DARE Director To Hold Program Sept. 29

Brigadier General Robinson Risner, Executive Director of Drug Abuse Research and Education (DARE) will speak at 7:30 p.m., Sept. 29 at the Junior High Snack Bar. The public is invited to attend. DARE is the "action arm" of the Texans' War on Drugs Committee, a fight against drugs started by Ross Perot, chairman and founder of Dallas-based Electronic Data Systems.

DARE is committed to the formation of a parent support group that they feel must be established to reverse the harmful peer pressure among children. DARE feels that peer pressure is the prime motivating factor affecting children. The foundation feels that parents must help reverse the peer pressure on children to the 'do drug' message.

The DARE office is committed to help citizens build communities of caring parents. The advocate prevention of drug use by reversing and redirecting the unhealthy, unwholesome, negative pressures to healthy, wholesome, positive pressures.

Robinson Risner, the speaker on Sept. 29, began an army career in 1943 that lasted 33 years. Having served in three wars, he progressed to the rank of brigadier general in 1974. On two different occasions, he received the Air Force Cross-one of the nation's highest honors.

During the Vietnam War, Risner was captured and held prisoner of war for seven-and-a-half years. It was during his captivity in the Hanoi prison that he decided to find a way to work with young people when he returned to the United States.

Upon his release from prison, Risner wrote The Passing of the Night, which relates his experiences as a POW. He dedicated the book to the youth of America.

Because of Risner's strong concern for the youth of America growing up in a drug-oriented society, he captured the attention of Ross Perot, chairman and founder of Dallas-based Electronic Data Systems. Mr. Perot, also chairman of the Texans' War on Drugs Committee, appointed General Risner as the Executive Director of Drug Abuse Research and Education (DARE).

Risner plans an intensive campaign to educate young people about drug abuse using, in particular, the research substantiating marijuana's adverse effects to the mind and body. He also plans to organize parent awareness groups in every county throughout the state.

Sam Stewart and Scott Shurley are the Sonora coordinators of DARE and are committed to help establish and strengthen community families-in-action coalitions in Sonora.

Three Convicted On Drug Charges In District Court Monday

Two persons were sentenced to terms in the penitentiary and one placed on probation and fined $1,000 in drug-related cases tried in the 112th Judicial District Court held September 21.

Robert Lee Hood pled guilty to a charge of possession of methamphetamine and received a sentence of 15 years in the penitentiary, Rodolfo Ortega pled guilty and received four in the Penitentiary for possession of four pounds of marijuana, and Eloy Chavera Vasquez pled guilty and received eight years probation and $1,000 fine for possession of marijuana. The case of Felipe A. Vargas that had been set was dismissed due to the defendant's death. Two other cases that were set did not go to trial either before a jury or the court as the defense lawyers were not present.

The District Attorney, Bill Mason, paid particular thanks to Sheriff Bill

Webster and Chief of Police Brent Geisch for the excellent work both departments are doing in investigating drug-related offenses in Sutton County. In short, Mason said that the only way to combat "pushers" and other drug abusers is to "keep the heat on" and that both departments are doing an exceptional job in this respect.

"This is the first time in at least 10 years a person has gone to the pen on a drug-related case in Sutton County, and I can assure you it won't be the last," Mason commented.

McBee Honored By Texans' War On Drugs

State Rep. Susan McBee, D-Del Rio, was recently honored by the Texans' War on Drugs committee for her leadership in the battle to curtail drug abuse by children and adolescents in Texas.

The Texans' War on Drugs Committee, established by Gov. Bill Clements and headed by Ross Perot, was formed to combat illegal drug trafficking in Texas. The committee's weapons are the education of parents, support of anti-drug legislation and improved communications among state law enforcement officers.

"McBee and several other legislators went above and beyond the call of duty to support the Texans' War on Drugs program," said Perot, chairman of Dallas-based Electronic Data Systems Corp. "She heeded the call from parents all over the state to protect the children of Texas from the drug culture."

Perot emphasized that without the effective teamwork of state officials like McBee and concerned Texas parents, the five-part legislative package developed by the Texans' War on Drugs Committee would never have been passed. Perot also stressed that support from House speaker Billy Clayton and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby was also an integral part of the program's success.

"The record number of letters and personal visits to state officials from their constituents during the regular legislative session indicates that illegal drug trafficking is a major concern for Texans," Perot said.

New status passed in the session toughen penalties for delivery of drugs to minors, tighten the laws against drug trafficking and make it illegal to manufacture, deliver or possess drug paraphernalia. Also passed was a triplicate prescription bill that will help identify persons who divert prescription drugs to the illegal market. The fifth new law permits immediate revocation of licenses of health care professionals convicted of drug-related felony crimes.

All of the laws became effective September 1, with the exception of the triplicate prescription bill.

Changes in Legislation Result In Some Organizations Exempt

State Comptroller Bob Bullock's office Friday said certain civic and non-profit organizations are now exempt from paying sales tax on items purchased for use by these organizations.

The Comptroller's office reported recent changes by the Legislature will exempt non-profit Chambers of Commerce and groups to help the elderly from some sales tax requirements.

Non-profit organizations created solely to provide assistance to elderly from some sales tax requirements.

Non-profit organizations created solely to provide assistance to elderly persons can now hold four fund-raising drives a year and not have to collect sales tax on items made by persons at least 65 years old.

The tax-free sales may take place on no more than 20 days during the year.

Other organizations given exemption from federal income taxes.

Groups now exempt include:

--Organizations such as Rotary, Optimists, Kiwanis, Junior Chambers of Commerce, Lions and Garden Clubs and some property owner associations that are exempt from federal taxes under Section 501(c) (4) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC).

--Fraternal societies such as Masons, Elks, Moose, Knights of Columbus, DeMolay and the Eastern Star that are exempt under Section 501(c) (8) or Section 501(c) (10) of the IRC.

Bullock Releases Tax Rebates Reports

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday said 750 Texas cities received $40.9 million in city tax rebates for September.

The September payments push the city's rebates for this year to $480.3 million, up 14.7 percent over yearly payments to date during 1980.

Sonora's check for this month is for $17,602.85, bringing the 1981 total to $256,572.47, up 50.17 percent over 1980.

Eldorado's check this month was for $4,438.66, bringing the city's 1981 total to $69,169.72, up 35.46 percent from 1980.

Junction will get a check for $3,653.79 for September, up .51 percent over the $3,358.25 received during the first nine months of last year.

Houston's check this month is for $9.1 million, bring the city's total to $99.9 million, up 14.2 percent over 1980.

Dallas will get a check for $4.1 million, pushing that city's 1981 payments to $53.8 million, a 9.3 percent increase over the first nine months of 1980.

The optional one-percent city sales tax is collected by merchants and business along with the four-percent state tax and returned each month by the Comptroller to the city in which it is collected.

Larry Hagman Asks For Smokeout Ideas

Larry Hagman, star of TV's "Dallas" series, is asking people this month to write to him describing original ideas on how to quit smoking cigarettes as part of the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout.

The Larry Hagman Quit-Smoking Letter Writing Contest is an advance buildup to the Society's fifth annual Smokeout, set for November 19th this year.

According to Penny Reeves, Austin radio personality and chairperson of the smokeout in Texas, the contest will be held nationwide September 14-27 and will be conducted primarily by radio stations in cooperation with participating units of the American Cancer Society. In some communities, TV stations and newspapers will also be involved.

