County asks for opinion from Attorney General

By Griffin B. Cole
 DRN Editor

Sutton County commissioners voted Monday to request an opinion from the Attorney General on where $40,000 in forfeited money belongs.

The question dates back to the Oct. 1986 arrest of Kermit L. Isom by the Department of Public Safety. Isom forfeited $40,000 under the Texas Controlled Substances Act.

The judgement dated Oct. 9, 1986 says, "It is therefore, ordered, adjudged and decreed by the Court...that said money is hereby forfeited to Sutton County, Texas..."

Signatures on the judgement include J.W. Johnson Jr., 112th District Attorney; Melvin Gray, Attorney for Isom; and Brock

Jones, District Judge.

An audit conducted in March 1990 showed that, along with the supporting documents, the monies were in control of the District Attorney's office rather than the county.

Sutton County auditor, Charles Graves said the law-mandated audit covered from Oct. 17, 1986 to Dec. 31, 1989. Graves said up to that time there had never been an audit of forfeited monies.

The audit was conducted by Pecos County auditor Becky Espino and Crockett County auditor John Stokes.

Commissioner Bill Keel made the motion to ask the Attorney General for an opinion on what the county should do. The motion was passed unanimously.

Play to be in courthouse

The Sutton County Commission granted approval for the use of the courthouse and courthouse lawn for the centennial play to be presented Oct. 27 and 28.

The Centennial Committee requested the use of the courthouse for four presentations of the play, two each on Saturday and Sunday.

The play, written by Martha Valliant McClain, will depict the gunning down of outlaw Will Carver. McClain said the play will have facts interspersed with liberal adaptations.

While tickets prices have not officially been set, the plan is currently to price them at $3 for adults and $1 for children.

In other county news; sheriff Bill Wallace was again asked about overtime in his department. He explained that overtime can be expected about six months of the year due to vacations.

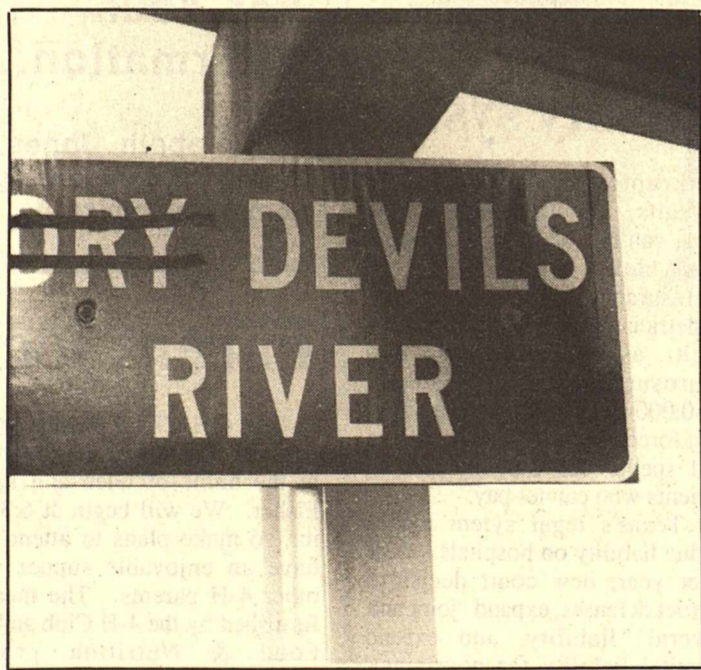

"Anytime someone is on vacation, I have overtime," said Wallace.

Other explanations for the overtime included the demand due to Sutton County Days including the rodeo and dances.

Commissioners accepted the explanation without further comment.

LAST CHANCE!

Final casting for the Centennial Will Carver play will be held Thursday, September 27, at First Baptist Church beginning at 7:00 p. m. If you are unable to attend but would like to be considered for a part in this community play, contact Marti McLain at 387-5060. Leave your name and telephone number on the message machine, and Marti McLain will contact you for a casting session. The Will Carver play will be performed October 27 and 28 during Sonora's final Centennial Celebration.

