SONORA YOUTH REVIVAL

by Pastor Fred C. Darkow

What do Houston, Austin, San Antonio, and San Angelo have in common? Evangelistic youth from all these cities are coming to Sonora to be part of a Youth Revival. It will be held at the 4-H Building Friday, May 26 from 7:30-8:30, Saturday, May 27 on the grass next to the 4-H Building from 6:00-8:00 and Sunday, May 28 at 7:30-8:30 p.m.

These young people are part of Ongoing Ambassadors for Christ that Pastor Fred C. Darkow of Hope Lutheran Church started and directed for 20 plus years. The organization presents Jesus in singing, drama, puppets, testimonials, small group Bible Studies and witnessing methods. They are dedicated to serving Christ and many have gone on into full time church work.

While the youth lead in Christ centered methods, Pastor Darrow will then speak on subjects that you can't talk about in school. All youth and young at heart are welcome to attend all nights but each night will be geared to specific age groups. Friday will be high school night; Saturday, junior high school; and Sunday evening for the whole family.

We ask your prayers for this revival and if any family would like to help house a couple of team members, we need help in this area. If you can help with housing please call 387-5366.

PROJECT GRADUATION DEEMED SUCCESSFUL

submitted by Jeryl Fields

"Their future is so bright, they have to wear shades!" The fifty-nine graduates had perfect weather for graduation, great fireworks, and shared over $70,000 in scholarships.

As if that were not enough, they joined their juniors and headed to project graduation. Project graduation is a fun-filled, all-night party, designed to keep celebrating high schoolers safe and off of highways in a drug and alcohol-free environment.

About 100 Sonora Juniors and Seniors roller bladed, played cards and bingo, shot baskets, played putt-putt, threw footballs, and popped balloons in order to win hundreds of prizes donated for the evening. Members of local clubs and organizations donated their time to man the booths. The culmination of the event was the auction, when trips to Cancun, TV's, microwaves, roller blades, refrigerators, and a complete computer, were bought with Bronco Bucks that read, "I'm not going to gamble with my life."

Ruben Lomas and Robert Trevino bought trips to Mexico; Amanda Riley bought roller blades; and Trini Banda bought the computer for over 100 thousand dollars. Becca Fields and Ben Taylor were just two of many drawing winners; Becca won $100 and Ben won a $50 bill. At five o'clock, the tired, but happy graduates left with their "loot." At least they were safe!

Many thanks go out to all the people who worked so hard to make the evening a success. Cheree Fitzgerald, Elizabeth Schenkel, Faye Deel, Dorothy Cramer, Billie Renfro, and Dawn Trayler worked hard to collect donations. Mary Lou Hudman worked hard to schedule the following booths: FFA - Rollerblading, Knights of Columbus - Basketball Shoot, Los Compadres - Balloon Pop, Devil's River News - Football Throw, Senior Center & The Committee on Aging - Bingo, Bronco Boosters - Putt-Putt, The Sutton County Leader - Bank, and Lola Beth and Cleve T. Jones coordinated the Casino, and the many dedicated card dealers. Thanks to Preston Faris and Dale Caddell who held the auction, in the wee hours of the morning, and the "Bookkeepers" who helped count the money; Carol Sessom, Gary Smith, and others. Rita Hale and Lulu Escamilla, with donations from Pizza Hut, Sutton County Steak House, and Coca Cola, organized the food tables all night. Mr. Russell made all the millions of dollars of Bronco Bucks, and Rex Ann Friess kept up with all the thousands of dollars of real money that was donated by you, our community. If anyone was left out, it's because I haven't caught up on my sleep yet, and I apologize. It was a wonderful evening...and if you haven't seen a Project Graduation yet first hand, plan to stop by next year!

EDUCATION REFORM

by Pat Wright

Pat Wright, founder of Austin County Coalition for Traditional Values and Texas Eagle Forum Legislative Liaison on outcome based education, spoke to parents and citizens of Sonora Wednesday, May 17, 1995 regarding the restructuring of the educational system. Mrs. Wright will return to Sonora June 7, 1995.

Following is an article written by Mrs. Wright concerning educational restructuring.

What has happened to American values and morals? Where is our once great nation headed? Is the great American dream turning into a nightmare?

