Council votes to proceed with annexation for housing project

City Council met on August 16 and among other business presented the first public reading of the proposed 1988-89 budget.

The new budget reflects a tax rate of .5369 per $100 valuation, slightly down from last year's rate of .5384. This will be the fifth year that the City has operated without a tax increase, the rate of .5384 having been set originally in 1984.

The Council took action confirming the appointment of Kyle Donaldson as Fire Chief and appointing Marla Perciful to the Zoning and Planning Board. Action was tabled on the appointment of a new director for the Senior Center for lack of a recommendation from City Manager Pete Gildon. Gildon noted that since he had been out of the office for several days last week due to a family emergency, he had not had sufficient time to review the applicants.

Permission was granted on a variance of city code to construct a carport at 304 Cornell on the recommendation of the Planning and Zoning Board.

Parade permits and permits for camping of the Black Powder group in conjunction with Sutton County Days were granted.

The Council heard a request from Calhoun Builders for consideration of annexation of three acres of land located behind Lillian M. Hudspeth Memorial Hospital for the purpose of building housing for the elderly.

The housing unit would consist of thirty-two one and two bedroom, single story duplexes designated to be rented to persons 62 or older with a rental cost based on income.

Access to the housing would come from the proposed extension of Hillside Drive.

Construction of the housing could be expected to begin in from eight months to a year depending on approval of a loan application from Calhoun Builders to the Farmers Home Administration. A marketing study has been completed confirming the need for the complex.

The Council voted to proceed with the annexation and endorsed the need for the housing unit in Sonora.

Calhoun is presently considering the construction of units for the elderly in both Ozona and Colorado City as well as Sonora.

In closing, the Council hear the third and final reading of the proposed parking ordinance in front of the library. The area will be posted for library use and stripped to provide for more angled parking.

Most of you have come to recognize the above logo of the Covered Wagon Dinner Theater though many may not know that the artwork was done for and donated to the Outdoor Drama Group by Eldorado artist Herman Walker. Ken Nelson has beautifully executed the sign work displayed at the cut-off to the Caverns from the original drawing by Walker.

This weekend will mark the close of the 1988 season for the Covered Wagon Dinner Theater with some special treats in store for theater goers.

Regional Editor for the San Angelo Standard Times, Ross McSwain will be on hand Friday night telling his wonderful stories of the region. McSwain recently published a book entitled "Out Yonder, Revisited" which is expanded versions of his newspaper columns. The book will also be offered for sale at the theater.

Sweet Olive Hays and four members of the San Angelo Jazz Band will provide entertainment for the evening. Everyone will want to come out and tap their toes and sing along with Olive.

Saturday night will be devoted to the Mohair Industry with Glen Fisher of Sonora Wool and Mohair recounting the story of mohair. Sonora's own Dennis King will be sharing some of his favorite gospel and contemporary country songs.

On this night there will be exhibitions of angora goat shearing and a display of mohair from "goat to coat" showing the processes the

Setting of tax rate included on agenda

The Board of Trustees of the Sonora Independent School District meet in regular session on August 9.

Chief Appraiser Rex Ann Friess reported to the board that the tax collection rate stood at 96 1/2 percent, down one-half or one percentage point from last years rate at the same time. A duplication error in the mineral roll values resulted in a recertification of the 1988 appraisal roll.

The district budget for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1989 was adopted in the amount of $5, 868,644 and a resolution was made levying the tax rate for Sonora ISD for the 1988 tax year in the amount of $.82 per $100 for maintenance and operation and $.05 for the payment of principal and interest on debt of the district, making a total tax rate of $.87.

Superintendent James Bible touched on several subjects including work accomplished by the summer maintenance crew, plans for a first-day-of-inservice luncheon for the faculty, information on a free energy audit of school facilities underway and letter issued from his office to all parents explaining student health insurance.

In closing, the superintendent asked if the Board wished to authorize an increase from $10 to $12 per hour for driver education instructors. Asking for his recommendation which was to grant the increase, the Board voted for the increase.

Great West was awarded the bid on employee health insurance. Despite a 24 percent increase in premium cost, they were the low bidder with the most comprehensive coverage.

The Board unanimously elected to enter into a contract with the City of Sonora for the use of its drug detection dog and handler for drug detection service for the coming year.

Washer Picking at SCD

The Sonora Volunteer Fire Department will introduce some new fun at this year's Sutton County Days celebration in the form of "Washer Picking".

What is "Washer Picking"? This is a game of chance with a bucket containing 500 washers numbered 1 through 500. When you pick a washer, you pay the number stamped on the washer adding a decimal point, ie. you will pay $3.67 for a washer stamped 367.

