Reception Set

A public reception for Sonora's new city manager will be held this Sunday from 3 to 6 p.m., hosted by Dr. and Mrs. David Owensby at their residence, 121 Edgemont. James and Peggy Dover arrived in Sonora last week and Dover assumed duties as city manager. Mrs. Owensby offered an invitation to Sonora residents to take this opportunity to visit informally with the new city manager.

Stop Watering!

Work was planned to begin this morning on a new pump to be installed on City Well Number 4, according to Gene West, City Water Superintendent. Although the well, located behind Cahill Trailer Park, should produce twice the volume of water after the pump installation, the well cannot be used until the work is complete. For this reason West asked that all watering of lawns and excess water usage be curtailed through the weekend.

Sutton County Days Open Friday With Parade, Rodeo

This year's Sutton County Days celebration promises to be the biggest and best of all, with more events and attractions than ever before.

Friday's 4:30 p.m. parade will begin the festivities. The parade will begin on 1st Street by the old gym, head west on Concho, turn north on Main and west again on Water, winding down at the Methodist Church parking lot.

Chief of Police Jerry Kemp will be the parade marshal. Candidates for the 21st Congressional District, Tom Loeffler and Nelson Wolff, will also appear in the parade.

Members of the Sutton County 4-H Club will ride in the parade on horseback.

The five Sutton County Day Queen contestants will also be in the parade. They and their sponsors are Becky Boyd, Garden Club; Marche Lane, Chamber of Commerce; Yolanda Reyna, West Side Lions; Tammy Van Hoozer, 4-H Club; and Judy York, Softball League.

Also making appearances will be the 1977 Sutton County Days Queen Janice Grider and Pam Powers, the 1976 queen.

Tom Glasscock's rodeo clowns, Johnny Gail, Ralph Fisher, and Sparky Sparkaman, with perform their antics throughout the parade route.

Handy Packing of San Angelo will have their covered wagon and mule team as an attraction, and a Sonora Volunteer Fire Department firetruck will be present.

Other commercial and civic entries include Rebel Coating and Machine, Devil's River Rodeo Company, HNG Propane, Bible Welders, Kappa Gamma, the Jaycees and KVRN.

Several other attractions were possible entries, and new entries will be taken through Friday.

The 5th Army Marching Band from Ft. Sam Houston will also appear in the parade and play a short concert afterwards.

A barbecue will be held immediately afterwards, with Joe Haire doing the cooking and Gil Trainer assisting

The menu will include beef brisket, baked beans, potato salad, hot bread and tea. The cost will be $3 a plate.

The rodeo, starting at 8 p.m. both Friday and Saturday nights, should also be the best ever. By presstime over 75 contestants had entered.

Ralph Fisher's pet Oscar, the world's only bullfighting buzzard, should provide the extra thrill, and a special square dancing group is also slated to perform.

Rodeo tickets can be purchased from any of the queen candidates. Prices are $3 for adults and $1 for children.

Bo Hutto and The Texas Pride will provide dance music both nights. Friday night the dance will start at 8:30 p.m. and end at 12 p.m. The Saturday night dance will last from 9 p.m. til 1 a.m.

Admission to the dances is $4 per person, and all proceeds of the Saturday night dance will be donated to the Community Park to buy tables for the dance slab.

Saturday's attractions include a pet show, beard judging contest, performances by the Luckenbach Progressive Jr. High Oompah band, Sutton County Little Miss Contest, a Sonora High School Stage Band performance, and a concert by the Sonora High School Band.

The Arts and Crafts fair should also have more entrants than before with booths housing oil paintings, belts and jewelry, an array of plants, woodwork, needlework, ceramics, handmade clothing, baby things, dolls, homemade bread and candy, leatherwork, watercolors, herb tea, wall hangings and much more.

Contests to be staged during the day include a tricycle race for ages five and under, an egg toss, a three-legged sack race, an unusual brand of water polo put on by the fire department and a chug-a-lug bicycle race.

As usual plenty of food and drink booths will be around to quench the thirsty and hungry.

Sutton County Days should indeed provide enjoyable entertainment for every member of the family.

Johnny Gayle of San Antonio will be one of the clowns performing at the Sutton County Days Rodeo Friday and Saturday Nights. Gayle is classed as a major league clown and has been performing for five years. He has just returned from the All-Star Rodeo in Las Vegas, Nev.

