Tedford Jewelry slates business expansion

The major expansion and remodeling of Tedford Jewelry is nearing the completion stage. The downtown Sonora full-line jewelry store, owned and managed by John and Dell Tedford, is undergoing a complete renovation, more than doubling its floor space. The new portion of the store is now open, and work on the original part is scheduled to be completed by November 15.

The new store will feature a separate Hallmark room, offering Sonora, for the first time, a full selection of Hallmark cards and related items.

The fine jewelry department will be greatly enlarged, with not only a wider selection of moderately-priced diamond and other fine jewelry, but also an impressive collection of hand-crafted, often one-of-a-kind jewelry in upper price ranges. All fine jewelry at the store is individually selected by the Tedfords from various European and New York designers.

A new addition to the store is a collector's gallery, featuring limited-edition collectors items in various media, such as Hummels and Kaiser Porcelains, as well as museum quality oil paintings.

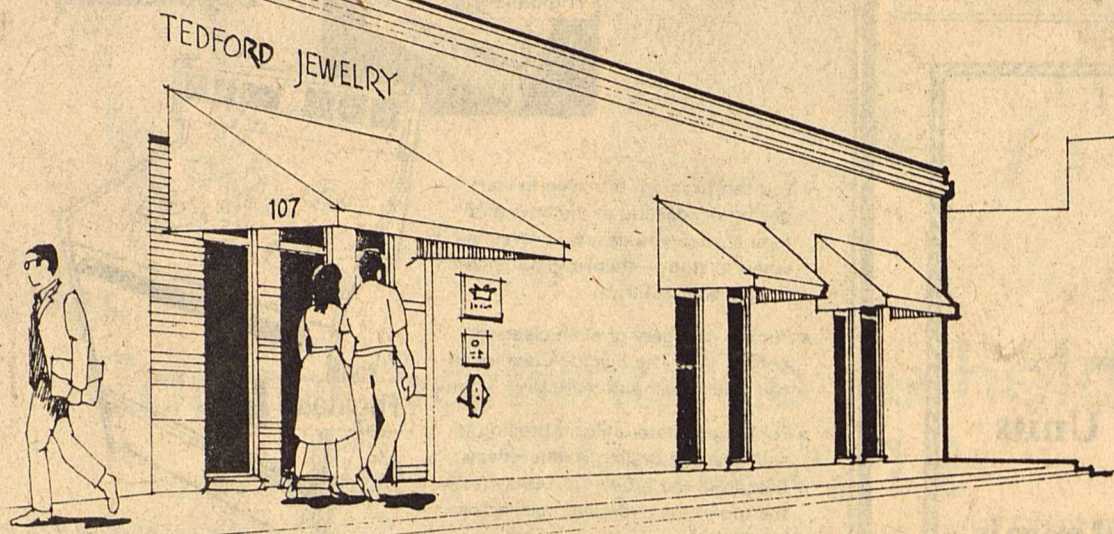

The expanded dinnerware and bridal department, including such names as Lenox and Wedgwood, will feature over 200 patterns. The large silver department will offer a wide selection of flatware and holloware by the nation's finest silversmiths. One full room will be devoted to general giftware for all occasions, with extensive collections of wood and brass.

The Tedfords stated that, since their purchase of the half-century old store in 1975, the business had outgrown the old facility. The expansion is an outgrowth of their determination to provide Sonora with a full-line jewelry store comparable to anything offered in Dallas or other large city.

Construction work is being done by Templeton Construction of San Angelo. Architect is Tim Norton, of the firm Chakos-Zentner-Marcum, also of San Angelo.

Tedfords is planning a series of grand opening events as soon after completion as possible.

DPS makes drug arrest in Sutton County

Jose Marie Benavides Gonzales, 22 was arrested Thursday November 4th for possession of 4 lbs. of marijuana and 1/4 gram of cocaine. He was headed North on Hwy 277 when trooper Jim Walker and Mark Sassman stopped Jose about 5 miles out of Sonora, for a traffic violation. They then saw seeds in the floor board believed to be marijuana and in the ash tray was a butt believed to be a marijuana cigarette.

