

The Spooks, Goblins, and Clowns and such Halloween sights were seen in downtown Sonora Friday afternoon as the annual Halloween Parade and Carnival took place.

There were happy faces, sad faces, and some with no face at all. And, there was those who just weren't too impressed! The Rabbits came to see the fun and cowboys were there too. Oh, of course there was the Queen, Linda Smith. And well, the Law showed up, too. Oh yes, the "Devil" was there, too.

Plane Crash Kills 3

At 9:33 p.m. Tuesday evening Officer Gesch of the Sonora Police Department reported a fire just South of the Haney Davis home. The fire turned out to be a fatal plane crash that took the lives of three people and critically injured the other passenger.

Dead at the scene were Michael J. Stucky, 20 years old from Peabody, Kansas, Beverly E. Borron, 19 years old from Imperial, Texas, and Jennifer Cook, 20 years old from Odessa, Texas.

The survivor of the crash is Todd Carlisle 20 years old from Kiowa, Kansas.

The two men were employed by the Dumler Cattle Company of Kiowa, Kansas. The two girls were roommates at Angelo State University. The plane was owned by J.D. and Fred Dumler of Kiowa, Kansas.

The Sutton County Sheriff's Department, Sonora Police, and Fire Departments responded to the tragic crash. Dr. Browne went in the ambulance to San Angelo with the survivor.

The cause of the crash is unknown at the present time, but the FAA is investigating. Apparently the plane banked to the left and the left wing hit the tops of the trees pulling the plane into the side of the hill. Debris from the wreckage was scattered over a large area.

Tragic plane crash kills 3 young people.

Sonora vs Kermit Friday

The Broncos have their biggest test of the year with the district 7-AA opener against Kermit this week. Sonora will face the district leader in rushing in David Fulbright, quarterback for Kermit. The Broncos can counter with a healthy Eddie Favila and a much improved Rex Surber at running backs.

However, the game will be won or lost in the trenches. For Sonora to win, the line on both offense and defense will have to control the game. Sonora has the manpower to win but it will take a good game from all the linemen.

Watch for the Broncos to open up the game with their passing attack. Kermit has allowed only 898 yards rushing all year. And, being at home will help the Yellowjackets.

Hopefully Sonora fans will make the long drive to support the Broncos in this game. The Bronco Booster Club fan bus will be going to the game and seats are still available. The bus will leave Dr. Browne's office at 3:00 p.m. Friday afternoon.

Anyone wishing to ride the bus should sign up at Dr. Browne's office as soon as possible.

City Loses Power

The wind blew so hard Monday night that the electricity went out? Wrong. The problem was with equipment. WTU supplies the City with electricity and the place where the City gets the supply from WTU had a failure.

According to City Electrical engineer, James Dickason, the City loaned WTU equipment to fix the problem so that WTU would not have to wait for repair crews from San Angelo to get here. All of the City customers were out for at least seven or eight minutes, but about one third of the city was out for about an hour.

The problem is fixed and power should remain in supply.

Five Member Ad-hoc Committee Appointed To Study Library

The five member ad-hoc committee appointed by the Sutton County Commissioners Court, the Sonora City Council, and the Sonora Woman's Club held its first meeting Thursday evening at the Commercial Restaurant. Members of the committee are Lemuel Lopez, Mrs. Sarah McAndrew, Mrs. Jeannette Sipes, John Tedford, and Tom Metzger. All five were present for the meeting.

The Committee reviewed a statement from the three groups which appointed the committee. That statement read as follows: "In connection with your agreement to serve on the committee, this is to advise you, in effect, that you will be reporting to the City of Sonora, County of Sutton, and the Sonora Woman's Club. Briefly, the basic object of the Committee is: to review, consider, make suggestions and recommendations for public library in the City of Sonora (either City-County, or County only) specifically as to: (a) Location (b) type of construction; and, (c) cost projections. The secondary object is to: review, consider and make suggestions and recommendations for the civic center (or public meeting place), either singularly or jointly in combination with a library." The statement goes on to ask for a written report within 60 days and asks that no funds be spent without specific authorization.

