Artists and Wild Women slated for Theater

David Carraway is a free-lance artist who has designed numerous logos for businesses and individuals. One of his most notable designs was an anti-crime poster done for the national Market Basket Food Store chain. The posters were produced by Elite Productions and distributed to businesses and malls.

Carraway will be exhibiting his artwork during the Covered Wagon Dinner Theater Saturday night at the Caverns of Sonora.

In 1987 Carraway paved the way for artists who designed posters for the North Louisiana Catfish Festival to retain the rights to the posters, and the Festival would market the prints for the artist. Carraway won the Festival poster competition and the prints of his poster are still marketed throughout North Louisiana.

For the past 14 years Carraway has taught private art lessons in perspective, glazing and mixing color in oil. As an artist, he enjoys many different types of subject matter and works in oil, pen and ink, and watercolor and pencil color. Carraway's works will be on display at the Tom Green Library during June and July this summer. He is currently serving as the Vice President of West Texas Art Guild.

Ron Nicholas will also be exhibiting his artwork during the festivities Saturday night.

As a graduate of Sul Ross University, Nicholas holds a Master of Education degree in art education. For the past 10 years he has taught art in the Sonora Independent School District where he developed and instituted a career oriented art course which focused on giving students marketable job skills.

Nicholas is a member of the Associations of Texas Professional Educators, and Kappa Delta Pi. Nicholas coordinated the community art exhibit for Sutton County Days in 1991 and 1992. In addition to belonging to the Southwestern Watercolor Society and The San Antonio Watercolor Group, he is currently President of the West Texas Art Guild. ## Freelance Philosophy

by G.C. "Country" Smith

I overheard a conversation between two local ranchers.

One guy said to the other, "Did you hear about Brown making $30,000 on a gold mine?"

The second rancher leaned back and said, "First, it was $80,000 not $30,000. Second, it was an oil well not a gold mine. And third, He didn't make it. HE LOST IT."

Now, no matter how hard folks try, there always seems to be a bit of confusion in human communication. We are still like we were when we were in the third grade, playing "gossip." What the last person hears is nothing at all like what the first person says.

I think that there may be several reasons for this phenomenon. Some people just misunderstand. Other people like to add a little embellishment. And some people just like to lie. I wish that this wasn't the case, but the truth is that not everyone speaks with accuracy, correctness, factualness, genuineness, indubitableness, frankness and honesty. Some folks lie.

Sometimes it is not easy to know what to believe. But after we have learned the truth about some folks, we would well heed the words of that old cowboy, Aristippus, "You can best reward a liar by believing nothing of what he says."

*Until the next time,
May God Bless,

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

In the Bible, in the New Testament in Mark 10:30-37 we read about the Good Samaritan. This was one of Jesus lessons on been a good neighbor. This happened more than 2,000 years ago.

Well, it happened in Sonora on Friday, June 18, 1993. A family of 11 was having a bad time. Their car broke down and they all had to walk all over Sonora to baseball games, library, grocery store, in the the hot sun or rain. We live on the highest hill on the West side. It was real hard to climb with groceries. We used the transportation bus sometimes, but walked, which is great exercise, but not in the hot sun or with all the mosquitoes waiting. Having been without a car for a while was getting to us. Well, this person offered the whole family a ride after the baseball game was called off because of rain. He didn't think about all the mud on the children's shoes or the wet clothes. He just brought us home.

Next day (Friday) he came to the house and talked about a car his father-in-law had. He took it upon himself to get the car, sticker, change of title, and insurance. When we asked how much we owed him, he said "Oh, nothing, it's a gift from me and my family." He was also our son's coach for the minor league. Our son had never played before, but this same man taught him well and has promises of being a good baseball player in the near future.

This man will be leaving Sonora soon, but where he is going, they don't know what a great man they are getting. Sonora will lose a great man, but he will always be remembered by his care and the love he gave. This man is Bob Jackson. He was a good Samaritan not only to one person, but to a family of 11. God bless you, Mr. Jackson as you and your loved ones go to plant love in another part of the U. S. A. Our prayers are that Our Lord God will protect and keep you all under his loving care. God bless your father-in-law, too.

You see Mrs. Editor, even in our time we have good samaritans. The Good Lord God is the same yesterday, today and yes, even tomorrow. This was truly a gift from heaven. God Bless You, too.

Thank you,
The Ruben Yorba Family

American Cancer Society says 80% of some cancers curable

Sixty years ago, few people had any hope of long-term survival against cancer. We were virtually defenseless.

Thanks to the American Cancer Society' that's changed, our game plan emphasizes the fact that 80% of some cancers are not only defensible, but curable, if found and treated early.

Our strategy includes programs like "Special Touch," a woman's personal defense plan against breast cancer that could double the number of potentially lifesaving mammograms performed each year.

