Ding Fling Hosts 400 Plus Guests

More than 400 persons were on hand Saturday night at the 4-H Center to attend Sonora's third annual Ding Fling. Guests were entertained by Alvin Crow and the Pleasant Valley Boys of Austin.

Crow and his band state that the Ding Fling is fast becoming famous as they have met folks across the state who first heard their band here in Sonora.

The Ding Fling is composed of 34 members. This year Sam Dillard, Carole Thorp and Michelle Rousselot served as directors. Invitations and member t-shirts were designed by member Steve Anderson. Committee heads this year were Guy Askew, Tim Thorp, Steve Thorp, Gary Hardgrave, Seco Mayfield, Gil Trainer, and Kami Lawson. Members worked more than four months on dance preparations.

Guests from across Texas as well as California, France and Saudi Arabia were in attendance.

The Ding Fling Club expects to remain an annual event with Alvin Crow and his band as their official entertainment.

Members of the band and the Ding Fling Club were treated to a barbecue supper prior to the dance at the Petroleum Club. Ben Montgomery was their host.

Cheerleaders Attend Camp

Cheerleaders Janice Grider, Gloria Gomez, Janie Gold, Jane Wallace, and Nancy Mooney attended camp June 27-July 1 at McMurry College in Abilene.

Following registration and introduction, instructors demonstrated a few cheers and pom pom routines. Other days consisted of learning twelve cheers, a pom pom routine, gymnastics, and jumps. Also each day squads were evaluated.

Bronco cheerleaders were given a white ribbon the first day for outstanding performance; and a blue ribbon the remaining three days. The blue ribbon was for superior performance.

They also received the highest honor given at a World Cheerleader Council Camp, the Pep Pennant. This pennant was awarded to the squad with the most spirit and best personality. The Sonora cheerleaders received this honor three out of four times.

Youngster Escapes Near Drowning

A young out-of-town lad narrowly escaped drowning last Thursday when he jumped from the low diving board at the City Swimming Pool, into 10 feet of water.

Lifeguard Gary Wuest had been observing the youngster since he entered the pool area and was watching him as he jumped from the board.

Wuest said the youngster came to the top and started fighting the water making Wuest aware he could not swim.

Wuest pulled the lad some 15-20 feet to safety while lifeguard Becky Cavaness and pool manager Oliver Wuest watched from the side, and assisted in pulling him from the pool. The youngster suffered no ill effect from his near fatal accident.

The child's mother was in the dressing room at the time of the incident.

Trustees Open Bids

The board of trustees met in a special meeting Friday, July 9 to open bids on a vocational building. Bids were received from J.D. Burke Construction Company of San Angelo and Falls Company Construction of Corpus Christi. The board accepted the bid of J.D. Burke for $529,380. The other bid was for $530,493.

Construction should begin in about ten days and will provide a new vocational building for distributive education, woodworking, metal shop, building trades, drafting and two additional classrooms.

'77 Bronco Football Schedule Released

Head coach and athletic director Bill Bundy has announced that football practice will begin July 31 with physicals. Equipment will be issued August 3 and two-a-day practice will start August 8.

August 18 and August 25 have been tentatively scheduled for the Bronco's first scrimmages. Both the varsity and junior varsity will scrimmage on these dates.

Bundy stated that he will start off with 28 on the roster of the varsity team and probably some of these boys will play on both the varsity and junior varsity teams.

The 1977 Bronco varsity football schedule is as follows: Sept. 2, Coleman, there; Sept. 9, Ballinger, here; Sept. 16, Mason, here; Sept. 23, Big Lake, there; Sept. 30, Brady, there; Oct. 7, Burnet, here; Oct. 14, open; Oct. 21, Alpine, here; Oct. 28, Kermit, there; Nov. 4, Crane, there; Nov. 11, Ozona, here.

Traffic Safety Program Includes Sutton County

A traffic coordinator to assist a nine-county area will begin work at southwest Texas Junior College during August pending approval by the college board of trustees this month.

