County Commissioners Meet With Hospital Board During Regular Meeting

Members of the Hospital Board of Directors met with the County Commissioners Monday during their monthly meeting to discuss the financial status of the hospital.

The Hospital Board indicated that due to the lack of patients during the past few years and rising costs of maintaining the hospital had caused deficits in the hospital fund.

The commissioners and board discussed several alternatives including having the county help support the hospital or creating a hospital district.

Hospitals in Kimble, Crockett, and Schleicher Counties are supported by taxes and a hospital district.

The commissioners agreed to meet with the board again next meeting to discuss the problems and alternatives.

Tryon Fields with the Park Board met with the commissioners and told them that the Park Board had not met in six to eight months and expressed concern as to their effectiveness.

The commissioners agreed to appoint a new Park Board during the next meeting.

Walter Walicek with the Little League Association also met with the County Commissioners. He requested that the Little League move to the Park for use of Field #2 during baseball season.

Action was postponed until next meeting.

Board Says New Elementary Would Allow For Unlimited Growth

The Sonora Independent School District Board of Trustees released the following statement Monday.

The proposal to build a new elementary school and add major additions to the high school would allow for almost unlimited growth potential for the Sonora Independent School District.

By moving grades K-4, with an enrollment of almost 600, away from the present small site, the first step of decentralization of the Sonora Schools would take place. The remaining facilities plus new additions would take care of grades 5-12 well into the 1990's.

This solution to the schools overcrowded conditions would eliminate the unnecessary expense of converting secondary facilities for elementary use. Moreover, costly additions or conversion of the very fine snack bar facility would not be needed. The present cafeteria would provide meals and service for the less than 200 secondary students that presently eat lunch in this facility.

By providing a new facility for the first five grades the district will continue to best utilize the new vocational building which serves both junior high and senior high campuses and programs.

Most importantly, every student in grades K-12 would benefit from this building program.

National Honor Society members Sonya and Tonya Ridgeway and sponsor Sarah McAndrews present Jessica Robledo with a check for $300. The money was raised Friday at the NHS sponsored dance and will go toward the Jessica Robledo Scholarship Fund.

Wendy Hopkins and Eric Neal provided the music free of charge and NHS members brought the refreshments and decorations.

Several donations from parents were also made.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

As with any community project or long-range planning, there are going to be honest differences of opinion about what should be done at our crowded school facility. It is amazing how well the present and previous school boards and administrations have met the educational needs, always having to be concerned about "Is this growth temporary?", "Has it leveled off?", "How can quality education be expanded without increasing taxes unnecessarily?"

In the early 1970's we jumped from approximately 700 students to 1,000, then in the late 1970's we leveled off around 1,100-1,200 students. Thanks to the school boards, Dr. Andrews and the faculty, our educational and extra curricular programs expanded also. Now the student population has jumped the 1,200 barrier, and we will be approaching 1,400 students this fall. Scott Shurley and other board members with Mr. McAndrew's encouragement wisely contacted some outside long-range planners who compiled some guidelines in the "blue book".

The present campus size simply will no longer permit an orderly expansion program. The school board has asked us to vote on a school bond issue that is for the construction of an elementary k-4 campus at a new location and a $1.2 million stage and auditorium and other high school additions at the existing school grounds at a total cost of approximately $7.5 million.

Some will vote for the issue because it has been presented in good faith by the school board as a solution to our immediate needs.

Others will vote "yes" because most any building program will provide additional classrooms and cafeteria space.

Some want a new stage and auditorium regardless of its location.

Some will vote against the issue because they sincerely believe that we will not need added expense and facilities for very many more years, especially elementary classrooms as with the L.W. Elliott school in the 1960's.

Others will vote "no" because their school taxes will increase approximately 50 percent (except for senior citizens homestead that will not be changed).

Some will vote "no" because the location of a new facility has not been selected.

Some will vote "yes" or "no" depending upon what grades their children will be in 2 to 3 years from now.

Some will vote "no" because they do not think a stage and auditorium at the existing campus is needed even though more classrooms, playgrounds and parking are needed.

Some will vote "no" because the junior high PE programs and girl's indoor activities will essentially not be helped by a new k-4 building.

Some will vote "no" because the high school student's driving and parking problems will not have been solved.

Others are concerned that in a few years we will be asked to build a new high school elsewhere, but very reluctant to do so because we would be leaving many unused classrooms, labs and much needed stage and auditorium at the old campus. By that time building costs will be much higher. With a legislature, proposed state education laws might restrict future building programs because the bulk of our local school tax money would be required to go to "Austin" to be controlled and distributed to other school districts in need.

