Broncos Lose District Bout

By Don Holdridge

Some people may blame the weather, but it was a lack of Sonora offense or defense that allowed the Ozona Lions to claim the District 7-AA title in a 38-0 rout of the Broncos.

Ozona proved true to its defensive billing by only allowing the Broncos 65 yards total offense.

The offense, led by quarterback Vaden Aldridge and running backs Orland De Hoyes, Gary Warren and Blake Moody, found gaping holes in the Bronco defense.

A 23-yard scamper by De Hoyes opened the scoring late in first period. Warren got the second TD in the second quarter on a one-yard plunge. Moody added another before halftime on a three-yarder as Ozona took a 21-0 lead to the locker room. The Bronco offense never crossed midfield during the first half. Quarterback John Elliott could never get the passing game untracked. On virtually every play at least two purple shirts swarmed him before he could turn to throw.

The Sonora running backs had to make almost every yard dragging Lions with them. Warren and De Hoyes both zipped into the end zone again during the third quarter and John Galvan's 28-yard field goal iced the win.

Galvan also added all five extra points. Ozona, ranked number five in the state, will progress into the playoffs against Alpine with a 10-0 season record and 4-0 in district.

Sonora ended the year at 7-3, 1-2 in loop action.

Board Investigates Drilling Of Water Well at Stadium

The regular meeting of the school board was held November 9 and a committee of Bud Whitehead, Lin Hicks, Don Lawson and Dr. Joe Andrews was appointed to investigate the feasibility and costs of drilling a water well at the football field. The Soil Conservation Service had previously made recommendations for an adequate water supply to water the football field. The committee will report at the December meeting.

A textbook committee composed of Lori Solis, Kay Holdridge, Jacqueline Poloczek, Bob Snodgrass, Don Patton, Gaile Cade and Dr. Andrews was appointed by the board to recommend textbooks for the board's adoption. Selections will be made from the state textbook list for spelling, dictionaries, math, science, social studies, business, journalism and bilingual subjects.

The audit for the 1975-76 school year was presented and approved and the firm of Eckert, Story, Ransom and Ingrum was elected to audit the district's books for 1976-77.

Bill Fort and Ed Martinez gave reports to the board on the curriculum work and band program. The board approved appointment of a committee of board members, band parents, band director and the superintendent. This committee including Dorothy Pope, Mary Adele Balch, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lane, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Simpler, Mr. and Mrs. Abelino Sanchez, Jr., Ed Martinez and Dr. Andrews, will select new band uniforms for 1977-78.

Recommendations of the superintendent for adding additional vocational courses were approved. The courses will be one-half unit CVAE (Coordinated Vocational Academic Education) general construction for grades 7 and 8 and one-half unit building trades for grades 10-12. These courses will provide instruction that will help students find employment in jobs requiring semi-skilled knowledge and training.

The board also gave tentative approval for the construction of a vocational building that would house the CVAE shops, distributive education, industrial arts and drafting programs.

Wool Sale Totals 600,000 Pounds

By Wes Burnett

The Sonora Wool and Mohair Co. reported one of its largest sales in recent years last week with more than 600,000 pounds of wool sold for an estimated $500,000 to $600,000.

"We had the best representation we've had since I've been here," general manager Fred Campbell commented, "every major wool company in the United States sent representatives." he continued. The highest price went for 280,000 pounds of graded staple wool at $1.041 and $1.051 per pound.

"To my knowledge there has been no wool in the U.S. to sell for more than $1.05," Campbell added. The national average price of wool for calendar year 1976 has been reported to be 65c to 70c per pound.

"Sonora graded wools usually bring the highest prices," Campbell explained, "because of our excellent sheep raising environment, terrain, weather and overall ranching preparation."

Campbell pointed out that Sutton County ranchers have a long standing reputation for producing fine quality wools.

Individual lot sales included 200,000 pounds of ungraded 12 month wool, highest price $1.04 lb. The bulk of these lots sold from 90c to 95c lb.

Also offered were 18,000 pounds of white face cross (Rambouillet crossed with Columbia) and the bulk of this wool brought 86c to 90c lb. and all was sold.

Another 3,000 pounds of 24 month wool all sold for 68c lb.

