Who says free enterprise is dead?

This group of Sonora youth found a thriving business in the hot July sun last week with a Kool-Aid stand.

The young entrepreneurs said that business was brisk and they were pleased with their profits.

Board seeks to hold "bare-bones" budget

The Board of Trustees of the Sonora Independent School District met in special session at 12:00 noon on Monday, June 29, 1987.

Superintendent James Bible told the Board that the summer paint crew was ahead of schedule and had completed paint work in the junior high and the cafeteria.

With regard to the high school parking lot, it was decided to lay PVC conduit (to City specs) before paving so that lights may be installed at a later date. Mr. Garrett, who will oversee the paving for the City, asked if there was any objection to his using an expert paving consultant for no more than two days at $150 per day to insure the quality of the job. There were no objections.

Mario Sotelo, assistant superintendent, addressed the Board on the subject of state-mandated testing and the use of test scores in the large metropolitan school district to mislead the public. According to Mr. Sotelo, House Bill 72, the Education Reform Act of 1984, spells out the testing procedures state-wide.

The Board elected not to submit a resolution of protest to the TASB/TASA conference in September since it would be futile at this time.

Two bids for replacing the exterior doors in the primary building were submitted for consideration. One bid from Powell Glass was for $12,000, another from Angelo Specialties was for $13,550. Both were for replacement of frames and doors. Following a brief discussion, Jim Garrett moved that the low bid from Powell Glass be awarded the work, with the stipulation that if any damage to tile, brick or any surrounding materials result, that Powell will stand responsible for repairs. The motion was seconded by Rosemary Mathews and unanimously carried.

Director of Business Warren McCarson reviewed the rough draft of the 1987-88 district budget. Despite cutting the expenditure budget for the past several years until its present state of bare-bones, the reduction in the local tax base has resulted in a drastically reduced tax levy for the coming school year. Therefore, revenue will be down accordingly.

Mr. McCarson explained that this budget could be met by using existing fund balances and not raising either the general operations tax of 66.5 cents or the 20.5 cents earmarked for repayment of the high school bonds. Thus, the existing school tax of 87 cents per $100 of valuation could be maintained for at least one more year. Without the savings of the past few years, a tax increase would be mandatory at this time.

The Board concurred with administration's intent to hold the line of taxes at the present level in the hope that the overall economic picture will brighten.

At the end of the preliminary budget study, it was stressed that the figures presented were far from final, and that adjustments would be made prior to final adoption of the budget in August.

Just before adjournment, a Board member asked about the status of fund for improving the track facility. The ensuing discussion resulted in the Board's instruction to the superintendent to investigate less expensive alternatives than a complete renovation in an effort to insure that the track is safe at the least expense to the district. He will report back at the July Board meeting.

The Board of Trustees of the Sonora Independent School District met in special session at 12:00 noon on Monday, July 6, 1987.

Reed Seaton of the firm of Southwest Track Builders gave a presentation concerning his findings of the needs at the track and his estimate of the cost involved in bringing the facility up to UIL safety and utility standards.

According to Mr. Seaton, the minimum cost to bring the track up to standard would be approximately $67,400. This would include:

1. Repair curb and notch to allow drainage.
2. Repair and level existing surface to minimize standing water problem.
3. Construction of new concrete runway.
4. Supply and installation of SEAL-FLEX Lr-6 (Black) 3/8 synthetic surface.
5. Striping according to UIL rules and owner's specs.

It was pointed out that the warranty would be for only three years due to the fact that this minimum bid would not fully take care of the severe drainage problem caused by the dipping effect in the middle of the track. The absence of asphalt subsurface when the facility was first built in the mid 70's has resulted in increase costs now to correct the deficiencies.

The alternate bid, for about $95,000, would reconstruct the entire track by means of removal of the existing surface down to the limestone base, recompacting the base and filling to correct the grade, subsurfacing with asphalt and petro mat overlay and installation of the SEAL-FLEX running surface.

Mr. Seaton said that the latter bid, even though initially more expensive, would reduce maintenance costs substantially over the years, and would be warranted for a five-year period.

At this point, the Board members and guests moved to the track facility for an on-site inspection. No decision was reached, but the matter is to be on the July 14 agenda for further consideration.