Some 40 ACS units in Texas have already begun contest preparations whereby participants may write -- in letters of 100 words or less -- their original ideas on how to quit smoking. Judging will then be done on a local, state and national level based on these criteria: Originality, Practicality and Clarity. The contest is open to residents of the United States except employees and Board and committee members of the American Cancer Society.

Texas judges for the contest are Elbert D. Glover, Ph.D., chairman of the Health Education Department at TCU; Penny

Reeves, Smokeout chairperson; and Leon Hale, columnist for the Houston Post. These judges will review the five finalist letters from each participating ACS unit and select from these the three state finalist letters for national competition.

As an added incentive to all Texas participants, the Larry Mahan Boot collection in El Paso has arranged to present each of the three Texas finalists a pair of western boots made from exotic leathers.

The national prize features an all-expense paid three-day trip for two to Hollywood to have dinner with Hagman, which has been underwritten by a national sponsor. The national judges are William G. Caham, M.D., of the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center; Camille McMennamin of the McCaffrey and McCall, Inc. advertising agency; and John Mack Carter, editor-in-chief of Good Housekeeping magazine, all of New York City.

Both state and national contest winners will be announced prior to the Smokeout.

Hagman's involvement with the Smokeout is only part of his interest in the anti-smoking activities of the ACS. According to Ms. Reeves, Hagman plans to take an active leadership role all year long. He has already made a number of anti-smoking TV and radio spots and will be the Society's media spokesman for its quit-smoking programs.

Bentsen Blasts High Interest Rates

Senator Lloyd Bentsen on Monday said continuing high interest rates threaten to destroy "everything we've done this year to correct long-term problems in the economy."

Bentsen spoke Monday morning to the Board of Directors of the National Association of Homebuilders meeting in Boston.

"As many of you may be aware, I have been working for years -- as Chairman of the Joint Economic Committee in the 96th Congress and long before that, too -- to bring about some of the fundamental economic policy changes we've been able to achieve in recent months," the Senator said.

"I'm talking about new incentives for savings and investment; tax cuts designed to increase productivity; less government regulation and interference; and sharply reduced government spending."

"I'm talking about the economics of production, about creating an environment in which members of the NAHB can do what they do best -- provide quality housing at the lowest possible cost to the maximum number of Americans."

"Working and sacrificing together, we have finally started to move the American economy in the right direction. We laid the foundation for the return of stability and real growth. We took the difficult first steps on the road to recovery."

"But now all our hard work, the whole process of recovery, is jeopardized by high interest rates. And I can tell you that the people of America -- the small businessmen, the farmers, the young people looking for a home -- will not stand for it much longer."

"They're looking around and they are asking some hard questions. They're asking how is it, with capital so tight, a chemical company can arrange a $7 billion line of credit to buy an oil company. Does that kind of transaction increase productivity in this country? Does it create new jobs? Is an effective use of a scarce resource?"

"The people are asking why they can't get a mortgage, but large corporations can tie up more than $50 billion in lines of credit to affect take-overs or fend them off."

"They know that the Federal Reserve Board has 'jaw-boned' in the past to make less credit available for mergers and they're wondering why the only response now -- when we have a real credit crisis -- is to twist the screws a little tighter and tighter and raise interest rates higher and higher."

"I've just come back from a trip around Texas and I can tell you there is a lot of anger out there. It's focused on high interest rates and the policies of the Fed."

"These policies threaten to destroy everything we've done this year to correct long-term problems in the economy. They threaten to destroy everything we've done to help the housing industry. Not even the All Savers certificates tied to housing can bring down mortgage interest rates when the Fed seems determined to push them up."

"High interest rates are killing the economy; they're crippling the housing industry; they're hitting hardest at the small businessman who can't pass them on."

"I want to make the point that the people aren't going to stand for it much longer. They're demanding actions and policies that will bring interest rates back down to earth. If they don't get it from the Fed or the Administration they may well get it from Congress, because we've been out there for the past month. We know what's happening to the hopes and dreams of millions of Americans."

"We need effective action -- and we need it now -- to bring down interest rates and let the housing industry enjoy the full benefit of the All Savers program, which I was pleased to amend so that it targets its aid to home buyer."

"The message I want to leave with you today is that I am going to do everything in my power to see that we get that action. I know what the American economy can accomplish. I know I am prepared to fight this my can accomplish. I know we've started to turn our economic policy in the right direction. And I am not prepared to see the dreams of the American people and the vast potential of our free market system shattered by the Federal Reserve," Bentsen said.

"Just a few months ago the NAHB helped us win a stunning victory in the Senate, when we targeted the All Savers program to house leave with you today is that ing. Now, I'm asking you to help us get the message across on high interest. I know And I want you to know that I am prepared to fight this my can accomplish. I know we've started to turn our economic policy in the right

Broncos Shut Out Eldorado Eagles 38-0 Friday

12 Passing Yds.	89
2-6-0 Passing	6-15-0
3-0 Fumbles-Lost	1-1
2-48.5 Punts-Avg.	5-26.0
11-116 Penalties-Yds.	5-59

Despite some defensive breakdowns at times and a plague of penalties, the Sonora Broncos still had plenty of firepower for a 38-0 blanking of an outgunned Eagle team in Eldorado Friday night.

Despite the occasional lapses that allowed the Eagles to threaten, the defense had virtually a carbon copy of their performance in Junction the previous week, rendering every Eldorado threat harmless.

And while the defense was picking up its second consecutive shutout, the offense was piling up 404 yards rushing.

Fullback David Buitron and halfback Allen Stewart paced the ground attack.

Buitron picked up 142 yards and three touchdowns—one a 70-yarder on the Broncos' first offensive play of the game—on 16 carries while Stewart got his third successive 100-yard effort by gaining 120 yards and one score on 15 carries.

Buitron's game-opening TD came with 8:08 left in the first quarter. Scott Savell booted the PAT for a 7-0 lead.

The Eagles gave the appearance of making a game of it as Gregg Davidson returned the ensuing kickoff 52 yards to the Sonora 35.

The threat ended seven plays later at the 18 as Frankie Gonzales broke up Davidson's fourth intended for Lamar Hardee.

Sonora's next series lost momentum after a five-yard illegal procedure call, but the Eagles fumbled Ronnie Anderson's 45-yard punt all the way back to the 10-yard line where Sonora recovered.

Another procedure penalty squelched the touchdown threat though and the Broncos had to settle for a 24-yard Savell field goal.

The Eagles still had plenty of life as they took the kickoff at their own 30 and marched to the Sonora 26 before Davidson was stopped for no gain on a fourth down and one situation.

The Broncos needed only 12 plays to reach paydirt with Buitron going the final yard with 6:02 remaining in the first half. Savell again added the PAT.

Key plays in the drive came on 11-yard runs by Buitron, Stewart and John Blankenship and a nine-yard pass from Blankenship to Mark Doan.

Buitron got his final touchdown of the night with 42 seconds left in the half, again a one-yard plunge. Savell's kick boosted the lead to 24-0 at halftime.

The Eagles, even with only 39 seconds showing on the clock after the kickoff, nearly got on the scoreboard before the half, mainly with the aid of a 36-yard pass interference penalty down to the 22-yard line.

Davidson missed the target on his first pass attempt, and his second down pass to Hardee near the goal line was dropped as time ran out.

