Girls lose district play-off

BY CHARLIE ADAMS

The Sonora girls' basketball team put together a super year only to have the Coahoma Bulldogs slam the door to the state playoffs right in their faces.

The Sonora girls, having been second the first half of district play, and Coahoma being second the second half, played a tie breaking game last Tuesday at the Ballinger Bearcat Gym.

The Bulldogs won the third period 12-11 to make it 36-36 starting the final eight minutes of play. Both teams managed four fieldgoals. The freethrow line made the difference.

In the fourth quarter, the Broncos were 2 of 4 while Coahoma was 7 of 10. That was the difference in the ballgame as Coahoma took a 51-46 win from the Broncos.

The Broncos were 14 of 19 from the foul line while the Bulldogs were 17 of 24.

The Broncos have had the problem of committing too many fouls and it hurt them once again.

Debbie Bible fouled out early in the third period and Lorri French fouled out at the end of the same period. The Broncos had 24 fouls to the Bulldogs 17.

Junior, Lea Whitehead, led the Broncos with 16 points, Lorri French put in 11, Kristi Hill 7, Judy Merrill 4, Debbie Bible 4, Becca Powers 2, and Della Hefferman 2.

The Bulldogs were led by Paige with 17 points and Fowler with 9.

The Broncos had an excellent year posting a 17-3 District count and an 18-9 season mark.

The Broncos graduate four seniors, three of them starters. They are to be commended for their time and leadership that they have given to the team and Sonora High School.

In boys play, the Broncos broke a long drought as they beat Ozona at Ozona 64-63. They wrapped up their season playing a good game against the Coahoma Bulldogs but came up short at the end.

Advice to the Lovelorn Sheepshorn and the Shopworn plus OTHER FAMILY MEANDERINGS IT'S ALL A GAME by Irma Diller

Along with millions of other Americans, I've spent this past week helping ABC get their money's worth by watching the Olympic Games. I've felt the cold turn my tears into ice on my cheeks with the skiers, I've suffered through the hockey, I've passed gracefully over the frozen surface with the beauty of the ice dancers, I've wondered what the sport was in luge and of the sanity of those who luge. I've felt the pride as our country's flag is raised. I've felt the triumph of the winners and sorrow of the losers. And I've enjoyed every minute.

Those of you who know me are now saying "Okay Irma, you've loved it but?" Sorry, no buts. I am however, suffering from "The Official.....Of the 1984 Winter Olympics - Who Cares Syndrome".

For sometime now, my senses have been assaulted with the advertisements of the Official cereal of the 1984 Winter Olympics, the Official soft drink of the 1984, Winter, the Official tennis shoes of the 1984, the Official car of the, the Official vitamin of, the Official sportswear, the Official, the.

I've heard "the Official, etc." so often that I've become very aware of many items which are NOT "the Official". Where is Dr. Scholl? His advertising bid could be slipped in after the "agony of de-feet". No Official laxative? (So many things I could say here.) How about the Official deodorant? Granted, most of the events occur out of doors, but eventually these people have to come inside. What then? Tell me, how will these people prepare a meal without an Official cookwear? And there's no Official beer. Alcohol should not be associated with sports, you say. That's certainly never stopped us before. Official yogurt, Official plant-food, Official powersaw, Official baking powder, Official magazine subscription. As you can see, the list is endless. An entire untapped market. Why are these products not on the "Official" list? Who failed? Whose commission check not as large as it could have been?

Oh, mind boggling world problems. I don't have the answers and I can't solve the problems so it must be time to get back to my "unOfficial" furniture polish.

TABS testing now underway in SISD

The Texas State Board of Education has the responsibility to "review periodically the educational programs." School districts in Texas are required to conduct a documented student needs assessment as a part of the accreditation procedure.

In May of 1979 the Texas legislature mandated that minimum basic skills competency testing be instituted in the State of Texas.

To implement this legislation, a program known as the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills was developed. T.A.B.S. is a criterion-referenced test developed to assess student mastery in reading, writing, and mathematics objectives.

Ninth grade students at Sonora will take the T.A.B.S. test on Thursday, February 16, 1984. Third and fifth grade students will take the T.A.B.S. test on Thursday, February 21 and Wednesday, February 22, 1984. It is extremely important that all children are present because there is a deadline for administering the test. Parents should encourage their children to rest and be well prepared for the test so that they can do well.

Letter to the Editor

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF SUTTON COUNTY

I am tired of hearing negative remarks about the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department. I may be prejudiced because my husband is a member of Fire Department and I am an active member of the Firemen's Auxiliary. I do believe in the Sonora Fire Department and what it stands for.

Let's all face some facts. The men in the Fire Department are VOLUNTEERS. No one made them join the Fire Department. They all have regular jobs and families they support. They do jump and run whenever a fire call comes in regardless of the time, weather, previous plans, etc. Their families are left behind sometimes for hours. Many a meal has been kept warming for hours waiting for the fireman to return home. Sometimes, when they do finally return, they are too tired to eat or too emotionally wrought if it is a fire where lives are lost or people are badly injured. The firemen's wives spend many an hour wondering - How long will they be gone? Will someone get hurt? - praying for the safe return of their men. Would you and your family do this voluntarily?

