City Council Signs Contract

City Council members deliberated at length Monday regarding the water sewage disposal system, to be located on the Rip Ward Ranch south of town.

The lease has been discussed many times by council to determine if this is the best way to dispose of city sewage waste and if this will completely alleviate the city's problem.

Gene Linderman and Virgil Pollock of the Soil

Conservation Service appeared before the commission with a detailed report and stated that of the 182 acres leased from Ward, only 96 acres could be used in the manner the city had use for. Survey results were based on approximately six thousand population.

The 20-year lease from Ward will cost city taxpayers $15,000 per year for a 20 year period. At the end of that term, the land will still belong to Ward.

With reluctance, the council did approve the contract.

There were rumblings among the council that taxpayers would probably see a raise in sewer rates to pay for the yearly lease.

Council members did discuss the possibility of recycling sewage by purification and running it into the Dry Devil's River but the cost of such operation would cost the city in excess of one million dollars.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Norman Rousselot; City Manager, Bob Nevill; City Secretary, Pat Robbins; and Aldermen Jack Kerbow, Doyle Morgan and Hershel Davenport.

In other action of the council Monday the firm of McCreary and Huey was reapportioned delinquent tax collectors for the city.

Joe David Ross appeared before the council on behalf of George Alexander with a bid on tracts 18A and 18B in the IH 10 area. The amount of the bid was $5,700 which was accepted by the council with the stipulation that the purchasers of the tracts pay for sewer and water installation to the property.

Cleveland Nance was also on hand to ask council for an emergency permit to park a travel trailer in his back yard until such time he could go before the planning and zoning commission.

Several cases of the planning and zoning commission were reviewed by the council and on each case the commission's decision was approved.

A special permit was approved for a parade during the Sutton County Days Celebration.

Deliberation over a controlled parking ordinance was held.

Presbyterians To Observe 20th Anniversary Sunday

The Church of the Good Shepherd, Presbyterian Church in the United States, will observe its 20th anniversary Sunday, June 19. Activities will include Church School at 10 a.m., coffee and fellowship at 10:45, morning worship at 11, a church dinner at 12, and formal groundbreaking for the new manse to follow.

Although the Church was not officially founded until 1957, its roots in Sutton County date back as early as 1914, according to newspaper records.

In November 1914 the Rev. H.D. Smith of San Angelo began making trips to Sonora and holding services here. In December 1915 he brought the Rev. Dr. B.E. Wallace of Brownwood, and the two conducted a two week revival.

It was not until late 1956 that concerted efforts to organize a Presbyterian church in Sonora were made. At that time some 20 Presbyterians met in the Parish Hall of St. John's Episcopal Church to take the necessary steps for organization. The requirements having been met, during the spring meeting of the Presbytery of Mid-Texas the Sonora Presbyterians, request that they be granted a charter and approved. Organizational services were held June 14, 1957 at St. John's Episcopal Church with the Rev. Dr. B.O. Wood of San Angelo delivering the sermon. Presbytery's Commission also included the Rev. Carl Reimers of Coleman, The Rev. R.W. Jablonowski of Fort Worth, and the Rev. James Spencer of Eldorado.

The Rev. Alanson Brown, rector of St. John's completed the commission. Edwin Jackson of Eldorado gave the charge to the congregation. The church was officially named the Church of the Good Shepherd.

There were some 40 charter communing members and 11 non communing members on the original roll.

The first elders were C.T. Jones, Roy Coker, Pat Cooper, Lea Allison, Stanton Bundy, Ralph Finklea, Harold C. Saunders, Jr. and Harold Scherz were the first deacons. John Irving King, Lea Allison, and

New Water Tank To Boost Pressure

When the new water tower is completed and tied into the existing Sonora water distribution system, the city will have 1.5 million gallons of water storage capability.

City Manager Bob Nevill expects the new 250,000 gallon tank to be in operation by early August. Nevill explained that the water storage tank, funded by a voter-approved revenue bond two years ago, will boost water pressure at faucets from the current 30 to 35 lbs per sq. inch to between 65 to 75 lbs per sq. inch.

The first step in the addition of the new tank, located on the hill east of Hwy 290 east, will be to install booster pumps around the city to help control pressure increases. Nevill pointed out that the significant increase in water pressure may create problems in old water mains and some older water lines in residential area.

As the new tank begins to serve the city, the water pressure will be brought up gradually over a period of several weeks or months.

The gradual stepping up of water pressure will give the city an opportunity to check water mains, and home owners to report any problems. The main benefits of the new water tank, according to Nevill, are the increased water pressure at the faucets and the lowering of fire insurance premiums for city residents.

The new tower is 70 feet high, the top will be approximately 2,335 ft. above sea level (most of Sonora sits at 2,160 ft) and the total cost of the project is $270,000.

Dick Jones Hired As Deputy

Dick Jones, city police officer since December, 1975, has been hired by Sutton County Sheriff Bill Webster. Jones will take over his duties as deputy sheriff July 1.

Christian Scientists Summoned To "Unite In Prayer" June 6

Christian Scientists from around the world have been summoned to "unite in good, strong prayer" and to do a better job of "responding to mankind's needs."