When you pick and purchase a washer, you are automatically entered in a give-away including the following prizes (1) a 5" BW T.V. with AM/FM radio, (2) $10 Savings Bond, (3) Three Smoke Alarms, and (4) Four Rodeo Tickets for Saturday's performance.

The monies made from this endeavor will go toward the 1989 Spring Convention which will be held in Sonora.

Publishers Comment

One of the things I discovered last week was that Sonora is certainly a great place to have a birthday! This attested to by the cards, flowers and plants that were delivered to me on the day and I thank each of you so much.

Then of course, there was this crazy, wonderful group here at the paper who saw fit to give me a cake--perhaps slightly used because it said "Happy Anniversary, Jim and Sally"; Jim and Sally were crossed out and my name added. All of this in black frosting which made a real mess of your teeth, lips and tongue. Perhaps this is where we learned to say that "it's the thought that counts".

I won't mention the denture grip and bran cereal I was also given but will instead look forward to next year as I learned long ago that having another birthday certainly beat the alternative.

I keep hearing on the news that the drought will effect each of us with higher prices though we shouldn't noticed it too much this year; the figures they are forecasting translates to a negligible increase in prices.

Why is it then, that every product which might have even crossed the path of a grain product has already taken a substantial leap in prices? When I say substantial, I mean eight to ten cents per item and to most grocery shoppers, that is substantial.

The grocery stores have little or no control over these price increases. They must raise prices to cover the wholesalers prices--if they want to stay in business.

The question is really who is raising prices and why do we hear one set of facts, then pay for another?

It would be much easier to accept if the two groups would get their heads together and say "Look folks, it's bad and you're gonna pay more," or "Hey, it's not as bad as we thought, don't worry." I guess what I would like is some consistency.

How does one report a tax evader?

DEAR COMMISSIONER NABERS: As a businessman who has suffered the same sharp increase in taxes as many other legitimate business owners in Texas, I am angry and concerned that part of this increase is due to the fact that many Texas businesses are not in compliance with the law. They are not paying their fair share and it is costing the rest of us.

In the past three months, the professional organization to which I belong has conducted an intense investigation of our particular industry. The results have led us to conclude that within our industry alone millions of dollars in unemployment insurance tax revenue are being lost as a result of employers treating employees as independent contractors. Although there are certainly instances where the independent contractor relationship is legitimate, our canvass showed that 50-54% of business owners in our industry are operating under these conditions to avoid payments of FICA, FUTA and UI taxes. Those of us who are paying taxes find it increasingly difficult to compete when our competition has an automatic 15% illegal advantage.

We want to report businesses within our industry that we have good reason to suspect are evading their legal responsibilities and we urge all tax paying businesses to do the same.

DEAR F.R.: The TEC is mandated to collect UI taxes from all employers who come within the provisions of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act. The Act is a self-enforcing tax statute which means that all businesses are charged with finding out if the law applies to them and, if it does, complying with its requirements. Although, it is unlikely that the large increase in taxes could have been avoided even with 100% compliance, you are absolutely correct when you say that non-compliance is extremely costly to Texas business in a number of ways.

We are obligated to investigate specific reports of non-compliance and we do so routinely. Complaints must be in writing and must specify the name and location of the business in question.

DEAR COMMISSIONER NABERS: I need information on the Plant Closing Bill that just passed. Someone told me you have a monthly newsletter that keeps employers advised on all kinds of issues like that. How do I get it?

P.J. Abilene, Texas

DEAR P.J.: I have just added you to the mailing list. The newsletter is available at local TEC offices or you can call 1-800-TEC-MARY and we will mail to you directly each month.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

by T. Driskell

A light is becoming evident in Texas. The rays are the gleam of economic recovery which shines with increasing intensity in Houston and even more brightly in the small cities around Houston. The ghost left by the petroleum industry collapse is being reincarnated.

Plant redesign is a booming business, converting to new products. Generally the return is not as remunerative as the petroleum industry was and there are only 70% of the employees but slow improvement seem to be occurring. The evolving industrial structure should be relatively free of the yo-yo boom or bust cycle so common in the oil game.

Looking at the area south of Houston one gets the intuitive feeling that the slumbering giant is moving. When you look for a reason; they all seem to vanish. The only items left on the horizon are the pipeline in the offing from Long Beach to Freeport and the possibility that expanding refining capacity might be cheaper now than later. Take your pick, or both, the expansion is going on.