Would you enter a burning house, go near a vehicle that is on fire and might explode any minute, or fight a grass fire for hours and hours? I attended the fire training school at San Angelo one year. You could not pay me to do what our firemen volunteer do. I was terrified and it was all done under controlled circumstances. Our firemen go out and fight fires that are not controlled in any way except by their expertise in fighting them.

The firemen spend hours training for various types of fires and what safety measures should be practiced. Our firemen are very well trained and know their jobs. The insurance ratings for the City of Sonora and Sutton County are affected by the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department and their efficiency.

Also, when the Ambulance Service was in a bind, who was called on to help out? Who immediately said "YES"? Who spent hours (Again, taking time away from their families) studying Emergency Care Attendant courses? Who jumped and ran when the beepers went off for an ambulance run? THE SONORA VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT!

So, don't give me any negative remarks about the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department. The citizens of Sonora and Sutton County owe a great deal of thanks and gratitude to these men and their families. We do have and will continue to have one of the BEST volunteer fire departments any where because these are dedicated men who volunteer their time and their own lives to make Sonora and Sutton County a safer place to live. Before you downgrade the Fire Department, ask yourself "Would I do what they do?"

Sincerely,

Trevlin Luttrell

Speech meet successful

Elizabeth Allen took first place in the ready writing competition of Sonora's 38th annual Forensics Tournament held here in Sonora February 10th and 11th.

The largest number of students to ever compete in the Sonora Forensics Tournament were hosted by students from Sonora's Speech and Drama Department February 10th and 11th. Thirty-two schools entered the meet and registered some 450 student competitors. Tournament Director James Buchanan stated "the growth of the tournament is due to the continued support of the school system, Lions Club and the townspeople who so conscientiously judge the events."

Sonora's Forensics Tournament is the oldest annual speech meet in Texas, having run for 38 consecutive years. Serving as student director for this year's meet was Kathryn Parker. Mike Poloczek was Individual Events Director, and Ronnie Pollard was Team and Literary Events Director.

Individual Events Directors included Wayne Collins Original Oratory, Steve Harrison Dramatic Interp., Jr. and Poetry Reading Lisa Kelly. Also Poetry Interpretation. Directing Ready Writing/Spelling was Trey Taylor, Science/Number Sense Javier Flores, and Typing/News Writing Thomas DeHoyas. Lane Cayce, Sandy Blankenship and Janice Gomez were in charge of the Coaches' Lounge. Larry Jennings organized time followed by a dance sponsored by the Student Council at the 4-H Center. Blankenship, and Janice Gomez were in charge of the Coaches Lounge. Larry Jennings organized time-keepers, and Jari Todd and Jody Luttrell registered judges for the events.

Sonora students do not compete in the Speech events in the Sonora tournament, they do however compete in the literary events including news writing, spelling, science, typing, ready writing, and number sense.

Elizabeth Allen took first place in the ready writing competition and Chris Driskell took second place in the news writing competition.

Taking home the Sweepstakes trophy with the highest number of points accumulated was Big Spring High School. Second in the points accumulated was Permian High School, with Midland Lee taking third place in the over all standings.

Following two days of competition, a barbecue sponsored by the Sonora Lions Club was served to all, followed by a dance sponsored by the Student Council at the 4-H Center.

Karen Lee Goins honored recently

The Board of Advisors for the Outstanding Young Women of America awards program announced today that Karen Lee Goins has been selected for inclusion in the 1983 edition of OUTSTANDING YOUNG WOMEN OF AMERICA.

The Outstanding Young Women of America program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in their homes, their professions and their communities. Accomplishments such as these are the result of dedication, service and leadership - qualities which deserve to be recognized and remembered.

This is the goal of the many leading women's organizations, college alumni associates and public officials who nominate deserving young women to participate in the program. Serving as chairman of the program's Advisory Board is Margaret L. Arnold, honorary president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The women listed, along with approximately 23,000 fellow Outstanding Young Women of America from across the United States, will be presented in the prestigious annual awards volume. In addition, they are now being considered for one of the fifty-one state awards to be presented to those women who have made the most noteworthy contributions in their individual states. From these fifty-one state winners, the Ten Outstanding Young Women of America will be chosen. The 10 national winners will then be honored at the annual awards luncheon to be held this fall in Washington, D.C.

Our Board of Advisors and Editors salutes all those honored as Outstanding Young Women of America. We take great pride in bringing their accomplishments to the attention of the American public.

Chris Driskell of Sonora was the second place winner in the News Writing competition, part of the annual Forensics Tournament held in Sonora. Chris is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Driskell of Sonora.