Walter W. Stueck, who presently serves as traffic manager for New Braunfels, will work with local governments in the counties of Uvalde, Real, Sutton, Kinney, Dimmit, Val Verde, Maverick, Zavala and Edwards.

The traffic safety program, which is funded by the Texas Office of Traffic Safety, is a new concept being conducted on college campuses throughout the state in an effort to assist local governments in determining traffic problem areas by providing them with technical assistance.

The traffic planner position will be funded for one year with an option to renew the contract and continue the program if a need is established by the local governments who will be assisted.

Stueck, 27, has a bachelor's degree in urban geography from St. Louis University in St. Louis, Mo., and a master's degree in community and regional planning from the University of Southwestern Louisiana.

He is a member of the American Institute of Planners, the American Society of Planning Officials and the Texas Association of Traffic Safety Managers.

Krueger Report

By Cong. Bob Krueger
As you no doubt by now know, I have made a decision to seek statewide office, a decision reached some time ago, and formalized this past week during a July 4 picnic at my home in New Braunfels, Tex.

The decision to make the race for the United States Senate was, in one respect, a natural and easy one.

In another respect, it was the most difficult decision of my life.

It was difficult because during the three years I have been in congress, I have known the greatest joy of my life, being privileged to serve the people with whom I grew up, the people who taught me life, the people who have had such enormous impact on what I believe, what I am.

In finalizing my decision to seek statewide office, I considered many factors, but foremost among those factors was my concern and affection for the people of the 21st District, those of you who sent me to Congress.

I would be less than candid if I did not tell you that some loyal and good friends have told me they wish I would remain as their 21st District representative and, although my decision is now firm, it has been deeply gratifying there are those who think I have served them well enough for them to want me to continue in that capacity.

However, what I have to believe, and what I ask you to understand, is that the people of the 21st District will not be losing a congressman, should my endeavor be successful, as I think it will be, but they will be gaining a U.S. senator. The people of the 21st will not only not be forgotten, but will likely be better served by having a voice in the Senate. Hopefully, all of Texas will be better served.

To the other aspect of my decision, the easier part of my decision: The lesson I have perhaps learned best in Washington is that there exists a vital need for strong and courageous and intelligent leadership. Certainly, many of my colleagues in public life possess these traits. Some do not.

But because Texas is at a crucial point in development, in growth, in potential, I believe it is essential that Texas be represented by a special kind of senator in Washington. Because the state is diverse, the senator must be diverse. Because the state is growing rapidly, the senator must know something about the complexities of growth. Because the state remains a major agricultural one, the senator must understand the uniqueness of an agricultural economy and the needs of rural America. I believe I possess that diversity and I believe I possess it because in serving the people of the 21st. I have been challenged by a congressional geographical makeup that is, indeed, diverse.

In spite of my confidence regarding the endeavor, I've also confronted the fact that this effort will require stamina, much hard work, a new kind of growth, personal and professional. But I have announced early, allowing not only the people of Texas to examine my credentials, but allowing the people of the 21st District substantial time to become acquainted with who might wish to succeed my as 21st District congressman, and by announcing early I hope to be able to explore every portion of this state with a vigor that will be good for me, and for Texas.

But most important, as I move about Texas, will be the constant demand to rise to the challenge I have undertaken. As I do that, foremost in my mind will be what I have learned from you, the people of the 21st, because it is from you that my strength most surely will come.

James Buchanan, the 15th President of the United States, was the only bachelor President, according to World Book Encyclopedia.

Sonora Minister Speaks

When I get a bit complacent and feel that I am a pretty good guy, I find myself being drawn to a statement by the Apostle Paul. Near the end of his life, after he had suffered persecution for his faith, he said "not that I have attained, nor am perfect, but forgetting the things that are past I press onward toward the high calling in Christ Jesus." I am aware that I have not done nearly as much for God's kingdom as had the apostle Paul; I have not suffered for my faith, and have been relatively well rewarded for my work in and through the Church. I suspect that the same is true of most of you who will read this.

