Annual Hunting Party Set Tuesday, November 17

The "Hunter of the Year" will be announced at the annual Hunting Party set for Tuesday, November 17 at 6:00 P.M. at the Sutton County 4-H Center in Sonora. Door prizes will be awarded and the menu will consist of exotic game and wildlife native to this area. No speaker has been planned for this year's dinner because of the excessive length of some of the past dinners.

The game dinner is sponsored this year by the Sutton County Garden Club, Chamber of Commerce, Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association, Volunteer Fire Department, Downtown Lions Club and Sutton County Gun Club.

Door prizes will include deer rifles, shot guns, savings bonds, TV sets, cash, bonds, and a polaroid camera among other valuable door prizes. Door prizes are donated by local merchants and purchases by the Game Dinner Association. Local oil and gas-related industries also donate many of the prizes.

Fried venison, barbecued buffalo, antelope, wild boar, cabrito, Barbado sheep, "Son-of-Gun" stew, red beans, dove, quail, smoked turkey, peach cobbler, and coleslaw are featured on the menu. The emphasis is on game native to the Sutton County area.

The annual pre-season hunting party was turned into a game dinner in 1968 when the Association moved the date from the week before hunting season to the Tuesday after the season opens and started serving a dinner. This is the thirteenth year the game dinner has been held.

The "Hunter of the Year" award is given each year to an outstanding hunter. The hunters are recommended by the ranchers each year and submitted to the County Extension office.

Tickets for this year's annual dinner are $5.00 and this entitles one to a dinner and a $1.00 chance for a door prize.

The November Citizens of the Month are the E.M.S. team consisting of LeRoy O'Bryan, Georgia Luckie, Lenora Bullock, Dennis Robertson, Thomas Adkins and Pat Campbell. Presenting the award were JoAnn Tyner, Police Chief Brent Gesch, Chamber President Sandra Cooper, Billy Galbreath, Sheriff Bill Webster, and Charlie Graves.

E.M.S. Team Named November Citizens Of Month

The Emergency Medical Service has been named the November Citizens of the Month.

The award was presented to Patrick Campbell, supervisor-instructor, Thomas Adkins, E.M.S. supervisor, Lenora Bullock, Georgia Luckie, Dennis Robertson and LeRoy O'Bryan.

Two and a half years ago the County was operating with an inadequate ambulance service and costing the County from $1000 to $1500 a month. Pat Campbell and other concerned citizens of the community gave of their time and money to raise funds for two fully equipped new modules.

"We raised money by having a raffle, a slave auction at Sutton County Days, donations, a Houston Oilier Basketball game, and from oil company donations," Campbell said.

The larger ambulance is used for emergencies and car accidents. The smaller unit is used for sick calls and transfers. Both units have been in operation on several occasions.

The E.M.S. crew is on call from 8 a.m. - 6 p.m. and is on duty from 6 p.m. - 8 a.m. All members are certified ECA's and all are certified to drive.

The award was presented to the EMS team by the community to express its appreciation of the work they have been doing. The two new ambulances perform at very little cost to the community and taxpayers.

"I would like to pay special thanks to Suzy Rosford for her help with the donations," Campbell said.

Henry Garvin Wins DRN Contest

Henry Garvin took first place in last week's DRN football contest with no misses.

Louis Halford took second place with no misses. First and second place was decided by the tiebreaker. Frances West took third place with only one miss.

Also missing only one was Willene Garlitz.

Missing only two games were Mark Doan, Melissa Teaff, Creg Garlitz, Hazel McClelland, David Davenport, Jack Sharp, Frances West, and Esau Ramirez.

Turkey Walk Pledge Money Needed By November 17

Twenty-eight persons participated in the American Heart Association Turkey Walk held Saturday.

"We had $3,600 plus the amounts on the tally sheets on our last count.

We expect to raise about $4,500 in total. Last year we only raised $2,400," Marlene Evans, chairman of the Turkey Walk said.

Evans also stressed that all pledge money must be turned in by November 17. The pledge money can be turned in to any school offices or to Marlene Evans at 387-2110 after 5:30 p.m.

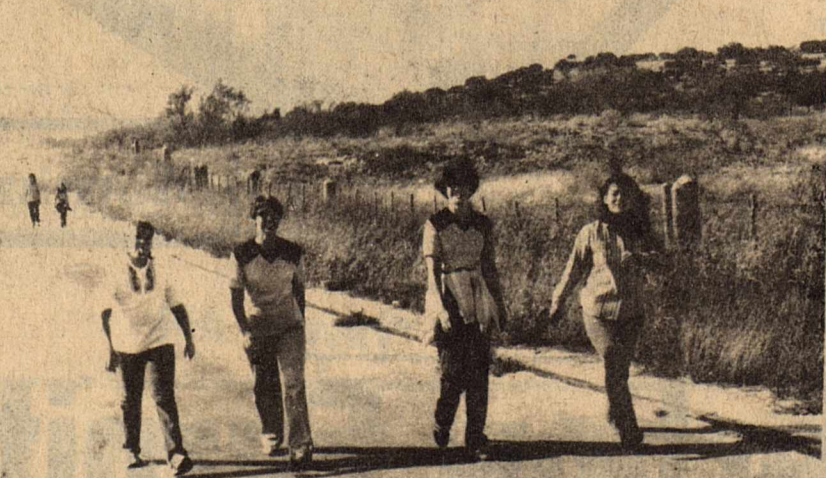

The deadline for walkers to pick up turkeys is December 1.