Watch for DWI clues

The following article is a public service by the Devil's RIVER NEWS through the cooperation of Bill Mason, District Attorney for the 112th Judicial District, and the Prosecutor Council. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of Sutton County, and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

DWI: WATCH FOR CLUES

Previously the District Attorney and the Prosecutor Council presented a series of articles examining the problem of DWI, the changes proposed in the law, and the changes recently adopted by the Legislature. Weekends and holiday seasons—with parties, extra drinking and increased driving—can be particularly hazardous times. Still, the toughest laws in the world are not enough if a drunken driver crosses your path. The best defense is knowing how to identify a drunken driver and avoid him.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration suggests the following clues may indicate the presence of a drunken driver:

- Turning suddenly, illegally, or in a wide radius.
- Straddling the center of the lane marker or weaving from lane to lane, possibly into oncoming traffic.
- Stopping inappropriately or without cause in a lane.
- Driving at night without headlights on.
- Failure to dim lights for an approaching vehicle.
- Responding slowly to changes in traffic lights or signaling in a manner inconsistent with driving actions.
- Following other vehicles too closely.
- Accelerating or decelerating rapidly.
- Almost hitting an object or vehicle.

If you see a driver whom you suspect may be drunk, put plenty of space between your car and his. Pull off the road and let him pass, if necessary. If you have a CB radio, give an impaired-driver alert on emergency channel 9. Give the location by identifying the road and direction of travel. Give a description of the vehicle, including model, color, and license plate number. Stand by to answer questions or repeat information.

It is each citizen's duty to report such incidents and be willing to testify about them if necessary. In this day and age we may often feel problems are too complex or massive for the individual to make a difference. But alertness and willingness to act is something that the individual can do to assist law enforcement in this area. We owe it to ourselves to help out; it is only through our combined efforts that the DWI problem can be lessened.

Together we can help each other to have happier—and safer—lives.

Spring semester health school starts

The spring semester of St. John's Health School begins February 21, with classes continuing through April 26, according to Ann Ward Rogers, St. John's Hospital public relations director/Health School coordinator. Registration for classes is underway, Mrs. Rogers added.

"This spring we will be offering 14 different courses, and the only repeat from the fall semester is our Basic Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation course," Mrs. Rogers said. Courses will be offered in five broad topic areas: nutrition, physical fitness, emotional wellness, parenting and medicine.

Three courses will be offered in the area of nutrition. "Straight Talk about Salt, Sugar, Fat, Cholesterol" is scheduled from 7-9 p.m. February 28 at Sacred Heart School and April 2 at St. Joseph Church. "Fiber: Facts and Fantasies" will be offered from 7-9 p.m. April 10 at Evangel Temple Assembly of God. "Vegetarian Cooking," which will include a cooking demonstration, is scheduled March 20 at St. Paul Presbyterian, beginning at 7 p.m. Jean Rawlings, R.D., is the instructor for all three courses.

In the area of physical fitness, three courses are planned. "Cardiovascular Effects of Exercise" will be held from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at St. John's Hospital February 27. Pete Thiry also will instruct "Women and Fitness," scheduled from 7-9 p.m. March 6 at the Southwest YMCA and April 5 at the Central YMCA. "Tender Loving Care for Backs" will be offered from 7-9 p.m. March 5 at St. Joseph Church and March 28 at Evangel Temple Assembly of God. Instructor will be physical therapist Jim Steger.

"Living with Stress" will be offered three times during the semester. Each class will meet from 7-9 p.m. and a text booklet for the class will be included with the $6 registration fee. The class will meet March 1 at St. Luke United Methodist Church; March 29 at Southland Baptist Church; and April 26 at Evangel Temple Assembly of God. Jerry Thornton, Ph.D., also will instruct "Maintaining Intimacy in Marriage," scheduled from 7-9 p.m. April 12 at St. Joseph Church.

Another course being offered in the area of emotional wellness is "Coping with Being Single." This class is scheduled from 7-9 p.m. February 21 at Park Heights Baptist Church, Hope Building, and March 22 at St. Luke United Methodist. Joe Jeffers, Ed.D., also will instruct "Assertiveness Training Techniques," which is scheduled from 7-9 p.m. April 10 at Holy Angels.

Two courses are being offered in the area of parenting. Dr. Judith Hanover, R.N., Ph.D., will lead "Teenage Crisis: Reaction to Stress." This class will meet from 7-9:30 p.m. March 27 at St. Mark Presbyterian, and April 5 at Christ the King Retreat Center. "Protecting Children from Abuse," instructed by Betsy Thornton, M.S., is scheduled from 7-9 p.m. March 26 at Southland Baptist Church.

Dr. Denver C. Marsh will present "Understanding Heart Disease," scheduled from 7-9 p.m. February 23 at Holy Angels.

Basic CPR is the only course being repeated from the fall semester, Mrs. Rogers said. A Saturday CPR class is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. - 4 p.m. February 25. Two evening courses are scheduled also. "The CPR course is six hours. For the evening classes, we have scheduled two three-hour sessions on back-to-back nights, and attendance at both sessions is required to complete certification," Mrs. Rogers said. Night sessions are scheduled for 6:30-9:30 p.m. March 21 and 22; the course will be repeated April 11 and 12.

Fee for most courses is $5 per person. Fee for Basic CPR is $10, and should be paid in advance to reserve space in the 20-person class, Mrs. Rogers said.

"We encourage people to pre-register. Some classes have limited enrollments, and registration for all classes is on a first come, first served basis," Mrs. Rogers said.

For more information and to register for a class, contact St. John's Health School. Copies of the spring catalog may be requested by phoning (915) 655-3181, ext. 5215 or by writing St. John's Health School, St. John's Hospital, P.O. Box 5741, San Angelo, TX, 76902.