Call America's number one defensive coordinator at 1-800-ACS-2345. Together we can deal cancer a blow.

THERE'S NOTHING MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD.

Local trustees complete school board governance training June 18-19

Michelle Anderson, Board Secretary, Sam David Hernandez, Vice President and Jesse Bustamante, Board Member of Sonora Independent School District, joined hundreds of experienced school board members from across the state for in-depth training on school board management at the Texas Association of School Boards (TASB) Summer Leadership Institute (SLI) June 18-19.

The training was conducted by national convention parliamentarian and former Drake University provost John Ericson, who instructed board members on leading and controlling the board meeting process. Participants learned how to manage controversial situations, how to communicate more effectively with fellow board members, and how to deal with disruptive audiences.

"A lot of a school boards' credibility in the community hinges on the professionalism and effectiveness of its meeting," said Mary Stolp, SLI coordinator. "Maintaining orderly meetings is critical to a board's public image, and it also saves the board's time and energy for more productive activities," she added.

Board members also attended group sessions to discuss concerns and exchange ideas on budgeting, community relations, strategic planning, multicultural consensus building, gangs and violence, and technology. TASB governmental staff also offered a legislative briefing to explain the current finance situation impacting school district funding, management, and operations.

SLI is an annual conference that provides new board members with immediate training following the May school board elections and provides experienced board members with current information and practices about key concerns facing Texas school districts.

TASB is a voluntary, nonprofit association established more than 40 years ago to serve local Texas school districts. The Association represents the largest group of publicly elected officials in the state and includes 1,055 school districts and county school boards, 43 junior colleges, 62 tax appraisal districts, 58 cooperatives, 68 county education districts, and the 20 education service centers.

Texas school districts have a combined annual budget of $15 billion and employ more than 400,000 people.

Appraisal board to hear protests

Property owners in the Sutton County Appraisal District will have an opportunity to protest proposed appraisals of their property for local taxes. The district's appraisal review board (ARB) will begin hearing taxpayers protests on July 7 and July 13.

After the ARB concludes its hearings and approves final property appraisals, local governments will use these appraisals to assess property taxes for 1993.

The ARB is a group of citizens who live in the appraisal district and who are appointed by the district's directors. Their responsibilities are outlined by the Texas Constitution, which requires that property be appraised equally and uniformly and that exemptions and productivity appraisal be properly granted.

Property owners may appeal before the ARB to protest any of the following appraisal office actions:

- *the appraised or agricultural value of the property;
- *unequal appraisal of the taxpayer's property compared to other property in the district;
- *inclusion of the property on the appraisal records;
- *denial of a partial exemption, such as a homestead exemption;
- *determination that agricultural or timber land has had a change of use and is subject to a rollback tax;

*determination that agricultural or timber land has had a change of use and is subject to a rollback tax;

*identification of the taxing unit or units in which the property is located;

*determination that the taxpayer is the owner of the property;

*any other action of the appraisal office that adversely affects the property owner.

Rex Ann Friess, chief appraiser for the district, outlined the steps by which a property owner files a protest. First, the property owner must file a written notice of protest with the ARB. The taxpayer must file this notice by May 31 or within 30 days after the appraisal district mails the taxpayer a notice of appraised value, whichever date is later.

However, if the ARB sends a property owner a notice of any other kind of change in the appraisal records, or if the chief appraiser issues a notice for a property omitted in the prior year, the property owner has 30 days from the mailing date to file a protest.

Official forms for a notice of protest are available at the appraisal district office. A letter from the taxpayer is also acceptable as long as it identifies the property owner and the property that is the subject of the protest and indicates dissatisfaction with some decision or action of the appraisal office.

Each protesting property owner may offer evidence or argument, either in person or by filing an affidavit with the ARB. Property owners should be aware that the ARB has no authority over tax rates or spending and will not hear protests on those matters.

The ARB will schedule hearings as property owners file protests and will inform them of the time, date and place of their individual hearings at least 15 days before the hearing date.

First National Bank of Sonora named as SBA Certified Lender

Mr. Rodney Martin, District Director of the U. S. Small Business Administration's (SBA's) San Antonio District office announced that two area banks, First National Bank of Sonora and TCB-San Angelo, have been named as SBA Certified Lenders under a pilot program developed by the San Antonio District and designed for lenders located in rural areas.

The purpose of the program is to encourage rural banks to become more involved in SBA lending and to provide the rural small business community access to the streamlined loan processing of SBA guaranteed loans enjoyed by urban small businesses.

According to the Sonora bank president John Childers, "the SBA lending program allows our bank to offer terms more attractive to smaller business owners than might otherwise be granted. The customers have greater utilization of their cash flow and the bank has the additional support of the SBA guaranty."