The individual plague trophy are on display at the First National Bank and the winners will be announced on November 23 at the regular meeting of the American Heart Association.

Last year's winners were Jesse Lynch and the Chamber of Commerce.

Organizations represented in the Turkey Walk included the following: N.L. McCullough, Chamber of Commerce, Sonora ISD, HNG Oil Company, Ken Braden Motor Co., Sonora Firemen's Auxiliary, Sonora Welding and Roustabouts, and J&L Contractors, Inc.

"I would like to thank Bill Thomas, Sam Dillard, Tom Payton, Vicki High, Mario Sotello, and Mr. and Mrs. Raphael for all of their help with the Turkey Walk," Evans concluded.

Camp Allison Ordinances Adopted At Regular County Commissioners Court

A set of ordinances for the Camp Allison park was adopted during the regular Commissioners Court Monday.

The ordinances will be effective November 19 and will be published in entirety in next week's Devil's River News.

R.L. Street was chosen to represent the County on the Tax Appraisal Board.

The court also heard from Preston Faris, County Extension Agent, who requested to buy a smaller, more economical vehicle for his daily use. The court accepted a motion to post notices for bids.

Faris also expressed his appreciation for the help that was given by the county for the leveling of the ground for the new 4-H building.

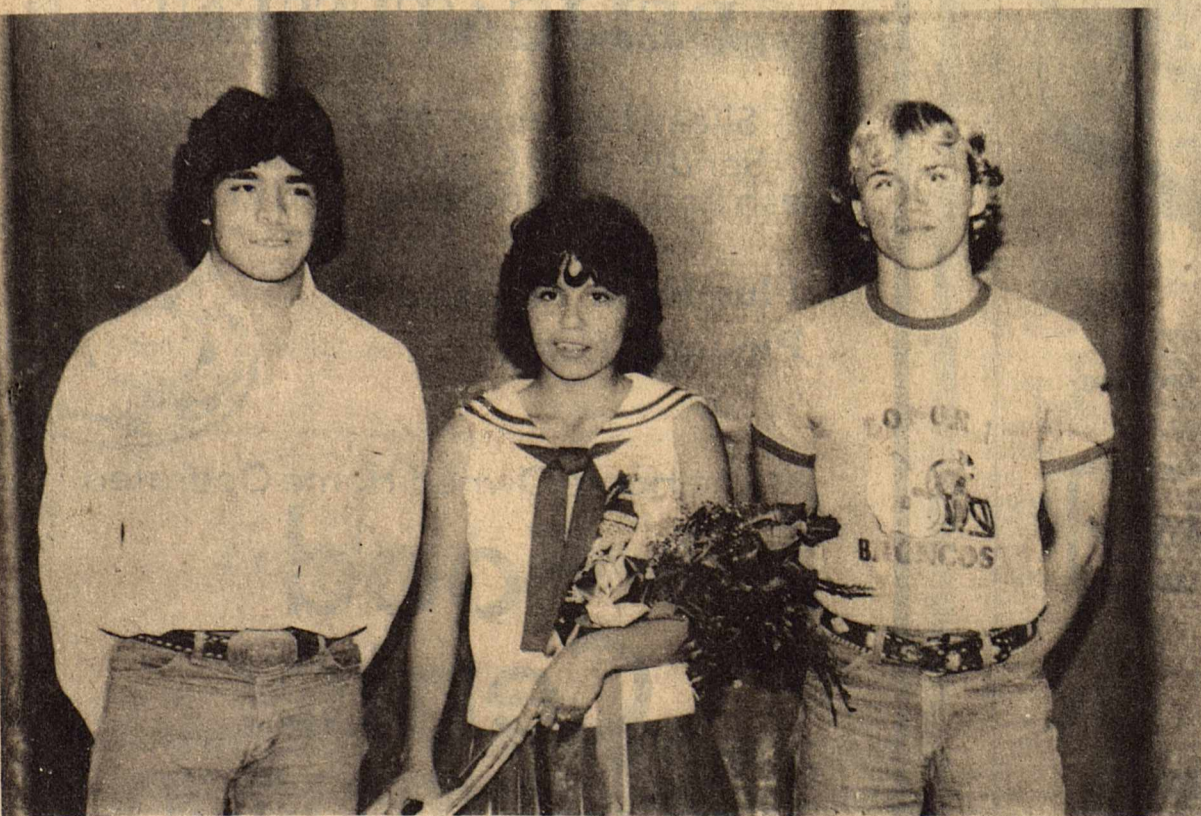

Sheriff Bill Webster reported that a survey of the traffic problem in Sinaloa had been made, and recommended that a stop sign be placed on Sinaloa Central and Sinaloa 1st. He also recommended that two 15-20 mph signs be placed on the road leading to the landfill.

