Wool Act focus of TS&GRA meeting

BY JERRY RAUN

Members of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association gathered at Sonora Junior High School Saturday, February 23 to discuss problems facing the industry today and lay plans for future actions.

More than 200 persons attending the meeting were told by industry leaders that one of the most important jobs facing them was to promote renewal of the National Wool Act. San Angelo rancher Bill Pfluger, chairman of the National Wool Act Renewal Committee for the National Wool Growers Association said, "This job we have to do is larger than anything we've ever done".

Efforts are underway in a budget-minded Congress to reduce and gradually eliminate federal price supports on future sales of wool and mohair. If the program is to continue, everyone must get involved. According to Pfluger, the key to renewal of the Wool Act is "to have a concerned industry with producers willing to work".

Pfluger revealed that he had contacted 30 out-of-state sheep organizations to find out what plans they had to contact their respective representatives. Responses were received from only five of these. Bill Sims, executive secretary of the T.S. & G.R.A., commented that this came as no surprise to him. "Texas always has taken the lead in this. Some of those letters have probably never been opened or taken from the mail box", he said.

Sims also pointed out that to his knowledge only six sheep producing state associations-Texas, Utah, Colorado, Montana, Wyoming and California-have paid executive secretaries.

"I believe they are concerned about the situation, but apparently my letter was not strong enough," Pfluger told the meeting. In addition, Pfluger said, the National Wool Growers' Washington lobbyist, Dan Murphy, will need help to reach all members of the Congress. The association is trying to get one or two other qualified lobbyists.

Pfluger said he was disappointed with the amount of money raised at the recent National Wool Growers convention in Reno, Nevada. The average contribution from the 400 people attending was $12 per person. Packers have been the largest contributors to the Wool Act renewal fund, Pfluger said.

"They understand very well how serious the situation is," he said. "But producers should carry this, and we should get allied industries to contribute, like feed companies and wool warehouses."

Most members of Congress and individual voters outside the sheep and goat industry are probably totally ignorant with regard to the nature of price supports under the Wool Act. The fact that the tax payers are not contributing money to the program has not been publicized enough.

The Wool Act was enacted in 1954. Since then wool and mohair producers in the United States have received $1.4 billion in wool and mohair incentive payments. This money has come from the $3.6 billion collected on wool tariffs. The remaining $2.2 billion went into the U.S. Treasury's general fund.

Renewal of the Wool Act was the major topic of the winter directors meeting. However, sheep and goat producers also discussed a number of other topics including predator control and the proposed state water plan.

Meetings of the Women's Auxiliary met for coffee at the home of Mrs. James (Linda) Hunt. The Auxiliary General Business Meeting also convened at the Hunt home.

NANCY POHL

Missing since February 20th.

Search still on for Nancy Pohl

County and state law enforcement officials have launched a search for a missing Sonora woman. According to Sutton County Chief Deputy Joe Fincher, Nancy Nestor Pohl, 41, was last seen at about 7 a.m. Wednesday, February 20.

Ms. Pohl, a fifth grade teacher in the Sonora Public Schools, was at home when her husband, Phillip, and children left for school. Mrs. Pohl called in sick and did not report for work. Mr. Pohl is also a Sonora teacher.

At approximately 11 a.m. Wednesday, Ms. Pohl's vehicle was found wrecked and abandoned just off Interstate 10 approximately 30 miles west of Ozona. Sutton County Sheriff Bill Webster and deputies joined Crockett County officials in a ground search of the immediate area Wednesday afternoon.

The search efforts were intensified Thursday. A Department of Public Safety helicopter was called in. DPS troopers and Texas Parks and Wildlife Department Game Wardens joined the Sutton and Crockett County Sheriff's Department personnel in the ground search. No evidence was found.

Ms. Pohl was born June 6, 1943. She is 5 feet 5 inches tall and weighs 108 pounds. She has brown hair and green eyes.

Sheriff Webster has circulated missing person bulletins to all Texas law enforcement agencies. Anyone having information pertaining to the whereabouts of Ms. Pohl is requested to contact the Sutton or Crockett County Sheriff's Department or the Department of Public Safety.

Sims addresses I.C.A

BY JERRY RAUN

State Senator Bill Sims was the featured speaker at the 8th Annual Independent Cattleman's Association banquet held Friday, February 22 at 6 p.m.

The meeting, attended by about 50 Sonora members and guests, was held in the Sutton County 4-H center. The dinner of brisket, beans, potato salad, and peach cobbler was catered by Dee Tyler, owner of the Branding Iron Smokehouse.

