BRONCOS OUTSCORE

COAHOMA, 3-2

Home Opener Against Wall Friday Night

submitted

The Sonora Broncos traveled to Coahoma on Friday, September 1, 1995 to play in a controlled scrimmage against the Coahoma Bulldogs. The Broncos emerged victorious from the scrimmage, and seemed to have a much better grasp of what they wanted to do both offensively and defensively than they demonstrated in the Iraan scrimmage last week. Coahoma was unable to stop the Bronco ground attack, and except for two breakdowns defensively, both of which resulted in scores, the Bulldogs were equally unsuccessful moving the ball against the Broncos.

The Sonora first team offense started the scrimmage, and after two series that did not garner enough yardage for first downs, the Broncos mounted their first sustained drive of the year, going 70 yards in 10 plays to lead the scrimmage 1-0. The drive featured a powerful running game, led by excellent blocking up front by an offensive line that dominated in run blocking all night long. Justin House began the drive with a 15 yard gain off-tackle left. The drive's only pass attempt was foiled on 1st and 10 from the Bronco 45 when a Coahoma defender sacked Bronco quarterback Caleb Barker. The loss from the sack gave the Broncos a 2nd and 20 from their own 35, but Justin House again broke loose for 15 yards off-tackle left, then ran for 6 yards on a sweep right that earned the Broncos a hard-fought 1st down. Caleb Barker ran for 7 yards on a quarterback option right, then Justin House bolted for 26 yards through the middle of the Coahoma defense on a well-executed draw play. On 1st and 10 from the Coahoma 14 Adrian Mata replaced a winded House, and carried the ball on the next two plays, earning 8 yards against a stiffening Bulldog defense. 3rd and 2 from the Bulldog 6 proved to be a test for Junior quarterback Caleb Barker; the handoff was missed in the backfield, and Barker was able to turn the busted play into a gain and get the Broncos a 1st and goal at the 4. Mata followed the blocking of Pacer Holley, Michael McReynolds, Jeff Floyd, and Davis Hale into the end zone to give the Broncos the lead.

The Bronco 1st team defense took the field against the Coahoma 1st offensive team during the second series of downs, and played well in spurts and not-so-well on two plays, but those plays cost the the Broncos the lead. Kris Wood started the defensive series with a tackle for a loss of 5 yards on 1st down. Coahoma then decided to pass, and the result was a completion at the Bronco 40 yard line and run to the Bronco 5. The touchdown was saved for the moment by Louis Massey, who ran down the Coahoma receiver. Two plays later Coahoma scored against a rattled Sonora defense, tying the score at 1-1. Coahoma continued its offensive play series by completing another pass to their 43 yard line, where the tackle was made by Adrian Mata. On 1st and 10

OPEN LETTER

Mark White of San Angelo suffered damage to his ranch in Crockett County after a fire blazed through his property last week. The Sonora Fire Department responded to the scene to assist the Ozona Fire Department. Mr. White also owns property on Bond Road in Sutton County. Following is a letter written by Mark White.

We had a grass fire at Rancho Blanco in far Southwestern Crockett County. It started last Tuesday afternoon when a little thunderstorm came across and lightning touched it off. With the dry conditions that we've had, the tall grass, sotol and cedars really burned. Ted, our son, was working at the ranch, and he and the men saw the smoke and went to it. Neighboring ranchers came with stock sprayers and men to help. Bungers and Blacks, we really appreciate.

When it started getting out of hand, Ted called the Ozona Fire Department. They called out the troops. They got down to the ranch, back up Dog Canyon, and out on top faster than Ted thought possible. After awhile, they had the fire under control and were on their way back to town.

Ted and the men stayed on it all night and each afternoon, and we thought we had it. But on Friday afternoon, a hot, dry wind fanned the still smoldering sotols and away it went. Ted called for help!

By the time I got down from Angelo, the whole Ozona Fire Department was there. The fire had spread several directions, but with the big water tanker and all three units fighting hard, Chief Falkner's excellent crew of volunteers were able to get a handle on it around midnight, and by 2:00 a.m., all were headed back to town.

Ted and I stayed with our sprayers and men the rest of the night and Saturday morning, but then the hot wind picked up again. This time fires took off in all directions. Ted was on one side, I was on the other -- we both called Mrs. McCaleb at the Ozona Fire Station within minutes of each other. Realizing what we were facing, she called for all units in Ozona and then started calling our neighboring towns to send help.

