Auto Accident Claims Lives Of Two

A one-car accident resulted in the death of two persons early Thursday morning.

Lenora Sue Bates, 30, was pronounced dead on the scene by Justice of Peace Herman Moore at approximately 1:49 a.m.

Brian Peter McGahan, 29, was transferred to Shannon Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival at 4:00 a.m.

The car was traveling westbound 3.9 miles east of Sonora on FM 30130. According to Jim Walker, DPS officer, the car overturned six times. Bates was employed at the nursing home and was living at Halliburton Trailer Park.

McGahan was a petroleum engineer at Halliburton and lived at J&V Trailer Park.

School Board Discusses Options In Special Meeting

The Sonora School Board of Trustees met with the architectural firm that has been conducting a comprehensive plan for the district's needs in a special session Monday night.

The school board and several concerned citizens met with representatives of the architectural firm of Swanson, Heister, Wilson and Claycomb, who has been conducting a survey of the prospective growth and expansion of Sonora in the future.

The representatives have been meeting with citizens and local businesses. They are trying to get an impartial outlook of the growth of Sonora in order to help the school district look at long-range options at problems the school expects to face in the future.

The representatives feel that the growth of Sonora will continue to be about the same for the next five years as it has been in the last several years.

Copies of the comprehensive study will be available to the public in two or three weeks. The copies will be available at the administration building for citizens to check out. A synopsis of possible solutions to the school's problems will also be included in the study.

Some of the most pressing problems the school faces were discussed by the board and representatives during the meeting.

One of the most urgent problems the representatives found was the overcrowdedness of the cafeteria. The shortage of playground space and the congestion of traffic around the school were also discussed.

The SHWC presented the board with three possible solutions to long-range problems and the advantages and disadvantages of each solution were discussed.

The limiting factor of land available and how the taxpayers would be affected by expansion of the school were also discussed during the meeting.

The availability of copies of comprehensive study for the public will be announced at a later date.

Commissioners Court Discusses Reapportionment Of Precinct Lines In Special Meeting

A special meeting of the Commissioners Court was held Tuesday, Nov. 24 for the purpose of discussing the lawsuit brought against them pertaining the reapportionment of county lines.

In attendance also were the county Republican and Democratic chairpersons who were also named in the suit.

County Judge Charles Sherrill stated, "In my capacity as County Judge and as an attorney, I invited the plaintiff's attorneys' to the meeting and no one did appear.

"The County Commissioners authorized County Auditor Charles Grayes to employ such personnel as necessary to take a recount of designated areas that the law firm Bickerstaff, Heath and Smiley felt were necessary."

The recount areas include Sinoia and the areas south and west of the city.

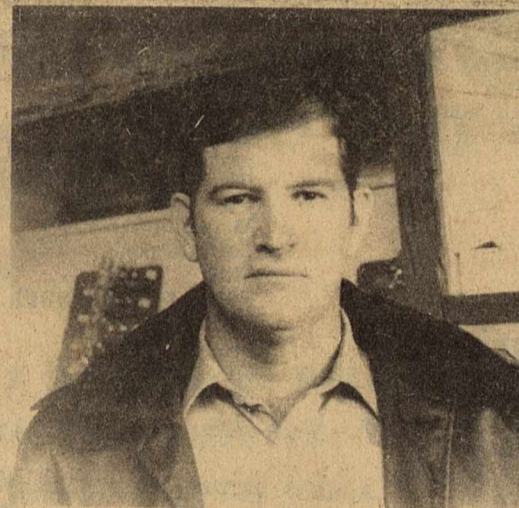

"The recount was completed and the recount information was phoned in Monday morning," Sherrill added.

Sherrill said that he was in the process of reviewing the information that was previously furnished to the United States Attorney General by Sutton County in December, 1977.

"We are trying to ascertain what, if any, changes will be needed in the county precinct lines.

"Mr. Graves and I will confer and possibly go to Austin later this week to see the law firm assisting the county in reapportionment," Sherrill concluded.

Volunteerism Strong Force For Social Progress

Volunteerism is rooted in the history of America; it was the cornerstone of the American Revolution. Today, it remains a strong force for social progress in this country.

While official reports show some 37 million volunteers each year in organized agencies in the United States, the figure probably comes closer to 68 million since many people volunteer on a spontaneous, ad hoc (certain situation) basis.

A major user of volunteers is the Cooperative Extension Service at the federal and state levels. This agency is responsible for conducting informal educational programs in agriculture, home economics, and community and youth development, points out C.R. Salmon, 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Volunteers work hand-in-hand with county Extension agents in conducting these educational programs.

In Texas this year, some 63,000 volunteers have been involved in Extension activities, including 22,000 in 4-H programs. These 4-H volunteers spend an average of 15 to 25 days a year supporting various educational programs and activities geared to youth aged 9 to 19, notes Salmon.

