Fire hits Pool Company grounds

By Griffin B. Cole
DRN Editor

An explosion and fire Monday night caused an estimated $300,000 damage to Pool Company located on U.S. Highway 277 South.

Todd Churchill of Pool Company said the damage estimate included rigs, tanks and a clean up effort of the draw which runs past Pool.

Sonora Fire Chief Carl Teaff said a representative of the Water Quality Board was at the scene early Tuesday checking the draw for contamination. Teaff said water and fuel went into the draw during firefighting efforts.

Churchill said Pool is responsible for the clean up. The company will scrape away dirt in the draw and dispose of it. Dirt samples will then be taken.

According to Teaff the fire began when an unattended pulling unit of Pool rolled down an incline and smashed into the pumps. The pumps shorted out which, in turn, ignited a gas leak.

Water line busts on Oak Street

Sonora City Manager Pete Gildon said there were no major problems created when a water line broke around 10 p.m. Monday.

The break, which occurred on Oak Street between Concho and Crockett streets, happened Monday evening at the same time emergency crews were battling the blaze at Pool Company.

Gildon said it has not been determined why the eight-inch cast iron line broke, sending water well past the height of the roof of the Bronco Ford building.

A four-man repair crew was on the scene by 11 p.m. and had the break fixed by 3 a.m. Tuesday.

Gildon said the area was blocked off for a short time.

Lone Star verdict finalized

By Marti McLain
DRN Contributing Writer

On Wednesday, July 31, Judge Brock Jones of the 112th District Court heard arguments in Sonora concerning the jury's verdict in the Martha Miers, et al, versus Lone Star Gas, et al civil lawsuit.

The final disposition of the case awarded the Miers' family $2.6 million in actual damages and over a half million dollars in interest.

Lone Star Gas Company and Enserch Exploration were found guilty of negligence that resulted in taking gas without paying for it and conversion of gas (knowingly taking gas that was appropriated without the owner's consent).

Arguments from Lone Star attorneys concerned double recovery of damages and asked that half of the award be set aside.

Judge Jones' decision was based upon, what the plaintiff's attorneys argued, had been the clear intent of the jury. Taking gas through negligence and converting gas (knowingly taking it) were separate acts at separate times, not involving the same gas. Thus, the jury awarded money for both actions.

As a result, the amounts awarded for each of the two acts of wrong-doing stood separately.

Interest was set at 10%. Lone Star attorneys did not say if an

Gosney's to leave retail business

By Griffin B. Cole
DRN Editor

It is said that familiarity breeds contempt, yet in a town the size of Sonora familiarity is more a sign of hominess and comfort.

For Sonora residents the store at the corner of Concho and Main streets with its cursive Gosney's on the wall has been a sign of that comfort since 1974.

Bill and Mary Gosney have decided to retire and Gosney's will close its doors soon.

For 17 years the Gosney's have been supplying the staples in clothing, shoes and other items to Sonora residents.

"It's been a pleasure," said Bill about doing business in Sonora for such an extended time.

What is really unique about Gosney's is that people seem to feel right at home. I have conducted many interviews in Bill's office in the back (being Mayor of Sonora, interviews are not a rarity) and rarely has it been just the two of us.

It seemed as if I met half of Sonora in Gosney's store.

The Gosney's purchased the store in 1974 from Carol Ratliff the sister of Tom Ratliff. Bill said

Carol purchased the store from her brother in the mid 1960s after he had opened it in the 1940s.

Managing the store at the time of the Gosney purchase was Sadie Archer and also working there was Josie Sanchez.

"(Josie) and Sadie both came with the store," said Bill. It was a good deal as Josie continues to work there and Sadie worked until 1980.

Bill said, like any business Gosney's had its ups and downs, but the key was always the lots of good people in Sonora.

Preseason workouts begin Monday for Sonora Broncos

By Griffin B. Cole
DRN Editor

Coming off their best season in almost two decades, the Sonora Broncos will begin preseason workouts Aug. 12.

