Little girl's wish comes true

BY CAROL JONES

For Rita McGinnis a wish came true Sunday, July 14 at her home in Sonora when the "Make-A-Wish" Foundation of San Angelo officially gave her an above ground backyard swimming pool.

The pool, along with a long list of accessories were presented to a very excited and high-spirited Rita during ribbon cutting ceremonies July 14th, designated as "Rita Smith McGinnis Day" in Sonora by the Sonora City Council.

Surrounded by family and new and old friends, Rita cut the ribbon, assisted by City Alderman Hershel Davenport and dignitaries from the "Make-A-Wish" Foundation. Following the ribbon cutting Rita was literally "thrown" into the pool where she began to swim and play with the many pool games included in the package.

Rita is the 11 year old daughter of Gilbert and Evelyn McGinnis. She was diagnosed several months ago as having undifferentiated sarcoma of the liver, a terminal illness. She has two sisters, Tina who is 14 years old, and Tammy who is 8 years old.

The "Make-A-Wish" Foundation was originally founded in Phoenix, Arizona in 1980 as a non-profit, tax-exempt corporation. The purpose of the foundation is to fulfill the special wish of any terminally ill child under the age of 18.

"Make-A-Wish" learns of these special children through referrals from doctors, nurses, social workers, friends, relatives or parents as well as through other organizations.

Another thing making July 14's presentation extra special was the fact that this is the first wish to be granted through the "Make-A-Wish" Foundation of West Texas, Inc.

Those individuals, businesses, and organizations contributing to Rita's wish included:

Doughboy Recreational, Rancho Cucamonga, Ca. - above ground swimming pool with accessories for operation; Leisure Center, San Angelo - pool chemicals and a ladder; Fielder Water and Pool, Inc., San Angelo - air raft, kick board and a basketball game for the pool; Texas Divers Association, Inc., San Angelo - underwater mask, snorkel and T-shirt; and Howlett Pool Service, Inc., a division of Aylor Pools San Angelo - Pearl Divers pool game, beach ball, gater eggs pool game, water tube, and Diving Kings pool game.

Also Patio Pools, San Angelo - solid webb floating chair; Eckerd Drugs, San Angelo - swim fins; Angelo Sporting Goods, San Angelo - swim caps; M System at K Mart Plaza, San Angelo - mask and goggle set and water ball; Walmart, San Angelo - lawn chairs, plastic tables for the lawn, diving fins, aqua lounge, beach towels, suntan lotion and Solarcaine; Olive Nursery, San Angelo - herbicide; West Texas Ready Mix, San Angelo - sand; City of Sonora - site preparation for the pool; Sonora Volunteer Fire Dept. - assistance in filling the pool plus $100; and Sonora Ladies Fireman's Auxiliary - bathing suits.

Several contributors wished to remain anonymous. Herb Newton, president of "Make-A-Wish" Foundation of West Texas called for a moment of silence prior to the ribbon cutting in memory of Sonora Fire Chief Gene West.

West, who was very active in the site preparation and filling of the pool, died Saturday, July 13 of a heart attack at the age of 41.

"Make-A-Wish" personnel extended a special thank you to all persons and businesses involved in helping Rita's wish come true.

There will be three nights of Rodeo and dances which will certainly attract many people to Sonora. There will be entertainment for everyone!

Driver's Ed to cost $125

BY MARY HUCKABY

Students from the Sonora Independent School District will no longer be provided driver's education free, according to a unanimous decision by the Sonora ISD School board during a busy July 9 meeting.

Board member Dr. Johnny Fields figured upon cost of car, insurance gasoline, teacher payment and came up with a figure of $125. Even at this rate the school district would still be losing money.

Also discussed during the 7 p.m. meeting was the new bilingual program currently underway for kindergarten aged children.

Twenty-six students were tested and then divided into five categories of knowledge, with level one being no knowledge of the English language. Six students of the 26 received a four or five level and were not allowed to participate in the program.

The program was called "an asset" by many board members. One child, who at the onset of the program, could not speak a word of English or Spanish is now communicating with four or five words.

The program is being held at low financial expenses due to the use of excess school supplies from the past year.

During the meeting, Carol Jones, editor of The Devil's River News asked permission to publish the school paper, "Caballo Diablo", in the Devil's River News during the coming school year. This idea was approved by the school board.

It has been one year since the building constructors of the new high school have been in Sonora. Tom McKenna, building superintendent, commented that "they have come a long way" with the new high school.

Superintendent James Bible asked the school board for permission to build a concrete storage area underneath one of the gym bleacher areas. Board member Joe Garcia asked if there was a need for storage area. Bible said there is definite need for storage. The approximate cost will be $9,000. The board wanted more exact figures and it will be discussed during the August meeting.

Bible also brought up the new mandated House Bill 72 policy that requires all schools to provide a pre-kindergarten program or a letter with reasonable justification for not having one.