All 10,000 pounds of Finn and Finn-Rambouillet cross brought 83c and 91c lb.

Another 55,000 pounds of bellies or skirts sold at 73.3c lb.

Graded clothing wool sold for 90.1c lb. (69,000 lbs).

The sale included an offering of 150,000 pounds of graded French combing wool, none was sold due to rejected bids.

There were four lots of 62,000 pounds of eight month wool with three lots selling from 86.4c to 92.5c lb. Bids were rejected on one lot of 44,000 lbs.

Two lots of fall wool of 36,000 pounds were offered and bids rejected.

Two lots of lamb wool with 15,000 pounds sold from 88.8c to 90.1c.

Also offered was black face fall lamb, 800 lbs selling at 88c lb.

Eight month black face,

1,400 lbs., sold for 77.5c.

Fall black face wool, 700 lbs., sold for 75c lb.

Black wool, 1,300 lbs., sold for 55c lb., clippings, 10,000 lbs., brought 53.8c lb and 2,500 lbs of tags sold for 45.5c lb.

Interest in wools was very keen.

The warehouse is currently negotiating privately for the remainder of the wool and expects to sell all the offered wool in the next few weeks.

The Law and Child Abuse

(This is the third article in a five-part series on child abuse and neglect and is part of a regional campaign sponsored by the Texas Department of Public Welfare. This week's article is on what the Texas law says about child abuse and neglect.)

Day care workers, school teachers, doctors, neighbors--anyone, in fact, who suspects child abuse and neglect and fails to report it may be charged with a misdemeanor and punished by fine or jail sentence under Texas law.

The law, Chapter 34 of the Texas Family Code on the Report of Child Abuse, was passed by the Texas legislature in 1973 and became effective on Jan. 1, 1974. Section 7 of the code states, "A person commits an offense if the person has cause to believe that a child's physical or mental health or welfare has been or may be further adversely affected by abuse of neglect and knowingly fails to report it in accordance with Section 34.02 of this code."

An offense under Section 34.07 is a Class B misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine of up to $1,000 or a jail term of 10 days to six months, or both.

The chapter on the reporting of child abuse begins with a paragraph on persons required to report. In Section 1, it says, "Any person having cause to believe that a child's physical or mental health or welfare has been or may be adversely affected by abuse or neglect shall report it in accordance with Section 34.02 of this code."

In a capsule, Section 1 says that the person who believes a child (defined by the Act as an individual below age 18) has been abused or neglected reports his suspicions to the local welfare office or to any state or local law enforcement agency.

Barry Fredrickson, regional administrator in Abilene for the Texas Department of Public Welfare, said the reports can also be made to a statewide, toll-free, hotline number at 1-800-292-5400.

According to Section 2, the reports must contain the names of the parents and child, their address, the child's age, and the nature of the abuse. If not all these facts are known, then any information which can direct an investigator to the scene should be reported.

Also in Section 2, it states that all reports received by any local or state law enforcement agency will be referred to the local welfare office. The section also indicates that an oral report shall be made immediately upon learning of the abuse or neglect and a written report shall follow within five days to the same agency.

Anonymous reports, while not encouraged, will be received and acted upon in the same manner as acknowledged reports.

Section 3 of Chapter 34 is important to persons who fear legal reprisals by the people they report. This section of the law states that "Any person reporting pursuant to this chapter is immune from liability, civil or criminal, that might otherwise be incurred or imposed. Immunity extends to participation in any judicial proceeding resulting from the report. Persons reporting in bad faith or malice are not protected by this section."

In summary, if you report a suspected act in good faith rather than, for example, giving a false report to get even with someone, you are protected by law against civil suits or criminal proceedings the abuser might bring against you for reporting him.

Most doctors know how to recognize abuse, particularly through bone x-rays. They also know how to question multiple bruises and cuts, unexplained burns, hemorrhages and anemia.

School teachers, day care and nursery school personnel, neighbors and relatives are also in positions to protect children by reporting signs of neglect or abuse which they have observed.

So called "common sense" may tell you the difference in a parent's right to discipline his child and the cruel battering or neglect of a child. When in doubt, though, individuals are encouraged to call their local welfare office, or the statewide hotline number.

