IS THIS THE WAY TO TOWN?
The driver of this pickup truck apparently had some difficulty in the 8-10 inches of snow left after a record-breaking snow that fell early Saturday through early Sunday morning. By noon Monday most of the streets were clean enough for travel. [Staff Photo---KKN].

Snow shocks Sonorans

BY CAROL JONES

Sutton County was covered with a blanket of snow by noon Saturday and the snow continued into that night. The record breaking snow began in the early hours Saturday morning, with the snowfall never letting up all day. By Sunday morning it measured 8 to 10 inches in all parts of the county.

Albert Ward in the south part measured 8-10 inches, Virgil Polocsek in town measured 8-10, and persons in the northeast parts measured 10 inches.

According to Virgil Polocsek, it was no less than 8 inches in any parts.

He added that the rule of thumb for snow is to figure one inch of moisture for 11 inches of snow, so the moisture seen from this snow storm should amount to about 3/4 to 1 inch. He stated that it would be very efficient since not much of the moisture will run off and it will mostly soak into the ground.

This much snow at any one time is very unusual for Sonora and Haney Davis, a rancher north of town, reported that he does not remember seeing this much snow since he has lived here. He moved to Sutton County in 1903. He added that this was extremely hard on the stock since they have been being fed since the start of winter. Most ranchers were not able to feed Saturday or Sunday.

Dan Cauthorn, a lifetime Sutton County resident, stated that the only larger snow that he remembers was when he was staying on his ranch in Val Verde County, bordering Sutton County, in the 1950's. He said that the snow then went over his boot-tops which were 12-14 inches high. They were snowed in at the ranch for three days.

John Eaton, also a longtime Sutton County resident, stated that he also did not remember seeing this much snow at one time, and that he did not remember it snowing consistently for such a long time.

Things in Sonora slowed down and in some cases, came to a halt because of this record-breaking snowfall.

Show successful

The 38th annual Sutton County Junior Livestock Show was held January 5, 11, and 12 at The Clint Langford Memorial 4-H Center. Despite the excitement of a toxic chemical spill on the 5th and a nasty blow by the weather on the 12th, the show went off without a hitch.

During the judging Friday, the weather was cold but created no problems. Sleet began to fall about 3 p.m. as the last classes were being exhibited.

The ground was covered with three inches of snow Saturday morning. The snow continued to fall throughout the day but it did not deter the spirit of the livestock show. If many more people had shown up for the delicious bar-b-que at 11 a.m. it would have been difficult for them to have found a seat.

The livestock sale began after the bar-b-que and brought in a total of $35,300 in sales. A Chinese auction raised an additional $5,160.

Preston Faris, county extension agent, stated, "In my opinion this show was one of the best." While the total amount of money raised by the sale set no records the show, "accomplished all that we expected it to," said Faris.

The Lamb Carcass show, sponsored by the First National Bank of Sonora, kicked off the show Saturday, January 5, when the animals entered were judged on the hoof. Carcasses were judged later in the week.

The Grand Champion Fine Wool Carcass was exhibited by Tammy Fisher and bred by Jimmy Powell. It was purchased by HNG Oil Company for $600.

The Grand Champion Crossbred Lamb Carcass was shown by Shane Keller and bred by Jerry Don Balch. It was sold to David Walsh and G.B. McMillan for $600.

Brandon Lock exhibited the Reserve Champion Fine Wool Carcass bred by Vestal Askew. It sold to Sutton County National Bank for $600. Sara Patton showed the Reserve Champion Crossbred Carcass. It was bred by Rousselot Ranch and sold for $600 to Sonora Wool and Mohair.

Spill turns into local nightmare

BY JERRY RAUN

The first week of 1985 was one that emergency and law enforcement officials in Sutton County would prefer to forget. The New Year began with an area-wide snow and ice storm that stranded motorists and caused many accidents. Fortunately, most of the accidents were minor, causing damage to vehicles but no fatalities or serious injuries.

City, County and State police were kept busy Tuesday and Wednesday. Approximately 150 stranded motorists were sheltered Tuesday night at the First Methodist Church. Emergency workers breathed a sigh of relief as warming weather melted the ice and freed traffic.