Four beef halves donated by Bill Whitehead, Ruth Espy and Mrs. Adele Wilson were given away during a drawing. L.P. Bloodworth served as Master of Ceremonies.

Senator Sims, Executive Director of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, directed most of his remarks toward issues that face the state legislature during the present session.

According to Sims, the legislature is "facing some tough decisions. A number of departments and universities will be looking at budget cuts."

"The past five years have been probably the worst that agriculture has ever faced," said Sims. "We haven't told our story," he commented while pointing out that he is the only member of the Senate with livestock connections.

Water is going to be one of the major issues during this session in Austin. "There is more talk about water now than ever before. A water bill will be out soon, but will have little effect on Sonora or much of West Texas," Sims said.

He pointed out we are fortunate to have an underground water supply as does much of West Texas. According to Sims, the fact that we have a local supply of good water requires local commitment to conservation and quality. "We must maintain control of it. We must form underground water districts to protect it and help local control," he stated.

One of the provisions of the proposed water bill is for the establishment of local or county water districts in those areas where underground aquifers are present. If local option elections are held and the district is not approved by the voters, the state will have the option to form a district anyway.

One of Sims' major thrusts is brush control as a method of conserving water. He stated that Texas has 80 million acres of land that is infested with brush. Mesquite and cedar are the major culprits in West Texas. "A mesquite tree can use 400 gallons of water a day," he said. This 400 gallons of water is extracted from the soil, used in the tree's metabolic requirements and transpired into the atmosphere. It is no longer available for growth of forage or for underground water recharge.

The brush problem is a relatively recent phenomenon. Sims pointed out that the brush infestation has developed since 1900. He also stated that any brush control program must consider wildlife. Sims, a native of Paint Rock, said that Concho County had no deer 100 years ago, only antelope. Since deer are of considerable economic, as well as aesthetic value, they must be

Track Season predictions told

BY CHARLIE ADAMS

With the conclusion of the round ball season, the Sonora Bronco boy and girl athletes are turning their attention toward tennis, golf and track.

The girls' track team will be gearing up to defend their current reign as district champions.

Heading the list of seasoned runners and athletes is Junior distance runner Gina Heffernan. She will be working for a return trip to the state meet in Austin to try to improve upon her third-place finish last year in the 1600m run.

Sister Della will also provide leadership and strength to the distance events as she was a regional qualifier last year and will be aiming to join little sis in Austin.

Seniors Leah Evans and Debbie Shannon both with regional experience will play a large role on relay teams and in the sprints.

Junior Bonnie Jackson will probably be the one to beat in the weight events as she captured third in the shotput both of the last two years.

Sophomore Gay Ann Dobbs will be the district favorite in the 800 meter dash. She also competed in regional last year.

Sophomores Kate Mathews and Michelle McCleery will add depth as both have regional relay-event experience.

The rest of the squad is composed by young inexperienced athletes that will be working hard to do their part by the time the district meet rolls around.

The boys will be trying to improve upon their second place finish in district last year behind the Wolves of Colorado City.

They will have the same major road block as last year-no strength in the sprints. The team however, is super strong in the distance events.

This contingency is led by probably the best AAA distance specialist in the entire state of Texas-Jose Escalante.

SHURLEY FILES FOR RE-ELECTION

Scott Shurley announced last Wednesday that he will be seeking re-election in the April 6 Sonora Independent School District Board of Trustees election. Shurley has filed for an at-large seat on the board which he has served on for the past four years. A rancher, Shurley was born and raised in Sutton County, attending Sonora schools. He graduated from Sonora High School and Texas A and M University with a degree in Agriculture Economics. Scott and his wife Mary Anne have two children, Kristen who is five years old and Kayla who is three years old. A member of the First United Methodist Church in Sonora, Scott is a past Master of the Dece Ora Lodge #512 and is presently Worthy Patron of the Order of the Eastern Star and a director of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association. Scott had this statement to make concerning re-election. "The school system has gone through dramatic changes in three areas: the building of the new high school, changes in the curriculum and grading, and dramatic changes of the financial status of Sonora schools. The last two changes are being forced on us from the state and there will be further mandates that we'll have to live with. I have an insight of these areas and would like to continue to try to solve the problems that are affecting the changes in our district. Because of the magnitude of these changes, I feel that the present is not a time to have a change in the administration of the school district." [Staff Photo-CJ]

PUBLIC NOTICE

AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. ("AT&T Communications"), in accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act and the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("PUC") hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of rates for its services. The new rates will be effective February 22, 1985, unless otherwise determined by the PUC. All customers and classes of customers would be affected by the proposed rates.