We have a phone answering machine for weekends and after hours. If callers will leave their name and phone number, we will return their call as soon as possible," Mrs. Rogers added.

Customers to receive WTU refunds

West Texas Utilities customers who paid interim rates the latter part of 1983 will begin receiving refunds this month.

However, all refunds will be small, and some customers won't get them at all, company officials said.

They'll be small because the higher rates were charged for only a short time. Some customers won't be affected, because their rates were not changed during the period.

WTU started charging interim rates on October 22 when it became evident that a requested rate increase filed June 10, 1983 would be delayed indefinitely by the Public Utility Commission of Texas. Interim rates were allowed by state law, subject to refund, if after three months the PUC had not ruled on the company's request.

WTU has asked for an increase of $26 million annually and the PUC staff recommended $10 million. The Commission eventually approved $12 million, with the new rates effective Jan. 6, 1984.

WTU now will pay customers the difference between the interim rates and the new rates, plus 12.83 percent interest. Refunds are being credited to customer bills, while checks are being mailed to those who have disconnected from the WTU system.

Amounts to residential customers are averaging less than $5, including interest.

Customers in the following towns, which had denied the rate request and appealed to the Commission are not affected. Sonora is included along with the towns of Hawley, Tuscola, Lawn, Merkel, Putnam, Clyde, Cross Plains, Santa Anna, Leuders, Aspermont, Jayton, Marfa, Valentine, Presidio, Alpine, Balmorhea, Rankin, Iraan, Estelline, Quitaque, Turkey, Memphis, Dodson, Shamrock, Sterling City, Bronte, Menard, Junction and Miles.

City sales tax payments told

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday, February 3, sent checks totaling $105.4 million in local sales tax payments to the 980 cities that levy the one percent city sales tax.

Sonora received a check for $28,527.14, down $16,909.57 from last year's $44,436.71 for the same period.

1984 payments to date for Sonora total $41,453.51, down $14,475.76 from last year's total-to-date of $55,929.27, a drop of 25.88 percent.

Schleicher County received $7,350.62, down from $12,872.44 for this period last year. The total-to-date is $10,093.28 for 1984, down $6,266.87 from 1983. That indicates a drop of 38.31 percent.

Statewide, 1984 payments are running 2.57 percent ahead of last year. However, because of changes in reporting requirements that converted 5,000 small-and medium-sized taxpayers from quarterly to monthly payment schedules, it is difficult to compare raw payment figures for 1984 with the same period last year, since what were quarterly payments last year are now spread over three months.

February's checks reflect sales made during the final, Christmas quarter of 1983 and reported to the Comptroller's Office by January 20.

"Even with the bookkeeping changes, these payments reflect the recovery that is underway in our state economy," Bullock said. "When it's all said and done, Texans apparently had the best Christmas in our history in terms of retail sales."

Houston received the largest check--for $19.2 million--for a 1984 total of $27.4 million, down 3 percent from last year. Dallas' check for $12.6 million brought year-to-date payments to $18 million, up 5 percent.

San Antonio's payment was $6.6 million for a $9.1 million 1984 total, up 14 percent. Austin's February check for $4.1 million brought its yearly total to $6.1 million, up 9 percent.

Fort Worth received $3.7 million for total payments this year of $5.3 million, down 1 percent from 1983. El Paso's check for $2.2 million brought its year to date total to $3.3 million, up 7 percent.

Bullock also sent checks to the Metropolitan Transit Authorities in Houston and San Antonio. Houston received $22.3 million, for a total $31.8 million this year. San Antonio received $3.6 million, bringing 1984 total payments to $5.1 million.

Cooper makes rodeo history

Roy Cooper made professional rodeo history January 10 in Denver, Colorado, at the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association convention when he accepted three world championship saddles and three gold buckles. Cooper, at the end of 1983, had claimed the world championship in both steer roping and calf roping, and, as a result of winning more money than any other professional cowboy, was named All-Around World Champion Cowboy.

The Durant, Oklahoma cowboy has won five World Championships in calf roping, and three PRCA Championships in the event, setting records almost every year. In 1983, not only was his calf roping earnings of $122,455 a new record, but his all-around earnings of $153,390 also set a record.

Cooper is the only timed event cowboy to earn three world championships in a single season. In addition to calf roping and steer roping, he also earned money in team roping. He says he is able to do so well because he stays mentally ready.

"Rodeoing is really a big mental strain on you," he said, "but you have to stay alert mentally. I know that when I get to roping badly, losing and not winning, it has to be mental."

Cooper discusses the mental aspect of rodeoing, something he feels is very important, in his new book, "Why We Win," which is co-authored by World Champions Don Gay, Walt Woodard, and Lyn McKenzie, and is available from Corriente Press, Dept. NR, P.O. Box 8517, Amarillo, Texas 79118, for $10.95 plus $2 for shipping and handling.

Conference set

The 26th annual County Judges and Commissioners Conference is expected to bring some 800 participants from throughout Texas in College Station February 28-29-March 1 to discuss issues and alternatives in 1984.