The Broncos muffed a scoring opportunity to open the second half as Stewart's apparent tally on a 16-yard pass from Marney Sorenson was nullified by another procedure penalty and Sonora came up empty.

The Broncos got their only third period score on their next possession when Hardee's seven-yard punt gave them the ball at the Eldorado 32.

A pass interference call on the Eagles the next play gave Sonora a first down at the three, and Stewart scooted over on the next set.

Davidson almost single-handedly mounted the Eagles' most serious scoring threat of the night following the kickoff.

After returning the kickoff to the 24, Davidson completed three straight passes that moved Eldorado down to the Sonora 10.

He carried out of the shotgun formation on the next three plays, leaving the ball only a foot short of lighting the Eagles side of the scoreboard.

On fourth down, the Eagles sent fullback Floyd Gay into the line, but the Bronco defense continued its goal line toughness, stopping him before reaching paydirt.

The Sonora reserves got the final Bronco score with 43 seconds remaining in the game.

After fumbling a punt and having to start at the seven, the Broncos needed only 12 plays to gain a first down at the Eldorado three-yard line.

DeVoe Smith scooted around right end for an apparent TD, but a person-

Smith was denied again three plays later as a 10-yard touchdown jaunt was called back for holding, leaving the Broncos a third down and goal at the 13.

But the young Broncos failed to discourage with Tino Martinez picking up all the necessary yardage on the next play. Savell's conversion left the final score at 38-0.

The win pushes Sonora's record to 2-1, while Eldorado falls to 0-3.

Bronco Freshmen Beat Ballinger 12-6

The Sonora Freshman team traveled to Ballinger and won a tough 12-6 decision over a good Ballinger freshman team.

The Broncos had 198 yards rushing on 37 carries and completed 2 of 6 passes for another 42 yards.

The Broncos scored on their second possession with halfback Jessie Guerra going the last 12 yards around right end. The score again only to have a motion penalty wipe it out.

The Bearcats never really threatened much in the first half as they only crossed mid-field once, and then only to the Bronco 409 yard line.

The second half saw the famed "Sonora Sweep" start going as the Broncos on their first possession drove 80 yards mainly on the sweep.

The final 12 yards was a touchdown pass from quarterback Doug Martin to tight-end Ricky Mesa. The Bearcats finally got on the scoreboard in the final two minutes with the aid of a big fourth down pass interference penalty called against the Bronco secondary.

The total yardage for the game showed fullback Gilbert Martinez with 51 yards on 15 carries, Jessie Guerra with 75 yards on 10 carries, Victor Lira with 40 yards on 11 carries, Lonnie Blankenship with 1 yard on 1 carry and Joe Mike Noriega with 1 yard on 1 carry.

The frosh will take their 2-0 mark to Brady to try the Brady freshman at 5:00 p.m., Sept. 24. Come support the Broncos!

Children's Vision Must Be Checked Before Entering School

Children entering school for the first time in Texas must have their vision checked.

The Sixty-sixth Texas Legislature passed the Children's Vision Screening Act of 1979. The purpose of the act is to identify children who are in need of a professional eye examination to determine whether they are visually handicapped.

The statute requires that all children enrolling in any public, private, parochial or denominational school for the first time must have an eye examination by a licensed eye specialist or an approved vision screener.

To assist in implementing this law, school throughout this area have made arrangements to have school personnel trained as approved vision screeners.

An advisory committee composed of ophthalmologists, optometrists, and public members concerned with children's visual problems has recommended that screening consist of tests for visual acuity. Basic recommendations were approved by the Texas Board of Health.

Further informing regarding the children's vision screening program may be obtained from: Vision Screening Program, Public Health Region 4, Texas Department of Health, P.O. Box 2648, Abilene, Tx. 79604; telephone: (915) 673-5231.

Mayor Declares Sept. 23 "Kiss Your Baby" Day

Mayor Bill Gosney declared September 23 as "Kiss Your Baby" Day in Sonora by signing an official proclamation today.

"Kiss Your Baby" Day will be held as part of the National Cystic Fibrosis Week and the local CF Breath of Life Campaign.

Stressing the need for greater public health education in Sonora, the Mayor parents recognize the symptoms of Cystic Fibrosis in their children.

One of the signs of CF is a salty taste to the skin.

Mothers have sometimes alerted doctors to the possibility of CF when kissing their babies and tasting salt, explained Gosney.

Cystic Fibrosis is inherited by approximately one of every 1,600 American babies. It occurs when a child receives a gene from each parent.

So far, there's no cure for CF, but early diagnosis and treatment are helping to lengthen lives. Today, 50 percent of CF patients can be expected to live past age 19, where once few survived to school age.

The signs of Cystic Fibrosis include: recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing with excessive mucus, pneumonia more than once, excessive appetite with poor weight gain.

Cystic Fibrosis signs also include a salty taste of the skin, persistent bulky diarrhea and nasal polyps.

The Mayor joins the Lone Star Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation urging every one to "Kiss Your Baby" and watch for the signs of Cystic Fibrosis in all children.

Why gas is plentiful:

50% of the Gas

There are thousands of square miles of natural gas formations in these nine basins. Industry experts estimate that these basins hold 50% of the nation's remaining onshore reserves. Lone

New Voice Being Heard In Texas Classrooms

To, Billie, and Cody Renfro recently went alligator hunt in Louisiana during alligator season. They captured 58 alligators in two days. Pictured above is Cody with the largest alligator. It was 12 1/2 feet long and weighed 558 lbs. It was captured at the mouth of the Mississippi river in a swamp in Vennis, Louisiana.

Above the din of noise about teachers leaving their classrooms for higher paying jobs and students' scores falling, a new voice is gaining momentum with an organization of some 35,000 Texas educators who are supporting a resurgence of quality.

and confusion that currently reign in many classrooms today must be replaced by commitment, confidence, and character." Mike Morrow, executive director of the Association of Texas Professional Educators (ATPE) told high school vocational counselors at a conference sponsored by the Texas Education Agency in Austin recently.

ATPE, the association which Morrow represents, experienced a 50 percent increase in membership last year which he attributes to the fact that "teachers are sick and tired of the current union tactics and political overtones that some teacher groups have adopted."

"While our members want and are entitled to a standard of living commensurate with their training and education, they are concerned with more than their paycheck and beating the kids out the door when the bell rings at 3:30 p.m.," Morrow said.

ATPE supports local control of public schools and is not affiliated with the National Education Association as in the Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA).

"We believe that the direction of education in this state should be decided by Texans instead of bureaucrats in Washington," state president Charles Pickitt, Richardson, said.

Another major difference between the two associations is that ATPE vehemently opposes collective bargaining for public school employees and was successful at stymieing TSTA's bid to get legislation passed by the 67th Legislature making it legal in Texas.

"If it ever comes to the classroom teacher putting down the textbooks and chalk for the picket sign, the children of Texas will be the big losers," Molly Morrow said.

formed a local unit of ATPE in Corpus Christi, said.

"It is time that the taxpayers who are footing the bill for education in this state realize that there is a strong movement among organized labor and the TSTA to initiate collective bargaining for school teachers in this state," Morrow said.

"On the other hand, it is also time for the public to realize that if quality education is to exist they must get priorities straight and bring salaries in line with those for other college graduates who are entering private industry.

"While many young people are choosing other higher paying professions, and some veterans are leaving education for the same reason, many dedicated teachers are hanging in there working to improve quality and accountability without militancy. These are the teachers ATPE represents," Morrow said.

