Republican John Tedford and Mary Owensby were busy Saturday assisting in the Republican Primary which had a good turnout for Sutton County. They had a total of 29 voters with Sutton Republicans electing Bill Clements as their choice for the Governor's race in the general election; Tom Loeffler as Congressman and John Tower for senator.

Voter Turnout Light... Sutton Goes With Briscoe

Less than half of Sutton County's registered voters turned out Saturday in an all important primary election. 909 Democrats went to the polls and 29 Republicans. Sutton County Republicans did feel this was a good turnout for them.

Although the majority of Texas voters favored John Hill for governor, Sutton County voters stuck with Gov. Dolph Briscoe by a large majority. Briscoe held 519 votes to Hill's 274.

Bob Krueger tallied 635 votes to his opponent's 166 and Bill Hobby carried Sutton with a total of 495 votes in the race for Lt. Governor.

In the popular race for U.S. Representative of the 21st District, Nelson Wolff had 431 votes as opposed to his closest contender, Woodrow Glasscock with 277. A call from Wolff Monday afternoon revealed the latest and final count of votes had him with 50 percent of the votes statewide, thus eliminating a run-off as was first suspected. Wolff told the News that he appreciated the vast support he received in Sutton County.

Senator Pete Snelson, incumbent, was running for re-election to that office, unopposed. Susan Gurley McBee won out over her opponent Marion Tores, by a wide margin 606 to 168.

In local races District Judge Troy Williams, County Judge Web Elliott, District and County Clerk Erma Lee Turner, and County Treasurer Metha Trainer, were all running unopposed.

Bill Wade was re-elected to the office of county commissioner of precinct 2 in an uncontested race.

In Precinct four, Juan Carlos Gonzales lead that race with 135 votes to his opponent's Polo Cervantes, 32 and V.L. Chavez, 90.

In the race for Justice of the Peace, Frances Templeton had 661 votes and Jim Green had 171.

For the pari-mutuel proposition, 455 were for and 251 against. Republicans also held a majority in favor of that proposition.

In the higher interest rate on small loans proposition, 622 were against and 62 for in favor of that proposition. Republicans were also against that proposition.

Broken down in precincts, 143 voted in precinct 1; 170 in precinct 2; 212 in precinct 3-1; 18 in precinct 3-2; and 12 in precinct 3-3. Precinct 4 had a total of 249 voters. 105 persons voted by the absentee method.

Voting in the Democratic Primary Saturday was steady with Vivian Miers, Loma Surber and Edwina Friess serving as election judges for precinct 3 at the Wool House. A total of 909 voters turned out to cast their Democratic ballots.

History Book To Be Discussed Thursday

Mrs. Ben Cusenbary, president of the Sutton County Historical Society, has announced that on Thursday, May 11, Mr. Donald Peters will be in Sonora to speak to the Society at 2:30 p.m. at the bank building. Anyone wishing to discuss problems may come early at 2 p.m. Others interested in the Sutton County History book are invited to attend.

Schalit Arrested In Mississippi

Robert Frederick Schalit, 57, who lists his residence as Caddo Gap, Arkansas, is in Sutton County Jail charged with theft of over $220 but less than $10,000. Bond has been set at $15,000.

Schalit was held in Sardis, Mississippi, where Police Chief Jerry Kemp and Sheriff Bill Webster picked Schalit up and returned him to Sonora after he signed a waiver of extradition from Mississippi.

Kemp stated that his department has been working on the Schalit case since March 7 when he was notified that the subject had been promoting fishing tours to the British Honduras to local citizens and also to two persons in Sterling City, Texas.

One Sonora man booked six trips which were to materialize on March 10 and the other Sonoran book ten trips in April and May.

The trips were sold on specific dates but when one purchaser from Sterling City called Sasha Airlines in New Orleans, La., to confirm plane reservations, he was advised that Fish Hawks International had no reservations and that the airlines had done no business with the company in some time.

Upon investigation Kemp's office found that Schalit had left his offices, located in a motel in New Orleans, and his employees were employed by other persons. Informants revealed that Schalit was seen in several different Texas towns and was still promoting the fishing trips.

Kemp stated that his office is still trying to find out how many additional complaints and warrants have been issued on the subject and that information has come to his attention that police in Monticello, Arkansas want Schalit on theft of property charges.

Four Sonora fishermen told Kemp they had signed with Schalit and had in fact taken the trip in October of last year and at that time it was a seemingly lucrative and legitimate business.

Fish Hawks International, Schalit's business firm, has been listed in several major magazines and newspapers.