"Covered Wagon Dinner Theater" described as "Awesome!", "Delightful", "Spectacular!"

Looking far different than he does for his congregation, Monte Jones alias "Biscuits O'Brian" delighted Saturdays audience with his stories of a camp cook.

Audiences both Friday* and Saturday night at the "Covered Wagon Dinner Theater" delighted to some incredible talent.

On hand as story teller Friday night was L.P. Bloodworth. L.P. spoke on "Philosophy and Foolishness" and did justice to both recounting the arrival of his ancestors to Sutton County. "Lonely Pony" Bloodworth, as his first drivers license read since he had been dubbed with initials only at birth, was absolutely delightful in both his presentation and his story content.

After L.P. rode from the show arena, Scott Gilmore, accompanied by Doris Rousellot, presented a fantastic selection of Broadway show tunes explaining the origin of each song. With Scott's magnificent voice and Doris' piano mastery the program was delightful.

Monte Jones assumed the character of "Biscuits O'Brian" on stage Saturday night, as he told of one of the most important factors in the old west—the camp cook. To describe Monte's presentation as wonderful would be to understate the presentation. If you weren't there, ask Monte about the Carnation milk poem the next time you see him.

Saturdays entertainment featured the Charros made up of Robert Zapata, Robert, Jr., Debra and from San Antonio, "Jerry" Diaz. The beauty and fluid horsemanship of this group was not to be believed. Robert, Jr. performed his first public riding exhibition and did a fine job. Jerry Diaz rode as though he had been born to a saddle.

This coming weekends entertainment will pay tribute to the pioneer women featuring on Friday night Martha Valliant McLain. Marty will be telling about "How the Sunbonnet Won the West" or "Why quilters never fall to pieces".

Marty is a local ranchwoman and an acclaimed book reviewer. Her tale of the women of the west should be delightful.

Following Marty on Friday night will be a local Latin band, Los Solitarios. The group comprised of members Albert Luna, Michael Castilleja, Milton Castilleja, Cruz Paredes and Daniel Prieto have recorded albums and are available for any function.

provided by "Sweet Olive Hays" and Company from San Angelo.

"Sweet Olive" will be joined by her daughter, Ann Hays Southhall, dance teacher and drill team instructor at ASU, and Steve Saluto, a member of the Angelo Jazz Band. Together they will perform some of the best jazz and rag time you will ever hear.

Make your plans and reservations early as this will be an excellent week end of entertainment which you won't want to miss.

Tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce, Sutton County Steakhouse, Ol' Sonora Trading Co., Devil's River News, Westerman Drug and at the Caverns of Sonora.

L.P. Bloodworth arrived "in style" to tell his tales, on Friday night, of the early settlers of Sutton County and the surrounding area.

At the beginning of conquering and settling the western frontier, Texas women marched side by side with their husbands sharing the hardships and pleasures of the wild frontier. Their story will be told by a group of women from Ozona called the Pioneer Women.

The group made up of Jewel Bailey, Geniece Childress, Jane Black, Norma Carson, Velma Marley, Lu Ingram, Bonnie Worth, Catherine Russell, Marilyn Bean, Lucille Littleton, all of Ozona, and Sonoran Nancy Brockman will be performing on Saturday, July 18.

Entertainment for the evening, following the story tellers, will be

The price of tickets for entire Dinner Theater are $9.95 for adults and $7.95 for children under twelve. Tickets for the show only are available at the gate for $4 for adults and $1 for children under twelve.

The sing-a-long begins at 6 pm followed by dinner at 6:30. Showtime is at 7:30 lasting until dark.

Dinner is catered each evening by the Sutton County Steakhouse and not only is the food absolutely delicious, but its also guaranteed that you will not go away hungry!

Join us please. You'll be glad you did.

The Pioneer Women of Ozona will relate stories of the "women beside the men" in the old west as they perform Saturday night at the "Covered Wagon Dinner Theater".

CHAMBER NOTES

by Dede Doran

I realize that it has been a while since I have visited with you. This is what I call my "farewell column." Cindy and I will be moving to Stephenville in the near future where I have a position at Tarleton State University. It will be with great sadness that I leave Sonora and my many friends. I would like to say "Thank You" to each and every one of you who have helped me in so many ways. I will never forget you. The opportunity in Stephenville will be very challenging and will make my new life full. Please call if you are ever up my way and know that I will be back to see you. I will think of you often.

