WHITTLIN'

BY DOLPH MOTEN

Editor-agitator Hubert Ellison bounced us out a while back about our unkind remarks about Veep Nixon's trip to Russia. Hubert, of course, allowed as how said trip was really all right and worthwhile.

However, we couldn't get in a real good political argument with him because it's been so long since we had an election that we've lost the touch of political arguing. It won't be long now, though, until we can get back in the swing with the big elections coming up next year.

Back to Hubert: At this early date, we're going to give him the benefit of the doubt and predict he will vote a sensible Democratic ticket in '60. He didn't tell us that. We just read between the lines in his conversation.

CAN YOU TOP THIS DEPARTMENT: Sid Killough, Bovina FFA'er, has a sow which gave birth to 17 pigs recently. Twelve of the litter still survive. We don't remember hearing of a larger litter, do you?

The Willie Williamses attended a family reunion in Amarillo Sunday. In a boost-Bovina effort, Willie took along a bushel of cantaloupes.

The folks there really enjoyed them, Willie reports, and a lady from Wichita Falls asked where she could obtain some like those. Said she couldn't get cantaloupes of that quality in Wichita Falls.

Willie sent the Bovina products home with her.

Bovina's fame as a cantaloupe country is growing. A little organized promotion now could add greatly to the individual work which has been done.

Frankly, we don't know if Bovina cantaloupes taste any better than anybody else's or not. But as long as folks think they do, that's all that matters.

According to a news release to The Blade from West Texas State College, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, maybe the next US president, will be speaker for WT's Golden Anniversary Convocation September 26. People of the Panhandle are invited to the program at 4:30 in the college's new 20,000 seat Buffalo Stadium.

If you like to get in on deals like that, we'll all but guarantee that Lyndon will tell you something worthwhile in his speech . . . and even if he doesn't he's a tremendous public speaker.

Maybe we listen to the wrong kind of radio programs, but it seems that songs today are about murder, death and such morbid things much more than they used to be.

Several years ago, we figured out that somebody had to get killed in a movie to make it entertaining and we even learned to accept the same idea with television. But seems to us, it is being carried too far when we have to have such a bunch of songs telling about how somebody got killed.

The hanging of Tom Dooley might have got us on that death singing kick . . . and that wasn't too bad, but we've gone from that to the ridiculous.

Incidentally, Kingston Trio has a Tom Dooley No. 2 out that tells how the rope for Tom's hanging was too long and he didn't get killed. We like that happy ending idea for a change. Makes a fellow have a brighter attitude about things in general.

And then there was the one about, "I don't care if he is Tom Dooley, get him down out of my tree."

If we knew anything to write about Khrushchev and his US visit which hasn't been written we'd write it.

You Texas Tech football fans best crow while you can about your win over the Fightin' Texas Aggies. Wait until next year when you get in the

WEATHER BY WILLIE

We are going to have a good rain before the next issue of The Blade. Some want it, others don't. I can't help that. The Great Architect of the universe still rules.

TROY ARMSTRONG'S CONDITION BETTER

Troy Armstrong underwent surgery at an Amarillo hospital Friday. His condition is reported to be improved slightly.

FIRST BALE--Johnny Horn, left, brought the first 1959 bale of cotton to Bovina for ginning last week. It was ginned at Joe M. Brown Gin. Horn was paid a premium price of 50 cents a pound. The cotton was stored at Western Warehouse

FIRST BALE--

Cotton Ginned Here Thursday

First cotton bale of 1959 was brought to Bovina Thursday. It came from Johnnie Horn farm eight miles north of Bovina.

The bale was ginned Thursday by Joe M. Brown Gin. Horn received 50 cents per pound for the cotton as a premium for bringing in the first bale. It weighed 672 pounds. Horn said the cotton from which the bale was picked received fairly heavy hail damage from the storms that wiped out most early cotton. He decided to leave the hattered crop and thinks it may produce as much as one and one-half bales per acre.

The cotton was watered twice in every other row.

Grade of the bale hasn't been determined but D. R. Bushnell, manager of Western Warehouse Co. said it was "a good bale of cotton."

It was stored at Western Warehouse.

FIRST ROAD GAME--

Mustangs Meet Amherst Friday

Amherst Bulldogs, sporting a 1-2 record so far this season and smarting from a 28-2 beating at the hands of the Happy Cowboys, loom as the foe in the Mustangs third game of the season.

The Bulldogs fell to the Cowboys in their last outing last Friday night and doubtless be out to even their record against the Mustangs Friday night in Amherst.

For the second week in a row, the Bovina squad escaped injury and will beat full strength for the contest if no injuries occur this week in practice.