Historical Society, Woman's Club, Vie For Jail Building

Six representatives of the Sutton County Historical Society and Mary Adele Balch, representing the Sonora Woman's Club Library, met Monday morning with the County Commissioners to hear ideas on refurbishing the jail building into a joint museum and library.

Mrs. Balch told the Court and Historical Society members that the Library committee had definitely decided to do away with plans for remodeling of the present library facilities due to the exuberant price for such remodeling.

She stated that she, along with her committee, had spoken to an architect that remodels old jail and court house buildings into various facilities.

Members of the historical society, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vander Stucken, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cusenbary, Mrs. Ida Bloodworth, and John Eaton, were opposed to sharing the jail building facilities with the library due to the fact that the society has articles enough to fill up the facilities with little room to spare.

They did air their desire to leave the cell blocks, dominating the top floor, of the building, to be used for display and storage use.

County Judge Web Elliott suggested to the group that since the historical society had previously requested the jail to house their museum, and since the jail building, is itself, a part of Sutton County History, that the library committee pursue plans for a new building.

Commissioners felt that the library should be a new and modern building, if for no other reason, for the protection of books.

Mrs. Balch told the commission that at present many books had become mildewed and ruined due to the condition of their present facilities.

In other action of the court accounts payable were approved as were the jailer's and justice of the peace reports.

Also adopted and approved was the new hunting game proclamation issued by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

County fathers set May 24 as the date of the Board of Equalization meeting. Judge Elliott and Commissioners Bill Wade, Elba Adams, Preston Love and Philip Jacoby, were sworn in by County Clerk Erma Lee Turner, to serve on the board.

Sonora's City Hall will soon have an official look, with a new sign on the front wall. We caught the sign contractor at work Tuesday afternoon as he placed the new letters on the building.

Mrs. Colleen Miller's piano class held its spring recital last Sunday at the United Methodist Church with parents and friends enjoying the performances. Piano students [back row, left to right] are Anna us list some reasons for failure in family relationships.

Some marriages fail because they are based on nothing more than romanticism. If the marriage has no greater foundation than the chemical reaction between two people, it is built on an unstable foundation.

Some fail because one or the other or both refuse to work to achieve success in marriage. Success is not automatic or accidental. It is something that must be worked for.

Some marriages fail because of a poor choice of a companion to begin with. Too many times the one choosing really makes no real evaluation of the other person. Some marriages fail because of a collapse of character on the part of one of both of the parties in the relation-

Graduating Seniors To Be Honored By Presbyterians

The executive officer of the Presbyterian Children's Home, Rev. Ralph Weedon, will be the guest speaker at Sunday's 11 a.m. service, according to Rev. Jim Miles, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

Graduating seniors Becky Cavaness, Donna Gray, and Robin Snodgrass, and students entering high school, James Burnett and Whit Paxton, will be honored on that day.

There will be a family dinner at the church following the worship service.

Presbyterians To Hold Open House

The Church of the Good Shepherd, Presbyterian Church in the United States, cordially invites the citizens of Sonora to share with them in their joy on the completion of the new manse. The occasion will be an open house at the manse next Sunday, May 14, from 3 to 5 p.m.

The manse was constructed by N.R. Improvement of San Angelo according to plans conceived by the members and drawn by Elder Milton Cavaness.

Members of the building committee were Milton Cavaness, Nelson Stubblefield, Susie Rosford, Nelda Mayfield, and Adam Morriss.

Letter To the Editor

Appreciate your coverage, March 22 issue, on old Jackson building getting added to National Register.

Writer of this article gave some good facts, evidence of research, but stuck his neck out in search for a historic "first". However, he dodged responsibility for any error by, "This attractive building is said to have housed several 'firsts' for Sonora..." We wonder just who said this was site of first telephone exchange as we read a "79 years ago" item in that same March 22 issue, of Rust, the telephone man moving his telephone business from Lewenthals to Deer's. By quick calculation 79 years ago would be near 1898, five years before Jackson building was complete.

As for "first" lawyers office-lawyers were here from the beginning. They could hardly wait 13 years for office space in Jackson building. Many of us remember Dr. Craddock's two-story, leaning edifice-offices for lawyers and doctors.

As for housing the first "real" doctor-Dr. H.G. Jones-I have misplaced an article from the Devil confirming him as being the first with a doctor's degree and stating he died in 1897.

We will all be proud of and will appreciate restoration of the building. Let's keep it free from "here-say". Certainly it is the FIRST building in Sonora to be recognized by the National Registry. John Eaton ship. It doesn't happen suddenly. It starts slowly and builds up to an irreversible situation.

