Court Of Appeals Reverses Lower Court Decision In SISD Case

The United States Court of Appeals, Fifth Circuit, has reversed the decision of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas in the case styled Billy C. and Mary Lynn Gosney V. Sonora Independent School District et al.

The court found that Mary Lynn Gosney received a good faith, unconditional offer of employment, which she refused; therefore, she suffered no injury from the district's policy and lacked standing to bring the suit.

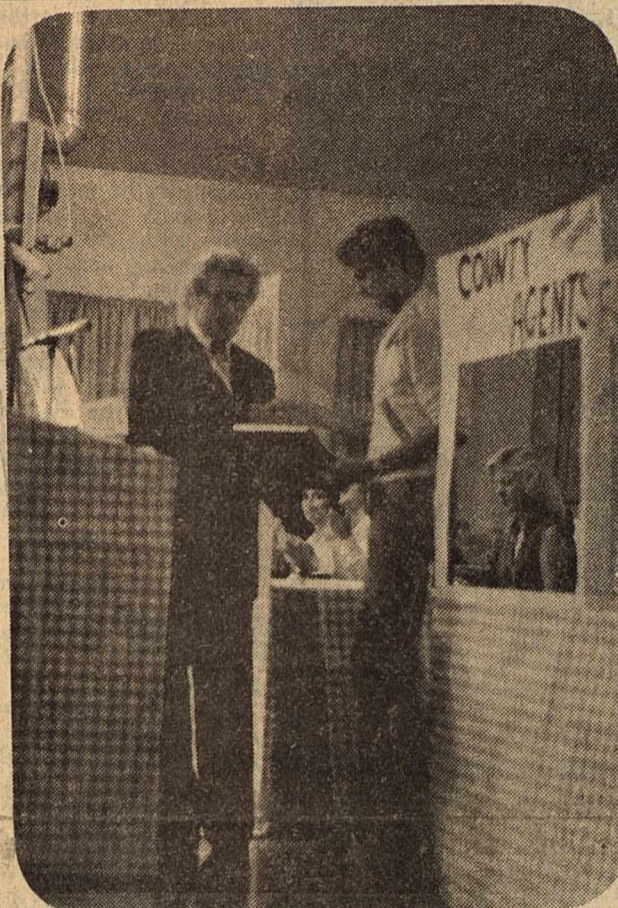

The court held that the district's procedure fully satisfied constitutional requirements for notice and hearing, that the school board was an impartial tribunal, and that the district's no outside employment rule did not violate due process as being facially void for vagueness.

The court said that its decision in the present case does not prevent the school district for uniformly applying its present rule in the future. Nor does it prevent the district from adopting a more flexible rule-one where many teachers apparently live on working ranches-that in clear terms permits a certain amount or kind of outside employment and prohibits all employment not falling within the clearly defined acceptable categories. The efforts of the school district to tackle the complex problems of administering a public school system are entitled to great respect, and the school district has wide latitude in deciding questions of educational policy. The court held today only that in attempting to solve persistent and difficult problems presented by public education the school district cannot apply its rules discriminatorily in violation of the equal protection clause of the fourteenth amendment.

The district has filed a petition for rehearing with the court.

Report From I-27 Committee

In a report to the Devil's River News, Charles Graves, Chairman of the "I-27 Committee" of the Sonora Chamber of Commerce said "The response from our elected officials has been gratifying. Without exception, all have indicated agreement with the basic premises the combined committees from Sonora, Del Rio and Eldorado presented to the Texas Highway Commission. These premises were the need for a north-south highway for West Texas to serve the ever-growing needs of the petroleum industry, better shipping facilities between the sheep and cattle producing areas and the feed grain producing areas of the plains country and the economies of construction and maintenance of a major highway across substantially level ground as opposed to construction through the hard limestone rock hills to be encountered in the other proposed construction routes."

"I think special recognition should be given to Judge Charles Sherrill for the interest he has shown in the long-range future of Sonora and Sutton County. He has spent quite a lot of time and effort on behalf of the community. He presented the case for establishing the terminus of the interconnector route at Sonora before the Highway Commission and has indicated a willingness to make himself available for any further tasks that might be supportive of the community as a whole."

Special thanks by the community should also go to the Petro-ettes. In conversations with several of our elected officials surprise at our admiration of the community solidarity in support shown in the petition signed by nearly a thousand residents of this community was expressed. I believe this element and the letters sent by interested individuals of this and other affected communities have been significant in gaining the interest and attention of these officials and of the Highway Commission.

Special appreciation should also go to Susan McBee, our State Representative, who in addition to expressing the approval of her office has provided staff work and continuing information on the progress of the petition.