The Board of Directors of the Chamber are now taking applications to fill my position of Secretary/Manager. If you are interested in the job, please come by my office and I will be glad to visit with you and give you an application. The application will be taken until July 20. The interview for the applicants has been set for Thursday, July 23 at 6:00 p.m. at the First National Bank Meeting Room. I know that whoever they choose will do a great job and help Sonora grow and prosper.

Obviously, the rains have been wonderful and the weeds are growing fast and furiously. Please clean those unsightly weeds and trash so that our tourists can enjoy the beauty of our town. Yes, we have lots of tourists in town for various reasons. You see, I had to get in one last jab about the beautification of Sonora!

The Outdoor Drama Group has been doing a wonderful job with the "Covered Wagon Dinner Theatre." We have had lots of out of town people coming JUST to attend this event. If you have not been out to the Caverns on a Friday or Saturday night to see this group, then you should mark it on your calendar as a must! I have tickets in my office and would be glad to make your reservation for you. They have worked very hard to make this event a success and I hope that the local people will support this venture by attending several of the shows throughout the summer.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank every one of my Board of Directors. You have each been super! I have been so fortunate to have had such a wonderful group to work with. You have made my job easier and more enjoyable because of your help and support. "Thank you!"

Kathy Lind called this week to inform me that she is opening a Bed & Breakfast. That is exciting! I get lots of calls from out of town people wanting to know if we have such a thing. Many towns are beginning to open more and more of these establishments and I am glad that we will have one to offer. We wish you the best of luck, Kathy!

Hope to see you before I leave-- come by the office for coffee. I will be back for Sutton County Days!!

ONE MAN'S OPINION

by T. Driskell

The appearance of Lt. Col. North before the Congressional Committee has been extremely impressive. The impression came not from the "brow-beating" manner of interrogation, nor from the answers, but from North's demeanor and the secondary implications. Those implications run the gamut from flattering to downright frightening for our citizenry.

We can, I believe, be proud of our educational results. We take carefully selected students and push them through the stress (bordering on trauma) laden education of our military academy programs. The graduates are articulate, unflappable, and operate on well planned courses of action within their chain of command.

Chain of command seems to be something the committee's counselor is totally unaware of. All covert intelligence activities fall under the total control of the Director of the C.I.A. and North in stating he had three or four meetings a week with Casey confirmed this operational control. This was not the N.S.C.

operational area so North must have been on loan from Poindexter and earlier McFarland to Casey to divorce the operation from the C.I.A. The total control, and outside briefing authority, and responsibility resided with Casey.

Overt (with respect to Congress outside of two or three individuals) covert activities are reminiscent of chastity in a bordello—totally non functional. Casey from his experiences in the O.S.S. in the 1940's was fully aware of this and any outside briefing he approved would reflect this awareness. They did.

Covert activities that the whole Congressional intelligence committees must have knowledge of are simply far to lethal for any intelligent field operative to participate in. Less complication and far less painful suicide means are available to all of us.

Congressional statements and TV interviews with citizens on the streets (and their right to know) are awesome. When compared to the restrictions on the K.G.B. covert activities it becomes obvious that there is an implied winner in the covert area and we simply ain't it. A test is the Lebanon hostage situation. Six Russians taken, one killed and five immediately released—no more taken. A lesson learned through teaching techniques employed by corporations in Central and South America.

Look over Congressional history and recent American political activities. The Bay of Pigs, The Montagnards (hill people) of Vietnam, and now the Contras. How many times must we pull the rug out from under our allies to make certain that the world knows you cannot support the U.S. without paying a helluva toll. You would have a difficult time devising a program to better guarantee that our sons fight alone, without allies. The defense of our land, on it, will be required. An interesting concept indeed, if you live within the 75 to 100 miles (large group infiltration limit) of a likely to be threatened border. Interesting concept, but hardly one to be relished.

Payroll deductions/What is legal?

DEAR COMMISSIONER NABERS: I work for a well known hamburger chain. The store manager has a policy of deducting amounts of money from your paycheck if she thinks that you haven't done your job as good as you should.

None of the employees can ever count on a certain amount to be in their paychecks, based on the whims of the manager.

My question, is all of this legal?