Caffeine Abuse Could Be Dangerous

When caffeine was first introduced to the Western world it was considered to be an intoxicating drug, and was ranked alongside morphine as dangerous to health. Nevertheless, coffee, which contains more caffeine than any other common beverage, has gained social acceptance. It is now one of the most popular drinks in America.

Caffeine is a potent drug. It is a central nervous system stimulant, a heart muscle stimulant, a stimulant of stomach acid, and it increases the frequency of urination. As drugs go it is safe when used in moderation, but too much of it will cause unwanted and even dangerous side-effects. say the Texas Medical Association (TMA).

Low doses of caffeine, one or two cups of coffee per day, can have desirable effects. It increases alertness, reduces drowsiness and lessens fatigue. But heavy doses of caffeine produce the syndrome known as "caffeineism."

Caffeine is a collection of symptoms brought about by too much caffeine. Just how much is too much? According to the American Dietetic Association, 500 mg of caffeine, or four cups of coffee per day, is a heavy dose for most people. Tea contains half as much caffeine as coffee, and cola drinks even less.

Caffeine's effects peak after one hour, and last for approximately three hours. The more caffeine you regularly consume, the greater your tolerance for it will be.

Symptoms of caffeineism include nervousness, anxiety, irritability, headaches, muscle twitches, insomnia, stomach disturbances, palpitations, mental confusion and even delirium, with higher doses.

Caffeineism can be easily mistaken for chronic anxiety and it can also worsen existing symptoms of anxiety and depression. Although caffeine is a stimulant, long-term heavy use has a "rebound effect" and causes depression. Regular users may not even notice these symptoms or associate them with caffeine.

Children and elderly individuals are prime candidates for caffeineism. As we age our tolerance for caffeine lessens, so we are more apt to suffer the effects of caffeineism at lower doses. Children, whose body weights are lower than adults', may experience caffeineism with as few as three cola drinks per day.

Caffeine is addictive. If it is eliminated, habitual heavy users will experience withdrawal symptoms such as sluggishness and "caffeine headache." Symptoms disappear by taking more caffeine—a vicious cycle. That aspirin which seems to help your headache actually works because of the caffeine contained in many headache preparations.

Happily for caffeine addicts, caffeine withdrawal only lasts a few days. It may be time to think twice about that second cup of morning coffee.

Scholarship Offered by UT

Outstanding high school seniors across the state will be interested in a new $10,000 scholarship at The University of Texas at Austin. The Texas Excellence Award Scholarship and Leadership is the first of its kind in the state. Funded by alumni through the Foundation for Texas Excellence of The Ex-Students' Association, the award is based solely on academic accomplishment and leadership in extracurricular activities. The first five Texas Excellence Award winners will be announced in March, 1982. Each award will be granted over a four-year period ($2500 per year).

To be eligible, students must rank in the top 5 percent of their class at the end of the junior year. Beyond scholastic achievement, students must demonstrate leadership ability. Approximately ten finalists will be selected in a process involving University officials, distinguished alumni and other UT officials. Following on-campus interviews, five recipients will be chosen. Announcements and awards will be made the winners' hometown by local Texas Exes Club.

At 100 years ago, the Texas Legislature established The University of Texas at Austin to serve the State of Texas as a 'University the first class.' Today the Texas Excellence Award celebrates that tradition by emphasizing the University of Texas' commitment to academic excellence.

High school seniors may obtain application forms from their school counselors from The Ex-Students' Association (P.O. Box 8, Austin, Texas, 7871) The deadline for return applications is November 1.

TSGRA Supports Federal Position

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association hasn't found itself defending a U.S. Interior Secretary very often in recent years. We've usually been of the opposing side, for what we consider very sound reasons.

Now the tables have turned, and we're lined up beside Interior Secretary James Watt, also for what we consider plenty sound reasons.

Chances are these days if you see a picture of Watt in any of the popular media -- newspapers, magazines or TV -- or hear him mentioned on the radio, you can prepare yourself for a negative report.

In fact, you can pretty well expect an outright pretense-of-fairness attack on the man's policies, his character, even his religious beliefs.

Photographs of protestors carrying signs with slogans like "What's wrong!" may substitute for pictures of the man himself, and in at least one such case it was obvious that someone on a magazine staff had inked over the wording on the signs so they'd jump out at the reader. The better to get the point across, you understand.

Why the venom? To borrow from the protestors and their media publicists -- "What's wrong? Watt's reasonable!"

For decades now, environmentalists have had things almost entirely their way in Washington. They have locked away millions of acres of once-productive federal land and severely restricted the use of millions more, extending their control over hundreds of thousands of acres of intermingled state and private land in the process. They've tricked Congress into writing ambiguous and open-ended "environmental protection" laws and hand-picked most of the bureaucrats who were given broad authority to interpret and expand upon those laws.

The extremists and their organizations have carried on their even more restrictive Socialist programs in the name of altruism and world-saving -- and amassed incredible fortunes in so doing by playing on the emotions of people with nobetter place to spend their money.

The problem with Watt is that he won't play that game -- at least he won't officiate in favor of their team, and they're used to owning the referees in addition to pretending they own the football!

Watt has made it known in no uncertain terms that he's in favor of a balanced approach to environmental issues rather than the sort of single-minded insanity that now threatens to bury California's bounteous agriculture industry in a pile of fruit fly specks -- and has already handed much of the Western sheep industry over to the coyotes.

Where does the national news media fit into this picture? The same place it always fits when there's a conservative/liberal controversy -- somewhere left of center and leaning markedly. Need examples?

Sticking close to the subject at hand, how many times have you seen an AP, UPI or network TV news story point out that California Gov. Jerry Brown's environmentalist intransigence is the only reason the fruit fly disaster wasn't stamped out a year ago when it was no more than a local headache? How many land-use or pesticide stories can you recall where environmental activists had less than a two-to-one advantage over their opponents in both space and quotations?

A recent issue of one of those magazines they use to fatten your Sunday paper carried a classic Watt story complete with the sign-carrying protestor picture and a color cover showing watt's face surrounded by oil derricks, strip mining equipment and loggers. You could tell which way the story tilted without even turning the page.

As so many have, this story began by making fun of Watt's religious beliefs, than ticked off a list of the things he's already done "wrong". We at the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association don't see what's "wrong" about:

Calling a halt to more and bigger national parks -- It's been nearly two years since the Government Accounting Office released a scratching report blasting the National Park Service's greedy land-grab tactics and recommending that the government not only quit gobbling up private land, but even give back some of what it's already taken. Watt is the first of the big brass to take heed, pointing out that the government is billions of dollars short of being able to take care of all the parks it owns now.

"Unlocking some of the millions of acres of Western land removed from any productive use -- Environmentalists are calling it a "land grab" by developers and other big nasties, but the truth is they themselves have been the "grabbers." The way they have things rigged now, these millions of acres virtually belong to a handful of backpackers who pay nothing for the privilege of "owning" them. We agree with Watt that these public lands should benefit all Americans, as they would if allowed to produce live stock, timber and minerals. As for being "scarce wilderness," most of this land is no more wilderness than the average West Texas ranch; and neither we nor Watt propose "unlocking" the remainder that truly qualifies as wilderness.