Recycling comes to Sonora; children's efforts pay off

Last year's third-graders hard work has payed off in a big way.

Their effort to bring recycling to Sonora became a reality Sept. 1. On that date two gathering stations were formed to receive items to be recycled.

The first location is at the corner of St. Ann's and 3rd streets, across from St. Ann's Church.

The second is in the lot across from the Emergency Medical Service building on Water Street.

At this time scrap metal, glass and tin cans are the excepted items.

All metals such as aluminum cans, copper, brass and steel are being taken. Most glass except for

EMS week marked in Sonora

In 15 years the Emergency Medical Services in Sonora have expanded immensely. The achievements of the service here stand out even greater in light of Emergency Services Week which was Sept. 17-23.

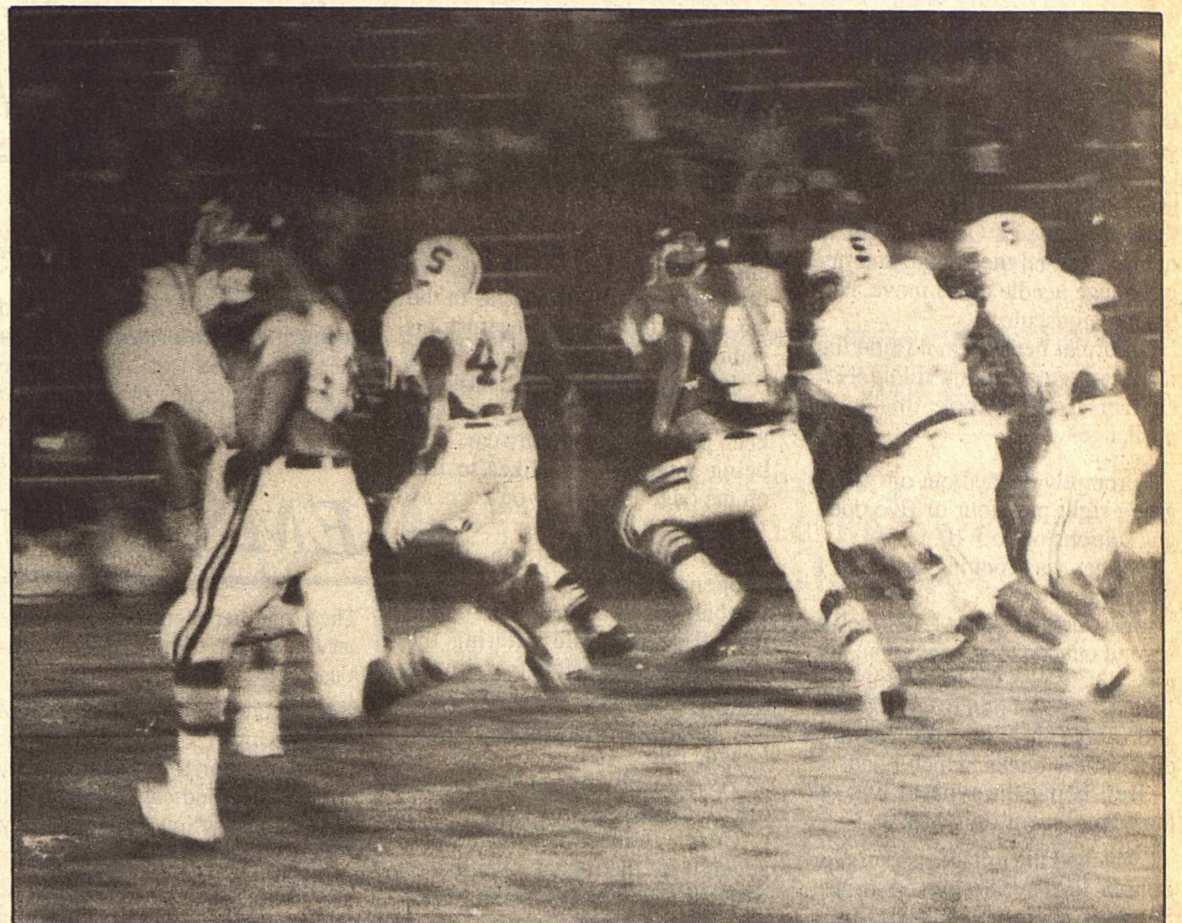

During the 15 years of the Sutton County Emergency Medical Services, it has grown from one hired person to a current staff of 27.

The emergency service started in 1975 with the hiring of Rick Shank, EMT. At the end of July, Pat Campbell, EMT joined the service.

By 1981 the service grew to six members.

In that year, the service took two big steps. First it was elected November Citizen of the Month by the Chamber of Commerce.

BREAK OUT - Oscar Perez (42), tailback for the Sonora Broncos, takes off on his 75-yard jaunt which opened the game against Ozona. Perez led all ground-gainers in the game with 138 yards. Sonora won their second straight game 42-8 over Ozona Friday night.

OZONA - The Sonora Broncos continued their improvement getting ready for district by dominating the Ozona Lions 42-8 Friday night in Ozona.

The Broncos (2-1) played their second straight game without a turnover while scoring three touchdowns off of four Ozona (0-3) fumbles. Even more impressive was that the second half was played in a constant rain.

Though Sonora fumbled twice, they recovered both miscues.

"Turnovers were the difference in the game," said Sonora head coach Bob Bellard.

Bellard was also happy with the way Sonora controlled the ball. The Broncos consistently were able to take the ball right at the Lions' defense.

