Suit Filed Over County Precinct Lines

A citation was filed October 13 in federal district court on the behalf of Rebecca Martinez and Cecilia Sanchez against Sutton County officials alleging that the present precinct apportionment denies the right to a vote of equal right.

Alevilse River Alews

The complaint alleges that under the current precinct population apportionment the voters in Precinct No. 1 have an unequal vote in comparison with the voters in the other Sutton County precincts because more Sutton County voters live in Precinct No. 1 than the other three precincts. The complaint requests an injunction, against the County officials and County Democratic and Republican chairpersons from conducting any elections until the current precincts boundary lines are redrawn; that the Commissioners Court be ordered to adopt a new precinct division boundary; and asks that the defendant County officials and political chairpersons be required to pay the costs of the suit, including the Plaintiff's attorneys'

"We have had some unofficial material furnished that the precincts were not in accordance with the law. When I received this information, I immediately contacted the law firm of Bickerstaff, Heath, and Smiley in Austin to review and advise Sutton County on realigment of the precinct boundaries," County Judge Charles Sherrill said.

"If the plaintiffs would have had the courtesy of contacting the County Commissioners personally, they would have found that a law suit in federal court was unnecessary as the Commissioner Court of Sutton County does attempt to comply with the law, particularly where voters' rights and privileges are concerned.

"As the suit has been filed, the County will be obliged to respond and there will be additional expen-

"I had personally invited the attorneys from Austin to both the September and October regular meeting to assist Sutton County in realignment if such is necessary.

"Aparrently, realignment is nec-essary, but I still have not been furnished with any official report. "A letter from the law firm, Bickerstaff, Heath, and Smiley arrived the same day as the complaint of Rebecca Martinez and Cecilia Sanchez was officially served.

25 cents

"It is out hopes and desires and the plan of Bickerstaff, Heath, and Smiley that the Justice Department approval of realignment will be obtained by November 15," Sherrill commented.

When Martinez was asked why she had not personally confronted the Commissioners Court about the problem, Martinez said, "We heard they weren't going to change the redistricting.

"We got our population figures from the Southwest Board of Registration Education Program in San Antonio. I wouldn't like to comment further at this time," Martinez added.

A decision to have closed campus for kindergarten through grade 5 was decided at the School Board meeting held Oct. 13. Students in grades kindergarten through grade 5 who wish to go home to eat must have the parent or adult pick him or her up at school, or if a child lives near school, his parents may call and ask that the student walk home. No student in grades k-5 will be allowed to go anywhere else unless accompanied by a parent or an adult.

The decision for a closed campus was made after the board carefully considered the safety of the children during the lunch break and the fact that the school is liable for children, even if a note is brought by the child, during school hours.

The three persons selected to be on the tax appraisal board were Joe David Ross, Scott Jacoby, and Ed

Carrasco.

The Board accepted a bid from Ken Braden Motors to purchase a 1982 Cheverolet station wagon.

The Board heard from a representative of Builders' Service Co. who ment will issue antlerless deer presented a plan for building two or permits for Sutton County on Octothree duplexes for school officials. Sporting Chance Again, last week wasn't one of my better picking weeks although I did manage to hit right on picking the two teams for the World Series. Something keeps telling me the Dodgers are going to finally make one last run and win it all, but then I keep looking at all that Yankee talent and say not why. Especially with New York's bullpen.

My picking really wasn't horrible last week as I hit 10 of 15 games, but then again, it's still not great. For the season that brings me to 64 of 90 for a .711 percentage. Not too bad, as long as it doesn't keep dropping every week.

Brady at Sonora

The Broncos seem to be peaking just at the right time, while Brady has sputtered on occassion. It'll be close whoever wins and probably go down to who gets the lucky breaks. Sonora 14-13.

Comanche at Ballinger

Nobody really knows what Comanche has and we still won't know after this week. Comanche 35-7. Eldorado at Menard

The Eagles have been waiting all season for this one, so here's their chance. Eldorado 20-19. Houston at Arkansas

Upset special. There's always a big let down after pulling off an upset, so the timing is right for the Cougars to move in. Houston 28-24. TCU at Baylor

This could be anybody's game as up and down as these teams are. The Frogs are due some justice this year, though. TCU 17-14.

Texas A&M at Rice

The Owls have been rolling pretty high, but they can forget their fourth win in a row. Texas A&M 27-13. Texas at SMU

The Longhorns found out there's only one place to go when you're on top. It's time to reverse directions again although it will be tough going uphill here. Texas 34-31.

Washington at Texas Tech

If the Red Raiders wanted a win, they waited a week too long. Washington 35-16.