The worst was yet to come, and from a totally unexpected source. What began as a major, but routine, traffic accident at 5:30 a.m. Saturday turned into a nightmare for those directly involved.

Most of the citizens of Sonora were aware only that there had been a chemical spill and that a number of people had been evacuated from their homes west of town. It was an interesting topic of conversation over coffee and an unexpected family breakfast in town for some.

At 10:00 a.m. the atmosphere at the Fiddler's Restaurant was relaxed, even jovial. Something unusual was happening. The routine was broken. If there was any tension it was not evident.

In Sheriff Bill Webster's office the atmosphere was neither relaxed nor jovial. The tension was quite evident. Sheriff Webster, Department of Public Safety Sergeant Archie Crenwedge, Chief Deputy Joe Fincher and Emergency Management Coordinator Lenora Pool were faced with an unknown but potential disaster.

They knew that there had been an accident 7 1/2 miles

Drug dealers sentenced

The last chapter has finally been written in the drawn out story of one of Sutton County's largest drug busts.

During the evening of March 9, 1984 Sutton County Sheriff Bill Webster and deputies Joe Fincher, Ladd Turner and Bob Dean exercised a search warrant at a residence at 602 Menard Street in Sonora. Upon admittance the officers searched the house and discovered a quantity of marijuana, marijuana plants, various narcotics paraphernalia and $150 in cash.

Arrested at the residence were Michael Brent Morris, 35, and Lela Carole Morris, 36. Both were charged before Judge Herman Moore and released on bonds of $10,000 each.

At the time of the arrest Sheriff Webster stated that he and his department had been involved in this investigation for some time. Sheriff Webster commented that the Morrises were suspected of being two of the major drug dealers in Sutton County for over six years.

On December 6, in 112th District Court, Lela Morris entered a plea of guilty to a charge of possession of marijuana less than five pounds but more than four ounces. Ms. Morris was then sentenced to seven years probation.

Michael Morris also entered a plea of guilty to the same charge. A more serious charge of possession of cocaine was dropped. Morris was sentenced to five years in the Texas Department of Corrections. Final disposition of the sentence was deferred until after the first of the year.

Morris has now surrendered to Sheriff Webster and is being held in the Sutton County Jail awaiting transfer to the Texas Department of Corrections.

The Grand Champion Fine Wool Lamb, shown by Anita Balch, was bred by Jerry Don Balch. The lamb sold for $700 to Bruton Easy Pull Trailers.

Elsa Trevino exhibited the Grand Champion Crossbred Lamb. It was bred by Reyes Trevino and sold for $750 to Duke Wilson Estate.

The Reserve Champion Fine Wool Lamb was shown by Stephanie Powers, bred by Wesley Sawyer, and sold to Chaparral Motors for $600.

The Reserve Champion Crossbred Lamb was shown by Amy Patton, bred by Rousselot Ranch and was bought for $625 by First National Bank of Sonora.

The Grand Champion Steer and Reserve Champion Steer were both exhibited by Clay Graves. The Grand Champion was bred by Rock Chimney Ranch and the Reserve Champion by Glen Fisher. The steers were not offered for sale.

The Champion Pen of Three Rabbits was shown by Travis High. The pen was purchased by Westerman Drug for $300. Kirk Joy exhibited the Reserve Champion Pen of Rabbits.

The Grand Champion and Reserve Champion Rabbits were both shown by Austin Sipes.

Rebecca Powers exhibited both the Grand Champion and Reserve Champion High Gaining Market Lambs.

The Grand Champion Commercial Angora Doe Kid was shown by David Ross. The Reserve Champion was exhibited by Sara Patton. This was the first year for showing in this class.

In showmanship competition, Shane Keller won the Junior Showmanship award. Anita Balch won the Senior competition. Austin Sipes was first in Rabbit Showmanship.

Winners in Class 1 Light Finewool Market Lamb were: 1st - Anna Balch, breeder Jerry Don Balch; 2nd - Shane Keller, Wheless Ranch; 3rd - Christi Spain, Scott

Bloodmobile due

The United Blood Services will have a bloodmobile team at the First National Bank today (January 16) from 1 p.m. until 7 p.m.