A motion was accepted to take bids for a new patrol car for the Sheriff's department.

County Judge Charles Sherrill reported that all the information pertaining to the realignment of precinct lines had been given to the attorneys and that no information on their progress had been received.

Sherrill also reported that 271 people voted in the November 3 elections of amendments.

Rosa Noriega, senior SHS cheerleader, was named 1981 Football Sweetheart at the pep rally Friday.

Presenting her with the award were John Blankenship and George Sanchez, senior football players.

Kauffman Receives Eagle Scout Badge

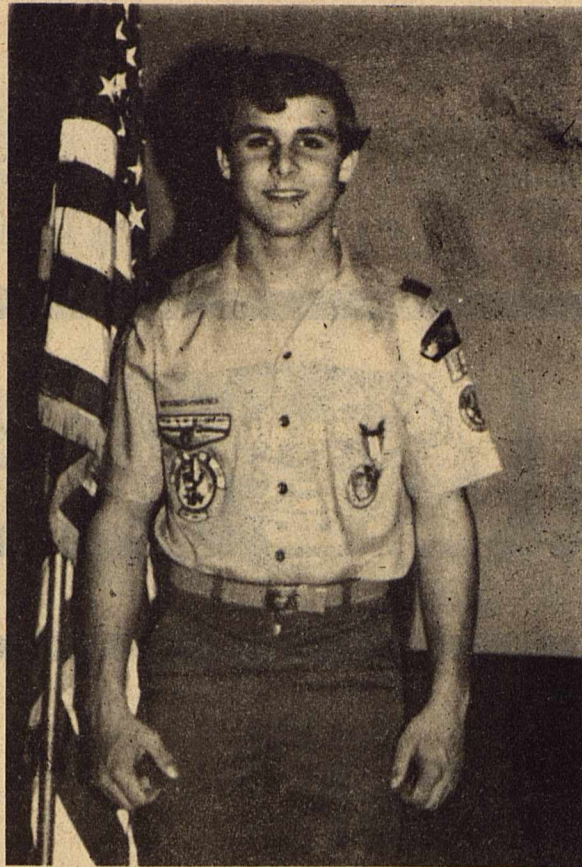

Scout Kurt Kauffman of Troop 19, Sonora, received his Eagle Scout badge during a special Court of Honor held November 1981, in the fellowship hall of First United Methodist Church. Approximately 30

Eagle Scout Kauffman was presented with special gifts from the troop including a pen and pencil set, an Eagle belt buckle and an Eagle neckerchief. Special guests included Kurt's grandmother and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Truett Smith of Levelland, Texas.

Kurt Kauffman

scoutmaster. Kurt is also a member of the Order of Arrow, the honorary camping fraternity of Scouting.

Kurt is currently a junior at Sonora High School, maintaining an overall B average.

Fire Department Receives Check From Farm Bureau

The Sonora Volunteer Fire Department received a check for $75.00 recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the department's work on the property of Freddie James. The money will be used for their purchase of equipment.

The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay volunteer fire department this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them. The Insurance Company believes volunteer fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more important, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department in their program.

Income Received After Retirement May Be Excluded

Income received after retirement may not affect Social Security income from self-employment received in a taxable year after the year of entitlement, but earned in a year before entitlement to Social Security benefits, may be excluded from gross earnings for such taxable year.
This may sound confusing, but will help self-employed social security beneficiaries when they retire, stated Frank Upp, manager of the San Angelo Social Security Office. The exclusion will be for certain self-employment income for the annual earnings test only.
This exclusion became effective for taxable years after December 31, 1977. It was put in the law to assist the following types of retired persons:
1. Farmers who sell carry-over crops in a year after retirement.
2. Insurance salesmen who receive renewal commissions after retirement for policies sold before retirement.
3. Retired partners who receive a share of the partnership income after retirement.
4. Silent partners who may never have worked in the partnership but receive a share based on their investment in the business.
The intent of the law is that self-employed persons should not be penalized for income earned before re-

Kappa Gamma Blood Drive Set Nov. 19

Turkey time is near! The aroma of turkey, will all the trimmings, and fresh baked pumpkin pies will fill our home. To enhance this special day, relatives will descend from near and far and loved ones will gather to share in this family feast of THANKSGIVING!

Plans for the preparation of this feast are made in advance by all the home chefs to be assured of having an adequate amount of food on hand.

Pre-planning is the key! And in realizing this, the Sonora Community like many other communities, are planning and preparing to help assure that there will be an adequate blood supply during this special time of year.

A blood drive has been scheduled for Thursday, November 19th at the First National Bank in the Founder's Room between 1:00 P.M. and 7:00 P.M.

If you are in good health, between the ages of 17 and 70, take the time to donate. For on these special Holidays, there are others who are not as fortunate as you and need your special help.

Make the definitions of THANKS—an expression of gratitude; grateful acknowledgment of something received by or done for one. GIVING—to turn over the possession or control of to someone without cost or exchange—reality!