Don Holdridge Joins DRN

Richard Don Holdridge has joined the Devil's River News this week as executive editor, according to an announcement by publisher Wes Burnett.

"We are extremely pleased to have Don on our staff," Burnett comments, "his newspaper experiences and journalism training are valuable additions to our growing newspaper."

Holdridge comes to the Devil's

River News from the First National Bank of Sonora, where he served as a teller.

He is a 1970 honor graduate of DeLeon High School, where he participated in football, basketball, track, band, stage band and choir.

Holdridge is married to the former Kay Kerbow of Sonora and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holdridge of DeLeon. Mrs. Holdridge is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kerbow of Sonora.

Holdridge attended Cisco Jr. College for two years before transferring to Southwest Texas University at San Marcos where he majored in journalism.

While at the university he served as sports editor, photographer, advertising salesman and circulation manager.

He was also a delegate to the Texas Intercollegiate Press Association in 1975.

After college, Holdridge worked for a few months in Austin before moving with his wife to Sonora, joining Dowell.

He is a member of the Sonora Church of Christ.

"Don will help us with a multitude of talents..." Burnett adds, "including advertising sales, news writing, editing, photography, production and distribution."

Burnett also explained that General Manager Shirley Hill, who has served as editor for a number of years, will take on additional administrative duties as well as continuing office management.

"Shirley and I are looking forward to sharing the duties here with Don," Burnett concludes, "we've grown past the point of the two of us being able to do it all."

1900 in Comstock where he attended school. He was a rancher in the eastern part of the Sutton County and served as county commissioner for twenty years. He was a member of the Church of Christ. Mr. Adams married Carmon Warren in Fort Stockton March 23, 1955. Survivors include his wife; two brothers, Leo Adams of Wink and Elba Adams of Sonora; two sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Brite of Del Rio and Mrs. Serena Cash of Alpine; and several neices and nephews. Nephews served as pallbearers.

Second Thoughts

by Tom Driskell

The comedy and pleasure of life is continually rejuvenated by the recurring phenomena; bluebonnets, bitterweed, indignation, and political campaigns coincident with the elasticity of truth. It is also noted that for the seventeenth consecutive year Mrs. (not Ms.) Norma Gabler appeared as a perennial at the Texas School Textbook Review in Austin.

Mrs. Gabler feels that the history books are not at all fair. She feels, according to interviews that too much space is devoted to that twelve year debacle we know as the Vietnam War. She further feels that too little space is devoted to Carry Nations (the hatchet bearing temperance leader) whose principal accomplishment was to provide the capital basis for the evolution of the Mafia from a bunch of little neighborhood societies into a national crime syndicate. She, Carry Nations, foisted on our people one more time, the ill conceived proposition that morality can be legislated, and for Prohibition, unalienably made herself the number one nominee for organized crime's medal of honor. There seems to be a slight divergence of opinion the specific definition of good, not to mention relevance.

Watergate is objected to-yet it is an essential to a history book because it casts a severe shadow over the validity of our past looking down the purity of our protestant noses at oriental corruption. It can happen here-and Korea-gate drove another nail in that coffin. History, should be a relation, in their relevant order, of unpolished facts. The reader should be reasonably provided with a tool to avoid future mistakes. The American Flag, mother, apple pie, and (oops I almost had to give equal time to all cars), just will not get it-we need realism, not propaganda.

Mrs. Gabler objects to the gore and violence in our text books. It is supposed she never saw the Japanese man and his dog etched forever in a concrete wall where his shadow protected the concrete from the heat of a nuclear blast. She never saw the C 141's landing in Alaska every three plus minutes in an endless stream loaded to the hilt with wounded from the Vietnam War-a sacrifice not to the sun god, but to a continuation of our economic boom. It is gory out there, can it in honesty be stated otherwise?

The problems versus achievements brings to mind a statement of Benjamin Franklin, a somewhat uninhibited thinker, which we can modify to elaborate. "If we can prepare our children to recognize and cope with their problems-the achievements will take care of themselves."

It is indeed regrettable that we cannot give the professionals (educators) a straightforward statement of what it desired of their students, and confirm the accomplishment of the objectives by an impartially administered examination. Beyond an input to the objectives, the citizenry should keep its cotton picking hands off of the school systems. This icing on the concept that man is universally educatable is only concealing confirmation of the converse, yet it persists.