The committee's first action was to elect Tom Metzger as chairman. Metzger then appointed John Tedford to look into the availability of buildings and building sites; Jeannette Sipes to investigate the process of becoming a certified library; Sarah McAndrew to investigate possible sources of funding for construction; and Lemuel Lopez to investigate construction types and costs.

The committee discussed several locations in the city which are considered to be ideal for a library and also looked at alternatives, should those either not be available or be prohibitively costly. Among those are the Santa Fe Railroad property, the former library site, the current Sutton County jail, and several other possibilities.

The committee will meet again Thursday, November 6 at 7:30 in the Commercial Restaurant.

Pep Rally 8:30a.m. Friday

A pep rally will be held Friday morning at 8:30 to send the mighty Broncos on their way to Kermit. Everyone is urged to meet outside the new gym to get that Bronco spirit going.

Adult Work Day Nov 3

Sonora Girl Scouts will have an Adult Work Day November 3rd starting at 9 a.m. to do general clean up and light repairs of scout house and yard.

Any adult or parent of scout who can donate 2 hours of their time are asked to help. Fathers are especially needed for light repairs. Call Marlene Evans 387-2110 for further information if required.

Garlitz Wins

The Devil's River News Football Contest was close as usual last week. Willene Garlitz of Eldorado won with a perfect entry. But, second and third place was a battle. Six people tied with one miss each and the tie-breaker had to be used. On that basis, Manuel Arrendondo got second place and Wade Hopkins won third place.

Heart Association Turkey Walk Planned

At a meeting of the Sutton County unit of the American Heart Association Monday night, October 29, plans for the second annual Turkey

Walk as a special event to raise money for the Heart Association were completed. This year the walk will be only ten miles, for it was felt that the sixteen miles of last year was too far. Every person who walks ten miles, and collects as much as $50.00 in pledges for the walk, will receive a Thanksgiving Turkey.

This year there will be a trophy given to the Company or organization which raises the most money for the Heart Association during the walk. This will be a rotating trophy, with the company or organization having their name inscribed on the trophy and keeping it until the next Turkey Walk. Then it would be up for grabs again by the company or organization raising the most money in that Annual Turkey Walk.

There will also be a smaller trophy given to the individual who raises the most money, but this trophy will be the permanent possession of the individual.

In other business the unit made plans in relation to the annual Heart Month Fund Drive. Again this year, the Drive will be by means of mail solicitation, not door to door. Bill Thomas was elected as a director for the class of 1981 to fill out a vacancy due to someone moving from the community.

It was reported that 92 persons had their blood pressure checked out at the screening booth set up at the Halloween Carnival, making a total of over 170 who have been screened so far this year.

There will be application blanks for the Turkey Walk at several places around town; where ever you see a sign advertising the Walk, you can pick up a blank. If you have other questions, call Harold Miller at 387-2414 during school hours.

AMOCO says they have a man who will beat any other adult by at least a mile in the walk, or they will give an extra $50.00.

Election Next Tuesday- Nov. 6

Everyone should be aware of the State Constitutional Amendment Election to be held November 6. Next Tuesday's election will concern three constitutional amendments to the State constitution.

The three amendments are: The constitutional amendment to provide for the appointment of notaries public for the state and for a term of not less than two years nor more than four years as provided by law. The constitutional amendment to provide for legislative review of the process of rulemaking by agencies in the executive department.

The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for the guarantee of loans for purchase of farm and ranch real estate for qualified borrowers by the sale of general obligation bonds of the State of Texas.

Voting will be from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. at the following locations. Precinct #1 at the Sutton County 4-H Center. Precinct #2 at the Sonora Wool and Mohair Company. Precinct #3-2 at the Simon's Ranch. Precinct #3-3 at the Church of Christ on the Llano River. Precinct #4 will vote at the Sonora Fire Station.