Mario Sotelo, assistant superintendent, said that a letter could be written to present a picture of the school system in which no room was present to accommodate an extra class room. Sotelo also said that the state would want the school district to look into other possible meeting places such as Churches and halls. He also commented that a reason for not having the class would be very hard to convince the state with. Bible reminded the board that plenty of classroom space would be available with the completion of the new high school.

The new cheerleading policy and the right to appeal also was approved unanimously by the school board.

Sotelo presented the board with a list of the current buses in use by the school district. He commented that the buses are in "pretty good condition" except for two which were used only 400 miles each during the 1984-85 school year. He spoke of a place in Abilene where buses can be auctioned at a price that will not be lower than what the school sets forth.

Board member Julio Samaniego said emphatically

Fred Snowden held for murder

An argument ensued over the sale price of a car has left one man dead and another in jail.

Fred S. Snowden, age 51, of 112 Popular Street in Sonora is in the Sutton County Jail, charged with the murder of Carlos Badillo.

Badillo, age 42, of Sonora, was shot once in the head. He was transferred to Angelo Community Hospital by Sonora Ambulance Service, where he died Wednesday afternoon.

Snowden's bond has been set at $20,000.

Sheriff Bill Webster stated that the case would be presented to the next Grand Jury.

Juvenile cases to be moved

BY CAROL JONES

Effective August 1, Jan Davis who is presently the probation officer for both adults and juveniles in Sutton County will only be handling adult cases.

Sutton County Commissioners were informed that Ms. Davis will take over the responsibility of adult cases in Crockett County and that the Permian Basin Probation Service (PBPS) will be dropping the Juvenile Probation Program.

The juvenile caseload will become the responsibility of each individual county and an officer for that position will no longer be provided by PBPS. It will be required that each county provide a juvenile probation officer to local juveniles.

Judge Carla Fields was authorized by the commissioners to meet with Crockett County Judge along with Charles Graves, Sutton County Auditor, and any commissioners who wish to be present.

The result of the meeting will be to determine if Sutton and Crockett Counties can combine finances and other resources and share a juvenile probation officer.

In other action during the regular monthly meeting included the acceptance of a bid from Chaparral Motors for two 1986 trucks and a 1985 1/2 ton pickup. Chaparral's bid was the only bid submitted.

A bid was also accepted from Sears for $4990.30 for blinds to be placed on 39 windows in the old courthouse building. The blinds are expected to be installed during the week of August 16. Again, only one bid was submitted.

Commissioners also voted July 8 to designate the meeting room in the new annex as an official courtroom and in separate action to honor the late Don Wootan with a plaque to be placed in that room. Wootan, retired Sutton County Chief Appraiser, died earlier this year.

A request from the Family Shelter in San Angelo for $3,000 in county funds was turned down during July 18's meeting and action on an easement request made by Bob Brockman was postponed until the August meeting. Brockman was requesting access across county property for equipment to reach property where he is building a home.

Commissioners also authorized the advertisement for bids on a computer word processor for the 112th Judicial District Attorney's office. The piece of equipment will remain the property of Sutton County when and if the District Attorney's office ceases to be located in this county.

At 12 noon the Court took a 30 minute lunch recess before getting into the budget review session.

Working mother's Clifton to serve as job-related factors AHA delegate

Homemaker Update by Gail Rucker

The many research studies conducted on families with working mothers tell us that the mother's job alone does not seem to negatively affect the family. But certain job-related factors can have a profound impact on the working woman and her family. Those factors most often identified are:

- *The quality of substitute care for young children. It's difficult for a mother to find satisfaction in her job if she's worried about the care her young children are receiving.
- *The supervision of older children. Working mothers may be concerned about older children's after-school activities--especially if they must spend time alone.

*The mother's attitude toward her work. If she doesn't like her job, that attitude will show and affect the family's attitudes toward her working outside the home.

*The attitude of her husband and children toward the job. If they feel "cheated" because they don't have enough time with the mother, they can cause problems within the family.

*Job demands. A woman who has a very demanding job may have less energy for family support activities--especially if she receives little or no help from other family members.

*Ability and willingness of family members to help. When family members are not able or willing to take on household chores, it can overburden the working woman and give her even less time to spend with the family.

In some of these areas, it may be difficult for working women and their families to make changes--especially when attitudes are involved. But there are some practical things that can be done to ease these problems.

For the next article in this series, we'll consider some suggestions for helping children adjust.

Tom Clifton, owner of Tim's Liquor Store, was selected to be the Sutton County delegate to the American Heart Association's Annual Meeting of the Membership at the St. Anthony Hotel in San Antonio, July 12-14.

The yearly meeting is held to conduct the business of the American Heart Association, the nation's only voluntary health organization dedicated to the reduction of early death and disability due to cardiovascular disease and stroke. Speakers for the event include T. Boone Pickens, Mesa Petroleum Company, and Henry Cisneros, Mayor of San Antonio.

Clifton serves as President of the Sutton County Division Heart Association board.