Sonora head coach Bob Bellard is expecting about 75 students to turnout for the varsity and junior varsity teams.

"We have real good numbers coming up from the eighth-grade," explained the second-year coach who saw low numbers turn out last year at the freshmen level.

Overall, the numbers are up by about 15 kids over last year.

Providing the nucleus for the ball club will be 18 returning lettermen which Bellard hopes will take a good number of the starting spots. Yet, Bellard said the coaches will have to keep their eyes open to players who have matured during the off-season.

"What I see as the key is we (the coaches) don't go in so set and can't make adjustments (with the personnel)," said Bellard.

The first four days of two-a-days will be without pads and will be a critical time for the players.

During the first four days, Bellard said the players will learn all the offenses and defenses for the entire year.

The most popular teaching technique of coaches is to put in parts of the offense and defense and then perfect them before moving onto something else. Bellard prefers to teach it all in the first four days and then going back and perfecting them.

The first Friday of two-a-days will mark the first time players will don the pads and helmets. After that, another week of practice before the first scrimmage which will be held Aug. 23 at Bronco Stadium against Wall.

The scrimmage will start at 6 p.m. with the junior varsity and varsity will follow.

Sonora is coming off its first playoff appearance since 1980.

Among other folk

It's really amazing how Texas keeps offering so many new and exciting things to my obviously sheltered life. The latest was the Texas Folklife Festival in San Antonio last weekend.

Marking its 20th year of celebrating the different cultures that helped settle Texas, the Folklife Festival has gained a new annual visitor.

Jim Stephen is the first person who really steered me toward the Festival. Jim is a participant and said it is something that should not be missed. And not only because he is in it.

Jim's main point was that it gives an entirely new image of what Texas is really about. At least I think that was his point.

Basically the Festival is a feast of foods and entertainment from nationalities that settled here. It is also an education, though that might not be realized because of all the fun.

Jim, Jimmy Cahill and Monte Jones all represented portions of Sonora in the part called the Back 40, which is most fitting. It is fitting not because Sonora is behind the times, but because of the life style which formed this region and still has an influence.

Monte Jones was on stage as Biscuits O'Bryan, his character which he has popularized through the Covered Wagon Dinner Theater and various speaking engagements.

I caught him in the middle of the afternoon when it was about 100 degrees and there were quite a few children sitting in the shade of the tarp which extended to the stage.

Playing splendidly to his audience, Monte told a story about making homemade ice cream.

Some of the vendors had to be pleased, as there was no doubt a rush toward the ice cream stands once Monte's performance was through.

Far from being behind the times, Jimmy Cahill had a booth which displayed the mohair industry of this region. It was the first year for Jimmy and he attracted a lot of attention from the wandering folks.

Located just a couple booths from Jimmy was Jim Stephen. Unlike Jimmy, Jim is in his 10th year at the festival displaying his building of muzzleloading guns.

Whenever I cruised around the areas where Sonora was represented, there was a crowd.

On Monday morning I joined in a conversation with Lolabeth Jones about the upcoming Western Heritage Week, that was my mistake.

I mentioned how I was ready with my cowboy hat and boots and Lolabeth said, "Now if you can just get rid of that stupid accent."

She was just kidding. She was, she was, she was. I think. At least she said she was kidding.

From the, wasted dollars department there is this little story.

I visited Midland over the weekend and stopped at a place with some friends to do a little dancing.

Just getting off several weeks of dance lessons I was full of confidence. So, I asked a friend to dance and off to the floor we headed.

By the time the song was over she had sworn she would never dance with me again.

Fortunately there is one lesson left.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Taxpayer,

Are you aware that some of our County Commissioners are considering hiking their salaries to almost twice what they are getting now?

Comm. Barrera made the motion and Comm. Keel seconded the proposed increase, with Villanueva voting for and Wade voting against it.