The conference at the Ramada Inn is expected to feature such notables as Gov. Mark White, who will address the group at 11:30 a.m. March 1, and U.S. Rep. Phil Gramm, who will speak at 4:15 p.m. February 28.

State Rep. Gary Thompson of Abilene, chairman of the House Committee on County Affairs, will deliver the keynote address at 2:35 p.m. February 28, following a welcome address by Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Bernard Eads, Dallas County commissioner and president of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas, will open the meeting, says John Gilmartin, Extension Service coordinator for the V.G. Young Institute of County Government.

Brief remarks also will be presented by Ted Simmons, Gray County commissioner and president of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners' Association; Jerry Shamburger, Smith County commissioner and president of the North and East Texas County Judges and Commissioners' Association; and Gus Mutscher, Washington County judge and president of the South Texas County Judges and Commissioners' Association.

Addressing the opening afternoon session also will be Sam Clonts of Austin, executive director of the Texas Association of Counties; and Giles Dalby of Post, Garza County judge and president of the Texas Association of Counties.

Separate sessions for county judges and commissioners will be held the morning of February 29. At the judges' session in Ramada suite D, discussions will concern House Bill 1212, the new continuing education requirement for all judges; legislative changes in the DWI law, and recent changes in the Texas penal code.

County commissioners, meeting in Suite B, will discuss such issues as building better county roads, working with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, instant concrete bridges and pavement maintenance management systems.

Featured in a special workshop February 29 for probate judges will be discussions on 1983 legislation and the new mental health code. Another workshop held concurrently will include discussions on how to make the legislative process work for county officials; basic legal guidelines for commissioners courts; and discussions about programs of the Farmers Home Administration.

The role of commissioners courts in establishing agricultural development corporations will be discussed by Katy Bond of Austin, attorney for the agricultural development bond programs of the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Reports from Washington

The FY 1985 Budget — Deficit Commission Needed

The Budget Committee on which I serve has begun hearings on the fiscal year 1985 budget submitted by the President on February 1. These hearings are expected to continue into early March.

Such an intensive schedule of hearings is necessary to enable the Congress to focus in depth on a budget document consisting of over 600 pages replete with charts, tables, analysis and commentary. It is, of course, the President's annual blueprint of his federal spending and revenue priorities for our Nation.

While time for Congressional discussion and analysis will be amply available during the hearing process, the President's major fiscal goals and themes remain unchanged — and abundantly clear.

First, we must maintain the policies needed to continue economic growth and prosperity. The economic progress achieved since the initial passage of spending reductions and tax cuts in 1981 grows more impressive. In the past year alone, the business investment in new plant and equipment has risen 1 1/2 percent. American productivity, stagnant from 1977 to 1981, climbed 3.7 percent. While the growth rate of federal spending was almost out of control at 17.4 percent growth per year in 1980, that growth rate will decline to 7 percent this year. And, furthermore, domestic spending, which grew nearly three-fold in real terms in the past two decades, will actually be lower this year than it was in 1981.

Secondly, we must provide for a strong defense. Our military strength is being restored. Strategic modernization is underway and military readiness is greatly improved.

Finally, we must further improve the efficiency of the government. While there remains much to be done, one clear example of success is the fact that for the third consecutive year, the Federal Register of new regulatory actions has grown shorter, indicating that the proliferation of regulations and red tape has been halted.

The budget which my colleagues and I will be reviewing over these next few weeks and working on for much of the year proposes receipts of $745 billion, outlays of $925 billion, and a deficit of more than $180 billion. We will be focusing not only on specific sections of the Budget but also on methods of reducing the budget deficit — which remains a definite obstacle to full economic recovery.

Not only will the Congress grapple with the deficit problem, so will those members of Congress named by the leadership to work with the President in an effort to develop a bipartisan down-payment on the deficit this year.

While I support the President's proposal for such a bipartisan effort, which he first called for in the State of the Union address, I would go one step further and call for a full-fledged bipartisan commission composed of both elected officials and economic experts throughout the nation with a mandate to fully study the problem and submit its findings and recommendations to the President and the Congress by December 15 of this year in order that action can be taken in early 1985.

Similar commissions on such sensitive issues as Social Security and the MX missile have successfully addressed difficult issues by offering bipartisan solutions which have been implemented.

While blue-ribbon panels which study a problem and present recommendations are certainly not a panacea for the hard choices that often must be made, I believe that they have proven themselves an effective tool by which a bipartisan and interbranch consensus may be achieved in both domestic and foreign policy. Such an approach will allow the Congress to move forward in an expeditious fashion on a very difficult issue.

Special offering day chosen

The Episcopal Diocese of West Texas has designated Sunday, February 19, for a special offering to be taken in the 91 churches in the 60-county jurisdiction to benefit the food programs of Episcopal churches in the Valley.

The 80th Annual Council of the diocese, meeting in McAllen February 2-4, authorized the bishop, the Rev. Scott Field Bailey, to call for the special offering. Bishop Bailey said the purpose will be to supply the Valley churches with discretionary funds for an outreach to those who are in need in the present crisis.

Bishop Bailey appointed the Rev. Canon C. Eugene Jennings of Cathedral House, San Antonio, and the Rev. Ted Knies, rector of Trinity Church, Pharr, and dean of the Valley Convocation, to coordinate the administration of this emergency relief fund.