Turning some strip-mining rules and enforcement over to the states -- which is where we fervently believe it belongs in the first place. Precious few of the Washington bureaucrats who write and interpret the rules we all live under have the foggiest idea what they're doing. As an example, federal rules now require strip-mined land to be returned to the same condition it was in before it mined. Some far-sighted mining companies are proving now that they can make former Western grazing land better than it was, but the air-heads on the Potomac won't allow better, just the same as.

Actually, Watts problem with the radical environmentalists stems more from what's wrong with them than what might be wrong with him or his policies. In its successes, the "eco-lobby" has been guilty of a great deal of excess, and the American people have finally come to realize that. Ten or twelve years ago people were falling all over themselves to support any scheme, half-baked notion or organization affiliated with the terms "ecology" or "environment." That's no longer true, and these vast organizations with their aquired momentary tithes are feeling the pinch. By painting it as an ogre, they've reopened the gold mine, so to speak. We think their new play out, but we hope James Watt at his refreshingly reasonable attitude don't play first.

To All Postal Customers! Help!

Please advise your correspondents of your correct mailing address.

Please help us to help you. Many postal customers using Post Office box delivery are actually having mail addressed to their street address rather than to a box number. Also many customers who have given up their box for street delivery are still getting mail addressed to the old box number, or there is no address at all on the mail.

You may not realize that this practice causes the postal service to undergo multiple extra handlings for each piece of incorrectly addressed mail. Such mail is not only expensive to handle, but causes misdelivery of your mail and delays it unnecessarily. This must be corrected if we are to provide you, our customers with the type of

Postal Service you expect. Customers receiving mail through Post Office boxes must use their Post office box Number immediately above the city, state and correct zip code. If you want your correspondents to know your actual street address, it is perfectly acceptable to use the dual system as illustrated below:

For P.O. Box Delivery: Your Name or Company
202 N.E. Main St.
P.O. Box 1300
Sonora, Tx. 76950

For Street Address Delivery: Your name or Company
202 N.E. Main St.
Sonora, Tx. 76950

Please cooperate with us, to speed up the handling of your mail and to help keep the cost of your mail service down. By notifying all your correspondents of your proper mailing address, making all necessary corrections in your stationery, letterheads, return address on printed envelopes and in advertisements appearing in telephone directories, you will get your mail delivered the way you want it.

Beginning on September 30, 1981 all mail not properly addressed or mail with no correct mailing address will be returned or disposed of according to current Postal Regulations.

If we can be of any assistance to you in getting your mailing list corrected, please call 387-3161. There is a nominal charge for this service. We do not give out addresses over the telephone.

Changes In Game Regulations

The County Attorney's office would like to outline some changes in the Game and Wildlife regulations of Texas, particularly affecting Sutton County hunters and residents that were passed by the most recent legislature.

1. New State Waterfowl stamp required for anyone hunting waterfowl. This stamp costs $5.00; may be obtained from anybody selling hunting and fishing license; does not exempt persons from Federal Migratory Waterfowl Stamp. Anyone hunting without stamp or refusing to show the Stamp to a Game Warden or peace officer upon demand may be found guilty of a Class "C" misdemeanor carrying a maximum fine up to $200.00.

2. Possession of an electricity producing device commonly used to shock fish in a boat or within 1/2 mile of any water in this state is now an offense. The device may be seized and destroyed. First time conviction of this law a Class "C" misdemeanor and a third time conviction within ten (10) years carries a Class "A" misdemeanor penalty.

3. All persons hunting or taking fur bearing animals must now have a license. It is no longer legal to leave a fur bearing animal without taking the pelt, without having a license. All persons in a vehicle group hunting or taking fur-bearing animals must have a license, not just the person selling the pelt. (This extends to wives and children in vehicle, etc.) New penalties for violation of the taking of fur bearing animals include enhancement of second time offense within thirty-six (36) months providing for a $200.00 - $500.00 fine and/or thirty (30) to ninety (90) days in jail. Conviction a third time within sixty (60) months of a first conviction carries a fine of $500.00 to 2000.00 and/or not less than six (6) months nor more than one (1) year in jail. The statute now provides for a separate offense for each fur bearing animal or pelt taken or possessed illegally. Statute now provides for revocation of license for a conviction under these statutes and prohibits getting new license within one(1) year of revocation.

4. Wild Elk are no longer considered a game animal in our county.

5. Criminal trespass violations carry greater than Class "C" misdemeanor classification and the definition now provides that fencing or other enclosure obviously designed to exclude intruders or to contain livestock; or a sign or signs posted on the property or at the entrance to building, reasonable designed to come to the attention of the intruders, indicating that entry is forbidden" constitutes "notice" under the statutes.

6. Statutes now prohibit the hunting of "any wild animal or bird" (expanding its prior game classifications) from motor vehicles, power boats or other floating devices except where the animals are not classified as migratory animals and the hunting takes place within the boundaries of private property or upon purpose of hunting and so long as no attempt is made to hunt on any part of the road system of this State.

7. Several statutory changes provide for enhanced penalties for subsequent convictions for violations of numerous game laws and provide for jail time and/or greater fines for violations.

The Public is advised to check with the Game Warden's office or County Attorney concerning any questions in connection with the game laws and is further advised to exercise caution and respect while

TOM LOEFFLER
Congressman
21st District-Texas

Reports from Washington

On Being Home

No matter where Texans live or travel in the world, we look forward to heading home to the Lone Star state. And whether it is watching the gently flowing Guadalupe River's south fork near my home, or following a busy schedule to squeeze in as many visits as possible, I find myself refreshed and renewed from having had the experience.

The month-long congressional recess allowed me an occasion to spend quality time with Kathy and the boys. And it also provided me the opportunity to travel throughout the 21st Congressional District. Your letters and telephone calls are an accurate and essential barometer of your thoughts and attitudes; nothing, however, can replace the importance of personal contact.

Congress left town on a political high in August, taking pride in the fact that it had moved legislative mountains in passing the biggest spending and tax cut bills in history. We made a greater impact in a few months than many congresses have done in a two-year lifetime.

Time and again I heard words of praise and encouragement for President Reagan and the success shared with Congress in passing the first phase of the program for economic recovery.

Across the many miles — at service clubs, public events, private tours, constituent meetings and more telephone calls — I found people genuinely interested in Mr. Reagan and full of good wishes in his effort to lead the country.

I found universal support for the President's firm stand on the air traffic controllers' strike — even from people who experienced minor delays in air travel as a result.

In talking about the Libyan incident I found a new expression of national pride that this country had stood its ground and repelled the attack with the appropriate force.

I found people with a genuine concern about the status of social security and how it affects older Americans. With the understandable apprehension, I found a mature willingness to help find the solution for which we must all search and work.

As might be expected, the toughest and most frequent questions came on the economy. Those of us who worked hard to pass the program for economic recovery are proud of the victory and believe in it. Interest rates are high now. In passing the program which goes into effect October 1st, we have crossed the initial hurdle and we are now at work again to continue to repair the economy.

Our economic recovery will not be measured in miles; it will be in inches and feet. We have to begin somewhere and we have now begun. The first steps are important. As the journey proceeds, if our initial programs need mid-course corrections, we are prepared to make the necessary adjustments.

The "road," however, is not all politics. There are occasions like the swearing-in ceremony for Ed Prado as the first Hispanic to serve as U.S. Attorney for the Western District of Texas, and speaking to a group of men and women of all ages, creeds and national origins who sought and earned their right to become naturalized American citizens.