A search was then conducted and troopers found in the trunk of the vehicle four large white bags of green leafy substances known as marijuana. When Jose was searched the small black bag containing one-fourth gram of cocaine was found. It was determined by U.S. Border Patrolman Bob Mooney that Jose Gonzales was an illegal alien. Investigation was conducted by Department of Public Safety, Highway Patrol, Drug Task Force and U.S. Border Patrol. Gonzales is in Sutton County jail under a 30,000 cash bond.

"Hunter of the Year" to be named Nov. 16

The "Hunter of the Year" will be announced at the annual Hunting Party set for Tuesday, November 16, 1982 at 6:00 p.m. at the Sutton County 4-H Center in Sonora. Door prizes will be awarded at this time. The menu will consist of exotic game and wildlife native to this area. No guest speaker has been planned for this year's dinner because of the excessive length of the dinner.

The game dinner is sponsored this year by the Sutton County Garden Club, Chamber of Commerce, Downtown Lions Club, Sutton County Gun Club, Edwards Plateau Game and Wildlife Association, and Volunteer Fire Department.

Door prizes will include deer rifles, shot guns, savings bonds, T.V. Sets, cash, bonds, camera and other valuable door prizes. Door prizes are donated by local merchants and purchased by the Game Dinner Association. Local oil and gas related industries also donate many of the prizes.

A Hunter of the Year Award will be presented to an individual hunter or group of hunters that has shown a great interest in conserving wildlife, cooperation with land owners and has observed the game laws. Mr. Charlie McTee of San Antonio Radio Station KKYX will present the Hunters Award plaques.

The menu will include barbecued buffalo, roasted wild boar, fried venison, dove and quail, cabrito, smoked turkey, son of a gun stew, cole slaw, chili, beans and peach cobbler. The tickets for this year's annual dinner are $5.00 and this entitles one to a dinner and door prize tickets are $1.00.

This will be the fourteenth year the game dinner has been held and look forward to welcoming the Hunters to Sonora.

Jack Kerbow

"I don't think they can do what they said they would do. I don't think it will affect our economy any way soon."

I want to reaffirm my commitment to represent all of District 25. It is a great area; and with your continued input and support, we will keep it that way.

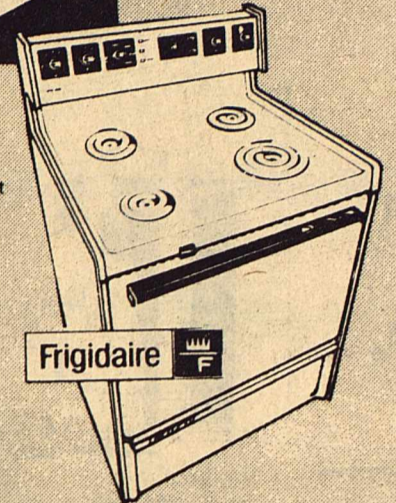

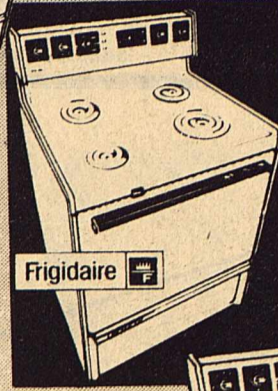

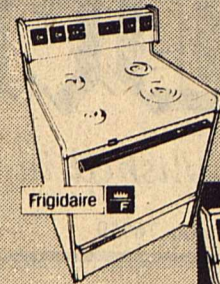

Sue and I are most grateful for the confidence the people have placed in me.