AT&T Communications has filed restructured tariffs designed to more closely recover access and other costs for private line, DATAPHONE* Digital Service, OCC Facilities, WATS and 800 services.

Also proposed is the institution of a charge for directory assistance to begin to recover access costs incurred for such service, and increases in rates for operator assisted AT&T Long Distance calls.

AT&T Communications is proposing to restructure its AT&T Long Distance Service and to reduce its overall revenues from basic long distance approximately $25 million.

While long distance rates will, in most instances, be reduced, certain AT&T Long Distance rates are proposed to be increased to more nearly recover the access charges approved by the PUC for such service.

The proposed new rates for all services would result in an increase in adjusted test period revenues of $123.4 million, or 11.3 percent.

A complete copy of the proposed tariffs are on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

considered in any brush control program.
Sims commented briefly on the Stacy Dam project which is of vital concern to a number of the larger cities in West Texas. He pointed out the fact that this project is not going to be an immediate solution. "The first test holes for the dam were drilled in 1937," he said.
In reference to the recently enacted school reform bill, Sims said that some aspects of it were unreasonable, however, "there will be much talk but little will be done about it". Some parts of the bill to which Sims objected are teacher competency testing, removal of teacher disciplinary control and the eight-hour rule pertaining to extracurricular involvement.
County zoning will be a topic under consideration, he said, adding that any county zoning legislation "should be local option".
The question of legalized horse racing will probably be presented to the voters. Sims said that only five or six persons testified during the hearing this session and that there appears to be 65 percent acceptance statewide.

Jose will be aiming at the return trip to the state meet to try and improve on his second place in the 3200m run and sixth place finish in the 1600m run.
Junior Ricardo Sanchez will be back to defend his crown as the district 800m dash champion.
Experienced runners Manuel Duran, Ismael Sanchez and Manuel Ramirez will add much depth in the distance events.
Junior Jim Cooper will be the one to beat in the discus throw and his experience last year at regional as a sophomore should prove to be a big plus.
Others returning with experience at regional are Junior Elias Torres who runs on the 1600m relay and the open 400m.
Other lettermen looking to be in stride by district time are Esau Ramirez, John David Martinez, Gilbert Martinez, along with a host of sophomores and freshmen.
It may take these a while to challenge at varsity level but they will be ready by district time!
Good luck this year Broncos to coaches and athletes one and all.

Students apply now for journalism scholarships

High school seniors in West Texas are invited to apply for journalism scholarships at Midland College for the 1985-86 school term, Ralph L. Sellmeyer, Allison Professor of Journalism at Midland College, announced this week. The scholarships are funded by a $750,000 endowment provided by the James Allison family, former publishers of the Midland Reporter Telegram, and provide all books, fees and tuition for those receiving the scholarships. The Allison endowment also provides the funds for the Allison Chair of Journalism, the only such endowed journalism chair in a community college in the U.S. Students from several West Texas Communities have been studying journalism at Midland College this year, Sellmeyer said, noting that such cities as Crane, Odessa, Midland, Monahans, and Tulia are represented. Those students granted scholarships are also eligible for paid staff positions on the college's weekly newspaper and the twice-yearly college magazine. Journalism credits from Midland College will transfer to any four-year journalism program in the state, Sellmeyer said. "We are interested in getting applications by June 1 from students all over the state, but particularly West Texas," the Midland College former Texas Tech journalism director said. Ample housing is available in the city, Sellmeyer noted, and for those students living away from Midland the college will assist in finding suitable living quarters. Interested students should write to: Ralph L. Sellmeyer, Allison Professor of Journalism, Midland College, 3600 North Garfield, Midland, Texas 79705. Those who desire additional college financial aid should write Bill Burns, director of financial aid, at the college.

Stand Still and Wait Upon the Lord

by Rev. Louis Halford, First Assembly of God

Moses commanded Israel in saying, "Stand still and I will hear what the Lord will command concerning you." (Numbers 9:8) So many times you and I try to get ahead of God, but if we would just learn to wait and see what the voice of God has to say to us today. If you'll stand still and wait upon God He will give you direction for your life. Samuel's admonition to Saul on one occasion was to let his servant go rushing on but for Saul to stand still. 1st Samuel 9:27 says, "Stand thou still a while, that I may show thee the word of God." Many times we fail to hear from God because we just can't seem to stand still long enough. Job is a perfect model of patience, but even he has some lessons to learn. "Hearken unto thee, O Job; stand still and consider the wonderful work of God." (Job 37:14)

Life is too valuable and short just to get out and try to keep up the pace of the world. You and I must learn to slow down and wait upon God.