The team will be in the Community Room of the office complex of the bank at 101 N.E. Main.

January has been declared National Volunteer Blood Donor Month by United States President Ronald Reagan.

City election set Saturday, 7 to 7

A city election will be held Saturday, January 19 to decide upon the proposed sale of the Municipal-Electric System to West Texas Utilities.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the City Hall building. Absentee balloting closed Tuesday at 5 p.m. Approximately 30 people-cast absentee ballots as of Monday morning.

According to city officials, the Municipal-system has been operating at a loss for the past two years. Rates would have to be increased considerably to generate a profit for the city. Duplication of electrical lines has also created problems during inclement weather.

If voters approve, the system will be sold to W.T.U. for $1,375,000 and revenue from the sale would be placed in an interest-bearing dedicated fund. Proceeds from the interest would be used for operations and capital improvements.

Proponents of the sale point out that this would turn a money losing operation into a profit.

This is an important issue. Every concerned citizen should make an effort to vote, whichever way you decide.

west of Sonora. A tanker truck had overturned spilling a toxic but so far unidentified chemical. The driver of the truck was in extremely critical condition with chemical burns. Several police, ambulance attendants, volunteer firemen and hospital personnel had been exposed to the chemical. Interstate 10 was closed and traffic was being re-routed. All persons within a six-mile radius of the accident had been evacuated. It was a scene from a disaster movie, but it was very, very real.

At 5:38 a.m. the Department of Public Safety received word that a truck-trailer had overturned at the Caverns of Sonora Road, east bound on Interstate 10.

When the truck overturned the trailer ruptured, spilling the contents. The driver, John Keller, 25, of Houston was thrown out of the cab and was covered by the spilled liquid. A passenger in the truck, Jefferson Jackson, 38, also of Houston, was in the sleeper compartment. He was only slightly injured and assisted Keller away from the wreck. According to witnesses who were first on the scene Keller was already blinded by the chemicals.

A distant cloud of fumes was visible over the site and was drifting to the east. A pungent odor was present. It was obvious that a toxic chemical had been spilled but the severity of the problem was unknown.

The passenger, Jackson, told police that neither he nor the driver knew what was in the load other than chemicals, but that there was a manifest in the cab. This was recovered by volunteer fireman wearing protective clothing and breathing masks. However, the manifest contained no information of any use to local authorities.

A call to Channel Construction in Channelview, Texas, owner of the vehicle, was of no help. The president of the company was on a trip and could not be contacted. No one there knew the contents.

The cargo was enroute to Rollins Environmental Services (Tx) Inc. in Deer Park, Texas. A call there reached a security guard who was the only person at the plant.

Word was finally received that the cargo included five different chemicals including Phenol. Phenol is a highly corrosive acid used as an ingredient in disinfectants, weed killers and germicides among others. It is highly toxic and can cause death if swallowed, absorbed through the skin or inhaled.

While identification of the toxic substance eliminated fears of radiation and other specters raised by recent reports of chemical disasters, it did not ease the problem of local officials.

Phenol had been identified as the chemical but no one yet knew what the concentration was. Only 70 percent of the contents had been verified. Was the missing 30 percent Phenol or was it water? The answer was critical.

Local officials were advised that if the missing contents were Phenol, all persons within six miles of the spill would have to be evacuated. The ambulance that transported the driver would have to be destroyed and all persons who had any contact with the chemical would have to undergo decontamination and medical evaluation.

It was at this point, fearing the worst, precautionary measures were instituted. All persons within the affected area were called and told to evacuate. DPS troopers, EMS personnel, volunteer firemen, Sheriff's deputies and hospital employees who treated the driver were told to shower, change clothes and to put everything that might have been contaminated into plastic bags for disposal. Entrance to the hospital was sealed. Police and emergency vehicles were scrubbed down, inside and out. The driver of the truck was transferred by helicopter to Brooke Army Burn Center in San Antonio.