Our country is rotting from within and our freedoms are being taken away by hostile forces and apathy is rampant. Most of our population is asleep, they neither know or care that the America we once knew is gone. This country was founded on the Judeo-Christian ethic, morality and traditional family values. Over the years this foundation has been systematically chipped away. We have had our history changed by "revisionist" historians who through the 'power of the pen' have purposely misinformed several generations of naive, television warped school children.

Ask The Historical Society

by Jo-Ann E. Palmer, Secretary Sutton County Historical Society

We have a question this week for our readers. Readers can you identify the members of the 1936-37 Harmonica Band that are shown in the picture accompanying this article?

Miss Rena McQuary (Elliott) was the instructor. We would like to have the names of as many as possible of the band members to put in our files. If you can help give us a call or drop us a line.

Since we had out the 1936 Devil's River News looking for this picture (unsuccessfully) we thought we would take you on another walk down memory lane, this time May of 1936.

The senior class of Sonora High School were preparing for their graduation. The class was composed of ten girls and six boys. The following were members of this class: Dora Shroyer, Wilma Louise Hutcherson, Edna Lunetta Marion, Bobbie Mae Halbert, Wesley Eric Sawyer, Virginia Violet Drennan, Lester Lew Shroyer, Herbert Edgar Glasscock, Bora B. Hill, Ida Bell Sykes, Kenneth Knoll Babcock, Robert Pomroy Shapleigh and Helen Lorraine Smith. Wesley E. Sawyer was valedictorian and Lillie Marie Smith salutatorian.

Graduations were held in the auditorium. There was no worry about the weather or seating with a class of this size.

In May of 1936 the ranchers were not worried about enough rain. The May 29th issue showed that there had been seven straight days of rain drenching the county and that shearing had to be stopped. George C. Chalk, the Mohair Co. reported that for the month of May, 7.98 inches of rain had fallen and temperatures ranged from 40 degrees to 96 degrees.

Sonora beat Ozona winning the third of a series of five games by a score of 4 to 3. Bud Smith pitched seven innings and "Lefty" White finished by striking out four of the six batters who faced him.

Sonora Wool & Mohair reported there were about 730,000 pounds sheared and in the warehouse with about only 40% of the shearing completed. Sheep were shearing about 15% more per head than the previous year.

La Vista Theater in Sonora was featuring the following movies in May of 1936: Riff-Riff with Jean Harlow and Spencer Tracy, Miracle Rider with Tom Mix, A Night at the Opera with the Marx Brothers, Woman Trap with Gertrude Michael and George Murphy, and Dracula's Daughter with Otto Kruger and Margaret Churchill.

We constantly get requests from our readers to do more listing of prices in the 'good old days'. The following are prices shown in the advertisement for the Self Serve Grocery Store's Friday and Saturday specials: Fruit Cocktail tall can are two for 23 cents, two packages of Jello are 9 cents, No. 2 can of corn is 8 cents and pork and beans are five cans for 24 cents. Here is one for you cigarette smokers, Camels, Chesterfields and Lucky Strikes are $1.42 a carton. A 48 pound sack of flour is $1.35 and a dozen eggs are 19 cents. Country butter is 25 cents a pound, chuck roast 14 cents a pound, rib roast 11 cents a pound and bacon 30 cents a pound. The crackers to go with that cheese were 16 cents for a two pound box.

The City Variety Store, 5 cents to 5 dollars was selling dresses from 59 cents to $4.95, slips for 59 cents, Indian Moccasins for 39 cents and bathing suits for from 49 cents to $1.98.

The Hotel McDonald advertised home cooked meals for 50 cents and at the Naylor Hotel in San Angelo you could get a single for form $1 to $1.50 and a double form $2 to $4.

A baby daughter weighing eight pounds was born Sunday, May 24th to Mr. and Mrs. Felix Noriega. The child was named Alisandra.

A boy weighing seven and one-half pounds was born to Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Davis. The baby was named Jimmie Leon.

B.M. Halbert reported that from January 1 to May 7, 1936 only one inch of rain had fallen at his ranch but that from the seventh to the 28th he had received 5 1/2 inches.