If we who call ourselves Christian would spend more time in trying to use wisely the opportunities God gives us for service to others, and less in criticising others who happen to differ with us in the way they look at life, we would have more impact on the world than we now do. It is very easy to criticise, and we can always find something or someone to criticise; after all, there are no perfect people in the world. It is much more challenging, however, to be constructive (and although criticism can on occasions be constructive, usually it is not) and to build up. I hear many people criticise the Church, but most of that criticism comes from those who are not pulling their weight in the work the Church seeks to do. Perhaps it is as the old farmer said; the mule that is pulling is too busy to kick and the mule that is kicking won't pull much.

Ft. Stockton Water Carnival To Be Held July 14, 15, 16

Fort Stockton's annual Water Carnival this year takes the audience on a trip to Hawaii, through the magic of entertainment in a show entitled "Escape to Paradise Isle", directed by Georgianna Lewis. Assistant Director is Kelly Card, and the dates of the show are July 14, 15 and 16.

The 1977 show will be presented in the 41st year following the founding of Water Carnival in 1936. The show has been presented almost continuously since then, although World War II, a short lapse in the early 1960's, and pool repairs in 1974 caused interruptions.

Miss Fort Stockton of 1976, Sandra Magee, will crown her successor on the evening of Saturday, July 16. Performances of the Water Carnival will follow the beauty revue each night, with the evening's activities kicking off at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 14-16.

Elaborate South Sea island scenery is being locally produced by a prop crew headed by Dennis Card. Professional-quality lighting, directed by Sandra Tinkler, is another plus the audience of Water Carnival will enjoy.

Gates will open at 7 p.m. each night of the show, prior to the 8 p.m. beauty pageant each evening.

Tickets are available now, at both Fort Stockton banks and the Chamber of Commerce office. Advance price (good through Thursday at 5 p.m.) is $2 for adults and $1.50 for students through high school. Gate prices are $2.50 for adults and $2 for students.

The annual Water Carnival Parade, scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday, July 16, is being sponsored this year by the Fort Stockton Jaycee-Ettes.

The duration record for walking on hands is 871 miles by Johann Huslinger, who, in 55 daily 10-hour stints averaged 1.58 m.p.h. from Vienna to Paris in 1901!

Use your Refrigerator Wisely...

- ★ Open and close the refrigerator and freezer doors only when necessary. Several items can be removed at once to reduce loss of cold air.
- ★ Freezers and refrigerators operate most efficiently when filled to the correct capacity. Foods should be placed slightly apart on refrigerator shelves for correct circulation.
- ★ Cover all liquids stored in the refrigerator (especially frost-free models). Moisture is drawn into the air from uncovered liquids making the refrigerator work harder.
- ★ Be sure your appliance is standing level so that the door seals properly. By setting a glass of water on the top, you can see if it is level.

GUD Directed To Prepare Rule On Gas Extraction

The three-member Railroad Commission has directed the preparation of a substantive rule by its Gas Utilities Division (GUD) on the treatment to be given transmission company profits generated by the extraction of liquids from natural gas.

Commissioner Jon Newton expressed concern over the fact that the cost of gas which transmission companies pass on to distribution companies is not reduced by the amount of net profit the transmission companies receive from the extraction of liquids.

Newton, Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioner Jim C. Langdon all agreed to have Joseph J. Piotrowski Jr., GUD acting director, prepare the rule that would require all Texas intrastate transmission companies to deduct the net profit from the extraction of liquids from their cost of gas, when that cost of gas is passed on to distribution companies.

"Extraction of liquids reduces the BTU, or energy, content of natural gas so each thousand cubic feet (Mcf) of natural gas from which liquids are extracted has reduced energy content," Newton said.

"I think this in one of the most important issues facing this Commission today," Newton concluded.

Piotrowski said his staff would present the proposed rule to the Commission July 18 to be approved for filing and publication.