David E. Sleeper, the new chairman of The Christian Science Board of Directors, told church members yesterday that it was time "to discard every thought that would turn us away from our conviction that God is as supreme on earth as He is in heaven."

A Texan, who has been a member of the denomination's governing body since 1969, Sleeper said the example of Jesus is as relevant today as it was centuries ago. He said the key to that example was a willingness "to read the signs of the times spiritually—according to divine guidance."

Several thousand members, representing Christian Science congregations in the United States, Canada, and overseas, attended the 82nd annual meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, June 6. Church officers reported on the denomination's healing ministry, its reading room and publishing activities, and the work of its branch congregations.

Boston is the home of the denomination's international headquarters. The Church was founded here in 1879 by American religious leader, Mary Baker Eddy.

Sleeper and others who spoke acknowledged a continuing need for steadier church attendance by those of all ages. But, as with primitive Christianity, said Sleeper, mere surface conditions do not discourage "committed followers of the Master."

Said the chairman: "Jesus wasn't one to ignore appearances, whether they were good or bad. Whatever effects he saw on the surface he never let the appearance mislead him. In fact, he strongly rebuked those who did limit their conclusions about cause and effect to what they could observe humanly."

"If Jesus hadn't been able to read the signs of the times spiritually," Sleeper declared, "he might have been terribly discouraged. We too must read the signs of the times correctly and act from the standpoint of spiritual vision."

One Agreement For All Nations To Live Up To

Editor's note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on the Dry Devil's River applauds, with one hand, a new agreement signed by the leading nations of the world.

Dear editor: Some pessimistic people claim it's impossible for the nations of the world to ever get together on much of anything, especially on abolishing war. They say an agreement between nations isn't worth the paper it's written on, even though the price of paper is ten times what it used to be, including the paper the Devil's River News is printed on.

This is not always true. For example, just recently the major countries got together and signed an agreement outlawing the use of weather in warfare. They've agreed that a man-induced earthquake, for instance, cannot be used, although you can see how effective it'd be to run one right through the middle of your enemy's country when it was getting ready to attack.

It is now unlawful, under the agreement, to stir up the ocean and send a tidal wave over some country you're at war with.

Guided hurricanes or tornadoes cannot be sent through another country, ripping up cities right and left in the pursuit of peace.

Producing a drought throughout your opponent's lands has been outlawed, as well as, in case you overlooked some spots and crops came up anyway, producing torrential rains at harvest time.

Lightning can't be man-directed, it must be allowed to strike where it pleases like nature intended. No late crop-killing freezes are allowed, and no country will be permitted to melt another country's snow in the winter time.

Now you may ask, will the nations signing this agreement live up to it? Will they refuse for example to devastate an enemy's country with a searing drought, or split it in half with an earthquake?

Of course they will... until one of them figures out how to do it.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

What's Afoot in Decorating

DECORATING TIPS FROM TOP DECORATORS

Are you looking to rejuvenate your home this month with high design but a low budget?

We've tapped the talents of several top decorators and come up with some unusual treatments that can give your old room a new twist.

1. Super-graphics are super ideas to cover large spaces. Paint one yourself or use colorful stick-ups that are washable, removable, and self-adhesive. They're available through shelter magazines or at some paint and wall covering centers.

Super-graphics are quick, easy decorating for a wall or door that could use a little color. If needed, repaint your cabinets before applying the graphics.

2. If remodeling includes a new floor, select and install it first. It's easier to coordinate colors from the floor up.

3. Save 1/3 or more of the flooring price by installing it yourself. We've found Mannington Mills of Salem, New Jersey, a resilient floor manufacturer, has the easiest how-to instructions on installing flooring.

4. If your drapes are tired and worn, throw them away and let the sun shine through the windows. Interesting window accents include painting frames to contrast with wall colors. For example, dark walls should have light frames.

5. To provide privacy and personality to a room, hang lush plants in the window. Be sure the plants selected adapt easily to the window's light condition. Coleus, Swedish ivy and wandering jews thrive on lots of sun.

6. Don't skimp on lighting. Be generous with outlets so you don't have extension cords. Track lighting is easy to install whether it is on a wall or the ceiling.

For free decorating booklets on flooring, write Dept. L-5, Mannington Mills, Inc., Salem, N.J. 08079.

TROPICAL FRUIT SALAD FOR SUMMER

When the temperature climbs to ninety degrees this summer you'll be looking for ways to cool off and simmer down—especially at mealtime.

Take a tip from those who live in tropical climates all year 'round. Feast on a variety of luscious fruits which are plentiful during the summer months—pineapples, melons, grapes, bananas and peaches, to name a few. Fruits are excellent sources of vitamins and minerals. Serve them chilled with an appropriate dressing to accompany cheese or meat on a luncheon menu.

Suggested here is a melange of fresh fruits with Pineapple-Lemon Dressing. This flavorful dressing is made with fruit juice and peanut oil and laced with cinnamon and cloves. Since oil is the dominant element in a salad dressing it should be the best... and Planters Peanut Oil is the best because its light, delicate flavor blends well with other ingredients.

