Sutton County Days Bigger Than Ever

Sutton County Days, sponsored, engineered and coordinated by the Sonora Jaycees was a big success. There was something for everyone.

For the animal lover, there was a pet show with many species of animals entered. Some unusual entries were Cody Arendt's horny toad, Claylene Stewart's hermit crab, Jesse Lynch's hamster, Cindy Doran's fish and Betsy Knight's crawdads, Lenny and Squiggy. There were all sizes, shapes and colors of the canine and feline species from Jason Donaldson's great dane to Mike McBride's miniature dachshund. Every pet entered in the show won a prize ribbon.

For the food lover, there were many different varieties of things to eat. Ice cream, cakes, cookies, hot dogs, sausage-on-a-stick and many other taste-tempters were bought by those who enjoyed the Saturday morning festivities.

The art lovers must have been amazed by all the beautiful hand-crafted items on display. To skim lightly over the surface of the items on sale, many will be overlooked, all were beautiful. Hand-carved wooden signs, oils, and handpainted Brazilian agate, ceramic Christmas ornaments, crocheted pot holders, clocks and pictures made from cross-sections of trees, ragdolls, jewelry, plants, and portraits were among those items sold by craftsmen from all over the state. The arts and crafts fair at Sutton County Days has grown into a large, thriving event.

For the antique car enthusiast, there were several heirloom models on display. Bill Stewart's '49 Cadillac, Lillian Galbreath's '56 GMC, Bill Webster's '50 Chevy and James Benson's '38 Chevy were shown off by their owners. Also shown were a '38 Ford P.U. by Freddy Benson, a '56 Chevy 2-door by James Benson, and a 1940 Ford Fire Truck by the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department.

The tricycle race was the main event for the youngsters, and there were some patient adults keeping them on the starting line. For some reason, the kids wanted to race to the end of the block, not just to the finish line. Will L. Matthews, Rhett

Johnson, Matt Hazelton and Lee Jay Bateman all made fast races on their modified three-wheelers.

The Sutton County Days Rodeo, which expanded from two evenings to three this year, was a huge success. The clowns were hilarious, the cowboys and cowgirls were excellent and the bulls were ferocious. The Sutton County Rodeo Queen, Donna Kellogg, was named Saturday night. Amanda Kinchloe Sutton County's Little Miss for 1979.

The music lover was soothed by the musical ability displayed by both the Lockenbach Progressive Jr. High Oompah Band and the Sonora High School Band. Billy Green and the Texas Greats provided music for dancers at the Community Park on both Friday and Saturday nights.

It seems like everyone in or around Sonora attended and enjoyed all of the events at Sutton County Days. The rain that invariably falls during the festivities couldn't dampen the spirits or spoil the fun of those attending.

Glen Fisher, President of The Chamber Of Commerce

Announces Formation Of The Chamber's Red Carpet Committee

Glen Fisher, President, Sonora Chamber of Commerce, announced that a new committee has been formed.

Red Carpet committee members met Monday at 10 a.m. in the Presbyterian Church. The following officers were elected: President, Debbie Metzger; Vice President, Shelley Chaney; Treasurer/Secretary, Linda Young.

RCC members set Thursday (fourth) at 10 a.m. as their monthly meeting date. Newcomer's Coffee will be held once monthly.

The following chairmen and committee members were selected: Telephone Committee: Chairman Peggy Dover and members Frances Ross, Olivia Hernandez, Sheryl Dooley, and Grace Allen; Newcomer's Coffee: Chairman Harva Cooper and members Ruth Shurley; Clerical Committee: Chairman Linda Young, Shelley Chaney; Scrapbook Committee: No chairman selected, but member Becky Ponsetti; Newcomer's Narrative: Chairman Debbie Metzger; and Talent Show Committee: Chairman Shelley Chaney and members Becky Ponsetti, and Linda Young. Publicity Chairman is Becky Ponsetti.

Debbie Metzger, president, suggested that other committee appointments be postponed, to give others not at meeting a chance to serve on their choice of committees.

Attending the meeting were Lou Thomas, Chamber of Commerce manager, Shelley Chaney, Olivia Hernandez, Debbie Metzger, Becky Ponsetti, Ruth Shurley, Lina Young, Francis Ross, Peggy Dover, Grace Allen.