It's up to you! Have a happy and safe Thanksgiving, from your community blood center, United Blood Services.

Kappa Gamma will sponsor a blood drive Nov. 19, 1981 Thursday in the Founder's Room of the First National Bank.

Accountants, computer analysts and the like say statistics do not lie, but the Sonora Broncos almost disproved the theory as they discovered statistics meant little in surviving a 13-7 thriller over Ballinger here Friday night in their regular season finale.

The Bearcats, heavy underdogs going into the contest, came close to pulling off a major upset before the Broncos revived to reverse the David and Goliath story.

While the Broncos did dominate the yardage and first down statistics, the marks that made the big difference were the turnovers as Sonora lost three fumbles and two interceptions to stall out drives.

Turnovers killed two Bronco threats in the scoreless first half.

Sonora took the opening kickoff and marched from their own 41 to the Bearcat one-yard line before quarterback John Blankenship and fullback David Buitron bobbled the exchange on a fourth down play and Ballinger recovered.

Their next series was another verse of the same song as they started on their own 32 and used 15 plays to move to the Ballinger 20 before Blankenship's pass was picked off at the one, once again nullifying the threat.

The Broncos were driving one more time before the half, moving all the way to the Ballinger 30 before Blankenship was stopped short on a fourth down

After registering two moral victories by playing close to other District 8-AAA powers Comanche and Brady, the Bearcats appeared headed for the real thing early in the third stanza.

Ballinger took the second half kickoff and marched all the way to the Sonora 20 where Frankie Gonzales broke up an apparent scoring pass in the endzone on third down.

Johnny Islas' 37-yard field goal attempt missed on fourth down, but Blankenship was intercepted again by Matt Allen at the 44, then scored on a counter delay that fooled everyone on the next play.

The score apparently awoke the sleeping Broncos as they marched right back 68 yards in only eight plays to garner a one-yard TD plunge by Blankenship.

A 32-yard run by Allen Stewart and an 18-yarder by Joe David Favila accounted for the majority of the yardage in the drive.

Savell booted the extra point to knot the score at 7-7 with 3:38 remaining in the third quarter.

The Broncos appeared headed for that go-ahead score in their next possession before David Buitron fumbled at the Ballinger 29 and Paul Saucedo recovered to end the challenge.

The Bearcats appeared bent on another score and began driving, reaching the Sonora 22 before the Bronco defense stiffened and Ballinger turned the ball over on downs.

The Broncos finally got the winning score on their next series, taking over on the 50-yard line after a short punt.

Stewart ripped off 30 yards on the next play, but a fine run by Wade Hopkins was nullified by a 10-yard holding infraction against the Broncos.

Stewart made it all back on the next play, scooting 23 yards to give the Red and White a first goal at the seven.

Three plays later, Buitron broke a tackle behind the line of scrimmage and burst over from five yards out.

Filling in for the injured Savell, Buitron's PAT kick was blocked, but the Broncos had their final 13-7 advantage with 3:50 left in the game.

Halfback Stewart was the offensive star of the night for the Broncos as he rushed for 162 yards on 21 carries.

The performance also pushed him over the 1,000 yard barrier for the season, making him the first Bronco rusher to accomplish the feat since Bruce Kerbow in 1972.

Buitron also turned in his usually strong game, gaining 84 yards on carries.

With Hopkins and Favila splitting time at wingback for an injured Joe Longoria, they combined for 64 yards on only eight rushes.

The win leaves Sonora with an 8-2 season record, 3-1 in district, and leaves them watching the outcome of the Brady at Comanche tilt next Friday during open date.

The Broncos are hoping for a Comanche win that would split the league title three ways, giving them a shot at the playoffs via a coin flip should the three teams end the season as tri-champs.

Broncos Await Outcome of Brady - Comanche Game

The Sonora Broncos remain in limbo this week, waiting on the outcome of Brady's game at Comanche Friday night to see if they wind up with a share of the District 8-AAA title, a playoff berth or just as another team in the league.

The Broncos closed out their regular season last week with a 13-7 squeaker over Ballinger. Because of their loss to Brady, they must depend on Comanche to upend the Bulldogs to have a third of the district pie while they have their open date Friday.

Should the Indians win, all three teams would share the crown and a coin flip would decide the loop's representative in the state playoffs.

Sonora Bronco Coach Jerry Hopkins said no definite plans had been made for a meeting after the game should Comanche win, but he will be attending the game in case such a meeting is necessary.

Hopkins gave Ballinger a great deal of credit in forcing the Broncos to come from behind to win what was supposed to be a runaway last week.

"We were a little crippled up going into the game, but did a good job of coming back when we had to," Hopkins said.

He pointed to the turnovers, three lost fumbles and two interceptions, as a major point in keeping the game close in what he otherwise felt was a fairly well played contest by his team.

Hopkins said possibly the Broncos' lack of size was beginning to catch up with them late in the year: "We need this week to rest."

Should the Broncos wind up in bi-district action, tight end Scott Savell would probably miss the game after reinjuring his shoulder against Ballinger. Backup quarterback Marney Sorenson would probably still be doubtful with the knee injury he suffered against Comanche.