If you are interested in expanding your salad repertoire Planters Peanut Oil has a 12-page booklet with 38 recipes entitled, "Sensational Salads and Masterful Dressings." This colorful, art-illustrated booklet also features tips on salad making, recipes for French dressing and mayonnaise plus 25 variations of these two basics. For a free copy of this exciting booklet write to: Planters Peanut Oil, P.O. Box 2695, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Representative Report

by Susan Gurley McBee
The regular session of the 65th Legislature is now history, with a special session still in the future. On the whole, the accomplishments of the just-ended session were solid ones. Certainly, it was a hard-working legislature, with more bills upon which to act and more working hours accumulated than during any other. Although there were many disappointments, some very bitter and frustrating, there were some positive achievements.

A strong law-and-order package was passed, which should help reverse the trend of our state's rapidly escalating crime rate.

The state highway system was given a shot in the arm with a generous amount of revenue appropriated to it.

Retired teachers and state employees were helped with additional funds, as were those who will soon retire. An attempt to regulate, and hopefully reduce, the ever-expanding state bureaucracy was made through passage of the "Sunset Act." This new law requires that most state agencies undergo a review to determine whether they are fulfilling their function or should be terminated.

A malpractice bill was passed which, even though not quite what the doctor ordered, is anticipated to be better than the status quo.

A record $15 billion plus was appropriated. This amount still leaves well over $1 billion in the state coffers, but it does represent a substantial increase over previous state budgets. You will be glad to know that I voted for virtually every practical budget cut!

Many of the emotional issues which attracted lots of attention—both pro and con did not make it through both houses this session. These include, for example, pari-mutual betting, bingo, abortion, recall of the ERA, commission on the status of women, textbooks for parochial schools, child-care licensing exemption for church-related facilities, the nurse practice act, and repeal of the Sunday closing law.

Of course, the biggest disappointment was the death during the last half-hour of the session of the school finance bill and of the inheritance and utility sales tax reduction measure. Both hopefully will be resurrected during a special session.

The compromise education bill that failed would have included $308 million in teachers salaries and, because of the way in which each district's local share was figured, would have been very beneficial for the school districts in this legislative district.

During the interim I will be going back and forth to Austin for interim committee work and visiting in the district. If you need to reach me, call my home, 512/775-5952, or write P.O. Drawer Z, Del Rio, 78840. If my Austin office can help you with a problem or can provide information, Mrs. Kindle will be on duty in Austin part-time throughout the interim at 512/475-2763, or P.O. Box 2910, Austin, 78769. Please don't hesitate to call on us.

Lightning...A Major Killer

Lightning kills more people in the United States than do tornadoes, floods or hurricanes. And spring is the time when thunderstorms and lightning are generally common over much of Texas. Clint Langford, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, offers a few simple rules that could possibly save their lives during an electrical storm.

Lightning seldom kills more than one person at a time. The first rule is simply to learn to recognize the signs of an oncoming thunderstorm, from which bolts of lightning emanate. Watch for towering "thunderhead" clouds, distant rumbles of thunder and distant flashes of lightning which indicate an approaching storm. Also, heed National Weather Service forecasts and warnings on radio and television to "get in out of the weather."

All experts on lightning agree that, when a thunderstorm threatens, the most important single thing is to get inside a home or large building, or inside an all-metal vehicle. An enclosed car or truck is described as an excellent shelter from lightning, for, if struck, it will allow the current to be discharged harmlessly into the ground.

When inside during an electrical storm, avoid using a telephone, except for emergencies. If outside, with no time to reach a safe building or an automobile, there is another set of rules to follow, points out Langford.

Don't stand under a natural lightning rod, such as a tall, isolated tree in an open area. Also, avoid standing in small isolated sheds or other small structures in open areas. Equally important is to avoid projecting above the surrounding landscape, such as standing on a hilltop, in an open field, on a beach, or fishing from a small boat.

Get out of and away from open water. If you're swimming, the electrical current from a nearby lightning strike can flow through the water to you.

On the farm, get away from tractors and other metal farm equipment.

Also get away from motorcycles, scooters, golf carts and bicycles. Put down golf clubs. Stay away from wire fences, clotheslines, metal pipes, rails and other metallic paths that could carry the electrical shock from lightning from some distance away.

In a forest, seek shelter in a low area under a thick growth of small trees, but in open areas go to a low place, such as a ravine or valley.

If isolated in an open field, drop to the knees and bend forward, putting the hands on the knees. In this position, if lightning strikes near you, the chances of it using your body as a conductor are minimized. Kneeling provides a low profile while at the same time keeping as small an area of the body in contact with the ground as possible. Lying in a ditch or hollow is discouraged, for surface water or saturated soil is a better conductor of electricity than the surrounding area.

Groups of persons in exposed situations, such as hikers, should spread out—staying several yards apart.

Sonora Minister Speaks

Perhaps one of the least understood doctrines of the Christian Church is the doctrine of the Holy Spirit. Christians tend to emphasize one facet of the Spirit at the expense of a wholeistic understanding of it. Those who stress life, or vitality, tend to have a "heart centered" religion of emotionalism. Those who stress truth, exclusively of the nor is it exclusively of the head. Neither is it solely a social clic for the fellowship of those who believe in the same things. Where the Holy Spirit is at work—there is life, and truth, and community.