GRAMM WINS WATCHDOG

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm of Texas was presented this year's "Watchdog of the Treasury Award" in recognition of his "leadership in the movement to bring wasteful government spending under control." The presentation, by Watchdogs of the Treasury, Inc., was made in Sen. Gramm's office in Washington.

DHT gives honors

Ten employees of the Sutton County Engineering Office of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT) were honored recently with the presentation of Safe Driving Awards at a ceremony in Sonora.

District Engineer D.R. "Doc" Watson of San Angelo presented the awards ranging from two years to 14 years.

Safe driving saves time and money. The Department knows that these savings are of the tax dollars of the citizens of Texas. Through safety meetings and training, safe driving of state equipment is encouraged.

Recipients of the Safe Driving Awards were: Donald F. Mahannah, 14 years; Pedro M. Galindo, Jr., 14 years; James E.

Alexander, 14 years; Ray E. Barlemann, 10 years; Milton R. Cavaness, 9 years; L.B. Taylor, 8 years; Joe N. Smith, 5 years; James L. Martin, 5 years; Armando S. Dominguez, 5 years; and James C. Doyle, 2 years.

The Safe Driving Awards constitute a total of 86 years of safely operating state equipment. The Department is proud of the safety record of these employees.

Also receiving a Certificate of Service and Lapel Emblem for 35 years service with the Department was L.B. Taylor. Taylor is a valued employee in this District and received personal congratulations from Watson, with his thanks for the many years of loyal service and the hope for many more years of loyalty and productivity.

Bob's Casing Crew adds new location

The decision to expand services into San Angelo was made in order to better serve the oil and gas industry of the Concho Valley.

With a history of 37 years in the casing business, Bob's Casing Crews ranks second nationally and holds the record in Texas for years of experience.

Locations in addition to the new San Angelo Office include a main plant in Odessa, and locations in Hobbs, New Mexico and Sonora.

Prayers are answered

Parents wondering what to do with their children this summer can find the answer at the new San Angelo Museum of Fine Arts. The spectacular and colorful Discovery Exhibit created by the Dallas Museum of Art will occupy a central place in the Museum's schedule of programs and exhibits from July 13 through September 8. Workshops, special programs and tours will be offered throughout the summer. A special gallery will be devoted to children's art work created in the workshops. Tapestry by Sandra Freeze Hulse and oil paintings by Mary Hogsett will provide a rich backdrop to the summer's attractions.

At the opening July 13, the Museum and grounds will come to life with fun and festivity from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The public is invited to participate in the day's events which will include a bring-your-own-materials art contest.

Defendants to repay county

The Board of Pardons and Paroles may soon require persons placed on parole to repay the county where they were tried for any fines, fees or other costs imposed by the courts, including the costs of county-paid public counsel.
 The change in current law, which does not authorize the parole board to make defendants repay counties for the expense of their own prosecution, takes effect on September 1 as a result of the passage of SB 59. Sponsored by Representative Bill Blackwood and Senator Ted Lyon, the bill was signed by Governor White last week.

 "I have long believed that the costs of maintaining our courts should be borne by those individuals whose cases clog the dockets and overburden the criminal justice system. That includes convicted criminals," Governor White said.

Partially frozen poultry considered fresh

Some Texas consumers are expressing concern about buying poultry labeled as "fresh", only to discover at home that it seems partially frozen, says Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist Dr. Alice Hunt.
 According to United States Department of Agriculture rules, a poultry product may be labeled fresh as long as it is not completely frozen, even though there may be slight frozen crust on the surface, she says.

 Poultry is classified as frozen when it's held at zero degrees until it's frozen solid.
 Most poultry plants now pack poultry in ice and hold it at 28 degrees F., or chill the birds with nitrogen. The results of these quick-chilling processes is a slight crust of ice crystals on the surface of the birds.

 "The surface feels frozen, but the inside is not, therefore the bird is still basically fresh," Hunt explains. These quick-chill techniques remove body heat from the poultry and preserve it enroute to the supermarket.

Once at the store, it will stay fresh in the refrigerator case for five to seven days.
 Since fresh poultry crusted with ice crystals is not frozen, you can cook it using the same temperatures and cooking time you use for unfrozen poultry, or you can freeze it for later use, says the nutritionist.

Jewels & Gems

 A FAMILIAR RING
 The betrothal or wedding ring is usually worn on the third finger of the left hand. This is presumably because the Greeks believed that this finger contained a vein, the vena amoris, that ran directly to the heart. While medical science does not support this theory, a practical reason was that it was thought that the third finger was the least vulnerable. Moreover, the English Prayer Book of 1549 specified the left hand as the proper ring hand for both bride and groom. Furthermore, the priest or minister officiating at the wedding would touch three fingers (not counting the thumb) and say, "In the name of the Father, of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost," and the ring was slipped on the last finger he touched.
 To those of you who have recently become engaged, here's to your happiness. You've found the love of your life, and the wedding rings you select will always be the symbol of that love. We want you to be happy with those rings, so Tedford Jewelry always has an outstanding selection from which you can choose. At Tedford's you'll find Artcarved, whose designs and craftsmanship set the standard for the world in wedding rings. They're available now at Tedford Jewelry.
 Hint: Rings were originally called "finger circles."

