries biologists took a 22½ pounder from their nets. The strippers and the hybrids won't be competing with the native largemouth at Amistad. After forage fish reach a certain size, largemouth bass no longer are able to feed on them, and they often overpopulate. But the larger strippers and hybrids can feed on these same large forage fish and convert those pounds of unwanted rough fish into desirable game fish.

The first of the strippers went into Amistad in 1974 and already some 3½ pounders are showing up on strings. Additional strippers and the first hybrids were planted in 1975 and some of the hybrids have already reached weights of one pound.

Two-year-old white bass/striped hybrids have reached almost six pounds in Nasworthy Lake, near San Angelo.

Stapleton feels that a continuous stocking program with additional fish plantings of about once every three years will keep a catchable population of strippers and hybrids in the lake.

The walleye is another open water, predator fish that was put in Amistad in 1974 and 14-inch fish of this species have been recovered. Fishing for some native species other than largemouth bass shouldn't be overlooked at Amistad either. The lake has been a producer of good white bass catches for several years.

Before Amistad was there, the Rio Grande offered some outstanding catfishing. The lake now contains, channel, blue and flathead catfish and some consider it the best fishing in the state for catfish. Some exceptional catches of channel cat were made this fall.

Larry Scruggs, who has been fishing and guiding fishermen at Amistad since the dam was completed in 1969, says Amistad crappie fishing is just now beginning to come into its own and has improved tremendously in the last year and a half.

With all those species the fishermen will have to choose from, that is a definite possibility.

February...Heart Month

By Mrs. J. F. Howell,
General Chairperson

Since the organization of the American Heart Association's State Affiliate and County Divisions, February has been designated as the month set aside for the annual Heart Fund Campaign.

The American Heart Association seeks to conquer heart disease, which is now claiming the lives of almost 54 percent of the population. Through research, public education, professional education and community service, the association is striving to conquer this disease...to do so requires funds.

The American Heart Association is governed by a volunteer board of directors, not only at the state and national level, but also at the county level. Each board consists of local people, business persons, physicians, nurses, homemakers and others, representing a cross section of the community. It is from these groups that persons shall be calling on business firms, corporations, and special people, making house to house calls, leaving educational literature and to receive your gift for this worthwhile cause.

Supervising the business and special gifts will be George Wallace. He will be assisted by Charles Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lawson, Mrs. J. W. Neville and Mrs. Dick Black. This group will be working various areas of Sonora this week and next.

Heart Sunday volunteers will meet Sunday afternoon, February 8 at 3 p.m., in the Methodist Church. This section of the campaign is under the leadership of Mrs. Edwin Sawyer. They will visit residential areas. Rural community campaign director is Mrs. Walter (Bud) Whitehead. Memorials will be handled by Mrs. Lea Roy Aldwell, chairman and treasurer.

Engineer Becomes Heart Specialist
A pioneer in heart research, whose discoveries saved thousands of lives, drifted to his calling almost by chance. In 1928, William Kouwenhoven, an electrical engineer, was hired by an electric-utility firm in N.Y. to help reduce accidental deaths caused by electric shocks. During this work, he found that such shocks restored normal beats to diseased hearts. Within 5 years he developed electrodes which, when applied to the heart, stimulated normal rhythm—a forerunner of pacemakers. He is also credited with initiating the method of starting a failing heart by pressing the victim's breast bone—a first-aid technique (CPR) commonly used in heart emergencies. Thirty-Five Sutton County 4-H members, leaders and parents attended a 4-H Record book clinic held at the 4-H Center, November 28. Mr. Jerry Chavez, area 4-H Specialist from Uvalde, provided the program. He encouraged 4-H members to keep good records on their 4-H projects and activities because record keeping will become increasingly important to them as they grow older and become involved in business and family life. He also discussed many 4-H awards, which included expense paid trips to the National 4-H Congress, college scholarships, etc., that 4-H members with outstanding records are eligible to compete for.

All local 4-H members who have completed 4-H projects and activities during the past year in Home Economics or agriculture are encouraged to turn in record books. Record books are available at the county agent's office. Adult leaders and the County Extension Agents will be glad to assist 4-H members in completing project records.

4-H Record Book Workshop will be held at the 4-H Center Monday, March 1 at 1:30 p.m. 4-H members are being encouraged to bring all of their completed project records, pictures, news clippings and related material to this workshop to receive instructions on preparing record books for County, District, State and National 4-H Awards program competition.