The pipeline, to be, solves a problem. Storage in the Los Angeles basin is a problem which demands a solution. They are using everything but their wives' bedroom slippers to store Alaskan field heavy crude. The pollution problems of a light on shore wind trapping smog makes refining there impossible.

Freeport can do the job--so a big pipeline is being built, complete with heating plants every few miles to make the waxy blob pumpable. The line later will be used to move Mexican or OPEC crude westward after the Alaskan field is depleted. Moving the pipeline from a line five miles south of Sonora to a point between Christoval and San Angelo (due to San Antonio's protest) cost us a hundred jobs.

When the pipeline change was made we were given an insight into how fortunate we are to have our own water district. Can it survive the onslaught of San Antonio to control the entire Edward's Plateau Aquifer? I can imagine some of our locals applying to the ecologically rabid San Antonio Water District for permission to drill a well or locate a septic tank. Supporting our water district sounds like a good idea.

Recently we went to Houston to Promote Sonora at the largest Texas Trophy Associations Hunting Extravaganza. It was the greatest way to promoting Hunters to come to Sonora that there is. Over 28,000 people toured the new George Brown Convention Center with Hunting Booths throughout. Virgil and Linda Burge went with Lawson and I. We really had a great time. If you ranchers are leased, please let the Chamber of Commerce know so we may mark you leased, we had a great response for Sonora!

All you Old Timers are welcome to come out and join the crowd on Saturday, August 27, registering begins at 9:30 a.m.

If you would like or know someone that would like to participate in our Sutton County Days Parade, Friday August 26, please contact the Chamber office at 387-2880.

Our schedule of event will be published in next week's Devil's River News.

Covered Wagon Review

by Charlotte Gilmore

Another maximum capacity crowd, another unforgettable show, more pleasant weather, and good food served in God's beautiful outdoors. What more could anyone ask?

Our shows both Friday and Saturday were so good!

Our two Cowboy Poets, Joe Brown of Sanderson and Ray Fitzgerald of Van Horn were outstanding. There were tears in more than one pair of eyes as Ray recited his poem "Attitude" which he wrote for his grandson, Casey Fitzgerald.

We were so glad to see friends of these two great artists come out to see them perform and we are honored to have had both men on the stage of the Dinner Theater.

Casey rode Pony Express Friday night and the "Glad You're Here" bag went to a man from Argentina.

We also enjoyed entertainment Friday by the "Concho Drifters" a duo of retired musicians, George Lasater, Christoval, on guitar and Roy Adams, San Angelo, on fiddle. These two play old timey "breakdown music" and are looking for jobs. We recommend them.

Saturday's crowd was our biggest of the season.

The forty-five who flew in from Midland for the entire day and night think Sonora is fantastic. They spent the day touring Sonora, its ranches, shopping, swimming, seeing the Caverns, and although they had no vehicles with them, the good folks of Sonora turned over vehicles and acted as tour guides and really showed them a good time. This is what it takes to bring tourists here and we have a right to be proud of the reception we provided these folks.

Besides this group, we had forty-four drive down from Goodfellow.

Other folks from the area came to hear Donna Neal Stepp tell of her travels with the 1986 Sesquicentennial Texas Wagon Train and they got their money's worth. She made us all feel as though we right there with her. Of course having Hogg Jones drive his big covered wagon pulled by four huge white Percherons right up in front of the stage with Donna aboard helped to make it real.

It was kind of a Jones night-Hogg Jones drove his covered wagon; Kelly and Kendra Jones rode their pony cart pulled by their faithful T.C. to deliver the "Glad You're Here" bag which went to a man from Oregon; and Don Jones gave his final episode on the life of Indians who inhabited this area before the pioneers.

Our entertainment for the evening came from Mary Mott of San Angelo who sang the song she wrote during the Sesquicentennial year "As I See Texas" as a surprise for Donna Stepp.

We are really ending the 1988 season on a high note and invite each of you to attend the final two shows this Friday and Saturday.

Books written by some of the writers who have appeared at the Dinner Theater are available at OI' Sonora Trading and the Covered Wagon Dinner Theater is selling tapes of many of the storytellers from both last year and this year. If you are interested call Charlotte Gilmore at 387-2757. One of the tapes offered is Jon Guthrie's story he wrote for Dinner Theater, "Five Cards for Glory or How Sonora and the Caverns of Sonora Came to be the Way They Are." This tape will be on sale by the Covered Wagon Dinner Theater during Sutton County Days.

mohair goes through in preparation of fabric. Hand spinning and weaving will also be conducted during the evening.

Saturday night will also feature door prizes for some of the fortunate viewers.