Ozona came back with everything that could still roll. Sonora came with two units and crews. Eldorado came and was ready to go in if they were needed. Crockett County sent a bulldozer down, Cahill Construction sent a truck to haul our dozer from another ranch. Big Lake wanted to come, but they were fighting a fire in their area. And during the worst of it, there was a plane flying over spotting new break-outs.

Head fires were rolling toward the canyons. If the fires had gotten off the tops, they would have burned for days. The combined efforts of all the volunteers was outstanding. Everyone had a positive attitude. It was well coordinated with each crew helping where they could do the most good.

My family and I would like to thank each person that helped. We would like to thank each town that responded to the call no matter how far they had to come. We would also like to thank each county for supporting the volunteer fire departments to make this type of mutual West Texas community cooperation possible. This is our larger West Texas community at its best, and we just want to say "thank you".

The rain came and finished putting it out the best possible way. As one of our men said, "the best help of all comes from the hand of God," and we all agreed as we headed home.

I would like to thank the community for your support during the Sutton County Days celebration. I especially want to thank my sponsors at the First National Bank for their support and generosity. Open Letter to the Editor:

The world watched in horror as Susan Smith admitted killing her two young sons. The world cried for the beautiful helpless children who were dying not knowing that their lives were taken from this earth. The blood of her children will forever be in her hands. She was condemned by the world. The Bible tells us "thou shalt not kill".

My heart cries in pain when girls and parents perform abortions. Funny isn't it? If a person is killed, it's murder and is sentenced to death or prison. A helpless child still in the womb, who cannot defend for its self, is torn apart from the only safe place it started its tiny life. But it's only a fetus and piece of meat. But by God it has a tiny, tiny beating heart that is beating and a soul placed by God's hands. The baby is growing every minute, but is cut out before it ever had a chance to laugh, run and bring so much love to this diseased world. I speak for all the silent cries of beautiful babies who no one cared for. We are not God to decide who shall live or die. That is God's decision. Children are gifts from God. When you see a baby, look at the innocence in his eyes and he will smile a true deep love. Love is the most potent ingredient in this world. Yet, there is so little.

God bless all the little angels who are with him and God forgive all those hands who hold the blood of a silent child who never had a chance. Susan Smith will pay, but also all those secret killings of babies. No one can escape or hide from God.

Let the children play, run, and give us all their love. Let them live.

BRONCO BAND NOTES

by Sheryl Robertson

Hello readers! My name is Sheryl Robertson. I am a senior member of the Might Bronco Band. I will be the writer of "Bronco Band Notes" for the month of September. I would like to begin by thanking you for your interest in what is going on with the Might Bronco Band.

This week in band we have been working extra hard for Friday, which will be our first game performance for the year. We have been looking forward to this! Friday night's performance will consist of "This Land/Circle of Life", "Hakuna Matata", and will end with the Bronco Fight Song. Our show this year is based on the Walt Disney movie, "The Lion King." Later performances will include two additional songs; "I Just Can't Wait To Be King," and "Can You Feel The Love Tonight?" We would like to invite the public to come out and watch our performance on Friday night during the Broncos first football game.

The week of August 28-September 1, the band broke up into two groups. One group stayed in the band hall and practiced music while the other group went out side and practiced marching.

I would like to remind everyone about the band's fund raiser, a free car wash, that is scheduled for Saturday, September 23rd. Band members are still seeking sponsors to sponsor them for washing 250 cars, and may be contacting you concerning this fund raiser. All sponsorships will be greatly appreciated.

I hope you have enjoyed reading about the band this week. Next week I will be telling you about some of our soloists and flag members.

Until next time...

Band Student of the Week

WHAT IS EMS?

Emergency Medical Service or EMS, is a vital public service as essential to your community as fire service and law enforcement. Emergency Medical Services include the personnel, vehicles, equipment and facilities used to deliver emergency medical care to those with a sudden unpredicted illness or injury outside the hospital.

The primary goals of an EMS system are to:
Provide immediate medical assistance at the scene and while in transit.

Provide rapid transportation to a medical facility.
Have a coordinated, tiered level of pre-hospital response and hospital facilities so that the patient receives the appropriate level of care for their given injury or illness.

The Sutton County Emergency Medical Service offers a wide range of opportunities for volunteers interested in learning emergency medical treatment, helping others, and providing a critical community service.

There is a need for more people to maintain the high level of service we now have in our community. Talk to some of the ambulance crew to get a closer view. It might be right up your alley.

Sutton County Emergency Medical Service will be sponsoring an Emergency Care Attendant (ECA) Course this fall. If you are interested in taking this course call 387-5132 or come by 211 East 3rd.