Harlan Bruha, director of Angelo State University's Small Business Development Center, predicted the certification received by Texas Commerce and the Sonora bank would result in an increase in SBA loan activity in the Concho Valley.

"I think we ought to see an increase in the number of SBA loans made not just by these, but all the banks," Bruha said. "As more loans are made all the banks are going to become more proficient in preparing SBA loan applications."

Under the Rural Bank Certification Program, the bank need submit only 5 loan applications per year, half of the requirement of their urban bank counterparts. To qualify, a lender must be located in a non-urban area; show the desire and the ability to serve the credit needs of the small business community; have a satisfactory history of submitting complete, accurate, and well analyzed guaranty loan applications; and, have a guaranty loan repurchase rate of ten (10%) percent or less.

Martin said, "We hope this program is an incentive for rural banks to provide more SBA guaranteed loans to our rural small business community in this era of tight credit."

Further information on the program can be obtained by calling (210) 229-4502 in San Antonio, First National Bank in Sonora at (915) 387-3861 or the Small Business Development Center in San Angelo at (915) 942-2098.

4-H Wildlife camp scheduled for July 14-16

Tracking by footprints and sign, plus tracking by radio telemetry. This is a complete contrast of the old and the new, the Old West and the new high-tech. Students will learn about both techniques in the 4-H Wildlife Camp to be held in Alpine from July 14 to 16. This is a new activity which is designed to give participants new experiences and understanding about native Texas wildlife.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, through its 4-H program, is sponsoring this unique camp. Highly qualified specialists from the Extension Service, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Soil Conservation Service, and private wildlife experts will be instructors. Sites to be visited will include Elephant Mountain Wildlife Area, Sul Ross State University property, and private ranchland.

Mountain lion behavior, quail and turkey habitat, and rangeland ecology are a few of the topics for the Camp. Activities will include habitat judging, making a wildlife management plan, and practicing wildlife photography. An evening campfire supper in the mountains will be followed by an actual nighttime deer census conducted by campers.

Young people ages 14 to 19 are eligible to attend. Attendance is limited to only 30, so registrations should be completed very soon. More information on the Wildlife Camp or registration details can be obtained by calling Brewster County Extension Agent Logan Boswell.

Milk "Myth-Information"

Some foods, milk in particular, have been the target of many modern-day myths. These myths and old-wives tales persist partly because of a lack of education, and partly because of our need for simple, easy answers in a complex world. Take the following quiz to find out if you are myth-informed about milk:

1. Does warm milk induce sleep?

While much remains to be learned about the influence of milk and food in general on sleep, cow's milk is alleged to induce sleep. It is the tryptophan in milk, an essential amino acid, that is thought to be responsible for this effect. Tryptophan is a precursor of the brain transmitter, serotonin, which scientific evidence suggests has sedative properties. However, there's really a very small amount of tryptophan in a glass of milk, so it may be psychological -- milk as a "comfort food" that helps a person relax.

2. Is buttermilk high in fat?

The name "buttermilk" is a misnomer; it is actually low in fat and calories. Its thickness does not come from butter, but from the lactic acid that is added to either low-fat or skim milk to produce a "culture." This bacterial growth coagulates some of the milk protein, resulting in a pleasantly tart milk with a characteristic buttery flavor and smooth, thick body.

3. Should I avoid milk when I have a cold?

Some people believe that eliminating milk from their diet when they have a cold will alleviate stuffiness. Although it is commonly thought that milk and dairy products produce mucus, findings to date have failed to support this effect. There is no reason, therefore, for cold sufferers to eliminate milk and other dairy foods from their diets.

4. Should athletes avoid milk before competition?

Some coaches and athletes still believe that milk consumed before a competition causes "cottonmouth," loss of endurance, stomach upset and constipation. However, cottonmouth is usually caused by emotional stress and fluid loss. Insufficient oxygen, not milk intake, is responsible for the muscle fatigue. The stomach upset sometimes associated with milk may occur because of emotional stress prior to competition. Finally, there is no evidence that milk is constipating when consumed in normal amounts. Emotional stress, drugs such as antacids, and the misuse of laxatives are usually the culprit.

5. Does milk promote acne?

There is no medical proof that any specific food causes acne. In fact, most dermatologists believe that diet has little effect on this skin disorder. Several other factors, including genetic susceptibility, skin type, hormone activity and exposure to environmental pollutants are usually to blame. Acne also can be aggravated by excessive heat, friction and stress.

6. Isn't milk just for kids?

Your body goes through many stages during life, but it always needs calcium. Ninety-nine percent of the calcium in your body is in your bones and teeth. The other one percent is used for your heart to beat, for your muscles to contract and relax, for your blood to clot, and for your nerves to transmit messages. Since your body can't make its own calcium, it's up to you to supply it. Two to three servings of milk or other dairy foods are recommended daily for adults over 25. Pregnant and nursing women should consume four servings daily. When all is said and done, many adults continue to enjoy the fresh, natural attributes of milk just for the taste of it.