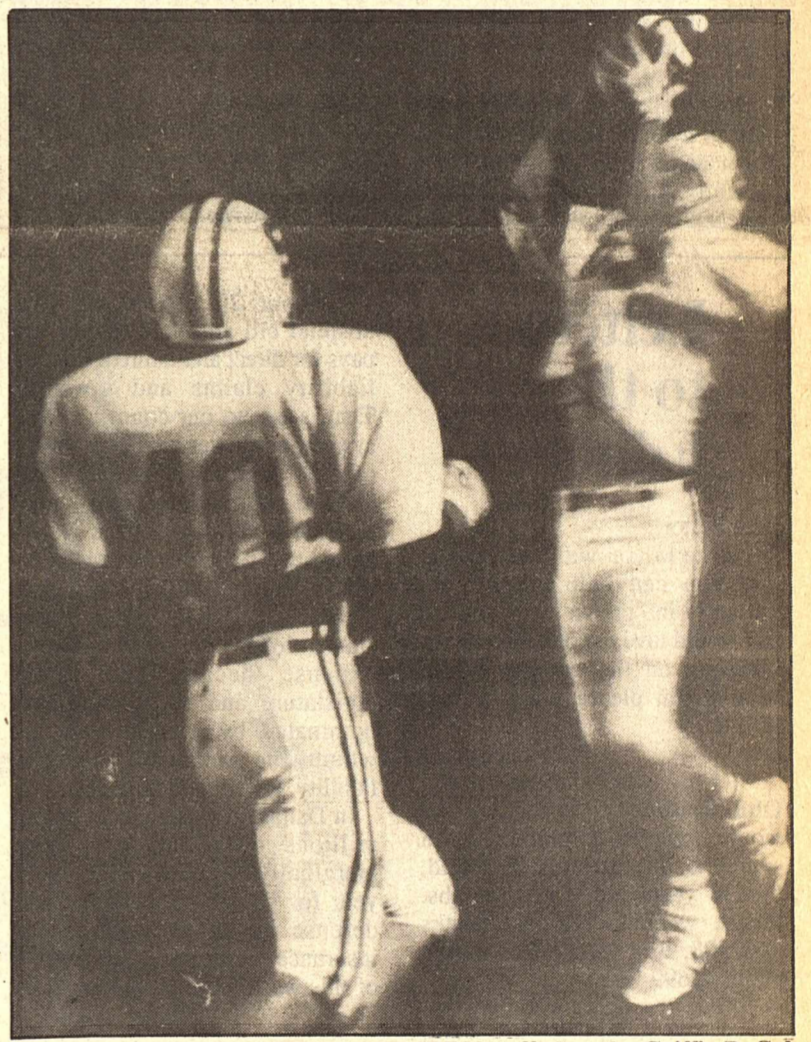

"We were able to move the line of scrimmage back," said Bellard.

Sonora manhandled the Lions for 315 yards on the ground, led by Oscar Perez with 138 yards on 21 carries.

Perez became the first Bronco to gain over 100 yards in a game this season. Perez was starting in place of Eric Espinosa who did not suit up due to a bruised shoulder.

Danny Mata continued to impress from the fullback spot. He ran for 91 yards on 12 carries. Sam Taylor contributed 45 yards on 10 carries most of it on one drive in the fourth quarter.

TOUCHDOWN CATCH - Larry Chalk jumps high to haul in a 3-yard touchdown pass from David Mirike against Ozona Friday night. The touchdown gave the Broncos an 18-8 halftime lead. Chalk has two touchdown receptions this year.

David Mirike and Adam Youngblood, scored touchdowns.

The Broncos defense was outstanding holding Ozona to a mere 120 yards total offense, all of it on the ground. Of that 120 yards, 88 came of it when Danny DeHoyos broke past the left side of the defense late in the first half for the only Lions' touchdown.

Robert Gallion had an excellent night from his defensive tackle spot, leading the Broncos in tackles.

Ozona was held to just five first downs in the game and failed to put together back to back first downs.

The defense forced four fumbles and Youngblood intercepted a pass, giving the Broncos three interceptions in the last two games.

Perhaps the biggest difference in the statistics was in the number of plays run. Sonora ran off 68 compared to just 31 for Ozona.

Sonora still committed eight penalties for 85 yards, but Bellard was not all that bothered.

"The kids were working down field on the penalties," said Bellard. "It's hard to get upset when they are hustling and get called for those kind of penalties."