The wonderful meals will be catered by the Sutton County Steakhouse with two sizes of portions priced at $3.75 and $5.50.

Show tickets are $4 for adults with children six and under free.

Each evening will begin at 6:30 on the beautiful grounds of the Caverns of Sonora. Please come join us!

Some of the seasons favorite storytellers will also be performing on the courthouse lawn during Sutton County Days before retiring until next year.

On January 17, 1948, an Open House was held for one of the few businesses still open in Sonora that is owned by the same family. 1988 is the year of the 40th anniversary of Thorp's Laun-Dry.

Around the 1st week of January 1948, the then named Sonora Steam Laundry opened with Tommy and Guggle Thorp and Clyde (Pappy) Clemens as owners. In the beginning, there were 11 employees at the laundry; in September, 1948, the Dry Cleaning department was added.

In January 1957, Tommy and Guggle bought out Pappy, and changed the name to Thorp's Laun-Dry. There are now 23 employees in Sonora, a pick-up station with 2 employees in Ozona, and a pick-up station which has 1 employee in Eldorado.

The business is now being operated by Guggle and her son, Tim. Pappy passed away in 1987 and Tommy in May 1988. The location is still the same-113 Plum St., Sonora.

Congratulations on your 40th, Thorp's Laun-Dry!

Gwen, Addah, Leah and Jackie went to Kerrville to visit Gwen's other daughter and son-in-law, Linda and Gene Ponton and family. The McLarty's have returned home, and Bill Stallworth will be here for the weekend.

Kathryn and Les Chastant, of New Orleans, visited her mother and brother, Lena Belle Ross and Joe David Ross and family this week. George and Martha Wallace had their grandchildren, Clay, Jodi, Christi, and Cal Wallace for a week's visit. They are the children of Joe and Ginger Wallace, of Hereford.

Jerry and Patsy Landers and Jay, with several members of the First Baptist Church spent four days at the Paisano Baptist Encampment outside Alpine starting July 24th. Then, the Landers' went to Waco for a week to visit their children, Jeri and John, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D.O. Adams. On Wednesday, August 4, they went to San Antonio to Sea World and to the Folk Life Festival.

LIBRARY NEWS

The "Read to Me" Program was a new adventure for the pre-schoolers in Sutton County.

The public library sponsored this program for children who can not read and must be read to. The reader and listener kept up with books that were read to them in the past two months and reported back to the Library.

The children were rewarded for every four books they listened to and set reading goals just like the older children.

If they reached their goals, they won a banana split from the Dairy Queen.

The pre-schoolers met on Fridays at the Library for Storytime and craft activities.

Hedeman to clown around at SCD rodeo

"Roach" Hedeman, bullfighter and comic clown from El Paso will be in Sonora during Sutton County Days to perform his acts of humor and heroism for rodeo goers.

Hedeman, whose first name is Gary, was nicknamed "The Cockroach" when he was small because he was into everything. Later the name was shortened to "Roach" and "Roach" he still is.

He was raised in El Paso and began in rodeo by competing in the AJRA. He moved into the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association while attending college at Sul Ross.

He has worked rodeo circuits in the southwest as well as in Canada and in addition to his work in the arena, he also enjoys pre-publicity and promotions working with charities and visiting in children's hospitals.

His wife, Cindy, is a school teacher and WPRA Barrel Racer. "Roach" spends his slack time working in his race horse colt breaking operation and horse dental service.

You won't want to miss "Roach" at this years rodeo. Performances will begin at 8 p.m. each evening, August 26 and 27 at the Sutton County arena. Tickets for the events are available from the queen contestants listed elsewhere in this publication.

HEALTH CARE

by Scott Gilmore, Hospital Administrator

Cancer of the large intestine, which is made up of the colon and rectum, is the third most common type of cancer. Men and women are equally susceptible to this form of cancer which is most prevalent among people over 40. As cancerous cells multiply, the smooth intestinal lining roughens, enlarges, and hardens. It finally develops into either an ulcerous area that bleeds easily, or into a constriction that hinders bowel movement. Persistent, inexplicable, abnormal constipation or diarrhea can be early warning signs. Bloody bowel movements, too, should always be reported to the physician. The next step is to have the abdomen checked to see if a lump has developed and the rectum checked for a growth. If further tests indicate that surgery is needed, long-term prospects are still considered to be quite good.

Colon cancer occurs most commonly in persons with a family history of the disease. It is also important to note that this form of cancer has been linked with a diet high in fat and low in fiber. Lillian M. Hudspeth Memorial Hospital offers quality medical care and maintains high patient care standards.

Because most colon cancers spread slowly, early diagnosis can result in a complete cure.