Volunteers also are rapidly becoming an important part of this nation's schools, adds Salmon. It's no longer unusual to find parents and other adults in the classroom, assisting the teacher through a volunteer program.

So, volunteerism has become important in public education, social services and community development. And its growth is due to a large pool of healthy, retired persons; more emphasis on social welfare services; and federal legislation favoring the growth and development of volunteer service agencies.

Frank Asks For Proof of Repayment From Bullock

Raymond Frank of Austin, who is seeking the Republican nomination for comptroller, called on incumbent Bob Bullock to show proof that he has repaid the state $2,200 for a Sept. 13 charter flight to Orange County, California. Bullock used a state airplane when he traveled to California for treatment of alcoholism. Aides had said that he reimbursed the state for the expense.

Frank, a two-term Travis County Sheriff, also invited the county grand jury to re-examine allegations of misuse of two state employees who represented Bullock in a default judgment case against him in Bexar County.

"The taxpayers of this state have the right to know for sure that the comptroller has, in fact, paid back the state of Texas," Frank said, adding that "they (taxpayers) have the right to know just how the fare was calculated."

Frank claims the $2,200 is $4,800 short of the approximate actual cost of the charter flight, and he wants Bullock to pay the additional amount.

In his capitol news conference, Frank repeated his theme that Bullock is "king of the deadbeats" for not paying his legal debts, and stated that "the alleged reimbursement is just another example his being what he accuses others of being."

Frank also questioned Bullock's judgment in using a $2,200 charter flight when he could have traveled to California on a commercial flight for approximately 90 percent less.

The former sheriff displayed court documents that indicate two comptroller's office attorneys represented Bullock in a private default judgment case in Bexar County.

Frank said that Karen Johnson, then Director of Legal Services, and L.G. Smith, an administrative law judge, are named as Bullock's legal counsel in a suit brought by Oscar S. Wyatt, Jr. of Houston. According to documents from the case, Smith signed the final judgment against Bullock.

A 26-1/2-year veteran of the Air Force, Frank was elected sheriff of Travis County in 1972, when he defeated longtime incumbent T.O. Lang. Frank served eight years.

Frank retired from the Air Force as a lieutenant colonel.

Marriage is a cooperative-- not a competitive-- endeavor, reminds Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist.

When disagreements arise, the aim is not to settle who's right or wrong, but to reach a solution both spouses can live with, the specialist points out.

Then marriage becomes a self-satisfying relationship for both partners, she adds.

Taylor is part of the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Texas A&I Announces New Scholarships

A University Scholars Program, which will provide scholarships to students with outstanding academic backgrounds, has been announced at Texas A&I University by Dr. Bill Franklin, president.

The scholarships are another phase of Texas A&I's "Excellence in the '80s" program, which was initiated last year.

The new program will provide scholarships for two freshmen students in each of the University's five undergraduate Colleges.

Ten new scholarships will be available annually.

Each scholarship is for $4,000, payable at the rate of $500 each semester until graduation as long as a 3.0 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) is maintained.

Applicants for the scholarships must have a minimum score of 25 on the ACT or 1100 on the SAT, must show promise of success in the major field as determined by tests and the selection committee, must have made a scholastic record that would justify consideration for a scholarship and must be in the upper quarter of his or her graduating class.

"We believe that the intellectual quality of any university depends essentially on three things: the academic quality of the students, the quality of the faculty, and the resources that are available to support the teaching/learning process. This University Scholars Program is designed to attract some of the academically most capable students in the State to our University as a means of enhancing the quality of education we provide for all our students," stated Dr. Franklin.

Donations from six businesses, totaling $40,000, have allowed the University Scholars Program to be initiated. The businesses are the Kleberg First National Bank, Kleberg County Savings and Loan, Mesquite Oilfield Services, B. W. Curbow and Co., the Kingsville Publishing Company and Arthur Brothers.

Applications for the scholarships may be secured from high school principals or counselors, or by writing the Vice President for Academic Affairs, Campus Box 102, Texas A&I University, Kingsville, Texas 78363.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower

U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

From the earliest days of our history, Americans have competed aggressively and successfully in world trade. By the middle of this century, we unquestionably led the world in exports because of the quality of our goods and the productivity of our workers.

Unfortunately, this situation has changed. For the past two years, we have seen a slight trade surplus, but this year a substantial deficit is projected. What happened?

American workers are still productive, and the quality of our goods is still high -- although other Western industrialized nations have "caught up" with us in many respects. But in fact, in many industries American companies are not able to compete on an even footing with their foreign counterparts because of differences in trade policy from nation to nation.

Japan and Western European nations often subsidize their export industries, enabling them to sell goods in the U.S. much cheaper than even our own manufacturers. On the other end of the trade balance, these same nations set up trade barriers to restrict American companies' ability to sell abroad. The U.S. has rejected the idea of setting up comparable barriers, because we believe truly free trade is the best path to prosperity for us and for the rest of the world.