Taylor continues to do a strong job on punting. He punted the ball three times and averaged 39 yards a punt. Two of his punts were

Living on the edge

I like to take chances. It gives my life some excitement.

One of my favorite things to do is see how far I can get when my gas gauge shows empty.

That golden opportunity came up Friday returning from the football game at Ozona. I got in my car, started the engine and my gas gauge needle didn't move. Not even a miniscule.

A normal person would find the nearest gas station and fill up. Not Griffin Cole. I took this as a challenge.

I promptly headed out of Ozona going right past four or five open gas stations on to I-10.

My car was running well and I was pleased.

I was kicking down I-10 when a second chance to get gas came my way. There was the truck stop. All I had to do was pull off to the exit and cruise in, pump the gas and dish out the bucks, which I had.

But, being the type to live on the edge, I went right past it.

I watched the mileage markers for Sonora tick by. Sonora 38 miles, 33 miles, 26 miles, 13 miles.

Then came the first Sonora exit sign. I laughed because I had beaten the odds.

It was at this precise moment my car started to jerk. My laughter stopped in a hurry.

I kept a positive thought as I cruised down the big hill. By now my car had quit and I was just rolling.

It was time to pray. "Please make it to the exit," I said out loud.

Wrong. About 1/4 mile from the exit the game was over and I had lost.

As I walked to the nearest gas station several cars passed me by. I watched a truck go by then turn around. A pair of the Sonora coaches were in the truck. They were very nice, they didn't even laugh in my face.

I said no thanks to an offered ride and walked the rest of the way to the gas station. I had lost and decided I would pay the entire price.