Some marriages fail because of a lack of a planned program of activities, acts, routines and too, the planned rearing of children. No unified front in dealing with discipline and training of children. These are some of the reasons for failure. Can you think of several that would contribute to success? "Therefore shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave unto his wife; and they shall be one flesh." Genesis 2:24

Reflections

by Rev. Jim Miles

Most of us live busy, hurried, often confused lives. As a result of the pressures we feel, we often release our frustrations, most of the time without intending to do so, on innocent bystanders.

Failure to speak; curt, short replies; dogmatic unexplained refusals all cut deeply into the one to whom we are speaking.

We then emerge away from the conversation completely oblivious to the damage we have done to the other person.

Their hurt is unnoticed, their mood clouded, their day darkened, and we are to blame.

One of the most beautiful personalities I have known was a Roman Catholic nun assigned to the chaplaincy department of a metropolitan hospital.

I could not help but notice that even when she was very busy, rushing to an important encounter, she always had time for those who wanted to talk with her-the simple, the senile- everyone!

When I asked her about this she replied "I believe in the ministry of the moment. We must minister to the one who is with us at a particular time.

I just look for Christ in each one I meet."

If only we could take her words to heart, then what are now "Close Encounters of the Worst Kind" might become "Close Encounters of the Best Kind."

Prayer: Father, your son our Lord knelt with lepers ate with sinners. Help us to understand that by not having time for our fellow men and women we place ourselves above him. Forgive us and humble us, for we pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

Sonora Minister Speaks

One of my most favorite slogans is found on a bumper sticker for cars. It reads, "HAVE YOU HUGGED YOUR KID TODAY?" It has been correctly stated that our greatest resource in America is children.

But the question must be asked, "Do the children of your home know this?" The Word of God teaches that children are a most precious gift from Him. Gen. 33:5 "And he lifted his eyes and saw the women and the children, and said, 'Who are these with you?' So he said, 'The children whom God has GRACIOUSLY given your servant.'"

Somehow the important matters of life have been turned around in our United States. Children are hardly the priority of many married couples today. Rather we hear the talk that first they wish to fulfill their ambitions before having any children.

If they are going to have any at all, I feel so sorry for anyone having made the decision not to have children. What will happen to them in their old age? Proverbs 17:6 has a powerful message for such a society as our own, "Children's children are the crown of old men; and the glory of children are their fathers."

Fifty years from now who will speak in defense of childless parents, by their own choice, when they shall face extermination by a law of the land called "euthanasia"? Do you doubt the possibility of that?

Who would have thought back in 1960 that his country would have legalized abortion, the murder of unborn children that were not wanted? This certainly does not refer to the mother whose very "life" could have been lost.

It takes a lot of time to HUG YOUR KID in a way that means something. More than any generation before we need to demonstrate just how precious all our children are. I dare say, "How will he or she understand any discipline if DAILY LOVE is not a part of their involvement with you?" Are the priorities of life "family centered"?

More specifically for those with children, is your life "child-centered"? Psalm 127:3 proclaims the very truth of God, "Behold, children are a gift of the LORD; The fruit of the womb is a reward."

Have you had time for the most precious gifts God has bestowed upon the family? If not why not make plans to give them time on a regular basis. "HAVE YOU HUGGED YOUR KID TODAY?" P.S. I mean all children from infants right up thru the teens.

by Shirley K. Hill
Sonora has been visited lately by a plague of moths. In some parts of towns they have taken up residence in homes, including mine. I've sprayed, swatted and shooed these harmless little insects for days and tried in vain to discover their place of entrance.

I've torn up lamp shades and left bug splatters on ceilings, walls and drapes and still they come. What's more interesting than a bug under a lamp shade while you're trying to read...or one swooping down on you while you're stretched out on the couch watching television and resting your eyes?

Oh well, it could be crickets again!

For those of you who missed the band concert Monday night, you really missed a great show by the young people of Sonora.

It was my first time to see our stage band in action, and action they were. They were terrific. In fact all four bands were great.

The new band uniforms are bright and new and really look sharp.

The Youth Center, owned and operated by Herman Moore, is getting a face lift. Workers are busy completing a new overhang in front of the building that really looks good.

Work is progressing daily on the old Mercantile building, located next door. Workmen are now working on rock work on the outside of the building.

The Sutton County Adult Leaders Association and the Sutton County 4-H Club met May 8 at the 4-H Center and elected officers.

Elected to serve as officers in the Adult Leaders Association were president, Preston O. Love Sr., vice-president, Joe Friess; secretary, Edwina Friess; treasurer, Trevlin Luttrell; and reporter, Claire Powers.