Those of you who haven't paid your dues yet or would like to make a donation please send them attention Al Elliott treasurer.

If you have any questions concerning Sutton County history send them to "Ask the Historical Society" P.O. Box 885, Sonora, TX 76950-0885 or give us a call at 387-5144 or 387-2855 after noon or evenings please.

Valiant Effort

by Martha Valliant McLain

We are on our trip to see our daughter, so I am not up on the local news. I am leaving this column in Sonora to be published while I am gone. I thought that you might like to know about an interesting ex-student of mine. You may know him already because many of you may have read his work.

I began my 20 years of teaching in 1960, in Perryton, Texas, a small town located 7 miles from the Oklahoma border. When I interviewed for jobs, I really liked the school. I felt that the school administration thought that speech and drama were very important parts of a student's education.

My first group of students included a young man named John Erickson. He was an athlete, an A student, president of the student council, handsome, and very creative. He loved speech and drama, and was equally good in plays or in debate.

He was having difficulty getting along with his English teacher, and our principal assigned him to me as a creative writing student. He spent the hour in my office in the back of my classroom, while I had 30 other students in class. If I had not been a first year teacher, I would probably have objected. Since I was new and believed that all things are possible, I agreed to the plan. I made assignments, read his work, made comments, and encouraged him in his writing. This kept him out of the classroom of an English teacher who objected to his ability to turn any discussion into an argument, and gave him time to do what he really liked. He wanted to write, and fortunately, our principal saw this as good, and tried making up a class that was just for him. This made it possible for him to write for at least one hour daily. Even as a junior in high school, he knew that he wanted to write for a living.

John played the lead in my first one-act play. I did Minnie Field, a play by one of my professors at UT in Austin. The boys in the play needed to grow beards for the parts. I remember how embarrassed John was because he couldn't grow a beard. When I see him now, he almost always has a beard or mustache. He received numerous acting awards, even though he had a fake beard, and the play was very successful. John also did well in debate and became like a son to us. After he left for college, he always came back often to visit us.

He received a degree in literature from UT in Austin and went to Harvard Divinity School. After Harvard, John and wife Chris returned to Perryton. He wanted to be a writer, and he decided that his hometown was the best place to work.

I was still teaching in Perryton, and Dean, my husband, was the manager of the Country Club when John appeared one day and asked for a job. He said that he needed to earn a living until he could begin to be successful with his writing. He decided to pick a job, not by what he wanted to do, but by whom he wanted for a boss. He announced that he wanted to work for Dean. He didn't care what the job was; he would do whatever was needed. He just wanted enough of a pay check that he could live and write. Dean hired him. His first day at the club, one lady announced to her friends that she believed that she was being served by the world's best educated bus boy. John smiled, did his job, and wrote at least 5 or 6 hours a day. He became the bartender at the club, and much of his insight into people comes from his long visits with customers, who loved talking to a bartender who was interested in their stories.

You may have read some of John Erickson's books. He has become very successful, has his own publishing company, and has become a ranch man on land bought by his writing. One of his first books to be taken seriously is called Through Time and the Valley. It is a wonderful book that is being reprinted this year. Many of the interviews done for the book were done at the Perryton Club during slow times in the bar.

His next big success started as a simple short story in The Cattleman, a magazine that many people in Sonora read. His story was about Hank, the Cow Dog. It was wonderful, and people wanted more. The stories professed to be for children, but they were entertaining to people of all ages. He showed some great truths of human nature in Hank, and people began to relate to him and enjoy his antics. Hank became a series of books, a Saturday morning series by Disney, and perhaps, he will soon be a wonderful movie, of the Homeward Bound genre. In Houston at the River Theater, a writer has adapted some of the stories into a musical, and Hank had to learn to sing and dance. John never dreamed that some day he would be working for a dog named Hank, and that profits made by Hank would buy the ranch he had always dreamed of owning.

We recently received a letter from John, who travels, lectures and reads his stories to groups everywhere. He said that his Hank, the Cow Dog books have sold over 1.5 million copies. It still is a surprise to John that people continue to enjoy the books so much. At his lectures, John plays the banjo, sings, and reads from his work. He is often astonished that he now earns his living using talents that were developed from extra-curricular activities in high school. I wish that we could invite him to Sonora for a performance, but he has become quite expensive.