"We encourage everyone to call their local welfare office or the toll-free statewide hotline number if they know of any cases of possible child abuse or neglect," said Fredrickson. "You may report it at any hour of the day or night."

The local and statewide numbers are maintained by the Texas DPW, the legally responsible agency for the investigation of suspected child abuse and neglect.

Amoco Discovers New Oil Reserves

Amoco Production Company announced recently it has discovered a new oil productive pay which indicates the potential for substantial new reserves in the Abo Reef Trend in West Texas.

The new pay was discovered in the recently completed W. G. Frazier No. 87 in Hockley County, Texas. Tests indicate the well, drilled below 7,900 feet, has the capability to produce in excess of 160 barrels of oil per day, the top discovery allowable. Coring operations in the Abo formation recovered more than 180 feet of oil productive section in the well.

Amoco owns 100 per cent interest in the well and the acreage on which it was drilled. A confirmation test, the W. G. Frazier No. 88-A is currently drilling about one-quarter-mile north of the discovery well. A two-rig development drilling program will be underway in the new field before year-end.

Amoco holds substantial acreage position in the Abo Reef Trend, a geological province which underlies a portion of West Texas and New Mexico. Amoco drilling operations are in progress on several other prospective new field areas in the trend.

Sonora Minister Speaks
One of the most striking things about the scene when Jesus was with his disciples for the last time at the Passover Feast, came when he made the statement that one of the twelve would betray him. Their response was very surprising, when you consider human nature. Each said: "Lord, is it I?" Now let us consider that for a moment. Would not the normal reaction have been "which of these other people is going to do that terrible thing"? Is it not likely that would have been my response, or your response?

The Devil's River Philosopher Sez.....

A Few Incidental Remarks On The Presidential Election

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River reflects on the election this week, more or less.

Dear editor: Some random notes on the election: I asked a friend, "Well, did the election go to suit you?" and he said: "No election ever goes to suit me." If he wasn't a farmer, I figure he'd make a good newspaper columnist. Some people are always speculating on what influence television commentators and big syndicated newspaper columnists have on an election.

Well, for one thing this time they taught us the meaning of the word apathy: a large voter turnout.

I wouldn't be surprised to see some young person running for his first office the next election tell his supporters: "Let's go out and get people stirred up. If we can get an apathetic turn-out, we'll win."

You see, big-time reporters work on the domino theory. If one of them finds a small pocket of people saying they don't intend to vote and reports on it, other reporters start looking for similar pockets and before you know it they're all reporting the country is apathetic. The public opinion polls take it up and for the next few months it's the theme song of the media. This may explain why the Mayor of New York, kidding some reporters, said media is the Latin plural for mediocre.

As for the public opinion polls, I don't know how much they spend sampling the voters but they could have saved their money by going off by themselves and figuring that when you've got two ordinarily decent, likeable men running for President, neither one of whom can raise or lower taxes himself -- that's done by Congress -- you're likely to have a fairly close vote.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Sheep & Goat Industry News

Compiled by Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association.

The health of the American Sheep industry depends on many factors, including availability of markets for its products, and if the U.S. Air Force follows through on a recent study, one of those markets could be cut or curtailed completely.

During the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association's fall directors' meeting, Wool and Mohair Marketing Committee chairman Robert Pfluger reported the results of an Air Force study on the feasibility of maintaining the present level of wool in uniform material.

According to the official report, released earlier in the year, the purpose of the analysis was to determine if enough wool and wool processing facilities would be available during the next five to ten years to justify use of the fiber at current levels.

Pfluger read a section of the government report which stated, "From the data provided by both government and non-government agencies, it is evident that quantities of apparel wool produced annually are decreasing at a rate of about 5 per cent per year."

"Looms to convert this fabric to woolen and worsted fabrics are also decreasing," the report continued, adding, "Action should be initiated to develop alternate fabrics for Air Force uniforms which utilize 100 per cent synthetic fibers or contain a high ratio of synthetic-to-wool fibers."

While at this point the study is just that-a study-such analyses are costly to prepare and often have a way of justifying themselves by becoming active programs. Then, once brought to life, these programs develop a strong instinct for self-preservation. The longer they live, the harder they become to stop, even if and when they are proven wrong.