Those elected as officers in the 4-H Club were president, Preston O. Love, Jr.; vice president, Paula Friess; secretary, Mark Van Hoozer; reporter, Fran Friess; and parliamentarian, Tammy Van Hoozer.

In other business the adult leaders approved the purchase of several pieces of visual aides equipment for the 4-H. Also, the 4-H'ers elected Tammy Van Hoozer as 4-H Sweetheart and Rex Surber as 4-H Beau for the 1978-79 year.

The Indians and the Astros squared off last week in Little League action with 2d baseman Billy Hoggatt at bat for the Indians with Astros catcher John Ponsetti behind the plate. Umpire Eric Olson calls the pitches.

Rangers and Astros Win

Opening Little League Games

In opening Little League action, the Rangers and the Astros took wins from the Cardinals and the Indians.

In game number one, the Rangers, coached by Bruce Kerbow and Randy Wuest, defeated Harold Miller and Sam Stewart's Cardinals by 16-10 margin. The winning pitcher was Esau Ramirez.

After first inning play, the Rangers led 5-1 on runs by Michael York, Ruben Garza, Jessie Noriega and Ramirez. The Cardinals run was scored by Drew Wallace.

The second inning was scoreless. The Rangers exploded for a four run third inning to lead 9-2. Both teams scored five runs in the final inning. The Ranger bats Jessie Guerra, David Noriega, Abel Sanchez, and R. Garza and Ricky Mesa, prevented a close game as the Cardinals' Wallace, Scott Miller, David Love, R. Wright, and D. Moore, brought the game to 9-11 in the top of the final inning.

Defensively for the Rangers, Mickey Sharp and Guerra had an excellent game as did Cardinals Wallace and Miller.

In game two, the Indians, coached by Jack Duren, Charles Russell and Jackie Sinks, lost to the Astros. Frank Gamboa coaches the Astros. The final tally was 2-15.

Duren cited Jeff Tidwell, catcher; Marney Sorenson, pitcher; and Wayford Tyler, second baseman, as having outstanding games.

Fielding was the strength of the Indians and lack of hitting was the main problem.

Sorenson pitched a beautiful game and did so with a broken finger on his pitching hand. The game was closer until young Sorenson tired and was replaced by Lonnie Blankenship and Larry Smith, both nine year olds.

Duren highly commends Sorenson's courage and competitive spirit to play as well as he did despite his injury. He felt the relief pitchers did well for being as inexperienced as they are.

Sutton County Ranch News

Cattle Producers Watching For Pesty Cattle Heel Fly

Sutton County rancher R.A. Halbert cuts lambs during loading operations at the Halbert Ranch yesterday. Halbert sold and delivered 1,150 ewes to the Montford Packing Co. of Greeley, Colo. for 73.50 per hundred weight.

Cattle producers are on the watch these days for that pesty cattle grub (sometimes called heel fly) and its annoying effects.

Spraying cattle in the spring can be an effective control against the spread of the grub.

The insecticides may be administered as sprays, dips, pour-ons, spot-ons or feed or mineral additives which are distributed through the animal's body by the circulatory system.

Inside the body, systemic insecticides destroy cattle grubs by contact action.

Cattle grubs are the larval stage of heel flies. After spending the winter as pupae in the soil, adult heel flies emerge in the late winter and early spring, when they mate and the females begin to seek cattle on which to deposit eggs.

Cattle may run from the flies or stand in water to protect themselves. Eggs deposited in the hairs hatch into tiny larvae which penetrate the skin and begin to migrate through the body to the esophageal tissues.

They eventually reach the back in late summer, fall or winter.

Grubs form breathing holes in the skin and develop with a "cyst" or warble just under the skin.

Upon reaching maturity a few weeks later, the grubs leave the animal's body and pupate in the soil.

Dow is co-sponsoring the tour with Rushing Sheffield & Co. of San Angelo and West Texas aerial spray applicators of Tordon 225.

In addition to looking at results of spray programs undertaken in previous years, the group will be evaluating conditions for spraying this season, one which promises to be early and short, Beckham said.

Sonora Wool and Mohair Co.
College and Glasscock 387-2543

Glen Fisher's Wool & Mohair Report

The wool market seems to be a little softer the past week for 12 months wools. A sale in Ozona last week produced good prices for the 8 months' lines with the top being near 95 cents ranging down into the low 80's for some lots. Twelve months brought good prices in some instances, but buyer competition was not real strong and some lines brought a little less than could have been expected. This week, 8 months wool sales are being held in Sanderson the 9th, Del Rio Wool and Mohair the 10th, Producers Wool and Mohair the 11th, and Sonora the 12th.