Others like Joe Longoria and DeVoe Smith will probably be using this week to rebound from nagging injuries also.

Sporting Chance by Don Holdridge

After two years of frustration in the picking department, I should be up for comeback of the year award after showing a great improvement this season.

All the credit for my amazing success should be attributed to pure old fashioned luck. With the way games have gone this year, anybody with a .500 batting average deserves an award.

Brady at Comanche

This is by no means a cinch, but Brady's experience and big play potential should be the difference. Brady 21-20.

Coleman at Ballinger

I would have thought this impossible at the beginning of the season, but Bluecats injuries combined with the Bearcats' improvement has reversed the tables. Ballinger 14-6.

Wall at Eldorado

This Eagles last chance for a win. Unfortunately for them, it might as well be no chance. Wall 28-13.

Arkansas at Texas A&M

Sword waving may not do it, but the Kyle Field advantage will produce an upset none-the-less. Texas A&M 20-17.

Rice at Baylor

Another upset special. The Bears are bound to have a let-down after coming so close last week against Arkansas. Rice 24-21.

TCU at Texas

The Froggie subs came through pretty well this week, but they aren't playing the Red Raiders this time around either. Texas 35-14.

Texas Tech at SMU

The Ponies are playing only for pride, but they've got a lot of talent to back it up with. SMU 42-16.

Angelo State at Sam Houston

If the Rams can hold Tony January in check--at least slow him down--this should be as lopsided as their game last week--only in the other favor. Angelo State 31-13.

Alabama at Penn State

Whoever heard of a Nittany Lion meeting a Crimson Tide? Sounds like something out of a fairy tale. Never-the-less, the Lion drowns in the sea of red. Alabama 13-10.

Florida State in Southern Mississippi

Southern Miss is one of those teams that has been sneaking up on everyone the past two years, then suddenly, bam. They get bammed this time. Florida State 27-24.

Iowa at Wisconsin

Whoever woulda thunk it? These two teams have made a run at the Big 10 title. Go with the home field advantage. Wisconsin 16-14.

Oklahoma at Missouri

The person who can accurately predict the outcome of a Sooner game is the same one who can predict how many times they will fumble. One time too few, at least as far as the Tigers are concerned. Oklahoma 34-31.

Southern Cal at Washinton

Upset special. The Huskies are coming off a big loss and have to make amends, while the Trojans are young and still too much of a one-man team. Washington 21-20.

Houston at Kansas City

The Chiefs seem to always give the Oilers problems, but they are fading while the Columbia Blue is finally starting to show some offense--at times. Houston.

The Jones' House

Jones' House To Offer Unique Variety

"We're trying to touch the gift and party need for everyone," Lola Beth Jones, owner of the Jones' House said.

A gift for everyone is exactly what the Jones' House will feature from a catered party to a piece of fine jewelry to an individually wrapped unique present for under five dollars.

The Jones' House, located at 401 S.E. Crockett is scheduled to open in the near future.

"Our main calling card is the fact that we will put together a gift here," Jones said. "This way, each gift is individual and we've invested much in packaging material so that each gift will look unique."

"We can put together a $5 gift or a $5,000 gift," Jones added.

The Jones' House will consist of a gift shop, a pastry room, a dining room and a meeting room for small parties.

In the pastry room, a line of cheese, sausage, fine candy and Christmas ornaments will be displayed.

"We have everything for the party need," Jones said.

Food to take out will also be featured in the pastry room. Meals, homemade pies, cakes and bread can be bought and taken out.

The dining room is most unusual with its bare walls and upholstered ceiling and antique tables. The napkins match the upholstered ceiling.

The Jones' House will be serving food from 7:30 to 5:30 Monday - Friday.

A lunch menu will be served from 11 - 2 each day and the menu will be changed weekly.

Some of the luncheon specials include shrimp crepes, ham loaf, chicken tetrazzini, lasagna and quiche.

Pastry, chef's salad, sandwiches, soup and desserts will be served in the dining room all day.

Special evening meals to be taken out will be available from 4-5:30.

The meeting room will seat 16 people and can be used for small catered parties and meetings.

"We hope to have our outdoor dining area ready by spring," Jones said.

"We are going to completely enclose the yard area from the street with landscaping. Large functions can be held and catered here," Jones added.

The Jones' House will feature all their sweets and dishes made from the finest ingredients available.

"Nothing will be made from mixes," Jones commented.

When asked how she decided to go into the gift shop and restaurant business, Jones said that a friend had seen the house and suggested that it would be perfect for a gift shop and restaurant.

"This is really a family affair. I'll be able to work and enjoy my children too," Jones concluded.

Reports from

The Reagan Strategic Program

In recent months officials at the White House and in the Department of Defense have been developing a comprehensive plan for revitalizing our strategic deterrent. We have virtually ignored strategic defensive systems for over a decade. These systems are a critical part of our efforts to assure our own national security and to maintain international peace through military superiority.

This program will end the relative decline of U.S. strategic capabilities and will put the United States in a position to reshape the U.S.-Soviet strategic balance in the years ahead.