I called a pal who was kind enough to come and get me. We then went and put some gas in the car and I drove to the nearest gas station and filled the tank.

I wish I could say I learned a valuable lesson and will always keep plenty of gas in my car. But, being a person who likes to live on the edge I know I won't.

Something not so funny happened Friday. Sonora head football coach Bob Bellard called the office and said offering the players of the week-free buffet from Pizza Hut is not acceptable by University Interscholastic League rules.

As a result we can no longer offer the deal.

Coach Bellard may have been angered by the mistake we made, which he had every right to be, but showing his extreme class coach Bellard only asked that a correction be run.

It should be noted coach Bellard was not totally aware of the offer to be made. Alan Alexander, manager of Pizza Hut, and I thought it would be a nice surprise for the kids.

Instead, Alan and I were the ones which got the surprise. It was none to pleasant.

Friday was a busy day. The first grade class made trips to various Sonora businesses and made the Devil's River News one of their stops. We at the Devil very much enjoyed showing them around and hope they learned something.

You never know, a future editor may have been in the group.

downed inside the 20-yard line.

After winning a pair of games on the road, Sonora will return home Friday night to play Mason. Mason, a 2A powerhouse, has won all three of their games by large scores.

Sonora enters the game with some nicks and bruises. Bellard said Espinosa is expected back for this game though his shoulder is still a bit sore. Perez, who played with a sore leg Friday, will also be able to play.

Mason lost its starting quarterback to an ankle injury, but have not been hurt. The coaches switched their wingback to quarterback and he currently leads the team in rushing.

Game time at Bronco Stadium has been switched from 8 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Friday.

mirrors, window panes, cups, plates, crystal, light bulbs, television tubes and burned or incinerated glass will be taken.

Glass bottles will be separated according to color with white or clear bottles in the white container, green in the green container and brown in the brown container.

For tin cans the top and bottom need to be removed then the can flattened. Bottle caps and lids should also be removed though labels can stay on. Bottles should be fairly clean.

Expansion for plastics and paper are hoped for the future, though at this time there is no market for the items in this area.

The Chamber then recognized the service as the Organization of the Year.

A larger step was taken in 1982 with the hiring of Lenora Bullock as Coordinator for Sutton County Emergency Medical Services and Sutton County/Sonora Emergency Management.

After originally working out of the hospital then moving to a building on I-10 furnished by Joe David Ross, the Emergency Management offices were completed at the corner of Water and 3rd Street in 1984.

Also in 1984, the by-laws of the Emergency Medical Service Organization were adopted. There were 16 original members and since that time the organization has grown at a steady rate.

Current members of the Sutton County Emergency Medical Service include: Lenora Pool, Mona Simpler, Leslie Thorp, Treva McReynolds, George Keese, Ben Pool, Karen Fincher, Tim Thorp, Pat Campbell, Donna Keese, Eddie McReynolds, Jonnie Hodges, Rosie Butler, Adolfo Elguezabal, Gerald Gilchrist, Marty Lipham, James Nall, Jody Luttrell, Keith Butler, Susan Burnham, Carla Fields, Maggie Mesa, Gilbert Velez, Ronnie Cox, Tony Cook, Robert Mayer and Lisa Cook.

The number will only grow in the future as classes are held each year to enlist more members.

I came back, and I'm glad I did

When I returned to Sonora in 1978, I was all set to broaden the horizons of your poor wretched souls, whose world compromised little more than Sonora, Sutton County, San Angelo and the state of Texas. Having survived a war, traveled in twenty-two countries across the globe and obtained the perspectives of literally hundreds of foreign nationals, I had all the resources I needed to deliver the world at large to Sonora's very door step. I had aspirations of being a writer most of my life and had all the material I needed to realize my dreams.

What happened?

Reality. Most of the "poor wretched souls" I knew before had left, passed away or changed to such a degree I no longer knew them. Of those who remained and those who came to live here in my absence, if they were really interested in the outside world they would have ventured into it themselves and formulated their own perspectives. In reality, I was the poor wretched soul.