Persistence is admirable, a concept I can live with until I remember my persistent athlete's foot. Some of these recurring phenomena must be dispensed with for the realization of social advantage. Yup, that athlete's foot and bitterweed have gotta go.

Reflections

by Rev. Jim Miles

Paul wrote these lines to the Christians at the young church in Rome. "How rich are the depths of God-how deep his wisdom and knowledge-and how impossible to penetrate his motives or understand his methods! Who could ever know the mind of the Lord? Who could ever be his counsellor? Who could ever give him anything or lend him anything? All that exists comes from him; all is by him and for him. To him be glory forever. Amen."

A wise theologian once said "A text without a context is probably a pretext." The above passage is in the context of a large theological treatise which includes such weighty subjects as justification and salvation.

Paul has written this account, and then, looking back at the gaps in his work, sees man's inability to truly "know" God in the complete sense. Perhaps even more important, he recognizes his own limitations.

He therefore concludes the theological discourse with the beautiful hymn to God's mercy and wisdom. His final line in the hymn is the only response he can have-and should be the only response we should have: "To him be glory for ever." It is a worship response. We cannot know God's mind. We cannot understand all that happens. God's mercy and wisdom and knowledge is simply too deep for us to penetrate. Therefore, our response, in faith, is to glorify Him in whom we live and move and have our being.

This for me is so much more fulfilling than to pretend I have all the answers, for I might in vanity and haughtiness come to believe that I actually have them. I can and do wrestle with the complex theological issues of the Bible, but I strive to bow, finally, in humble obedience.

A new shop named "The Old Shop" is opening in Sonora this fall. For many years, this has been a dream of the James Hunt family, and it is finally going to become a reality.

As long as the Hunts lived on the ranch, they did not feel it was feasible to have a shop, but they spent much of their time studying, traveling and buying in preparation for this store.

When they moved to town the idea became a reality, and this fall The Old Shop will fulfill a long dream.

According to Linda Hunt, the shop will have "A Little Bit of Everything Nice", for everyone. "We are putting together the kind of things we love and treasure".

Some of their inventory will be antiques and collectables of all sorts, reproductions, beautiful linens, china, crystal, silver, pewter, cloisonne, brass, copper, baskets, a lot of the Old Chinese blue and white, Babar books and even the lovable Steiff teddy bear.

Famous Amos cookies and Godiva Candy will be something new in Sonora. And for Christmas, many goodies as well as the German wax ornaments and traditional Old World Christmas decorations—plus oven to table ware, old crockery, old molds and many more things too numerous to mention.

The Old Shop will be a residential shop located next to the Hunt's home, and their house will be an integral part of the shop.

At this time, the Hunts are carrying some selections made by Jane Wallace and Wayne Doyle in their home until the couple's wedding on the 16th of September.

Cunningham Open House To Be Held Sunday

An open house reception will be held Sunday, August 27 honoring Mr. and Mrs. A.M. Cunningham on the occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

It was previously reported the open house was held earlier in the month.

Hosting the affair will be the couple's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Cunningham of Santa Barbara, California, their daughter, Rhonda Cunningham; grandson, Kenneth Cunningham and Miss Karen Campbell, all of Midland.

The open house will be held at their home in Brady located at 2002 Stanton Avenue.

Home Demo Club To Meet

The Happy Homemakers Home Demonstration Club will be meeting this Thursday, Aug. 24 at 9:30 a.m.

The meeting will be on quick sewing tips and will be at Mrs. Diane Anderson's home at 315 Wardlaw.

Please Note: The meeting place has been changed from Mrs. Barbara Arendt's home to Mrs. Anderson's.

Texas Agricultural Extension Service programs are open to all regardless of color, sex, creed, or religion.

An Open Letter to the Residents of Sutton County

Kappa Gamma Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, Int'l. wishes to thank the residents and merchants who have so graciously helped our service sorority. Without the support of the community, the contributions and service hours to national and local charities would not be possible. There was a grand total of $5,209.50 donated from this chapter. This includes the $3,215.00 raised for Muscular Dystrophy during the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon. This coming year, we plan to put more of the contributed monies back in to Sutton County.
As some of you know, Kappa Gamma is a young chapter, chartered in Sonora in August of 1976. We wish to share the awards earned by this chapter for the 1977-1978 year at District, State and International levels, because you have supported us so faithfully.
District level: 1st place, outstanding chapter; 1st place, March educational program; 1st place, rush; 2nd place, service hours; 2nd place, service monies; 3rd place, year long educational program; Honorable mention, attendance [District meetings].
State level: 2nd place, outstanding chapter [out of 183 chapters]; Excellence Award, perfect content for our yearbook.
International level: Gold Link Award, [for excellence in educational programs for the year.]
Our main purpose and objective is aid to mankind and the continuance of self-education and knowledge.
Again-a heartfelt and sincere "Thank You," from the members of Kappa Gamma, from all the unfortunate children you have helped, and from the people and other organizations of Sonora who have benefited from your charity.
May our Lord and Savior bless you always.