The Everlasting Gospel

By Minister Charles Huffman Hope Lutheran Church
 "God so loved the world that He gave His only-begotten Son, so that whoever believes in Him might not perish but have everlasting life." (John 3:16)
WHAT MUST I DO TO BE SAVED? In answer to that question the apostle Peter says: "Repent and be baptized, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ so that your sins will be forgiven, and you will be given the Holy Spirit. What is promised belongs to you, to your children, and to all who are far away, all whom the Lord our God will call." (Acts 2:38-39) To the same question Paul and Silas answered: "Believe in the Lord Jesus and you and your family will be saved." (Acts 16:31) Today, we find many different lists of things called 'The Order of Salvation,' i.e: What I must do to be saved. I do not deny the necessity and the reality of most things on those lists, for they are Scriptural. However, the implication presented seems to say: 'If you will do these things, THEN God will save you.' But according to God's Word in the Bible, HE has done something to which man is to respond; and NOT the other way around. In view of that, I would here like to present WHAT God has done which we are to respond to, 'The Everlasting Gospel'.
 While YOU were His enemy, God the Father loved YOU and chose YOU to be with Him where He is. He spared not only His son and Righteousness to the throne of God. The Father has received Him back-honored, embraced, and accepted Him as our Representative, as our Substitute in the place of our failure. When the Father received, honored, embraced, and accepted Jesus back, it was the same as if you were received, honored, embraced, and accepted, because your humanity was constituted in Him. Faith says: 'Mine are Christ's living, doing, and speaking, His suffering and dying: mine as much as if I had lived, done, spoken, and suffered, and died as He did' (Luther). All things necessary for your salvation have been done, thru the doing and dying of Jesus. The warfare has been fought-the victory is accomplished. God the Son has reconciled you to the Father. By His death on the Cross you are pardoned. By His resurrection and life you are promoted. It is by Christ alone. The Son saves you by His life and death.

 And that's not all. Even now, God the Holy Spirit is present to give you faith thru the hearing of the Gospel. It is His work to convict us of sin, righteousness, and judgement. It is His work to create faith in our hearts as the Gospel is heard. He too loves you and will comfort you. He will illuminate your mind, show you the Cross, draw you to Christ, and give you the blessed hope and joy of acceptance in loving fellowship with the Father and with the Son. He causes us to see the goodness of the Father in giving His Son, which leads us to repentance and gives us rich faith in His unspeakable love and mercy; because only by love is love awakened. God the Father loves you and saves you by giving you His life, His death--His doing, His dying. God the Holy Spirit loves you and saves you by giving you faith to accept your acceptance and to believe on the name of the Son of God so that you may know that you have eternal life. This life is in His Son, for 'He that has the Son has life'.

 Basically, the question is not 'What must I DO to be saved'; but rather 'What has GOD DONE that I might be saved'. It's an amazing discovery to realize that the very fact that we are sinners entitles us to come to Jesus Christ, the Savior of the world'. If you are in doubt that this applies to you personally, then take hold of your nose and pinch it to see if you are part of the 'world' which God so loved that He GAVE His only-begotten Son to save! Instead of pondering 'What must I DO', look to Jesus bruised, mocked, and hanging upon the Cross-the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world; and respond in gratitude. In her Hymn: 'Love Found A Way', Avis B. Christiansen put it this way: "Love found a way to redeem my soul, Love found a way that could make me whole; Love sent my Lord to the Cross of shame, Love found a way, O praise His holy name."
 Faith in Christ Jesus thru the Everlasting Gospel is our only hope.

Sexual abuse affects everyone

Children develop gradually and sequentially, at different rates.

Infancy: The first year of life brings rapid and extensive growth changes. In the first year a child's body length increases by 1/2, and his weight almost triples. A newborn arrives in the world a very capable individual--he/she can see, hear, smell--he/she is so sensitive to touch and changes in position or temperature. Humans are born sensual beings.

A child sexual abuse victim at this age will be able to:

1. Cry
2. Lose sleep
3. Change routine
4. Change in feeding or bowel habits
5. Projectile vomiting
6. Failure to thrive

A child sexual abuse victim at this age will be unable to:

1. Tell what has happened
2. Tell who, when or where
3. Protect themselves

Most often infants who are sexually abused come to the attention of authorities because:

1. The child dies or is severely injured
2. The child contracts a venereal disease
3. There is an eye witness

Preschool: The "average" preschooler can talk well, however, they do not understand concepts, irony, jokes, etc. At this age the child can memorize and will engage in much pretend play. It is imperative to remember that any fantasy or pretend play must be based on reality. The child can usually distinguish between what is real and what is fantasy.