Tentative date for the Talent Show, presented to offset RCC expenses, was set for Saturday, October 20th.

Board members and newly appointed Honorary Board members will automatically be invited to attend all RCC functions which will include grand openings, greeting dignitaries, and other functions in the city.

Puppy Love. Mike McBride Especially enjoyed showing off his pet at Sutton County Days. He won the Prize for the "Sleekest" Pet in the show.

Commissioners Hold Special Meeting

The Sutton County Commissioners held a special session Tuesday morning to discuss several subjects.

Among the topics of discussion were the proposed budget for 1980 and the tax appraisal district.

A motion was made and passed to join in a tax appraisal district with the city and school. A board of 5 members will be chosen by the Commissioners' Court, the school board and the city council. This tax appraisal board will govern the district. The county government is not at this time required to join in the district, however there is a Constitutional Amendment in the making which will require all counties in the state of Texas to join in tax appraisal districts with their city government and school district.

The commissioners discussed the proposed budget for 1980 in length. Among increases in this year's budget was a ten per cent increase in county employees' salaries. Other increases were noted in fuel and oil costs, the cost of materials, and in employee fringe benefits.

The commissioners will hold budget meetings to iron out all the discrepancies and intend to present the budget by November.

Chamber Of Commerce Moves

Newly elected Glen Fisher, President, Sonora Chamber of Commerce and City Manager Jim Dover announced that the Chamber of Commerce office will be relocated on Friday, August 31 to the lobby in City Hall. The telephone will remain the same, 387-2880 and should be in operation sometime Friday.

Labor Day Weekend Coming Up

Due to the Labor Day weekend, many businesses will be closed

Monday September 3. The banks will take an extra day off as will the chamber of Commerce and the offices of the County, City and State.

Today-Last Day To Pre-Register Students

Any elementary student new to Sonora can go by the elementary school between 9:00 to 12:00 and 1:00 to 3:00 on any of the following days to register:

August 23, 24, 27, 28, 29
Parents of elementary students that were here last year do not need to pre-register.
Parents of new students are reminded to bring immunization records with them.

Kindergarten parents should also bring their child's birth certificate.

Bill Wynne To Build New Homes In Sonora

Wynne, builder of experience, asked how long he'd been in the business, Bill Wynne says, "I guess I was born in it." The son of Lloyd Wynne, well-known San Angelo and West Texas builder began his own contracting career in 1972. Since that time he has built homes and townhouses in Sherwood Terrace, Westgate Park, College Hills South and Southland Park in San Angelo. Most recently he has completed a project of townhouses in Southland Park. A native of San Angelo, Wynne is a graduate of TCU with a degree in Construction Management. Since his entry into the contracting field he has been active in the Home Builders Association and is a past President of the San Angelo Home Builders Association.

New Subdivision In Sonora

The addition of a subdivision of new homes,

Liveoak Valley, to the city of Sonora appeared to be a reality. The announcement was made Monday by Bill Wynne, builder and Charles Graves and Tommy Thorp, developers, that construction by Wynne would commence "in two or three weeks." The subdivision is located off Poplar street, north of IH 10 on property purchased by Houston Natural Gas for the purpose of home building for Sonora residents and subsequently conveyed to Graves and Thorp on the commitment that the tract would be developed. The partnership then planned the subdivision for thirty single-family residences with restrictions to protect the investment of the homeowners. Engineering was done by Roy Coker. Gene Lilly, of Ozona was the contractor for installation of the sewer and water systems. Grading and filling was performed by Jimmy Cahill of Sonora. One-piece rolled curb and gutter was installed by "Square" Sanchez. Wynne, a developer of Southland Park in San Angelo, said he plans to build homes of quality and livability comparable to those he has been building in San Angelo for the past several years. He stated the intention of building speculative homes for sale to the general public, but will welcome the opportunity to build custom homes to the individuals plans and specifications either in Liveoak Valley or elsewhere in Sonora. Wynne announced that he had negotiated an agreement with Heart O' Texas Saving to make loans available to Sonorans who desire long term financing in that subdivision. He explained that Heart O' Texas had applied for permission from the State authorities to open an office in Sonora but was blocked by a protest by Hill Country Saving of Kerrville and by San Angelo Saving. Pending the outcome of a hearing before the Commission, loans will be handled by the San Angelo office of that company. Wynne will be represented by local salespeople in negotiation of sales and assisting in obtaining financing arrangements.