Cancer Seminar to be held in Kerrville Nov. 12

The American Cancer Society and the Aging Committee of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will jointly sponsor a Cancer Seminar on Friday, November 12, in the Kerrville Municipal Auditorium from 9:00-4:00 p.m. The public is invited and urged to attend this informative session when physicians and health-care specialist from throughout the State will discuss such things as skin, lung, gynecological, breast and colorectal cancers - their causes and cures. Cancer treatment alternatives will be presented by the Chief of Oncology Services from Brooke Army Medical Center. Dr. Knight, Professor of Medicine at the University of Texas Health Science Center will address the current developments in cancer research.

Representatives from the local unit of the American Cancer Society will discuss how people can protect themselves from needless cancer deaths and how increased support of the Society's programs of research, education and service and rehabilitation can help save more lives. There are approximately 225 people in Kerr County who are alive and cured of cancer, 79 estimated new cases this year, 124 estimated cases under medical care, 26 who will be saved and 45 who will die from cancer in 1982, and an estimated 6250 who will eventually develop cancer. The estimated numbers in Kerr County who will die of cancer if the present death rates continues is 4,100.

The goal of the Seminar is the same as that of the American Cancer Society:

to find those who may have the disease in its early stages so that prompt treatment may be able to wipe out cancer for them in their lifetime.

At 5:30 p.m. on the day of the Cancer Seminar, a special 30 minute demonstration on self breast examination for cancer will be held for working women at the Kerrville Municipal Auditorium. The demonstration will be presented by Claud Curbow. All women are encouraged to take time to help themselves learn more about breast cancer.

Seeing Red

by Elizabeth Allen

On Wednesday November 10, there will be great cause for celebration. Officially, that date will be the end of the second long period of torture-the second six weeks. We will be finishing up our six weeks tests for periods 1,3, and 5, and recommend to all who make grades like mine-study!

A good habit, studying, it raises the chances of graduating from high school in four years time. It is recommended that students study in a quiet area, and not to study for too long at a time. (Sounds good to me!)

today's problems of supply and demand.

The message of our energy evolution through out history and prehistory unfolds on a long assembly schedule which is as follows:

1st period: 8:20-9:00
2nd period:9:05-9:25
Assembly:9:45-10:45

Cold Virus-How to Avoid it

Americans will suffer through an estimated 70 million colds this year. This means that they will be missing work, falling behind in school and worse of all, spending a lot of time feeling just plain "miserable."

Contrary to popular belief colds are caused by viruses - not exposure to rain, cold or drafts - although these lower our resistance and make us more susceptible to viruses. By nature, viruses are highly contagious and they are spread more rapidly in the fall and winter when people are in closer contact and spend more time indoors.

Here are some tips to help you survive the cold season:

1. Stay away from cold sufferers and from surfaces they have touched. If a member of your family is sick, let them use disposable plates and utensils to prevent the spread of infection.
2. Don't allow the air in your home to become excessively dry. A humidity level of 30-40 percent will keep mucous membranes of the nose and throat moist and be more effective in trapping germs before they can infect the body.
3. If you get a cold, follow the guidelines of staying in bed, drinking plenty of liquid, and take medication to lower your temperature.

A study by the Food and Drug Administration reports that cold medicines may temporarily relieve the symptoms of a cold, but none can cure it or alter its course. Even Vitamin C has yet to be proven effective in preventing and curing colds.

4. Be patient. A cold needs 7-10 days to run its course. If you attempt to carry on business as usual, you will probably wear down your strength and prolong the infection. Be good to yourself and remain in bed for at least one day, covering with a warm blanket. By resting and relaxing, your body has a chance to fight the cold without everyday stress.

Team Effort Required for Arthritis Relief

Managing arthritis requires a team approach and depends as much on the arthritis sufferer as on the doctor.

"Arthritis is a term applied to more than 100 different diseases, each of which in some way affects the joints. Americans spend an estimated $4 billion each year on arthritis care and relief, making it an extremely costly health problem," explains Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

By practicing "self-management" arthritis sufferers can do much to help themselves live a normal life.