Before the season began, Coach Bob Wills said he planned to have his team in better physical condition than usual and since practice began over a month ago the Mustangs have had lengthy conditioning drills, which seem to be paying off. In the first two games of the season, not a single Mustang has been shaken up enough to call time out. Against Farwell, the Bovina athletes seemed to become stronger in the second half.

The Amherst victory was a 28-12 win over Hart, a member of the conference the Mustangs

The booth was entered in Education Booth Division.

The display pointed out several practices which raise the grade of cotton. Supplementing the display were signs telling of good cotton practices and explaining why they were good.

Practices the booth encouraged were insect control, improvements in harvesting processes, and better methods of handling cotton from field to gin.

The booth was set up Saturday by Crawford and three freshmen FFA members, Wendol Davies, Earl Riley, and Laurence Krieger. Judging was done Monday.

This was the first time a Bovina booth had been entered in Tri-State Fair competition.

FRIDAY NOON --

Driver's Unhurt In Car Wreck

A two-car accident at the intersection of Highway 86 and 8th Street about noon Friday caused damage to both vehicles but no one was injured.

Investigating officers Don Tabor and Charles Burke of the Highway Patrol issued a ticket to Gene Edward Turner of Texico for illegal passing at an intersection. Patsy Richards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richards of Bovina, was issued a ticket for not having drivers license.

Both cars were going west on Highway 86 when the mishap occurred. The Turner car, a '54 Ford, crashed into the left rear fender of the Richards' auto, a '55 Chevrolet. Tire skid marks indicated Turner tried to avoid hitting the Richards car. Patsy Richards was attempting a left turn when her car was struck from the rear.

Damage to the Chevrolet has been estimated at $300. The Ford was thought to be damaged more heavily. The front was smashed and it had to be towed from the scene.

Marilyn Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Turner of Bovina, was a passenger in the Richards car at the time of the accident. She and Miss Richards, both students in Bovina High School, had just left school for lunch.

LIONS--

Broom Sale Successful

"Successful."

That was report of Bovina Lions Club on its annual broom sale conducted Friday.

Members "peddled" about $1000 worth of brooms, mops, and other household goods during the one-day project.

All the goods were manufactured by the blind. Commission to the club was 26 per cent, which made the sale worth in the neighborhood of $250 to the local civic group. The money will be used toward carrying out the club's various community projects during the year.

Members of the organization who didn't work during the sale were fined $5 each. "We're very appreciative to the community for its fine response to our sale again this year," Lions' President Wendol Christian says.

TAKE 28-0 WIN-

Mustangs Overpower Whitharral Panthers

Bovina Mustangs hit hard and often in overpowering the Whitharral Panthers, 28-0, to take their first win of the young season Friday night.

The Mustangs displayed a well-balanced attack in chalking up the top-sided win with five boys sharing the scoring. After Bovina owned a 22-point lead, Coach Willis sent a freshmen unit against the Panthers which drove for the final tally.

The first Mustang touchdown came late in the first quarter when fullback Jerry Barron hit the middle of the line, found running room and picked up blockers to scoot over from the ten-yard line.

John Lorenz ran for the extra points to give Bovina an 8-0 lead.

The initial scoring drive started on Bovina's own 40 yard line, covering some 60 yards in five plays. Roger Ezell, 190 pound Mustang back, accounted for the big gainer--a 30 yard trek that gave Bovina a first down on the Whitharral 10.

The game had been fought on even terms until this point, with the only first down being made by the Mustangs. Neither team had penetrated enemy territory past the thirty until the successful Mustang march.

A Mustang fumble during their first series of downs had stopped them cold. Don Cheek, who played a standout defensive game for the Panthers, covered the loose ball on Bovina's 47. Panther quarterback Dick Stafford attempted to run for the first down on the Bovina 41 but was stopped for no gain.

The Mustangs were then able to drive for the first down, with the aid of an offside penalty but the ball went to the Panthers when the drive fizzled on Whitharral's 40.

The teams exchanged punts with Stafford's 30-yard kick rolling dead on the 40 where the Mustangs started their touchdown drive.

John Sikes kicked off for the Mustangs after the score and the Panthers moved to the Mustang 28 before a fumble. From this point originated the 72-yard drive that gave the Mustangs their second score.

Thirteen plays were required to cover the distance, with Barron and Ezell accounting for several long-gainers of the eight-to-ten yard variety. Mustang quarterback Don Caldwell plunged from the two for the score.

Try for extra points failed shortly before the end of the first half and the Mustangs went to their dressing room with a 14-0 lead.