The proposed pay hike is based on information compiled by Mr. Barrera on what other counties pay their Comm. I personally am not interested in what other counties can afford to pay, and hope a few more of you out there feel the same way.

Our Comm. are currently paid $466 per month, not to mention paid hospitalization, and have 2 scheduled meetings a month. That's over $200 a meeting. This increase would up their pay to $800 a month.

Our county employees, including the Sheriff's Dept. have not had a raise in five years and elected officials haven't had one in 7 years. It's my opinion that if there's extra money in the budget, it should go to these folks. If you feel the same way, let your Comm. know.

Dear Editor,

The scanner was on. I am not much for back patting, but it is in order to give the officer a good citizen award for the way he helped the people whom he thought were on the low on the cash side. At about 2 to 2:30 a. m. Monday morning he called the dispatcher and asked her if she would call a motel for a room for them.

He seemed real serious in the way he was trying to help. Their car broke down near Chavarria Store on 277 S.

I do not know how things turned out, although it sure was a good deed for the day.

The country can use more like him.

H. E. D.

Verdict

appeal is planned, but they did order a complete transcript of the trial.

The civil case was the longest in the 100-year history of Sutton County.

The case, beginning on June 3, resulted in a verdict on July 26, just minutes after midnight, and final disposition was completed on the last day of July.

The case against Lone Star concerned a bypass line and valve that had been installed 13 years ago. The system, with the valve open, allowed an estimated 40% of the gas from the Miers' B lease to go around the pay meter and into Lone Star's pipeline.

The case in Sutton County was the second involving the bypass line and at least two others have been filed for litigation.

The discovery of the bypass line was the result of an investigation of the field's records for a "take or pay" dispute between Noel Pautsky, the major owner of Oakridge Energy and Lone Star, along with its affiliates.

Pautsky had established the field originally, but sold Lone Star a half interest in the wells in order to complete the field and deliver the gas.

This gave Lone Star and Enserch Exploration, Inc. control of the field. Both companies (under the corporate umbrella of Enserch Corporation) were in total control of the field. They operated the field, metered the gas, transmitted the gas, and marketed the gas.

Pautsky's investigation anticipated a "take or pay" fight led to many questions that indicated that something was wrong in the Oakridge field.

During his investigation, Pautsky faced numerous obstacles. He lacked money for investigators and had to do much of the work himself.

While trying to figure out what was wrong in the field, he was visiting the Oakridge plant in Edwards County and was bitten by a rattlesnake. He spent time in the Sonora Hospital, but returned to the field later to discover the bypass system.

Pautsky continued his investigation and in December of 1988, he and his petroleum engineer, Mike Claiborne, found the bypass valve and literally uncovered the bypass system.

Pautsky, a 72-year-old oil man, was in bankruptcy when Lone Star settled the lawsuit brought by his company, Oakridge Energy.

The suit was settled in June 1990 in Wichita Falls.

Lone Star agreed to pay Oakridge $20 million, sell the wells back for $3.5 million, buy gas from the field for $3 per MCF for 10 years, and agreed to an 80 percent monthly "take or pay" clause.

The wells bought back will pay out in less than two years, and the spot market for gas is around $1 per MCF. The settlement also allows Oakridge to sell the gas to another market if the price exceeds $3.

The agreement was reached with a jury in place, just hours before testimony was to begin in Wichita Falls.

Testifying in Sonora, the Chief Executive Officer of Lone Star Gas Company, explained the settlement to Oakridge as a calculated business decision. He told how he negotiated the settlement because he felt that Pautsky would have a jury's sympathy and damages might be excessive.

The CEO said that the decision to settle was based upon the cost to the company and not upon the company's guilt or innocence.

Lone Star chose to wage the two-month battle in Sutton County because the plaintiffs in this case are an affluent ranching family.