Football Contest Has 4 Perfect Entries

The Devil's River News football contest was close this past week. It was the first week that contestants got all games picked right. There were five people who tied with perfect entries. However, only four of the entries were valid because the fifth person failed to identify himself (or herself). The entry blank did not have a name on it. The unsigned entry form would have tied for third place.

The winner, Willene Garlitz of Eldorado, won based on the tie breaker score. Willene's score on the tie-breaker was also perfect. Second place went to Ernest McClelland of Sonora and third place went to Greg Garlitz. Frances West of Sonora also had a perfect entry but lost out on the basis of the tie-breaker.

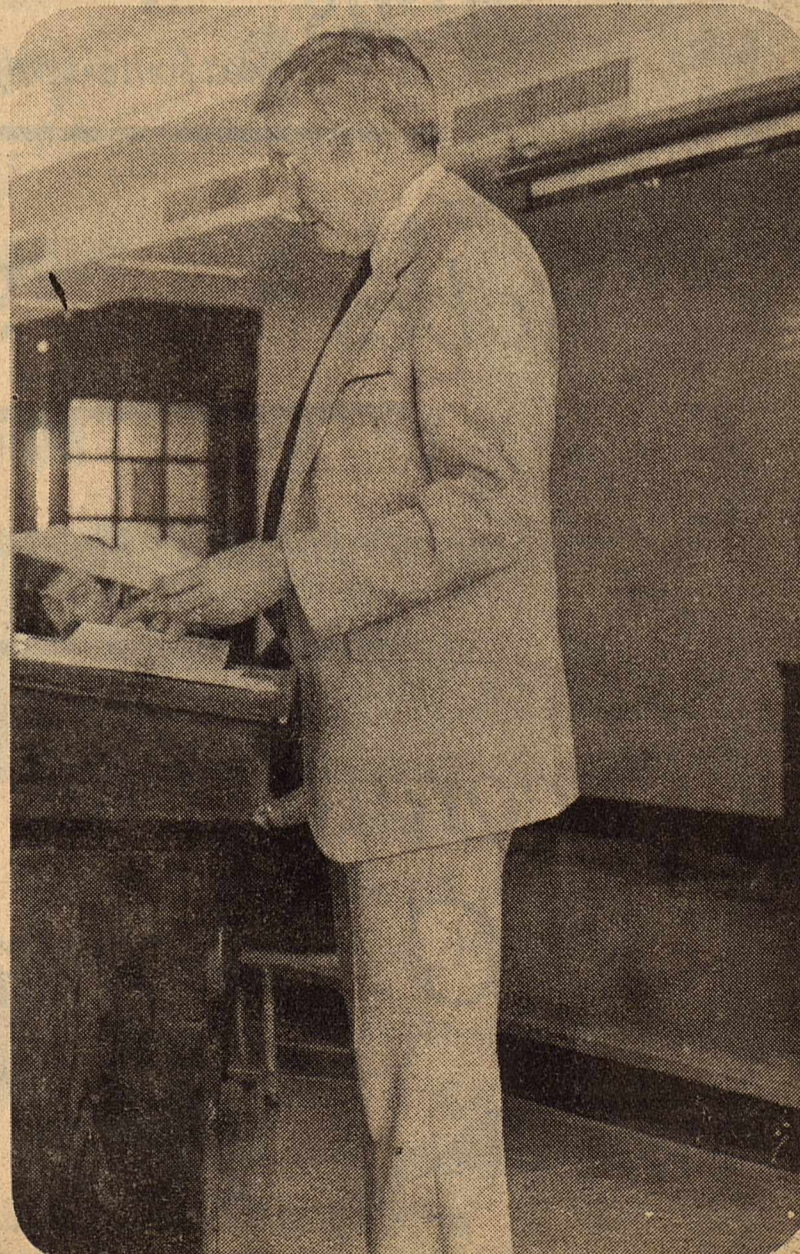

Those contestants missing only one game were Mark Doan, Ernest McClelland, Willene Garlitz, Eugene Reyna, Joe B. Luttrell, Scott Savell, and Emily Elliott. Four of these people missed the Texas game, two missed the TCU game and one missed only the A&M game.

Twenty other contestants missed only two games. The battle for the prize money is getting closer each week, but you never know when it may be your week to win. Be sure to enter this week!

In the corners of each vacant lot, and along the curbs of every street, the leaves of summer huddle and die, whispering of the return of the cold north wind.

Gen. Kearney Speaks To Lions Club

Gen. Lester T. Kearney of San Angelo spoke to the Downtown Lions Club weekly luncheon Tuesday about the SALT Treaty now being considered. Gen. Kearney stressed the point that the SALT Treaty is not the real answer to our defense problems.