Broncos To Scrimmage Friday

by Kay Holdridge
The 1978 edition of the Sonora Broncos will get their first taste of action as they travel to Brady for a scrimmage Friday.
The Broncos suffered an embarrassing loss to the Brady squad last year, and the game could prove to be an indicator of what Sonora fans can expect to see from their team this year.
The JV squad will start at 5:30 p.m. with the varsity beginning around 7 p.m.

The Broncos opened practice Aug. 14 with 65 boys out for the team. Twenty-six of those will suit up with the varsity.
Head Coach Jerry Hopkins is training the seven running backs and three quarterbacks.
Senior Benny Granger, junior Kent Cagle and sophomore David Creed are all capable signal callers according to Hopkins.
Bob Snodgrass is coaching both the offensive and defensive line, while Donald Patton handles the defensive backs and receivers.

Roy Evans and Terry Campbell have the junior varsity coaching responsibilities with Evans instructing the backs and Campbell coaching the line.
Hopkins is impressed with the attitude and desire of all the Broncos.
In the intrasquad scrimmage held Saturday morning the Broncos showed enthusiasm throughout the three-squad scrimmage.

"Naturally, the offense is way behind the defense right now," Hopkins said.
The coach explained offensive blocking and play execution just take much longer to develop than defense.
The scrimmage was especially educational to the coaches because they were able to see all of the team members play. The younger Broncos had tro-ble generating any offense which is not at all unusual this early into the year.

Defensively the Broncos, both JV and varsity, showed desire and hard hitting.
The coaches feel the potential for a good year is there.
According to Patton the scrimmage failed to show anything to be particularly elated over, but it did point out desire and potential and how hard the boys were working.

Texas Cities Net $236.4 Million Sales taxes

State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced Tuesday that Texas cities netted a record $236.4 million in sales tax revenues during the 1978 fiscal year, a 14.8 percent increase over the previous budget year.

Bullock said his office today mailed checks totaling $20.1 million to 903 cities as their August share of the local option, one percent sales tax.

The current state budget years ends Aug. 31. Sonora's payment for the month was $5,702.30, a 17.3 percent increase over the same period last year. This brings Sonora's total for the year to $91,952.40, a four percent jump from the $86,929.28 received a year ago.

Neighboring Eldorado experienced an even bigger percentage increase, collecting $3,088.82 as compared to $1,565.82 for the same period last year. Their $26,414.47 total for the year is a whopping 83 percent leap from last year's total.

This increase is a definite indicator of the continual economic growth of the area.

The city sales tax is collected by merchants along with the state sales tax and rebated monthly to the cities in which it was collected by the Comptroller's Office.

The City of Houston recorded the biggest percentage increase in sales tax collections among the state's larger cities with revenues up 18 percent for the year.

Houston's total for the year was $49.3 million.

Dallas recorded a nine percent increase for the year, with collections of $27.7 million. San Antonio received $13.6 million, a 10 percent hike, and revenues for Fort Worth totaled $9.8 million, up 13 percent.

Swine Fever Now U.S. Threat

African Swine Fever, probably the most deadly of all hog diseases, is rapidly spreading through the western hemisphere and is posing a serious threat to swine in the United States. Clint Langford, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says each livestock producer can help prevent the spread of the disease should an outbreak occur in this country.

The disease was reported in Brazil in early June and one month later had spread to the Dominican Republic, which is less than 100 miles from Puerto Rico.

Clint describes African Swine Fever (ASF) as a virus disease which spreads rapidly within a herd, killing most of the swine. Some types may have a lower mortality rate, allowing some pigs to survive and spread the disease.

Since rapid diagnosis is the key to halting the spread of diseases, any disease causing swine to die rapidly should be reported immediately to a veterinarian. The Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic lab has trained personnel to diagnose ASF, hog cholera and other swine and livestock diseases.