The property owner will also receive a copy of the State Comptroller's pamphlet entitled Texas Property Taxes: Taxpayer's Rights, Remedies & Responsibilities and a copy of the ARB's procedures.

State law requires the ARB to review and approve the appraisal records by July 20, or when not more than 5 percent of the total property value in the district remains under protest.

Property owners protesting their valuation should not attempt to contact ARB members outside the hearing, the chief appraiser stressed. Each ARB member must sign an affidavit stating that no such contact has occurred with a property owner or the appraisal office staff before the scheduled hearing.

Texas Property: Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies & Responsibilities is available at the Sutton County Appraisal District office. For a copy, contact the appraisal district staff at 300 Oak St. or call 387-2809.

Golf scramble held June 17

First place team in the golf scramble held on Thursday, June 17, 1993, at the Sonora Golf Course included DeVoe Smith, John Adams, Kyle Nunn, Buddy Brown, and Shelly Shannon with a seven under par.

The second place team included Mike McBride, John Casparis, Jr., James Edmondson, Jady Webster and Tressa Henson after a putt-off with the team of Primo Gonzales, Steve Suraut, John Casparis, Sr., and Wayne Sawyer, both teams with a score of six under par. Primo Gonzales team also won the skins.

The winner of dinner for two from Rosie's Cafe this week for closest to the pin on hole no. 9 was Jerry Northcott.

Golf Auxiliary holds meeting June 16

The Sonora Golf Auxiliary met on Wednesday, June 16, 1993, at the Sutton County Steakhouse.

Treasurer Lauri Smith gave a report on the profit made by the Auxiliary during the Two-Lady Tournament in May and the burrito sales during the 3-Man Tournament earlier this month. President Tressa Henson thanked everyone who helped during both tournaments and again explained that any profits made are put back into the golf course in the way of improvements.

Tressa also announced that Sonic had donated the cups for ice tea for the tournaments. She also thanked those who helped paint the kitchen. Thanks also to Tressa for laying the new floor. The kitchen looks great!

The Auxiliary voted to purchase an additional roaster (a total of two) for the kitchen as they are both badly needed. There are also utensils and kitchen necessities needed. A list is posted on the bulletin board at the Golf Club if members will please check the list of items needed and donate any items they might have in their own kitchens that they might can spare or contact Vicky Barker at 387-5451 or Tressa Henson at 387-5601 if you need further information.

The possibility of a scholarship fund was discussed for a graduating member of the girl's golf team as well as the purchase of a canopy to be used at the beverage stand during tournaments.

The Auxiliary will also be furnishing cookies and drinks at the Junior Golf Tournament on July 10.

Hostesses for the meeting were Irene Casillas and Benita Martinez. Members present were Irene Casillas, Sue Moore, Becky Covington, Lauri Smith, Ebbie Sutton, Poochie Olson, Vicky Barker, Tressa Henson, Janell Sparks, Tracey Ferguson, Joyce Casparis, Mary Lou Hudman, Michelle Krieg, Becky York, Juanita McBride and Margaret Cascadden.

Prior to the selection, Boomer and Danielle Galindo and Claire Thorp passed out kisses (candy that is!) to all attendees and Carole Thorp read an original Father's Day poem.

As Senior Father of the year, Mr. Mendez received a haircut from Sam's Barber Shop, a cap from Creek Swabbing, car polish from Sonora Auto Parts, a mug from Westerman Drug, Pizza from Sonora Pizza Hut and a $20 gift certificate from Location Builders.

Pete Thompson was runner-up and he received a cap from Creek Swabbing.

Pape recognized by Texas Rural Development Coalition

Sonora City Manager John Pape is one of five city officials statewide to be recognized by the Texas Rural Development Coalition (TRDC) for outstanding leadership in promoting rural development initiatives during the Seventy-Third Regular Session of the Texas Legislature. As a result of these efforts, rural communities throughout Texas will be eligible to receive additional economic development assistance from state and federal sources.

In promoting rural development legislation, Pape proposed specific pieces of legislation, provided testimony before legislative committees, and personally met with House and Senate leaders. Additionally, the Sonora City Manager actively advocated legislation to assist rural areas in complying with state and federal water and solid-waste mandates, as well as other critical issues facing non-urban cities.

One of the most important programs resulting from the recently-approved legislation is the establishment of the Office of Rural Affairs (ORA) within the Texas Department of Commerce. The ORA will be responsible for giving direction to rural communities on how to tap into Department of Commerce programs, and act as a liaison to other funding sources. Additionally, the newly-created office will identify and address the specific needs of rural Texas communities.