Howard Payne at Angelo State The Rams are smarting after falling to ACU (which of course I predicted). There's no upset in the making here. Angelo State 29-10.

Nebraska at Missouri

This game might decide the Big 8 championship, and although Mizzou may look better, I'll have to go with tradition. Nebraska 13-10.

Southern Cal at Notre Dame

The Irish have had their problems this year. They've got another one this Saturday. Southern Cal 38-21. Miami at Dallas

The Cowboys showed some signs of coming back to life, while the Dolphins are beginning to slip. Dallas 27-20.

Houston at Pittsburgh

The Oilers winning in Three Rivers Stadium is about as likely as a forest fire on the North Pole. Pittsburgh

The Sonora Broncos pulled out all the stops Friday night as they started their 1981 District 8-AAA campaign in style with a 54-6 thrashing of the Bluecats in Coleman.

While the Bronco offense moved literally at will, the defense was magnificent a they held the Bluecats to only 31 yards of total offense and one first down before stepping aside for the reserves early in the third quarter.

By that time the Broncos

Colemar had amassed 33 points and 291 yards of offense.

The Broncos started slow, but DeVoe Smith's 22-yard punt return to the Coleman 13-yard line set up the first Sonora score. Four plays later, quarterback John Blankenship sneaked over from one yard out. Scott Savell's converstion kick was partially blocked, but the 6-0 score held through the opening period.

Wade Hopkins got the second Bronco score early in the second quarter on a five-yard plunge, capping a nine-play, 77-yard drive. Runs of 22 and 12 yards by Allen Stewart and 13 yards by David Buitron picked up most of the real estate. Buitron carried over for the two-point conversion to boost the lead to 14-0.

Wingback Joe Longoria

added his name to the list of scorers on Sonora's next series on a one-yard drive, set by his own 10-yard buret and a 30-yard sprint by Hopkins. The Broncos continued their scoring binge on their next possission when Stewfollowed a 28-yard scamper by Buitron with a 12-yard TD scoot.

Savell's PAT split the uprights for a 27-0 halftime lead The Bronco offense kept the heat on in the second half as Buitron added a one-yard score to climax an eight-play, 38-yard drive for a 33-0 advantage.

The defense, playing superbly all night, set up the next Sonora score when a rush on third down, Tino Martinez recovered Marney Sorenson hit a wide the next Sonora score when Billy Yates' kickoff return open Hopkins for a 38-yard fumble at the Coleman 17. It took the Broncos only one play to score with Hopkins going the entire distance. Savell's PAT boosted the now out of reach score to 40-0 with the third stanza only half gone. The Bluecats struck for their only score of the night late in the period against the Bronco reserves with a one-yard Monroe plunge capping a 10-play 73-yard drive.

Yates conversion pass failed to leave the score at 40-6 as the third quaerter ended.

The second string Broncos managed two fourth quarter touchdowns of their own

After scrambling to avoid rush on third down, touchdown pass that, along with Savell's kick, upped the score to 47-6 midway through the final period. Smith got the final Bron-co icing on the cake as he sped 51 yards for a score in the closing minutes of the game. Savell's boot ran the score to the final 54-6 margin.

The win lifted Sonora's season record to 6-1 on the year and 1-0 in league while Coleman fell to 1-6 and 0-1.

Broncos To Host Brady Bulldogs Friday

The Sonora Broncos put everything in line Friday night as they host the Brady Bulldogs in a 7:30 p.m. battle that could well decide the outcome of the District 8-AAA race.

With Comanche still a week away for the Broncos, a victory would not necessarily put a lock on the title, but it would be a major step.

Both teams are 1-0 in league play after last week's opener. Sonora breezed by Coleman, 54-6.

while Brady struggled early before blowing out Ballinger 29-10.

"We need to play an alert, aggressive game a-gainst them," Bronco Coach Jerry Hopkins said. We have every bit as good a ball club as they do." Hopkins said the Broncos would need to get some points on the board early and hopefully not get points

Well, the fall rains finally arrived!

Glenn Richardson, an Edwards County ranch-man, said it was like the old days of being marroned in the country, when 15 inches of rain came in a matter of hours last week.

Walter Pfluger reported 17 inches on his ranch, south of Rocksprings.

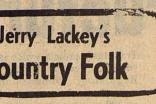

Over five inches fell west of Junction, according to my dad, Stanley Lackey and "all the water gaps washed out." Copperas Creek was over the road.

And Bill Shurley of Marfa, said the Highland Country and Big Bend received a good soaking rain last week.

Andy Smith said his ranch at Big Lake and the one at Water Valley, received good rains. John Dublin reported good rains at Barnhart.

Is the All-Savers Certificate Really For ALL Savers?