It was nearly noon before it was finally determined, from the shipper of the chemical, that the concentration of Phenol was less than had been feared. Interstate 10 was reopened and traffic began to flow normally. Evacuees returned home with a story to relate. The 4-1/2 Lamb Carcass Show continued without interruption. Law enforcement and emergency personnel began to relax.

From the overpass at Caverns of Sonora Road the site of the accident now looks like a freshly graded acre of ground. There is no sign of a wreck nor of the 24 truck loads of contaminated dirt that were hauled to Houston for disposal. Two trees that were growing nearby are gone. There is nothing to attract a passing glance from anyone driving east on the Interstate. It looks like the highway department crews had been at work improving drainage. It is hardly mentioned over coffee now.

A truck driver went to sleep, ran off the road and overturned. It happens every day and is usually worth little more than a brief notice in the morning paper and a few seconds on the evening news. In this instance Sonora was on state-wide, or maybe national, news for a day or so. Now it is forgotten except by those involved.

John Keller died in San Antonio Wednesday. He did not die of injuries from the accident. He died of exposure to toxic chemicals. A ground squirrel died at the scene of the accident from exposure to toxic chemicals. Two trees have gone to Houston to be buried with other toxic wastes. Twenty-six persons in Sonora took blood tests as a precautionary measure because they were exposed to toxic chemicals in the line of duty.

Take a moment or two to reflect over your morning coffee. What if the accident had occurred ten minutes later? How do you evacuate an entire city? Which direction would you go? How many persons are listening to the radio on Saturday morning? What if the Phenol had not been diluted? What if there had been something worse in that truck? What is travelling up and down Interstate 10 every day and night?

Sonora did not have a disaster. Sonora was lucky. Sonora is also exceptionally fortunate to have law enforcement and emergency personnel who handled an unknown dangerous situation in a professional manner. While the rest of us could only speculate, they knew the potential danger and they went right on with their jobs! Well done; and thank you.

"MORE BANK FOR YOUR MONEY"

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like the people of Sonora to know what a wonderful group they are. My husband and I were passing through on Interstate 10 January 2nd when we became involved in a pretty bad car accident. One might think that our troubles started here, but we were outside Sonora and thus we were blessed.

First, five Mexican oil field workers stopped at the scene of the accident, helped us push our car to a safe place, and then drove myself and my injured husband, safely to the hospital.

We cannot express enough thanks to all the people of Hudspeth Hospital. Being a nurse myself I know how they all went way beyond what was expected of them. Mrs. Davidson, the nurse, helped in so many ways. Among these, she drove us from the hospital to the pharmacy, to the motel, and then asked us to call her if we needed a ride anywhere else! The secretary, knowing that we needed a room, made reservations early at the Devil's River Motel. I understand that soon after this time there no longer were rooms available for the night. Thanks also to Dr. Gremmel amongst others for all their help.

Mr. Holmes of Holmes Wrecker Service refused to let me walk back to the motel the next morning. I had gone to retrieve clean clothes from our wrecked car for myself and my husband. Thank you Andy for the estimate on our car.

Carol Scoggins also, refused to let us walk back to the motel after we had made reservations to have the car towed back to San Antonio. Later she and her husband Larry saw us walking, picked us up and drove us to the Holmes' and the bus station.

Many people helped immensely by trusting us with out of town checks. Thanks so, so much to Westerman Drugs, First National Bank of Sonora, Carl Teaff, Homes Wrecker Service, and the Bus Station. Thanks also to Sutton County National Bank for allowing us to obtain additional necessary emergency funds.

You all live amongst some beautiful people, Thanks Sonora!
Jesse and Sharon Argenbright
San Antonio, Texas

Letter to the Editor:

Mayor Gosney,

Just a note to let you know what wonderful, friendly people you have in Sonora.

The icy roads became too dangerous to travel, the motels had no vacancies and we were stranded. While sitting in the Motel lobby wondering what to do, someone from your police department called and said they were opening up two centers to help the stranded motorists.

We were given directions to the First Methodist Church on Oak Street and were there by some of the friendliest citizens, church members, and volunteers from the E.M.S. that a person can ever expect to find.