There are the touching moments, also. In San Angelo, I spent time with youngsters at the West Texas Boys Ranch where some really great people are devoting an incredible amount of time and energy to shape the lives of those denied childhood experiences we sometimes take for granted.

In San Antonio, I sat down with doctors and nurses who work with children stricken with often incurable diseases, whose only hope for treatment and possible survival depends on the public services available at the Santa Rosa Hospital outpatient clinic. Both the ranch and the hospital need our support.

I'm back at work now. Congress is already gearing up for another flurry of activity that may well equal some of the tough legislative battles behind us. Thanks to a good visit at home and a personal mandate reinforced, I approach the challenges with a new and directed energy.

Bentsen Introduces Resolution To Discourage Loans For Big Business Mergers

Senator Lloyd Bentsen on Tuesday, Sept. 15 saying "high interest rates are the number one issue in America today," proposed that the Federal Reserve Board discourage loans for big business mergers.

Bentsen introduced a resolution in the Senate.

"Anyone who surveys the economic landscape today can see that our achievements of recent months and the whole process of economic recovery are in dire jeopardy from high interest rates," Bentsen said in a Floor Speech accompanying his resolution.

"One of my colleagues was on the Floor of the Senate last week and correctly pointed out that it is easier to criticize the Fed for the current crisis than to propose concrete policy suggestions."

"I would like to propose a concrete policy suggestion for the Fed and I would hope to get the Senate on record as favoring my proposal," Bentsen said.

"As the Fed raises interest rates higher and higher, the people are beginning to ask some hard questions. They want to know how it is, with capital in such short supply, a chemical company can arrange a $billion line of credit to buy an oil company," Bentsen said.

"How many new jobs are created by this kind of transaction? How does it improve productivity in our economy? Does it represent a rational or efficient use of a scarce resource?"

"The people are asking why they can't qualify for a mortgage, but large corporations can tie up more than $50 billion in lines of credit to affect mergers or to fend them off."

"I believe the Fed should be 'jaw-boning' member banks on their lending policies. And I believe the purpose of this campaign should be to make less credit available to these huge corporations for mergers."

"This is not a new or radical idea. In 1966, in 1974 and again in 1980 -- when Paul Volcker was Chairman -- the Federal Reserve Board 'jaw-boned' member banks and other lending institutions in an attempt to persuade them to alter their lending policies."

"I do not pretend that 'jaw-boning' by the fed, all by itself, is going to solve the high notch while Congress and the Administration work on further spending reductions necessary to bring the budget into balance and keep it there."

"For too long we have asked our homebuilders our farmers and our small businessmen to be the inevitable first victims in the periodic high interest crusades against the fortress of inflation. That policy is unfair and the American people will not stand for it much longer," Bentsen said.

"I'm not suggesting a return to the policies of inflation. I'm not suggesting that there are easy or painless remedies to the present crisis. But I do maintain that the Federal Reserve -- as it has three times in the past -- should be doing everything possible to help those who are most vulnerable to cope with punishing and protracted high interest rates. I believe the Fed has an obligation to help us create a climate in which we can treat the root causes of our problems without destroying our economy in the process," Senator Bentsen said.

Cities With Strict Gun Laws Shown To Have Highest Crime

A National Rifle Association analysis of the latest crime statistics published by the FBI reveals that those major metropolitan areas with strict gun laws lead the nation in their rates of violent crime.

Among cities whose populations exceed 500,000, Boston was listed as America's most violent town last year. The 1980 statistics are contained in the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports released on September 10, 1981.

Boston is followed by New York City, Baltimore, Washington, D.C. and Cleveland, all of which have extremely rigid gun laws.

Massachusetts, in 1975, adopted the Bartley-Fox Act, establishing a mandatory jail term for the unlicensed carrying of a firearm. In 1974, the year before Bartley-Fox took effect, Boston ranked fifth in overall violent crime. It now ranks first. New York City also leads the nation in armed robbery with 1,429.2 per 100,000 population, more than 100 thousand last year.

Baltimore, with stringent gun licensing and registration requirements, saw a 19 percent increase in its rate of robbery last year over 1980.

And Washington D.C., where the private overall violent crime before the handgun ban to fourth place in 1980.

Since the District of Columbia enacted its handgun ban its murder rate has risen 17 percent, according to the FBI's data. In near-by Virginia, where there are relatively few restrictions on gun ownership other than those imposed by Federal law, the murder rate dropped 9 percent.

The UCR statistics show that, overall, the United States' murder rate has fluctuated in recent years. It fell from 9.8 per 100,000 in 1974 to 8.8 in 1976 and 1977. Then it rose to 9.7 in 1979 and rose again to 10.2 in 1980.

Firearm involvement in murder, however, has declined during those years, down from 67.9 percent in 1974 to 62.4 percent for 1980.

Additional, handgun involvement in murder has fallen from 1974, when handguns were involved in 54 percent of U.S. murders, to 50 percent in 1980. This decrease has occurred despite the influx of more than 13 million new handguns into U.S. circulation during the same time period.

Sonora Postmaster Reports

Americans are receiving more mail -- important mail -- than at any time in postal history," says Sonora Postmaster A.A. Vaughan. "Yet, when it comes time to call the movers, one of the most overlooked of all procedures is notifying the proper parties of the change of address. In addition to the personal expense and inconvenience to the homeowner and mailers, undeliverable addressed mail has become one of the hidden costs of mailing."

Postmaster Vaughan says the Postal Service spends about $550 million a year to handle an estimated 4.5 billion pieces of mail that is undeliverable. "This is expense that ultimately ends up within the price of postage stamps, and worse, it is unnecessary. Change of address is a simple matter today."

The Postal Service has been urging its customers to inform all correspondents promptly of address changes at least 30 days before a scheduled move. With an assist from moving companies, real estate agents and others, the Postal Service distributes from ten to sixteen million change of address kits every year to make it easier to notify correspondents and publishers.

"The primary strength of this program is that everyone benefits from it," says Postmaster Vaughan.

"The family that is moving benefits because their mail continues to arrive promptly, stores and other business correspondents can avoid billing problems, and the Postal Service is able to process the mail more efficiently and at less cost. The kit contains convenient card for notifying the postmaster, publishers, businesses, doctors, state and local agencies and utilities. The kit also includes a checklist of group and individuals to be contacted prior to a move.

Sales Tax No Longer Due On Therapeutic Devices

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday reminded Texans that sales tax is no longer due on any therapeutic device bought or rented by a person when it's prescribed by a doctor.

"This exemption doesn't cover hot tubs," Bullock warned.

The change, authorized by the Legislature last spring, affects the buying or renting of oxygen equipment, devices which help reduce or eliminate pain and all therapeutic items obtained under a physician's prescription.

Bullock said the Legislature also broadened the motor vehicle tax exemption to include vehicles modified for orthopedically-handicapped persons.

The exemption now applies to modified vehicles whose primary use is to transport an orthopedically-handicapped person.

We are concerned, as you are, about the ever-increasing postal rates. These increased rates have resulted from many of the same things that are causing your daily living expenses to increase--higher utility rates, higher gasoline prices and generally higher prices. We are searching for ways to decrease our costs and still maintain service.

There are many ways in which you can help keep postal rates at a reasonable level without significantly hurting your service. Moving your box from your door to the curb will save an average of $11.00 per year for delivery to your address. Ultimately, these savings will be reflected in stabilized postage rates.