The bypass line, the bypass valve, and the gas stolen were the same in both cases. In the Oakridge case the Pautsky family had a working interest in the wells, and in the Miers' case the family had a royalty interest.

David Biegler, the CEO of Lone Star, was the head of engineering for this division when the gas bypass system was installed.

Internal accounting records of the company indicated that Biegler had authorized the funds for the purchase and installation of the system. Biegler swore that he knew nothing about the bypass system.

When asked to locate the bypass system on a scale model in the courtroom using a Lone Star map, Biegler could find two of the points, but refused to find the third point.

Biegler stepped back and testified that he could not read a pipe map.

As president of Lone Star Gas Company, he considered this case important enough to spend almost a week in Sonora as a witness. He also returned to hear the final arguments of the attorneys.

During the week following the jury's verdict in Sonora, Enserch Corporation announced another promotion for David Biegler.

At age 44, he has just been named Chief Operating Officer of Enserch Corporation and was appointed a director and member of the board of Enserch Corporation. Enserch does business in three major areas.

The first is Lone Star Gas Company, a business devoted to the transmission of natural gas. The second is Enserch Exploration, Inc., an international firm involved in the exploration and production of gas and oil. The third company is Ebasco, a construction and engineering firm, that operates internationally and often builds nuclear plants as well as petroleum installations.

Biegler is now second only to the Enserch CEO in corporate power.

Enserch and Biegler are not through with problems arising from the bypass line and valve. Litigation involving an over-ride interest of the Pautsky's grandchildren is upcoming.

Further charges are on the docket in Edwards County for September of 1992.

This suit involves the same corporate defendants and charges Biegler personally with fraud. The plaintiffs in the Rocksprings case are the Wallace family (George, Martha, and Jeri).

The Miers' family felt victorious in that the jury did uphold their contention that gas had been stolen. The decision however will allow Lone Star to pass the entire damage award along to the consumer as "cost of gas".

If the money had been designated as punitive or exemplary damages, the assessment would have come from corporate profits.

Who is my neighbor? - Luke 10:25-37

The lawyer who came to Jesus, seeking assurance of eternal life, was not about to challenge the divine summary of the Ten Commandments: "Love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your life and with all your strength and with all your mind, and your neighbor like yourself." And he knew that his fellow experts in the Law couldn't challenge his love for God, because he said the right words, went through the right motions, and led a very respectable kind of life. But there was a point where the genuineness of his faith could be challenged. The "love your neighbor" part stopped him cold, so that he had only 1 recourse: "And who is my neighbor?"

It's hard to say whether or not Jesus' answer surprised the lawyer, but His parable of the Good Samaritan is a revealing and judgmental condemnation upon much that goes under the name of Christianity today. It tends to make much of our assumed or professed Piety seem less than genuine. Of course, as long as we say the right words and belong to the right church, our faith cannot be disproved by our fellow human beings. But the parable of the Good Samaritan pins us to the wall and demands that we 'Put Up or Shut Up'!

There's no question about God's great salvation to eternal life - received by faith through His loving gift in the life, death, and resurrection of His Son, Jesus Christ. However, it is not enough to just say the right words - like "Christ is Lord" or "I love You, Jesus". There must be total commitment, placing ourselves at God's disposal and presenting our bodies as living sacrifices (Romans 12:1). Thus it is not mere words but an act of the will. And the only way we can act in this way toward the Invisible God is to commit ourselves to the needs of our Visible neighbor.

"And who is my neighbor"? Jesus gives us the answer - loudly and clearly! Every human being is our neighbor - regardless of color, background, or social status. May God in His grace deliver us from the bigotry and prejudice that taints our soul and teach us how to love our fellow human beings - as He has loved us in the greatest Good Samaritan of all history, Jesus Christ.

1991 Property Tax Rates In Sutton County

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for all taxing units in Sutton County with the exception of Sonora I.S.D. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Keeping you posted from the post

by Carole Thorp

Carole's Corner - Recent events have spurred me to write a few lines about all the Sonorans who have crossed into the "Great Beyond" this last week. There must be some kind of civic meeting or fishing trip going on to inspire all these folks to get together!