This openness, this wholeistic understanding of the Holy Spirit frees us to hear his word come crashing through, and we no longer use the Bible to reinforce our own biases and prejudices—but, instead are open to hearing that word as it reinforces, or perhaps admonishes and corrects us. Unless we are open to that corrective work of the spirit, the voice we hear is not God's but our own self serving desires.

Fred Campbell's Wool and Mohair Report

Overseas wool markets were firm this past week. Auctions overseas are coming to a season's end soon and some of the offerings are of poorer quality than earlier wools. In the U.S. over 80 percent of the spring clip is now sold at steady prices. Late in the week some firms were reducing their prices due to their accumulated inventory. It appears the stronger prices for the spring have now been paid. At Sonora on Friday last week our company sold at bid the last of our graded lines and some of the off-wools on hand. Prices paid, were:

Clothing 92½¢
Skirts 72½¢
12 Mos. Blackface 85½¢
12 Mos. Blackface cross 87½¢
Graded Whiteface cross 90¢

It will take into July to complete delivery of these wools.

In South Africa last week the last sale of the season was held, and 71 percent of 1900 bales were sold to the trade. The market was reported to be 2½% lower on adult and about 10 percent lower on kids. It is believed the offerings there are not as good quality as earlier offerings. Virtually all of the mohair now is sold both in South Africa and Texas.

Some new mohair is coming into our warehouse. Part of it is fairly free of burr and other defect but some of it is pretty heavy. We again ask that producers take extra care in moving goats through rested traps and handling in the pens. It is unfortunate to contaminate a clip of mohair in or near the shearing pens, when it might be avoided.

Tomorrow

World-Wide Mohair Group Visits Sonora

Texas mohair producers will have a chance this week to meet the world's leading mohair users as the International Mohair Association winds up a week of activities here in the state.

The group, representing both mohair producers and product manufacturers, officially began the week with three days of meetings at the historic Menger Hotel in San Antonio. A chartered bus tour is set to follow, allowing IMA participants an opportunity to see first-hand the mohair producing region of Texas.

Stops on the bus tour include Sonora, Rocksprings, and Uvalde, where area growers will have a rare chance to meet with the men who eventually buy, process and manufacture consumer goods from their product. A group of about 30 South African mohair growers will also be making the tour.

Thursday's activities include the Junction and Sonora stops, both hosted by area wool and mohair warehouses. Friday, the IMA group will visit the Earwood Ranch south of Sonora, then move on to a noon barbeque in Rocksprings, hosted by Rocksprings warehouses, banks, area producers and state and national goat breeder association.

The final item on the Friday agenda will be a stop at the Uvalde Country Club, also warehouse-sponsored.

The activities are centered around the IMA annual conference, and representatives will be present from England, Scotland, France, Germany, Turkey, Japan, Australia, Italy, South Africa and Losotho.

Began in 1974 when a series of organizational meetings were held in Holland, Germany and England, the IMA is composed of representatives of all phases of the mohair industry, from initial production through consumer marketing.

IMA chairman T.W. Hibbert, British Mohair Spinners, Ltd., Bradford, said recently in the IMA newspaper, Mohair World: "Although the object of the IMA is to promote the outstanding qualities of mohair in all its various forms, one of the main benefits which has resulted from its formation has been the closer cooperation between grower and manufacturer and the elimination of distrust which has existed in the past."

Texas is especially important to the mohair industry in that it produces approximately one third of the world's supply of the natural fiber.

Working to "Keep Beef King", Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe and Mrs. Briscoe [left] accept a replica of the lapel button worn by thousands of cattle producers around the nation. Presenting the button is Mrs. Neal Collier, Wichita Falls, president of the Texas CowBelles. Briscoe, a widely-known rancher, has endorsed the upcoming Beef Referendum. He urged all Texas cattle producers to register between June 6-17 at their county ASCS offices and then return to vote "Yes" during July 5-15. The Referendum, if passed, would authorize a self-help program of beef research, education and promotion.

Edwards County Screwworm Case Reported

More pressure on Texas Governor Dolph Briscoe's "Mission '77: Stamp Out Screwworms" campaign developed with laboratory identification of the year's first screwworm case in Edwards County.

Fred Wall of Rocksprings collected the parasite sample from the navel of one of his baby calves. The infested calf is in a pasture on the Murphy Ranch 19 miles from Rocksprings on the Brackettville Road near the West Nueces River.

Dr. M.E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication Program, notes this case brings the 1977 Texas total to 28 in 13 counties. By June 8 of last year Edwards County had tallied 35 cases and the Texas total stood at 2,755.

At the Governor's February meeting in Austin plans for this year's campaign to eradicate this costly pest from Texas ranges the final time were discussed. Core of the plan is close watching of livestock by ranchers and immediate submission of samples of worms found in wounds.

It is hoped these measures, coupled with the severe winter which provided a good kill of over-wintering screwworms in south Texas and northeast Mexico, along with man made measure, can finally rid Texas of this parasite.

The Screwworm Eradication Program, operated by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), is based on the fact female screwworm flies mate only once in their lifetimes. Eggs they produce after mating with a sterile male will not hatch. When enough sterile to fertile matings occur eradication is achieved.