Child's first day of school could be less traumatic-by preparing

A child's first day of school will be less traumatic if preparation begins a few years early, a Baylor College of Medicine psychiatrist says.

"Entering school represents the first big step outside the protection environment of the family," said Dr. Robert McKelvey, assistant professor of psychiatry at Baylor. "It is usually the first time a child will have to compete, not only for the attention of adults, but also for academics or athletics. This naturally creates anxiety for the child."

This anxiety can be overcome, he said, by preparing children before they reach the age of five for their first day of school.

During the pre-school years, McKelvey suggests setting constraints on children, making them obey rules and teaching them that it is fun to learn.

"Children can sense whether or not a parent values education by their interaction with the parent during day-to-day activities," McKelvey said. "During these

'SELF' CONTROL

by J. Michael Fish

Why 'Self' Control

or what makes us the way we are and how to change it

Leaving Viet Nam for the last time in January, 1973, I was amazed, shocked and bewildered at what greeted me stateside. Rather than smiles and cheers of awaiting crowds welcoming us home, a single sergeant boarded the plane on our arrival ordering up to disembark and "get processed out." The crowds of people were shouting "baby killer", "doper" and the like. No one cared to listen to our perspective. Life seemed to be going on around me but I was cast out.

For most of us eighteen and nineteen years old, the dream of going home within a year got us through the days and nights of shelling, endless guard duty, the tear gassing, the death and constant fear of being over-run by the Viet Cong. Arriving stateside to such a negative welcome not only destroyed that dream but stripped us of every shred of self worth.

Amnesty being given to the draft dodgers was a "slap in the face" to what remained of once proudful men. I felt betrayed, quite literally, by my country.

Stories of corruption abounded in the headlines. News programs echoed with reports of individuals from the offices of local government levels to that of the president being "on the take." Viet Nam Vets were committing suicide by the dozens or so it seemed. I left home and an alcoholic step-father for this? To make a long story short, three and a half years later found me at 285 pounds, wallowing in self-pity, living for the pleasure of the moment, involved with drugs and alcohol and near an attempt to end my own life.

My family and even my closest friends were totally unaware of the psychological hell I was enduring at the time. I kept laughter in my voice and a smile on my face for fear of being considered another Viet Nam statistic, when in fact, I already was.

Having considered all my options, I found myself in my care headed for an incoming truck. Shortly before impact, a voice said "Change it."

Veering away, I asked "How?", hoping the voice would lay some 'heavy' advice on me. It didn't return and hasn't since.

Within in two weeks I managed to completely change my lifestyle with an apartment off-base, a new car and new friends.

Four months later I had lost 105 pounds with the help of a doctor, exercise and strict diet. Within six months, I was voted "Most Popular E-5 and Above" at Kelly Air Force Base and I was in the Army.

April 1978 found me out of the service and working on a ranch for my uncle, Frank Fish. My purpose for the change was to re-establish myself in family and heritage and 'find' myself among the people in the area where I felt the strongest sense of kinship. Marriage, family and mistakes I've made have taken me away from the ranch and Sonora but we are back now and as long as we can meet the survival needs of our family, we're here to stay.

All that I have is "a pocketful of dreams", a positive attitude, a desire to be a poet/writer, the determination to see it through and a wonderful family that believes in me.

Through the newspaper I hope to develop my writing skills, develop communication skills and share some principles of living in which I strongly believe.

I need your feed-back in order to reach my goals more directly. By word of mouth, written or telephone give me both positive and negative-negative to put me on course, positive to keep me there.

Believing strongly in the principles of living a fulfilling life through 'self' control, I am putting these theories in writing and poetry so that you can have in-put if you wish. I do so by the very principles I will share with you as proof positive that they work.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Social Security myths

Social Security hopes to dispel many of the myths and misconceptions that people have about the program through its nationwide advertising campaign. Many of these myths have plagued the program since its beginning and have obscured its real nature.

Some of the most common myths about Social Security include the following:

Myth: Social Security is going broke.

Fact: This myth grows out of the problems the system faced in the 1970's when rampant employment, high inflation, and a defect in the cost-of-living formula meant severe short-and-long term deficits. Bipartisan legislation in 1983 resolved the problems. Since then, the trust fund reserves have been building up steadily each year. The latest trustees report indicates that the program is sufficiently financed to pay benefits well into the next century.

Myth: Most people don't get their money's worth from Social Security.