37 Will Die

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, recently estimated that traffic accidents will claim 37 lives in Texas during the Labor Day holiday weekend.

The holiday runs from 6 p.m. Friday, August 31, to midnight Monday, September 3. During the comparable 78 hour period last year, there was a preliminary death count of 45, with late deaths raising the toll to 62.

"Our estimate is lower this year because, due primarily to the supply and cost of fuel, weekend travel is reduced from 1978. But at the same time, we recognize that traffic will probably increase during Labor Day since it is the last holiday weekend of the summer," Speir said.

"We could easily have more deaths than estimated if drivers fail to put safety first. I would appeal to all motorists to save both fuel and lives by observing the 55 mile speed limit, and am hopeful that persons who are drinking will let others do the driving," he noted.

"People should also be aware that many holiday accidents happen close to home. Deaths in many of our cities are up substantially from 1978 levels, and it is possible that the majority of deaths during the Labor Day holiday will result from accidents in urban area," Speir added. To help keep traffic moving safely, DPS and many local law enforcement agencies will be placing special emphasis on traffic enforcement during the Labor Day weekend. All available DPS Troopers will be on duty statewide, and the department will also work with the news media in the "Operation Motorcade" program which seeks to focus public attention on holiday traffic safety problems.

Railroad Commission Chairman Calls For More Unity In Energy Business

Railroad Commission Chairman John Poerner recently appealed for greater unity in the energy business and less regulation of efforts to find and produce more domestic oil, gas and fuel sources.

"If we have ever needed unity in the energy business, we need it now," Poerner told the audience at the Commission's monthly conference for determining Texas' legal rate of oil production for September. The 100 percent market demand production factor, or allowable, was continued for the 31st month without a break.

"Let's go one step further: we need more people in the energy business. More operators, particularly small or independent operators, would boost production throughout our state," he observed.

Poerner, who attended a White House meeting Tuesday, said he returned from "the Washington scene" with one impression: "What this country needs is more people drilling and fewer folks regulating."

Noting that some energy proposals now before Congress would further strain small oil and gas operators, the Texas official warned excessive regulation will drive them out of business. Small operators he emphasized, simply do not have in-house legal and accounting staff to cope with federal regulations or to monitor the flood of new paperwork requirements that pour out of Washington.

"As citizens and consumers, we are best served by a system of government that encourages new investors in the energy business," maintained Poerner. "By bringing in 'new blood' we move away from a monopolistic posture into a free and open market. Competition is the most effective restraint for spiraling prices."

Unity in resolving the nation's energy problem, said Poerner, must embrace all involved—major companies, small operator, landowners, consumers, all the federal regulators and, "yes, even ourselves, the state regulators."

"We must all work together, and I aim to encourage this goal in every way at my command," the Commission chairman asserted.

"The best way I know to get on with the program of unified effort to find and recover more energy in the United States and here in Texas is to make it possible for more of our small and independent operators to drill," he contended.

President Carter's selection of Texas Charles Duncan as the next Secretary of Energy is encouraging, Poerner said.

He expressed "a fervent hope" that Duncan will call on the Railroad Commission for assistance in planning to meet the nation's future energy needs.

"It is entirely possible that the frightening and chaotic situations we have witnessed in recent months were caused, at least in part, by a total lack of meaningful communication between the (federal) Department of energy and the producing states," Poerner observed.

He reiterated his earlier call for the U.S. and Mexico to work together "in the Good Neighbor spirit," in dealing with the giant oil spill from the runaway well in the Mexico's Bay of Campeche.

"It might help us both, and would be far better than efforts toward legal action, or the placing of blame," he maintained.

RRC Approves Disposal Permit

The Railroad Commission recently approved an interim order that permits the Cities Service Co. to continue disposal of produced oilfield brines into Mound Lake in Terry County.