The action came after it was announced that delegations from Episcopal churches from the Hill Country to the Gulf Coast had brought more than 30 tons of canned goods and staples to the Valley to restock food banks at St. John's Church, McAllen, Trinity Church, Pharr, and St. Matthew's Edinburg. In addition, all offerings at worship services during the three-day convocation were given for Valley relief. The total was more than $4,000.

Goodfellow selected for training site

Congressman Tom Loeffler (R-Texas) announced last week that the Air Force has selected Goodfellow Air Force Base in San Angelo to become the site for the consolidation of all Air Force-conducted intelligence training in the country. The selection report came in conjunction with release of the President's budget for fiscal year 1985.

"This is wonderful news for the 21st Congressional District," Loeffler said. It represents the culmination of years of exhaustive study and research by the Air Force which began when President Reagan removed Goodfellow from President Carter's base closure list.

This budget action will consolidate at Goodfellow all Air Force cryptologic, imagery, target and air intelligence training, as well as related intelligence systems maintenance and intelligence data handling systems training. Goodfellow will acquire an additional 860 personnel from Lowry Air Force Base, Colorado, Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi, and Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska. The President's budget calls for $53.7 million for intelligence consolidation at Goodfellow, of which the first $8 million is requested in the fiscal year 1985 budget released last week.

Last year, the Air Force selected Goodfellow as the site for Southwest PAVE PAWS, one of four bases across the country which will have sophisticated radar equipment designed to detect and provide early warning for any sea-launched ballistic missile attack on the continental United States. A contract for $57 million was released in mid-January for work on PAVE PAWS at Goodfellow.

"These are exciting developments for San Angelo and West Texas and indeed the entire 21st District," Loeffler said, "as it means Goodfellow is alive and well and the future of the base is secure. The intelligence training which is conducted there, in a safe and secure environment, represents one of the most essential components of our national security."

Using tax label speeds up refunds

Taxpayers can help speed up the processing of tax returns by using the pre-addressed, peel-off labels and by double checking their arithmetic before mailing the returns. As simple as the items appear, they are the cause for thousands of errors every year, the IRS says.

The label comes with the

The first American president to be born on Independence Day was Calvin Coolidge. His birthday was July 4, 1872.

Galen, a Physician in ancient Rome, prepared a cosmetic almost identical to modern cold cream.

tax package in the mail and lists the taxpayer's name, address, social security number, and other bits of information which help the IRS in processing the return quickly.

If any of the information on the label is incorrect, the correction can be made directly on the label. Taxpayers should also use the coded envelope included in the tax package. It's pre-addressed and helps the IRS sort returns.

Errors such as checking the wrong filing status, failing to sign the return, math mistakes, and the omission of necessary documents are common mistakes which can delay taxpayers' refunds. The IRS must correct the errors or obtain the documents before processing the return.

Most errors can be avoided if the return is double checked for accuracy and the label is used.

Many people consider the often-used phrase, "something for nothing," slightly unbelievable in today's fast-paced world, and certainly out of fashion. Well, that's what they think...you and Lack's know better! We're making it truly unbelievable by bringing it back as a fitting and altogether satisfying conclusion to our exciting 46th Anniversary sale and celebration. It's our way of giving a real big "thank you" to all the nice folks who made our 46 years possible - our valued customers - and that's you!

Starting this Friday, you'll want to catch the extraordinary savings on Lack's fine home furnishings (yes, come see substantial price reductions on fashionable living rooms, decorative all wood bedrooms, stylish dining rooms, fresh carpet designs, relaxable bedding, quality-built appliances, and entertaining televisions and stereos). Lack's brings down the cost of dressing up your home (you expect "more" from Lack's every day of the year - expect to discover even "more for less" now during Lack's Customer Appreciation Sale).

While you're here, take a good look through our exceptional displays of the newest and most wanted home furnishings...look long and hard. Then, pick the item you really want...the one you may have only dreamed about owning (or even one you've just purchased). Take the registration form on the back of this letter and add your name, address, city, and the stock number with description of the item you've selected...and drop it in the special registration box when you come to Lack's. The rest is in the hands of fate...and fate will be more than kind! When you consider only a very limited number of letters are being sent out (that's the only way to register), and an even smaller number will actually take the time to come to Lack's and register...that just increases your chances of being one of the winners (and your "something for nothing" opportunity is an odds-on favorite of becoming a dream come true!).

So don't hesitate...come in now to your nearest Lack's and drop your winning registration form into the hopper. Then, on the date of the drawing, out come the lucky winners...and even more "dreams come true" at Lack's! And, one of the winners might as well be you (now that'd be really nice).

Sincerely,
 Melvin Lack

P.S. The value of the "dreams come true" at Lack's prices is $500.00 - if the item you select is $500.00 or less, it is yours ABSOLUTELY FREE; if the item is valued over $500.00, you pay only the difference. Lack's 46th Anniversary offer applies even if you've already purchased the item from Lack's during our celebration - you'll receive up to $500.00 credit against your purchase! No purchase is required to register, but you must be 18 years or older.

Experts say lowering cholesterol prevents heart disease

Since a recent national study proved that lowering cholesterol in the body prevents heart disease, many Americans may be asking: how do I do it?