We must learn to be led by the Spirit and to follow the direction that the Word of God has laid out for us.

So many decisions are made without even really being thought through. The decision could affect you and people around you the rest of your life. If you're not for sure what you should do, "Wait upon the Lord."

Everything that we should do, should have the stamp of approval from God. "Wait and Listen!"

Chamber to advertise Sonora

Robert Beach, vice-president of marketing with Travel Time USA, an advertising firm based in Chattanooga, Tennessee, his wife and two children are staying in Buster's Travel RV Park while Robert meets with various business people in Sonora.

Tourism is big business throughout the country and certainly contributes to the economy of Sonora, so advertising and promoting Sutton County and Sonora is an on-going project for the chamber of commerce.

Many bases have been covered by the chamber in the past several years through the media, brochures, West Texas Travel Council, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, billboards, etc.

The chamber is now involved in promoting Sonora through another program, the Travel Time USA. In the 1960's 10 Texas Trails were created by the state for tourists to become more informed about the state.

Each Texas Trails brochure takes in part of the state and Sonora is situated on the Pecos Trail which runs from Midland and Odessa, through Fort Stockton, down Interstate 10 to Junction and down Highway 277 to Del Rio.

The Pecos Trail brochures will be placed in travel centers, chamber of commerce offices, and other tourist centers.

Travel Time USA has a colorful advertising campaign with display boards depicting the trails plus commercial businesses and points of interest. They also have a brochure featuring the board in miniature along with interesting facts and activities along the Trails.

These display boards are posted in RV Parks, state parks, motels, cafes and other tourist centers along the trail and will certainly be welcomed by tourists throughout the state.

The events calendar will be a part of the Sonora advertising and will be available to the 1986 Sesquicentennial travelers.

Many tourists will be traveling down IH-10 in 1986 and the chamber of commerce is urging travelers to stop and spend some time in Sonora.

During the business meeting, ideas for making money were discussed as well as the style show for the Sesquicentennial.

Guests at the meeting were Celeste Prugal, Shirley Welch, Janie Welch, Pam Browning, and Mig Shurley.

Ramblin' Raun Outdoors

by JERRY RAUN

One of the quickest ways to assure making a fool out of oneself is to write a column for publication. One problem with a column is that you have to sign your name so everyone will know who the idiot is. You can't blame it on anyone else. Give someone a pencil and paper and access to publication and sooner or later he will crawl out on a limb and saw it off behind him. It is tempting, once you have made an error, to say nothing and hope no one will notice or remember. However, that's wishful thinking. It's 100 percent guaranteed that someone, somewhere will call your hand. Seems like the only time you ever find out your words are read is when you goof. Attack is supposed to be the best defense so it is better to point out your own boo-boo before anyone else does.

A few weeks back, in a column about the past deer season, I was talking about the low number of deer harvested in Sutton County in 1984. By all available evidence this is true. It was not a good year for hunters here.

My mistake was extrapolating - with no basis at all - to the state wide harvest. I speculated that probably nowhere in Texas was the harvest notable. I did hedge a little by saying the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department report was not in yet.

Now it is. Boy, was I wrong about the state-wide harvest! Would anyone around here believe that the 1984 deer harvest was the largest in 10 years?

Somewhere along the line I must have missed something since I recall reading earlier TP&WD reports referring to a major loss of wildlife, including deer, because of extreme cold weather in 1984 and poor conditions during the breeding season. Everything seemed to point to fewer deer available, hence fewer deer harvested.

Now it seems that estimated deer population was the highest in a decade. Department officials say the 1984 estimated population of 3.8 million deer is the highest in 10 years. The increased population is thought to be a factor in the record harvest. According to the TP&WD the population has increased from an estimated 2.8 million in 1980 to 3.3 million in 1983 and 3.8 million in 1984.

According to TP&WD officials, preliminary estimates indicate hunters took 363,000 whitetails, for an approximate 14 percent increase over 1983 when 318,000 were harvested.

Glenn Boydston, technical programs coordinator, said the harvest estimates were compiled through a mail survey of 24,000 licensed hunters. The deer population census was achieved by field observation using several techniques, including aerial surveys.

Boydston said all the data are not in yet on total numbers of hunters and hunter/days, but preliminary findings indicated there was a substantial increase in both during the 1984 season compared to 1983.