He also has a biography out that he wrote about Ace Reid, the creator the Cowpoke cartoons. He went to Kerrville and lived at the Sagging' S ranch for several months while he wrote the book. Ace Reid selected John to do his biography. While John was with him, Ace was quite ill. I think that it took much patience to write. If you have lived in the country in West Texas, you will enjoy it. He understands and pictures it beautifully.

At the present time, John is negotiating with the director of the movie, Homeward Bound about doing a feature length, live-action movie based upon Hank's escapades. If you have seen the movie Homeward Bound, you know that it is a wonderful adventure story about two dogs and a cat. Hank just might be on the way to becoming a movie star.

John's books are in our library and available to everyone. If you don't know Hank, the Cow Dog, you should meet him. Hank has some tapes out that are also available. I think that you will like him. He has a charm for people of all ages. I remember a few years ago my surprise when a student in Interscholastic League competition was using material written by John Erickson. It was nice to know that the work of an ex-student had officially been designated 'literature' by the UIL. It couldn't have happened to a nicer guy.

You often hear young people say, I don't need an education, I just want to ranch. Sometimes you hear people say that there is no way to get into the ranching business if you don't already have land. Well, I suppose that John is an exception. He has seven years of college, two degrees, a determination to succeed, and a willingness to work. Because of that, He now has a nine section ranch in the Panhandle and a wonderful job working for Hank, the Cow Dog. Hank can't fire him because he created Hank. It seems that John is still picking his own boss.

One of the revisionist historians (keep in mind that to revise something means to change or amend it) wrote a "Declaration of Interdependence" which called for the end of America's national sovereignty; that we should be a state controlled by a world government, world police force, and that we should share the wealth of our natural resources with all the world. Sound like socialism? The amazing thing is that in 1976, over 100 of our congressmen and senators signed this document. In my opinion this was an act of treason and yet I never once read about this in any newspaper or saw any reports on the national news.

One of the reasons that the great American dream is turning into a nightmare is the American Educational System. To whom do your children belong? You probably think they belong to you. If that is what you think, you should be made aware that there are a growing number of people in this country who believe that is not the way it ought to be. That the children should and do belong to the state, and that it is their prerogative, privilege, and responsibility to care for them, educate them, and mold them into proper citizens of the state.

For two hundred years after the Pilgrims landed in 1620, the education of our children was in the hands of the parents or the churches. There was no such thing as public education or state education. Then in the 19th century, state education came into existence. It was public education, paid for by tax dollars with compulsory laws requiring the education of the children by the state. Slowly the various private academies and Christian schools went almost out of existence. State education took over almost completely. A little reflection on the part of a thoughtful person reveals that if the state takes over education, it inevitably leads to the fact that education itself becomes secular and statist in nature. This is precisely what our educational system has become.

In 1933, Dr. Harold Rugg, in his book The Great Technology, a book he wrote for the indoctrination of teachers and preparing teaching material, Rugg said, "A new public mind is to be created. How? Only by creating tens of millions of new individual minds and welding them into a new social mind. Old stereotypes must be broken up and new 'climates of opinion' formed in the neighborhoods of America." Later in his book, he defined how the schools were to be used to transform American political and economic institutions and create the new 'public mind' which would accept complete government institutions and create the new 'public mind' which would accept complete government control of the individual: "... through the schools of the world we shall disseminate a new conception of government - one that will embrace all of the collective activities of men..."

Today's education is no longer teaching children reading, writing and arithmetic, we now have Change Agents (teachers) who are teaching children how to channel or call up spirit guides. Mission: S.O.A.R. is a curriculum that introduces students to the spirit world, it was developed to help teachers "plant seeds of greatness in their students."

Or, Quest Curriculum for Drug Education. Quest's units on drug prevention in the Skills for Adolescence (grad 6-8) and Skills for Growing (grades K-5) curriculum follow the format of non-directive therapy (therapy instead of teaching). Quest makes several attempts to undermine the values of parents and eradicate any influence they may have in the student's life.