Everyone is urged to vote in the election. Voting is a very precious right and the best way to lose it is by not voting.

My Side Of The Fence

by Teresa Stephens

Barter is used by everyone. Whether in the form of money, services, or material possessions. Barter can also be the act of trading as "to barter" or "bartering". This is the formal definition of one of my favorite pastimes. The game goes like this: You trade what you don't need or want for something you do need or want. People use barter everyday, usually in the form of money, but I, being of slim pocket-book and schemeful mind find other things to barter. Such as trading my messy aquarium in on a new vacuum cleaner; or paying my babysitter by making her clothes. After you start "bartering", you'll be surprised at some of the really great bargains you'll come up with.

It is like "you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours". Human relationships are another way in which we all barter. It is give and take. Everyone gets what they want, everyone is happy and it's fun and profitable.

It also takes the spotlight off that overpowering dollar sign. And that's nice, too.

Girl Scouts Hold "Tiny Tots" Carnival

The Girl Scouts' "Tiny Tots" Halloween Carnival was a big success. The girls really went all out to make the affair as enjoyable for themselves as it was for the tots. Special thanks go to all the parents who helped with the decorations and preparations for the event. The girls also would like to thank The Jug, San Angelo Savings, Food Center, Foodway, The First National Bank, Roger's Drive-In Grocery, and Dowell for furnishing candy, cokes, and ice to make the carnival possible.

This was the 2nd "Tiny Tots" Carnival and it looks like it is going to be an annual event. There were several activities to keep the little ones entertained. The duck pond, dart throw, face painting, baseball throw, basketball throw, and ghost house delighted them all, but the cup cake walk, coke bar and cookie stand brought a lot of sweet, sticky, gooey smiles. Yes, definitely a big success.

Well, since I have been firmly forbidden to say anything about that highly controversial 9-letter day, which begins with an H - Happy Black Cat Day!

We really appreciate all the input we are receiving from you, the readers. Keep up the good work and let us know what you are thinking. Remember, it's your paper, too!

Teya Sanchez celebrated her 80th birthday Sunday. She has lived in Sonora since 1925. She was honored with a supper, coffee and cake by her daughter, Minnie Gonzales, and her niece, Ila Sanchez. Mrs. Mike Lumbrius and her family also attended the party.

Visiting the Steve Thorp family the 26th through the 28th were Mrs. Thorp's cousins Mrs. Barbara Cafferty and her daughters Juli and Jeni. The Caffertys reside in Houston and this was their first visit to a small town. While here the girls participated in the Spook Parade and Halloween Carnival. They also visited the Caverns of Sonora and toured the Bill Tittle ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lilly came through Sonora and visited with his brother, Kenneth Lilly Sunday. He was on his way on his way home to Odessa from the races in Del Rio.

Lenora Bullock and Carla Schafer went to Abilene Saturday to take the kids, Trey and Shannon Rushing, Chris Schafer, and Jimmy Luckie to the Kiss concert. The kids thought it was great, but the Moms just said "It was quite an experience!"

Nan Friend's mother, Mrs. Wynell Hester, visited Thursday. Mrs. Hester is from Big Lake.

This Sunday Nov. 4, the Trinity Baptist Temple will be observing their 3rd annual "Mission Sunday." Every year at this time the church sets their goal for one year to raise money for their foreign and home missionaries. This last year's goal was $8,000 and that goal has been surpassed by over $700.00.

Also Sunday the "Victory Singers" from San Angelo will be singing in the 11 a.m. services. Dr. McCillow, pastor would like to invite everyone to come and hear these singers and see a church's mirror program in action. Tony Wallace is the manager of the Ashley's in Sonora.

Ashley's Celebrate Grand Opening

There's nothing like an "OPENING"! And, Ashley's Boot and Western Wear is having their Grand Opening this week.

Ashley's has just moved into their new store located on Highway 277 North next to I-10. The stocking is complete so now it's time for the fun and excitement of the Grand Opening.