The Air Force study, while noting the decrease in apparel wool and projecting that decrease over the coming decade, failed to note the unique properties of the natural fiber -- properties that originally secured its use in uniform manufacture. Considering all his technical wizardry, man is still unable to efficiently duplicate or improve upon certain of nature's own fibers. Wool heads the list.

With a switch to more synthetics, the Air Force and the taxpayers who support it could also find themselves coming out on the short end. All-synthetic fabrics, which dominated shelf-space in the early 1970's took a sudden nose-dive shortly after the Arab oil embargo, giving way to natural fibers or blends due to the scarcity and increased price of the petroleum and other fossil fuel stocks required in their manufacture. Experts are telling us that those problems are with us to stay.

If our petroleum reserves are as limited as we have been led to believe, the synthetics in a pilot's dress uniform could someday cost more than the fuel that flies his plane. Following the simple logic of such reasoning, it's hard to see how a change from a renewable to a non-renewable resource could improve the economic picture of our nation's defense.

Consequently, TS&GRA officers have maintained correspondence with the U. S. Air Force through Wright - Patterson Air Force Base and have received a commitment from government procurement officials indicating their intention to give the wool and wool textiles industries further consideration in the uniform fabrics question.

Sap does not rise and fall. It moves out towards the surface in the spring, in towards the center in the autumn.

The school newspaper staff is nearly ready to publish its first edition of the "Caballo Diablo". The name means devil/horse or devilish horse. Peggy Lynch was chosen editor; Brenda Boyd, sports editor, and Lorie Olson, business manager.

Semester tests started Wednesday. Seventh period tests were given after fifth period and lasted two hours. Students are allowed to leave after the first hour if they have finished their test. Second, fourth and sixth period tests will be given Thursday. On Friday, first, third and fifth period tests will be given.

Some students are eligible for exemptions. This means if their grade is high enough for the amount of times they have been absent then they are not required to take the test for that certain class. If you are exempt in all classes you must take at least one solid subject test, (English, History or Science). If you have one unexcused absence you must take all of your tests no matter what your grade point average is.

Sonora Elementary News

The kindergarten classes have been very busy, especially in getting ready for Thanksgiving. We have expanded our vocabulary by learning such words as pilgrims, Mayflower, colony, teepee and others. We have been making Indians, turkeys and pilgrims of all shapes and sizes. Each child will bring from home a picture of something for which he or she is thankful. The teachers will decorate bulletin boards with these pictures.

This six weeks the aides from high school, are working on major projects for their Home Economics course. They are carefully planning the activities for the children to do and they will assist the children on working on the project.

From Miss River's class, Clarissa Brownley will plan and assist the children in making kettle soup; from Mrs. Gullatt's class, Laurie Holmig will be making independent manipulative games for the children to work on; from Miss Nixon's class Toya Jones will plan and assist the children in the activity of making fruit salad; and from Mrs. Merrill's class, Martha Guerra will assist the children in making Indian vests from paper bags.

First graders are enjoying the new library books. They are checking these books out to take home and they enjoy reading those they can read alone and having those they can't, read to them. This is a very important step in developing their reading interest.

Parents are invited to attend the first grade Thanksgiving play to be presented Tuesday, November 23, in the elementary auditorium. First performance will be at 9:30 a.m. and the second performance will be at 1:30 p.m.

The second graders have been busy studying about Indians and their culture and customs. They will be making booklets of stories and pictures about the first Americans.

Since Thanksgiving will soon be upon us, art projects are being created and turkeys and pilgrims are covering the walls of the halls and classrooms.

This year, the second grade will be putting on the Christmas program. We are busy deciding on parts and learning songs.