Our nation's security is of utmost critical importance and as tensions in the world threaten peace and international stability, we must do whatever is necessary to restore America's military and diplomatic respect.

The program as recommended by the President will begin to redress the most serious weaknesses in our current posture:

- Communications and control systems will be improved to make certain we can communicate with our strategic forces, even after a nuclear attack.

- Our TRIAD of land-based ballistic missiles, bombers and sea-based missiles will be strengthened and modernized as soon as possible, ending long-standing delays in some of these programs.

The President's program will determine to a large extent U.S. strategic capabilities into the next century. Not since the 1950s has an administration proposed a nuclear program of such breadth and scope. We now have a unique opportunity to mold a strategic force that will meet the objectives of our strategy and serve as a coherent instrument of national policy.

This program will create a deterrent to Soviet action against us that is far more secure and stable than that which exists today.

The new program would increase Soviet incentives to negotiate genuine arms reductions. And, if we must, the proposed program will put us in a better position to strengthen our forces further in response to unrestrained growth in Soviet weapons.

I firmly believe that we must work to strengthen our military forces. In terms of numbers, we have come from a position of rough equivalency during the 1970s to the alarming forecast for the 1980s. We will be unable to curtail Soviet military aggression unless we respond properly to Russian advances in weapons development and production.

Today, for example, there is a general consensus on the need for new strategic bombers. The only issues are which bombers to build and when. The previous administration planned to rely on B-52s in the 1980s and develop the Advanced Technology — or "Stealth" — Bomber in the 1990s. However, because of the risks associated with an aging and potentially vulnerable B-52 force, I firmly believe the B-1 is essential to bolster our strategic forces during the critical 1980s.

The Administration has also proposed to continue the development of the MX missile as a means to reduce the vulnerability of our aging intercontinental ballistic missile force. While delaying a decision on the long-term basing options for the MX, the Administration would deploy, in the near term, a limited number of MX missiles in reconstructed Titan and Minuteman silos. The plan to conceal the MX by moving missiles among thousands of relatively "soft" shelters in Utah and Nevada has been withdrawn.

While not a long-term solution to the key issue involved — the survivability of our existing ICBM force — reconstructed silos with initial deployment of the MX missile in 1986 would be afforded.

As a member of the Subcommittee on Military Construction of the House Appropriations Committee, I will be actively involved in the congressional review of the Administration's plan and in reviewing the alternative basing schemes prior to the actual deployment of the MX.

The program stresses survivability and endurance. Compared with today's forces, we will, by 1990, roughly double the number of U.S. strategic weapons that could survive a Soviet nuclear attack on this country. We will be able to communicate with these forces during an attack, immediately following an attack, and, if necessary, for extended periods thereafter. Of utmost importance, these improvements will greatly deter any realistic prospects, however the Soviets may define them, of gaining an advantage by initiating the use of nuclear weapons.

This new strategic program puts America back on the road to peace — a peace maintained through strength. The maintenance of that peace is the first responsibility of the Federal government.

Texas Farm Bureau To Hold Annual Convention November 29

The state's largest general farm organization is making plans to meet here for its annual convention, Nov. 29 - Dec. 2. About 1,200 farmers and ranchers, all members of Texas Farm Bureau, will meet to decide the policies the organization will support in 1982.

The theme of this year's meeting is "Cultivating Freedom."

Delegates, who must earn at least 51 percent of their income from agriculture, will adopt state policies to guide the organization next year. Approved resolutions on national issues will be forwarded to the 63rd annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation in San Diego, Jan. 10-14.

General session, business session, and special conferences will be held in the Corpus Christi Convention Center. Registration for delegates begins at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 29, in the convention center theater lobby.

The finals of the Free Enterprise Speech Contest for young people takes place Sunday evening.

Following the contest, a quartet -- "The Added Touch" -- will be the featured entertainment for a devotional service.

A breakfast conference for Young Farmers and Ranchers is scheduled at 6:30 a.m. on Monday, Nov. 30. A general session for all delegates follows, beginning at 8:30 a.m. Carrol Chaloupka, TFB president, will present his annual address, and there will be a report by Secretary-Treasurer Donald Herbert.

The president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Robert B. Delano, will be the keynote speaker, addressing the gathering about 11 a.m. Monday morning.

Six special conferences will be held on Monday afternoon from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Delegates can attend the conference of their choice -- energy, labor, taxes, water, mineral rights and leasing, and Farm Bureau economic services.

That evening, the annual Talent Find and the Queen's Contest will be held back-to-back in the Convention Center theater. Other awards to be presented during the convention will be the membership awards to county Farm Bureaus, the winner of the "Outstanding Farmer and Rancher Award" for 1981, and the "Meritorious Service Award."

Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 1 and 2, will be devoted to the business session. Warren Newberry, TFB executive director, will present his administrative report to the delegates as the session convenes at 8:30 Tuesday morning.

The final order of business on Wednesday, Dec. 2 will be the election of directors from odd-numbered districts, and the election of a president.