Sikes again kicked for the Mustangs and the Panthers promptly moved for a first down on fullback Overman's 12-yard scamper. But Bovina defenders stiffened to the challenge and three plays later, James Clayton and Bill Strawn broke through and dropped Overman for a seven-yard loss.

Stafford punted to Caldwell on the Mustang 25. The slightly built Mustang ran it back to the 31, where another drive was started. The Mustangs seemed headed for another touchdown but Cheek again recovered a fumbled that gave the Panthers possession on their own 42.

The Panthers drove for a first down but on third down, Strawn again dropped the ball carrier behind the line of scrimmage. Stafford attempted to run from punt formation but the play was called back. His run attempt had failed to gain so this time he elected to kick, but Joe Jones, 135 pound freshman back came out of nowhere to block the kick and give the Mustangs possession on the Whitharral 46.

This gave the Mustangs the needed lift and seven plays later, Ezell went over standing up for the third Bovina tally. Included in the drive was a 15-yard run by Ezell, who seemed to make his own running room when there was none and often carried tacklers two or three yards.

On the extra point try, Caldwell passed to freshman back Rocky Barber for the two points making the score 22-0.

The teams exchanged punts and two plays after Clayton's punt put the Panthers in business on Bovina's 29, the Mustangs covered a fumble and with freshmen and reserves dotting the lineup, drove into Panther country before Don Cumpton, who had taken over at quarterback was dropped for a ten-yard loss on a pass attempt. Cumpton dropped into punt formation but a bad snap from center gave him no chance to kick and he was dropped on the 40. Panther quarterback Stafford attempted a pass on the next play that was intercepted by Jones.

The Mustangs decided to crank up their own passing machine which had been practically silent all night, and on the next play, Cumpton connected with Jones near the 25 and the 135 pound freshman fought his way to the two. Cumpton pushed over for the final score.

A Panther fumble shortly after the kickoff gave the Mustangs possession on their own 15. Mustang reserves drove for a first down but Terry Sires intercepted a Cumpton pass to temporarily halt the drive.

Whitharral lost the ball on their first play, and two plays later Jimmie Wright, a freshman back, took the ball, broke into the clear on the 30 and outran everyone to the goal line. The play covered some 90 yards but a clipping penalty on the Mustang 40 nullified the score and gave them a first down instead as the game ended.

It was sweet revenge for the Mustangs who were upset by the Panthers 44-8 a year ago in a game that saw the Panthers go wild and break an 8-8 halftime score.

The win gives the Mustangs a 1-1 season record with last week's 35-12 loss to Farwell also on the record.

In first downs, Bovina led with 16 to 3 for the Panthers. The Mustangs had 283 yards rushing to 113.

Grand, Petit Juries Meet Monday

Parmer County's grand and petit jurors will be back in session Monday, September 28. Notices have been mailed by Sheriff Chas. Lovelace to all men and women on the jury panels.

This will be the first session for the grand jury since spring. It is the regular September term of the group. Twelve offenses are up for investigation, the bulk of which concern burglaries.

The Parmer County area had more than its share of burglary activity during the past few months, and nine of these cases are due to be looked into by the citizens' group. Three others are worthless check offenses.

Called for grand jury duty are Tom Caldwell, Loyd Cain, Carl Schlenker, John Armstrong, Clyde Hays, Roy P. Daniel, J. B. Jennings, Ovid Lawlis, Durwood Bell, D. C. Looney, Douglas Connelly, James Fortenberry, Charles Mercer, Nelson Welch, Joe Magness, and Clyde Magness. They will assemble at 9:30 a. m.

District Judge E. A. Bills will be on hand to try civil cases in district court, which will probably mean that the grand and petit jury activity will be simultaneous at the court.

Ike Quickel Tells Of 1915 Football

BY J. VERNON STEWART

"We were a rough bunch of long-winded corn-fed boys who liked to play football."

This is the way I, W. Quickel tells about the football team he played for in the 1915-17 period. "There was no age limit and we had boys on our team that were in their early twenties. Nearly all of us were 18 or older," Quickel recalls.

Quickel played for Woodward High School in Oklahoma in those days when football was still having growing pains. This was shortly after Knute Rockne, famed coach of Notre Dame, introduced the forward pass.

"The first team we saw use the pass almost beat us with it," says Quickel. "We knew about the pass but use of it had never spread as far south and west as our area."

Woodward High played football on the city baseball field. There wasn't as much strict supervision over football as there is now and Quickel thinks the game is better today because of the added supervision.

"We played the Amarillo Sandies once," he recalls, "and they had been state champions for years. Their players had whiskers and must have been at least in their twenties."