Some of our problems have been the result of restrictions which stem from our own laws. For instance, the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, designed with the noble intention of outlawing attempts to bribe foreign officials, has had the effect of making foreign trade more cumbersome and expensive because of certain meaningless restrictions and red tape.

Similarly, our tax structure has penalized Americans working abroad. I am pleased to note, however, that one of the provisions in the tax relief package passed this summer will bring relief on that score.

Our government also has neglected to take actions which could help our industries be more competitive in the world market without setting up trade barriers. For example, the Export Trading Company Act of 1981, which was passed by the Senate, but is held up in committee in the House, would help small- and medium-sized businesses combine their marketing and promotional activities so they can compete more effectively.

Yet, even if we overcome all of our internally imposed barriers to effective competition, we will still face problems dealing with countries which provide direct subsidies to their own industries and restrict ours.

This situation will require improving our trade posture through world negotiations. While we should avoid the temptation to throw up counter-productive barriers in the name of protection, we must let our trading partners know we expect fairness and equity in our dealing with them.

I am pleased that the Administration is working toward this end through efficient, timely, and certain enforcement of the fair trade provisions of U.S. trade laws and the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). GATT is the multilateral agreement subscribed to by 85 governments which together account for more than four-fifths of world trade. Substantial reduction on tariffs and other barriers to trade is its principal aim. This Administration has aggressively and efficiently pursued U.S. trade rights under GATT.

Of particular interest to Texas will be negotiations with the European Economic Community with regard to alleged unfair trade practices in the citrus and poultry industries. Exports in these areas have been greatly diminished because of European government subsidies to their industries.

I also hope that the Congress next year will look at legislative recommendations for putting our own industries on a more even footing in the world market.

Boys Varsity Defeat Iraan

The Bronco Varsity Boys won their second game of the year Tuesday by defeating the Iraan Braves by a score of 62-23.

After a sluggish first quarter which ended in a 4-4 tie, Sonora opened up a 27-15 halftime lead. After three quarters, Sonora led 43-19 and the final score was Sonora over Iraan 62-23. Ronnie Anderson was the top Bronco scorer with 23 points. John Blankenship added 13 points to the score while Jeff Brittain and Armando Martinez added eight points each. Allen Stewart added four points with Scott Savell, Joey Samaniego, Victor Garcia, and Devoe Smith each adding two points.

Sonora played Ozona Tuesday night and will host Junction Friday night. Junior varsity will begin play at 6:00 p.m.

The Bronco Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Freshman girls' squads began their season Tuesday, November 17 in Eldorado. The Varsity also traveled to San Angelo Central High School on Thursday, November 19, where they gave the 5-A squad a battle, which the Broncos only lost by 2 points. The first home games were also played here Tuesday, November 24, against Wall with the Varsity and JV squads competing.

The Eldorado squad took the Varsity Broncos with the final score 47-57. While the Broncos lack in height, the Eagles had plenty and took advantage of it, as inside shots beat the Bronco defense. High scorer for the Broncos was Jessica Robledo with 16 points. Other points came from Maray West with 9, Rosa Noriega with 8, Sonya Ridgeway with 7, Casey Crites with 4 and Lora Lea Kordzik with 3. The Varsity also traveled to San Angelo Central High to play the strong 5-A squad and to lose by a close 49-51 final score. The Broncos are looking forward to meeting them on the Bronco court. High scorer for the Broncos was Jessica Robledo with 29 points. Other scorers were Noriega with 8, West with 7 and Ridgeway with 5. The other game played by the Broncos was Against Wall. Both teams were plagued by fouls but the Hawks took advantage of the free throw line and took a lead over the Broncos. The final score was 31-49. High scorer was Rosa Noriega with 10. Other points were added by Robledo and Julie Stewart with 6 each. Ridgeway with 4, West with 3 and Kordzik with 2.

The JV squad was taken by the Eldorado squad in their first game. The team is made mostly of freshman and sophomores and the young team made an impressive debut. Freshman Lea Whitehead burned the nets for 16 points while Debbie Bible added 9. Other scorers were Rebecca Powers with 4, and Anita Balch, Debbie Shannon, Kathryn Parker, and Patricia Bible with 2 each. Final score was 37-43.

The JV had an exciting home game against Wall as they went into 2 overtimes but slipped as the final score came out 43-44. Wall's favor. Debbie Bible put in 15 points while teammate Whitehead added 12 before injuring her ankle. Patricia Bible also added 7, while Balch added 5 and Powers 4.

The freshman team has played one game this year against Eldorado. The team is made up of freshmen girls that are getting experience and who are just now getting their chance to play. The final score in the game was 44-9, Eldorado's favor. High scorer was Gina Black with 4 with Karla Jungk adding 3 and Rebecca Hulsey adding 2. The freshmen will participate in the Bronco tournament and a tournament in Del Rio to complete their season.