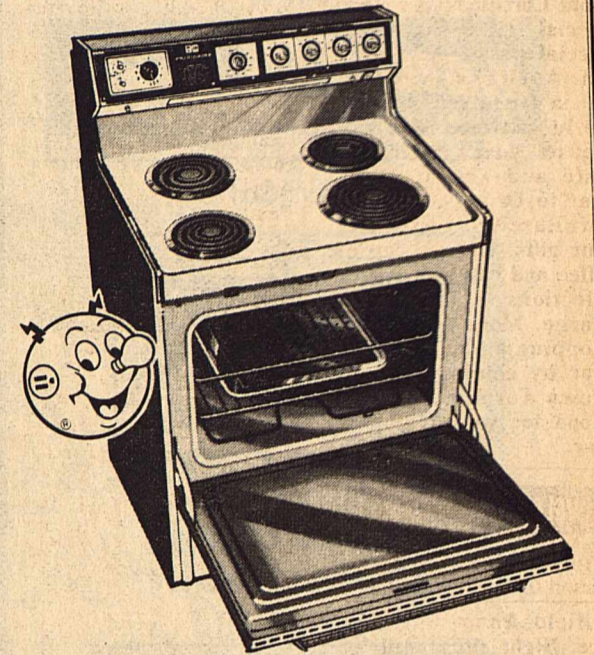

Twenty three students, out of twenty three, all in the same class, all received 100's on their spelling test. We felt that this achievement was worthy of mention. These students are: Johnny

- Cook vegetables in a small amount of liquid to conserve energy and vitamins.
- Select pans with flat bottoms for best contact with heating units, and match pan size of surface unit or cooking area for efficient heat transfer.

29 Breeders Testing Rams In sonora

Rams in the first 28 days of a performance test have averaged nearly a pound of gain daily.

The rams—more than 200—are in a 140-day test by scientists of the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research Station at Sonora.

Dr. Maurice Shelton of San Angelo, geneticist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, said 29 breeders—some of them in Utah and Idaho—have put nearly a record number of rams into the 28th annual test.

Rambouillets, predominate, but there are also Suffolks and Suffolk-Hampshire crosses.

"These rams look good and are off to a good start," said Shelton, "and we urge interested producers to stop at the station and look them over."

Shelton said producers are being especially urged to attend a station field day next March 17, when they can inspect not only the rams but also the records of their performance.

FACTS & FIGURES

Texas has more cows than people, as Texas writer Bill Porterfield points out in a special issue of Context, the Du Pont Company's current affairs magazine, devoted to Texas.

Texas is still the leading cattle-producing state, he says, and 80 percent of Texas beef is raised by small operators who never have more than 20 head at a time. "Mathematically, this means that the more than 12 million head of cattle are tended by at least 480,000 dudes," he says.

Wool and Mohair Report

Although there has been some decline in prices of Australia fine wools, the coarser grades remain firm. Generally, the wool trade expects the price trend of all types of wools to be upward as the economic conditions improve in most of the industrial nations of the world.

Finer grades of wool are in large supply by the Australian Wool Corporation as compared to the coarser types. Super-fine wools have not brought the premiums in Australian auctions since early 1975 and these types of wools which compare with West Texas fine wools are in abundance in the AWC stockpile. The fact that these wools are in ample supply was demonstrated in our sale last week when bids were refused on almost 40 percent of our offerings.

Continued interest in our wools indicates to us that they will be sold before the year is out.

In the mohair market continued strength is indicated. At the sale on November 9 in Port Elizabeth, South Africa prices paid were reported to be 7 1/2 to 10 percent higher than the sale 2 weeks previously. Their next sale is set for November 23rd.

In Texas limited contracting continues at $3.00 to $3.03 for spring adult mohair. No large volume of contracting has been done at this time.

Dee's Notes

by Dee Nevill

AN OLD-TIME BLUE NORTHER last Friday kept deer kill down as well as the number of deer brought into storage houses. That blue norther still has purple tinges as we all shiver from unaccustomed, unseasonably cold weather.

A HUNTING ACCI-

Lt. Dansby Certified

U. S. Air Force First Lt. Stephen C. Dansby, whose parents are Dr. and Mrs. Garland L. Dansby of Llano, has been certified as a missile combat crew commander at Minot AFB, N.D.

Lt. Dansby, a missile launch officer, was recommended for upgrading by the wing commander after meeting stringent training and evaluation requirements.

The lieutenant is a 1968 graduate of Llano High School. He earned his B.S. degree in 1973 at Texas Technical University where he was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. His wife, Mary, is the daughter of Mrs. William F. Garmon of Sonora.