Or, Impressions curriculum. Thousands of school children (public and private) are being taught how to cast spells. They are told about hungry creatures that attach themselves to children's bodies or lust for flesh. They are being asked which horrible death they prefer. Impressions, which is designed to teach language arts from reading to vocabulary, is filled with stories of despair, mutilation, occultism, and witchcraft. Impressions is published by Holt Rinehart and Winston of Canada, and is marketed in all 50 states by its parent company, Harcourt Brace Jovanovich or Orlando, Florida. Because of parents protesting, HBJ is secretly arming schools with 'defense kits' aimed at defeating parents who are working to replace the series with better books.

Or, Global Education. Our children are being prepared for the above mentioned New World Order through (subtle) courses in Global Education in the public schools. Globalist stress that the only way we can deal with international problems such as poverty, population control, worldwide pollution, the arms race, etc., is through relinquishing our national sovereignty to a world government. This is being taught all across America.

Teachers are not teaching citizenship courses on how to become better Americans, or patriotism and loyalty to our nation but more than likely the student is being taught that America is the cause of most of the world's problems, free enterprise is condemned and socialism is promoted as the only answer. One of the places the teachers are receiving such brainwashing is Western Washington University, which offers a course called "Foundations of Education". WWU has made a commitment to indoctrinating its future teachers in global education. Professor Phillip Vander Velde teaches the course. He uses the text book Global Mandate, which he co-authored. The future teachers enrolled in the courses are bombarded with propaganda which advocates scrapping our American system of beautiful picture of the future world society. He states: "Nation-states have outlived their usefulness, and a new world order is necessary... a new political order of control over human relationships will come into being. This clearly implies that national sovereignty, which is the basis of the current nation-state system...can be whittled to evolve into a true world government." He also advocates casting off the chains of Christianity and embracing Eastern mysticism (New Age Religion).

Americans must be informed, they must stand firm against any world organization, whether it be the United Nations or any other that is trying to make an end run around our national sovereignty. We must resist all attempts to take our freedoms from us.

WHAT TO DO WHEN THE LIGHTS GO OUT.

All too often, severe weather causes power outages. Wind, fallen tree limbs, and lightning can damage lines or equipment causing these outages. Whenever an outage occurs, WTU works nonstop to restore your service as quickly as possible. We know the inconvenience outages cause — and we appreciate your patience and cooperation. Here are some steps you can take to weather an outage safely — and with as little inconvenience as possible.

IN A POWER OUTAGE:

- CHECK IT OUT.
When your power goes out, check all fuses and breakers. If they're O.K., check with your neighbors. If power is out around you, CALL WTU. You'll find our number in your local phone book, or on your WTU bill!
- KEEP WTU PHONE LINES OPEN.
From the moment you call WTU, help is on the way — so a second call isn't necessary. Please leave our lines open for other callers.
- REPORT FALLEN UTILITY LINES.
If you see a fallen power line, don't even go near it! And, keep others away, too! Call WTU, the police, or the fire department immediately.
- UNPLUG APPLIANCES.
It's a good idea to turn off your air conditioner and unplug televisions, major appliances, and computers during storms. If you experience an outage, you may want to leave them unplugged until power is restored. Don't open your refrigerator or freezer unless absolutely necessary.
- BE CAREFUL WITH GENERATORS.
If you have access to a portable generator, please do not plug it directly into your circuit breaker box. It's unsafe — especially for repair crews. Plug appliances and lamps directly into the generator.
- PLEASE BE PATIENT.
You may see a WTU truck in your neighborhood leaving before your power comes back on. This is not unusual. We send people out to assess the extent and cause of an outage. The source of your outage might be several blocks away.
- CHECK ON YOUR NEIGHBORS.
Be mindful of neighbors who may have special needs.
- TURN YOUR FRONT PORCH LIGHT ON.
Turning on your porch light lets WTU crews know your electricity is back on.
- FOLLOW LOCAL NEWS MEDIA.
For updates on weather conditions and power restoration efforts, check local newspapers and radio broadcasts.
- KEEP AN EMERGENCY SAFETY KIT.
It's a good idea to keep things like flashlights, batteries, bottled water, and a battery-powered radio handy.

We Work For You.

Nobody likes it when your lights go out. You don't. We don't. Our job is delivering safe, reliable, low-cost electric service. And that means we work for you.