He said no comment would be taken on the proposed rule prior to hearing, which Piotrowski expects will run for a week in early September.

Petroleum accounts for nearly two-thirds of the tonnage handled in Texas ports.

Texas Crude Oil Production

Reported and estimated unreported production of Texas crude oil totaled 91,843,135 barrels in April 1977, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division reports.

The preliminary figure compares with final compilations of March 1977 production totaling 95,303,177 barrels and April 1976 production of 95,136,351 barrels.

Reported Texas oil production averaged 3,057,488 barrels daily in April 1977, down from 3,074,296 barrels daily in March 1977.

The April allowable totaled 110,023,058 barrels for the month.

The preliminary April summary indicated Texas oil production was 16.52 percent under the allowable for that month.

RRC To Issue Emergency Order On Gas Proration

The Railroad Commission July 5 directed the preparation and issuance of an emergency order under which the agency can complete a dual mission of increased accuracy in proration of Texas gas production to market demand and reduction in impact of take-or-pay contracts on gas consumers.

Action was taken in the wake of a Travis County district court ruling that the Commission's Feb. 17 interpretive order pertaining to gas market determination and gas well allowable allocation should have been handled as a contested proceeding rather than rulemaking.

Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioner Jon Newton, on the latter's motion, voted for "an appropriate emergency order" to cope with 53rd District Court Judge Herman Jones' rejection of the Commission's interpretive rule. Commissioner Jim C. Langdon opposed the emergency order motion, saying that he felt the district court decision should be appealed.

The Commission directed Special Counsel Rex White and Chief Legal Counsel Fred Young of the Oil and Gas Division to draft the emergency order.

Young and White advised the three commissioners that 90-95 percent of the wells affected by the February order on market determination and proration had been brought under the interpretive rule.

White said the remaining 5 or so percent would be handled under an emergency order.

In taking the emergency order route, "there will be no change in policy or direction" in dealing with gas allowables and take-or-pay situations, White explained.

"The thrust of the (interpretive) order is unchanged," he said.

A Commission spokesman said actions, when taken together, should minimize the effect of take-or-pay contracts on the ratepayer to the extent possible under Railroad Commission jurisdiction.

The February order included the recommendations of an advisory study committee of Commission representatives, producers, pipelines and the public.

It calls for utilization of both producer and purchaser analyses in arriving at actual demand for all gas-producing fields in the state. Ratable take from all wells and fields connected to a pipeline system is prescribed so as to prevent unjust or unreasonable discrimination.

The order set forth a process through which the gap between allowables assigned and actual take could be narrowed so that contractual obligations necessary to producer protection would not be triggered by fictitious producer forecast of demand and thus result in higher allowables than needed to fill actual demand.

Also, the order brought all wells subject to statewide rules under market demand and allowable allocation for the first time. All exceptions to Commission rules which limit production to 25 percent of open flow potential were cancelled.

Lone Star's Intracompany Increase Request Okayed

The Railroad Commission has ordered that Lone Star Gas Co.'s intracompany gate charge, which represents the amount paid by the firm's distribution system to the transmission division, be increased to $1.4883 per Mcf and directed the new rates be effective back to Jan. 9 of this year.

Chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioners Jim C. Langdon and Jon Newton signed the order which also authorizes the gas company to recover by means of a five-cent-per-Mcf surcharge the amounts which would have been collected had the order been entered on Jan. 9, 1977 until the undercollection is recouped.

The unrecovered amount represents uncollected gas costs, less a $.0089 per Mcf spread reduction.

Gas Utilities Division Examiner John R. Hays Jr. said the new gate rate includes a base cost of gas component of $1.1802 and a spread of $.3081 per Mcf.

The base cost of gas established for the company in 1975 had been $.7229 per Mcf with 85 percent of any increases automatically flowed through to the firm's customers while the next spread represents a decrease from the old amount of $.3170 per Mcf.