"Before the game, people were giving 5-1 odds that we couldn't score against the Sandies so a man traveling with us took our money and bet that we could."

The final score was 31 for the Sandies and 14 for Woodward and each Woodward player was at least four dollars richer than he was before the game.

Quickel told the story to illustrate the evils of having no age limit for football players.

Quickel says his team often played two games in two days. "We traveled by train in those days because there weren't many cars. Lakeview and Cherokee were neighboring towns and they would share our expenses for the trip so we played Cherokee on Friday and Lakeview on Saturday."

This is another "evil" of the old days, he believes. "I would be so sore in the second game that I could hardly move," he remembers.

Substitution rules were greatly different when the Bovina man played from now. A player could enter the game only once in each quarter. After he came out he stayed out until the quarter ended.

This rule kept the first team players in the game nearly all time since most coaches couldn't afford to let their best players sit out long. Quickel said the rule didn't make too much difference with his team since they had few substitutes anyway. "I played many ball games without one minute's rest," he says.

Quarters weren't uniform in the 19 teens as they are now. If the coaches agreed, they could play eight or 12 minute quarters. If they couldn't agree on short periods, each one was automatically set at 15 minutes. Quickel says the players on his team were always in support of the 15 minute quarters so they could play longer.

Penalties for backfield in motion were unheard of during Quickel's playing days. "You could have the whole business moving when the ball was snapped if you wanted to."

There were penalties for offsides and unnecessary roughness. Quickel doesn't remember whether there was a rule against clipping but he is sure penalties for the infraction weren't needed. "We were coached not to hit a man from behind and no one ever did. It was a matter of sportsmanship," he says.

Districts and conferences weren't what they are today. In Quickel's playing days, there were two classes in the state and there were no state tournaments. "The champion was determined by a committee that

STAR AGAINST PANTHERS—

Clayton, Barron Named Outstanding Players

James Clayton, 170-pound junior tackle, who was a stand-out on both offense and defense, and Jerry Barron, 140-pound senior fullback, who scored the first Bovina touchdown, were named outstanding players after the win over Witharral. Clayton, who does the Mustang punting, was through the line on several occasions to drop Panther ball carriers for losses. He also aided the Mustang cause considerably with fierce defensive play. Clayton was chosen over Bill Strawn and O. W. Adams, who also starred.

The naming of Barron was a result of his outstanding offensive work. The sturdy senior captain scored from the 10 in a beautiful bit of shifty running to give the Mustangs their initial touchdown.

Barron gained a total of 70 yards on 11 carries, giving him 6.4 average yards gained per carry. Included in this total were four carries for 10 yards, and one for 12. One of the 10 yard runs set up the Mustangs third touchdown.

Other backs who received outstanding mention were Roger Ezell, 190-pound co-captain, and Don Caldwell, 125-pound quarterback. Joe Jones, freshman back who intercepted a pass, blocked a punt and caught a pass to set up the final Bovina touchdown was also mentioned in the balloting. Choosing an outstanding lineman and back will be a regular post-game feature throughout the season. Last week's selections were Jackie Turner, lineman, and Jon Lin Riddle, back.

studied each team's record and statistics," he says.

As already stated, Quickel thinks today's game of football is improved over what it was when he played. The equipment is improved; the fields are improved; the coaching is better and supervision is better.

Quickel remains an avid sports fan. When interviewed by this writer, he had both his television and radio tuned to ball games. He lent his ear to a high school football game on radio and his eyes to major league baseball on television.

league with the big boys . . . then we'll show you some serious football.

Though their record up to now is balanced on the .500 mark, we're hearing more compliments on this year's Bovina Mustang squad than we've ever heard before.

With all due respect to teams of the past, this one is building a reputation for having a lot of "desire." That's as important to a good football team as advertising is to a good business.

Antachlorophenol and arsenic acid both are primarily desiccants rather than true defoliants. Because of their severe action on plant tissues they should not be used on immature cotton. Use only when all bolls are fully mature and cotton is over 60 percent open.

Cotton farmers in the Farmer County area need to take special pains to count their open cotton bolls this year before they rush in with chemical defoliants, advised County Agent Joe Jones this week.

At this point, very little of the 1959 cotton crop is open, although some picking is already started on early-planted fields. On the whole, the cotton is still "making" and won't be ready for chemical defoliation for some time yet.

It is recommended that at least 50 per cent of the cotton be open before "true defoliants" are applied to the crop. True defoliants (as distinguished from desiccants) do not kill the plant, but "knock it" hard enough to cause it to shed its leaves.