The preschool child comprehends instructions given at one time, but cannot carry out multiple instructions. For example, a younger preschooler will comprehend a simple command such as "put it down," "no," or "stop." If a preschooler tells a story "their way" they will give a rambling, disjointed account with relevant as well as irrelevant material. The child's thoughts appear disorganized and cannot be based in time and space because there are concepts that are not mastered until a child is older.

The preschooler will be able to:

1. Show what happened, using dolls or play materials
2. Say who did it
3. Tell if it hurt
4. Tell what the person said to them

The preschooler will be unable to:

1. Give a time and date when an event happened
2. Give a complete narrative account of incident
3. Understand implications of revealing sensitive information

Behaviors that may result from sexual abuse at this age:

1. Regression, which may take form of loss of toilet training, baby talk
2. Night terrors, fears
3. Clinging behavior
4. Curiosity and outgoing behavior may be squelched
5. Child may act out an older age, due to the ability to suppress now

It is easier to repress traumatic events at this age than at any other.

The School Age Child (6-11): The school age child begins this period torn between allegiance to home/family and school associations. As the child moves through this period, peers become increasingly important. This is the time when children become allied with friends of the same sex who are interested in clubs, collecting, etc. It is also a time of extreme loyalty, rules and regulations. Children in this stage are firm believers in justice and are incensed at disparate treatment for the same offense. They are especially harsh on others of their group and play of organized activity can quickly breakdown in arguments or discussions over rules or regulations. The children in this group still think in concrete terms. They are learning deception and can practice it readily, though they will seldom lie about important matters. During this time of middle childhood the child may experience many fears and phobias.

The school age child will be able to:

1. Give detailed account of what happened
2. May or may not use dolls or play materials to assist
3. Say who did it
4. Tell in general terms when incident happened (ex. when I was in the 3rd grade, during daytime, near Christmas)

5. Tell where incident happened
6. Tell duration of abuse (ex. since I was four years old)
7. Tell first and last times incident happened
8. Understand some implications of revealing "the secret"

More likely at this age tell a friend or a friend's mother.

The school age child will be unable to:

1. Give exact dates of incident
2. Understand why he/she is not to blame
3. Suppress the incident as readily as a younger child

Behaviors that may result from sexual abuse at this age:

1. Bedwetting, thumb sucking or other forms of regression
2. Early or late to school

3. Tantrums
4. Pseudo adult behavior
5. Marked interest in sex
6. Changes in grades, other behaviors
7. Difficulty urinating
8. May suffer psychomatic complaints
9. May bathe excessively

The Adolescent: The adolescent experiences a period of extreme stress both physiologically and socially. This is the age of growth spurts coupled with the ever increasing demands of society to decide on a career, be independent, etc. The person of this age is leaving childhood and struggling with the usual demands of child and adult behavior. At home he/she may be treated as a child yet society views this age as a competent independent being who is responsible for his/her own behavior.

The adolescent who has been sexually abused will be able to:

1. Tell exactly when it happened
2. Will be able to say when, how, where, duration, etc.
3. Understand all implications of revealing the secret
4. May or may not be a "good" witness

The adolescent who has been sexually abused will be unable to:

1. Understand why this happened
2. Forgive the mother who is often seen as contributing to what has happened

This child is more likely to feel extreme guilt and responsibility and be less concerned with getting in trouble.

Behaviors which may result from sexual abuse at this age:

1. Extreme loss of self-esteem
2. Promiscuous
3. Runaway
4. Moody, depressed, crying
5. Poor school performance
6. Drop out of school
7. Drop friends of long standing
8. Sudden change in values, etc.
9. Overly complaint
10. Too many responsibilities for age

11. Will have very little free time for extra-curricular activities
12. Behavioral regression
13. Drug and alcohol abuse
14. Take many baths
15. Early marriage
16. Suicide

Wilson Scaling becomes chief

Wilson Scaling of Henrietta, Texas became chief of the USDA Soil Conservation Service on May 21. In the July issue of Soil and Water Conservation News, he said he is pleased with his new job.

"The Soil Conservation Services run an excellent voluntary soil and water conservation program," Scaling said. "I'm proud to be named the agency's new chief and I am confident in my knowledge and understanding of the strong partnership between SCS and conservation districts."

"I've learned firsthand how that partnership works--as a practicing steward of the soil, director of the Little Wichita Soil and Water Conservation District, area director of the Texas Association of Conservation Districts, and member of the National Association of Conservation Districts."

Conservation districts are governed by locally elected landowners who coordinate conservation work within their district.

Scaling said he firmly believes soil and water conservation is the key to America's long-term productivity in agriculture.

"Conservation has served my family well for many years," he said. "It's the care that my ancestors have taken of the natural resources that's keeping our livestock operation in north-central Texas profitable today."