Thanks,
Hard Worker

DEAR HARD WORKER: Based upon the circumstances as you describe them, your manager's actions are not legal. An employer cannot dock an employee's pay strictly as a disciplinary measure for unsatisfactory performance.

There are some situations in which an employer may legally dock pay. Cash register shortages may be deducted from a cashier's paycheck. Employees may be required to pay for equipment or supply breakage out of their checks if the breakage was their fault. In other words, an employer does have the right to be compensated for actual loss it suffers as a result of employee carelessness or malfeasance.

An employer who reserves the right to dock pay under legally permissible circumstances should have this policy in writing and should distribute it to all employees.

An employee who has a legitimate wage dispute may file a complaint with the Texas Department of Labor and Standards. They will try to resolve the problem for you.

DEAR COMMISSIONER: My company is interested in instituting drug testing. Do you know if the number of companies doing such testings is increasing? How would you suggest we go about implementing a drug testing procedure?

F.T.
Houston, Texas

Dear F.T.: From my contact with the business community and my weekly experience with contested claims for unemployment insurance, it does appear to me that drug testing is on the increase.

Any advice I can give your company on drug testing is strictly my own personal opinion and does not necessarily reflect the views of the Commission as a whole. The Texas Employment Commission has no official stance on drug testing, either pro or con.

I would suggest that your company do the following:

1. Get some legal advice prior to starting any drug testing program.
2. Educate yourself on the subject. Contact laboratories and drug testing services that will give you information and assistance.
3. Solicit the support of your workforce.
4. Design a clear, written company policy and publicize it extensively.

Lastly, keep in mind that good employees are valuable assets to any business. Your company may wish to provide employee assistance services or progressive discipline to first offenders in lieu of automatic termination.

Ms. Nabers represents 336,000 employers throughout Texas. If you have any questions you want answered, please write Commissioner Nabers at: Texas Business Today, 614 Texas Employment Commission Building, 15th and Congress, Austin, Texas 78778.

HEALTH CARE

by Scott Gilmore
Hospital Administrator

When a person is injured or in extreme distress and the need to call for medical assistance is urgent, first check the victim's breathing. If respiration is satisfactory, phone an ambulance (387-2288). If the victim is not breathing, shout as loud as possible for someone to phone for help and immediately proceed with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and whatever other treatment is indicated by the condition of the victim.

When placing the call for help, be prepared to give the following:

1. The phone number from which you are calling.
2. The address and any special instructions (such as nearest major intersection, crossroad or landmark) to assist the ambulance in locating the address.
3. Describe the victim's condition as best as you can...burned, bleeding, broken bones, etc.

4. Give you name. DO NOT HANG UP--let emergency persons end the conversation. They may have questions to ask you or special information to give you about what you can do until help arrives.

If alone, unlock the door and alert the ambulance or the dispatcher that the door will be open. If at night, turn on all outside lights.

Once an ambulance has been summoned, it is imperative that one of the members of the family (or a friend or neighbor) immediately station themselves in front of the house or building in order to direct the arriving ambulance to the quickest route to the victim. Upon arrival, the ambulance personnel will assess the patient for emergency care, and then transport the patient to the hospital. Direct radio contact is made with the hospital and/or physician prior to and during transport.

Lillian M. Hudspeth Memorial Hospital works closely with the ambulance service and they conduct "mock codes" together to keep the relationship smooth and well oiled. Lillian Hudspeth Hospital is a 24-hour hospital with a full-time emergency room and doctors on call at all times. Call 387-2521.

"OVER the HILL GANG"

News from the Nursing Home
by Doris Cahill

What goes up and never comes down? Your age! Everyone was so kind to me on my special day, and I was sincerely delighted with the oral and floral "birthday bouquets" compliments of The Devil's River News.

We made the acquaintance of Pauline Ringgold Tuesday a.m. when she led Bible Study. Her text was "Love," which touches all of us because "God Is Love". Thank you for sharing with us, Pauline.

At the resident council Tuesday, we discussed numerous topics, but most interesting was a survey of how we met our husbands-ranging from a blind date to growing up together. Some of us were set straight about horse propelled conveyances: a surrey had fringe around the top, a buggy was a one-seater, and a hack had two seats and curtains. The "mail hack" sometimes carried passengers. Our only maiden-lady, and oldest resident, is 99 year old Wilma Elliott, Ruby Brotherton and Etta Turner are 95-ers, Elijio Gonzales 93, Ada Mae Neal 92, and Ellen Ray a young 91. Never mind about the rest of us!