"With your doctor's help, decide on a self-management program that best suits your needs," Shirer suggests.

Self-management activities include:

Breaking the pain/depression/stress cycle through either medication, relaxation techniques, or just keeping your mind busy on other things.

Exercise--although exercise is vitally important to keep joints flexible, you must also know when not to exercise. If a joint is red and hot, exercise should be limited to minimal movement.

Protect affected joints from injury and over-exertion by proper lifting techniques, avoiding prolonged periods of maintaining the same joint position, and balancing work with rest to conserve energy and strength.

Practice good eating habits and maintain ideal body weight. With the exception of gout, there is no concrete scientific evidence that eating or not eating certain foods affects arthritis.

Many types of heat help arthritis pain. Be careful not to cause burn, however. Cold compresses will have numbing effect and give relief from pain for some arthritis sufferers.

Good posture--whether resting, sleeping, standing, or walking--is vitally important for people with any kind of arthritis.

"Finally, it is important to work closely with your doctor. Since there are many types of arthritis, the first step is an accurate diagnosis. Your local Arthritis Foundation Office also can help you in managing arthritis," Shirer says.

Regulatory Action Urged by TIPRO

A major policy making committee of independent producers and royalty owners has recommended support of several legislative and regulatory actions to (1) protect consumers and oil and gas owners in a confused natural gas market, (2) reduce thefts of oil and equipment and (3) secure the interests of 650,000 Texas royalty owners in the event of bankruptcy of oil purchasing companies.

Hans Hansen, Midland, Chairman of the State Petroleum Issues Committee of the 5500-member Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO), said in Austin that, "Producers are angry because ludicrous federal regulations have so severely distorted the natural gas market that consumers nationwide are suffering price and supply problems. The unreasonable regulations have even tied the hands of state regulatory agencies who might otherwise cope with the problem."

"Texas consumers, royalty owners and producers are being especially impacted," Hansen related, and announced that the committee is recommending rule changes to the Texas Railroad Commission which will help insure that available natural gas is taken equitably from pro-rated wells in the state. "Under the present rules, some wells are virtually shut in, while others are producing at their full capacity," Hansen said, "and the rule changes we are recommending should help every producer and royalty owner to share the market proportionally."

The committee also passed a resolution to work with the RRC and federal agencies to solve the problem of interstate pipelines "dumping" excess gas into the intrastate market. "This practice is damaging Texas producers and royalty owners," Hansen reported, "and is driving up prices to some Texas consumers. It is another flaw in the Federal regulations which our state regulators must try to address until corrections can be legislated in Washington."

The committee reaffirmed its support of a new bill proposed by Governor Clements which would allow a royalty owner and independent producers to hold a lien against a bankrupt oil or gas purchaser. Under present Texas law, the owners of royalty oil are "unsecured creditors" who have small hope of recovering money owed for oil which has been delivered to buyers that subsequently go into receivership.

The committee said that oil field theft amounts to millions of dollars per year, which eventually raises consumer prices. Harold E. Wright, Gilmer, president of TIPRO and Chairman of the Petroleum Industry Security Council, commended the committee for taking "dead aim to help develop new legislation to prosecute oil field thieves, which will be recommended to the 1983

Texas Legislature." Additionally, the committee is actively supporting a proposed RRC manifest system which will make it more difficult for thieves to transport stolen oil. The TIPRO Committee includes two former RRC Commissioners—John Poerner and Bill Murray, former RRC Oil and Gas Special Counsel Rex White, and a number of prominent Texas royalty owners and producers.

New Guidelines for Visual Arts Touring

The Texas Commission on the Arts (TCA) announces new guidelines for its Visual Arts Touring Program. Under the new guidelines, such expenses as shipping, insurance, and installation related to presenting art exhibitions will be eligible for funding.