Weather was believed to be another factor in the good hunting, since a dry summer and poor acorn crop in many areas may have caused more deer movement during the hunting season.

An apparent increase in emphasis on taking antlerless deer also was a contributing factor, Boydston noted. "It appears that for the first time ever, hunters harvested more than 100,000 antlerless deer in Texas," he said. "The percentage of does in the total harvest compared to bucks also increased, which is encouraging."

Chronic overpopulation, rather than too few deer, is one of the primary deer management problems in many areas of the state. Boydston said underharvest of the antlerless segment is the problem because landowners generally have not removed the desired numbers of antlerless deer from the herd. "The antlerless deer harvest each year averages around 25 to 27 percent of the total," he explained. "This time that percentage may be closer to 30 percent."

Census figures and harvest of mule deer, turkey and small game will be analyzed later, he said.

Even with the apparent increase in the antlerless harvest, biologists see danger signals in the overall census data. "We approached a dangerous situation this winter because of such high deer populations," said Horace Gore, white-tailed deer program leader. "The deer herd got a reprieve because of rains during the late fall and early winter period, but if it remained dry I'm sure we would be seeing a significant deer die-off in some areas by now."

Gore noted that 1984 weather was almost exactly the same as 1962 when massive die-offs occurred in Texas, except that during 1962 the vital moisture failed to appear after an extremely dry spring and summer.

"The acorn crop was a failure in most areas of Texas during 1984, so the deer have had to depend on vegetation which sprouted during the rainy fall and early winter period," Gore explained. "If it hadn't rained, there would have been little food to carry the herd through until spring."

Hunters should be mindful of the need to reduce deer numbers in both good and bad years, Gore believes. "The tendency among hunters and landowners is to not take many antlerless deer during dry years when they feel like the herd is in bad shape, but that's the time they should increase their efforts because high deer populations put even more pressure on the habitat during those times," Gore said. "I would like to see the antlerless deer harvest doubled in most of the traditional deer hunting regions."

Reports from Washington

In his State of the Union message to the Nation, President Reagan presented with optimism and eloquence his vision of our country and of the future that lies ahead.

He told us that the New Beginning will continue and he challenged us to embark with him on a second American Revolution - to assure the growth, opportunity, promise, and freedom that America represents to the world.

The President's address struck a responsive chord with me for, as a result of his last four years of leadership, our Nation's spirit is renewed. Indeed, as he said, all of us can feel like American heroes.

First, we are justifiably filled with pride and patriotism because America again stands tall as the true leader of the free world. And, most importantly the modernization of the both our strategic and conventional forces, which occurred during the first Reagan term, has now brought the Soviet Union back to the bargaining table and has placed the United States in the position to not only achieve a verifiable reduction of nuclear weapons but to fulfill the dream of all peace-loving people - the eventual elimination of nuclear weapons.

Additionally, there is a feeling of optimism brought about by our country's economic revitalization. In his first term, the President successfully challenged the role of government in our daily lives. Through bipartisan coalitions in Congress, we worked to reduce federal spending and federal intrusion in the daily lives of individuals and businesses, taxes were reduced in three successive years, and there have been improved incentives for needed savings and investment.

These responsible fiscal policies have resulted in 25 straight months of economic growth - the strongest sustained growth in 34 years. The punishing double-digit inflation that we remember from the late Seventies has been significantly reduced. During the past three years, the inflation rate has averaged 3.9 percent. And, in the past two years, 7.3 million new jobs have been created, with more Americans now working than ever before.

However, as the President said, much remains to be done, for we must move expeditiously to reduce the federal deficit. I believe that the spending targets contained in the President's Fiscal Year 1986 Budget will serve as a catalyst for discussion in the months ahead. As we proceed, it must be with the clear understanding that the budget deficit must be reduced - not with tax increases but with reduced federal spending.

The President has called for reforms to strengthen the budget process and his proposals requiring a Balanced Budget be approved to impose needed fiscal discipline on a Congress which has proven time and again to have none. Furthermore, the President needs the authority he has requested - now available to 43 governors - to veto irresponsible line item spending in appropriations bills.

As the President said in his State of the Union message, America is renewed in strength and increased opportunity. His challenge is that, rather than rest on past achievements, we push further forward, outstepping the limits of the past. It is a challenge worthy of all of us.

It's not your fault!

It is very important for a battered woman to realize that she is not to blame for domestic violence. There are conflicts and disagreements in every relationship.

When we live with someone else there is always ups and downs.