Following adjournment of the convention, the TFB board of directors will meet and elect a secretary-treasurer and vice president from among their own number.

Plenty of Water Essential For Balanced Forage

Plenty of good quality water well-distributed over a ranch is essential for balanced forage and livestock production, says Dr. Wayne Hanselka of Corpus Christi, a range specialist.

"Water is essential for the well-being of livestock," explains Hanselka, who is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Texas A&M University System. "Water facilities contribute to daily grazing behavior and influence grazing distribution."

Water for livestock comes from three main sources, notes Hanselka. These are rain water, surface water and underground water. Developing the sources includes drilling a well, constructing a tank or reservoirs or piping water.

"Depending on the amount of rainfall and soil type, reservoirs, and stock ponds may or may not provide enough water during summer dry spells. When constructing water facilities, use care to provide as much water as possible while limiting the surface area to reduce evaporation," urges Hanselka.

Pumping is one of the most common means of obtaining water. However, problems may arise during the "dog days" of late summer when there is little or no wind.

"Use of PVC (polyvinyl chloride) and plastic pipe to transport water to livestock has become popular in recent years and has opened up a great deal of rangeland for grazing," explains the range specialist.

Location and number of watering facilities are important considerations for the rancher, adds Hanselka. Cattle should travel no more than two miles round-trip for water which should ideally be located in the center of the pasture. This distance should be less with rough or brushy terrain. If the pasture is continuously grazed, the specialist recommends one watering facility for every 50-60 head.

"Even though cattle and horses can travel greater distances for water than sheep and goats, they require water more often," notes Hanselka. "Water intake will be less on green forage in the spring when weather is cool. Minimum water requirements for a cow with a calf is 10 gallons per day, but this increases to 15-20 gallons during the summer days."

Water is also a major concern to wildlife production, says the specialist, but it's generally sufficient for the needs of wild animals.

"One final consideration for ranchers is the quality of water for livestock. Good quality water is clear and odorless, contains no disease organisms, has no undesirable flavors and no objectionable gases. Even though water may not measure up to these standards, it may be suitable for consumption," add Hanselka.

He suggests caution when using water from old bores perforated for use as water wells. Such water may be high in salts and gases and could be contaminated with caustic chemicals used in well drilling.

Burn LP-gas in your pickup

It's been proven thousands of times that clean-burning LP-gas can double engine life. Since the most used engine on the ranch is your pickup, this is the one that can save you the most money. An LP-gas powered pickup will start faster, perform better and cost less to operate.

McGinty To Speak At Poison Plant Symposium

Dr. Allan McGinty says poisonous plants on rangelands are nature's response to the misuse of the land. He will enlarge on the subject when he opens the first Trans-Pecos Poison Plant Symposium, Dec. 17 here in the Pecos County Large Community Center.

McGinty, a range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, put the symposium together for the Pecos County Program Building Committee.

The committee is requesting a $10 registration fee if paid before Dec. 1, and $15 if paid after that date. Mail to: Gary Wood, P.O. Box 1527, Fort Stockton 79735.

McGinty says the symposium is timely, what with the $50 million loss in livestock that Texas producers suffer every year because of poisonous plants -- about 80 species of them on rangelands.

The daylong symposium, beginning at 8:30 a.m. and ending in the late afternoon, will feature other range specialists, weed control specialists and veterinarians from the Extension Service, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and New Mexico State University.

Tri-Cities Desk And Derrick Hold Industry Appreciation Night

Speaking at the 1st Annual Industry Appreciation Night of the Tri-Cities D&D were firefighters, Danny Clayton and Jim Truesdell, representatives of Red Adair Co.

Clayton has been with Red Adair 8 years and Truesdell for 3 years. Two Adair films were seen; "Antelope Run" and "Ute One". Both men discussed and answered questions regarding safety and the causes of well blowouts.

In the four decades Red Adair has been operating, they have had only one accident, which was a broken arm.

The Red Adair Safety & Training Center, the most recent facility, located in Odessa, came about because he wanted to share his knowledge and experience as well as work the people in the industry on safety precautions, blowout prevention and working on new methods for firefighting equipment.

Mayor Bill Gosney attended and presented The Boss of the Year Award to Butch Kauffman, District Manager of CRC Wireline, Inc.

Kauffman was nominated by his secretary, Joyce Vaughan. As she stated in her nominating letter, Butch was instrumental in getting the Tri-Cities D&D off the ground. He turned his office over to us for many meetings; many phone calls had to be made during office hours, which took time away from her office duties. Kauffman was also one of our guest speakers this year. He feels that Desk & Derrick is an important factor to the petroleum industry, as more and more women are becoming involved in it in various capacities.

A native of Levelland, he attended South Plains College and also received a Bachelors Degree in marketing in 1972 from Texas Tech University. Following graduation, he immediately went to work for Pool Well Servicing Co. in Levelland for 6 months prior to going to work for Western Wireline, a division of the Western Co. of North America.

Western Wireline was purchased by Crutcher Resources Corp. in 1977 and became CRC Wireline, Inc. a division of the Petroleum Service Group of Crutcher. Kauffman moved to Sonora 4 years ago with his wife and son to become District Manager for CRC Wireline, Inc.