The purpose of this artificial stimulation of leaf-shedding is to allow sunshine and warm air in to mature and help the bolls open and make cotton.

On the whole, this will be a poor year for defoliation, because the biggest part of the crop is so young that it will probably not be ready for defoliation until after a frost comes anyway.

Just the same, the weather could continue warm and favorable for making cotton, so it's wise for farmers to be prepared to defoliate if it becomes advantageous to do so, says the agent.

Plains Cotton Growers recommends: "Defoliants and desiccants are recommended if the crop reaches maturity before frost. Applications before 60 per cent of the bolls are open usually lower the micronaire (fiber fineness)." Desiccants amount to cotton plant poisons, and kill the plant outright. This stops all growth and deterioration of the plant immediately sets in. Since this is the case, desiccants should not be considered unless the cotton is fully mature, and that means 90 per cent of the bolls open.

For this part of the Plains, desiccants are seldom used because of the need for the cotton to be fully matured. This is especially true this year when it is not likely that any of the Farmer County area cotton will be completely through with growth by time frost does come.

A farmer who uses desiccants runs the risk of stripping bark and perhaps the whole plant along with the cotton if he doesn't know what he's doing, warns Jones. "You can sure get into trouble if you don't know what you're doing."

Parmer Included In Farm Survey

This month the USDA, in cooperation with the Post Office Department, is conducting an annual acreage survey. Rural mail carriers are delivering 30,000 cards to Texas farmers and ranchers. The cards list questions on crop acreages and livestock. Carriers pick up the completed cards and forward them to Cary Palmer, Agricultural Statistician for Texas in Austin.

Palmer urges farmers to answer and return cards to mail carriers. "This survey," he points out, "serves as a basis for estimating the state's farm production. Every report helps to make accurate estimates."

MORE EFFICIENT LOCOMOTIVES

Railroad locomotives today pull great loads in proportion to their weight because of the tough, strong, long-lasting nickel alloy steels used in their construction.

COSTLY HAIRSPRING ALLOY

Mullins, of Lubbock were at the Friona Methodist Church Sunday morning where Kitty accepted a gift of a Braille New Testament from members of the Junior II Sunday School class. After church all the members of the class and their families were hosts at a covered dish luncheon in Fellowship Hall for Kitty.

This New Testament consists of four huge books that are rather cumbersome to carry about, but Kitty was so very happy to have a real Bible of her very own that she could read.

Mrs. Andy Hurst Jr. and Mrs. Joe Moyer are teachers of this Sunday School class.

Carl Schlenker, who won the boat given away by the Friona Fire Department during Maize Days, says he just has to buy or win a big motor somewhere. Carl, who lives at Rhea, has kept his children satisfied so far by loading them in the boat and pulling boat and trailer down the road.

First, the children were happy at 30 miles per hour. Then, they wanted to go 40, and then 50, and Carl says for his own and the children's safety, he's got to get a motor and put that boat in the water.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Now is the time for ranchers to start thinking seriously about long range management plans. How about the need for cross fences to divide pastures that are too large? Water facilities should be checked to see if they are adequate for the proper distribution of cattle. A properly-located pond might stop gully erosion as well as supply needed water for livestock. If there are bare or nearly bare areas around watering locations or near the headquarters maybe rotary pitting along with range seeding would be the answer. Grasses are much easier to establish during the wet cycles than during a drought. Brush control should be planned.

Not to be forgotten is grazing management. Too many ranchers do not base their grazing on the preferred plants, that is on those eaten first by cattle. It is these plants that produce the highest tonnage per acre if managed properly and because of their extremely high protein content cattle will gain faster than on less desirable grasses.

What grasses do cattle like? During the spring cattle prefer Western wheatgrass. Later in the spring and throughout the summer cattle prefer the blue-stems, Indiangrass and switchgrass. If these are not available they then prefer sidecoats grama. Blue grama is taken on a third choice basis. Buffalo grass is desired about like blue grama, but on droughty sites where it cures out early it is fourth choice.

It is important for a rancher to find out just how much of each of these grasses he has in each pasture and stock for the best grasses during the summer. He can then plan on grazing the rest of the grasses during the winter time, but always leaving adequate amounts on the land to protect the soil and build up litter.

Ranchers who are cooperating with local Soil Conservation Districts might plan to check with the technicians of the Soil Conservation Service assigned to the district for an up-to-date survey which will serve as a basis for range management.

The milkfish (chanos chanos) is known by various names such as bandeng, white mullet, salmon herring and others. The fish is a vegetarian and bread is recommended for bait.