Meadows explains this is the first full year that sterile flies produced in the APHIS plant at Mission are being augmented by another 200 million per week produced at a plant in southern Mexico. Sterile flies from both plants are being used to eradicate screwworms in Texas.

Producers Register for Referendum

Registration in the first national Beef Referendum began this week and Texas cattle producers are doing their "homework" before voting, according to the chairman of the Texas Beef Development Taskforce (BDT).

J.D. Sartwell, a rancher from Austin County and chairman of the state BDT, reports excellent response to a toll-free Beef Referendum "Hotline". "We are getting dozens of calls each day from interested cattlemen," he says. "The vast majority indicate they favor the program, after getting their questions answered."

Registration for the Beef Referendum began June 6 in more than 2,000 county ASCS offices across the U.S. Cattle producers have until Friday, June 17, to register for the Referendum. Actual voting will be July 5-15 at the ASCS offices.

Texas cattle producers with additional questions can call, toll-free, 1-800-682-4106 for additional information on the Beef Referendum.

Marfa Inspector Discovers Screwworm

The maggots livestock inspector Bob Epley took from the navel of a calf owned by Clegg Folwkes of Marfa proved to be screwworms.

Collected and mailed June 3, they reached the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Eradication Program lab June 6. This is Brewster County's second 1977 case, and the 24th for Texas, says Dr. M.E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., program director.

Epley says this calf was on a range 50 miles southwest of Alpine; near the Presidio County line.

This was Brewster County's second case of the year. Only six days earlier C.F. Cox of Sanderson collected Brewster County's first 1977 sample, also from a calf navel.

Meadows reports that an additional two contract aircraft have begun dispersing flies from the satellite distribution center at Del Rio. They are flying over the western end of the hill country and into the Big Bend region.

The Screwworm Eradication Program, operated by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS), is based on the fact female flies usually mate only once in their lifetimes. Millions of screwworm flies are reared, and sexually sterilized in an insectary.

They are released from APHIS aircraft in areas where it is thought wild screwworm flies may exist; and in specially large numbers in the vicinity of known screwworm cases. When enough sterile to fertile matings occur eradication is achieved.

Governor Briscoe Testifies:

Free Market Will Save Nation

Part III
 Editor's note: This week we present the final part of the three-part series of Governor Dolph Briscoe's comments to the U.S. House of Representatives Subcommittee on Energy and Power of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce.

In my opinion, good planning in a democracy like ours requires a maximum use of a free system and the minimum use of direct bureaucratic administration of the economy.

That hard earned lesson is not respected in the proposed National Energy Plan. I hope the Congress measures carefully the scale, the cost, and the stultifying effects of the bureaucratic giant now envisioned.

Many people think of the proposed National Energy Plan as primarily a plan to save energy, install solar energy units, and to expand coal production. But if you study the balance sheet you will see that it is a two front war with a conservation front and a production front.

You are all aware that we in the present energy producing states are disturbed by some of the attitudes of those in potential energy producing states. Those attitudes suggest that we must continue to produce to the limit and deplete our reserves while environmental considerations should be overriding in other states.

But my point today is different. I am convinced that nothing less than a full development effort by all states in coal, atomic energy, oil and gas will see us through to achieve the production and balance of payment targets of the National Energy Plan. In a truly national effort the Congress should zero in on a hard and disturbing fact.

Up Date

By WES BURNETT
 The House Subcommittee voted last week 12-10 in favor of decontrol of new natural gas sending the measure to the full committee.

Governor Briscoe and Texas congressional leaders are currently explaining the importance of decontrol to the full House Commerce and the Senate Energy committee.

News reports from Washington indicate that President Carter's staff is mounting a strong effort to change the mood of Congress, and a stiff fight is expected to develop on the issue of decontrol of natural gas prices.

There are stronger and stronger signs that congressmen from non-producing states are beginning to see the serious shortcomings of the President's energy plan.

There is even hope now that Congress will in fact reflect the will of the American people for a free enterprise system.

The Federal government owns about fifty percent of our known fossil fuel resources but last year contributed less than ten percent of our production and most of this production was off the coast of Louisiana and Texas.

The largest withholder of energy supply in the nation is the Federal government itself. To make any national energy plan work we must begin immediately a full production effort directed at all our domestic energy resources.

Unless they are met the Plan will fail and the impact on our nation will be devastating. Without radical changes in the Plan it is my considered judgment the Plan will fail. As a nation we are fortunate. We command a substantial energy resource base. An essential part of the job must be to reconcile the considerable disparity between the National Energy Plan's pricing policy and its clearly stated and necessary production goals.

In a matter of natural gas I strongly urge you to make available to the interstate consumer of natural gas the only mechanism which has a proven record of balancing supply and demand for this critical commodity, reliance on private enterprise functioning in a marketplace free of government price regulations.

I urge you not to allocate the shortages and perpetuate the nation's problem but to provide instead an opportunity for our American free enterprise system, through utilization of the mechanism of the marketplace to develop the long range supply President Carter's balance sheet calls for.

9,498 Applications Filed

Applications for permits to drill oil and gas tests in Texas totaled 9,498 for the first five months of 1977, up from 7,906 for the same period in 1976.