This special event will include a drawing for lots of prizes. Boots, men's shirts, belt buckles, and women's blouses will be given away Saturday, November 3. Some lucky person's name will be drawn every hour. Naturally, there is no purchase necessary to register for the drawing and you do not have to be present to win.

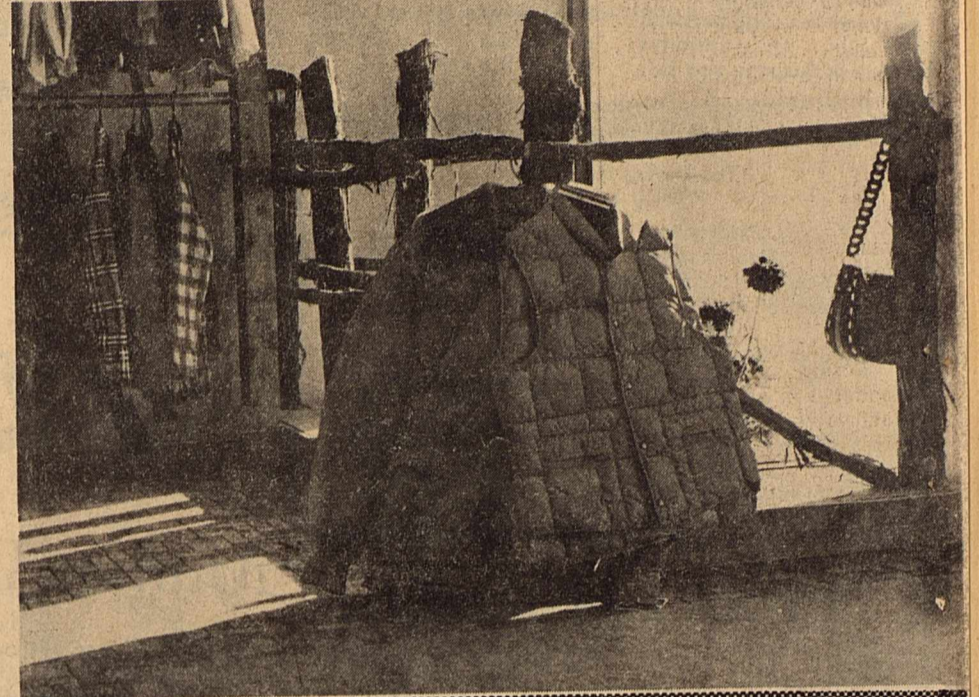

Tony Wallace is the manager of Ashley's here in Sonora. Gary Heflin is the owner of this store and one in San Angelo.

Tony and his wife, Candyce, have one daughter, Tiffany, age eleven. They plan to move here as soon as possible. Tony, who is a life long friend of owner Gary Heflin, has been with Ashley's for a year. Previously Tony had been in the real estate and construction business. Tony's family had been in the livestock business for several years.

Tony expressed a deep satisfaction at being in Sonora and said, "We really want to thank everyone here for their kind response to our new store and for the help that we have received."

Tony said that boots are a big part of their business. The Sonora Ashley's will stock 1500 pairs of boots. Name brands featured at Ashley's are Nocona, Justin, Larry Mahan, Tony Lama, Adams, Texas, H&H, Cowtown, Carolina Work Shoes, and eight different styles of steel toe work boots. This wide selection of boots comes in men's, women's, and children's sizes.

Also featured at Ashley's are Resistol Hats, goosedown, jackets by Comfy and Tempco, and over 1500 dress and work shirts. Manager Wallace also plans to offer a complete line of women's wear.

Goat and sheep prices on the hoof were up this week! However, the livestock sold at the Junction Stockyards in the Texas Hill Country were donated by area ranchman to the first annual Sheep and Goat Raisers Round-Up for Crippled Children.