In general, Kearney felt that the present treaty gives too many concessions to the Russians and that it is not possible to properly verify compliance to the treaty.

Gen. Kearney said that with the decrease in the U.S. defense capabilities the Soviets have intensified their demands.

Gen. Kearney said also that he feels we need a treaty such as SALT, but that the present treaty is not a good treaty of the United States. Gen. Kearney is pictured at right giving his speech to the Lion's Club.

proposed interconnector route join Interstate Highway 10 at Sonora, Texas.

I can certainly understand your concern in this matter; and in an effort to be of assistance, I am immediately contacting the Texas Highway Department to express my interest in the Sonora connection on your behalf. I will be glad to provide you with any pertinent information that I might receive in response to my inquiry.

Please let me know if I can be of further service at this time.

GOVERNOR WM. P. CLEMENTS, JR.: The additional information and attachments you furnished regarding petitions that have been submitted to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation are appreciated. I feel sure that the Department will give your views serious consideration.

The Department is still conducting preliminary investigations on a number of routes. It is my understanding that several other communities and groups have also expressed an interest in obtaining the location of the highway through their area. Therefore, the Department is looking carefully at area-wide transportation needs to insure appropriate consideration of all feasible routes.

Your interest in the development of a highway to serve traffic traveling between Lubbock and I.H. 10 is appreciated. I anticipate that the Highway and Public Transportation Commission will make a public announcement concerning the routing for this important highway as soon as departmental investigations have advanced to the stage that will permit a decision to be made.

STATE SENATOR W.E. (PETE) SNELSON: Thank you so much for your letter and various materials directed to the State Highway Commission as regards the terminus of the I-10/I-27 interconnector highway.

You and the people of Sonora are to be commended and congratulated for your very thorough work on this project. I wish you much good luck. Please know that I greatly appreciated your supplying the materials to me.

RRC COMMISSIONER JAMES E. (JIM) NUGENT: I am in receipt of your letter and enclosures concerning the routing of the I-27 and I-10 interconnector.

I have reviewed your information and the impressive public support demonstrated on behalf of a route through Sonora. As a member of the Railroad Commission, I have no decision-making authority in this matter, but I have taken the liberty of forwarding your letter and enclosures to Representative Don Henderson, Chairman of the House Committee on Transportation.

If I may be of assistance on any future matter, please feel free to call on me.

B. L. DeBERRY, ENGINEER - DIRECTOR, STATE DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS AND PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION: The commission has directed our staff to take under advisement the comments and statements submitted by your delegation during the hearing. Several delegations have appeared before the Commission regarding a route for the proposed Primary Connector Highway and we are continuing our consideration of all the information received. After our staff has completed their review of this material and reported back to the Commission you will be advised at such time as a decision is reached by the Commission regarding this matter.

The Commission wished to thank you for the able manner in which your presentation was made and for your concern and interest in the transportation system of Texas.

RAY BARNHART, COMMISSIONER, STATE DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS AND PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION: You and your associates have obviously made a thorough and thoughtful analysis of the route you advocate. The benefits of this routing, not only to the communities you represent but to the state and taxpayers as well, warrant serious consideration. You offer some telling arguments.

As a new Member of the Highway and Public Transportation Commission, however, I must add that I have not yet had the opportunity to evaluate proposals regarding alternate routings.

Let me assure you that the many factors you analyzed will be applied to every proposal, and will significantly influence my decision.

Aides to Congressman Tom Loeffler have indicated his continuing interest in the project and indicated that a formal statement would be forthcoming at a later date. Graves, as Chairman of the committee, expressed his appreciation of the solid support of the effort on the part of the citizens of Sutton County, and his belief that the desires of this community are being recognized and acted on by our elected officials.

Girl Scouts Attend Camp

Sonora Senior and cadette level Girl Scouts started the new year by attending District IV Camp-aree for two days at Camp Jo Jan Van this past weekend. The Junior level was unable to attend due to last minute transportation problems.

The Senior level (grades 10, 11, and 12) and the Cadette level (grades 7, 8 and 9) are newly organized troops for Sonora. These scouts enjoy hiking, mountain climbing, swimming, camping and other multi-scout activities.

Their goals are to bring good clean fun and healthy new experiences to all active Sonora Girl Scouts. The program has many challenges for each girl regardless of her interests and talents.

These two levels are registering girls now. For a year of fun, learning, and sharing, join the Girl Scouts.

Every interested girl should contact a girl scout or Marlene Evans at 387-2110 for more information.