Year-to-date applications to drill, deepen, plug back and for service wells totaled 11,167 against 9,423 a year ago, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division reported in its semimonthly drilling report.

The report showed 30 oil discoveries and 43 gas strikes were completed in Texas during the May 16-31, 1977 period.

Oil discoveries included nine in Southeast Texas, one each in the East Texas, West Central Texas, San Angelo and Midland areas, four each in Deep South Texas and Lubbock area and three in the East Central Texas and six in North Texas.

The new gas strikes included 25 in Deep South Texas, seven in Southeast Texas, five in the Refugio area, three in west central Texas, one each in the Midland, Panhandle and East Texas area.

The Oil and Gas Division listed 5,389 oil, gas or service well completions for the year to date, up from 4,998 a year earlier.

Of the 3,307 oil completions so far in 1977, 259 were discovery wells. A year earlier, there were 3,074 oil completions with 236 listed as oil discoveries.

Gas well completions this year total 1,782 of which 315 are discovery wells. For the same 1976 period, Texas had 1,774 gas well completions including 375 discoveries.

The report shows 838 drilling applications for the latest two-week period and logs 546 oil, gas and service well completions.

There were some 334 oil and 185 gas well completions since the last semimonthly drilling report. In the May 16-31 period, 126 exploratory and field tests wound up as dry holes.

New Rules Adopted by Railroad Commission

The Railroad Commission has adopted two new rules pertaining to gas utility regulation. Both rules take effect July 1.

Gas Utilities Division Rule .003 on establishing and changing residential and commercial rates sets forth matters which must be included in a statement of intent to change rates by a gas utility pursuant to Section 43 of the Texas Public Utility Regulatory Act. In addition to the filing of information specified in Section 43, the new rule also requires that a gas utility submit:

--A statement as to whether the proposed change would increase the aggregate revenues of the applicant more than the greater of $100,000 or 2 1/2 percent.

--A statement as to whether the proposed rates exceed 115 percent of the average of all rates for similar services of all municipalities served by the same utility within the same county.

--A statement setting forth the revenues of the utility in the geographical areas covered by the statement of intent.

The rules were adopted during the Commission's weekly conference on Gas Utilities Division matters on June 6.

Oil & Gas Production Down

Texas oil and gas wells produced 663,043,946 Mcf of gas in March 1977, down 0.19 percent from field runs a year earlier.

Texas gas production in March 1977 came from 188,745 oil and gas wells.

A Day's Work For A Day's Pay

By Bob Krueger
A popular and common adage to Americans has, for a long time, been "A day's work for a day's pay."
That simple phrase says

a lot about both America's long-standing conviction that a person derives much of his dignity from his work--his ability to perform for others--and from a sense of fair dealing, the practice of keeping one's word, of delivering goods promised, of seeking only fair and just compensation.

As we in Washington, D.C., begin to formulate a national energy policy, I think it important that we be careful not to depart from these simple and basic practices even while we deal with the most complex of issues, a category into which the energy issue surely falls.

For that reason, this week in Washington I have called for an amendment to the National Energy Plan that would provide basic consumer protection in an area that might otherwise be overlooked.

What I have endorsed, first, is the President's theory of allowing tax credits to Americans who, on their own, agree to insulate their homes in accordance with guidelines clearly stipulated in a national energy plan.

I've gone further by suggesting that we write into the energy bill a provision that persons who do the actual insulating work be either bonded or required to guarantee both the quality of their work and the quality of materials used.

Without these guarantees against shoddy workmanship and inferior materials, it might well be that the very persons whom this legislation is intended to help in saving money might instead be financially exploited.

In other words, a tax credit for having insulation installed this year will not do much good if the homeowner has to have the insulation work redone next year because of inferior workmanship or because sub-standard materials were used.

I know that most professionals who do home repair and maintenance work are honest, hard-working and provide a valuable service to homeowners. This is all the more reason that we need to be careful to implement into law requirements that insulation installers be bonded or required to guarantee their work. Without such a provision, we run the risk of opening a Pandora's box of home installment insulation "professionals" whose primary goal is not to serve, but to exploit.

As you know, I have often spoken out against what I have sometimes seen as an overabundance of federal regulation. I continue to be cautious about the expanding federal regulation. But, at the same time, there are other areas--and I believe this to be one--where specific and strong requirements are essential.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Recently, we discussed the problems some consumers have had with moving companies that fraudulently increase the load customers are charged for, by adding such things as bricks and steel ingots.

But even when there is no fraud or deception involved, some consumers in the process of moving have ended up paying more to get their belongings to a new location simply because they have failed to plan in advance.

Our Consumer Protection Division attorneys suggest that you follow some tips from experts to eliminate expensive and time-consuming mistakes when moving household goods.

—Pack your belongings yourself, to save money. Moving companies will charge extra for supplying cartons and for packing your household goods.

—Get estimates from at least three different companies. If one of the estimates is very much lower than the others, be cautious. It may be an instance of "lo-balling," the practice of giving an unrealistically low estimate in order to get your business. Remember that the moving company is not bound by its estimate. Instead, the actual weight of your shipment and the distance it will travel determine the amount you must pay.