There were 11 winners at our regular Wednesday a.m. diversion, "Bingo". Refreshing orange sherbet was served by Lilia that afternoon, and thanks to Angie Ramirez, N.A., delicious watermelon was on our trays that evening. Nadine Porter heard one of the residents asking for "more" so bought 6 melons to us the next day. Many thanks, Nadine.

The challenge of exercise is met by each of us in our own particular-er, ah, peculiar-manner. It couldn't be said that we exert a great amount of energy, and we grumble a lot, but we do make the effect.

There were many pretty "hair-dos" and manicures around when Illene Stewart, Ethelda Holland, and Gertrude Webb left, Friday a.m., and an interesting and entertaining program of Broadway Musicals was expertly rendered by pianist Doris Rousselot, and maestro Scott Gilmore, that afternoon. Mr. G. asked for a drink of water to clear the "gunk" out of his throat, and our parakeet decided he needed help, so she chirped for him. Suspect she wanted to steal the show because we were applauding and enjoying it so much, and ignoring her.

Following the program, Illene Stewart presented me with a belated birthday cake, which was very good, and served coffee. The nurses told me I wasn't deserving of three birthday celebrations, but they added that they hoped I don't feel three years older! Much appreciation to Illene, and all of the ladies of the First Baptist Church for remembering me with a sweet card, and vase of flowers, too.

The "Music Man" (Mr. G.) has been keeping the hospital grounds trim. His theme song, "Fitness and Finances," is played to the tune of a lawnmower.

Elijio Gonzales is in St. John's hospital in San Angelo. We wish him well, and home soon.

We enjoyed these "cuties" and hope you will too: Hearing a discussion about who would sleep where, with guests coming, a little boy offered the ultimate solution-"Somebody will be welcome to get comfortable and relax in my bed". Another little boy visited a modern dairy for the first time and had trouble remembering what it was called. In exasperation, he finally blurted, "You know, that place where they paralyze milk!"

The "Upper Room", and bulletins for the Sunday a.m. service from the First United Methodist Church (which we heard over the radio), and arrangements of flowers, delivered by the John A. Ward's, from St. John's Episcopal Church, were welcome.

Blessings on the Rev. Charles Huffman, Hope Lutheran Church, and organist Annabel Wuest, for bringing a beautiful devotional to the Nursing Home, Sunday afternoon. Matthew 8: 5-13, and hymns "Standing On the Promises", "Blessed Assurance" and "Jesus Loves Me", (the first song many of us learned in Sunday school) explained it all. "Happy Birthday" was sung for Dora Luna and Doris Cahill, who have July birthdays.

Publicity, is the name of the game! Romp on out to the "Covered Wagon Dinner Theatre" weekends through the summer at the Sonora Caverns. You'll be glad you did.

Out of town guests were: Louise Glasscock-Austin, Jodi and Christi Wallace-Hereford, Robert Hearn-San Antonio, Dick and Sherry Hamilton-San Angelo, Dick, Linda, Shane and Lin Hearn-Del Rio, and Trini R. Noriega-San Angelo.

Locals: Ruth Lee Eaton, Barbara Stroud, Edwina Gandar, Rena Smalling, Jennifer and John David Lozano, Jeannie M. Lozano, Mandy Turk, Mary and Edward Maskill, Lois McCalmont, Nadine Porter, Tommy Fincher, Marie Aldwell, Joyce Jimenez and Edwina Ramirez (St. Ann's Catholic Church Mass), Courtney Chandler, and Annabel Wuest.

Hudspeth Hospital Auxiliary: Lena Belle Ross and Martha Wallace.

Bueno Bye-until next week.

Consider wildlife when spraying mesquite

by Virgil Polocek

Many ranchers across the western half of Texas are planning or considering some aerial spraying for mesquite control in the next 4-6 weeks. According to Virgil Polocek of the SCS in Sonora there will probably be more mesquite sprayed this year than in the last several years combined. The release of a new mesquite herbicide and the excellent growing conditions will convince many ranchers to do some spraying this year.