Undoubtedly there are other "pros" and "cons". Some of us will vote "no" to this bond issue so that hopefully the community will have an opportunity to vote "yes" for a high school program that in our opinion will solve more of the existing problems and concerns.

When one studies and questions the "blue book" proposals, it becomes apparent that more classrooms and auxiliary facilities are definitely needed and they will be expensive—even more expensive the longer we wait past this spring. An investment of several million dollars should provide flexibility—a hedge against population increase or decrease in future years; it should help serve some of the needs of the entire community in an organized homogenous plan with adequate safe parking for as many activities as possible. No more new, large, expensive buildings on an already crowded campus and streets. And most of all as stated in a November planning meeting, the educational needs of the high school students are greater because of continual advances in modern technology and equipment.

Sincerely,
Joe David Ross

For out-of-town business, picking up a phone can cost less than dropping a line.

The stamp on a letter is only a small part of the cost of doing business by mail. You have to include the cost of secretarial time, materials, mail handling and overhead. That adds up to something like $6.63* You can do a lot of business with long distance for that amount, take care of orders faster, and save time and energy as well.

Plus you never have to lick stamps.

Rights and Remedies For Taxpayers Cited by Graeber

Kenneth Graeber, executive director of the State Property Tax Board, announced a statewide effort to inform property owners in Texas of their rights and remedies as taxpayers.

"Major changes in the state's tax laws were effective January 1 with implementation of the new Texas Property Tax Code," Graeber said. Among the more significant provisions are those which:

--Establish a central appraisal district in each county which will value all property for tax purposes and provide that value to each taxing unit in the district;

--Provide a single board of equalization--which will be empowered to hear taxpayer appeals on a wide range of matters rather than just questions of value;

--Make it possible for taxpayers to file all exemption applications and property renditions with one office in a county rather than with multiple tax offices;

--Permit one-time applications for homestead exemptions and open-space land valuation, rather than annual applications as previously required;

--Provide, for the first time in Texas, a method for taxpayers to limit property tax increases to eight percent annually through an initiative and referendum process applicable to all taxing units.

Graeber said that in all except 17 of the state's 254 counties, the new appraisal district has been implemented. Local officials delayed appraisal district operations until 1983 in Bexar, Glasscock, Gray, Hartley, Jasper, Jeff Davis, King, Leon, McMullen, Moore, Oldham, Rockwall, Stonewall and Zapata counties.

Implementation of full appraisal district operations was delayed until 1984 in Bowie, Crockett and Harris counties.

The SPTB administrator noted that in counties which have delayed appraisal district implementation, taxpayers should file their property rendition and exemption application with city, school, county and special district tax offices as in prior years. In all other counties, renditions and exemption applications should be filed with the appraisal district's chief appraiser.

"It is important that taxpayers file renditions and applications for tax relief prior to May 1," Graeber said.

To call attention to available exemptions and tax administrations procedures, he noted that SPTB will be working with appraisal districts, local tax offices and the state's news media to help make Texans aware of changes in the law.

"State law requires any person who owns or manages income-producing personal property on January 1 to file a rendition statement with the appraisal district," Graeber noted.

Additionally, the chief appraiser of a county may require rendition of other taxable property upon notice to the owner or manager.

Special rendition procedures apply to property on which an exemption applicable on January 1 terminates during the tax year. In such case, the person who owns or acquires the property on the date eligibility for the exemption terminates must render the property for taxation within 30 days of that date.

Transportation companies subject to regulation of the Railroad Commission are required to render the value of their intangible property to the State Property Tax Board.

Banks and railroad companies are required to file special rendition statements with the appraisal district chief appraiser.

Graeber said rendition forms are available from appraisal district offices or from local tax offices in those counties where appraisal district implementation was delayed. Transportation businesses may obtain report forms from the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

Complete information on rendition requirements and on the availability of tax exemptions and special valuation for agricultural land is contained in a pamphlet produced by SPTB titled "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities!"

The pamphlet, which also includes suggestions on how to prepare and present a taxpayer appeal, is available at no charge from appraisal district offices, from most local tax offices, or from the State Property Tax Board.

"The property tax is the primary source of local government revenue in Texas, and will generate approximately $6 billion this year to help fund the operations of public schools, cities, counties and special districts," Graeber said.

"We urge all property owners to become familiar with the tax process and to file renditions and apply for all exemptions or other tax relief measures to which they are entitled," Graeber concluded.