"It's an incredible step forward for the visual arts in the state of Texas," said Kay Paris, Director of the Beaumont Art Museum. "The guidelines open up all kinds of new doors for us."

The new program follows in the footsteps of a sister program, Performing Arts Touring, which has enjoyed a celebrated success in its three-year span. Among other achievements, eighteen locations, including Sherman, Conroe, and Victoria, experienced the novelty of performances by Texas Opera Theater, and Nacogdoches viewed the Dallas Civic Ballet through TCA's Performing Arts Touring program.

Under the Visual Arts Touring guidelines, non-profit organizations meeting the general eligibility requirements of the Commission may apply for assistance to present exhibitions borrowed from within or outside the state of Texas. Besides shipping, insurance and installation, other costs covered may include: publicity, catalogues, posters, invitations, related events such as film and lecture series—but not opening receptions—and rental fees.

The guidelines also stipulate that requests for support may not exceed fifty percent of the total project costs and must be matched by the applicant one to one with cash.

Currently, the Commission budget designates $33,088 for the new program in the fiscal year 1982-83. Applications will be accepted throughout the year until funds for this program are depleted, and will be reviewed and approved through the Commission's Emergency Assistance Procedure.

For further information about the new guidelines write to Touring Program Coordinator Pat McCabe Leche, at TCA, P.O. Box 13406, Capitol Station, Austin, TX 78711 or call (512) 475-5693 or toll free 1 (800) 252-9415.

$117.3 Million from Sutton County Petro

The sale of crude oil and natural gas from Sutton County wells in 1981 enriched the county's economy and accounted for $117.3 million of the $44 billion value placed on Texas petroleum production last year.

In a report on the economic impact of oil and gas industry operations in the significant producing counties of Texas, Dallas-based Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association said the county ranked 91st among Texas' 254 counties on the basis of value of its marketed petroleum production. This production includes condensate and casinghead gas.

The county's wells produced 211,279 barrels of crude oil, valued at $7.3 million, and 61.6 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

"Although the oil and gas industry is suffering through a slowdown in drilling--attributable in large part to a worldwide decline in demand for petroleum products--it continues to be the cornerstone of the economy of Texas and many of its counties," said the Association's chairman, Avery Rush, Jr., of Amarillo. "Oil and gas producers operating in Texas remain committed to the drilling of every well that is economically feasible," Rush added.

In addition to paying local, county, and state property taxes, producers in the county supported state government through production tax payments estimated at $8.6 million, according to the Association. Crude oil taxes amounted to $335,203, while natural gas levies totalled $8.3 million.

Based on Texas Employment Commission figures, some 1,039 oil and gas industry employees in the county received wages about $21.8 million in 1981.

In the search for new petroleum reserves in the county oil and gas operators spent a reported $39 million in the drilling of 142 wells, including 11 wildcat, or exploratory wells. This effort resulted in the completion of 10 oil wells and 105 gas wells, although some $4.9 million was lost in the drilling of 27 dry holes. As of April 1, 1982, there were 1,390 producing wells in the county; 33 oil and 1,357 gas.

Petroleum processing also contributed to the county economy, with three natural gasoline processing plants, having a total daily capacity of 75 million cubic feet of natural gas in operation.

GTE Asks New Policy Definition

"It is becoming increasingly clear that the future success of our industry demands a newly defined national telecommunications policy," said Theodore F. Brophy, chairman and chief executive officer of GTE Corporation.

In a speech before members of the United States Independent Telephone Association (USITA) during its annual conference in Los Angeles, Brophy emphasized the critical need for a national telecommunications policy. He said the only appropriate body to establish that policy is Congress.

Citing the many changes which have taken place in the industry since the passage of the Communications Act of 1934, the GTE chairman said, "If this industry is to serve the public and prosper as we all wish it to do, we need the certainty of a clearly stated and appropriate telecommunications policy."