—Learn how the weight of your load is figured. The weight of the moving van (sometimes including some previously loaded goods) is the tare weight. When your shipment is loaded, the van is weighed again, producing the gross weight. The net weight, or actual weight of your goods, is the difference between the gross and the tare weights, and it is the weight you will be charged for. If you question the amount, you can request a re-weighing in your presence.

If there is no significant difference in the two weights, you will be charged for the reweighing. —The shipper will inventory your goods, but you should carefully check to see that you agree on the description of them. For instance, if a "table" is listed, you will want to see that it is more accurately described as "mahogany library table, English, 1840."

—Plan to pay cash on delivery of the load, unless you have arranged credit in advance with the mover. Most will also accept certified checks, money orders, traveler's checks, or cashier's checks.

—You should almost always buy additional insurance on your goods, even though the company will pay a certain amount per pound of your load, if it is lost or damaged. This amount is seldom enough to cover loss fully, and full protection is well worth the slight extra cost for additional insurance.

—When you receive the shipment, never sign anything until you check the condition of your goods. Note any damage on the inventory when you check it against the goods as they are unloaded. This makes it easier if you have to file a claim.

—Be sure you are at the destination when your goods are to be delivered. If you aren't, your goods will be stored and redelivered, and you will be charged a considerable extra amount.

—The key to a successful move is preventive action. Learn your rights and those of the moving company. purchase full protection for your goods, and pay close attention to the details of the move, and you will be less likely to have problems.

3-Day Teacher Workshop June 27, 28, 29

Education Center Region XV is hosting a three-day workshop to be held at Glenmore Elementary School in San Angelo June 27, 28, and 29. The purpose of the workshop is to train teachers in techniques for reading instruction. This particular program was developed by the Exemplary Center for Reading Instruction in Salt Lake City, Utah and is called ECRI for short. The reading program is a highly structured one, designed to give the student an opportunity to master reading skills. This training is one method for teaching reading and may be adapted to the basal reading program in any school.

Guest consultants for the workshop will be: Kay Dudley, Zephyr I.S.D., Mrs. LaVerne Benton, Menard I.S.D., and center staff consultants Mrs. Margarita Weaver and Mrs. Nancy Lowe.

The sessions will begin at 8:30 each morning and end at 4:30 p.m. All teachers in the area are invited to attend.

Participants must register prior to the workshop. For more information contact Mrs. Nancy Lowe, Box 5199 San Angelo, Texas 76901 or phone (915) 653-6711.

In addition to the regular district gathering, Judy Miles, District Service Director, attended an informal executive board meeting on June 4 in the home of district president.

Open Letter To Sonora Merchants

Dear Sonora Merchants:

On behalf of the Sonora Bronco Band, we wish to thank all of you merchants for your cooperation and support of our High School Band. Also, we would like to thank all the merchants that employ Band students during the school year. We know that it takes a great deal of patience and cooperation for an employer to work out a schedule so that a Band member can participate in the Band program, and also do a good job, and we appreciate it.

Again, Sonora merchants, we thank all of you for your excellent cooperation with the Band Program of the Sonora Schools.

Sincerely,
Ed Martinez and the Bronco Band

Mrs. Rena Elliott Returns From Okla. Judging Tour

Mrs. A.C. Elliott has returned from Oklahoma where she spent almost a month serving as adjudicator for the National piano Guild auditions. She judged in Lindsey, Lawton, Norman, Hobart and Midwest City, hearing some 400 students play for local district, state, national and international honors in these guild centers.

"It was a wonderful experience," Mrs. Elliott reports, "and I was royally received. Only once did I have a moment of misgiving and that was in Norman when I was introduced to the Barry Switzer family. It passed completely, however, when I assured them that a Texan can be perfectly fair and unbiased toward Oklahomans except in the Cotton Bowl. They believed me after their two children received superior ratings in the auditions."

After auditions ended, Mrs. Elliott visited Mr. and Mrs. R.W. Jacobs at Pauls Valley, Okla., and relatives in Okla. City, Shawnee, Broken Arrow and Tulsa. Bob Jacobs is a former editor-owner of the Devils River News and Mrs. Jacobs taught piano here for years. They were most interested in Sonorans and "The Devil."

Mrs. R.P. Murphy, sister of Mrs. Elliott, accompanied her to Abilene where they visited another sister Mary McQuary. "All-in-all it was a wonderful trip, a rewarding experience and I wouldn't have missed it for the world but I'm happy to be back in Sonora" said Mrs. Elliott, "and I am beginning this week to start my own pupils on their Guild work for next year. Auditions in San Angelo."

It is estimated that the earth weighs 6 sextillion, 570 quintillion tons.

Perry's History Outlines Free Enterprise

Perry's Home Office in Lufkin, where it had its beginning. Lufkin also houses the Perry's warehouse which contains 150,000 square feet of space. To speed the delivery of merchandise from the warehouse to stores, Perry's maintains and operates a large fleet of trucks!

A small amount of cash, hard work and faith in the future was the beginning of Perry Brothers, Inc. 62 years ago.

The Perry Brothers purchased their first store in 1914, thus beginning a five-brother partnership in a 14x70 foot "nickel" store in Center, Texas.