Hays explained that the new base cost of gas is exclusive of any out-of-period adjustments, which will now be included in the purchased gas adjustment clause subject to the 85 percent pass-through only.

Purpose of the recovery of uncollected gas costs was set out in the order.

"It is the intent of the Commission in setting out this procedure to approximate as closely as possible the situation that would have resulted had this order been entered on Jan. 9, 1977 and had both the spread reduction and the base cost of gas increase been in effect when Jan. 20, 1977 billings commenced.

Production from Texas offshore wells totaled 1,523,000 barrels during 1976: 814,000 from federal leases, 709,000 from state leases.

"To this end, this procedure is intended to enable Lone Star to arrive at the total amount of the undercollection resulting from this order's having been entered more than 60 days from the close of hearings and to effectuate recovery based on the amounts which actually would have been collected through the distribution system under local rates in effect at that time."

Newton asked Hays if the cost of gas figure had been reduced to allow for revenue generated by extraction of liquids and the examiner said no since the attorneys for the cities opposing the increase application did not confront the question at any of the three hearings.

Newton opposed a nine percent interest figure the examiner had suggested be charged on the undercollected amount since the question of revenues from liquids extraction was not addressed and the order was revised to delete the interest provision with concurrence of both Wallace and Langdon.

Hays said the effect on burner tip rates in Texas cities served by Lone Star would be a two to three percent increase and gave as examples 60-cent increases for a 10 Mcf per month customer in Dallas, Fort Worth or Irving.

The company had three requests for interim rate relief denied by the Commission since it filed the rate increase application March 26, 1976.

Company testimony at a Nov. 10, 1976 hearing on the gate rate application showed a loss due to the 85 percent pass through limitation of $12.5 million from July 1, 1975 to March 31, 1976.

Fred Campbell's Wool and Mohair Report

Most of the overseas auctions are closed for a summer break. Closing prices in Australia are about unchanged as compared to a year ago excepting the devaluation which occurred in late November 1976. Comparing prices at recent Australian sales to pre-devaluation prices, we find very little difference.

The same pattern is evident in the U.S. It has been years since we have seen such a flat market. There have been occasional changes in buyers limits for various types, but for the most part they have operated with the same clean limits for a year and a half.

We may look for an improved wool market when: (1) Australia significantly reduces their raw wool stockpile. (2) We see generally improved world economic conditions.

The mohair situation is dormant.

The two limited offerings a week or so ago indicated little current interest in adult mohair. This situation should change when we get into the season and a significant weight of mohair comes on the market. This season appears to be one where producers should take extra effort to keep their clip clear, separate the capes and allow the hair to have at least 4 inches of length before shearing.

ICA Sets Annual Convention

Prominent state and national leaders will headline as guest speakers at the Independent Cattlemen's Association 3rd annual convention in Austin Aug. 4-7, President T.A. Cunningham announced today.

Austin's Mayor Carole McClellan will give the welcome address when the convention officially opens for business Friday, Aug. 5 at 10 a.m. Keynote speaker that morning at 10:30 a.m. will be Gov. Dolph Briscoe, a South Texas rancher as well as the state's top political leader. Briscoe will be joined at the speakers' podium by U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger.

Saturday, Aug. 6 activities include talks by Dick Ray, Vice President of the Independent Food and Energy Producers; Sen.

William N. Patman, Senate agriculture subcommittee chairman; and Rep. Joe Hubenak, Texas House Agriculture and Livestock Committee chairman.

House speaker Bill Clayton will address the convention participants at 11:30 a.m. Saturday.

Convention headquarters are at Austin's Sheraton Crest Inn overlooking the Colorado River. Convention activities will be staged at Municipal Auditorium near the downtown area. Participants are promised a full slate of activities including a reception, a western dance and election of new officers.

Pre-registration will be from 1-10 p.m. at the Sheraton Thursday, Aug. 4. Providing entertainment for the general assembly Friday morning will be the Bastrop High School Band. Austin country western singer Jess DeMaine and his band, Texas Silver, will play for the western dance Friday, Aug. 5.