The sale to benefit West Texas Rehabilitation Centers in San Angelo, Abilene and Snyder, was phase three of the 20th annual Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children. Included in the Junction event was a number of items donated by Junction merchants and cakes and pies baked by Kimble housewives. The sale raised $5,265, giving a grand total of $206,279 for livestock this year with all three sales.

Money raised from the annual CRCC is converted into dollars to provide care for over 7,000 handicapped people from throughout the Southwest.

Besides my duties as editor of WTRC newsletters and writing several Country Folk columns per week for some 35 newspapers, I am a special representative for WTRC. My travels take me to some 50 West and Central Texas counties every month. Of course, I have attended all of these Rehab functions in the past year and I don't think I have ever been so impressed with anything in my life as WTRC and its outreaching hand of service!

Having worked in the agriculture community for over 25 years, I know folks in every community of West Texas. I don't go into a business establishment that someone doesn't recognize me. Yes, it is a good feeling. But what I am leading up to is how many people know about our Rehab Centers and what good our staff people are doing.

My job is public relations and therefore very seldom do I have the opportunity to visit within the WTRC departments and get to know the more than 150 physical therapists, occupational therapists, special education teachers, audiologists and others who make up our staffs on the three campuses. Yet, in doing my job throughout the Southwest, I hear if our people are doing their job. That contact comes through the words spoken in the small town coffee shops, from the kitchen table at one of our CRCC chairmen or a conversation with one of WTRC's directors in a bank lobby.

WTRC is unique in that it offers treatment and diagnostic services to one and all without regard to age, race, creed, geographic origin or financial ability. WTRC is an independent, gift-supported organization, relying on donations for approximately 65 percent of its annual operating budget.

The one fact that I am personally so proud of is that 65 percent of our budget is still supplied by agriculture and the petroleum industries. Perhaps the only two grass root industries left by our forefathers, this basic product of God and nature is providing services to a people through WTRC that even the government can't do. Those tax-free dollars are moving mountains for the crippled children and the stroke patients in a time the desire to climb those mountains in cities back east and other parts of the world is no longer a challenge.

Well, I didn't mean to preach...I just wanted to say "thanks" Country Folk.

Your concern is being received by all of us at WTRC and your gifts are being put to use. I know there are so many charitable organizations bugging us all. But when you quietly make your pledge to WTRC through our many fund-raising events like the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children...we hear you.

Life in the Gas Patch

Texas is producing more oil this year than last. Fifty eight refineries made their report to the Railroad Commission this summer and the figures are up about 6 percent over this time last year. The one really big increase was in heating oil, which jumped 2,311,363 barrels over last year.

"Texas accounts for more than 1/3 of the country's oil and natural gas production."  James Nugent, Texas

Taken from the Railroad Commission's Reports

Railroad Commissioner warns that "Texans will have to fight increasing pressures from the Northeast if we are to maintain any semblance of control over our energy future." Citing examples of federal legislation, he said "there appears to be no end to the financial burdens the Northeasterners are working to levy on Texas consumers so they can have cheap energy." The new law allows for free flow of natural gas out of state, while requiring increased use of coal and other fuels in Texas. There seems to be good progress in getting the overweight trucks off of Texas Highways. The recent crackdown is working well.

Pro-Oil and Pro-American Rally Held

From the Permian Basin Petroleum Association. Between twelve and fifteen hundred people attended a Pro-Oil and Pro-America Rally held at noon, Tuesday, October 16th at the Midland County Courthouse. The Rally, sponsored by the West Texas Geological Society and The Permian Basin Petroleum Association, was called in response to a number of anti-oil demonstrations held around the nation on Wednesday, October 17th. Led by Jane Fonda, Ralph Nader, and many union and liberal groups, the demonstrators called for price controls on petroleum products, the break-up of the major oil companies, a special prosecutor to investigate shortages and a taxpayer's energy corporation. The Pro-Oil, Pro-American speakers said this is no time to be dividing the country with socialist rhetoric and called for the government, unions and the oil industry to work together to get us out of the energy crisis. One speaker said the top 45 oil companies took in 84 billion dollars in 1977. The same companies paid out 60 billion dollars in taxes. An independent oil operator told the crowd that the windfall profits tax would be based on gross revenue, and not on net profits as President Carter has implied. He also pointed out that decontrol of oil prices alone will bring in more than 150 billion dollars in new federal taxes over the next ten years. Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen, Congressman Kent Hance and Texas Railroad Commissioner John Poerner sent telegrams of support. PBPA Executive Vice President Ed Thomson said there are plans already underway for another rally on a bigger scale in the near future.

