Ramblin' Raun Outdoors

BY JERRY RAUN

The 1984 white-tail deer season is now history. Early indications are that it will not be remembered as a banner year for hunters.

Statewide results will not be available for sometime but it is unlikely that any area of Texas saw large numbers of deer harvested. The animals that were taken this year were in pretty good physical condition but few in number.

The weather and other factors combined during 1984 to severely impact wildlife and fisheries in the state. Record low temperatures early in the year followed by continuation and worsening of drought reduced population of both fish and wildlife.

Despite these problems the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials consider 1984 to have been a good one for the agency's programs.

Along the coast, the freeze was fatal to thousands of game fish trapped in the shallow bay waters, including an estimated 90,000 redfish and 567,000 spotted seatrout.

This prompted the Parks and Wildlife Commission to adopt emergency regulations reducing bag and possession limits on redfish and trout by half and increasing minimum length limits from 16 inches to 18 and on trout from 12 to 14 inches.

These emergency regulations were adopted on a permanent basis later in the year after surveys indicated the freeze damage was just as severe as early evaluations indicated.

Wildlife species such as quail also suffered losses, as surveys indicated the statewide quail population plummeted to its lowest ebb in more than 10 years. Turkeys also experienced poor reproductive success, but the bad weather failed to significantly reduce the numbers of mature birds. Pheasant populations in the Panhandle were down as well because of poor nesting success.

The year ended on a positive note, as widespread rains during the fall revitalized the habitat and may have set the stage for a rebound if normal amounts of rainfall occur during the winter and spring.

Officials believe one of the top conservation stories of 1984 was acquisition of the Stoffer-McNeel Trust, a 1,700-acre marsh area in Calhoun County. It was significant in that it was the first waterfowl habitat acquisition from funds raised through the sale of State Waterfowl Stamps and Prints.

The tract, to be operated as a wildlife management area, provides habitat for a wide variety of aquatic and terrestrial wildlife species in addition to waterfowl.

Another significant accomplishment of 1984 was completion of the department's first Six-Year Plan, designed to provide planning and direction for the agency during that period. Conservation organizations, sportsmen and other interested individuals were given the opportunity to provide input for the plan during public hearings.

The following are some of the other significant news events of 1984 affecting the department's four program divisions--wildlife, fisheries, law enforcement and parks:

WILDLIFE--The Stoffer-McNeel Trust was not the only 1984 habitat acquisition financed by Texas sportsmen. A 102-acre tract of native brushland in Cameron County was purchased with funds from the sales of White-winged Dove Stamps. This was the fourth whitewing habitat purchase in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, and it brings the 12 units of the Las Palomas Wildlife Management Area to a total acreage of 1,314.

The department accepted a bid during July for production of the state's first Nongame Print, Stamp and Decal program. Patterned after the highly successful state waterfowl stamp, the nongame stamps, prints and decals will provide an exclusive funding source for programs aiding nongame and endangered species in the state. Legislation authorizing the program also empowered the department to accept private contributions and grants for the fund, and to accept income from easements, mineral leases, grazing leases and sale of products from lands purchased with money from the fund.

The department's desert bighorn sheep restoration program in the Trans-Pecos region of West Texas took a big step forward in 1984 with the birth of 17 lambs in a brood pasture on the Sierra Diablo Wildlife Management Area near Van Horn. Although six lambs died of parainfluenza, the survivors were inoculated and officials are confident the growing herd will eventually provide enough animals for release in the wild. Officials are grateful for the support from the Texas Bighorn Society and several other sportsmen's groups for providing money and manpower to construct the brood facility.

The Wildlife Division provided hunting opportunities for a record number of hunters on its wildlife management area hunts in 1984, with 5,340 permits issued for gun deer hunts on 14 areas, a 61 percent increase in permits over the year before. Hunting also was allowed for a wide variety of other game species on the areas.

FISHERIES--The department's John Wilson Redfish Hatchery at Flour Bluff had an outstanding year in 1984, producing more than 7,140,000 redfish fingerlings for stocking in Texas bays. A third spawn in late December was expected to push the year's total production well over the 7,102,000 fingerlings produced in 1983. The hatchery construction was funded by the Gulf Coast Conservation Association, and the site and heated water were provided by Central Power and Light Co. Of Corpus Christi.