A Baylor College of Medicine researcher says it's simple: avoid red meats, eggs, whole milk and cheeses high in fats; and, if cholesterol levels stay especially high after the diet, take a drug called cholestyramine.

William Insull, Jr., M.D., associate professor of medicine at Baylor, directed a program in Houston that was part of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) study, which found that a one percent drop of cholesterol in the blood causes a two percent drop in the chance of developing heart disease.

Americans can get this result, Insull said, if they eat more fruits, vegetables, lean meats and low-fat dairy foods.

He said many guides are available on cholesterol levels in different foods and on preparing low-cholesterol meals.

He also said that before starting such a diet, people should find out their cholesterol level by having an inexpensive blood test.

Results of the 10-year NIH study, which involved 3,806 men in North America who had high cholesterol levels, were announced January 12. The men were all kept on a low-cholesterol diet. Half were also given cholestyramine, a cholesterol-lowering drug that has been on the market for 10 years. The men who received the drug had a 19 percent reduction in heart disease compared to those who did not get the medication. While the drug is expensive—about $150 a month—it is effective.

"What we determined," Insull said of the study, "is that if many Americans reduced their cholesterol intake by 25 percent, we would expect a 50 percent reduction in their chance of having heart disease."

Cholesterol is a wax-like chemical made by the liver. Adults don't need all of the cholesterol in many foods, and the excess can result in blocked arteries that lead to heart attacks and strokes.

Cholesterol is measured in milligrams (.00004 ounce) per deciliter (3.4 ounces) of blood. The average American has 220 milligrams of cholesterol per deciliter of blood.

"The amount Americans should strive for is 180 milligrams per deciliter, which is the average for the Japanese, who have a low risk of developing heart disease," Insull said.

He has these suggestions for lowering cholesterol in the diet:

Reduce total fats and especially saturated fats, which raise blood cholesterol levels and are highest in red meats and whole dairy products.

Substitute poly-unsaturated fats, which lower cholesterol levels and are found in many vegetable oils.

Avoid foods naturally high in cholesterol, which besides red meats and dairy products, includes organ meats such as liver and sweetbreads, eggs, high-fat baked goods, sweets, fried foods and cream sauces.

Instead, eat more skinned poultry, fish, vegetables, potatoes, pasta and fruits.

Several cookbooks feature low-fat, low-cholesterol recipes. Information on lowering cholesterol in the diet is also available from the American Heart Association.

Insull said everyone over the age of 20 should have an annual blood test to measure the cholesterol level. Children of parents with high cholesterol should be tested after two years of age, since high cholesterol often runs in families. A test costs about $15-20 and can be done by most physicians.

A low-cholesterol diet may also help individuals lose weight. Foods low in cholesterol are usually low in fats and calories.

The weight loss, lower cholesterol levels, stopping smoking and exercise will all help improve an individual's chance of not dying of heart disease, Insull said.

Mobile home owners required to report

The State Property Tax Board (SPTB) reminds those who move mobile homes, both within the state and from out of state, that they are required to report all mobile home moves to the county appraisal districts in Texas in which the moves take place.

The reports are used to place mobile homes on the property tax rolls of local taxing jurisdictions. According to SPTB data, 285,743 mobile homes were on the tax rolls in 1982, with an appraised value of $2,530,290,904.

Requirements for reporting movement of mobile homes are spelled out in the Texas Property Tax Code in Chapter 21. The law requires that any person moving a mobile home in Texas file a report of the movement and pay a $10 filing fee.

Mobile home movers are liable for a penalty of up to $200 for knowingly failing or refusing to report the movement of a mobile home.

The report and filing fee must be turned in to the chief appraiser of the county appraisal district in which the move ends.

If the move originates out of state, the report and filing fee must be turned in to the chief appraiser of the district in which the move ends. The report must be filed before the day on which the move begins.

Filing fees are deposited in the general funds of the counties.

Some mobile home transporters based outside the state may face a delay if shipment is held up until a report can be filed in the Texas county for which a mobile home is destined.

Out-of-state transporters seeking to comply with Texas law, yet avoid such a delay may write the local chief appraiser to request extension of the reporting deadline. Under the law, the chief appraiser may extend the deadline for a single period of up to 15 days, "for good cause shown."

Alternatively, the out-of-state mover may authorize drivers to file the required reports on behalf of the company upon arrival at their destinations in Texas at least a day before the mobile home is moved onto its site.

Report forms and lists of appraisal district mailing addresses are available from chief appraisers or at district offices of the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Mobile home movers or owners with questions about the reporting requirements are urged to contact local chief appraisers or to call SPTB's Technical Assistance Section, 512-837-8622 or, toll-free in Texas, 800-252-9121.

RRC report given

A total of 49,080 drilling applications were processed by the Railroad Commission in 1983, according to RRC Chairman Mack Wallace. In 1982, the Commission processed 44,746 applications, and 51,731 were handled in 1981.

However, the 1983 totals reflect a three-fold increase in applications reported in August when operators sought to avoid a $100 drilling permit application fee that went into effect on Sept. 1. The fee was approved by the Texas Legislature to provide funds for plugging abandoned wells and general enforcement of state pollution prevention laws involving oil and gas operators.