AN OLD FASHIONED DESSERT IS A HEARTY WINTER FAVORITE

Winter seems like just the right season for hearty, old fashioned desserts. They're warm and wonderful and often very nostalgic.

Raisin Bread Pudding is just such a dessert. Usually every family will remember the one that grandmother made was their very favorite, especially when she served it after a spectacular dinner.

This old-fashioned dessert now boasts a new-fashioned method of preparation using Pepperidge Farm Raisin with Cinnamon Bread. The bread is diced, placed in a large casserole and topped with beaten eggs, milk, sugar and vanilla. When baked the pudding comes out puffed and brown. Lovely to look at and delicious to eat.

RAISIN BREAD PUDDING

- 1 (1 pound) loaf Pepperidge Farm Raisin Bread, diced
- 4 eggs
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 quart milk
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine

Place bread cubes into a greased 3 quart casserole. Beat eggs in bowl. Beat in sugar, milk and vanilla. Pour mixture over bread cubes. Dot top of casserole with butter. Bake in 350° oven for 40 to 45 minutes or until puffed, brown and firm to the touch in the center. Serve hot or cold. Delicious served with sliced peaches, whipped cream or scoops of vanilla ice cream. Serves 6 to 8.

Dec. 8 Deadline For Brucellosis Comments

Dec. 8 is deadline for submitting comments on proposed federal regulations relating to brucellosis. Dr. John W. Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, said.

"These changes will have an impact on Texas, and producers need to be aware of them," Dr. Holcombe said. If approved, the changes will become a part of the Uniform Methods and Rules, which are minimum federal standards for states to follow.

Dr. Holcombe noted the major change in the proposals is one which will provide for a four classification system for states or areas within a state. The classification designation is: Free, A, B, and C.

Free means no herd infection. A means herd infection rates from 0 to .25 percent; B will be from .25 percent to 1.5 percent herd infection; C will be 1.5 percent herd infection rate and over.

Another of the proposals allows for a state to have a two-area classification, such as is now provided in Texas regulations.

Information available at the present time indicates that Texas could be in a B and C classification. In general, a C area will have these testing requirements:

A test-eligible animal move within the C area one negative test; If the animal is not out of state or out of the area in to a B area within the state, these requirements will apply. A vaccinated animal move on one negative with retest at destination. A non-vaccinated animal will require two negative tests 60 days apart, the second test within days prior to movement and retest at destination.

Certified free herds move without test but must have certificate; An entry permit is required from the receiving state.

The proposed regulation affecting movement across state lines is the most stringent ever recommended, Dr. Holcombe said.

Anyone wishing to comment on the proposals may write to: Dr. Paul Becton, USDA-APHIS, Room 856, Federal Center Building, Hyattsville, MD. 20782.

Sons of Pioneers To Perform At Rodeo Jan. 27

The world famous Sons of the Pioneers have been signed to entertain at each of the 22 performances of the World's Original Indoor Rodeo during the Jan. 27 through Feb. 7 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, reports W.R. Watt Jr., show president-manager.

Blended harmony has become the group's trademark since its start as a trio in 1933 when Len Slye (Roy Rogers) and songwriters Bob Nolan and Tim Spencer their talents. Throughout their career, the Sons of the Pioneers have endeared themselves to Western music lovers through a combination of harmony, instrumental effects and colorful tales in such favorites as "Cool Water," "Blue Shadows on the Trail," "Tumbling Tumbleweeds," and "Red River Valley."

The rodeo ticket office will open Monday, Dec. 7 in Will Rogers Coliseum lobby. Mail orders are being taken now at the Stock Show

Water Development Board Authorizes Staff To Review Water Plan

The Texas Water Development Board has authorized the Board staff to undertake a new effort to review and revise the Texas Water Plan and to develop recommendations to be made to the Governor and to the Legislature relating to long-range solutions to Texas' water needs.

The Board and the Texas Department of Water Resources will be aided and advised by Governor Bill Clements' Task Force on Water Resource Use and Conservation. Our goal is to revise and update the Texas Water Plan in time to present results and recommendations to the next session of the Texas Legislature when it convenes in January of 1983. The task is an extremely complex one. It involves a very large number of factors including recognition of existing water rights, along with the views and interests and the turn of the century an additional 2200 sewage treatment facilities need to be built all at a cost of $11.5 billion. Federal funding available in the past will not be available in the future. Thus, it will be necessary for the people of Texas to assume more of the financial responsibility for water, sewer, and flood protection projects.