"I plan to lead SCS in helping many more people share feelings of pride and satisfaction that taking good care of the soil, water, and other resources has given me and my family. I believe SCS and local conservation districts working together have the natural ability to make it happen for generations to come," Scaling concluded.

Soil and Water Conservation News is the official SCS magazine.

Performance Test and Sale draws crowd

BY DENISE SNYDER

The fifth Annual Angora Goat Performance Test and Sale had one of the largest turn outs ever.

The performance test was taken in order to assist producers in identifying and developing more productive Angora goats.

This performance test's results are due to the cooperation of 61 Angora goat breeders and the Texas A&M University system.

During the 180 days of the test period, approximately 420 goats tested were fed a commercially mixed ration which was analyzed as containing 16.7 percent protein and 62.6 percent T.D.N.

The Test and Sale day, July 11, began with examination of the goats and sheared Mohair samples available on display for anyone to examine.

At 11:30 a.m. the Edwards County 4-H catered a delicious barbecue luncheon.

The program began after the barbecue with the introduction of Dr. Shelton of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service out of San Angelo. Shelton explained the test results and the reasons for alterations in previous years' feeding rations, the result of the fiber content in the Mohair and weight gain, and all around results.

The presentation of Awards was kicked off by Dr. Joe David Ross of Sonora, president of the Mohair Council of America. He presented a special plaque to Dr. J.W. Bassett, professor of Animal Science at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Bassett is retiring this year but still plans to contribute any and all efforts toward improvement for sheep and goat breeders.

D.S. Cloudt, warehouseman from Rock Springs, awarded 10 plaques and 5 checks to the top breeders on an overall test of the 3 highest animals in the representing flock. The plaques and money were donated by the Rock Springs Wool and Mohair.

The top five received checks and plaques were Walker Parker of Canyon, first; Edwin Hisher of Brownwood, second; Bill McInis of May, third; C.E. Renfroe Jr. of San Angelo, fourth; and C.E. Renfroe Jr. of San Angelo, fifth.

Those receiving plaques only were Pat Jackson of Christoval, sixth; Adden Habby of Uvalde, seventh; Pat Jackson of Christoval, eighth; Ross Ranch of Sonora, ninth; and Pat Jackson of Christoval, tenth.

The British Mohair Spinners Award, to be presented to breeders with the top three tested goats in a head, went to Pat Jackson of Christoval who received a gold medallion and $600 and to C.E. Renfroe of San Angelo who received a $400 check.

Others placing were Ross Ranch of Sonora, third; Habby-Habby of Uvalde, fourth; and Mrs. Herbie Olhler of Harper.

Dr. Jake Landers of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in San Angelo, and Cloudt both spoke on the problems of grass and weed outbreak due to a wet spring and winter. They presented the different types of weeds and their handicaps pertaining to the reduction of market value of Mohair due to these natural hazards.

Dr. Landers stated the best way to control these problem weeds is range management. He added that he felt this experiment had been a learned and successful one, and they were pleased with the attendances and inquiries on this test and the overall program.

The sale of approximately 85 animals was also a huge success with the highest priced owned by Pat Jackson selling for $1,850 to July L. Stegal of Sanderson.

The first place goat, owned by Walker Parker of Canyon, was purchased by Coni Ross of Austin for $1,350.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO IMPLEMENT RATES

General Telephone Company of the Southwest in accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act and the Rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas gives notice of its intent to implement new exchange access rates for the provision of shared tenant and tenant resale services.

These proposed rates are applicable to customers of General Telephone Company of the Southwest, excluding hotel/motel customers, who provide local exchange telephone service of General Telephone Company of the Southwest to their tenants or patrons on a resale or shared use basis. This resale or sharing arrangement is normally provided utilizing a customer-provided PABX or other similar stored control switch capable of common control processing or other features commonly associated with a PABX "Smart" switch.

These proposed rates are designed to recover costs on a usage basis for local exchange telephone service access and are identical to General Telephone's "Optional Measured Service" rates. The monthly access rate will be $28.95 per trunk line and the usage rates are as follows:

Over	Up To and Including	Band	Set Up	Full Rate Period Each Minute
0	7 miles	A	$.025	$.015
7	14 miles	B	.035	.021
14	21 miles	C	.050	.030
21	28 miles	D	.070	.042
28		E	.090	.054

As this is a new service offering, we are unable to determine the number of customers who may be affected. Currently, there are no known prospective customers. Until any customer utilizes this new offering, there will be no effect on the revenues of the telephone company, and in any event, the telephone company does not expect revenues to be affected by more than 2 1/2 percent. These proposed rates, where applicable, will provide tariffed local exchange access to customers who then will provide shared or resale services to tenants.

These proposed rates have been suspended by the Public Utility Commission of Texas and will become effective as proposed or modified by order of the Commission on a date to be determined by the commission.