We have sold our graded wools and the prices are very good. The tags have been sold for 45c subject to take-up, skirts brought 75c subject to take-up, and clothing wools brought 91c. We are working the Staple and French lines according to shrink and the prices vary widely. Complete information won't be available for some time yet but so far prices are very near last year's levels and most wools are a little heavier shrinking.

Mohair prices remain strong and contracting for the fall clips is the main topic of conversation right now. Reports indicate that some adult hair has already been contracted.

We offer a full range of insurance coverage for ranchers...

May...National Arthritis Month

May is National Arthritis Month. Medical scientists have developed new treatment programs which work effectively to ease pain and prevent crippling, the Concho Division of the Arthritis Foundation reports. Such programs involve a combination of medication, prescribed exercises, rest, and special techniques for protecting inflamed joints.

The Arthritis Foundation offers a free publication, "Home Care in Arthritis-A Manual for Patients" designed for physicians to give to their patients. Doctors may order copies from the Concho Division of the Foundation, 1959 W. Beauregard, San Angelo, Tx. 76901.

Jeff Doan, Whiz Kids, zips around third base during men's softball league action last week. OFT (Oil Field Trash) third baseman Stanley Thompson gets set for the throw. The Whiz Kids won the contest 16-1.

Second Thoughts

by Tom Driskell
Now that all the "bitchin'" about the ditch is passed, it is still a remote possibility to separate the wheat from the chaff, if, in fact, there is any wheat there at all.
The Panama Canal in the early 1900's was a miracle, but today it is somewhat like grandmother's bustle in our world of bikinis and haltered sunsuits.
Initially the strong point for the canal was it allowed us to exert a presence in two oceans with one navy, a realistic outlook with only emerging naval powers outside Europe.

The modern naval ships cannot pass through the canal, and if they could, given a continuation of present trends, the opposition will have more naval power in one ocean than we have in two.
Can it be kept open? The question is a valid one, all the "hot air" about a reoccupation for defense clause in the treaty notwithstanding.
Our best test of that is a consistency check. Certainly if all submarines can be prevented from entering the segments of two 1000 mile circles centered at each end of the canal, both the US and USSR are wasting billions on missile bearing submarines.

A more logical conclusion would be that a nuclear submarine could launch a missile destroying the canal and leaving sufficient residual radiation to make repairs impossible.
Obviously you cannot count on the canal in an emergency.
The Panamanian operators can hardly be as expensive as our "county club enclave". The valid question, however, is; can they operate it?
The same question was asked of Suez, and Egyptians, certainly not more capable, came through.
The Panama government, unfortunately sees itself as making a "mint" on the operation, and hence the major objection. We should not have to subsidize the operation to give them a profit.
Having visited the Canal Zone twice, with the visits separated by fifteen years, the increase in non-productive supernumeraries observed was quite awesome.
I had always considered the military organization and governmental bureaucracy to be the world's major "deadwood" havens.

Relatively, in the "Zone", I realized that concern for a flea on his front foot had led to failure to detect an oncoming elephant. Yes, travel is educational.
The "bustle" just does not get the job done. Why not a pipeline to transfer oil? If we want a canal-why not dig one for modern ships that does not work like a Chinese puzzle?
The pro and con argument can become protracted, ad infinitum.
Every cloud has a lining, and watching Ronald Reagan on the "tube" adamantly defending canal and status quo positions, one positive deduction can be made.
Asking the speculating whether or not an immediate swing of Reagan and the die-hard right wingers behind the Republican nominee might well have precluded this whole canal argument.
The obvious conclusion is that Reagan and the right-wingers deserve each other, be they Texan or other Republicans. Unfortunately, the canal is not the only thing that is obsolete.
Perhaps it is the system, but only a middle of the road candidate (as it has been so frequently demonstrated) can win in a national election.

Political contributions outside this range are precisely similar to betting on a Ruidoso favorite in this afternoon's race; when that favorite was shot yesterday because of two broken legs.
Judging from those cases in history where either the extreme right, or extreme left came to power; our system's middle of the road bias is a blessing, beyond comparison.

Dependence Placed on Bees

More dependence is being placed on the honeybee these days to pollinate the $50 million crop of cucurbits in Texas. About 79,000 acres are grown annually. They are grown in every county of the state, if not commercially, then in backyard gardens.
Cucurbits...watermelons, cucumbers, cantaloupe, pumpkin, squash and gourd, all belong to the same plant family which absolutely depends on insect help to transfers pollen from male flowers to female flowers, explains

Clint Langford, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
Only female flowers can produce fruit, but to do so each female flower must receive pollen from a male flower. Once transferred, the pollen fertilizes the immature seed causing it to be fertile and grow. Unfertilized fruit abort when viable pollen is not transferred.
"Most cucurbit flowers are open only one day, and since honeybees account for about 85 percent of all flower pollination, the importance of this insect to this plant family is vital," emphasizes Langford.