John Q Public Has Big Stake in Agriculture

Many American consumers get no closer to agriculture than the supermarket, yet they still have a real stake in keeping the U.S. a leader in agriculture, contends Jerry Swift, agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Swift says farm and urban people depend on each other for products and services that are essential to modern business and living.

"One group can't live without the other. Together they make the best food and fiber team in the world," Swift explains. Swift believes that a basic ingredient for the economic, political and social success of a country is a highly productive agricultural base, which gives a nation the capacity to feed its own people and to export for economic gain as well as humanitarian purposes.

"Food in this country is still an incredible bargain, with Americans spending about 19 percent of after-tax income for food and beverages.

Agriculture is this nation's leading employer, exporter, and the No. 1 industry in the U.S., Swift points out.

Today, one U.S. worker now produces enough food for about 48 people at home and another 22 overseas. At the turn of the century, one American farm worker could feed only seven people," Swift emphasizes.

In Texas, one out of every 25 persons is a farmer or rancher, yet about 30 percent of the state's retail trade business is directly associated with agricultural production and selling of food and fiber products.

"Agriculture makes a large contribution to the wealth and well-being of our state. Because quality food is available at affordable prices, a larger part of our income is available to buy other things," the agent says.

Independent Cattlemen Hold Monthly Meeting

The Independent Cattlemen's Association held its monthly meeting and breakfast Thursday, March 4th, 1982 at the Sutton County Steak House.

The Bar-B-Que held on February 26th, was discussed and the net proceeds of $2300.00 was sent to the Home Office in Austin. This was the Sutton County Chapters annual fundraiser.

This fund raiser is a new project proposed by the Board of Directors in October, 1981. Mrs. Adele Wilson is serving a two year term as Director from this area.

Proceeds from this sale will go toward I.C.A. lobbying efforts at State and national level.

PROTECT YOUR FUTURE WITH AN INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ACCOUNT AT

You'll Have Benefits Today, Retirement Income For Tomorrow
And The Strength and Security Of First National Bank Of Sonora Throughout.

Beginning January 1, 1982, for tax year 1982 and thereafter, a new federal law will make the benefits of an Individual Retirement Account available to everyone, even those already covered by a pension plan. Previously, this plan was available only to those not covered by a pension plan. And the benefits are great both for today and for the retirement years to come.

Q. Why is this new program so important?

A. There is a new emphasis on self reliance, especially in terms of providing for one's own retirement. The new Individual Retirement Account allows you to do just that, regardless of what other pension or retirement plans you have.

Q. How does it work?

A. Simply stated, you can put up to $2,000 a year into an Individual Retirement Account and deduct that amount from your taxable income. The interest you earn on your funds accumulates tax-free as well. After retirement, you may begin withdrawing from your Individual Retirement Account. You must pay taxes on it as you withdraw, but your tax bracket should be much less after retirement.

Q. Do I have to put in $2,000 every year?

A. No. You can contribute whatever you like each year, but it can't exceed $2,000 for an individual or $2,250 for a couple using the same Individual Retirement Account.

Q. What about married couples?

A. A married couple, when both parties work, may set up two separate accounts. This means you'll be able to tax shelter $4,000 a year. If your spouse does not work, you may still increase your annual contribution to $2,250 to cover both of you.

Q. At $2,000 a year, can I really accumulate a significant amount?

A. Judge for yourself:

Let's assume an interest rate of 12%. In 20 years, with contributions of $2,000 a year, your Individual Retirement Account would grow to $177,277.

Of course, the interest rate will vary over that period of time, but this will give you some idea of the opportunity an Individual Retirement Account offers.

Retirement Benefits for Tomorrow

At End of Year	Total Amount Deposited	Balance in Account (12% interest)
5	$10,000	$ 14,541
10	$20,000	$ 41,035
15	$30,000	$ 89,311
20	$40,000	$ 177,277
25	$50,000	$ 337,559
30	$60,000	$ 629,614
35	$70,000	$1,161,772
40	$80,000	$2,131,427

This chart is based on $2,000 deposited at the first of each year at a rate of 12% compounded continuously.

Q. When can I begin withdrawing from my Individual Retirement Account?

A. At age 59½, regardless of whether or not you are retired. Any withdrawal previous to that time will carry a tax penalty amounting to 10% of the amount withdrawn, plus regular income tax on that amount. There is an exception, however, in case of disability.