One of the difficult problems of Texas water planning for the future centers around projections, assumptions, and desires about population and economic growth. Rapid growth in recent years and expected future growth are placing severe strains upon municipal water supply and sewer systems. Growth in population and in the associated business, service, and manufacturing sectors has been and is expected to continue to be fundamental to a strong Texas economy that can provide jobs at all skill levels, opportunity for upward mobility of all groups, and a broad and dependable tax base from which education, and public services can be financed through the public sector. A satisfactory supply of suitable quality water is essential to maintain existing levels of the economy and to meet the needs of growth in the future.

Many local and state officials and private sector leaders fully understand these principles of our economy and are working to find solutions to water and other problems of the public and private sectors. However, there are mixed voices regarding policies and programs of water resources development. On the one hand, the Texas Department of Water Resources is urged to adopt and pursue policies to develop water supplies to meet the needs of the future, including growth. On the other hand, the Department is urged to pursue objectives of limited growth, increased conservation (meaning to reduce per capita use of water by people and reduced quantities of water for industry and agriculture), and increased regulation of water use.

In Texas, state water resources agencies historically have been limited in authority to water rights and water quality protection administration, state-wide comprehensive water quality and water development planning, and the administration of a water development loan program for hardship cases. The implementation and operation of water supply and sewage treatment systems is the responsibility of local and regional units of government. Thus, Texans must realize that the Texas water resources program is fragmented and is the subject of heated discussion by many voices holding varied opinions reflecting widely differing objectives.

Most Texans know, however, that our state both enjoys and suffers from a very wide diversity of climate—ranging from among the highest annual rainfall in the nation on our eastern border to arid conditions at El Paso, and from a subtropical, although semiarid climate in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, to the Panhandle where winters are cold and frozen, and precipitation is light. Obviously, any meaningful state water plan must recognize these realities.

Our population and economy are growing. Without a plan for the future, we cannot avoid a water crisis. The Department has a long-range water planning program in which data and planning methods have been developed to advanced stages. However, the Department does not have all the answers needed to solve the state's long-range water problems. Certainly some of the most important of those missing are the answers to three key questions:

- (1) What do the people of Texas want in the way of a water plan?
- (2) What are they willing to pay?
- (3) How will the cost be financed?

In the months ahead, the Board will schedule both public information/discussion meetings and formal public hearings to address these and other questions of relevance to solving our future water problems as we proceed with our efforts to revise the Texas Water Plan. We welcome the ideas and suggestions of all Texans.

Drugs and Older Texans Are Combination With Need for Safety

Drugs and older Texans are a "combination" with a special need for safety, reminds Judith Warren, a family life education specialist-aging.

Warren, on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says older adults take 25 percent of the prescribed drugs sold in the United States, yet they make up only 11 percent of the population.

They're at a special risk in the use of medicines because they take a higher percentage of drugs than other age groups and because of other reasons, Warren notes.

OLDER ADULTS, DRUG THERAPY

Older adults take more drugs than other age-groups for two reasons, Warren says:

- partly they tend to have more and longer illnesses and
- partly because drug therapy is the help usually offered by doctors to physical and even social-psychological concerns instead of other alternatives.

DRUG INTERACTIONS

Other reasons older adults face special risk with drugs include possibilities of drug interactions and harmful reaction, the specialist says.

Some illnesses and disorders may affect the action of a particular drug just as some drugs may interact with each other when taken together.

FOOD, DRUG INTERACTIONS

Also, various foods and beverages can interact with drugs.

Results can include failure of the body to absorb vitamins and other nutrients from the food and in some cases failure to absorb the drug itself.

For example, the calcium in milk interferes with the body's ability to absorb the antibiotic tetracycline.

Alcohol seems to affect many drugs—from aspirin to antihistamines.

BODY CHANGES

Medications can have different effects on older persons than they would on younger persons because of normal changes that occur in body weight and composition as a person gets older.

With age, the ratio of body fat to muscle tissue and body water increases. This change affects how much and how fast or slowly drugs are taken into the body.

Studies show that drugs remain four or five times longer in an older person's body than they do in a younger person's body.

Drugs also tend to remain in the body when such body organs as the kidney and liver become less efficient in their job of breaking down and removing drugs from the body.

PAY SPECIAL ATTENTION

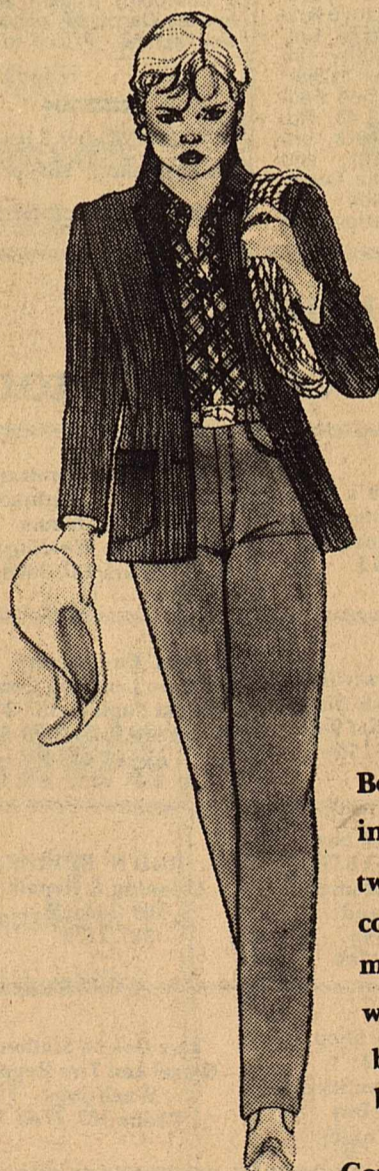

Because of the special risks that older adults face with drugs, special attention in taking drugs is necessary, Warren says.