Stockton

The new 1-Year Tax-Saver Certificate, dubbed "All Savers" in the Tax Incentive Act of 1981, is admittedly a boon to most serious savers.

But the truth is, it will take more than an Act of Congress to make it right for everyone That's not to say that a certificate promising up to $2,000 in tax-free interest income isn't the ideal tax shelter for you, at a time when you really need it. The FNB Certificate is insured minimum up to $100,000 by the FDIC.

As for tax advantages, they're substantial. Up to $2000 of interest is tax-exempt if you file a joint return or $1000 if you file as an individual.

However, the all-determining factors are your taxable income and maximum tax bracket. The higher they are, the better your equivalent return. If your maximum tax bracket is under 30% we may well steer you to our 6-month or 21/2 year certificate instead.

It's no secret that new legislation is opening up more and more savings options, and we at FNB would like the chance to talk with you about them. That includes the new Individual Retirement Account, set for January 1st, which will make IRAs open to anyone with earned income, even those already covered by a formal pension plan.

Let's get together soon. Because, most of all, we want you to know exactly what you're getting with any investment. Tax-free or not.

Directors of The Coastal Corporation, at their meeting today in Houston, reviewed a plan proposed by management with the advice of Lehman Brothers Kuhn Loeb Incorporated providing for the restructuring of Coastal into three or more separate companies to be owned by the holders of Coastal common stock. The board directed management to prepare proxy and registration materials for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission following final approval by the board. The board also instructed management to continue studying the feasibility of discontinuing certain operations in the company's refining and marketing business segment and dis-

Activities being considered for discontinuation include mainly foreign marketing and foreign flag marine operations which are currently unprofitable. Discontinuing these operations could be expected to improve future results in refining and marketing but would also mean additional substantial charges against Coastal's 1981 earnings.

The restructuring plan, which will be submitted to stockholders for approval, calls for at least two corporations to be spun-off to holders of Coastal common stock as tax-free dividends. They are Colorado Interstate Gas Company, Coastal's interstate pipeline subsidiary, and Coastal Oil & Gas Corporation, the exploration and production subsidiary. Other operations of the company, excluding those to be discontinued, are to remain in The Coastal Corporation. The operations to be continued are primarily in the refining and marketing segment. Oscar S. Wyatt, Jr., chairman of the board and chief executive officer of The Coastal Corporation, said the restructuring is expected to improve both profitability and prospects for expansion of the activities of the separated companies.

"As an integrated medium-sized independent energy company with worldwide operations, Coastal has been successful in the past in competition with much larger companhe said.

however, the board believes it is in the best interest of our stockholders to restructure Coastasl into separate companies, each including only related or compatible segments of the energy industry. This will permit the management of each company to direct their abilities and expertise to a more concentrated area of business.'

According to Mr. Wyatt, the restructuring plan is expected to be submitted for approval by Coastal stockholders at the company's 1982 annual meet-Stockholders will be ing. asked to approve the final restructuring plan and authorize the board of directors to implement the plan once several conditions have been met.

Included in these conditions is issuance of a ruling by the Internal Revenue Service that is satisfactory to the company and which provides that the spin-off dividends will be tax-free distributions to Coastal stockholders. Another condition calls for receiving required consents from holders of other Coastal securities and obligations. Application for the tax ruling will be prepared for filing as soon as possible. Filings of proxy and registration materials with the Securities and Exchange Commission are expected to be made early next year. It is expected that the two spun-off companies will apply for listings of their stocks on the New York Stock Exchange.

Operations in The Coastal Corporation will conti-nue to include petroleum refining, marketing and terminaling, marine transportation, a network of crude oil and refined products pipelines and finance and isurance companies. This company is expected to show improved per-formance after 1981 if a decision is made to dispose of certain of its operations and assets.

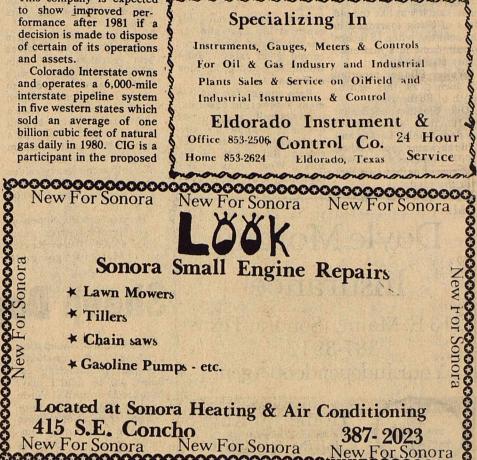

Colorado Interstate owns and operates a 6,000-mile interstate pipeline system in five western states which sold an average of one billion cubic feet of natural gas daily in 1980. CIG is a participant in the proposed