If I want to appeal to the readers in our community, and in our nation for that matter, I'm going to have to write about what interests us. People like to read about people, people they know or know about and situations in which people overcome all obstacles. The account must be either real and factual or fictional but believable beyond a reasonable doubt. Then came the big question; what on Earth could I write about, of significance, in Sonora?

For a person as I, would seek the feeling and emotion exchanged even in the most casual of relationships, I must say; the people of Sonora display a potential for the uppermost and lowest extremes. We will either convey all of what is in our heart or nothing at all. We can be completely ecstatic or absolutely dismal. To complicate the issue further, most of the emotions conveyed fall somewhere in the 'tween, and are subject to change at a moments notice.

To tackle the objective, a writer has got to know the person or people about whom he is writing. It would take a lifetime to get to know the reactions and idiosyncrasies of others. You can't do that by breezing into a country and interviewing the first Tom, Dick or Harry walking up the street. You do that by associating with the person or person over a period of time, how ever long it may be.

The role of a writer goes beyond his own dreams and expectations, he has a responsibility to tell your story, to sharpen his skills that they represent it in a fashion deserving of the respect of not only the reader but the one whom it concerns. His success is not measured in dollars or cents, nor the numbers of writings he may create. His, is an appraisal that is derived from the satisfaction that emanates from fulfilling his duty to his community and to himself. He is not a success unless he believes he is.

Again, we are back to Sonora. In all the years of scribbling my thoughts on paper, none were seen by another individual; until I returned to Sonora. Sonora has become the hub in the wheel of my craft, from which all tangents radiate.

I am here to tell our story to the world at large, to share my crafts with those for whom I care the most and to improve myself and my quality of life, in the process. It is ironic that I searched so far and wide, endured so many extremes, only to return home before I learned who I am and what I should do about it. Then again, isn't that the case in more instances than not?

So, if you find me studying your tendencies, asking questions others would not and being overly friendly, remember; I am here to enhance (not lie about) our image to those that would read of us. Also, smile! You may not be on Candid Camera, but you may find one or more of your traits in black and white, for all the world to see.

About 20 percent of your hospital bill and your doctor bill pays for direct and indirect costs of liability claims and lawsuits. That is due to our country's legal system, not lower quality or safety of care. America has the best-trained physicians and most modern technology in the world, yet no other country has nearly as much legal liability expense. Texas, along with a few other states, leads the nation in that expense because our state legislature and state courts are dominated by trial lawyers for whom the runaway, wasteful liability system is a bonanza.

In Dallas hospitals alone, untold millions of dollars are spent marginally or needlessly every year for defensive medicine and defense costs, as well as for insurance premiums. The burden of this wasteful legal system falls

Healthcare

By M. Scott Gilmore

A runaway tort liability system on patients and employers through a giant "hidden tax" in hospital and doctor bills. The cost is making health insurance affordable.

Public expectations and legal "standards of care" have become almost impossible to meet. Ironically, new lifesaving technology enlarges liability. Doctors and nurses work under increasingly difficult emergency conditions, making decisions that require more knowledge and judgment on their part than in the past. Their decisions and actions are second-guessed and penalties mushroom.

All medicine, anesthetic agents, surgery, blood products, and other treatments involve risk, and their effects on patients vary widely. Thousands of these procedures occur every day in a hospital, and yet a single procedure with an adverse outcome can result in a huge lawsuit against the hospital and everyone involved in the patient's care.

You pay heavily for public intolerance of this liability system, and not just in dollars. Your future access to services in high-risk specialties is also at stake.

Hospital emergency services are increasingly difficult to staff. Physicians are less willing to accept emergency call duty, where they know less about patients they treat, are more likely to be sued, but not be paid for their services.

Many obstetricians and family practitioners have stopped delivering babies because they fear bankruptcy from gigantic lawsuits, which, under Texas laws, can be filed up to 20 years after a birth.