The 1983 total included 36,724 applications for permits to drill new oil and gas tests, 827 applications to deepen existing holes, 3,074 applications to plugback existing holes, and 684 applications for service (non-producing) wells. Operators also filed 7,771 amended drilling applications.

In 1982, the total included 31,059 applications for new holes, 647 applications for deepenings, 2,651 application for plugbacks, and 734 applications for service wells. There were 9,655 amended applications.

Applications for new oil and gas holes in 1983 included 6,126 in the San Antonio area (District 1), 1,057 in the Refugio area (District 2), 2,616 in Southeast Texas (District 3), 1,700 in deep South Texas (District 4), 1,051 in East Central Texas (District 5), 1,443 in East Texas (District 6), 6,550 in West Central Texas (District 7B), 2,321 in the San Angelo area (District 7C), 3,349 in the Midland area (District 8), 2,296 in the Lubbock area (District 8A), 6,424 in North Texas (District 9), and 1,791 in the Panhandle (District 10).

Insects to be reduced

One benefit of the record-setting cold wave that blanketed Texas in late December may be a reduction in insect pests in 1984.

"We should see a reduction in the numbers of certain pests this coming spring and summer, such as boll weevils, Mexican fruit flies, greenbugs and some worms," points out Dr. John Thomas, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

However, he cautions farmers and gardeners not to be lulled into a false sense of security, since some pests will still be around that will require monitoring and possible insecticide treatments.

"Presently, we have few if any greenbugs (certain aphids) on wheat due to the recent cold weather," notes Thomas. "Of course, most of the wheat was burned back severely by the unusually cold weather, but greenbug numbers should be much lighter once the crop recovers and puts out new growth."

One insect problem has increased in wheat with the recent cold weather, Thomas notes. Grain mites have become a problem in some wheat because the crop was weakened by the frigid conditions.

As far as the worm situation is concerned, the entomologist expects fewer cabbage loopers and armyworms this year due to the severe cold weather. "These species overwinter in the pupae stage in leaf litter and trash," says Thomas. "Thus, they are more susceptible to cold conditions."

However, the cold likely will not affect bollworms and tobacco budworms (major cotton pests), corn earworms, corn borers or white grubs to the same extent. Thomas points out that these worms spend the winter several inches down in the soil and therefore are insulated from low temperatures.

"Other insect pests that will not be as adversely affected by the cold are those which diapause or 'hibernate' in the egg stage—certain aphids, flea-hoppers, and scale insects," adds the entomologist. Body lipids (insect antifreeze) are high and metabolism is greatly reduced in overwintering stages. This is Mother Nature's way of insuring survival. One situation which will reduce survival of certain insects (Mexican fruit flies, for example) is in the case where all host plants (or host fruits) are wiped out by the frigid weather.

AUSTIN—Disaster victims in the Rio Grande Valley lack food, clothing and other basic needs, Texas Governor Mark White, far right, told a gathering of the state's religious leaders on January 30. White called on representatives of various faiths to enlist their support for a state-wide appeal to aid Valley residents. Among those who attended the Valley Disaster Relief Fund were, from left, Anne Marie Jensen, Texas Conference of Churches; Bishop John Fitzpatrick, Catholic Diocese of Brownsville; Father Marvin Doerfler, Catholic Diocese of San Antonio; Bishop Vincent Harris, Catholic Diocese of Austin.

Pageant applicants sought

The newly crowned area Teen Misses will compete with other area finalists in communications, evening gown and interview competitions for the state title and crown of Texas Teen Miss, plus a $1,000 cash scholarship award. Each of the state's ten semi-finalists will receive a complete, self-study modeling course.

Howard Derrick cited for contribution

February 1, 1984, Salt Lake City UT--Bill Siddoway, a sheep rancher from Anthony, Idaho, was presented with the McClure Award by the National Wool Growers Association at their recent meeting in Phoenix. Siddoway served as chairman of the Board of the Association from 1974-1975 and is currently active on a number of national committees and state commissions and boards in Idaho.

The McClure Award is presented intermittently to a deserving sheep rancher who has contributed leadership to the sheep industry and the National Wool Growers Association. It is the highest honor the Association can bestow upon one of its members. Mr. and Mrs. Siddoway operate a long established family sheep ranch in eastern Idaho.

A special award was given to Howard Derrick, of Eldorado, Texas. Derrick is chairman of the Lamb Promotion and Coordination Committee (LPCC), a triad of sheep representatives from the United States, New Zealand and Australia. Derrick was cited for his contributions to the U.S. industry in the field of lamb import discussions. Mr. and Mrs. Derrick have traveled extensively nationally and internationally to represent U.S. sheep producers on the LPCC.

A third award, the Campender Award, was posthumously to Jessie Baker, the former Executive Secretary for the Wyoming Wool Growers Association. Mrs. Baker, who died September of 1983, was a widely recognized sheep industry spokesperson. She served on a number of national committees and was a leader in the wool growers fight to gain equitable immigration legislation in recent years. John Hines, President of the Wyoming Wool Growers Association accepted the Award for Mrs. Baker's family.