Capt. Leard Commended

The U.S. Air Force Commendation Medal was presented to Captain Kenneth G. Leard, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Leard of Gilmer, in recent ceremonies at Lackland AFB, Tex.

Captain Leard was decorated for meritorious service at McConnell AFB, Kan.

He now serves at Lackland as flight commander with the Air Training Command's Officer Training School (OTS).

The captain's wife, Judy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McCalmont of Sonora.

Mike McKay Named To Position

Congressman Bob Krueger has announced the appointment of Mike McKay, formerly of his Washington staff and a native of Crane, Texas, to fill the position of office manager of Krueger's San Angelo office.

McKay, who is a graduate of Angelo State University, will be in charge of a thirteen county area which includes the following west Texas counties:

Coke, Concho, Crane, Irion, Glasscock, Menard, Reagan, Runnels, Schleicher, Sterling, Tom Green, Sutton, and Upton.

DENT Saturday sent Royce Mears to Shannon with a broken arm and other injuries. His dad, Freeman, of Branding Iron Smoke House reports that Royce will have a four to five weeks hospital stay. In Shannon for surgery is Mrs. J.F. Howell, who fell in her home and broke her hip. Recovering from foot surgery is Jennie Willman, who is also at Shannon. A quick recovery for all three, and our prayers for your rapid healing.

OUR SYMPATHY to Mrs. Charles West in the loss of her brother, John H. Silkwood, at Gulfport, Miss., last week. Mrs. West attended the services. She reports that her sister, Mrs. Marie Carr, who lived in Sonora many years ago sends greetings to friends here. We also extend sympathy to the Charles Berkley and Modesto Castilleja families in their losses.

SOME CITY EMPLOYEES have been short vacationing this past week, and this week. City Manager and Mrs. Bob Nevill and Police Chief and Mrs. Bill Webster spent three days in Las Vegas. Mr. and Mrs. Gene West are in Dallas, where he is attending the Texas Municipal League Convention. They attended the Dallas-Buffalo game last night.

MONDAY we received six calls for housing--these in addition to at least a dozen last week. Most of these folks are remaining in motels hoping housing will soon become available. We extend WELCOME to the Bob Houston family of Alamogordo, NM. He is the new cable television manager. Incidentally, they could use a 2 or 3-bedroom house!

C. G. MORRISON Company sponsors 'Family Night' Thursday, Nov. 18 from 7 to 9 p.m. Four turkeys will be given as door prizes and tickets for December merchants' drawings are to be issued in double amounts for purchases made -- Thursday night only.

GIRLS VARSITY and Junior Varsity travel to Lake View tonight for basketball games. Coaches Tally Kelso and Marsha Patton will accompany the girls.

THE ANNUAL THANKSGIVING Community Worship Service is scheduled Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Presbyterian, with the Rev. Mr.

Kenneth Cook of the Church of God of Prophecy bringing the message. It is well for us to pause and remember -- "Oh come, let us sing unto the Lord; let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation. Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms." Ps. 95:1-2. Let's fill that pretty little church!

INTO THE office yesterday were Mr. and Mrs.

John P. Ambrose and son of Waco, who plan a move to Sonora sometime after January 1. Formerly teaching at TSTI in Waco, he will be employed by Phillips in our area (another housing need!) Mr. Ambrose said Phillips made him such a good offer he couldn't turn it down..with this housing shortage..now he knows why!

TOO QUICKLY on the approach and passing of Thanksgiving comes Christmas. Some wise shoppers begin early and avoid the last minute hassle. If you are seeking the unusual in quaint home-type decorations, along with nibbles and goodies for the holiday season, you might want to browse at "Ye Olde Christmas Shop and Bakery" with these items being offered by Linda Hunt and Lola Beth Jones on Thursday, Dec. 9 from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the James Hunt home.

FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH--Two hunters got lost here. The first hunter said: "Now, we must remain calm." The second hunter agreed. "You're right. I read that if lost, you should shoot three times into the air and someone will come and rescue you." So they did this, and nothing happened. They repeated shots several times--still no results. Finally, the first hunter said, "What are we going to do now?"--His friend replied: "I don't know. We're almost out of arrows."