To reach this goal, Brophy proposed expanding USITA membership to include the Bell operating companies and the formation of a "broader and stronger coalition to work for the creation of a new Communications Act to serve as the statement of the telecommunications policy for this nation in the balance of the century."

Brophy proposes the establishment of a USITA Task Force to develop a consensus and draft a white paper which can serve as the basis for a congressional statement of national telecommunications policy.

He assured the group that GTE will not lose sight of the importance of the local exchange telephone company -- to GTE, to the country or to the evolving telecommunications world of tomorrow. "If we are willing to accept the challenge and chart our own course, I believe that there are new rewards for the public we serve and for our employees and shareholders in the new world of advanced communications," Brophy said.

4-H Tips Room Utilization

You can create the illusion of spaciousness as well as turn wasted space into creative space in your home.

Here are some helpful hints from youth in the national 4-H home environment program, says Preston Sides, 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Choose furniture that serves more than one purpose. Cluster items such as TV, stereo, bookshelves and storage cabinets in a wall unit.

Use compartmentalized storage to maximize usable capacity of storage area or closets. Use baskets or similar containers to store magazines or sewing supplies.

If bedroom space is limited, omit use of heat and foot boards. Instead use bolsters or cover flat slabs of foam and hang by straps from a decorative, wall-mounted curtain rod.

Use wall-mounted lamps or fixtures suspended from a ceiling to free table space for other items.

Group compatible houseplants in one area of a room. Put some on stands to free floor space for other items.

Color also plays a part in changing the appearance of rooms and furnishings, says the specialist. With creative decorating, you can blend unsightly objects so they almost disappear and make a focal point of interest for furniture groupings.

Here are some pointers to remember:

Contrasting colors emphasize. Make the most of a handsome piece of wall furniture by placing it against a contrasting wall.

Closely blended colors conceal. To hide or de-emphasize an object, place it against an almost matching color that blends well. Pale colors recede. Use pale tones to open up a small room or make a ceiling higher.

Bold colors advance. Brilliant hues seem to come toward you. Use bold colors to make an overly-large room cozy or a high ceiling seem lower.

In the home environment program, supported by the S&H Foundation, Inc., 4-H'ers study these color, texture and design techniques to make the home more attractive and comfortable. They also make efficient use of energy as related to housing, furnishings and equipment, he explains.

In addition, boys and girls in this program explore job and career options in housing, furnishings and equipment, and develop an appreciation of and skills in the care and preservation of old and new housing, furnishings and accessories.

Through the National 4-H Council, a non-profit organization that uses private sources to support the 4-H program, S&H provides awards and incentives to each county; one 4-H'er from each state earns a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago; and during the National 4-H Congress, six national winners are recognized and presented $1,000 scholarships.

Contact the county Extension office for more information on these and other 4-H programs and opportunities, says Mr. Sides.

DPS Ruling Change on Autos

Under new Texas regulations effective October 18, 1982, glass coating materials may be installed in all motor vehicle windows except windshields.

Previously, it was illegal to place the materials on the windows to the immediate left and right of the driver's seat. However, the new regulations allow coating materials approved by the Texas Department of Public Safety to be installed on those windows.

The window film materials, which are sold under various brand names, are designed to reduce glare and the build up of heat inside the passenger compartment by limiting the amount of sunlight passing through the windows.

Glass coating materials applied to windows behind the driver's seat need not be approved by the DPS. However, vehicles with window film applied to the rear window must have outside rear view mirrors on the right and left sides.

Coatings which meet DPS standards cannot block more than two-thirds of the light directed at the material. Laboratory tests confirming that coatings meet the DPS standards must be filed with the Department before approval is granted. Regulations also require that the manufacturer's name or number and approval designation appear on the material placed on each of the front side windows.

DPS Director Jim Adams said Department staff members had received numerous inquiries about the materials from the public.

"One reason we held off changing the regulations is that until three months ago, none of these coatings had been approved by a nationally-accredited organization," Adams said. "When the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrations approved several samples during the summer, we determined that the DPS policy prohibiting use of the materials on front side windows was no longer valid."