WORKING ON HIS 4-H RECORD BOOK, Richard Chitwood of Lazbuddie put in a lot of hours to win the district-wide contest. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Chitwood.

Lazbuddie Boy Wins State Fair Award

A Lazbuddie boy, Richard Chitwood, has won the State Fair Award Honor for his work in 4-H Club. The announcement was made this week.

Richard, who is the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Chitwood of Route 3, Muleshoe, will represent District 1 at the State Fair of Texas October 16 and 17. He will be a special guest of the fair.

The Parmer County 4-H Clubber won his award on the record book he submitted, covering his activities in clubwork. He has been in 4-H work six years, and has had beef calves and cotton and grain sorghum crops as projects.

The Lazbuddie High School

sophomore has assumed much responsibility in county club work, and has served on many committees and working teams. He has assisted with the tractor maintenance school, the county March of Dimes drive, recreation school, and other activities.

He will be chairman of the Parmer County 4-H Council in 1960.

There are 23 counties in District 1. The only other time a Parmer County youth has ever won the honor was in 1955 when Leon Langford was winner.

No matter whose payroll you're on, you are working for yourself.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

This is the first week of fall, insofar as the calendar is concerned, since fall does not officially start until September 22. However, the "feel" of fall has been unmistakably in the air for several weeks now, especially in the mornings just at sunrise.

Fall always brings the traditional county fairs, and a few years back we could remember when county fairs were really big events for people of the High Plains. Today it is another story, and folks are pretty indifferent about such country exhibitions.

There are still a number of county fairs around the country that are holding together pretty well, but for the most part, fairs -- like the old time circuses -- are on the way out. Parmer County's last fair was in 1955. That year was one of several in which interest had declined in all exhibits, and so it was finally decided to abandon the project. Nobody ever mentioned having a fair in 1956, at least not to us, and so far as we have been able to tell, there weren't any tears shed over the fair's passing.

County fairs are folding, or are in very unstable conditions, all around us. Even in a county so proud of its agriculture as is Hale (the leading county in Texas in farm income), and its county fair is practically past going. This year's exhibition drew only 3500 lookers -- a paltry turnout in an area such as Hale County.

Bob Hamilton of the Plains Farmer in Plainview tells us that fair boosters are about ready to give up the ghost, and that about the only thing that can save their show would be public approval of a bond issue to build a new pavilion, and he is skeptical that this issue will pass.

What is the reason for the decline in small fairs? Several factors stand out and are immediately recognizable. Others are less distinct. Probably the foremost one in the case of the irrigated Plains, where cotton, grain sorghum, and wheat produce three-fourths of the total farm income, has been the specialization of agriculture here to a "cash crop" basis in the past 20 years.

The old-time county fairs, which were showplaces of agricultural diversification, don't make much sense in an area where the cow, sow, and hen philosophy has long gone by the boards.

Parmer County, for example, is down to just one or two Grade A dairy herds. We had 40 just 15 years ago. Beef cattle production here is largely a matter of stockers, feeders, and finishing them out. We aren't interested so much in breeding and maintaining a top herd.

How many farmers do you know who have a top flock of chickens? We can't think of a one. Now name the farmers who take a real interest in swine. In most of the cases you'll be able to think of, it will be found that the 4-H and FFA boys have pigs for projects, and that about the size of it. There is an increasing amount of interest in feeding hogs of course, but programs such as these don't have much to offer in the way of prize stock for exhibitionary purposes.

Now, let's look at the home department. It happens that we are fortunate to have a very active county home demonstration agent and the HD groups over the county are always busy. However, no one will argue that the women's interest in canning, cooking, sewing, and other fine arts of the home is on the wane.

If we could call this trend "bad", then we can say that farm wives are as "bad" as their friends in town when it comes to buying their pancakes, biscuits, cakes, frostings, and even whipped potatoes ready-made and ready to go with a minimum of effort. The modern farm kitchen looks every bit like its big-city counterpart these days, which is good for the gals, since it gives them more time for other things, but is rough on county fairs.

So, all in all, there just aren't enough entries worthy of the name in either the farm and home line to make up a decent fair any more.

Secondly, county fairs are traditionally underfinanced, and can't offer nice prizes. This being the case, it isn't worth it, from a standpoint of economics, for an exhibitor to load up a trailerful of calves, groom and prepare them, take them to the barns, take care of feed and bedding, for two or three days -- even if he should win.

And since he's not competing against really first-line stock in all probability, there's no prestige when he does win. To the boast, "This was the grand champion male at the county fair last year," has come the disdainful reply, "So what?"