Chairman John H. Poerner and Commissioners James E. (Jim) Nugent Mack Wallace accepted the recommendation of Senior Staff Engineer Willis C. Steed during the weekly conference on oil and Gas Division matters. Steed was a presiding examiner at a public hearing last February on the company's application.

The interim order contains eight terms and conditions:

1) Waters in the lake shall at all times comply with the water quality standards established by the Texas Water Development Board or its successor.

2) Sufficient collecting tanks and skimming pits must be maintained to prevent any oil from entering the lake. Only pits which are absolutely necessary for the proper skimming of oil will be permitted and pits must be maintained so that there is no danger of lateral seepage or overflow at any time.

3) There shall be no discharge of unskimmed salt water, raw crude oil, waste oil, basic sediment and water, or other similar materials into the lake.

4) Samples of discharged brine must be taken at random times each 30 to 40 days from each discharge facility, analyzed by a qualified analyst and a report filed quarterly with the Commission's district office showing the oil content. Oil and grease content of produced salt water discharged into the lake shall not exceed an average of 35 milligrams per liter over any three-month period and shall never exceed 72 milligrams per liter.

5) Total brine discharged into the lake shall not exceed an average of 35 milligrams per liter over any three-month period and shall never exceed 72 milligrams per liter.

5) Total brine discharged into the lake shall not exceed an average of 75,000 barrels per month for any 12-month period.

6) In the event of an upset in disposal operations, the affected facility shall be shut down and the discharging of salt water into the lake discontinued until the upset condition has been corrected.

7) Any upset or unauthorized discharge into the lake shall be reported immediately to the Railroad Commission.

8) Adequate security shall be provided to prevent unauthorized use of discharge facilities or disposal into the lake.

"The Commission is of the opinion that permitting the discharge of produced brines into Mound Lake is necessary to prevent the physical waste of oil and gas and that such discharge can be accomplished without causing pollution by requiring compliance with the water standards established by the Texas Water Development Board," states the interim order.

In their findings of fact, the hearing examiners reported disposal of salt water into Mound Lake (Fusselman) Field, they concluded.

The examiners further reported no other disposal operations are economically feasible in the area.

Petroleum Exposition Billed As "On Shore" Show

International Petroleum Exposition in Tulsa, Oklahoma, billed for the first time as an "onshore" show is expected to be the largest since the 1960's and the event is being turned around from a show that was declining in exhibits and importance to one that should assume the greatest importance of any oil show in the United States, said John M. Houchlin, IPE President and retired Phillips Petroleum Company chairman.

"The reason for this," Mr. Houchlin explained, "is that 65% of the budgets of oil companies for drilling/production activity are onshore; that better than 90% of all U.S. operating drilling rigs are onshore; that better than 90% of the pipeline activity is onshore; and all of the refinery activity is onshore."

"Also, enhanced recovery activity is mainly onshore and will be for the next decade or two."

"And, most of the alternative energy sources will be developed from an onshore angle for the foreseeable future."

"This is not to minimize the importance of offshore activity which has great possibilities for oil and gas reserves that are badly needed, although the cost is greater than onshore activity at the moment and whatever is found offshore in the depths now being worked and in the future from even greater depths will be long range, perhaps 10 years or more down the line and maybe into the year 2,000.

"The IPE found that oil companies were sending in the aggregate different men to offshore and onshore shows.

"Thus, the Tulsa event has a place in the sun and no other existing U.S. oil show has the IPE drawing power which the last few shows has been from 50 states of the Union and over 60 nations of world."

The Tulsa show will have 10 acres of new and improved equipment and services exhibits; plus an Enhanced Recovery Hall of Science; a Symposium of timely topics including an Engineers' Seminar on how to increase through technology man-power-per-hour productivity with William Simon, former Secretary of the Treasury as keynote speaker.

When someone in a car ahead of you slows to turn or prepares to stop, be courteous and pull slightly to the right so the driver behind you can see his brake light.

Broncos Take Bulldogs In Controlled Scrimmage

The Sonora Broncos took on the Brady Bulldogs last Friday night in a controlled scrimmage. The score ended up at one touchdown each but the Broncos had another called back on a penalty.