No one is perfect. We have bad moods; we argue; we nag; we make mistakes; we get on each other's nerves and annoy each other. When you do things like this he could ignore it, he could leave, or he could talk to you about it. But he hits. That's his choice, his responsibility. You do not "deserve" to be battered; you are not to blame. And you are not alone - help is available.

The County Liaison of the Family Shelter will be in Sonora March 25 at the Senior Center from 10 to 3.

No appointment is necessary, and all services are free and confidential. For more information, call 655-5774.

Student seminars set in San Angelo

Thursday, February 28 through Saturday, March 2 Barry Wood will be at the San Angelo City Auditorium conducting a Love/Life Principals Seminar.

Today's young people are tired of pat answers, worn out cliches, and legalistic rules. They want concrete answers to those hard to ask questions about friendship, dating, sex, and love. This seminar provides answers from a strong Biblical perspective.

Barry Wood has vast experience with runaway youth on Sunset Strip in Hollywood, California. He has more than 25 years of ministry experience.

Late registration for Thursday will take place from 6 p.m. until 7 p.m. Thursday and the student seminar will be held from 7 p.m. until 9:30 p.m.

Late registration for the Friday session will take place from 6:30 p.m. until 7 p.m. and the student seminar from 7 p.m. until 9:45 p.m.

Saturday's student seminar will be held from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. For additional information contact Barbara Rollins at (915) 949-9633.

Sonora Boy Scout History

Boy Scouting has a surprisingly long history in Sonora. The first troop was organized October 25, 1914, just about a year after the Scouting movement began in the United States.

The early troop under the leadership of Roy Aldwell was an active one, drilling and performing with staffs. In June, 1915, the Scouts hiked all the way from Sonora to the Llano River, John Fields recalls that a wagon with supplies went along with them. The boys camped and cooked out about half way there the first night and then walked on the next day to the river, where they fished and swam for several days. The Devil's River News reported that some of the mothers "were horrified that some of the boys had eaten corn before it had been heated. The boys were in a hurry." Bent Binion was cook for the expedition.

Businessmen contributed $300 for the outing. Later a non-denominational Sunday School class of Scouts was formed with Miss Jessie Smith (now Mrs. L.E. Johnson Sr.) as teacher. It met in the Masonic Hall, as did the regular Scout meetings. During this period each of the boys carried a whistle, and they learned to assemble quickly upon call by relay of whistle blasts. Once someone (the culprit evidently was never revealed) started the call during a revival service. The newspaper reported that the "service suffered."

These first Sonora Scouts included the following. A.B. Stokes, Wade Grimland, Will Adams, Willie Miers, Emmitt Archer, Joe B. Ross, Delma Smith, Henry Decker, Rufus Ward, and Joe North, patrol leaders and assistants.

Other members were Joe Vander Stucken, Emile Vander Stucken, Ernest Parton, Alfred Cooper, Justice Adams, Willie Adams, Millard Bryson, Fordie Beard, Jesse Martin, Ben Martin, Libb Wallace, J.V. Alley, B.M. Halbert Jr., Birdwell Davis.

Also, Homer Parker, John Fields, George J. Trainer Jr., Justice Pinkston, Wallace Davis, Edmond Alley, Herman Huebner, H.V. Stokes, Merrill Bodenheimer, Tom Davis, Miers Savell, Fred

Smith, Harry Sharp, Harvey Morriss, Collier Shurley, Ariel Wardlaw, Henry Decker, and Jim Merck. The Boy Scouting movement lapsed in Sonora in about 1918 but was reactivated in 1927.

In 1936 Mr. Aldwell was recognized for his years of service with the presentation of the Silver Beaver award. Other Silver Beaver winners from Sonora have included E.A. Brodhead, Joe Brown Ross and Herbert Fields.

A boost to the entire Concho Valley Council of Boy Scouts came in 1945 when Sol Mayer contributed to the council 300 acres, which became the site of Camp Sol Mayer.

About 1948 a contribution by Mr. Mayer started the drive to build halls for Boy and Girl Scouts. Joe Brown Ross, Lea Roy Aldwell, and Mrs. G.H.

Davis headed the campaign and the two buildings were completed that year. The boys' hall was dedicated to Roy Aldwell.

Today Boys Scouting thrives here with numerous Cub Scout dens and an Explorer Post, as well as Scout troops.

GIRL SCOUTS

Scouting leaves fond memories

BY JERRY RAUN

It has been over thirty years but memories of my days in the Boy Scouts still linger. The names and the faces faded and I have a lot of trouble tying knots but much of what I learned and experienced in Scouting is still with me.