Insurance premium costs for obstetricians and trauma surgeons, such as orthopedists and neurosurgeons, have soared ($50,000 per year for some). This cost forces them to raise their fees and spend less time in serving patients who cannot pay.

Texas's legal system places undue liability on hospitals. Year after year, new court decisions restrict defenses, expand "joint and several" liability, and extend hospital liability for physicians' acts. Juries approve larger and larger awards or settlements which fuel higher insurance premiums. Hospitals and doctors must then raise their charges to you and add costly new procedures to reduce future risk. You pay for that "defensive medicine" too.

Our society continues to support an open-ended liability system, at least passively, by electing public officials who are trial lawyers or who receive massive campaign funding from them. Public outrage has not developed to force legislators and elected judges to change the self-serving system. Until that occurs, medical and hospital costs will climb.

The public has a right to support the present system if it so desires, but in doing so should recognize how much it costs and that virtually all increases in hospital costs fall on private payers, not the government.

If you've never made homemade beef logs or summer sausage, you might like to try this recipe. The key ingredient is called "Tender Quick," and it's made by Morton Company. You can easily control the amount of fat and spiciness in this sausage recipe.

Homemade Beef "Summer Sausage"

5 lb. ground beef
1/4 c. Morton's meat cure ("Tender Quick")
1 tsp salt
1 1/2 T. liquid smoke
2 T. coarse ground black pepper
2 tsp. whole mustard seed
1 1/2 tsp. garlic powder
1 tsp. ground red pepper
Combine all ingredients (in glass bowl) & mix well to blend all spices. Cover & refrigerate for 8 hours.
Shape into logs about 3" in diameter. (Makes 3 to 5 logs.) Place on pan with rack to bake. Broiler pan is good. Bake 6 hours at 200. Wrap well & refrigerate.

Buckle Up In The Back Seat

Something good is going on in the back seat of cars: people are buckling up. For over 20 years, every car built for sale in the U.S. has had safety belts in the back. More and more new cars are equipped with lap and shoulder belts in the back seat. These belts save thousands of lives a year, reports the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Safety no longer takes a back seat in the back seat.

If your car doesn't have shoulder belts in the rear seat you may be able to have them installed. Many car companies offer retrofit kits for certain makes and models. Your dealer can tell you if yours is among them.

No one should ride unrestrained in any vehicle, including the cargo part of a station wagon. If carpooling, only permit as many people as there are safety belts for in the car. That will help keep you all on the road to safety.

ONE-TWO PUNCH - Sonora's running game was in fine form Friday night against Ozona. Top: Danny Mata punishes his tacklers during a first quarter run. Mata totaled 91 yards. Bottom: Oscar Perez scores the opening touchdown for the Broncos. Perez ran for 138 yards on 21 carries.

Winterize For Energy Savings

More of your heating and cooling dollars escape through your home's windows and doors, per unit of area, than through any other part of your home, according to the Edison Electric Institute, the association of investor-owned electric companies. So even by properly insulating your home, you're still spending more on heating and cooling than you should be.

To help cut these losses, make sure your home is also weatherized. This means closing off energy-robbing air leaks around and through your home's windows and exterior doors.

For instance, heat passes through single-glazed (one pane of glass) windows 14 times faster than through a well-insulated wall. You can reduce these expensive losses by adding storm windows or installing double-pane windows to provide a valuable insulating space of air between the panes. And remember to add storm doors for the same insulation effect there.

After your windows and doors are covered, caulk and weatherstrip them. These are simple measures to overlook, but the energy savings they yield are surprising. Total heating or cooling loss due to insufficient caulking or weatherstripping can be as high as 30 to 40 percent of your monthly heating and cooling costs.

The cost of caulking and weatherstripping is inexpensive, and both are easy to find at almost any hardware store.