THE NEWS BONILLA ANNOUNCES INTERNSHIP FOR MACK WARDLAW

submitted by Allison Broumley Griffin

U.S. Rep. Henry Bonilla (R-Texas-23) today announced that Sonora resident Mack Wardlaw has begun an agriculture internship in his Washington, D.C. office.

"I am delighted that Mack will be helping out in my Washington office," Bonilla said. "He is a good student and his experience in agriculture and political science makes him ideal for this internship."

Wardlaw began his internship on August 28 and will continue with Bonilla through the fall. He will concentrate on assisting Bonilla and his staff on agriculture issues.

Wardlaw, a junior at Texas A&M University, is participating in the agriculture department's internship program. He is working toward bachelor's degrees in both agricultural economics and political science.

Wardlaw comes from a ranching background. In addition to working part time at this parent's cattle and goat ranch, Wardlaw and his brother operate their own 1,200 acre farm and ranch in Sutton and Uvalde counties. He is financing 100 percent of his education through self-employment and part-time work for his parents.

"At the ripe old age of 22, Mack already has a tremendous amount of experience in farming and ranching," Bonilla said. "He buys and sells livestock, mohair and food grains, and he also knows firsthand what it's like to deal with the federal government on insurance and regulatory matters."

"As I continue to defend private property rights and prepare to work on the 1995 Farm Bill, Mack's experience will be a tremendous help," Bonilla said. "It's nice to have him on my team."

In addition to being a student, rancher, farmer, and congressional intern, Wardlaw is a member of the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, the American Sheep Industry, Sonora Mohair and Company, Mohair Council of America and Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

"We Put The DELICIOUS In Deli"

Valliant Effort

by Martha Valliant McLain

Many people are out of town for the Labor Day Holiday (including the McLain's). With everyone gone, my news sources knew very little about activities around town. If you were out of town, had company, or did anything interesting last week, give me a call at 387-5060 or 387-3066. I thought that I would use this week to do a column that I think may be of interest.

Language for mankind has been a problem for centuries. Supposedly, problems began with the Tower of Babel and language has been a source of contention between groups of people throughout history. It is one of those problems that seems to always be with us. Your view of what language everyone should speak is determined by your background. Many people put a moral twist to language and think that any language different from their own is "bad." Others have an attitude of superiority about language with social arrogance and believe that their own language is superior to all others. Some people face language with a stubborn attitude, saying, "If those people want to talk to me, they can just learn English!" They forget that in other countries, they become THOSE PEOPLE."

The arrogance of language is often shown by the French. They may want the tourist dollar, but they do not like to hear others speak French with poor accents. They often refuse to speak English, even if they are fluent. The French have complained for years that English and other languages are creeping into the French language and are corrupting a beautiful language. Last year the French government passed a law that makes English and all other language illegal for official use or in any commercial activities. It is illegal to use other languages if there is a French word that could be used.

This may sound extreme, but people become passionate about their "native tongue." Canada has almost had war between the French speakers and the English speakers. Some people have been violent, and politicians must declare their views, knowing that they will make enemies. Recently, a judge in Amarillo opened the door to end his career when he told a mother that speaking only Spanish to her child was a form of child abuse. His intentions were good; he wanted the child to have the advantage of knowing English. By saying that it was "child abuse," he was insulting the very heart and soul of the mother. This he did not mean to do, but chances are the judge's poor judgment will let him find another occupation. Many of you remember when it was against the law for students to speak Spanish in the Texas schools, except in Spanish class. This made Spanish speaking students feel that if their language was illegal, it must be inferior. It is strange that the school's motive of helping Spanish speaking students to learn English had a demoralizing effect. It also deprived English speaking students from learning a foreign language by talking to classmates in Spanish.

The controversy over language is ongoing and bitter. Some who have English as a second language maintain that a school system that does not teach every student to read and write in English is doing a disservice to the student. The student with limited English skills is disadvantaged in the job market and will be forced to remain in low paying jobs. Others would like to see all students taught in their native language.

We sometimes put such a special value on our own language that we forget history. A small German community in the Panhandle had always conducted church services and Sunday school in German. They did not want the children to lose the language of their ancestors. It became increasingly difficult for the parents to get their children to attend Sunday school and church because their German skills were so poor that they did not understand most of their services. The church council discussed and fought over the subject, but they finally voted to use English in the church. One elderly gentleman on the council was furious and said, "If German was good enough for Jesus, it is good enough for our children!"

You may have heard this week that Bob Dole is campaigning for president, and one of his most controversial proposals is that we adopt English as the official language of the United States. This will either cinch his election or it will defeat him. Whatever happens, it is an issue that will illicit strong feelings. Communication is vital to a nation, and we must find a common language. Hopefully, we will not abandon all other languages.