Chamber Of Commerce News

An article in the September-October issue of "This is West Texas" informed us that the purpose of the Texas Industrial Commission is to promote business and industrial growth in the state. The Commission operates within two broad areas: attracting new business and industry to Texas and provides assistance to firms already established in the state - same objectives are espoused by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The article pointed out an interesting item - of the twelve (12) commissioners from TIC, five (5) are from West Texas - almost 50% of the Commission. The are James Hunt of Sonora; James H. Simms, Amarillo; Sidney M. Wieser, Lampasas; Zack Burkett, Graham; and Ray Clymer, Wichita Falls, with each representing a particular facet of industry.

Debbie Metzger, President, Red Carpet Committee announced that Mrs. Jerry L. (Nancy) Johnson has been appointed to serve on the RCC.

Shelley Chaney reminds all contestants for the "Saturday Night Live In Sonora" to be held October 20 at 7 p.m. at the elementary auditorium to be at rehearsal at the auditorium on Thursday evening from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. The Talent Show is being sponsored by the Red Carpet Committee and price of admittance is $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children twelve and under.

Larry Kirby Wins Fight

Larry Kirby of Sonora fought Friday night at the Southside Recreational Center in San Angelo against Emmett Ringer, 170 lbs, from Brownwood.

Kirby paced the club with the only TKO victory of the evening.

The article read that the objective of the Industrial Development Department is to "Match up" the need of expanding business and

Around The Town

By Teresa Stephens
 Sonora seems to be changing every day. It is growing, expanding, and "reaching for the sky." There is so much going on "Around the Town", that it is virtually impossible for one or even two people to cover the whole scope of activities that keep the city buzzing from sunup to sundown. So, here I go again...If you have any news about what's going on around the town please call the news office at 387-2507 and ask for Teresa.

 We are also trying to get a calendar together for all the events and club meetings that take place. It is not near complete so if you feel left out just give us a call or come by and let us know the date, time and name of the club or event, and we will publish it under "Coming Events" to let everyone know what is going on. Thanks.

Visitors

Eric Lilly visited his parents and friends this weekend. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. K.L.Lilly. Eric is freshman at ASU this year.

First Newcomer's Coffee Held

The first Newcomer's Coffee given by the Red Carpet Committee, Sonora Chamber of Commerce was held Saturday from 10:00 a.m. until 12 noon at the home of Mrs. Ruth Shurley on Highway 277. The glassed-in patio was a perfect setting and guests feasted on sausage rolls, cheese puffs, sweet rolls, cheese roll and crackers, as well as coffee and tea.

Deborah Metzger, president of RRC stated that everyone was pleased with the response.

"We all had such a great time, we hated to leave. I hope we can hold some kind of gathering monthly and if this turn out was any indication, the newcomers and RCC members will both be ready next month," Deborah remarked.

Over 350 friends and relatives attended the wedding. The reception was held in the garden at sunset. The houseparty consisted of Lori Olson, San Angelo, Sharon Smith, Toppenish Washington, and Sherri Sykes, Odessa. Darla Berkley, ocusin of the bride was at the bride's book and Miss Mitzi Joy, Sonora handed out the rice bags of blue lace and ribbon.

Sonora Broncos Win No. 3- Beat Wall

The Sonora Broncos took on the Wall Hawks last Friday night and soundly defeated the Hawks. The Broncos had a strong offensive showing by controlling the ball most of the night.

The Bronco offensive line did a good job blocking. They controlled the line of scrimmage all night. The first Bronco score came in the second quarter after a 74 yard drive.

David Creek got the touchdown on an eight yard run around his right end with 5:20 left in the second period. Rex Surber got 32 of the yards on slashing runs. Creek kicked the extra point for the 7-0 lead.

The Broncos closed out the first half with a 79 yard drive for a touchdown. Dreek hit David Reyna for a 10 yard scoring pass. Creek sliced the point after kick and the half-time score was 13-0. Forty-nine yards of the drive were gained by passing. Joe Longoria, Allen Stewart, and Reyna caught passes in the drive. Sonora scored their last touchdown with 9:40 left in the game. Kent Cagle intercepted a Hawk pass and returned it to the Wall 39 yard line. From there, Creek teamed with Reyna for their second touchdown pass of the night. Reyna beat the Wall defender down the right sideline and Creek threw a strike for the score. Creek kicked two out of the three extra points for the night putting his stamp on all the Bronco scoring. Rocky Gold also had a pass interception late in the game. Gold, George Wipff, Wesley Barton, and Reyna all had good games defensively but substitute players also did an excellent job. Those players were Longoria, Stewart, and Ervey Vallejo. This week the Broncos take on Cathedral of El Paso here at 8:00 p.m.