Auction Appreciation Day held Sept. 20

Auction Appreciation Day was held September 20, 1990 at the Sutton County Senior Center. The day was set aside to honor those who helped make the Centennial quilt, those who helped with the auction and the buyers.

Each recipient was given an "Award of Excellence" which read as follows: "For service and support far beyond the call of duty and for unselfishly giving of your time and resources to the senior citizens of Sonora and Sutton County."

Preston Faris and Tom Payton attended the lunch and ceremony dressed in their best desperado attire, but even so, they declined an invitation to demonstrate their hog-tying technique on Jim Garrett.

OES meets

The Sonora Chapter #575, Order of the Easter Star met for their regularly stated meeting on September 18. The minutes were read and approved.

The baked goods booth at Sutton County Days was successful. Members enjoyed visiting and participating in the celebration of Sutton County's 100th birthday.

A bake sale has been scheduled October 25 to help raise fund for Ann Hill.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Brenda Valliant and Darla McKissack.

Tips For Terrific Teeth And Gums

An invisible invader can turn smiles into frowns. The enemy? Plaque—a film of bacteria that forms continually on the surface of teeth. Plaque build-up can cause gingivitis, an early form of gum disease. If unchecked, gingivitis may lead to periodontitis—one of the primary causes of tooth loss in adults today.

The good news is: gingivitis is reversible. By taking the proper steps, its damaging effects on gums can be halted. Dr. Norton Ross, Director of Dental Affairs for Warner-Lambert Company, the makers of Listerine, suggests these five ways to help control plaque and gingivitis:

- Visit your dentist regularly.
- Eat a well-balanced diet and avoid sugary snacks.
- Brush your teeth at least twice a day.
- Floss daily to remove plaque from between your teeth.
- For extra protection, rinse with Listerine, twice a day for 80 seconds.

Lastly, Dr. Ross suggests that consumers look for the American Dental Association (ADA) Seal of Acceptance when choosing dental products, since this is their assurance that the product is safe and effective for the claims it makes.

MONEY MAKING IDEAS

On The Road To A Beautiful Career

To their delight, many people are finding they can make all kinds of money in the business world.

Cosmetology can be a profitable career choice.

Perseverance helps. But there's also a hard part: Getting started. That involves making the right decisions about your career and going all out to achieve your goals.

Fortunately, there are many assistance programs for young people looking for a profitable career and others looking to change careers for profit and pleasure. The Cosmetology Advancement Foundation (CAF), for example, is conducting its second annual nationwide talent search to attract the kind of highly motivated people who excel in the artistic, exciting field of cosmetology. In addition to owning or managing a salon, or working as a stylist, cosmetology offers jobs in cosmetic chemistry, sales and distribution, purchasing and management, packaging design, marketing, advertising and public relations, show management promotion and beauty education.

To help people get started in the field of cosmetology, CAF is offering 25 scholarships each worth $1,000 toward beauty school tuition. The only requirement for entry is a brief statement telling why you want to go to beauty school, what interests you have, what kind of future you want and why a cosmetology career will help you achieve your goals.

Write to: Cosmetology Advancement Foundation, 208 East 51st Street, Suite #143, New York, NY 10022. Deadline for entries is December 15, 1990.

Power of Attorney

The "attorney" in "power of attorney" is not necessarily a lawyer. It's just someone you trust to stand in for you if you must be away when something important needs to be done. In some cases that person can take over management of your affairs if you become incapacitated.

Generally, a power of attorney can be general, granting power over all your assets to the person acting as your agent, or special, which allows the agent to manage one named asset. As most powers of attorney are written, they are valid only so long as the principal--the person granting power--is alive and competent.

Both types can also be made durable, remaining valid even if the principal becomes incapacitated or incompetent. Many couples set up durable powers of attorney, naming each attorney for the other, so that joint accounts can be managed even if one becomes seriously ill. It's often advisable to check with your bank to make sure that a durable power of attorney meets its special specifications.