The department expanded its rainbow trout stocking program to include three additional state park lakes during 1984. State parks currently offering trout fishing are Buescher, Tyler, Meridian, Bonham, Daingerfield and Lake Mineral Wells. In addition to the state parks, trout were placed in five public fishing areas. Foster Park, west of San Angelo, is one of these areas.

Final plans were approved during 1984 for a $4.8 million renovation project at the department's San Marcos Fish Hatchery. When completed in 1985, the refurbished hatchery will be among the nation's most modern facilities for game fish production. The facility initially will be used to produce rainbow trout, smallmouth bass and catfish.

The department's fish hatcheries produced a record 3.5 million striped bass and 2.6 million striped/white bass hybrid fingerlings for stocking in the state's reservoirs during 1984. Stripers were stocked in eight large reservoirs, while hybrids were placed in 17 smaller lakes.

LAW ENFORCEMENT--The department's Operation Game Thief program completed its third successful year of operation during 1984. OGT gives individuals the opportunity to report game and fish law violators by calling toll-free 1-800-792-GAME, and disburses monetary rewards to callers whose information leads to convictions for flagrant violators. Since the program's inception in 1981, more than 2,400 calls have been received. Of these, 255 resulted in the arrest of 532 violators and 916 convictions were obtained for a total of $114,704 in fines collected.

PARKS--Brazos Bend State Park opened to the public during 1984. The 4,897-acre park is located near Needville, about 28 miles south of Houston. Formerly known as Hale Ranch, the park offers full picnic and camping facilities as well as trails and fishing piers. Development was tailored to preserve the site's abundant wildlife resources, which include more than 225 species of bird, alligators and a variety of other reptiles, mammals and fish.

The popular Enchanted Rock State Natural Area between Llano and Fredericksburg was reopened in early 1984 after renovation and construction of park facilities. The 400-foot-tall granite boulder is one of the state's most recognizable landmarks, and a popular gathering place for rock climbers.

An outstanding historic structure also was opened to the public during 1984. The Fulton Mansion State Historic Structure is a three-story mid-Victorian period mansion which overlooks Aransas Bay at Fulton. The house has been restored, and all the furnishings are authentic to the period when the house's builder, George Ware Fulton, lived there in the late 1800's.

Wool clothing proves excellent investment

The combination of unusually cold weather and traditional winter sales have made this an excellent time to buy clothes, says a Texas A&M University consumer information specialist.

"Often when you buy wool items on sale in south Texas, you can look forward to months of storing them in a closet until winter sets in again," says Beverly Rhoades. But this year looks like it will provide a longer wearing season, she adds.

Wool fashions are an investment in quality and long life. Rhoades maintains. When buying wool clothes—even on sale—consider a cost per-wearing. Simply divide the total cost by the number of times you estimate you will wear the garment.

Because wool clothing is durable, resists tearing and often doesn't show wear, it can generally be worn for several seasons, she explains. So the per-wearing cost of buying "investment" clothing such as a wool suit may be lower than the cost of less expensive clothing worn over a shorter period of time.

When shopping for wool clothes, look for the woolmark, which may be on the label or a hang tag, says the specialist. In addition, certain descriptive terms on the label may indicate wool quality origin or quality:

"Virgin" wool has never been used before. The term indicates use only and not quality.

"Reprocessed" wool has never been worn but is remanufactured from fabric scraps and usually of lower quality than virgin wool.

"Reused" wool has been remanufactured from items used before and is usually of lower quality than reprocessed wool. It is often used in blends.

Wool is often blended with other fibers to produce fabrics which cost less than pure wool or to enhance care, appearance or wearability features for a particular type of clothing, Rhoades says. But if a garment contains at least 50 percent wool fiber, it will behave much like pure wool, she adds.

While consumers are out looking for a bargain at the winter sales, they could be contributing to the Texas wool industry, Rhoades observes. Texas is the number one wool producing state and it provides almost 50 percent of the nation's fine grade wool, she says.

According to the specialist, the 120 million dollar industry also employs about 10 thousand Texans in fiber production, warehousing and some processing.

Go Texan Days were kicked off January 3 when the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo announced its 16-star rodeo entertainment line-up for the 1985 Show, which runs February 20 through March 3.

"We're especially excited about this year's star entertainment because of two Houston rodeo firsts," said show president Dr. Joseph T. Ainsworth. "Continental Airlines, a long-time show supporter, will be our first corporate sponsor when they join with us in presenting the Oak Ridge Boys at both the matinee and evening performances Sunday, March 3."