Bronco Junior Varsity Beats Brady

Sonora's Junior Varsity hosted Brady last Thursday, and won by a 24-14 count. The Broncos scored on three touchdown passes and recovered a blocked punt in Brady's end zone for their fourth touchdown. Brady put together a 71 yd. scoring drive in the first half and ran a blocked punt in for a touchdown late in the fourth quarter. The Bronco players played well both offensively and defensively, as they held

Brady's option offense to 140 yards rushing and only

The Junior Varsity is open this week and will

7th Grade Colts Win No. 5

The Brady seventh grade became the first team in five games to score on the Sonora 7th grade Colts. The Colts got even as they still won the game 35-6 to put their season mark at 5-0. The Colts scored 1st on a four yard by fullback Abel Sanchez. The extra point failed. Brady came back and went 50 yards on 8 plays, the big play a 40-yd run by their fullback, and tied the 6-0. Their extra point try also failed. The rest of the game belonged to the Colts. The Colts drove 60 yds on 12 plays with fullback Abel Sanchez getting the score on a 20 yd run off right tackle. The extra point once again was scored by Jessie Guerra. The Colts Gilbert Martinez recovered the on-side kick and the Colts ran out the clock and took a 14-6 lead into the halftime dressing room. The Colts kicked off to start the second half and once again Gilbert Martinez recovered the on-side kick. The Colts then drove 45 yds in 10 plays with Scott Miller scoring from the 1 yd line. Quarterback Jeff Tidwell pitched to Fullback

In 1929 Sonora still did not have a railroad. Silent Movies were just making their debut, and trip to San Angelo was considered a long trip. Here are a few incidents taken from the Devil's River News' Oct.

19, 1929 edition. The headline read "Sonora Has Last Chance For a Railroad." The Santa Fe Railroad had just purchased the land called the "Orient Property" and hopes were that a railroad would be built to run from San Angelo to Del Rio. The Company paid 14,507 to the owners after assuming a 2,500,000 government mortgage to acquire the land. W.L. Aldwell told the News that donations were needed to begin the project. The track would run through Eldorado, Sonora, and Uvalde.

With more dust from Lubbock coming on down to southwest Texas than moisture as early northers enter...there is no wonder country folks are hauling livestock to the local auctions. They are afraid a drought is on!

Willard Jordan said the Junction Stockyards have experienced weekly runs of sheep and goats numbering 13,000 and 16,000 per week. Those are record numbers for the nation's goat sales center.

"Of course, a lot of goatmen are selling off their mutton crops but an equal number just plain don't want a high feed bill this winter," he explains. "The same is true for the cow business."

Dry country worries are widespread.

Rob Roy Spiller, a Junction banker and Bear Creek rancher, says it "looks like the dead of winter out Cleo-way."

In visiting with well-known cattle buyer Lea Huggins of Sherman, I learned it is dry all the way into Oklahoma and Kansas. "I am sending some cattle up into the cornbelt and some to southern Illinois," he stated. "It is dry up there, of course, it probably hasn't rained in three weeks."

"But some parts of West Texas still look good," continued Huggins. "I found Alpine in good shape."

Donald Allison of San Angelo was in the High-land Country around Marfa last week and reported the area in good condition rangewise, "even if some of that green you see is locoweed which is going to give us fits somewhere on down the road."

It has been three years now since the last big outbreak of "loco" in the Marfa area. I remember attending several ranch community meetings out there that year and saw lots of cattle taken because of eating the weed.

Well, the green is just in spots. I saw Sam Ault in the bank lobby the other day. He spends a great deal of time near his ranch in northwest New Mexico and in turn reports it dry up there.

Bear Creek, Kimble County ranchwoman Ira Dell Bannows says her and husband Chester just returned from a vacation trip into New Mexico and confirms the "drought story."

Gilbert Anderegg of Harper describes the dry range in that part of the Texas Hill Country "with a smell like hay curing in the field. That's what it smells like when I ride in the pasture...can't say I ever remember a smell like it before."

On the other hand, Hill Country ranchmen can count their blessings. There is a better than average acorn crop in many areas and with the abundances thereof, they can spot some fat deer. So, hunting season may be okay this autumn and winter.

My dad, Stanley Lackey, of Junction was sitting around the feed grounds the other day waiting for all the cows to come up. He spotted an old cow reaching into a liveoak tree nearby. After careful inspection, he found she was eating every acorn in reach.

Speaking of hunting, Dobbs Hermann, manager of Rucker "b" Ranch at Barnhart, states this year's antelope hunt on the big ranch for the annual two week fall season was a big success. "We had a waiting list of hunters for the hunt, but those lucky ones who hunted bagged their limit," he added.