Following the physician's instructions is the first important step among many others, she adds.

Alcoholism A Menace To Work Industry

Alcoholism—a destructive form of stress control and a menace to the work industry.

An estimated 10 percent of adults in the United States have a drinking problem. Twenty percent of all purchasers consume 80 percent of total alcohol sold, reports Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, a health education specialist.

Consequently, alcoholism costs the job industry approximately $40 billion annually, she points out.

High costs are the result of the impact alcoholics have on co-workers, in addition to increased absenteeism and losses in productivity, she notes.

One of every four families reports that drinking interferes with homelife as well as occupation. More cases are cited in high-income families than in low-income ones, the specialist reports.

Symptoms of alcoholism usually appear in the home after four years of drinking, but don't show up in the work-place for another seven years, Shirer warns.

Alcoholics drink to "tune out" self-doubt and ease challenging work pressures, which are both possible sources of stress, she explains.

In order to relieve these stress pressures, superviors and co-workers should assume the responsibility of helping the alcoholic, the specialist urges.

Co-workers should not ignore the fact that the person has an alcohol problem or cover up for his behavior, she advises.

To prove to the individual he has a problem and needs assistance, Shirer recommends that supervisors record unacceptable habits, such as continuous absen-teism, long lunch hours and drinking on the job.

From this point, the "team approach" should be used to help terminate the problem, she urges. The team consists of supervisors, employee-assistance programs and community services.

Shirer is with the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Watertown, NY, recorded 218 inches on snow during a blizzard in 1977. Two of the city's major industries are manufacturing ski lifts and snow plows.

Railroad Commission Approves Application

The Railroad Commission has approved the application of Union Oil Company to expand a fluid injection program begun in 1975 in the Riley North Field in Gaines County.

In testimony at a hearing conducted by the Commission's Oil and Gas Division on August 18, Union requested approval for 23 injection wells in addition to the 16 it presently operates in the field. The company said the additional injection wells are part of a 21-year secondary recovery program expected to deliver 16 million barrels of oil. Union said the total program is expected to cost $20 million.

The Southwest Soil and Water Protection Association opposed Union's application because fresh water is being used for the water-flood project. Union owns approximately 1,680 acres of fresh rights in the project area. The company expects to use 107 million barrels of the estimated 166 million barrels in place under their acreage. Union said available salt water was unsatisfactory for injection.

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent and Commissioners Mack Wallace and Buddy Temple heard oral arguments by both sides in the case on November 9. The Southwest Soil and Water Protection Association asked the Commissioners to require Union use salt water for the injection program to prevent further depletion of the Ogallala aquifer. Union argued that the Commission does not have statutory authority to deny company use of fresh water in the project, noting their ownership of the water rights.

The Commission order found the Union application to be in compliance with all statutory requirements. The order states the Commission does not have statutory or implied authority to require Union to use salt water instead of fresh water.

The order goes on to state that although Chapter 27 of the Water Code requires a permit from the Railroad Commission whenever an injection well is to be used to dispose of oil and gas waste, fresh water from the Ogallala aquifer is not oil and gas waste within the meaning of the statute. The order also says the Commission has the implied authority to examine all aspects of a secondary recovery program before approving it, but that can't be construed as statutory authority to deny Union's request because salt water could be used instead of fresh water.

Union Oil Company estimates there were 138 million barrels of oil originally in place in the Riley North Field. Primary recovery (without injection) is expected to recover 20.6 million barrels and secondary recovery (with injection) is expected to recover an additional 16 million barrels.

Commission records show the Riley North Field was discovered in June, 1947. Cumulative oil production from the field through January 1, 1981 has been 18.5 million barrels.

the 1981 goal of $10,000. Texas sales during the month amounted to $19,229,563, while sales for the first nine months of 1981 totaled $194,037,119 with 77 percent of the yearly sales goal of $252.3 million achieved.

Liquified Gas Vehicles To Display Tax Decal

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday warned that vehicles using liquified gas must display a new tax decal by January 1, 1982.

Bullock said legislative changes in the LP gas law will permit his office to tax vehicles on both weight and mileage and decals should cost less for those who drive fewer miles.