Federal authorities are responsible for preventing the entrance of exotic animal diseases into the United States, but vigilant producers can provide valuable assistance through prompt reporting, contends Langford.

What about the spread of ASF?

Since infected uncooked pork scraps in garbage can transmit the virus, the spread of ASF into Brazil and the Dominican Republic was probably by infected pork scraps fed to swine, usually near an airport or seaport.

Along with thoroughly cooking all garbage fed to swine, Clint recommends that producers watch swine closely on a daily basis for any abnormal conditions. Hogs may die in four to seven days after showing a fever.

Halbert Honored

Sutton County rancher and long-time polled hereford breeder R.M. Halbert will be inducted into the American Cattle Breeders' Hall of Fame during ceremonies Saturday.

Halbert is among 40 to be honored at the new facility in Christoval.

Halbert has more than 50 years ranching and is one of the pioneers in polled herefords and has been the owner of several champion bulls.

Glen Fisher's Wool and Mohair Report

The mohair market opened up very actively last week with several sales held and prices generally higher for all classes.

We had a sale of about 90,000 last Wednesday followed by a smaller sale in Eldorado also on Wednesday, one in San Angelo Thursday, and Rocksprings Friday.

Fall adult brought 4.728 to 4.85 here with yearling bringing 5.088 to 6.088. A small volume of kid hair went at 7.222 and some tops or capes surprisingly brought 4.85.

Prices at the other sales were very closely aligned with ours except at Rocksprings where the market was up a little. Kid hair at Rocksprings was 7.38 and yearling up to 6.25.

The first three sales produced strong bids mainly from 2 buyers, but a third buyer entered the picture Friday in Rocksprings resulting in the higher prices there. Demand is still strong and I anticipate most warehouses moving their hair quickly at these price levels.

Much of the trade is awaiting the first sale in South Africa on September 5th.

'78 Hunting Prospects Not Bright

Prospects for the 1978-1979 hunting season are not bright. A five county survey made by Soil Conservation Service Biologists Frank Sprague of Temple and Willard Richter of San Angelo found ranges and wildlife suffering from the droughty conditions of the past 1 1/2 years.

Deer reproduction appeared to be normal with the appearance of a good fawn crop on the ground in May and June. Survival of fawns depends largely on the doe's ability to furnish enough milk to carry the fawns for approximately 90 days until they are weaned. The doe's milk production depends entirely on the availability of green forbs and tender browse plants. Due to the drought, forb production this spring was 80-90% below normal. This will have a severe impact on the survival of the 1978 fawn crop.

The reproduction of ground nesters such as turkey and quail was also severely reduced by the drought conditions. High temperatures and extremely dry conditions are detrimental to ground nesters.

Many paired birds were observed during the survey, however, very few coveys of young birds were seen.

Coveys that were observed averaged 2 to 5 chicks when 10 to 15 is normal.

Recent rain came too late for the deer and turkeys, however the improved moisture conditions may induce some quail pairs to attempt a late hatch.

On deer ranges where an overpopulation exists, die-offs during the late summer and late winter are nature's way of reducing the population to the ranges carrying capacity.

Too often land owners overreact to die-offs by reducing the hunting pressure or not hunting at all for one or two seasons. In two years the deer herd can again increase to an overpopulation, setting up the conditions for another die-off. Wildlife die-offs are a waste of renewable resources.

Harvest of deer in reasonable numbers during times of drought is a good management tool in several respects. It will reduce the pressure on the forage resources which in turn leaves more food and cover for the remaining population and reducing the numbers subject to die-off.

Secondly, it will keep a population more in balance with the ranges ability to produce food and cover for that population.

Small game species such as quail are subjected to an annual overwinter mortality factor of 75 to 80% of the fall population. Drought conditions and hunting pressures have very little effect on this annual phenomenon.

Low hunter success during the coming bird season will be the most immediate effect of the drought as far as quail hunters are concerned.

Hunter success and the quality of the game as antler size and body condition of the wildlife will be somewhat below average for the 1978-1979 hunting season. Business as usual should be the byword for the 1978 hunter and land owner.

Harvest by a hunter is more humane than a slow death by starvation.

Crops, Livestock Suffer Heavy Flood Damage

Flooding and the accompanying destruction of lives and property was by far the overwhelming interest of Southwest Texans last week with crop and livestock interests sustaining their share of the havoc.