They worked throughout the night welcoming the stranded motorists, with food, hot chocolate, coffee and bedding. I was told that your business people also donated food and bedding to make us comfortable.

There are only 2 in my party but I'm sure I speak for all of the 150 that stayed at the First Methodist Church, you have extremely friendly citizens here in Sonora and I wish for you to thank them for everything they did.

May 1985 be a wonderful year for all of you.

Forever grateful,
Jimmy Phillips,
Baton Rouge, La.

Dear Editor:

1985 is well on the way, and I have not even said a word of appreciation to all the wonderful people in Sonora and Sutton County for the support and interest given the Chamber of Commerce during the year 1984.

Many projects were sponsored by the Chamber, some small and some large, the chamber office was completed in 1984, and Annual Banquet held with Senator Sims as guest speaker. A clean-up program was initiated as well as an Industrial Committee set up, many Grand Openings celebrated, Business' of the Month recognized, much advertising for the Hunters and tourists to come to Sonora.

Sutton County Days celebration was a big success, sponsored by Sutton County Days Association and the Chamber of Commerce, the chamber also helped with the GAME Dinner, and the Christmas Decorations Program.

The Chamber of Commerce and KVRN sponsored a Christmas Promotional encouraging people to Shop in Sonora during the Holidays, a barbecue and auction were held for the townspeople and enjoyed by approximately 700, the only charge being KAVERN KASH.

All in all, it has been a very busy year, with things to do on the 1985 calendar.

So, now is the time to stop and say THANKS to the community for all the cooperation given, for donations made for various projects, for never saying NO when asked to help, to the CVAE students and Reggie Williams, to the MEMBERSHIP for financial support, to the City Personnel for taking care of the Xmas Decorations, the LOGO Art Work, it goes on and on...The Chamber of Commerce is proud to be a part of this community and only hope to serve the community in the same spirit the Community has served the Chamber of Commerce.

John Paul Julybear
Batten the hatches
and raise the flag!
A sailor's brave and free.
I can bearly wait to get a boat
And sail away to sea.

Dickens December
I can bearly stay awake
In Winter's snow and rain.
But before I nap I think I'll eat
Another candy cane.

Business of the month named

Morriss Brothers Construction Company of Sonora was named January Business of the Month by the Sonora Chamber of Commerce last Thursday.

Morriss Brothers is located on Highway 277 in Shurley Industrial Park and was incorporated in August 1979, by longtime area rancher Bill Morriss and Tommy Morriss Jr.

The business was started with only one dozer, one welder and one roustabout crew. In February 1980 Morriss Brothers acquired general oilfield construction.

Since that time, the company has grown to include three complete dirt spreaders, three roustabout crews, one pipeline spread, three welders, and fully qualified staff in the oilfield.

Morriss Brothers Construction specializes in oilfield construction, roustabout crews, pipeline locations, and pit-road work.

Management includes W.L. (Bill) Morriss, Lanny Hooper, and Jesso Cook. The company employs 40 people.

Are you a wolf in sheep's clothing?
By Rev. James B. Stephen
First Baptist Church

"Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light." II Cor. 11:14.
"Everything is not as it appears." Or "All that glitters isn't gold." These two old proverbs are true and the danger a person studies the world and man in particular the more evident it becomes. Jesus spoke of those who were as wolves in sheep's-clothings and satin mimics the angels of light. That is our peril. If we could see temptation in its true light and color we would not likely be tempted. If all the ugliness of sin were exposed for what it is then we would not follow its path. If we saw the chains of sin that binds us we would resist to the end; however, it brings flowers to crown us and flatter us until we become victims of its charms. It offers the good life, bigger, better and on and on. We feel its bribe of fame and fortune. We see visions of health, wealth, and popularity. We are dazzled by its brightness not realizing that it is satan who is decked out as an angel of light.

Therefore, we need the good vision that "our eyes might see through the bright light in order to discern the darker side, the very heart and motive. We must be able to see in the crown, the skull and the poison lurking in the gleaming wine. Yes, we must know the Temptor at his first approach. We can not afford to give opportunity by our delay or at anytime give him the benefit of doubt. We must see at first sight and know by his dazzling wares. We must be able to discriminate among the things that differ. "Lord, that I may receive my sight."