Many people made this possible. We would like to thank all of bosses & the San Angelo chapter for helping us. Also to the Sonora Volunteer Firemen, the Woman's Auxiliary, Jack Duren and Troy Heferman for their help during the evening.

A special meeting will be held Nov. 19, 7:30 p.m. at Well Head Safety Control for election of officers. All Members are encouraged to attend.

Danny Clayton and Jim Truesdale, representatives of Red Adair Co. speak during the First Annual Industry Appreciation Night.

Joyce Vaughan presents Butch Kauffman a plaque naming him Boss of the Year.

The 14th annual Highland Lakes Arts and Crafts Trail on November 14-15 will feature exhibits in six Hill Country communities of Kingsland, Buchanan Dam, Marble Falls, Burnet, and Llano. Each fair is produced locally by the arts club and will show local art and craft items. All shows are open at 10 am both days and close at 5 or 6 pm, and are free to the public. Follow the Trail through all of these communities; you will enjoy making a day of it.

The first stop could be in Kingsland where the fair will be in the Kingsland House of Arts and Crafts, just off the Hwy 1431 which runs through the center of town. Over 40 craftsmen will be displaying in the yard; the House will be filled with club members displaying their arts. Be sure to look for the fully decorated Christmas tree, covered with over 200 hand-made felt animals and decorations, which will be given away at the close of the show.

Eighteen miles up the road, you will find the Buchanan Dam Arts & Crafts Gallery on Hwy 29 in Buchanan Dam. You will have the chance to watch Evelyn Peters as she demonstrates painting techniques all day long.

Llano's art show will be held in Llano Art Gallery at 503 Bessemer. Llano Fine Arts Guild members will be serving as hostesses throughout the show and will be available to answer questions about their own work, the Gallery, and other artists.

The Burnet County Fair Barn is just south of Burnet on Hwy 281. It will be filled on November 14-15 with original art work and crafts of all kinds. Enjoy the arts, the door prizes, and home baked goods.

The Highland Arts Guild of Marble Falls will sponsor their fair in the High School, which is on the north edge of town on FM 1431. Many new artists have moved into this area and will be showing for the first time in the Hill Country. An added feature is the Garden Club's flower show which will be both afternoons in downtown Marble Falls.

A narrated bus tour will follow the Highland Lakes arts & Crafts Trail through Marble Falls, Buchanan Dam, and Kingsland on Saturday, November 14. If you prefer to let someone else do the driving, call Austin Tours at 512/282-1122 for reservations on the bus which will leave at 9 am and return about 5:30 p.m. Cost will be $20 which includes a seafood luncheon.

Do you feel strapped as a first-time home buyer? You have cause to. According to Dr. Jane Berry, a housing and home furnishings specialist, first-time home buyers are shelling out 36 percent of their income for house payments. In 1976, house payments took only 25 percent of the family income, the specialist recalls.

"Mortgage principal, interest, taxes and insurance now average $600 a month, whereas four years ago, these same items averaged only $429," she notes.

Berry is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Reagan Seeking Volunteers In Building Stronger Economy

President Ronald Reagan told members of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), the largest federal volunteer program, that his administration will seek the help of volunteers in building a stronger national economy.

"Among the things we're going to do to restore his economy is to form a task force throughout the country to mobilize volunteerism through the private sector," Reagan said.

The President said the mobilization will allow volunteer programs like RSVP to "take up the slack" in programs to be cut from the federal government.

(R-Pa.) said older Americans are among "the most capable and underutilized resources" in a nation that will have even greater needs for their services in coming years.

Rep. Claude Pepper (D-Fla.) said RSVP has helped ease the burdens for countless Americans. "I commend RSVP for making lighter and better the lives of so many people," he said.

In addition to RSVP, ACTION also administers the Foster Grandparent and Senior Companion Programs, VISTA (volunteers in service to America), and the National Center for Service Learning. The Peace Corps is an autonomous part of ACTION.

Wool output this year is estimated at 104 million pounds, up three million pounds over 1978, the latest year reported, says Ann Vanderpoorten, a clothing specialist. Part of the increase is credited to people's need for warmer clothes since they've turned their thermostats down, she explains. Vanderpoorten is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

"The idea of volunteerism is meaningful to this administration," Reagan told the RSVP volunteers who were invited to the White House on September 23, the 10th anniversary of the program. Fifty-three volunteers, representing the 50 states, Puerto Rico, Guam and the District of Columbia, were in Washington as representatives of the 320,000 RSVP volunteers currently serving nationwide.

RSVP, a part of ACTION, is the federal agency for volunteer service programs, as established in 1971 to provide a variety of opportunities for persons 60 years of age or older to participate more actively in community services. Following the 10th anniversary ceremony in the White House Rose Garden, volunteers were honored at a lunch on Capitol Hill where congressmen and senators commended RSVP as the most phenomenal success story of any volunteer program. "You touch the hearts of many people with your gentleness, your skill and your compassion," he said. Senator John Hienz