Experimental Ranch

Result Of Support

Livestock and range research projects, which were on review near Spofford Oct. 3 at the Rio Grande Plain Experimental Ranch, are the result of abundant support provided by people living both inside and outside the region.

"We would never have been able to begin our research efforts in Southwest Texas without the generous support from people living in this area, as well as people from other parts of the country," said Dr. Stewart Fowler, resident director of the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center in Uvalde.

"People have been extremely generous in donating animals, equipment and money for the research cause at the ranch. Still others are cooperating by allowing research projects to be carried out on their farms and ranches."

Research efforts at the ranch are guided by a 15 member Ranch Steering Committee comprised of area ranchers and agribusinessmen. The present Johnson were both instrumental in getting cattle of the Brangus and Santa Gertrudis breeds respectively, donated as well as giving females and loaning herd bulls themselves," Dr. Fowler said.

"Mrs. Bard gave 25 Barzona females and a cash donation to purchase a Barzona bull."

Other ranchers have assisted by donating or loaning herd bulls including Latimer Murfee of Houston, Ray Moody of Rocksprings, Brinks Brangus of Poteet, J.T. & J.F. Cawley of Eldorado, the King Ranch of Kingsville, Dr. Herman Gardner of Burton, and the Briggs Ranch at Catarina and San Antonio.

Twenty-five Brangus breeders donated females and 26 Santa Gertrudis breeders gave females to help establish research herds of those two breeds.

A number of wildlife and brush management research projects are being carried out on cooperating ranches in the region.

Sheep And Goat Industry News

Compiled by Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association

The time has come for a lamb meat import quota. Sheep producers have talked for some time about the necessity of setting maximum limits on imported lamb. That talk went unheeded by a lot of people because there was no imminent threat of massive market glut -- indeed, lamb imports for several years have helped supply the consumer demand that might otherwise have wasted away in the wake of declining domestic production. Call it intuition or reading sign, but the sheep people couldn't help feeling that the potential for glut existed. Events of the past year or so have proved them right.

Australia, only a minor factor in the lamb import picture for years, has now begun to come on strong with its "airmail" deliveries of chilled product. Where they may go from here is an open question.

Fortunately, there's a limit in sight -- House Bill 5127, better known as the Lamb Meat Quota Act of 1979. Introduced in the U.S. House of Representatives by Texas congressman Tom Loeffler and in the Senate as L.1176 by Texas Senator John Tower, the bill would set a limit based on domestic production.

As written, H.R. 5127 would prohibit importation in a given year of any more than 10 percent of domestic lamb slaughter the previous year, or a total of 24,500,000 pounds, whichever is less.

There are some allowable adjustments, however. Recognizing that excessively high prices are an indication of excessively short production and that a quota based on such limited production would be more restrictive than necessary, the bill allows for greater imports if prices rise too high. This is accomplished by providing for a quarterly price and quota review; if prices for a given quarter are equal to or above parity, imports may be increased by five percent for the next quarter. Below-parity prices would require strict adherence to the basic quota. These allowances themselves have a limit, however, -- the bill sets an absolute maximum of 27 percent of the previous year's domestic lamb slaughter, a level which could conceivably be reached if the five percent add-ons got out of hand.

Other provisions require the quota to be allocated among supplier nations based on their previous share of the import supply. Here, too, there is built-in flexibility to cover "special factors" which might alter the trade picture. For instance, if for some reason a supplier nation was suddenly unable to meet its allowable, that unmet portion might be spread among other suppliers. It could also take into account the fact that such emergency suppliers as Australia, limited by their historically small share of the U.S. market.

In short, the bill appears well-written and comprehensive, leaving little or nothing to chance. An added bonus is a provision requiring the origin of imported lamb to be "indicated to consumers". Labeling of imported meat has been a strong issue for domestic meat producers for quite a few moons.

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association supports the lamb import bill and extends its thanks to Loeffler, Tower and co-sponsors Lloyd Bentsen in the Senate and Reps. John Rousselot of California, Charles Stenholm, Texas, and Steve Symms, Idaho.

Extend your warm-season pasture's grazing period by sodseeding a cool-season grass or legume into it, suggests a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Seed wheat, oats, ryegrass or legumes in late Sept. or early Oct. Do not apply nitrogen fertilizer until the crop is up or the base grass will make a new flush of growth and choke out cool-season grass. Allow the sodseeded pasture to grow five to six inches before grazing it.

RRC "Utilization Of Coal...Top Priority"

Texas Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace today declared that optimum utilization of America's enormous coal reserves should be given top priority in the quest to end the U.S. energy dilemma. "What we must finally do is to determine how to obtain coal now," insisted the energy and transportation regulatory official in a keynote address before a national conference on coal utilization and development.