"This was the most destructive flooding of an area I have ever seen," said Werner Lindig, Bandera County Extension Agent. "Losses in human lives, homes, businesses, livestock and crops are almost overwhelming."

"Erosion was severe in the path of the water with many old cypress trees being swept away. Old timer's tell me the flood of 1900 was much lower, judging from the marks on the cypress trees. The river was a mile wide in some areas where it could spread out.

"It is impossible to estimate total losses," Lindig said. "It will run into the millions. The Medina River will never be the same again in my lifetime or the next generation. The sight is depressing."

In Kerr County where extreme flooding from almost 25 inches of rain also took place, Extension Agent Dwight Harkey estimated at week's end that 85 per cent of the county's barley and corn for grain crops were lost in the rain and flooding.

Cattle Breeder's Hall of Fame To Open

The opening of the Cattle Breeder's Hall of Fame in Christoval has been set for Saturday, August 26.

The opening will begin at 10 a.m., with fellowship. Lunch will follow at noon. Representative Tom Massey will present plaques to those being inducted into the Hall of Fame at 1:30 p.m., and Speaker of the House Bill Clayton will address the group at 2 p.m.

52 persons will be present to be inducted, along with invited guests and supporters of the cattle industry. Those inducted into the Hall of Fame were instrumental in the growth of the industry. Seven of the cattle industry supporters will be recognized during the ceremonies.

Those at the opening will get a chance to see the inside of the newly opened museum which will feature items used by ranchers as they opened the western frontier.

Holvey Enochs, national chairman of the hall, stated that the museum does not have all the exhibits it expects to receive display, but planners are expecting more donations.

After the hall opening, the museum will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the public.

Each year, the hall will add one man per breed of cattle per state to its list of members.

Historical Book Offers Special Tribute Pages

Special pages are available for purchase for inclusion in the Sutton County History Book. These pages include memorials, tributes, and histories of businesses, churches, and other organizations. A fee is assessed for these pages. For example, 1/4 page is $45.00; 1/2 page is $80.00; and a full page is $150.00. 1/4 page can contain up to 325 words; 1/2 page can contain up to 650 words; and a full page can contain up to 1300 words of copy. For each photo submitted for a special page, approximately 75 words would need to be deducted from these figures. If you desire, a special page can be made up entirely of photos. 1/4 page can accommodate 2

A memorial page is a wonderful way of honoring a deceased loved one. It enables you to tell in words and pictures about that person and let others know about them as well.

A tribute is a unique way of letting that extra special relative or friend know how you feel about them. So many times, it is difficult to tell someone how much they mean to you. A tribute page lets you do so in a very special way.

Businesses, churches, and other organizations can tell their histories with words and pictures also. Whether they have been established in the county for quite some time or are relatively new to the county, their history is important. Every business, church, or other organization in the county has contributed in some way to its growth and success. No advertising copy can or will be accepted.

For more information on these special pages, please contact the Sutton County Historical Society, P.O. Box 1145, Sonora, Texas 76950, or call Alice Hardy at 387-2781, Mable VanderStucken at 387-3195, Velma Hunt at 387-2103, or Harva Cooper at 387-2582.

Girl Scouts Need Leaders

The Girl Scouting Program will be starting soon in Sonora and leaders and adult involvement is desperately needed.

In last year's program there were 123 girls involved and 29 adults who served as leaders, assistant leaders and involved parents.

The job of scout leader takes one hour a week meeting time and one neighborhood meeting each month. A member of the El Camino Girl Scout Council will train anyone who might be interested in the program.

Nine troops of scouts were in the program last year. Some of the leaders have either quit or moved away and the program now needs six troop leaders and if the program increases, more may be needed.

Marlene Evans is acting as troop organizer in Sonora. A meeting will be held Thursday, August 24 at 9:30 a.m., at the Girl Scout House. Anyone interested in becoming a leader may attend the meeting or call Mrs. Evans at 387-2110.

Parents who do not have the time to devote as a leader are needed as troop committee members to serve on telephone committees, baby sit the leader's children, and provide transportation on field and camping trips.

Working parents are also needed to offer tours of their businesses or speak to Scouts on their business, or to teach hobbies.

Troop sponsors are also needed. The Downtown Lions Club provides most things needed by local scout troops but other clubs or organizations are needed to donate money for dues, camp fees, uniforms, books and to volunteer services.