Most special to me, of course, was Lunetta Morgan. She may have been Steve's aunt, but she always made me feel welcome and loved. She never mentioned Steve's old girlfriends or compared me to others. Instead, the first time I met her she gave me a recipe for German Chocolate Cake. Said she'd been making Steve's birthday cakes for years, but now I could start. Well I didn't make very many cakes from scratch but I made a few and I felt like Lunetta put a lot of trust in me with that recipe.

Lunetta never had her own kids, but she spent hours teaching Sunday School, leading Cub Scouts, teaching Steve to play golf and guiding kids of all ages through life. I only knew her for 18 short years, but I'm sure glad to have had the privilege. We'll miss her.

Volunteers Deserve Cheers! - A BIG thank you to all the volunteers who have been helping us keep things functioning here. Recent staff shortages coupled with vacations have really put a bite on our time! Luckily we've had Nell Wallace, Pat Street, Elsa Trevino, Maria Trevino, Mary Lou Gilly, Maria Dominguez, Eloisa Gamez, Eulojia Flores, Rosa Galindo, Dorothy Baker and our newest volunteer, Sandra Adamson to pick up the slack! You too can be a Volunteer! Community service isn't just a form of punishment for errant baseball players! Try it - You might like it!

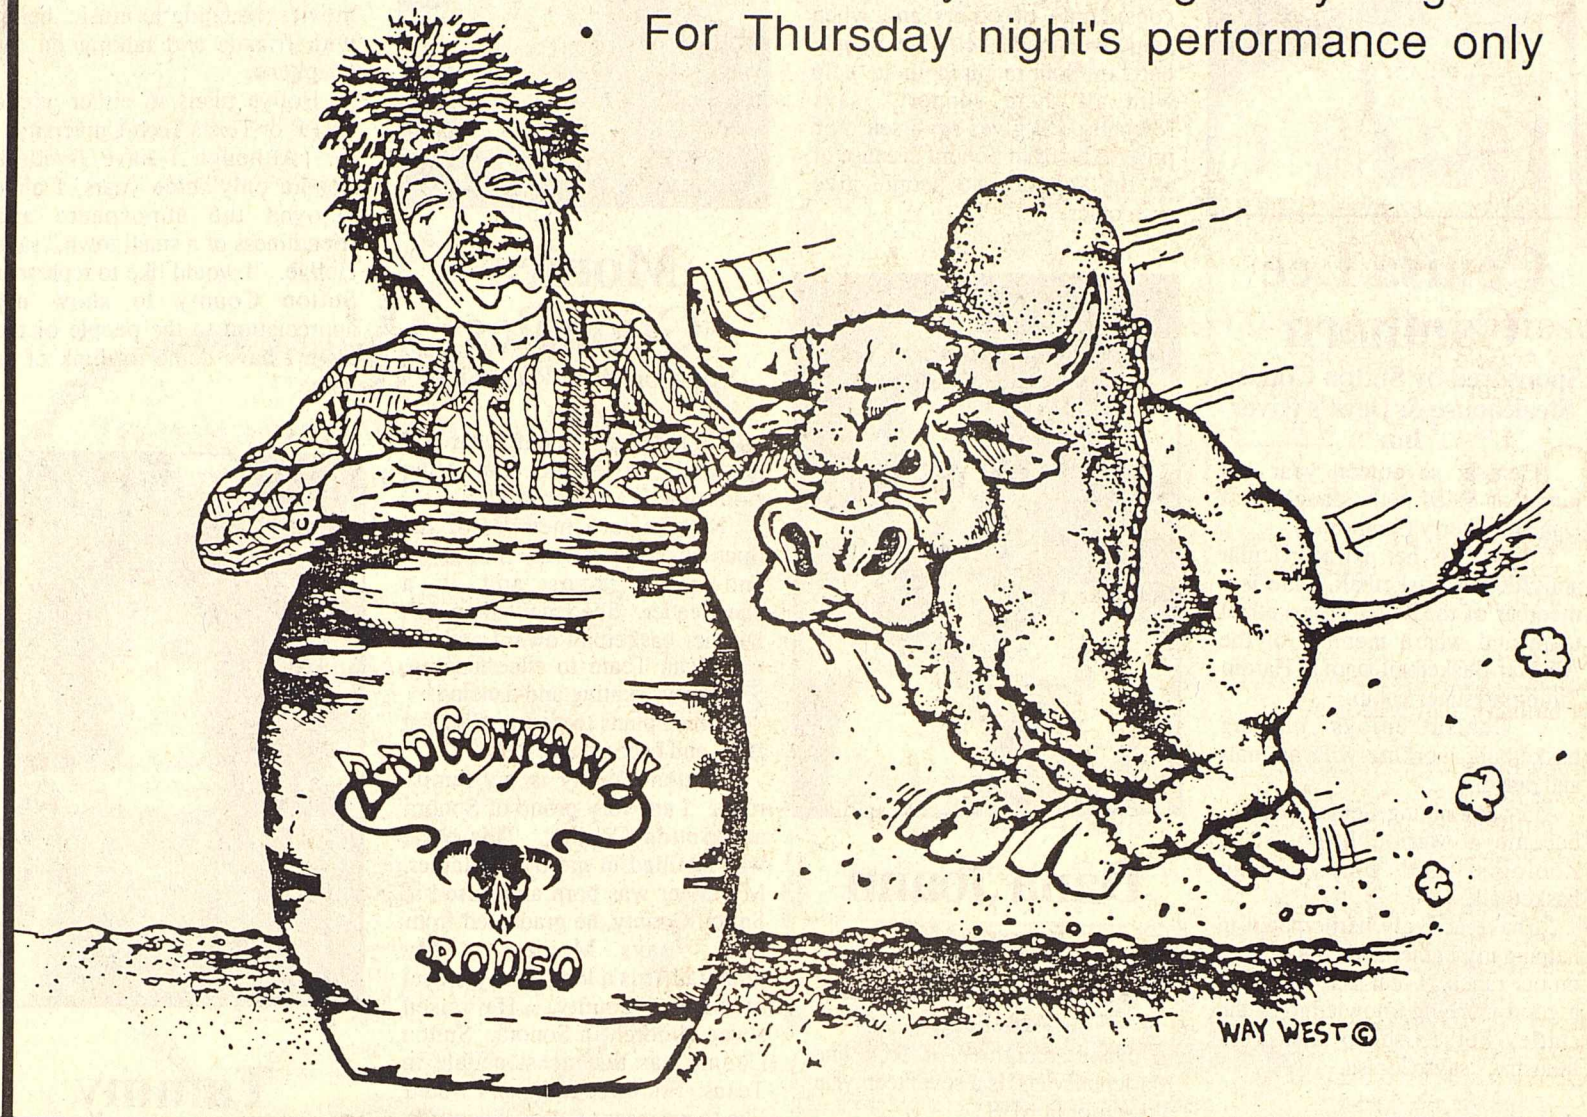

Senior Companions - The senior companion program has finally taken off here in Sonora! We now have Maria Leija, Petra Gonzales, Dolores Salinas, and Rosa Galindo serving as companions for homebound and isolated fellow senior citizens. Each companion receives a small stipend and expenses while on the job. The program provides enrichment for all involved.

The Backdoor Express - The What?! The Backdoor Express, that's what! Or Who, would be more like it. We caught this act at the Covered Wagon Dinner Theater July 26th and enjoyed them so much that we begged them to come sing and play for us here at the center. They finally

San Angelo Sojourns - This month's trip to San Angelo takes place on August 20. Be sure to sign up with Gina by August 16th and remember these trips are on a first come, first serve basis. Of course medical appointments receive preferential treatment. The trips of late have included some exciting adventures and so far we haven't had an "M. I. A."s (that's Missing in Angelo!)