Fact: In fact, most people do get their money back from Social Security under today's system. A 65-year-old worker who has paid taxes on the maximum amount of covered earnings throughout his or her career has paid $26,371 in Social Security taxes through 1987. He or she could expect to get that sum back in less than 3 years. Based on average life expectancy at age 65, the retired worker could expect to continue receiving monthly benefits for another 10 years if a man, or 13 years if a woman. Future retirees also stand to get their money's worth, although it may take longer.

For more information or if you have other questions, contact the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608.

ASU classes to expand Fall Semester

Evening school class offerings at Angelo State University have been expanded for the 1988 Fall Semester with additional offerings for students seeking business management degrees and for students enrolling in the new graduate degree program in international studies.

Manuel Lujan, dean of admissions and registrar at ASU, said a majority of the added evening courses are directed at the professional market, those who already have undergraduate degrees and are seeking advanced degrees. A full listing of 1988 Fall Semester and Evening School offerings is available at the Office of the Registrar, Room 100, in Administration-Journalism Building.

A majority of the added classes are undergraduate and graduate courses in the areas of business management and graduate courses in government and history. The government and history courses are part of the requirements for the new international studies program.

The new Master of Arts Degree in International Studies was added after Goodfellow Air Force Base military officials requested the program for the large number of permanent party officers and enlisted personnel serving as instructors in intelligence training programs at the base.

The additional business management evening classes are being added to aid the professional worker in pursuit of an undergraduate or graduate degree in business management.

Other evening school classes at ASU will be offered in the areas of accounting, biology, business administration, criminal justice, drama, economics, education, English, journalism, marketing, mathematics, physical education, psychology, and sociology.

Scouters have whale of a weekend at camp

Contributed article

Wahoo and lookout! Boy Scouts and Weblo Scouts have been on the prowl again.

August 5 through the 7, Troop 19 and Pack 19 went to Camp Fawcett outside Barksdale. Camp Fawcett is a Boy Scout Camp under the direction of the Concho Valley Council. Though the camp was closed for regular activities, the camp was made available for a weekend campout.

The group struck camp at the Eagle Camp site Friday evening. Everyone worked diligently to set up tents, gather wood and carry water to get things rolling so they could get on to more pleasant tasks like getting checked out for swimming.

After being checked out on their swimming skills, the boys could look forward to thrilling water activities like swimming and canoeing.

Friday night ended around the campfire roasting marshmallows.

"Six o'clock already? Oh no!" Oh yes, cause it was time for the fire detail to get after it. The scouts were divided up into four groups with experienced senior scouts as group leaders. The chores were rotated and included wood, water, cooking, K.P. and fire details.

After the flag ceremony and breakfast, it was off on a hike. What a hike it was! Ten miles of gruelling heat, wild animals (two camels) perspiration and sore feet. All made it back just in time to jump into the cool, clear Nueces River for some splashing and cooling before lunch.

Lunch and a little rest, it was time for classes in canoeing, taught by Bill Dempsey, had all the boys attention. Being land locked in Sonora most of the time, the chance to be navigators and power sources to these vessels was to much to resist. After instruction it was up and down and around and "whoops! Watch out!" Back in camp it was knot tying taught by senior scouts Will Trainer, Joel Cox, Jericho Thorp, and Robby Zook with a little supervision by Evelyn Zook.

"Good grief! Its already supper cleanup and what's this? Yes-entertainment." Each team put on a skit around the campfire. Some were short and snappy and some were even a little wet. All were real gems. The evening was completed with a rousing happy birthday song and cake for Coach Dempsey.

Sunday morning afforded some individuals some early fishing before flag ceremony and breakfast. Sunday services were presented to the group by Jericho Thorp, with all taking time to dwell on God and relationships together. Following services it was again time to go canoeing swimming, fishing, and relaxing for a little while.

"Shucks! time to go home." Camp was broke, the tents put up and everything put back the way it was.

Good camping, good friends, and great fun-thanks to everyone. Special thanks to Alice and Carrie Cox for their very special talents in keeping the camp life going and keeping an ever watchful eye open for the needs of everyone. Extra special thanks to "Tippy Canoe" Bill Dempsey for his multitudes of talent. Special thanks go out to the Pool Company for supplying ice and gosh, it was hot out there.

Scouts attending were Boy

Scouts Joel Cox, Chris Crowder, Casey and Jericho Thorp, James Jones, Will Trainer and Robby Zook. Weblo Scouts were Curt Dempsey, Casey Fitzgerald, Jamie Floyd, Alex Gonzales, Robert Teaff, Colely Thompson, and Jon Jon Zook. Russell "Marathon" Dempsey and Andrew "Big Foot" Dempsey were also in attendance with their father Bill Dempsey and Weblo Leaders Evelyn and John Zook and Wade Fitzgerald.