County Agent Joe Jones tells us that the high cost of showing has past the county fair stage and is knocking on the door of such shows at the Tri-State in Amarillo and the South Plains in Lubbock.

Those are a couple of things that we can put our finger on. One that's harder to pick out is the attitude of the people themselves. In spite of the way that we like to think of ourselves, we've changed a lot in the last generation.

The people who live on the Plains today don't do -- or at least don't enjoy doing -- the same things their parents did. That isn't so much that there are other things to do, either, although we'll admit that diversions are part of the reason. We've had a change in outlook on what is and is not a social occasion.

Time was when the county fair was as much a time to get together with all the neighbors and enjoy the association as it was anything else. Perhaps people would see friends they hadn't seen in months. Everyone enjoyed this association and made the most of it.

Today our idea of fraternization has changed completely. We shy away from big crowds. The way to entertain, and be entertained, is to have the Joneses over for a barbecue in the backyard some evening. Or, invite them out to dinner and take in a show. Or, spend an afternoon water skiing.

We don't congregate as we once did. We don't have that feeling of oneness that runs through many, many families as it did just a generation ago.

Again, this is not necessarily bad, although we do moan the passing of community and county-wide get-togethers. It does definitely represent a change and is a part of the reason that county fairs are declining.

A curious fact which we don't want to overlook is that the smaller fairs of New Mexico seem much healthier than the ones of their neighbors to the east. Clovis' Curry County fair is doing fine from all we can tell. At least, people are interested in it, and that is the main thing.

Roswell, we believe it is, has the Eastern New Mexico fair and we understand it is doing well, and we've been told that Lovington has a fair this year in solid.

We're at a loss to explain just why this is, but the New Mexico small fairs seem to be holding up much better than the Texas fairs are.

Of course, the large "hip-podromes" such as the Texas and New Mexico State Fairs are doing well and will continue to do so for a long time. We want to emphasize very heavily, however, that while these big shows still claim to be show-places for agriculture, they are turning out to be giant amusement arcades for the public. Football games, horse races, girlee-girlee shows, big name TV and movie stars, and other such crowd-pulling gimmicks are taking more prominence each year. The more glitter, the more people.

But all that glitters is not gold.

The Cargill crop bulletin reports that grain sorghum production for the nation was forecast at 566 million bushels September 1 -- up 11 per cent from the August estimate mainly due to improved prospects in Kansas, Nebraska, and several minor producing states.

Yield per acre was forecast at 35.4 bushels -- 1.3 bushels below last year's record.

Farm Capital Should Give A Fair Return

How is your farm and ranch business doing? Here are some ideas from Tom E. Prater, extension farm management specialist, which may help you determine where you stand. Recent research indicates that one item often overlooked by farmers and ranchers is the allocation of a charge for the money tied up in capital investment. Prater says you should consider the fact that money is worth money and that the capital investment in your farm or ranch operation should be earning you as fair a return as a person owning property or an investor, and that you should make a fair charge for the capital.

One way to determine this is to charge interest on the money tied up in your operation and compare it with the interest return you would receive from

United States savings bonds, stocks, other bonds or other business opportunities. Consideration should also be given the risk factor.

Another way to figure interest in land investments is to charge a fair rental price to yourself for using your land.

Prater adds that these charges will give you a guide for determining whether or not you are getting the most for your money.

PALLADIUM CONTACTS
The precious metal palladium is used extensively for contacts in communications and electrical apparatus.

Recent studies in Central Texas show that when a farmer does not have to make a considerable investment in feeding facilities (water system, pens, etc.) a $30 per head profit might be expected when yearling steers are fed 120 to 130 days. C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, says that the steers used in the tests were fed silage, cottonseed meal and ground milo. The cost of the steers was 26¢ and the selling price was 27¢. Figuring the profit to labor, capital and management, it averaged over $3 per 100 for the milo fed.

H. D. AGENT'S CORNER

Jimmie Lou Wainscott

Judy Billingsley, Farwell 4-H member, sent her record in to the District Contests to be entered in the Home Economics contest. I have just received word that Judy was the District I winner and her record has been sent to College Station to be judged on the state level.

College Station, Sept.--If you are an average homemaker, you spend about a third of your time in planning, preparing and serving meals. Of course, some homemakers spend more time on food preparation than others. Size of the family, elaborateness of meals and the convenience and use of kitchen equipment influence the time spent on meals.

You can have colorful, appetizing meals in minimum time and with less energy if you plan and manage them properly, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists. To help homemakers with the job of meal planning and management, specialists have written a new bulletin entitled, "Quick Meals."