Adams pointed out that many sunbelt states do not prohibit the use of glass coatings on the driver's side windows.

DPS officials said some window film samples have already been evaluated by the Department and approved for use on the front side windows of motor vehicles.

Effective BT Vaccine

A new vaccine for bluetongue, effective against all four types known to affect Texas' livestock, has been developed by scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas A&M University.

It is a major U.S. disease of livestock that serves as a non-tariff barrier to the exportation of livestock and livestock products to numerous countries, according to Dr. Stewart McConnell, virologist in the College of Veterinary Medicine at Texas A&M.

The geographic distribution of BT is statewide according to a serological Station by a research team of veterinarians, headed by McConnell.

Not only cattle and sheep are affected by bluetongue but also wild ruminants such as elk, antelope, moose and several types of deer are susceptible to the infection.

Bluetongue virus, (BTV), is transmitted in nature by the bite of the gnat of the genus Culicoides, according to McConnell.

Though the disease exists primarily in the dry western part of the state where the majority of sheep and goats are located, the geographic distribution of BT in beef cattle was statewide, McConnell's research team found, with the highest percentage of antibody-positive cattle being found in east, central and south Texas counties.

Bluetongue has also been found in cattle in a number of other states including California, Colorado, Montana, and Oregon.

Bluetongue infection in livestock, McConnell says, may have symptoms varying from acute, subacute, chronic to inapparent. Clinical signs, when present may include sore mouth with ulcers, runny nose, runny eyes, lameness, and lack of appetite.

"Clinical disease is not common in cattle but it does occur and estimates are that only 5 percent of cattle infected with BT, show clinical signs," according to McConnell.

"The acute form resembles bovine virus diarrhea, infectious bovine rhinotracheitis, foot-and-mouth disease and bacterial and mycotic stomatitis infections.

"Losses due to reproductive problems include abortion, weak and malformed calves, decreased milk production, and weight loss.

"In addition to abortion and congenital defects of the fetus, vertical transmission of the virus may result in persistently infected carrier animals.

"Experimentally infected cattle have shown they can remain carriers for 3 to 4 months following inoculation of BTV under laboratory conditions and a calf born to an infected cow remained a carrier for three

Major economic losses can be attributed to embargos and stringent regulations placed on the import of U.S. cattle and bovine products, particularly semen, by numerous countries which are free of BTV.

"The results of our survey suggest that bluetongue is widespread in Texas cattle, with more than one-third of them infected with bluetongue," McConnell said.

"Since the disease in cattle, primarily affects the animals' reproductive ability, it is not readily identifiable.

"In order to maintain a healthy economic posture and a viable export market, livestock producers must be aware of the disease and its potential impact on the livestock industry.

"Our research shows that in Texas there are four types of bluetongue virus designated International Type 10, 11, 13, and 17.

"The bluetongue vaccine available commercially today contains only a single serotype of bluetongue virus (BTVIT10).

Skin Needs Special Care In Winter

Fall and winter pose a definite threat to your skin, particularly if you are outdoors a lot. Winter air has low humidity which dries the skin--and the chilly winds compound the damage by drying and cracking it. Indoors, ironically, steam heat also tends to dry out the skin. The combination of all of these indoor/outdoor factors makes skin lose precious moisture, and can result in an older, weather-beaten look.

Dermatologists frequently suggest using a mild soap, such as Purpose, for face and body needs during the winter months. It is specifically designed to restore natural moisture removed by the elements. A companion product, Purpose Dry Skin Cream, is especially effective after bathing when the skin has a tendency to lose additional moisture. The formula contains emollients that keep the skin moisturized and smooth.

A sampler "Duo-Pak" of both products is available by sending 75¢ to: Purpose Offer, RD #1, Box 130, Newtown, Pennsylvania 18940.