Wildlife biologists agree that proper use of herbicides and brush control can actually improve wildlife habitat while at the same time increase forage production for livestock. They warn however that excessive brush control or poorly planned patterns of control can seriously hurt wildlife populations for many years to come. Ranchers who consider wildlife an important resource and who want to maintain or increase their abundance should follow a few general rules when planning aerial spraying projects.

1. Spray no more than half of the acreage in any one pasture. In some cases spraying even 30% is too much an in other cases, spraying up to 70% is acceptable, however, without an on-site evaluation by a biologist, landowners should stick to the 50% rule.

2. Always spray in patterns rather than large blocks. Wildlife habitat is almost always improved when there is lots of "edge" area between openings and brushy cover. The use of treated strips separated by untreated strips has proven to be an easy and effective way of maximizing edge and retaining a proper distribution of cover, browse and openings. Alternating strips 300-500 feet wide of sprayed land and untreated land will achieve a proper balance in most situations.

3. Leave all high value habitat areas in brush. Creeks, draws and arroyos and the 100-300 foot wide area adjacent to these drainage ways are usually prime wildlife habitat. In many cases they are essential to the needs of turkey and deer on a particular ranch. Where planned patterns cross such areas be sure that the contractor understands to leave them untreated, and that you are not paying for that acreage to be sprayed.

Indiscriminate large scale spraying in blocks may be detrimental to quail, turkey and deer for many years. All broadleaved forbs (weeds) and woody plants are susceptible to damage or death by all of the brush control herbicides used. Quail, turkey and deer are all absolutely dependent on these forbs for a major part of their diet. Forbs also provide the highest quality forage available to domestic livestock. While the annual forbs may reappear in 1-2 years, the more valuable perennial forbs and legumes may be reduced for number of years due to a limited seed source.

The best browse plants such as hackberry, bumelia, sumacs, elbowbush, and oaks will also be killed or damaged by these herbicides. In addition to the loss of browse for deer and goats, cover will be reduced which may further hurt the habitat. Turkey are very vulnerable to herbicide damage to roost areas.

Polocek emphasized the fact that wildlife are an important economic resource to many rancher in Sutton County, and that proper brush control is important to the future of wildlife populations. The Edwards Plateau Soil and Water Conservation District also recognizes wildlife management as an important natural resource concern. Landowners wishing some on-site assistance in planning brush control patterns are invited to call on the SCS office in Sonora.

Letter to the Editor

We want to thank all of our wonderful friends in Sonora for their cards, prayers, and caring thoughts for Justin while he was so ill.

We recently had him back for a check-up with the specialists and he received a clean bill of health, much to the amazement of all the doctors, I might add.

We miss Sonora and all of you so much.

I recently spoke, indirectly, to someone who had been transferred to Sonora and they were a little unsure but I let them know how lucky I felt they were to be going there and what a wonderful town full of warm people they were going to find.

Thanks again to everyone.

Cleve Jones and Clay Graves visit Lamar Smith during a trip to Washington, D.C. for a citizenship and leadership training program.

Jones and Graves return from Washington, D.C.

Cleve Jones and Clay Graves recently returned to Sonora following a week-long stay in Washington, D.C., where they attended Citizenship-Washington Focus a citizenship and leadership training program at the National 4-H Center. Clay and Cleve were among 600 4-H members from Texas and 45 other states who participated in the summer program.

Citizenship-Washington Focus is designed to help young people examine the U.S. Constitution, and increase their understanding of American government, their rights and responsibilities as citizens and their American heritage. Throughout the week the teenage participants took field trips to historical and cultural sites, visited federal agencies and learned about government procedures.

They spent Wednesday, June 24, on Capitol Hill where they met with members of Congress and got a close-up view of the political process.

Clay and Cleve were selected to attend on the basis of participation in 4-H. Their trip was funded locally by Sutton county 4-H Club and a special donation from Alice Jones. Program support was also provided by: Beatrice/Hunt-Wesson; Orville Redenbacher's Gourmet Popping Corn; Bethesda-Chevy Chase Rotary Club; Colgate "Youth for America" program; Reader's Digest Foundation; Dorothy Emerson Commemorative Fund; Farmland Industries, Inc.; Illinois 4-H Foundation, Inc.; Norman C. ## TSTI Sneak Preview weekend upcoming

High school students and their families who would like to visit Texas State Technical Institute and its training programs are invited to visit the campus during TSTI's upcoming "Sneak Preview" weekend.