The convention will end Sunday, Aug. 7 after ICA directors and councilors have met.

Cunningham said that convention speakers will provide an excellent overview of this nation's agricultural policies and he expects hundreds of cattlemen to converge in Austin during the weekend of the convention.

He noted that, "Everyone in any way connected with the Independent Cattlemen's Association and the cattle producing industry in Texas can benefit from the programs on the agenda."

Screwworms In Edwards Co.

The maggots Walker Epperson took from a wound in a goat two miles south of Rocksprings on July 1 proved to be screwworms when they reached the lab July 5.

Dr. M.E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Screwworm Eradication Program, says this is Edwards County's second 1977 screwworm case, the 31st for Texas this year. By July 6 last year Edwards County had recorded 63 cases and Texas 4,666.

Epperson indicates he has had several animals with infested wounds. He credits the wounds to town dogs biting some of his livestock. The sample was taken from a dog bite injury to the shoulder of a goat.

Immediately upon learning of this case, Dr. W.A. Belcher, of the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC), made plans to visit the ranch. He hopes to develop a plan to eradicate native screwworms from the area.

Meadows says fly trapping surveillance work in an area north of Rocksprings has, so far, not detected the presence of any fertile flies. Additional traps will be moved to the area where Epperson collected the sample in an effort to learn the proportion of wild flies to sterile plant reared flies in the area.

A toll free, 1-800-292-5816, telephone line has been installed at Program headquarters. Meadows urges ranchers to submit samples of any worms found in wounds...and to use this phone number to tell eradication officials about the incoming samples.

Comptroller Revising State Revenue Estimate

Comptroller Bob Bullock said July 6 he is revising upwards by $64.1 million his estimate of state revenue for 1978-79, raising the state's total projected income to $16.465 billion.

The $64.1 million increase includes $60 million that will be available for general use and $4 million in earmarked funds.

The additional $60 million in general revenue money means that the Texas Legislature will have $959.8 million with which to work when it convenes in special session Monday, July 11, to write a school finance bill, Bullock noted.

He said that the official document detailing the revenue changes will be ready for distribution to the lawmakers when they return to Austin on Monday.

Legislation enacted earlier by the 65th Legislature and revisions in the estimated cost of the Minimum Foundation School Program and in the amount of investment income from the Permanent School Fund were primarily responsible for the changes in projected revenue, Bullock said.

Bullock noted that he is required by the Constitution to make an official estimate of the state's anticipated income at the beginning of each legislative session. How that money is actually spent is a legislative matter.

Under the state's "pay-as-you-go" constitutional provision, the Legislature cannot spend more than the Comptroller projects will be coming into the treasury, except by a four-fifths vote.

But revenue estimating, Bullock points out, is much like weather forecasting—fraught with uncertainty and influenced by countless variables.

"Everything can point to sunshine but the next minute you're up to your armpits in rain," Bullock said.

"What we have to do in making a revenue estimate is to look at least 24 months into the future, and I can assure you that isn't any easy task in a changing economy," he said.

In addition to the complexities, revenue estimating is a thankless task, the Comptroller noted.

"The minute I issue a revenue estimate, I'm bombarded with calls from people complaining that I should never have said we're going to have more money because the Legislature will only spend it."

"But if I don't I'm not meeting my constitutional obligations."

The rapid growth of the state budget has added a further pitfall by reducing dramatically the margin for error in revenue estimating, Bullock said.

"Ten years ago if we were off a little in our estimate—say two percent—it would have meant a difference of only $88 million."

"If we're off two percent in our forecast for 1978-79, it's going to be a $330 million mistake."

Bullock said that his office has called upon business and industry leaders to assist in compiling the revenue estimate—something that hadn't been done in the past.

"These are some of the best economic minds available, and they have been a tremendous help," Bullock said.

"These figures we are giving the Legislature are not much different than those used by these same businessmen in planning their companies future."