One strong hive of honeybees is required to pollinate the closer row spacing of cucumbers, squash and cantaloupe. Pumpkin and watermelon may get by with a strong hive per four or five acres. Each open female flower may require five to ten visits by bees to adequately pollinate the flower. Therefore, skimping on the number of bees available to pollinate can affect the potential yield.
"An experienced bee-man will be able to advise a grower on the number and placement of hives for an adequate fruitset," suggests Langford.
"Bee-man can get along without cucurbit farmers, but cucurbit farmers cannot get along without bees."

Burning Their Bridge...1836

TEXAS RECOLLECTED

BURNING THEIR
BRIDGE: 1836

April 21, 1836--the day of the Battle of San Jacinto--found Texans and Mexicans camped opposite each other on a prairie west of the San Jacinto River and south of Buffalo Bayou. The only means by which either army could leave the area in an orderly way was to cross Vince's Bridge, which spanned Vince's Bayou some eight miles to the west of the battleground in the direction of Harrisburg.

The Texans learned on the morning of the battle that additional Mexican troops had crossed this bridge during the night and strengthened the enemy's numbers. Deaf Smith, the former Indian scout, then led a party of six volunteers on a sortie to destroy it. By thus cutting off the means both of retreat and of reinforcement for either army, the Texans hoped to strengthen their own resolution to fight to the death and to dispirit the Mexicans.

One of Deaf Smith's volunteers was Y.P. Alsbury. In 1858 Alsbury wrote an account of the incident which appeared in the Texas Almanac of 1861. This first segment of a two-part series relates the beginning of the adventure.

BURNING THEIR BRIDGE: PART I

"On the morning of the 21st of April, 1836, Captain Carnes' cavalry company, commonly called Deaf Smith's Spy Company, were drawn up in line on the edge of General Houston's position. As well as I recollect, we were between thirty and forty strong. The Mexican cavalry, whom we fought the evening before, at that moment were drawn up in line, on the south of our position, about six hundred yards distant. I think they were from sixty to eighty strong. They seemed in invite us again to combat; but prudence, in my humble opinion, dictated to our leaders a different course than to engage them at that moment. While sitting in our saddles, John Coker, my left file-leader, made the following remark and the suggestions following: "Boys, before many hours, we will have one of the bloodiest fights that ever was fought, and I believe it would be a good plan to go and burn that bridge so as not only to impede that advance of re-enforcements of the enemy, but it will cut off all chance of retreat of either party."

"The proposition was seconded by the whole company, when Deaf Smith proposed to go and see the General, and get his approval to the enterprise. Word for word of what passed between our leaders, I am not able to repeat, except that Smith told us Houston asked him:

"Can you do it without being cut to pieces by the Mexican cavalry?" "Smith said that he replied to Houston: "Give me six men and I will try."

"On Smith's return to our little party, he stopped about the center, facing us, and in the saddle, some questions were asked him, as:

"What did the General say? He made no answer then; but, after surveying us from right to left with an iron-like countenance, he said:

"I want six men. I am going to burn the bridge. I want six men who are willing to follow me through, or perish in the attempt."

"There was silence for several moments, as six of us dropped out of the little line and volunteered to follow our favorite chief. But let me here do justice to the remainder of our companions-in-arms, by saying, and believing what I say, that there were scarcely a man of our company who would not have volunteered to follow Deaf Smith, had each and all been well-mounted... We were compelled to pass within gunshot of the extreme left of the Mexican cavalry, who were drawn out, as stated, with their left reaching within hun-shot of Buffalo Bayou, up which we had to go to reach the bridge, situated some eight or nine miles on the road leading to the Brazos...

"We moved rapidly, till reaching the mouth of the lane, on the north side of which was situated the double log-house before occupied by Mr. Vince, we filed off to the left, so as to avoid an ambuscade, should the enemy be concealed within the dwelling. We threw down the fence where it joined Vince's Bayou, over which the bridge was built. One hundred and fifty yards more, and we were at the bridge, over which Deaf Smith and myself passed, with the view of reconnoitering, leaving the remainder of our party of 'strike fire,' and make the necessary preparations for burning the bridge on our return."