Long term care insurance: Buyer beware. . . .

Do you sometimes worry about how you will pay for nursing home care or for help at home if you should need it? Do you wonder whether or not you should buy a long term care insurance policy? You are not alone. Million of older Americans and their families are wrestling with these very same concerns.

*Medicare does not pay for long term care. Less than 2% of all nursing home bills are covered by Medicare. The so-called "Catastrophic Bill," that expands Medicare coverage for extraordinary hospital and drug bills, does not do much of anything to improve coverage for long term care.

*Medicaid does pay for nursing home care, but you have to go broke first to receive it. To qualify for Medicaid, you will have to spend down almost all of your assets and your spouse will have to live on a very restricted income. Home care coverage under Medicaid is extremely limited and sometimes it is hard to get admitted into a good nursing home when you're on Medicaid. However, until something better comes along Medicaid is the only real public option available to most older persons.

*Medigap policies don't cover long term care either. We have carefully analyzed more than 125 Medigap policies now being sold and none of them provide any substantial coverage for long term care. Many policies claim to have "skilled nursing care benefits," but by and large these benefits are tied to Medicaid payment and are virtually worthless.

What about private long term care insurance policies? Almost all of the major insurance companies (and many fly-by-nights as well) are now marketing them. Although today's policies are slightly better than those offered a year ago, they are still not good buys. Most of these policies have several major flaws:

*Even if you buy a policy, there is a substantial risk that you won't be covered for a long term nursing home stay. The limitations and exclusions in various plans are so severe that many people won't ever be able to collect. We are now analyzing more than 60 private long term care insurance options being sold to older persons. Here's what we're finding: depending on the policy, you run a risk of between 25% to 80% that various restrictions and limitations will exclude you from ever collecting many benefits if you go to a nursing home.

*The actual coverage provided by most plans is inadequate. Most plans provide a daily cash benefit that does not increase with inflation. In other words, you buy coverage that will pay you $20, $40, $60 or more per day. However, the nursing home that now costs $70 per day may cost twice as much by the time you need it. Your policy may cover only a small part of your actual nursing home bill and may even mean that you will not be eligible for Medicaid!

*Current long term care insurance plans are very expensive. Today the cost of the plans that provide at least $70 a day in coverage range from $500 to $5,000 depending on your age. But you have no guarantees about what will happen to your premiums in future years. Most companies reserve the right to raise premiums as much as they want.

*Home care benefits in current plans are misleading and will not be of much real help. Our analysis of long term care policies indicates that the home care coverage in most plans is mostly a lot of hype. Most plans provide only a little more than Medicare covers anyway.

Until and unless companies offer long term care insurance that provides a lot better coverage, has fewer restrictions and limitations, provides benefits that are indexed to inflation, and has reasonable premiums that cannot be raised through the roof, we advise most people: "Put your money in the bank, instead of buying a Long Term Care policy."

There must be, however, ways that we as a society can protect ourselves from the crushing financial burdens of Long Term Care.

North of the border, in Canada, they've solved the problem. Canadians get good Long Term Care protection as part of Canada's Medicare system. Just about every Canadian-not just the very rich-can afford Long Term Care protection.

Challenge attracting finest black belts in area

Some of the finest Black Belts in the state are expected to be at the San Angelo Coliseum Saturday night, August 20 for the Concho Challenge.

This is the first time San Angelo has had the opportunity to host a Black Belt 3-Man Team Tournament. Each team will have three black belts that individually fight. The team with the highest accumulated number of points at the end of each match will advance toward the highest monies awarded in the state.

Clarence (Daddy-O) Smith said, "This will be a unique event-the only one of this type in the nation." He intends to bring the best martial artists in Texas and surrounding states to San Angelo on an annual basis. Hopefully, the interest will grow to attract black belts from all over the nation. For this, the inaugural event, there has been strong interest from some very outstanding rated black belts from the San Antonio and Dallas area.

A full boxing ring will be set up so visibility will be good for each fight. The tournament starts at 7:30 p.m. Judges have been selected from various geographical areas of Texas and New Mexico.

Advance tickets will be on sale from Advance Ticket Systems, 944-8700. Cost is $5 for adults and $3 children, 10 and under. Tickets at the gate will be $6 for adults and $4 children, 10 and under.

Cattlemen's 14th Annual Convention held in Austin

The Independent Cattlemen's Association hosted its 14th Annual Convention at the Stouffer House in Austin August 11 through 13. The theme of the program was "Beef Production for Today's Market."