Some of my fondest memories of growing up in a small town in South Texas are associated with Scouts. The highlight of the summer was the week spent at Camp Karankawa on Lake Mathis (now Lake Corpus Christi). The first time started out miserably. I was homesick and a little scared since it seemed everyone there was older and a whole lot bigger than I was. As I recall the weather did not cooperate at all. We didn't know much about ditching tents or being careful not to get the ropes too tight. A storm blew in the second night we were there. The rains came down and so did our tent. It was wet and windy, but we survived. That experience taught me a lot about camping that came in handy later in life even though it was not the last time I have had a tent come down upon my head.

Somehow, I survived that first week, went back again, and then became a member of the staff of the camp for several summers. It was a lot more fun as a staff member than as a camper. I got to show off a lot more and really feel important.

Perhaps it was in the Scouts that I first began to get interested in wildlife. Certainly, a lot of skills that I first practiced as a Scout came in awfully handy later when I became a zoologist spending a lot of time in the field with students. It was amazing to me how many of them had little if any knowledge of camping, hiking or anything else.

One of the proudest moments of my life was the night that I walked up on the stage to receive my Eagle award. It was the first honor that I really worked for and earned on my own. I was double proud because I was the first boy from my town to wear the Eagle.

The next step was the Order of the Arrow. I remember how hungry, cold and lonesome I got during the initiation. Eighteen hours of silence, no food and a night in the woods alone with only one blanket and two matches tends to bring one down to basics. It makes a 14-year old think about things he would never have reflected on otherwise. It was a solemn experience, a growing that I am eternally grateful I went through. Under the same circumstances I would do it again. It was well worth it, even if I did come down with polio two weeks later. I did a lot of maturing that summer.

Life is a lot more complicated now and there is much more going on to attract young people's attention. Scouting may seem a bit prosaic and the Oath and Laws pretty square in comparison to all the other things that crowd into a youngster's day. However, Scouting is probably more meaningful today than it was when I was involved.

Any youth, boy or girl, who becomes involved in Scouting, who sticks with it and who is willing to invest time and effort is bound to come out of it a better person. The memories will remain and so will the pride in accomplishment.

Girl Scouts formed 1919

The first troop of Girl Scouts was organized in Sutton County in 1919, some seven years following the birth of the National Girl Scouting program.

The first troop was led by Mrs. Torah Long and the members were registered as Gladys Dicker, Jewell Eaton, Pansy Perry, and Grace Trainer.

From the time until 1937, a few lone troops existed, but in April, 1939, the Parent-Teacher Association voted to sponsor the Girl Scouts of Sonora. It was then that the first Girl Scout Committee was appointed.

In 1956, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Vanderstucken gave 245 acres in Real Country to the Girl Scouts of Sonora.

This became the site of many enjoyable summers for the girls.

Fierro completes Brownsea training

Albert Fierro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Fierro, has completed Brownsea training at Camp Sol Mayer.

The training included camping, cooking and leadership. During the one week course, the scouts learned how to apply their leadership skills in their own troop. These skills included program planning, patrol emphasis, and outdoor leadership.

All the participants were divided into patrols of eight scouts. During the week, the patrols competed against each other in various contests such as campsite inspection, best patrol flag, scout spirit, and cooking.

Brownsea-22 had its beginning when Baden Powell (founder of international scouting) decided to try out his ideas. In 1907 he brought together a group of 22 boys at Brownsea Island.

Brownsea Island is just off the coast of Great Britain. During this summer camp, Baden Powell learned that boys were eager to do the things he called "Scouting".

Scoutmaster for the Brownsea 22 course was Bill Ruth, district training chairman for the Amangi Trails district.

SCOUTS GET FLAG
After John Tedford, Sutton County Republican Chairman, found out that the Sonora Girl Scouts were saying the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag to a picture of an American flag, he decided that it was time for them to have a real one. Tedford contacted United States Congressman Tom Loeffler and requested an official flag for these girls. The flag was received this month and had been flown over the United States Capital building. Tedford is shown presenting the flag to Melba Perez, unit coordinator for the area Girl Scouts. The Sutton County Republicans donated the flag stand upon which the flag will now rest. # Boy Scouting teaches responsibility to youth

Boy Scouting helps boys become citizens of fine character, physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight, but also Scouting gives the boys fellowship and fun.