The specialists give four pointers as to what makes a good meal. They are: use foods that vary in flavor, color, texture, size and shape; they should be of good quality, appetizing and prepared so as to save food value; foods should be served attractively; and a pleasant atmosphere should be present to help the family enjoy meal time.

Better use of time by menu planning is discussed. Some suggestions are: serve fewer and well-prepared foods in generous amounts, use foods that can be cooked together, such as pot roasts and vegetables, and plan dishes which require few ingredients.

The bulletin contains many menu plans for quick meals, such as oven meals, one-dish meals, broiler meals, top-of-the-range meals, and meals from the freezer. All these recipes have easy to follow directions.

Contact your local home demonstration agent for a copy of the bulletin. Or write the Agricultural Information Office, College Station. Ask for B-927.

High on the list of versatile foods for summer eating is the miraculous boiler-fryer... It can be roasted, broiled, barbecued, fried or rotisserieed. The supply of broiler-fryers

IT'S WHEAT PLANTING TIME and more and more farmers are making use of phosphate dry fertilizer in connection with this important fall activity. R. D. Rule of Oklahoma Lane has a drill with special fertilizer boxes behind the seed boxes. He has increased the capacity by adding to the box so that it will hold 900 pounds of fertilizer. He thus is able to apply his phosphate at the time of seeding, in bands, which is the most successful method tried in this area. Fertilizer-planter combinations are not new in many parts of the country, and within a few years they may be commonplace on the irrigated Plains.

at present is the largest in many years and prices are low in most markets.

This is a good time to restock home freezers. For freezing or home use, select broilers with thick, meaty breasts and thighs and free of bruises and pin feathers. A well distributed layer of fat under the skin will insure good flavor and juiciness.

Good buys in fresh fruits are bananas, Italian prunes, lemons, Tokay and seedless grapes. Several varieties of plums are available at moderate to high prices... New crop Delicious apples are now appearing in many stores.

Although it's getting toward the end of summer, there is still a good variety of vegetables to choose from... Tomatoes are selling at low prices for this time of year. Eggplant, yellow squash, Purple Hull peas, green peppers, yellow onions and carrots are economically priced in many markets. Some stores are featuring the new packs of canned tomatoes, tomato products and cling peaches.

Flies carry disease germs that endanger health... Don't give them a chance to live and multiply.

Sanitation is the first step in controlling this pest, according to extension entomologists... Make sure all windows and doors are tightly screened. Keep garbage and other refuse tightly covered and dispose of it frequently by burning or burying. Keep compost piles covered and clean up after dogs, cats and chickens.

Killing is the second step against this pest. Kill flies by spraying in and around the house. Use both the space and surface-type spray. The new bait preparations are good for use outside where flies gather.

For information on type of spray to use, and how to apply, see your county agricultural extension office.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Keep Thursday night of October 8 in mind for attendance at the Annual County Farm Bureau Convention in the Bovina School Auditorium.

The real reason you are urged to be there is to tell your Resolutions Committee what you believe should be done to improve your economic and social future in American--whether you wish to place freedom at the top of the list or down a little, whether you want to handle your own personal future security planning, or whether you believe some government employee who doesn't know you can do a better job with your money; whether you want a government employee, to decide how much an employee of yours will be paid, or whether you know as much about that as he does. Say whether you want to decide which doctor and when you see him, or whether you want a government body to decide that for you.

In short, your organization wants to know what you want your fellow citizen members to stand for, for your mutual benefit. Plan to speak at this meeting where decisions for the future year's activities are made.

About 225 students at Friona attended the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Demonstration last Monday afternoon, under the supervision of High School Principal J. R. Cook. About 100 Lazbuddie students attended the same demonstration, under the supervision of Principal Jack Black, on Friday morning. President Roy V. Miller and your Service Agent attended both demonstrations.

Left over cooked vegetables can be put to good use by adding them to salads. Green beans, beets, cauliflower, broccoli, English peas and other cooked vegetables taste better in salads than they do warmed over. For extra flavor marinate cooked vegetables in French dressing.

PCG Has Scholarship In Textile Engineering

The Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. has established a series of four-year scholarships, valued at $1000 each, in textile engineering at Texas Tech College starting this 1959-60 academic year. President W. O. Fortenberry announced.

These scholarships are available to students interested in textile engineering and are being made available to students from any of the 23 member counties of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Fortenberry says.

Dr. John R. Bradford, dean of engineering at Tech, helped work out the scholarship details with Roy Mack, chairman of the PCG scholarship committee.

The scholarship is payable in four installments of $250 annually, beginning with the freshman year. Continuation of the award will be automatically justified.