Many of our customers already have their boxes at the curb. Shown are drawings showing regulations for proper installation of curb-side mailboxes maybe you and your next door neighbor would like to place your boxes on the same post located on the property line. This would, of course, result in additional savings.

If you are as concerned about our postal service as we are and would like to do something to help, please consider our request and place your mailbox on a post at the curb. Your cooperation will be sincerely appreciated.

Sincerely,
A.A. Vaughan
Postmaster
Sonora, TX. 76950

Boxes should be placed three to four inches behind the front edge of the curb and should be 36 to 42 inches in height from bottom of the box to the street level. Ornamental posts are permissible. Names may be placed on the left side; however, this is not required.

Neighbors may consider placing two boxes on one post on the property line between homes.

Horse Symposium Scheduled For Ector Co.

The first West Texas Horse Symposium is scheduled here Oct. 3 in Barn A of the Ector County Coliseum Complex.

Registration fee, said Dr. Nelson J. Adams, will be $8 a person for the program, which begins at 8 a.m. and ends about 5 p.m. Nelson, livestock specialist for the Far West District of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, heads the committee that has planned the symposium.

Jim Mazurkiewicz, Ector County Extension Agent, said numerous persons planning to be at the symposium have indicated they will take part the day before in a tour of three area horse breeding farms.

The Oct. 3 program in Barn A will be in two parts, the first occupying all morning, when specialist will discuss the trends in marketing horses, the nutrition of horses, and the health of West Texas horses.

Speakers in the morning will be Mike Hughes of Sanger, Dr. Dough Householder of College Station and Dr. Don McDonald practices veterinary medicine and produces horses.

Persons at the symposium will have a choice of two programs in the afternoon—one for consumers, when Suzanne Jones of Tatum, N.M., instructs in the use of bits and riding techniques, with emphasis on English equitation.

The second afternoon program will be aimed mainly at producers, when speakers will discuss the factors affecting the cycle of broodmares, the reproductive performance of broodmares, and the operation of a horse breeding farm.

Speakers will be Dr. John M. Bowen, professor of large animal surgery at Texas A & M University School of Veterinary Medicine; Jack Kreider, A & M professor of equine physiology, and Leonard Blach, doctor of veterinary medicine for the Buenos Suerte Ranch at Roswell, N.M.

WTRC Slates Cattleman's Roundup

"When people think of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, they think of the Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children," says CRCC general chairman Jim Alexander.

And that's as it should be. Alexander sees the Cattleman's Round-Up as the backbone of the Rehab Center's fund-raising, responsible for the grass roots support that is still vital to WTRC.

"It's what got the Center off and going. These area people working for the Cattleman's Round-Up are still what keeps it working. I don't want these people ever to feel like they are not important. They are important," he said. "We need for them to feel they are a vital part."

Alexander said, as he has said since assuming the chairmanship of the Cattleman's Round-Up in 1979, that this year's sales will be the biggest and the best.

Goal for the 1981 CRCC is $185,000. The sale schedule this year is cattle sale, Sept. 28, Abilene Auction; horse sale, Oct. 3. Abilene Auction; sheep and goat sale, Oct. 5. Junction Stockyards; special sale, Oct. 7. Coleman Livestock Auction; special sale, Nov. 4. Brownwood Cattle Auction; and farm equipment sale, Nov. 7. Sweetwater.

By each area chairman talking to his or her friends and neighbors, Alexander believes that the Livestock donations will come in. "People give to people. That's how the area chairmen make it work," he said.

Alexander claims to have been Shelley Smith's first patient in Abilene, even before the West Texas Rehabilitation Center existed. "I had a bad back when I was a teenager—still do—and Shelley worked on it. That's how I got to know Shelley," he explained. Alexander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Minor Alexander, supported the Center from its start.

"We try to involve every facet of our business in the Cattleman's Round-Up," he said. He is involved in cattle operations including a feedlot as well as other businesses.

Alexander believes that most people getting into the cattle business are those who have some background in it.

"The ones who make it in the cattle business are the ones who have the staying power to get through the bad periods—or are crazy enough to want to," he said.

There will be no problem getting a market for the cattle at the series of CRCC sales this fall.

"There is always someone to buy. They may stretch some to give a little more, but there's always a market."

Re-emphasizing the tradition behind the CRCC, Alexander said: "Remember the area chairmen. They are the ones that make it work and we need for them to feel they are a vital part of everything we're doing."

"Make It With Wool" Contest Set In November

Make It Yourself With Wool contest information went out during June to give home sewers plenty of time to prepare for November district contests. It is designed to focus attention on the beauty and versatility of wool and mohair; to encourage use of these incomparable fabrics and yarns in sewing, knitting/crocheting fashionable garments; and to offer home sewers the opportunity to compete for valuable prizes and win recognition for their sewing skills.

The contest is open to all American citizens, regardless of race, creed or sex, who meet the age and other requirements and abide by the general rules set forth for the competition.

Age categories are determined by age as of December 31 of the contest year. They are: Pre-Teen (10-13); Junior (14-16); Senior (17-24); Adult (over 24). Pre-Teens compete only at the district level. Adults do not advance past state competition.

Contestants may enter any one of the seven district contests to be held at different locations in Texas

Sonora Ram Tests Scheduled

The annual ram performance test to be conducted at the Sonora Experiment Station will get underway officially on Oct. 14, said Dr. Maurice Shelton, geneticist in charge of the test.

However, the finewool sheep are due at the station by Sept. 23 to begin a three-week adjustment period prior to the first weighing.

The blackface rams are to be delivered to the station by Oct. 21, with the first official weigh-day to be Nov. 11.

Entry forms and more information about the 81-82 test are available from Dr. Shelton or Dr. George Ahlschwede at 387-4576 in San Angelo or Dr. Don Spiller at 387-3168 in Sonora.

Bullock Reports Changes In Tax Laws

Comptroller Bob Friday said persons who buy items subject to the use tax should be aware of changes in the law now in effect. Persons who purchase a resale certificate to purchase an item are now required to file the item to the state's sales tax.

ous or educational organization and not be liable for the sales tax on the item. "This means a merchant can take items from inventory and give them to any organization that's exempt from the sales tax and the merchant doesn't have to report the gifts as taxable purchases when they file their tax return," Bullock said.

Bullock pointed out that the Legislature expanded the categories of organizations that qualify for an exemption from sales tax if they are exempted from federal taxes by the Internal Revenue Service. Provided the organization has a letter from the IRS saying it is exempt from federal taxes, Bullock said the categories now exempt from the state's sales tax include: --Organizations such as Rotary, Optimists, Kiwanas, Junior Chambers of Commerce, Lions and Garden Clubs and some property owner associations that are exempt from federal taxes under section 501 (c) (4) of the Internal Revenue Code (IRC). --Fraternal societies such as Masons, Elks, Moose, Knights of Columbus, DeMolay and Eastern Star that are exempt under Section 501 (c) (10) of the IRC. --Organizations formed to benefit veterans such as the Air Force Association, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans that are exempt under Section 501 (c) (19) of the IRC. Bullock said another change in the state law affects the amount of tax due when a person has issued either a resale or an exemption certificate to purchase an item and then uses the item for personal benefit for some period of time. Instead of tax being due on the purchase price of the item, the amount of tax due will be equal to the amount that would be due if the person had rented the item for the period of time it was used for personal benefit, he said.