Ainsworth said that in addition to sponsoring the Oak Ridge Boys live performance, Continental Airlines will also be a major

Senator Sims reassigned

The 69th Regular Session of the Texas Legislature is underway, with a few changes for State Senator Bill Sims, who represents the area bounded by Midland, San Angelo, Austin, San Antonio, Del Rio and El Paso.

Sims was removed from the Senate Education Committee and received instead a seat on the Senate Economic Development Committee.

He will remain a member of the Intergovernmental Relations Committee and the Natural Resources Committee in the Senate, where he is vice-chairman on the Subcommittee on Agriculture.

"I didn't ask to be removed from Education," Sims said. "I just asked the Lieutenant Governor to put me where he thought best."

"But, just because I'm not on the Education Committee any more doesn't mean that I'm not going to try to tailor that education reform bill to this district."

Sims was referring to the controversial House Bill 72, passed by the 68th Legislature in special session last summer.

"The Economic Development Committee is going to be exciting this session," Sims continued. "Banking, insurance and securities regulations as well as pari-mutuel betting will all come to this committee."

Senator Sim's office is room 421 in the Capitol. The mailing address is P.O. Box 12068, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. The phone number is 512-475-3494.

"This is going to be a really tough session," Sims remarked, "but I'm looking forward to it. I just hope that nobody's going to be bashful about letting me know how they stand."

sponsor of the Show's television special.

"This substantial contribution greatly enhances our charitable programs that benefit young people," said Ainsworth.

The Houston Livestock Show presently has 885 students in school on show sponsored scholarships with a commitment of more than $1.8 million.

Ainsworth also announced the Show's first full-length, two-hour concert following uninterrupted rodeo action. Superstar Willie Nelson will perform Monday night, February 25, after the rodeo is over. That night's regular priced rodeo tickets allows admission to both events.

In addition to Willie Nelson and the Oak Ridge Boys, other star entertainers will be Billy Ocean, Wednesday, February 20; the Judds, Thursday, February 21; George Strait, Friday, February 22; Ronnie Milsap, Saturday, February 23, matinee performance only; Charley Pride, Saturday, February 23, evening performance only; Exile, Sunday, February 24, matinee performance only; Janie Fricke, Sunday, February 24, evening performance only; Ricky Skaggs, Tuesday, February 26; Jose Luis Rodriguez, "El Puma," Wednesday, February 27; Conway Twitty, Thursday, February 28; David Frizzell and Shelly West, Friday, March 1; Lee Greenwood, Saturday, March 2, matinee performance only; and Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers Band, Saturday, March 2, evening performance only.

Seven of these stars will also appear in the 1985 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo television special to air in the spring and summer. The Oak Ridge Boys will host the show, which will feature George Strait, Larry Gatlin and the Gatlin Brothers Band, Charley Pride, Lee Greenwood, Conway Twitty and Janie Fricke.

City council member Eleanor Tinsley also presented the mayor's proclamation of Go Texan Days. Go Texan Weekend activities begin February 16 with the big rodeo parade in downtown Houston.

Rodeo performances begin February 20 in the Astrodome. All evening performances are at 7:45 p.m., with Saturday matinees at 11 a.m. and Sunday matinees at 1 p.m. Ticket prices are $4.00 and $8.50 and are on sale at all Ticketmaster and Ticketron locations and the Astrodome. All activities conclude March 3.

Temple voted chairman

Buddy Temple has been elected to serve a two-year term as chairman of the three-member Texas Railroad Commission, effective January 1.

Outgoing chairman Mack Wallace and Commissioner James E. (Jim) Nugent elected Temple and signed the confirmation order. Wallace had served as chairman since January 1983.

Temple was elected to a six-year term on the Commission in 1980, following eight years of service in the Texas House of Representatives. During his four terms in the House, the former Diboll ISD school board member actively supported additional state funding for public education and was instrumental in passing major public school finance reform laws. Legislation to require reclamation of land disturbed by surface mining, stricter state ethics laws, and adequate highway funding were also major priorities.

Temple's business career spans two decades and includes interests in banking, commercial real estate development, manufacturing, and wood processing.

Moisture raises humidity

Water, frost or ice on the inside of windows is a chore to clean up and can produce conditions for the growth of mildew in your home, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service housing specialist.

Homeowners may not realize that it takes only four to six pints of water to raise the relative humidity of a 1000 square foot house from 15 to 60 percent, says Dr. Peggy Owens.

For example, a person breathing produces 1/8 pint of moisture per hour and mopping a 150 square foot floor will release 4 1/2 pints of moisture into the air, she explains.