The concluding portion of the series will tell of the burning of the bridge and describe one of Deaf Smith's ruses on the ride back to Houston's camp.

THEN and NOW

THEN: In early America men who kept order in the streets were known as watchmen. A town's citizens were drafted for service just as soldiers were drafted for military duty. Watchmen worked only at night; they spent their days at other employment to support their families. During the daytime there was no protection of any kind for citizens or their property.

Pool Employee Completes School

Mr. James B. Fiveash of Sonora graduated from the POOL WELL SERVICE crew chief school May 5. Fiveash, who works out of the Sonora office, is responsible for the crew which operates Rig 174, a production rig.

Chosen by Pool District and Regional management to attend the intensive two week, 144-hour training program, Fiveash was one of 13 graduates in the 1977 Pool Crew Chief School number VIII.

A combination of classroom lectures, equipment seminars, and manufacturing yard workshops, the crew chief school presents in-depth rig operating and maintenance instruction, downhole tools and technology, introductory geology and reservoir engineering in addition to company procedures and safety programs such as supervisory accident prevention, driver training and American Red Cross first aid course. Instructors in the two-week session of the crew chief school included 17 industrial experts in addition to POOL WELL SERVICE personnel. Fiveash and all crew chiefs in the Technical Training School work in offices of the North American Land Division of POOL WELL SERVICE. Headquartered in San Angelo, Texas, the Division employs more than 1,200 people who provide production rig and drilling services in major U.S. producing basins. The Division owns and operates more than 200 workover and drilling rigs in Texas, California, Colorado, Michigan, Montana, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, and Wyoming.

Energy Board Won't Idly Watch Texas Gas Imported For Inferior Purposes

Railroad Commissioner Jon Newton today served notice that the energy regulatory board on which he serves won't idly watch customer-states use gas imported from Texas for inferior industrial purposes while Texas industries are forced to phase down their utilization of the premium fuel.

Texas Industrial Commission workshop on boiler fuels, new technology and energy conservation, noted that California already is planning "to use the gas we have saved" under boilers in that western state.

He said the Commission's Feb. 6, 1978 order on determining rates of gas production to prevent waste and to protect correlative rights may need further fine-tuning in light of changed market conditions.

rather than producer forecasts, in setting legal rates of gas production, or gas allowables in the vernacular of the oil and gas industry. Aim of the procedural change is to increase the Commission's accuracy in determining gas allowables.

"We cannot allow the State of Texas to be put at a disadvantage because our own conservation measures are more stringent than those mandated by Washington," Newton declared.

"Is it unfair to the people of Texas for the Railroad Commission to mandate a costly change-over to coal or nuclear if the gas is going to be wasted?" the energy regulator maintained. "We cannot allow Texas consumers to make the economic sacrifice necessary to replace existing facilities and then watch the freed gas be piped to California or any other state to be burned under the boilers."

The order puts emphasis on purchaser nominations,

The Legendary John Wayne Stars In "The Shootist," Remains A Giant After Fifty Years Of Making Films

"People," grinned John Wayne, "must think I'm getting old." (He was born May 26, 1907.) The "people" he refers to, of course, are the press. They seemed to come in endless streams to the set of his latest film, "The Shootist," a Dino De Laurentiis presentation of a Frankovich/Self Production, directed by Don Siegel, with screenplay by Miles Hood Swarthout, based on the novel by Glendon Swarthout.

"They used to ask me what I was going to do next," said the Duke. "But now they ask IF I'm going to do any more." Again, the grin. "You think," he said, "they're trying to tell me something?"

John Wayne portrays a legendary gunfighter waging a gallant battle against death in Paramount Pictures' "The Shootist," a Dino De Laurentiis Presentation of a Frankovich/Self Production, a Siegel Film. The screenplay by Miles Hood Swarthout and Scott Hale is based on the novel by Glendon Swarthout. Don Siegel directed, with M. J. Frankovich and William Self producing. In Technicolor.

Nevertheless, there does seem to be a sameness to the queries that come to this man who has been making films for 50 years, has more than 200 to his credit, won an Oscar for "True Grit" in 1969 and has been called a "legend" and "the image of America."

But if the questions are the same, so are the answers. Is this your last film? "Not if I have anything to say about it." Are you planning to retire? "Not as long as I'm healthy and people still go to see my pictures." You lost a lung to cancer 10 years ago and yet you play a man dying of cancer in this picture. Does that mean anything? "Yes. It's a hell of a good role."

After all the films you've made, you certainly can't be working for money? "I made a lot of money and lost most of it to people with sticky fingers and big pockets. Besides, what the hell are you working for?"