The annual open house will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday, July 31, and 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, August 1. The event features instructional program booths, tours and visits with faculty and administrators. Representatives from the offices of admissions, financial aid, housing and registration will be available to provide assistance to prospective students. The campus library and book store will also be open.

Visitors should come to the Student Center on Campus Drive for registration, information and meal tickets. A complimentary chukwagon-style lunch will be served to all visitors on Friday and Saturday. Although accommodations will not be available on campus, visitors wishing to stay in Waco overnight may inquire at the information booth for directions to nearby motels.

Sneak Preview was implemented in 1985 to encourage prospective students to become more familiar with TSTI's programs.

For additional information, please call the Campus Information Office, toll free, at 1-800-792-TSTI, or (817) 799-3611, ext. 2250.

Boys Ranch reunion to be held

A reunion of former Boys Ranch residents and staff will be held on August 1st and 2nd at West Texas Boys Ranch. It will be the second such gathering in two years.

Events will get underway on Saturday, August 1st with a reception and tour of the Ranch. This will begin at 10 a.m. in the Food Service Center, and will last until noon, when lunch will be served.

At 1 p.m. the Boys Alumni Association will hold a meeting. This association of former boys and staff was formed at the reunion last year.

Following the meeting, the attendees will have a free afternoon available to swim, ride horses, fish or whatever.

At 5:30 p.m. supper will be served at the creek, followed by round robin introductions and an ice cream social.

On Sunday, church services will be held at the creek from 11 a.m. til noon, when lunch will be served in the Food Center. This will be followed by another free afternoon.

Since the inception of the Ranch in 1947, there have been over 1,100 boys who have lived at Boys Ranch along with numerous staff. We hope that we will have a good turn out for this 40th year reunion.

Glasscock attends symposium

Selma Glasscock and Robyn Sims, both sponsored by WTU of Paint Rock, attended the WTU 27th Annual Texas Energy Science Symposium at UT Austin June 8 through June 11.

The 400 selected Texas High School science students and teachers who attended the sessions were offered the rare opportunity of hearing lectures by some of the nation's outstanding scientists.

The Symposium was jointly sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation and the University of Texas. West Texas Utilities is one of the Foundation's sponsoring companies. WTU paid all expenses for the thirty students and teachers attending from schools in the area served by the company.

There are over 1,000 accredited senior high schools in the state of Texas. Paint Rock can be justly proud of their high school for having been chosen as one of the 150 schools in the state invited to send students and teachers to the Symposium.

Selma is the former Selma Stubblefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Stubblefield and a graduate of Sonora High School.

She is currently working on her masters degree at Angelo State University.

AT&T 800 READYLINE<sup>SM</sup> INTRASTATE SERVICE SOON TO BE AVAILABLE IN TEXAS!

AT&T 800 READYLINE service will soon be available to Texas customers on an intrastate basis. This service has been filed to become available August 6, 1987, as an add-on to the interstate AT&T 800 READYLINE service which went into effect in December of 1986.

AT&T 800 READYLINE is a service which enables subscribers to receive inward toll-free calls over their existing telephone lines for a low monthly fee of $19.80 per hour. You pay only for the actual time used, and you benefit from reduced service implementation time frames and reduced installation costs. You can tailor the service to meet your specific needs by determining which area codes within Texas you wish to receive calls from - one or all.

If you are a small sales or service oriented business or a large business with specialized functions or seasonal applications, AT&T 800 READYLINE could be the service for you.

For more information about AT&T 800 READYLINE service for calls within the state of Texas, please call our business consultants toll-free at 1-800-222-0400. They can answer your questions about AT&T's 800 READYLINE service and how it can be of benefit to you and your business.

AT&T's tariff to offer this service was filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas on July 7, 1987. Persons who have questions regarding this tariff filing may contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas in writing, at 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or by calling the Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223, or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 for teletypewriter for the deaf.

The offering of AT&T 800 READYLINE for Texas usage is expected to generate $2,073,261 in annual revenue, which is approximately .2% of AT&T's annual revenues for all Texas intrastate service.