In addition to normally generated moisture, certain heating methods can contribute to moisture in the home, Owens says. In very tightly sealed homes with good insulation and storm windows, the use of an unvented kerosene space heater can double the amount of moisture vapor generated in the house each day.

"The presence of continuous condensation on windows is a good sign of excess moisture," Owens says. "If frost or ice forms on a glass or metal frame and sash and if paint peels and wood rots, there is certainly excess moisture."

If a single pane of glass gets so cold that moisture condenses and runs down it in the winter, then double glass and/or a heating vent located beneath the window can eliminate the problem, says the specialist.

But sometimes condensation will occur on windows even when the relative humidity in the house is low. In this case, condensation on windows results more from the cold window surface than from excessively high moisture in the room. Adding storm windows or polyurethane film to the windows, or placing heated air vents can solve the problem, advises the specialist.

If moisture condenses between the permanent window and storm window, or polyurethane film and the window, the warm, moist air from inside the house is leaking to the airspace between the two. To correct this problem, says Owens, seal the leaking spaces or ventilate the two windows. Ventilate the windows by drilling two three-eighths inch holes at the top and bottom of the storm windows or loosening them slightly.

When mildew or dampness is present on the ceiling or on the outside walls near the ceiling, there is a possibility that the insulation is not properly installed. In this case Owens advises repositioning the insulation in order to prevent cold wind from chilling the area where vapor will condense in your house.

Resolutions

Along with the traditional black-eyed peas at New Years comes the traditional making, and usually breaking, of New Year's resolutions.

New Year's resolutions usually last about a month or so. They are usually not taken too seriously--something to consider, but not carry out.

People could and should take advantage of the coming of the new year by changing things in their lives.

If you've been thinking about rearranging your room, take advantage of the cold weather and clean out those cluttered drawers. Donate the clothes that you don't like or can't wear to charity. The final look of your new room will make you feel like you have accomplished a great feat [which you have].

Have you and your family been not exactly seeing eye to eye? How about trying to bridge the generation gap. Remember that communication is the key to any successful relationship.

How about those school grades? If your grades aren't what you think they should be make an extra effort to improve them. Spend an extra 30 minutes a night studying. You'll be surprised what a difference it will make.

Why don't you donate some of your spare time to a nursing home or local shelter? The rewards will far outweigh the time spent. The joy you give to someone is something money will never be able to buy.

Has there been someone you've been admiring from afar? Why don't you take the new year as an incentive and take the first step. Go up and talk to him or her. No one knows what will happen until you start a conversation.

New Years means "out with the old and in with the new." Why not make a new you? Make 1985 the best year ever!

The year in review

A look at 1984

By Tammy Holguin

The Olympics and the Presidential election were only a few of the things that made 1984 an exciting year. Many changes were made in fashions and fads around the country. Also, box office hits and the music scene played a major role in the year 1984.

For the first time in American history, a Presidential candidate choose a woman as his running mate. Also, it was the first time that a Black American ran for the Democratic nomination. But even, then the Rupliocan, Ronald Reagan, won the election.

People from all over the world rushed to Los Angeles for the 1984 Summer Olympics. Many Americans were excited by the results. Americanism spread through the land. The Americans, with the help of Mary Lou Retton and Carl Lewis, won more gold medals and broke more records than did all of the other nations put-together.

Break dancing became the major fad of 1984. Disco dancing and the hustle were replaced with popping, locking, moonwalking, waving, and the centipede. It also brought about changes in fashion, music, and movies. The craze of spiked hair, two-toned hair, and duck tails leaped across the nation as a result of break dance fashions. Also, parachute pants, colored hightops, shoes, and bandanas were part of this craze. New groups who "rapped" instead of singing and scratching DJ's were high on the breaking charts. Many movies and commercials were made using breakdancing. It was not unusual to see people breaking on sidewalks around town.

Cyndi Lauper and Madonna were two of the singers who made it big in 1984. These singers each had three or more songs on the charts this year. Prince made his revolution, replacing Michael Jackson, of his hit album "Purple Rain" by Prince and the Revolution. Although Michael Jackson did make on the charts as a solo artist, his biggest accomplishment was the highly acclaimed Victory Tour where he traveled around the nation with his brothers producing "magic" everywhere. Van Halen had the number one song Jump on the chart this year.