The following year a store in Lufkin was purchased and in the years immediately following, stores were opened in Carthage, Nacogdoches and Navasota. The first goal of the brothers was to have a store for each. The goal was reached in 1918 and the company operated as a partnership. The company was incorporated in 1924 with general offices in Lufkin and a total of 12 stores in operation.

From the start, Perry Brothers believed their investments in new or additional stores should be made in small towns. Following this policy, early expansion was made throughout East Texas.

The firm survived the Great Depression, World War II, increased taxes on both the State and Federal level and Federal Price Controls.

Perry's expansion program began a new in 1945. It opened new stores in new locations and increased the size of most of its existing stores.

Perry's growth during the 1940's, 1950's and early 1960's was largely in the West Texas area and the Texas and Louisiana Gulf Coast area. During the late 1960's and early 1970's, major emphasis was concentrated on enlargement, modernization and relocation of existing stores, as well as closing some unprofitable units. While expansion has been primarily on an individual store basis, an eight store chain in the Gulf Coast area was purchased in 1965, and the current store count stands at 123 operating units.

BY JOEY SASSO

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT: Word has just reached me from the West Coast that Charlie's top Angel did not appear for a special taping which was to have launched the fall season of the ABC-TV hit series. Bret Harwood, a studio executive, said that the show will go on without Farrah Fawcett-Majors. In fact, he's already testing new talent to play Farrah's younger sister, a new character in the series. "Obviously, Farrah doesn't want to do the series any longer, so we're going ahead without her, that's all," Bret told me. As if he doesn't have enough headaches, with his other series, 'Starsky and Hutch,' it seems likely that he'll have to do without Paul Michael Glasser, who also failed to appear for his taping session. "If this doesn't work out, we'll go ahead with Paul's co-star, David Soul," Bret continued. "No man is the center of the universe. We'll just keep the cameras rolling no matter what happens." Break a leg, Bret. . . Cher was really surprised, and there was one person who was saying "I told you so" soon after Sonny Bono made the announcement that he will wed Susie Cohelo. He happens to be Cher's personal press agent, Richard Grant. "Sonny and Cher never discuss their personal lives with one another," Grant told me, "and I've been telling everybody all along that they would not remarry." . . . David Soul of 'Starsky and Hutch' got into trouble with girl friend Lynne Marta when he told reporters they planned to marry. It's not that Lynne is against the idea, she just wished that David had told her about their marriage plans first. . . Louise Lasser told friends she plans to be on an eastbound plane the day production ends on 'Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman.' She has already shipped her personal belongings to New York, moved out of her rented Malibu house and is camping out in a motel. She'll team with ex-husband Woody Allen in his next, she says. Picture, that is. . . Mighty lucky for David Janssen that he was away in South Africa making a film the other night when his estranged wife Dani and his lady friend, Carol Connors, showed up at the same Hollywood party—and wearing identical dresses besides! . . . While having lunch in the very elegant York River Club Restaurant, Mitzi Gaynor toasted her luncheon companions with Irish Coffee made with Dunphy's Irish Whiskey.

TV BACKSTAGE: The real reason why 'Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman' is being written out of 'Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman' is this: Louise Lasser and Bruce Solomon need more time for their private life. Together. "We're the only two people I know who had to date on their lunch hour," Louise told me. "Bruce and I care very much for each other," Louise admitted. They used to sit holding hands in the commissary of the Hollywood studio where the show was taped. Their feelings were serious, it was apparent. But Louise told friends she was too exhausted even to consider a personal life. She knew she'd have to choose. It was either the show or Bruce. The series will officially end in July. It will be reborn in September as 'Fernwood, U.S.A.' without Mary Hartman and without Louise.

CHANGING CHANNELS: Adrienne Barbeau is quitting the 'Maude' series to pursue a singing career and go on to bigger acting projects. She will be in about five segments on next season's 'Maude' and will then be written out of the series. . . Gabriel Meigar, a 10-year-old, will replace the late Freddie Prinze on next season's 'Chico and the Man' series. Jack Albertson will call him 'Chico,' explaining he calls all Puerto Rican boys Chico. . . Blanca Jagger was seen chug-a-lugging Hennessy V.S.O.P. on a bet with pal Berry Berenson.

Open Letter to Sonora Citizens

To the People of Sonora
I am employed by Perry's variety store chain as a district supervisor. I have just recently spent a little over three weeks in your city, helping to prepare our new store in Sonora.

Now the reason I am writing this to your local paper is that I have in 20 years participated over 30 store openings in different towns. I want to take the time to thank the people of Sonora for their friendliness, co-operation and help in the opening of our store and the acceptance of it.

As I stated above I have helped open stores in numerous towns, and your city rates among the best if not the best, in the cooperation we received. Your eating establishments, we ate at, Commercial cafe, Big Tree Restaurant, Sutton County Steak House, Dairy Mart, Country Fried Chicken, had excellent food. Twin Oaks Motel gave us wonderful services. The Sanitation Dept., Water Dept., Electric Dept., of Sonora gave us super service. The contractor and sub contractors were of the best. Tommy and Tim Thorps, the owners of our new building, are the finest. Last but not least the customers who have shopped with us are among the friendliest I have ever mer.

You have a town to be proud and our store will live up to your expectations.
This is the first time I have ever written a letter of this nature.