Pointing to U.S. Geological Survey estimates that domestic coal reserves amount to at least 1.7 trillion tons, Wallace said such a fuel bin equals the petroleum supply of ten Saudi Arabia and will provide Americans with hundreds of years of energy at present rates of use. "There is no question that we need coal for the generation of electricity, for fueling industrial boilers and for conversion into synthetic fuels," he insisted. Wallace deplored U.S. slippage into energy dependence on foreign suppliers and maintained that domestic coal affords the nation a prime means to regain energy self-sufficiency. "We must take it upon ourselves to regain our energy independence, and the key is in this nation's own backyard -- Coal," he asserted and warned: "We cannot afford the lapse of another six years or even another six months." The crisis has been compounded by the way the federal government has approached energy matters, Wallace maintained. "Presidents and Congresses for over thirty years have offered solutions which do nothing more than 'rearrange chairs on the decks of the Titanic,'" he observed. Washington's response, said Wallace, has been increased government regulations over the mining, transport, and burning of coal which have led to: --nearly a doubling of coal prices in the last four years. --significant unemployment, --perhaps 150 million tons of unused production capacity at U.S. coal mines, and --enactment of laws which have given too much power to extreme environmentalists and advocates of no more growth in America. "The real coal war in this country is growth versus no-growth," Wallace said. The heart of this struggle is energy, he asserted. "What has happened is that no-growth people and radical environmentalists have so propogandized the nation that normal energy expansion in this country under the free enterprise system has been stopped for all practical purposes."

Wallace observed and cautioned: "Unless the trend can be stopped, the United States is headed toward economic disaster." Wallace pointed to the Office of Surface Mining as "one of the most shameful examples of a federal bureaucracy gone wild" in its attempts to implement regulations exceeding the intent of congress. "OSM's 'comprehensive' regulations require that all the states be subject to the same mining requirements even though the (Surface Mining Control) Act purposely does not," said Wallace. "If Levi Strauss had made jeans to fit only one size, he wouldn't be in the pants business today." In conclusion, Wallace urged the conferees to wage a "relentless and unyielding" fight to regain U.S. energy independence and to demand "a reasonable synthetic fuel program" for the nation.

PBPA Sponsors Petro Rally

From the Permian Basin Petroleum Association. On Tuesday, October 16, 1979, the West Texas Geological Society and the Permian Basin Petroleum Association will co-sponsor a rally in support of the petroleum industry. The rally will be held at 12 noon, on the front lawn of the Midland County Courthouse. The pro-industry gathering is scheduled one day in advance of a national day of protest against the petroleum industry.

On Wednesday, October 17th, 1979, a coalition of unions, liberal groups, the United Presbyterian Church, Ralph Nader, Jane Fonda and Tom Hayden will hold demonstrations in about 20 cities to "Stop the Oil Profiteers". The Citizen/Labor Union Energy Coalition wants price controls reimposed on crude oil, heating oil and natural gas and wants price controls placed on gasoline. They also want oil company accounting books open for public scrutiny. In addition, the group wants a special Federal prosecutor appointed to investigate gasoline and heating oil shortages. It wants a taxpayer's energy corporation that would buy and distribute all imported oil, explore for oil, gas and coal on Federal lands and compete with the private sector in developing alternate energy sources. Other goals include the breaking up of the major oil and gas companies and the elimination of all oil industry tax breaks.

The editorial staff of Newsweek magazine recently stated that the past has already shown that price controls discourage domestic production, subsidize costly imported oil, and postpone development of alternate energy sources."

The WTGS and PBPA feel that in addition, the industry has already been the subject of numerous investigations by the Department of Energy and several other Federal agencies. The petroleum industry is already highly competitive with more than 50 fully integrated oil companies among the 10,000 plus companies engaged in the search for petroleum. Divestiture would not increase the competitiveness or efficiency of the industry. And, finally, a taxpayer owned energy corporation would cost the public billions of dollars. We think that this is not the time for groups and individuals to be dividing the country by calling for even more government control of the petroleum industry. The purpose of the rally is to draw attention to the fact that the interests of the country would be better served by the petroleum industry, the unions and the government working together to immediately increase domestic production and lessen our dependency on foreign energy sources.

RRC Reports Discoveries

Texas operators reported 16 oil and 30 gas discoveries during the September 16-30 period, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division announced today. In the year-earlier period 21 oil and 26 gas discoveries were filed with the state's energy regulatory agency.

Through the first nine months of 1979, Texas operators have reported 895 gas and 362 oil discoveries, against 805 gas and 344 oil discoveries in the year-earlier period. Successful exploratory and field completions in the nine months of 1979 total 6,069 oil and 4,096 gas, against 6,212 oil and 4,158 gas completions in the same period last year.