Now it is this power of moral discernment which is the gift of the Holy Spirit. He alone sharpens our powers, and moral sense as to enable us to pierce every deceptive guise, and expose the evil when it has borrowed the garments of the good. He is the Spirit of enlightenment, and in His gracious fellowship we shall not be led astray.

In accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act and the Rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. (AT&T Communications) gives notice to all of its Texas customers that a new procedure for long distance billing was made effective on an interim basis on August 6, 1984 in Docket No. 5800.

The procedure referred to is "Rate Period Specific Billing" and it applies to all message telephone service (AT&T Long Distance calls) including non-REACH OUT Texas calls within the State of Texas. This new procedure effects all AT&T Long Distance customers. All intralATA long distance calls and all interstate long distance calls are currently billed using this procedure.

Under this procedure, customers are billed a specific charge for long distance calls according to the rate or rates in effect throughout the time of each call. If a call begins in one rate period and extends into a different rate period, the customer will be charged whatever rate is in effect for each portion of the call.

For example, if a customer places a call at 4:58 p.m. on a weekday and talks for ten minutes, the first two minutes of the call would be charged at the full weekday rate which extends from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The remaining eight minutes of the call would be billed at the evening rate which extends from 5:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. and includes a 25% discount. If Rate Period Specific Billing were not in effect, the entire call would have been billed at the higher day rate. Calls which extend from the evening rate period (25% discount) to the night and weekend rate period (40% discount) or from the night and weekend rate period (40% discount) to the day rate period (no discount) would also be billed according to the actual minutes of use during each rate period.

AT&T Communications anticipates a minimal increase of approximately .02% in its revenues or approximately $250,000 annually.

A complete copy of the "Rate Period Specific Billing" tariff is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Commissioners meeting held

The January regular meeting of the Sutton County Commissioners' Court met in the Sutton County Courthouse at 9 a.m. Monday, January 14. County Judge Charles Sherrill, Commissioners Mike Villanueva, Bill Keel and Juan Carlos Gonzales were present. Commissioner Bill Wade was unable to attend. Newly elected Commissioner Keel was attending his first meeting as a part of the court. Reports were received from various department heads and were approved. The Tax Assessor-Collector's report indicated that the department would return approximately $15,000 in unexpended funds to the county pending audit.

After accepting the report of EMS Coordinator Lenora Pool, Judge Sherrill complimented her department and Sheriff Bill Webster's department for their efforts in handling emergency problems during the first two weeks of January. Ms. Pool reported that 28 persons had to take blood tests as a result of the recent chemical spill. The costs will be billed to Channel Construction, owner of the truck. Joe David Ross presented a brief report on the status of the proposed water conservation district. A resolution requesting passage of the legislation was approved and signed for forwarding to Austin. The names of five temporary commissioners for the district were submitted and approved. The commissioners are James Hunt, Al Elliott, Mark Shurley, Joe David Ross, and Norm Rousselot. The appointment of a temporary commission is necessary for legislative approval. If the district is established an election of commissioners will be held.

Gail Rucker was approved as the new County Extension Agent for Home Economics.

The status of the emergency response system for the elderly was discussed. It was decided to delay any action until February. The Committee on Aging will be requested to develop a satisfactory plan for implementation of the system prior to that meeting. If a satisfactory plan is not developed the county will cancel the phone lines and attempt to relocate the existing equipment.

Deeds for the property purchased for the Road and Bridge Department were accepted. A special meeting will be held on January 28 to consider plans for developing this property. Specifications for drilling of wells to supply water for the cemetery and park will also be included.

Two mobile home parks are now located on this property. Since the county does not wish to become a landlord and compete with private enterprise, it was decided to close the parks. Tenants will be given 90 days to relocate.

Specifications for depositor bids for the next two years were approved. Advertisements for bids will be issued.

A request, by County Auditor Charles Graves for an interim study of the legality of allowances paid to county officials was approved. An independent legal firm will make the study at an estimated cost of $3600.

The meeting adjourned at 12:27 p.m.