At the box office, Gremlins was high on the list of favorites. Many viewers began to replace the spot-in their hearts from E.T. to Gizmo. Another box office favorite was Ghostbusters. From the movie came a smash hit single "Ghostbusters" by Ray Parker Jr. Ghostbuster buttons and stickers also made amazing sales after the movie's release. Finally, Purple Rain, the movie was a sensation. The movie turned Prince into a movie star. It also helped him make it big in the music scene.

The year of 1984 has passed and is history. We shall remember the good things that happened. Make 1985 a good year for you!

Bronco Fems win two

The Sonora Bronco Fems after a very disappointing loss in overtime at Coahoma have rebounded for back to back wins over Ozona and Colorado City.

The Broncos lost a heart breaker in Coahoma as they fell to the Bulldog Fems 43-37 in overtime. The regulation game ended in a 37-37 knot but the Broncos were unable to score in the overtime while Coahoma was 6 of 7 from the foul line for the victory. Debbie Bible led the Broncos with 15 points while Gina Heffernan and Becca Powers put in 8 each. Lea Whitehead got 3, Kate Mathews 2 and Bonnie Jackson 1. Fouls hurt the Broncos as both Bible and Mathews exited due to 5 fouls.

The next game saw Debbie Bible put in 21 points as the Broncos downed the Ozona Lionnettes 42-35. Lea Whitehead got 6, Gina Heffernan and Bonnie Jackson made 4 each, Becca Powers 3, Della Heffernan 2 and Kate Mathews and Debbie Shannon 1 each.

The next game was a long trip as the Broncos traveled to Colorado City to take on the Wolves. The Broncos came away with a 55-34 win. It made the long trip home much better. Debbie Bible again got the top scoring honor with 12, Gina Heffernan 10, Lea Whitehead 8, Bonnie Jackson 7, Kate Mathews and Debbie Shannon 6 each, while Michelle McCleery, Carrie Sorenson and Becca Powers scored 2 points each. The Broncos had a rather easy time as they jumped out to a 27-16 halftime lead. The free shot shooting could have been better as the Broncos were only 17 of 32 for a percentage of 53. The Broncos are now 14-4 and 2-1 in district play.

The JV girls have upped their record to 15-2 with three district wins. They downed Coahoma 37-21, Ozona 42-24 and Colorado City 59-9. In the Coahoma game Kathy Richter led the Broncos with 11, Gay Ann Dobbs 8, Julie Jackson 7, Rachel Merck and Alicia Sanchez 3 each, and Kelly Whitehead and Ciny Doran 2 each.

In the Ozona game Kathy Richter again led the Broncos with 13, Kelly Whitehead 10, Gay Ann Dobbs 7, Delma Chavez 4, Alicia Sanchez 3, Michelle Adams and Julie Jackson 2 each and Lancy Lowe 1.

In the Colorado City game Kelly Whitehead got the high point honors with 18, Julie Jackson got 11, Gay Ann Dobbs and Kathy Richter 7 each, Cindy Doran 6, Rachel Merck 3, and Michelle Adams and Lancy Lowe 2 each.

The Sonora Varsity boys are 0-3 since the Christmas break. They lost in the Reagan Co. Tournament to McCamey 41-62. Ismael Duenes led the Broncos with 9, Gilbert Martinez 8, Mike McBride and Esau Ramirez 6 each, Wayne Hill and Glen Love 4 each, Scott Miller 2, John David Martinez 1.

In the second game they lost to district foe Colorado City 43-68. Ismael Duenes again led the Broncos with 13, Esau Ramirez got 10, Mike McBride 7, Glen Love 6, Wayne Hill 3, John David Martinez 2.

The Broncos opened district play this past Friday with a rematch from the week before with Colorado City. The Broncos had trouble scoring early as they managed but 4 first quarter points to 12 for the Wolves. The Wolves also won the second stanza 12-15 for a lead at half-time of 16-27 over the Broncos. The Broncos made a game of things in the third period as they closed the gap to 26-33. The Wolves stayed tough the final stanza for a 49-37 win over the Broncos.

Esau Ramirez led the Broncos with 13, Scott Miller got 8, Mike McBride 5, Ismael Duenes and David Noriega 4 each, John David Martinez 3.

This leaves the Broncos at 4-11 on the season and 0-1 in district play. Colorado City is 1-0 in district play.

The district standings for the girls shows Crane at 3-0, Sonora 2-1, Coahoma 2-1, Ballinger 2-1, Ozona 0-3, and Colorado City 0-3.