Oil discoveries in the last half of September 1979 included four in West Central Texas, three in the deep South Texas area, two each in the Midland, Lubbock and North Texas area and one each in East Texas, Southeast Texas, and the San Angelo areas.

Gas discoveries included 20 in deep South Texas, six in the Refugio area, three in the Southeast Texas area, and one in the Panhandle area.

In the September 16-30 period, operators reported 134 exploratory and field tests wound up as dry holes. There were 2,677 dry holes reported in the first nine months of 1979 against 3,003 a year earlier.

New applications for permits to drill oil and gas tests totaled 1,057 in the last half of September compared with 857 in the same period of 1978. Applications to drill, deepen, plugback and for service wells in the September 16-30 period amounted to 1,227 against 952 a year earlier. Operators filed 245 amended applications to drill. There have been 15,644

Reports from Washington

BEEF IMPORTS

This week, I will conclude reporting my remarks to the Independent Cattlemen's Association of Texas at their recent annual convention in San Antonio.

While I believe in free trade, I also believe in fair trade — and a system which provides stability for the farmer and rancher as well as the consumer.

I have already sponsored two such pieces of legislation. First, I have sponsored the Meat Import Act of 1979 — a counter-cyclical formula beef import bill which will benefit consumers and producers alike by stabilizing prices and helping to insure availability of domestically produced meat products for all Americans.

This bill provides for expanding imports when domestic supplies are low, and cutting back on imports when our American production is high. Our goal must be stabilization of both price and supply, and this is the only sensible approach to the problem of destructive plunges and peaks in domestic prices and production.

I am pleased to report to you today that this bill has been reported out of committee and is pending before the House. I expect this bill will pass the House and Senate and be before the President before the end of the year.

The second legislative initiative I have sponsored is a bill requiring that imported meats be labeled as to country of origin. And, that such meat and meat products will have to be inspected and graded by the Department of Agriculture. Exporters will be required to pay all costs for such inspection, grading and labeling.

There are many other concerns which must soon be addressed, including purchase of farmland by foreigners, purchase of farmland by multi-national non-farming corporations in the United States, undocumented worker policies, and a variety of economic problems. But one of the greatest concerns we must deal with today is the universal problem of energy availability. The United States must develop a sound, coherent and cohesive plan to regain energy self-sufficiency, so that agricultural interests — as well as others — can operate with some confidence in the future availability of supply.

Particularly important to us is gasoline, diesel fuel, propane and butane ... while I am opposed to gasoline rationing, if Congress approves any rationing scheme, I assure you I will demand that agricultural needs are adequately compensated for.

I remain convinced, however, that rationing will not become necessary if we can get the federal government out of the energy business and free up our proven private sector of energy industries, so that we can spend American dollars to create American jobs to produce American energy.

And while leadership in Washington may be lacking, I have a firm belief in the survivability of this great country. I know this nation and our people are determined and strong and resilient enough to fight our way out of this great test of our national will which we face, and I know the individual strength of our people will continue to make this the country which proves for all time the value of the system of economic and political freedoms which is so uniquely "America."

The Devil Made Me Do It

by Becky Ponsetti

I was just trying to be a "Smart Santa" and start getting ideas for possible Christmas gifts for my family this year.

You wouldn't believe what I found! This year, the "Incredible Hulk" has powered his way into the children's toy market. The visage and muscles of this "caricature" are found all over carrying cases, vans, and T.V. chairs, to name a few.

One toy maker has come up with a "transmutation chamber" in which the figure of innocent Dr. David Banner becomes the monster, the "Incredible Hulk". There are even inflatable Instant Muscles to be worn under your favorite T-shirt to give the look of "Super-Strength". A pump for inflation comes in the package. Sounds like a Jekyll-Hyde experience to me.

If any of these ideas sounds like a prospective gift for your youngster, just wait until next week when I'll tell you about children's "toy computers".

U.S. Postal Service Takes Poll

United States Postal Service employees here will soon be asking every tenth customer that question to determine where its postal facilities might be better located.

In announcing the survey, Postmaster C.A. Steph stated that postal units are often the secondary stop for postal customers and we want to make sure that our Post Offices are not off the beaten path. In the past, the major consideration in locating postal facilities was where we could get the cheapest land. This is the first time the Postal Service has asked our customers for their input said Postmaster Steph.

The customer survey will begin October 29, 1979 and should be concluded by November 10, 1979.

The survey, which is being conducted in most major cities and their metropolitan areas, will result in more convenient locations for new Post Offices.

Results from the survey will be computerized. The computer will then analyze the shopping patterns of customers who use postal facilities and project the demand areas for the location of those facilities.