Angelo Community Theatre Moves To New Location

Highway 273

Angelo Community Theatre (A.C.T.) has moved into its new location at 1001 NE Crockett. The group is re-opening the old Parkway Sherwood. The theatre has a new stage and seating. Formed by a group of local citizens in 1985, the theatre was to purchase a new city hall. The oldest organized civic theatre in the state of Texas and is continuing presentations of quality performances through complete volunteer dedication of services, materials, and funds. The theater brings to our

West Texas area a culture and attraction few cities of the United States can boast of. A.C.T. Childrens Theatre is giving many area youths an appreciation of the arts from both the actors and audience sides of the stage. Almost $300,000 has now been raised and spent to build a new home for A.C.T. which will seat 230 people. With A.C.T.'s first play in December help is needed now to provide the additional funding and necessary items to make A.C.T. a vibrant functioning adult and children's theater for the San Angelo area. Robert Wieting, Chairman of Special Projects Committee for the A.C.T. building, and L. Gray Beck, Building Advisory Committee Chairman, will be continuing with their committees to raise the remaining amount needed to complete the theatre. If you are interested in volunteering services, material, or funds please contact Robert Wieting at Central National Bank or Doctor Alan Justice, A.C.T. Director, at the new Angelo Community Theatre, 1936 Sherwood Way, Box 3525, San Angelo 76902 (949-4400).

tions for the revision of laws. Rep. McBee is serving her fourth term in the House of Representatives, is chairperson of the Committee on Calendars, and is a member of the Committees on Elections and Agriculture and Livestock. Clayton stated: "As a public servant for the last 20 years, I am glad to see the creation of this committee. Rep. 16 Pipeline Permits Granted by RRC

A total of 16 permits to operate new pipelines in Texas were granted by the Railroad Commission in August 1981, according to the RRC's Oil and Gas Division.

Ten of the permits were for gathering pipelines, five were for trunk transmission lines, and one was for a feed stock line.

Gathering lines bring oil and gas from production leases, while a trunk transmission line is a larger diameter line into which smaller lines connect. Feed stock is crude oil or other hydrocarbons that are basic materials for refining or manufacturing processes.

Eleven of the newly-permitted pipelines will transport gas, two will move crude oil and condensates, and three will transport petroleum products or other material.

In August, four permits were granted in East Texas, three in Southeast Texas, two each in deep South Texas, East Central Texas and the San Angelo area, and one each in West Central Texas and the San Antonio and Refugio areas.

Gathering lines approved: Smackover Shell Limited, New Orleans, La.; Henderson County; 77 Pipeline Co., Houston, gas, Coleman County; Southwest Petrogathering Co., Houston, gas, Harrison County, Texas Gas Corp., Corpus Christi, gas, Gregg and Rusk counties; Southwestern Electric Power Co., Shreveport, La., gas, Panola County; Western Crude Oil, Inc., Denver, Colo., crude and condensate, Burleson County; South Texas Instruments, Inc.,

Pleasanton, gas, Atascosa County; Burleson County; South Texas Instruments, Inc., Pleasanton, gas, Atascosa County; Columbia Gulf Transmission Co., Houston, gas, Austin County; Dome Petroleum Corp., Denver, Colo., gas, Runnels County; Southern Petroleum Co., Palestine, gas,

Navarro County. Trunk transmission lines approved: Tejas Gas Corp., Corpus Christi, gas (two lines-one in Aransas County, the other in Rusk County); Petromax Refining Co., Houston, petroleum products, Harris County, Esperanza Transmission Co.,

Corpus Christi, gas, Nueces County; Sigmore Pipeline Co., San Antonio, crude and condensates, Bee and Live Oak counties. Feed stock line approved: Valero Marketing Co., Houston, other materials, Sutton County.

Higher Gasoline Prices Forecast

Gasoline prices may go up six cents a gallon despite the world oil glut. That's the conclusion of oil analyst Dan Lundberg. Lundberg says refiners lowered their prices this summer to try to stimulate a sluggish market and lost money in the process. He says they will now have to raise prices to recover that profit margin. The six cents a gallon should be in place by the end of December according to Lundberg. Another development affecting gasoline costs involves credit cards. Texaco said it will charge its dealers a three percent processing fee for credit card transactions beginning November first. If dealers pass on that charge, it could raise prices three to four cents a gallon. In other news, El Paso Natural Gas will pay $9.30 per MCF for gas from

Caddo County, Oklahoma. Meanwhile, Finland was able to get its price reduced in the gas it buys from Russia. Finland was able to get the price cut from $2.20 MCF to $1.76 per thousand. And, a research firm, Goldman Sachs, says the Reagan Administration will push for natural gas deregulation before the end of this year, because Congress will be reluctant to decontrol in an election year. In the Permian Basin our rig count for last week was 492. One year ago it was 338.

Texas Petrochemical Discoveries Down From Last Year

Texas operators reported 130 gas and 37 oil discoveries in August 1981, the Railroad Commission's Oil and Gas Division announced today.

In the year-earlier month, 135 gas and 65 oil discoveries were filed with the state's energy regulatory agency.

Gas discoveries in the eighth month of the year included 33 in the San Antonio area, 28 each in deep South Texas and the Refugio area, 14 in West Central Texas, 13 in Southeast Texas, five in East Texas, four in North Texas, three in East Central Texas and two in the Midland area.

Oil discoveries included 10 in Southeast Texas, nine in West Central Texas, five in the Refugio area, four in the San Antonio area, two each in the San Angelo, Midland and Lubbock areas and one each in deep South Texas, East Texas and North Texas.

In August, operator reported 421 exploratory and field tests wound up as dry holes. New applications for permits to drill oil and gas tests totaled 3,388 in August amounted to 3,724 against 2,806 a year earlier.

Operators filed 874 amended applications to drill. A year earlier they submitted 602 amended requests.

Coastal Corporation Sets New Venture

The Coastal Corporation reported today its subsidiary, Coastal Limited Ventures, Inc., has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission covering a $37 million offering of units of a limited partnership which will participate in a $45 million development and exploratory drilling program in 1982. The offering is expected to begin on or about November 1, 1981. The limited partnership, Coastal 1982 Drilling Program, Ltd., proposes to offer 37,000 units will be limited partners. Other Coastal subsidiaries will assign development and exploratory drilling blocks to a joint venture with the limited partnership. Wells will be drilled on these blocks during 1982 from the proceeds of the sale of the units plus an $8 million loan the joint venture is to secure.

Under the terms of the proposed joint venture, the partnership will pay all the costs of drilling, completing and equipping wells and will receive 90 per cent of the net revenues from the wells until partnership payout. The coastal subsidiaries will contribute drilling blocks and receive 10 per cent of the revenues during this period. After the partnership will receive 40 per cent of the net revenues with the Coastal subsidiaries receiving the remaining 60 per cent.

The offering will be made only by a prospectus which is expected to be mailed to eligible stockholders and employees following clearance by the SEC and various state securities regulatory agencies.

The June 1981 allowable totaled 109,786,166 barrels. The preliminary June summary indicated Texas oil production was 32.64 percent under the allowable for the month.

Texas oil production averaged 2,465,070 barrels daily in June 1981, down from 2,472,976 barrels daily in May 1981 and down from 2,537,580 barrels daily in June 1980.