Dr. Zerle Carpenter, Director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University, was moderator for Friday mornings presentation. Dr. Larry Boleman spoke on change and future trends in the beef cattle industry followed by Dr. Dan Hale who gave a slide presentation on the Importance of Carcass Value to the Beef Industry.

Targeting Beef Production from the Cow-calf Producers' Perspective was the topic by Dr. Steve Hammack. Dr. John Beverly spoke on Practical Applications by Producers while Dr. Ernest Davis presented material on Beef Market Indicators.

All presentations were very informative, and many felt that much that was heard could be applied to each cow-calf producer.

The Headliners Luncheon featured W.C. Newberry, Ed.D., noted educator, humorist, writer and philosopher, as the after dinner speaker. The group of over 300 guests were delighted with Dr. Newberry's wit and comedy in his speech. Margarite LaFour of Victoria presented her "Pale Face Style Show." Her unique designs are original and were well received by the audience.

There were fifty-seven exhibitors from all parts of the state including Lee Silver Co. of Sonora.

The Board of Delegates accepted by acclamation the Executive Committee who are as follows: Bob Nunley, Sabinal, President; Wayne Dierlam, Victoria, 1st Vice-president; Dr. C.E. Payne, Bryan, 2nd Vice-president; Jim Selman, Gonzales, Secretary; and Joe Conti, Victoria, Treasurer.

President Ray Wheeler was presented a plaque of appreciation from the ICA members for his ten years service as President. He received a standing ovation from all the members and this was indeed a touching moment. The Executive Committee and Board of Directors presented the out-going president with a silver knife made by Lee Silver Co.

ICA has had its difficult years, but the members now know that the organization is growing in numbers, strength and popularity here in Texas as well as in Washington, D.C., and that ICA is here to stay.

The 14th Convention was the best with the largest attendance ever coming from thirty-one counties in Texas.

The 15th Annual Convention will be held at the same place in 1989. The dates are August 10 through 12, 1989.

Sutton County ASCS release Emergency Feed Cost-Sharing Program

The Emergency Feed Program administered through the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation has run its course in Sutton County. Due to improved range conditions, the Sutton County ASC Committee has determined that the county has returned to "normal" conditions for drought assistance purposes. Furthermore, a cut-off date for applications was set for August 9, 1988.

If you have applied for this drought related assistance, please be reminded to turn in all feed bills to the ASCS office in Sonora. All eligible feed bills beginning with the date of emergency feed applications through the end of your sixty-day feeding period or August 9, 1988 are needed. These bills are to be submitted no later than September 2, 1988.

DO NOT PURCHASE FEED IN ANTICIPATION OF ASSISTANCE UNDER THE EMERGENCY FEED PROGRAM AFTER YOUR SIXTY-DAY FEED PERIOD APPLICATION HAS EXPIRED.

More information on this and other programs administered through the ASCS Office will be available in the forthcoming August newsletter. You are also invited to come by the ASCS office for program information.

American Diabetes Association raises $96,500.22 as of July

The American Diabetes Association's Texas Bike Ride Plus raised a total of $96,500.22 as of July 14.

This annual event is an important contribution to the fight against diabetes. It serves as an education tool, a fund raiser, and an opportunity for our young people to experience a positive method of contributing something of themselves to their community.

Sonora's Bike Ride Plus was held May 28 and raised $636. for the American Diabetes Association. Local Chairman, Kathy Lind, was quite pleased with the results of this year's bike ride. Local merchants were very supportive of the event and enthusiastic contestants were rewarded an impressive array of prizes for their fund raising efforts.

Daniel Lind won first place by raising $156.30 in pledges and his prizes included headphone Walkie-Talkies from Kerbow's Radio Shack, a $10 Gift Certificate from O'Bryan's Fashions and, from State Competition, a headphone radio.

Katina Matthews was the second place winner with $128.40 raised in pledges for the bike ride. Her prizes included a tanned goat skin from Ol' Sonora Trading Co. and a $10 Gift Certificate from the Bright Spot.

Third place went to Sarah Lind for raising $110 for the bike ride and her prizes included a pizza from Pizza Hut, three haircuts from the Bright Spot, a haircut from the Hair Studio, and a $10 Gift Certificate from image.

Gilbert Vara was the fourth place winner and received Gift Certificates from Dairy Queen and the Sutton County Steakhouse as well as a headphone radio from State Competition.

Also competing were Daniel Vara who received a $10 Gift Certificate from Perry's; Sarah Chavez who won a headphone radio and Jessie Capachino who received a certificate for dinner at Country Fried Chicken 'n Fish.