The proposed rate schedule is on file with the Commission for public inspection and is also available at any business office of General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumers Affairs Division at (512)458-0223 or (512)458-0227, or (512)458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Be careful in summer heat

Hot, humid weather which typifies Texas summers can be dangerous to your health, particularly if you work outdoors.

Outdoor workers often suffer from such physical disorders as heatstroke, heat exhaustion, heat cramps and fainting, says Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Such disorders occur most often when workers do not take time to adjust to the heat, notes Nelson. Summer hot spells, the first few days of work for new workers, and the first day back on the job after a vacation or illness are likely to be times when workers suffer the most from heat-related problems.

The combination of high temperatures and high relative humidity can be especially dangerous, says Nelson. Now the National Weather Service has come up with a "heat index" or "apparent temperature"--to warn outdoors people to take it easy.

For example, a temperature of 100 F. and a relative humidity of 50 percent have the same effect as if the temperature hit 120 degrees. The human body cools itself by perspiring, but problems can develop when high relative humidity prevents the evaporation of perspiration from the skin. Nelson explains. The "apparent temperature" takes into account the reduced cooling ability caused by humidity.

To avoid potential health problems during the hot summer weather, he offers these suggestions for farmers and ranchers and others who work outdoors:

--Rest periodically in a cool place; rest is most beneficial when breaks are short but frequent.

--Drink fluids every 15 to 20 minutes. Water intake must equal perspiration loss, so drink more than enough to satisfy thirst. Rely on meals to replace salt.

--Wear loose garments of thin cotton fabric to enhance air circulation near the skin and to allow body heat to escape.

--Slow down work speed to distribute the workload evenly over the course of the day.

--If possible, postpone nonessential work for cooler periods.

--Transfer workers to help from other jobs or obtain extra helpers.

Younger and more physically fit workers might take over.

--Where possible, shield workers from equipment heat sources, use exhaust fans near heat sources, and provide open windows and cooling fans for maximum air flow around individuals.

--Provide maximum opportunities for outside workers to work in well ventilated, shaded areas.

Heeding these suggestions and keeping tabs on the daily temperature and relative humidity can go a long way to preventing heat related disorders during summer weather, says Nelson.

Tapes sought by Sesquicentennial Group

The Sutton County Sesquicentennial Committee is searching for several oral history tapes that were made during the 75th Anniversary Celebration and during a Sutton County Days Celebration some years back.

These tapes will be very helpful during the Sesquicentennial year in researching history of the county.

If you have or know of someone who has these tapes, please contact Carla Yager at 387-2507 or Edith James at 387-2880.

In other action at the July 11 meeting of the Sesquicentennial Committee, Harva Cooper, representing the Woman's Club of Sonora, told the committee that the club plans to put on a Texas Musical March 1, 1986, the day prior to Texas Independence Day.

Edith James reported, for Sandra Cooper, that the library will have different exhibits of Texas writers throughout 1986. She added that Ms. Cooper would like to start a Birthday Club where members would donate a book to the library on their birthday.

Gail Rucker reported for Charlotte Smith that Wilmington, South Australia, Sonora's Twin City, was excited about twinning with a rodeo town.

Patricia Johnson reported about the design of the Sesquicentennial Quilting Club's project. She stated that everyone is invited to help and that the quilt will be set up at Patricia's Place for the convenience of anyone wishing to work on it. So far $45 has been collected for materials.

Gail Rucker, president of the club listed several plans and ideas for the upcoming year including burying a time capsule, conducting a beautification project, and having an official "Six Days for Texas" and on designating dates to ring bells and honk horns.

Donations were made by Sutton County National Bank and Fidencio Ramirez to the committee in the amount of $50 each and the club was officially named the Sesquicentennial Committee with officers elected as follows: Gail Rucker, president; Patricia Johnson, vice-president; Carla Yager, secretary/reporter; Ray Smith, treasurer; Jim Garrett, fund raising officer; and Edith James, telephone officer.

The next meeting of the club was set for Thursday, August 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room the Sutton County National Bank.

The committee decided to use the logo already used by the Sonora Chamber of Commerce for the Sesquicentennial logo.

Members attending included Patricia Johnson, Edith James, Gail Rucker, Bobbye Thompson, Susie Ramirez, Harva Cooper, Ray Smith, Wilma Jones, Vivian Crites, Jim Garrett, Carla Yager, and Fidencio Ramirez.

For further information, contact the Governor's Commission for Women, (512) 475-0360.

Minimize mildew

You may have to endure the summer heat and humidity, but you don't have to live with the unsightly mildew growth it produces on the exterior of your house.

"Mildew most often grows on areas of the outside walls that receive little sunlight," says Dr. Peggy Owens, a housing specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Ideal places for mildew are the north side of the house, carport and porch ceilings, and areas behind trees or shrubs where air movement is restricted, she explains.

Mildew is usually black, Owens says, but some forms may be green, red or other colors.

The specialist suggests a cleaning solution of one quart liquid chlorine bleach, one-third cup of powdered laundry detergent and three quarts warm water. Use the solution with a fairly soft brush to scrub affected areas and then rinse well with clear water.