Realtor Rally Held in Del Rio

Bob Kemper of Realty World, West Texas Realty, attended the Southern Regional Realty this past weekend in Del Rio. Realty World - Merle Kemper Realtors were the host office. Members from San Antonio, Houston and Austin Realty World Councils were greeted by mariaches as they arrived with a Border Buttermilk party held on the patio at the Ramada Inn. Following the Rally they departed for a night in Cuidad Acuna, Coah., Mexico. The host office were top award winners with top earnings for the 3rd quarter, top listing office, and top referral office in the region. Bob Kemper in achieving an outstanding sales record gained membership in the Quarter Million Dollar Sales Club. There were approximately 150 Realtors and Associates from the districts attending.

Railroad Commission Reports

The Railroad Commission recently decided the courts should determine the date on which a gas costs flow-through dispute between Amoco Gas Co. and three industrial customers ended. In a last June 18 order, the Commission permitted Amoco to flow-through to Big Three Industries, Inc., Champion International Corp., and Air Products and Chemicals, Inc., increased gas costs which would result from a final order in the Docket 500 Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. settlement case. At the Oct. 15th weekly conference on Gas Utilities Division matters, Chairman John H. Poerner and Commissioners James E. (Jim) Nugent and Mack Wallace accepted the recommendation of GUD Examiner Glenn Johnson that the Commission take no action on motions for rehearing filed by the three Amoco customers. By taking no action on the motions, the Commission will not interfere with the courts' jurisdiction to determine when the GUD 1702 flow-through order became final, either on June 18 or Sept. 4 when the Commission entered the final order in Docket 500. Johnson noted to the Commissioners that the motions, if deemed timely filed, will be overruled by operation of law on Oct. 19. Appeals to the Docket 1702 order were filed in Travis County district courts and Judge Peter Lowry of the 261st District Court issued an injunction on Oct. 3 prohibiting the Commission from enforcing the order. November 1979 nominations for the purchase of Texas crude oil total 2,684,610 barrels daily, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division reported recently. Purchaser nominations for November 1978 totaled 2,897,403 barrels daily. The Commission will set the November production allowables during the monthly statewide oil and gas proration hearing at 9 a.m. Thursday in the Driskill Hotel in Austin. The statewide oil allowable for October is set at 100 percent of market demand with actual production expected to approximate 2,618,000 barrels daily. The Oil and Gas Division reported final tabulations place purchases of Texas crude oil in August at 2,619,476 barrels daily, or 109,259 barrels below nominations for that month.

Bentsen Takes Step to Cut Federal "Red Tape"

From the offices of Lloyd Bensten

When regulators for two government agencies get into a disagreement, the individual or business caught in between has a real problem.

Pity the poor packing house operator, for example, ordered by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration on the one hand to put a rough finish on concrete floors so no one slips, while the U.S. Department of Agriculture on the other hand wants the floors to have a smooth finish so they can be cleaned easily and thoroughly.

This type of clash between two agencies is bad enough, but imagine what happens when a firm comes up against an agency in conflict with itself.

An Administrative law judge for the Federal Trade Commission ruled recently that the system one of our nation's automakers uses for distribution plan in 1968 at the request of the FTC staff and under threat of an administrative proceeding against it by the FTC.

Government regulation is causing fits for our free-enterprise system and nowhere is the mass of regulations more troublesome than in the field of energy.