Q. Do I have to begin withdrawing from the account when I retire?

A. Not immediately. However, retirement withdrawals must begin no later than the year in which you reach 70½. At that time you can make a lump sum withdrawal, or begin a program of installment payments.

Come in The First National Bank of Sonora and see Sue Rosford or Jo Ann Jones today and set up your Individual Retirement Account Start accumulating your retirement fund as soon as possible

Jim Zachary Speaks To Desk And Derrick

The Sonora Chapter of the Desk and Derrick Club held its monthly meeting on Tuesday March 2 at the HNG offices.

President of the club, Candy Nelson, was on hand to open the meeting and introduce Mr. Jim Zachary as guest speaker.

Zachary is the Field Representative for Air Drilling Incorporated. He services the Southwestern part of the U.S. through the supplying companies with compressors, boosters, mist pumps and personnel to drill a well. Included in his territory are Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Tennessee, Louisiana, California and Washington. Mr. Zachary has been with Air Drill Inc. for only 18 months but he has been directly involved with the oil industry since his retirement from the Navy in 1974. He also holds a degree in Business Administration from the College of the Ozarks in Arkansas.

During his presentation he spoke briefly on the theory of air drilling versus fluid drilling. The point he emphasized the most was that air drilling is equally effective as fluid drilling and less expensive. His main concern seemed to stem from the accident rate of the oil field industry. One point he made was in regard to fires, one of which is an instantaneous fire at the bottom of the hole that, if not prevented from reaching the top of the well, could cause a major accident. He suggested that the use of prevention plugs could prevent the fire from reaching the crew as it would not make it past the placement of the plug. Mr. Zachary stated that one of the main objectives of his personnel at location is to make hole and keep everyone safe.

The program was highlighted by the presentation to Ms. Nelson a hard hat, given to her by Mr. Zachary to show his company's appreciation to the working females of Sonora.

The hard hat, however, was not an ordinary hard hat used to help prevent head injuries, but rather a white hard hat brightly decorated on with U.S. flags and little multi-colored puffs.

A final note to the meeting was that the membership drive for the Sonora Chapter will begin later this month.

Nugent Urges Natural Gas Action

Railroad Commission Chairman Jim Nugent told a Washington audience today that drilling for natural gas has stagnated, production is declining, and Texans face less gas and higher prices unless changes are made to the Natural Gas Policy Act.

Nugent's remarks were made at the Texas Energy Forum, organized by the Texas Office of State-Federal Relations to provide information to people in Washington interested in the impact of federal policy and legislation on Texas energy issues.

Charting the rates of natural gas drilling and production in Texas over the past 20 years reveals a few surprises, according to Nugent.

While gas well completions surged from a pre-Arab oil embargo low of less than 2,000 a year to more than 5,000 in 1978 through 1981, gas production declined from a peak of 9.6 Tcf (trillion cubic feet) in 1972 to less than 7 Tcf in 1981, Nugent said. "Well life and productivity have declined faster than new supplies have been added, producing an overall decline in production," he said.

Another surprise noted by Nugent is that more than 60 percent of today's gas production comes from wells completed since January 1, 1974. In other words, recent drilling is the backbone of current production and any slackening in the rate of drilling would cause rapid declines in overall production, he said.

Nugent said Railroad Commission figures indicate the search for Texas gas has stagnated since the passage of the NGPA in 1978 as energy and money have been diverted to exploration for more profitable oil.

The NGPA is working against Texas in another way, he added, because it systematically imbalances natural gas prices and the ability to acquire new supplies in favor of interstate purchasers.

Nugent said a recent Department of Energy study on natural gas shows that interstate pipelines are already outdistancing intrastates in gas reserves and that in 1985, interstates will have over twice the amount of natural gas under controls at a lower price than do intrastate purchasers. Interstate pipelines can use this "cushion" of older, low-cost gas to bid up the price of new gas supplies even higher than the market average, leaving Texans with less gas and higher prices.

Shortages have already occurred in Texas this month, Nugent said, while interstate pipelines were reporting February surpluses of 90 billion cubic feet to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. He added, "if that is the situation today, and the balance continues to shift, I don't have to tell you where we might find ourselves in future years."

Nugent said that while he supported FERC administrative proceedings to address some of the problems, he doesn't think the FERC has enough latitude under the law to make a major difference. He said the NGPA itself must be changed to give Texas and other intrastate customers a fighting chance.

"If the NGPA is to remain in place," Nugent warned, "the producing states may find themselves forced to look at their own laws and regulations to protect their energy supplies. We cannot sit idly by if we see the future developing as I fear it will."