Sutton County Days - We have big plans for our float as well as our fundraiser and we need you!

We want to encourage everyone to participate in all of the activities and remember to dress Western the week of the 19th. Since we're having our fundraiser on the 23rd, everyone will be free to enjoy Saturday's activities (or work for some other group!) If you want to ride on our float, sign the sheet on the bulletin board or ask Gina or Carole to put your name down. The more the merrier. We want to recoup that 1st Place Trophy this year!

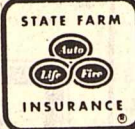

Birthdays for August - Virginia Driskell, Beulah Whitlock, Jesus Noriega, Jr., Pauline Luttrell, Louisa Gonzales, Felipa Berlanga, Manuela San Miguel, Juanita Chavez, Melvin Glasscock and Juan Lozano. Remember the Birthday Party will be August 27.

Card of thanks

We have been deeply touched by the kindness and concern shown to us by so many people in and around Sonora. We really appreciate the prayers, food, flowers, memorial contributions, cards, and visits by so many people. Especially, we are grateful to Dr. Pajestka and to all the people at the hospital who worked so tirelessly with Herman during his heart attack.

We have tried to personally acknowledge the flowers, food, and memorials but because of the overwhelming number of tributes, we may have inadvertently overlooked someone. If that is the case, please accept our apologies.

Sincerely,
The Herman Moore Family

Fireman's corner

Six members of the Sonora Volunteer Fire Department recently attended a Fire Training session at Texas A&M University. One member of the Sonora Police Department also attended.

Courses taken were: Rick Cearly, Firefighting II; Carl Teaff, Fire Prevention VIII; Louis Olenick, Inst. on Ventilation Procedures; Kyle Donaldson, Inst. on Warehouse Fires; Matt Davis-Method of Teaching; Marty Lipham-Firefighting I; and Brent Gesch, Fire Prevention I.

The department would like to thank the Downtown Lion's Club, West Texas Utilities, and the Texas Farm Bureau for the contributions to help cover the costs of this school. The Sonora Volunteer Fire Department strives to be front runners in Fire education and training to be sure that no matter what type of situation arises, we can handle it safely, quickly and efficiently.

FIRE EXTINGUISHER RECALL

The Texas State Board of Insurance has issued a letter in which a Fire Extinguisher recall was included. These include brand names America La France, model numbers P250MA and P275RA. Also BECO, model number P250. These extinguishers have been manufactured since 1985. One hundred of these have reportedly exploded under normal conditions. If you have one of the extinguishers please call toll free 1-800-922-3499 for information on what to do with it.

The SVFD would like to stress the importance of a fire extinguisher in the home. For a small amount of money a fire extinguisher can keep a small, isolated fire from taking your entire home away from you. Buy one or two, install them and be sure that everyone in the home knows how to use it. It may be an old saying but, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" still holds true when talking about fire prevention safety.

Alishia Scheidemann attends Lions camp

Alishia Scheidemann, 10, the daughter of Lisa L. Pajestka, of Sonora, recently attended the Texas Lions Camp in Kerrville. Sponsored by the Sonora Lions Club, the camper rode horses, went swimming and even camped out under the stars while enjoying fun and fellowship with other children.

Located on 500 acres of beautiful hill country, the camp serves children who are visually or hearing impaired or have physical disabilities, ages 7 through 16. Camp programs are adapted, if necessary, so that everyone may participate. A well-trained staff supervises each camp activity at a ratio of one counselor to two campers.

The Texas Lions Camp is a nonprofit organization funded by generous individuals interested in providing challenging programs for handicapped youth. This service is provided free of charge to eligible children.