An LP-powered vehicle cannot legally be refueled or pass state vehicle inspection without a valid tax decal.

Fuel tax decals range in cost from $24 a year for a vehicle driven less than 5,000 miles annually and weighing less than 4,000 pounds, to $300 for a vehicle weighing over 43,501 pounds and driven more than 10,000 miles a year.

Bullock said renewal notices to owners of LP-powered cars and trucks are being sent out by his office, and decals are available from the Comptroller's field offices and at the agency's Austin office.

Bullock estimated that there are more than 40,000 liquified gas powered cars and trucks in Texas.

The motor fuels tax on LP gas brings in about $4 million a year in tax revenue.

Comptroller Rep. To Be Here Dec. 18

State Comptroller Bob Bullock will have a representative from his San Angelo office in Sonora on December 18, 1981 to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer Dru Beck will meet with local taxpayers in the County Clerk's office at the County Courthouse from 1:00 to 2:30 p.m.

"If Sonora area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing state tax forms, Ms. Beck will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office, and we believe these face to face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

Barring unforeseen disasters, three-quarters of the babies born in Texas in 1982 can expect to live to age 65. One-quarter should even make it to 75. But the first year remains the most hazardous period of life, according to the "Christmas Seal" people.

"In one recent year, for example, almost 70,000 youngsters under the age of 15 died; 50,000 of those youngsters were in their first year of life," said Dr. Staton P. Fischer, president of the American Lung Association of Texas.

Respiratory disease is the leading cause of death for babies in their first year, according to the Lung Association. Respiratory disease causes more disability and deaths for children than any other illness.

Childhood episodes of lung disease also account for more hospitalization, more time lost from school or play, and more disruption of family activities than any other illness.

"The Christmas holidays are a good time to show we care about the lung health of children in Texas," said Fischer. "One important way to do that is with a Christmas Seal contribution."

More than two million homes in Texas and 60 million homes across the nation receive the seals in the mail each holiday season. "They are the main source of funding for the American Lung Association of Texas' programs," Fischer said.

One of the many programs in Texas supported by Christmas Seal contributions is the Family Asthma Program, which helps children learn to manage their asthma and teaches parents to recognize the symptoms of the disease and ways to help their asthmatic child breathe more easily. The free program emphasizes self-confidence and fun, while improving knowledge and understanding of the disease.

Christmas Seal donations also help support Better Living, Better Breathing Clubs. Breathing Club meetings, which are free and open to the public, focus each month on a different topic of concern to persons with breathing problems. Every meeting provides information, instruction, practical skills and exercises for more active living.

For more information about Lung Association programs or Christmas Seals, contact the American Lung Association of Texas, 7701 North Lamar Blvd., Suite 104, Austin, Texas 78752.

American Agric. Movement To Meet December 4 And 5

American Agriculture Movement members will gather December 4 and 5 at the Sheraton in Abilene for their annual state convention.

Featured speaker at noon Saturday will be Wayne Cryts, the gutsy Missouri farmer who made national headlines when he and 3,000 other farmers removed his soybeans from the bankrupt Ristine, Missouri elevator in defiance of court orders. Bankruptcy trustees planned to sell Cryts' soybeans, which he had stored on warehouse receipts, to pay off the debts of the elevator. Legal action is still pending against Cryts in what will be a landmark case.

AAM members will discuss the farm bill that is coming out of Washington and plan strategy for 1982.

All interested persons may attend. The banquet Friday night is by reservation only. For more information contact Key Crawford, Texas state coordinator, in Hereford at 806-364-7820.

Railroad Commission Approves Union Oil Applications

The Railroad Commission has approved the application of Union Oil Company to expand a fluid injection program begun in 1975 in the Riley North field in Gaines County.

In testimony at a hearing conducted by the Commission's Oil and Gas Division on August 18, Union requested approval for 23 injection wells in addition to the 16 it presently operates in the field. The company said the additional injection wells are part of a 21-year secondary recovery program expected to deliver 16 million barrels of oil. Union said the total program is expected to cost $20 million.

The Southwest Soil and Water Protection Association opposed Union's application because fresh water is being used for the water-flood project. Union owns approximately 1,680 acres of fresh water rights in the project area. The company expects to use 107 million barrels of the estimated 166 million barrels in place under their acreage. Union said available salt water was unsatisfactory for injection.

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent and Commissioners Mack Wallace and Buddy Temple heard oral arguments by both sides in the case on November 9. The Southwest Soil and Water Protection Association asked the Commissioners to require Union to use salt water for the injection program to prevent further depletion of the Ogallala aquifer. Union argued that the Commission does not have statutory authority to deny company use of fresh water in the project, noting their ownership of the water rights.

The Commission order found the Union application to be in compliance with all statutory requirements. The order states the Commission does not have statutory or implied authority to require Union to use salt water instead of fresh water.