"They are optimistic and we are optimistic," Bullock said.

...COME to the open house at the new HNG offices...top of the hill off U.S. Hwy 277 N. The festivities begin at 3 p.m. today (Tuesday) according to Jerry Gilley to be followed by a barbecue served at 6 p.m. The Chamber of Commerce joins others in our community congratulating HNG and local personnel.. and extending special thanks to them for the many contributions they have made to Sonora and Sutton County!

FROM A TO Z-that's how our membership list has grown in the Chamber organization, as we welcome Jerold R. Zech (our first 'Z') to the group. The Zech family comes from Iowa, and he is maintenance operator at the Western Motel, which was recently purchased by his mother-in-law, Mrs. Geraldine Weingart. Thanks for your support and welcome to Sonora!

QUEEN CONTESTANTS for Sutton County Day will be meeting July 18 (time and place to be designated later) with Herb Jones, who will acquaint them with rules. Sponsoring organizations must be non-profit, and girls are judged by the number of ticket sales to the rodeo turned in by her. This is a good way-judges would have an impossible task choosing from those who will be competing! Some selections include Janice Grider, representing the Chamber office; Jane Wallace, Downtown Lions; Trina Powers, Kappa Gamma Sorority, and Paula Friess, 4-H Club. The Petro-Ettes and St. Ann's Church will also be sponsoring girls.

A FRIENDLY HELLO to the Bobby Huffstutler family who have arrived from Lampasas. He and his wife have two children, a boy six and a girl two..and they need a home. He is with Lone Star Gas, replacing Ronnie Crawford who was transferred to Llano.

SOME OTHER NEEDS.. Cheri Donoho would like to obtain services of a baby sitter, beginning about Sept. 1 for two to three days weekly. Call her at 387-2082, or 7-2659. Mary Lou Skinner, new employee of Twin Oaks Motel, needs an apartment..call her there. The Charles Berry family is arriving from McCamey.. he will be working for Baker Tool Company.

THE SAM ALLISONS have bought a new home in the College Hills Addition in San Angelo; however, Sam reports that he has lived in Sonora too long to be leaving here..he and Nancy will travel from San Angelo to Sonora frequently.

RESERVATIONS are being taken for those who wish to exhibit arts and crafts at the Sutton County day, Aug. 20. Booths and lawnspace will be available on the courthouse square..then there will also be games and food booths. Deadline for reserving space is Aug. 15. Jeanette Sipes is in charge of reservations.

FOUNDATION and plumbing lines are about completed at the location of a taxidermy shop on Hwy. 277 N. General Telephone is extending present office building on Concho Street-about doubling the building size.

HALLIBURTON COMPANY has purchased ten acres from Joe David Ross on the North side of I-10. Land adjoins the airport and extends to Rucker Acme building site. Construction for Halliburton should begin shortly after Jan. 1, according to James Smith. Presently the company is located on W. Crockett and Hwy. 290.. and it is a busy place..background noise when we called Mr. Smith indicated this since there was a constant radio talk and phones ringing.

District Dress Revue July 26

Young men and women from 4-H Clubs throughout Southwest Texas will model their own creations in this year's District 4-H Dress Revue July 26 as they compete for honors and the right to represent District 13 in state competition.

"Fashions With A Future" is the theme of the District 13 event which is set for the Wonderland Shopping Center Town Hall, said Mrs. Gloria Schwarzlose, a district agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Uvalde.

The youths already are winners of county competition. Contestants are judged on their sewing and construction skills, overall appearance, modeling abilities, and their 4-H record books.

The top three seniors will compete in the State 4-H Dress Revue this September in Abilene.

Two junior level contests will be staged at the same time as senior competition, says Mrs. Schwarzlose. These younger classes, ages 9-10 and 11-13 will not compete beyond the district level. The event offers experience and leadership development for them.

Parents, 4-H leaders, and special guests will be on hand for the occasion. The public is invited to the 1:30 p.m. style show and awards presentation.