Another way of applying the solution is to use a garden sprayer for the solution, a long-handle brush for scrubbing and the full force of a water hose to rinse.

Because this cleaning solution is strong, she advises wearing rubber gloves and protective clothing to avoid contact with the skin. Shrubs and grass should also be covered with plastic sheets.

"If you're going to paint the clean surface, allow it to dry thoroughly and paint immediately before re-contamination occurs," Owens says.

To minimize future mildew problems, the specialist suggests treating the cleaned area with a water-repellent preservative or other fungicide before repainting with a paint containing zinc oxide and mildewcide.

Weiss, David Halley, Melissa Javors and Tim Henderson and their bands, Don Sanders and Kurt Van Sickle. A number of surprise guests are also expected.

The concert will run from 2 p.m. to 2 a.m. with the gates open the day before starting at 5 p.m. for overnight camping. Ticket prices, including tax and free camping for two nights, are $12.50 per person. Purchases of four or more tickets

Next year's 1986 Kerrville Folk Festival is the 15th anniversary festival of the event which began as a three-day gathering in 1972 with 2700 in attendance. In 1985 it has grown to an eleven-day event attended by 27,000. Following next year's festival nine performers, their backup musicians and staff support will play concerts on the road for 25 days including Nashville, New York and Chicago.

At the "12 Hours" the tour will be announced as "The official goodwill tour of the Texas Sesquicentennial" and will be named the "Celebrate Texas Concert Tour." State and local officials will participate in brief ceremonies at about 6:15 p.m. followed by the introduction of Abilene artist Mark McCord who designed the tour's running horses logo. Crime Stoppers 6-month review

It's report card time for the Texas Most Wanted program. Beginning January 19, a total of 26 persons have been featured as Texas Most Wanted fugitives. Five have been arrested, according to Gred MacAleese of the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council, and law enforcement officials are continuing to process hundreds of tips called in by citizens throughout the state.

Texas Most Wanted is co-sponsored by Texas Crime Stoppers and the Department of Public Safety and is designed to develop information on the possible whereabouts of fugitives wanted for major crimes within the state.

Governor Mark White said, "I have always felt that in order to effectively combat crime in Texas we must have the full cooperation and participation of law enforcement, the public and media.

"Crime Stoppers and the Texas Most Wanted program are proof that when everybody pitches in and does their part we can make a difference and do something about crime.

"I am encouraged by the success of the Texas Most Wanted program and look forward to its continued successful operation," he said.

"We have been very pleased with the support Texas Most Wanted has received," MacAleese said. "The media coverage has been excellent. TSTI to hold pre-entrance exam

The final pre-entrance examination for persons wishing to enter the September vocational nursing class at TSTI-Sweetwater is July 18.

All applicants to the program must take the exam before being considered for admission. Additional screening may be required at the program chairperson's request.

The vocational nursing program at TSTI-Sweetwater is one year long and is sanctioned and licensed by the Texas Board of Vocational Nurse Examiners. Graduates of the program are eligible to take the state licensing exam given in October and April of each year.

Admission to the program is based to a great degree on test scores and a personal interview, Program Chairperson Lavohn McGlothing said. In addition to the special nursing test, students are required to take the Differential Aptitude Test, she said. The DAT is a requirement for all students entering TSTI and is given every weekday at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. in the TSTI Student Center.

The cost of the nursing exam is $15, payable by check or money order. There is no charge to take the DAT.

Persons wishing to take the nursing test should come to room 212 of the D.A. Pevehouse Technology Center. Testing will begin at 9 a.m.

Texas State Technical Institute is a state supported postsecondary vocational/technical school. The Board of Regents recently established a tuition rate of $8 per quarter credit hour with an additional $2.50 per quarter hour for student services fees. Housing is available on campus as well as a food service plan.

Financial assistance is available for those students who qualify. Anyone needing financial help should contact the financial aid office on the TSTI campus as soon as possible.

For further information on the nursing program, contact the nursing department or the TSTI public information office by calling 1-800-592-TSTI.

Texas courts to offer greater protection

Texas courts may soon be able to offer greater protection to the victims of family violence under the provisions of HB 2160, which Governor White signed into law June 17.

Sponsored by Representative David Patronella and Senator Craig Washington, the law amends the Family Code to ensure the confidentiality of family violence shelters and other safe places. Currently the courts may provide protection to the victims of family violence by issuing protective orders prohibiting the accused from visiting certain places, but these protective orders must specifically describe the locations they place off-limits.

Effective August 26, the courts will be permitted to issue these orders without including the address and telephone number of the protected person. The law further guarantees the confidentiality of shelters and safe places by providing that details of their location may be stricken from public record.

"Until we can erase all traces of family violence from our society, we must do whatever we can to protect those women and children who are the victims," Governor White said. "This law takes an important step in enabling us to reach this goal."