The Bronco line play looked very good for this early in the year. Offensively, the Broncos looked good overall with good running from Eddie Favilla and Mike Villanueva.

The Bronco touchdown

came on a two yard plunge by quarterback David Creek. Villanueva had carried the ball three times before Creek scored to set up the scoring play.

The second Bronco touchdown came on an eleven yard run by Eddie Favilla, but a penalty nullified it. The Bronco first team drove the ball with ease during their first possession. However, the second team did not control the ball with any consistency.

The first team defense held the Brady running game in check but had some problems with their passing game. The Bulldogs scored their touchdown on an eleven yard pass play.

The Broncos will scrimmage again next Friday night against Eldorado here at the same time. The JV will start at 6:00 p.m. and Varsity at 7:30 p.m.

Trapped Passer. The Sonora Broncos Held a controlled scrimmage last Friday against Brady. Pictured above the Bronco defense had a sack in mind as #74, Hector Samaniego, #52, Cades Pope, and #83, David Reyna closed in on the Bulldog quarterback for the sack. The Broncos will scrimmage Eldorado this Friday with the JV starting at 6:00 p.m. and the Varsity at 7:30 p.m. Season tickets are now on sale. Be sure you get yours to help support this fine Bronco team.

"Crazi Raz" Picks The Winners

Well, its football season again! And, for some reason, during this time of year a person known as "Crazi Raz" seems to appear. That is, I tend to profess a predestined knowledge of the outcome of certain football games. It is so bad that sometimes

I actually wager money on the outcome of certain football games. Fortunately, the wager is never more than 25 cents. But, in an effort to make myself look ridiculous rather than loose money, I'll venture into the world of prognosticators of football games. Incidentally, Darrell Rasberry would like to disavow any connection, responsibility for, or even knowledge of "Crazi Raz."

Let's start off by deciding who will win the various conferences.

District 7-AA. Sonora has the hosses to take it all. The Broncos will take the district title but it'll be a dog fight. Kermit and Ozona will tie for second place and Crane will fall to bottom because of lack of offensive experience.

The Lone Star Conference will be a battle between Abilene Christian's outstanding quarterback, John Mayes will be the difference that over comes Angelo State's super defense. This is really a toss up call but "Crazi Raz" goes with Abilene Christian even though Angelo State will probably have the best defense in the NIAA. The Southwest conference will offer the best over-all balance it's seen ever. There are no less than seven legitimate contenders for the Cotton Bowl game. The only teams in the conference that really do not have a chance are Rice and TCU. But, then these two teams will be much improved and could hurt someone.

"Crazi Raz" sees a tie coming in the SWC with Texas, Texas A&M, and SMU. Second place will see Houston and Baylor fighting for the spot. Arkansas, Texas Tech, TCU, and Rice will round out the conference standings.

"Crazi Raz" has reasoned this out logically because Texas doesn't have an offensive leader, just the best defense in the nation. Texas A&M has Curtis Dickey, Mike Mosley, and a wide open offense, but they'll find a way to blow an outright title. And SMU well they've got the best passing offense in the nation but need a line-backer or two to take the title alone. But the Ponies will need 1,500 yards rushing between two of those super freshmen running backs coming in this year.

Houston and Baylor could win any other conference in the nation except for the PAC-10, Southern Cal will probably take the national title hands down because the SWC teams are going to knock one another off.

Houston also lacks an offensive leader even though they have a super defense. They probably will not lose a game by more than three or four points. Baylor could have the best third place team in the nation. they have some quality players but will not get as a team.

From there Arkansas will be very respectable but are rebuilding and Texas Tech has two great standouts, but it takes eleven and then some.

TCU will not be the door mat it's been in years past, but it takes more than a coach. F.A. Dry is one of the best, but he is still short on material.

Rice may have some luck in the non-conference schedule but there's just too much quality in the conference.

The Pro scene should see the usual teams battling for playoffs. The crystal ball that "Crazi Raz" uses has Dallas and Los Angeles fighting it out for the NFC title. The real battles this year will be in the AFC. With New England and Miami, Houston and Pittsburgh, and Seattle and San Diego all fighting close races in the divisions of the AFC.

Next week the Devil's River News will start the annual Football Contest so that you may pick the winners.