The order goes on to state that although Chapter 27 of the Water Code requires a permit from the Railroad Commission whenever an injection well is to be used to dispose of oil and gas waste, fresh water from the Ogallala aquifer is not oil and gas waste within the meaning of the statute. The order also says the Commission has the implied authority to examine all aspects of a secondary recovery program before approving it, but that can't be construed as statutory authority to deny Union's request because salt water could be used instead of fresh water.

Union Oil Company estimates there were 138 million barrels of oil originally in place in the Riley North Field. Primary recovery (without injection) is expected to recover 20.6 million barrels and secondary recovery (with injection) is expected to recover an additional 16 million barrels.

Commission records show the Riley North Field was discovered in June, 1947. Cumulative oil production from the field through January 1, 1981 has been 18.5 million barrels.

Gasoline Price Raise Contemplated By Some In Reagan Administration

Some people in the Reagan Administration are suggesting that the Excise Tax on gasoline be raised from the current four cents per gallon to seven or eight cents a gallon. One plan would use most of the increase to help pay for work on highways and bridges and to finance mass transit capital programs such as subway construction. The Highway Trust Fund, financed by the Gasoline Excise Tax, is in the red. Most people don't think the tax increase stands a chance unless the money is designated to pay for roads bridges and maintenance.

The County Commissioners of Lea County, New Mexico, recently approved five pick-up trucks, shotguns and radios for the new program. The Commissioners said they took the action because of the large increase in oilfield thefts in the Permian Basin. PBPA commends the Lea County Commissioners for supporting Sheriff Wrinkle and hopes other counties in the Basin will be able to do the same.

And the OPEC countries were scheduled to meet October 29th in Geneva to talk about oil prices.

In the Permian Basin our rig count for last week was 472. One year ago it was 342.

Farm Bureau Awards Presented During State Convention

Awards for the annual county Farm Bureau public relations, safety, and membership contests were presented during the Texas Farm Bureau state convention in Corpus Christi this week.

A record high membership of 276,247 member families has been achieved by the state's largest farm organization. This was a gain of 13,029 member families during the past fiscal year which ended Oct. 31. This was the 28th consecutive year for Texas Farm Bureau to gain in membership.

Ten counties were presented with plaques for outstanding achievements in public relations activities. Winners included Colorado, Fayette, Tom Green, Ellis, Johnson, Gillespie, DeWitt, Karnes, Bexar, and Hardeman counties.

Kimble County Farm Bureau won the 1981 Texas Farm Bureau Safety Award for its safety education work throughout the year. Colorado, DeWitt, and Fayette counties received honorable mention awards.

Special membership awards were given in four categories for the largest gain in membership, the highest renewal percentage, the most new members, and the longest continuous gain.

Winners in the largest gain in a county were Orange, Rusk, Jefferson, and Harris counties. Receiving awards for the most new members were Orange, Rusk, Jasper, and Harris counties. LaSalle, Archer, Llano, Nacogdoches, and Lampasas counties were presented with awards for the longest continuous gain, and highest renewal percentage winners were Briscoe, Burnet, DeWitt, and Jackson counties.

The honor district award went to District 10 in South Texas for the largest membership gain and having every county gain for a Farm Bureau district. J.R.

"Bubba" Day of Uvalde is state director for District 10. The counties include Atascosa, Bandera, Bexar, Blanco, Comal, Dimmitt, Frio, Gillespie, Hays, Kendall, Kerr, Kinney, LaSalle, Live Oak, Maverick, Medina, Uvalde, Webb, and

Burleson Recipient of Farm Bureau Award

Forn, Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson is the 1981 recipient of the Texas Farm Bureau "Meritorious Service Award," it was announced Monday, Nov. 30, at the 48th annual meeting of the farm organization here.

TFB honored Burleson for his "outstanding service to agriculture" during the 32 years he served as a U.S. Representative from the 17th District of Texas. The announcement was made by TFB President Carol Chaloupka.

Burleson was elected to the 80th Congress, taking his seat in the House in January, 1947. He was re-elected to succeeding Congresses, through the 95th Congress.

The former Congressman worked closely with agriculture during his 16 terms, and was instrumental in the creation of legislation to increase the estate tax exemption, an act which allows a larger number of farmers and ranchers to pass down their estates tax free.

In 1968, Burleson was elected to the House Ways and Means Committee.

Other committees he served on were the Budget, Foreign Affairs, and Home Administration Committees, the latter of which he chaired.

During his career, Burleson has served as a county attorney and county judge, and 1940 he became a special agent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

His record during the years he served the 17th Congressional District was that of a progressive-conservative. Burleson's attendance throughout his 32 years of service in the Congress was one of the best in the House.

Burleson retired in January of 1979 and now resides in Abilene. At the time of his retirement, he was the 7th ranking Member of the House of Representatives and the 10th ranking Member of the United States Congress.