Earlier this year Sohio abandoned a plan to pipe Alaskan crude oil from Long Beach, California to Midland, Texas for refining and shipment to oil-short areas of the Midwest.

Sohio spent $50 million trying to obtain the 700 permits required to put that vital pipeline project together, only to give up in frustration after five years.

Back in June of this year, I proposed legislation to cut through some of the paperwork and red tape that is delaying--and in some cases wrecking--plans for building needed energy facilities.

The President later endorsed a nearly identical proposal and the Senate recently voted to establish an Energy Mobilization Board that will be very helpful in efforts to speed construction of pipelines, refineries and synthetic energy plants.

The Energy Mobilization Board would be empowered grant "priority" status is granted the Board meets with federal, state and local government agencies in-olved to set a schedule which will insure that all necessary permits are granted within two years, maximum.

If an agency fails to grant its permits under the scheduled deadline, the Energy Mobilization Board steps in. It can either act in place of the agency, granting the permit, or it can take the offending agency to court to force compliance.

The EMB will not be empowered to make substantive charges in local, state or federal laws, but it should substantially speed the process of complying with those laws.

There was a loophole in the Senate bill, one that was closed by an amendment I offered on the Senate Floor.

The loophole was the absence of a deadline for the Energy Mobilization Board itself.

This could have led to interminable delay. It is conceivable, for example, that a bargaining process of many months could have occurred involving the EMB and a government agency; one where the EMB sat waiting for the agency to act while the agency refused to do so, gambling that the EMB would not have enforced its own decision schedule.

The Bentsen amendment requires the Energy Mobilization Board to act within 60 days of the time any government agency fails to meet the compliance schedule.

My amendment does not tie the Board's hands. It will still enjoy substantial flexibility--60 days--in which to negotiate a resolution in the event a deadline is missed.

At the same time, however, both the Board and any errant agency will know that the clock is ticking--and the board must act--and that tactics to delay serious bargaining on a permit decision are futile.

We have learned from hard experience that leaving any loophole for government regulators and permit granters means problems for those who get caught in the tangle.

Coastal Files Suit

Coastal States Gas Corporation filed suit today in federal district court in Houston to enjoin two federal government agencies from making unwarranted and unconstitutional use of ambiguous or invalid Department of Energy regulations as a basis to threaten indictments of the company and some of its officials in connection with sales of crude oil.

The suit names as defendants the Department of Energy and the Energy Secretary, the Department of Justice and the Attorney General, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and the U.S. Attorney in Houston.

Coastal claims the government is threatening it and its employees with grand jury indictments based on linking together a series of sales of domestic crude oil at admittedly lawful prices and foreign sales of unregulated foreign oil.

"The government's threats against the Company amount to a blatant attempt to interpret its price regulations on domestic oil, which have been an obvious disaster, to cover foreign transactions entirely outside its jurisdiction," a Coastal spokesman said. "These threats would have the effect of prohibiting U.S. oil companies from entering into legitimate trading activities in world oil markets."

"To the best of our knowledge, Coastal's sales did not result in increased prices to American consumers," the spokesman said. "We are not dealing with a consumer rip-off by Coastal. The issue here is an attempt by the government to increase its regulatory power."

Coastal pointed out that Department of Energy regulations have already been shown in the courts to be so vague and ambiguous they could not possibly form the basis of a criminal indictment such as that threatened by the U.S. Attorney. The Coastal spokesman said, "The regulation the U.S. Attorney is relying on in this case does not even apply to sales of crude oil."

In its petition to the court, Coastal said it is seeking to prevent unwarranted and unconstitutional application of vague, ambiguous or invalid Department of Energy regulations which do not apply to the facts.

Coastal also charged that representatives of the Department of Justice have harassed and intimidated company employees with threats and said its suit for injunction was necessary to protect its employees from such tactics.

"This case is just one more part of a politically motivated campaign to persecute energy companies through the misuse of poorly drafted, inconsistently applied, and often unintelligible rules and regulations," the Coastal spokesman said.