It is fun to go hiking and camping with your best friends—to swim, to dive, to paddle a canoe, to wield an ax, to follow the footsteps of the pioneers who led the way through the wilderness, and to stare into the glowing embers of a campfire and dream of the wonders of the life that is in store for you.

Scouting is far more than fun in the outdoors, hiking, and camping. It is a way of life. Scouting is growing into responsible manhood, learning to be of service to others.

Your life as a Scout will make you strong and self-reliant and you will learn Scoutcraft skills that will benefit you as you grow.

In order to be a Boy Scout, a boy must have completed the fifth grade or be 11 years of age or older, but not have reached 18;

you have to find a Scout troop near your home, and you have to know the rules of Scouting and the signs of a Scout.

If you are eight years old or older, you may be a member of the younger branch of the Boy Scout movement—Cub Scouting. As you get closer to 11 and are in a Cub Scout pack's Webelos den, you will learn all you need to know to become a Boy Scout.

If you do not know where to join the Scouts, phone the Boy Scouts of America in town. If a number is not listed in your telephone directory, write to: Boy Scouts of America, P.O. Box 61030, Dallas/Fort Worth Airport, Texas 75261. They will tell you where to find a troop or how to become a Lone Scout.

The Scout patrol is the finest boys' club in the world. The patrol is the unit that makes Scouting go. It is a group of boys, usually six to eight years of age, who pal together because they like to do the same kinds of things.

A patrol is a team. All of the members play the game of Scouting. All of you work toward the same goal and all of you have a wonderful time. In the patrol, you learn what fun it is to plan exciting things to do with some of your best friends—to hike and camp together—to sing and laugh together homeward bound from a strenuous hike or around a flickering campfire—to work together to meet the tests that will carry all of you onward and upward in Scouting.

In Scouting, the area in which your troop is located is called a district. In a large city, a district could be one or more neighborhoods. In the country, it could take a number of districts to make up a council. Your council has a staff of trained people who work full time to make Scouting a success. The council has a service center where your Scoutmaster can get books, badges, and all kinds of help.

Troop 19 has busy year

The boys of Troop 19 have been busy the past year. They have participated in several camp-outs. Several of the boys made cookies to help on the Blood Drives that are held in Sonora. On the last Drive the boys also helped in putting up posters.

The Scouts helped the Petroettes in delivering Thanksgiving Baskets in November. Also in November they participated in a Flag Ceremony at our last home football game.

In April the boys went to an annual event in the Mall. Toney Duren, Terry Duren, and Robert Fierro, Jr. went to Junior Leaders Training Workshop where they were trained in the position they hold in the troop.

During the summer the troop went to Sol Meyer for summer camp. They plan to go to Camp Fawcett in 1985.

Their plans for this year include more service projects for the community, camping and participating in Council and District

Events. The door is always open to any boy over the age of 11 to join. The Troop Meetings are at 7 p.m. on Tuesday nights. JOIN SCOUTING TODAY.

Camporee slated

The Diamond Jubilee Council Camporee Guide is scheduled to take place April 12-14 at Camp Geronimo in Christoval.

In 1926, the first Council Summer Camp was held in Christoval and the 10 day camping experience was called Camp Geronimo I. It was located at the old Baptist Encampment on the South Concho River. Some 150 Scouts attended the first camp under the leadership of Brice Draper, Scout Executive.

To celebrate the Diamond Jubilee of the Boy Scouts of America, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Webelos are returning to the same site of Camp Geronimo I for a council wide camporee. This will be a weekend of real Boy Scout camping with every Scout and every Troop in the Concho Valley Council coming together to enjoy the thrill and excitement of the "Jamboree style" big event.

Order of the Arrow for honored campers

The Order of the Arrow is a national brotherhood of honored campers. In order for a scout to obtain this honor, a scout must have attained the First Class Rank, camped at least 10 days and nights, be approved by his Scoutmaster, and be elected by his fellow scouts.

The purpose of the Order of the Arrow is to recognize those campers-Scouts, Explorers, and Scouters-who best exemplify the Scout Oath and Law in their daily lives and by such recognition cause other campers to conduct themselves in such manner as to warrant recognition.

To develop and maintain camping traditions and spirit.

To promote Scout camping, which relates its greatest effectiveness as a part of the unit's camping program, and to help strengthen the district and council camping program both year around and in the summer camp, as directed by the camping committee of the council.

To crystallize the Scout habit of helpfulness into a life purpose of leadership in cheerful service to others.

Members of the Order of the Arrow in Troop 19 are Albert Fierro, Robert Fierro, Jr., Jimmy Keese, and Terry Duren.