What about politics? "They stink and so do some politicians." And so it goes, film after film.

There is one question though, that gives him a kick. "What about directing," it goes, "have you ever thought of that?" "Hell," booms the big man, "I do that all the time."

Texans Warned About President's Program

Railroad Commission Chairman Mack Wallace May 2 warned Texas Congressmen that a refinery subsidy program being prepared by the Carter Administration to reduce energy costs for consumers in the East represents "regional discrimination of the most insidious nature" for Texas consumers.

Wallace dispatched an urgent message this afternoon to each member of the Texas Congressional delegation in Washington D.C. informing them of the harmful effects Carter's proposals would have on ratepayers in Texas and asked for support in blocking the proposals.

The RRC Chairman observed from newspaper reports that the Carter Administration is planning to propose a "complex set of changes in federal energy regulations that could lower energy prices for East Coast consumers by as much as half a billion dollars a year" by increasing price subsidies to eastern refiners and oil importers.

"Who do you think will bear the onerous burden of such subsidization? Western refiners would pay; Texas refiners would pay; and the Texas ratepayer would pay. This appears to be regional discrimination of the most insidious nature," Wallace said in his letters to the Texas Congressmen.

"The administration's latest plan smacks of a type of nepotism on a regional basis to win Eastern support for the administration's beleaguered energy legislation. We are nearing the proverbial straw that breaks the camel's back," said Wallace.

Gov't Boys To Talk Predators May 25

It's by no means too early for producers to begin planning their whereabouts for Thursday May 25. That's the day the government boys will be in San Angelo to talk predators.

The hearing, one of four designed to gain information about the predator problem, is scheduled for Houston Harte Center, Angelo State University May 25. Other sessions will be in Boise, Idaho, Casper, Wyoming, and Washington, D.C. It is all part of an Interior Department reevaluation of predator control and the government's role in the endeavor.

Heading the reevaluation effort is the Interior-appointed Animal Damage Control Policy Study Advisory Committee. (Now you know why they insist on reducing names to initials). The ADCPSAC is made up of government, industry, environmental and academic representatives, and will be charged with interpreting both research and public hearing data; the outcome will supposedly be used to direct and thrust of predator control efforts in the future.

The government says of its program:

"The analysis will produce two products—a report and option paper. The report will bring together, in an analytical framework, relevant information and data relating to the topic as identified in this study plan. (Mammal predation on western livestock) The option paper, derived from the report, will be used as a basic decisionmaking aid at the Secretarial level."

Translated, the latter portion of the statement above means that, if the Interior Secretary hears what he wants to hear, it will be used to justify his doing what he had planned to do in the first place. At least that's the sceptic's way of looking at it, and Interior secretaries the last few years have been very successful at fostering scepticism.

The committee, probably to help generate comment, has been working on a "first draft report" of their suggestions prior to the hearings. The report is to be made available May 5 to interested parties, which should include everyone west of the Mississippi River.

The report will thus be available in plenty of time before the hearings to allow thorough study; reliable accounts indicate that the document may contain some astounding and hair-raising proposals.

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Assn. suggests that all interested parties first write for copies of the first draft report (do it now—don't wait until May 5 and depend on getting it through the mail in time for study), then prepare written testimony for the San Angelo hearing. The association and the entire industry are especially interested in giving the committee factual, non-emotional testimony capable of adequately demonstrating our problems with predators.

MAS-O-LLAN
We are proud to offer this unique development in Mason County between Llano and Mason consisting of 1205 acres of typical "Texas Hill Country" terrain. It fronts on the north bank of the Llano River for a distance of two and one half miles. This particular part of the river is not only beautiful, but affords some of the best fishing on its entire length.
MAS-O-LLAN is smack in the center of an area boasting of probably the heaviest concentration of white tail deer in the State. Other native game and game birds are in abundance.
The owners of MAS-O-LLAN want a development with tracts large enough to afford privacy and utility and enough restrictions to promote pride in the area, but with enough latitude that an owner can do about what he wants with his "little piece of Texas." There are thirty four riverfront tracts between 10 and 11 acres and 10 off-river tracts of approximately 20 acres each. A large tract of 625 acres completes the project.
Prices for the river front tracts average around $17,000.00 per tract and the off-river tracts about $13,000.00. The prices vary with size, but are firm. The 625 acre tract sells for $675.00 per acre. A comparison of the prices on these tracts with those in similar developments will quickly reflect their worth and limit their time of availability.
Terms are a minimum of 10% of the sales price down and owners will finance the balance for a period of ten years.

This property is listed exclusively, with Jim Inks, Realtor.