Other languages may not be dropped, but the world is on the way to adopting English as the language to learn. If you have not joined the INTERNET, you may not realize how far the computer technology can take us. The world wants to join in for information, economic advantage, and for fun. The language on the INTERNET is primarily English. Even in Spanish speaking countries, where people are sending data among Spanish speakers, the Spanish speakers are using hundreds of English terms because the technology is so new that Spanish has not developed that vocabulary. It is just simpler to "borrow" English words and use them. For example, it is common for Spanish speaking travelers on the Super Information Highway to say "La net", "el Web", and phrases like, "Voy a hacer un back up." If English is needed to access the information that the world wants, then the world will learn English.

A Spanish speaking young man of about 15 was in line at the Office Depot. He had dealt with the salesman in English while three older gentlemen watched from the sidelines. He was responsible for purchasing the equipment, and with great pride, he paid for his purchases with $3,800 in cash. Because he spoke English and computer, he was in control. The older men in the family were confident that he was buying what they needed. As his purchases were being carted out the door, he hit his head and said, "Oh no, I forgot! I must have Windows '95." The older gentlemen agreed, and even though they had spoken no English before, they all said, "Oh si, Windows '95."

If you want to use the computers and have access to information all over the world, you will probably have to learn English. Learning is easy if you have incentive. The world wants to connect with others, and English will be essential to make the connections. People will still use the computers for information that may be in many languages, but the request for the information will probably be made in English.

Most world problems are never solved, but we may be on the brink of solving one. English may soon become the language that the entire world will use. Let us hope that other languages with the beauty and richness of expression will not be abandoned.

BOBWHITE BRIGADE SEEKING APPLICATIONS

by Dr. Dale Rollins

Texas has the finest quail hunting found anywhere, and one group is working to see that it stays that way, forever.

The Bobwhite Brigade, a quail "camp" for high school youth, has trained more than 100 ambassadors for quail conservation since its inception in 1993.

Dr. Dale Rollins, San Angelo-based wildlife specialist and Bobwhite Brigade coordinator, says that the innovative quail corps is looking for "a few good men and women" for its 4th Battalion. The 4th Battalion will muster at the Crooked River Lodge north of Abilene during June 23-27, 1996.

"We take 30 cadets from throughout Texas and put them through their paces at this quail version of 'boot camp'. The kids leave well-versed in quail management, conservation and leadership skills," he says.

Cadets learn about bobwhites from the inside out and learn to develop a bird's eye view of habitat management. The hands-on curriculum involves using radio telemetry, diet analyses, and habitat evaluations.

Graduates of the rigorous training agree to conduct at least three educational programs on quail conservation in their local communities. Many have conducted more than 20 presentations, including civic groups, news articles and television appearances.

Texas youth who are currently high school freshmen through juniors are encouraged to apply for the 1996 camp. Cost for the five-day camp is $125 per cadet. Applications are available by writing to Rollins at Bobwhite Brigade, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, 7887 N. Hwy, 87, San Angelo, TX 76901, or calling 915-653-4576.

SHARP ANNOUNCES USE OF LONE STAR CARD IN SONORA

State Comptroller John Sharp announced today that paper food stamp coupons will soon be a thing of the past in Sonora.

Sharp demonstrated the state's innovative new Lone Star card and reminded Sutton County retailers who haven't yet signed on to the new system to do so quickly or risk losing their customers to other businesses.

"Sutton County is an important part of the latest expansion of the Lone Star card throughout Texas," Sharp said. "With this roll-out, the Texas attack on bureaucratic bloat and welfare fraud moves into fourth gear."

"In just four weeks, food stamps will virtually disappear from another 79 Texas counties, including the Abilene, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Harlingen, Laredo, McAllen, Midland-Odessa, San Angelo, and Wichita Falls areas," Sharp said. "And retailers who prepare early will be ready to accept the new card without a hitch."

The Lone Star card is the cornerstone of Sharp's wide-ranging welfare reform plan, which was approved by the Texas Legislature and recently signed into law by the Governor. The card was first proposed by Sharp in his 1991 Breaking the Mold report, and the Comptroller has carefully overseen its development.

By October 1, the new system will serve 950,000 existing food stamp families in 13,000 retail grocery in 201 counties. Emergency food stamp clients in the expansion area are expected to use their cards as early as September 22.

"This security card will hold both the bureaucrats and the people who depend on temporary public assistance accountable," Sharp said. "It will save tax dollars, reduce fraud and boost food sales."

"That's why I urge all retailers who accept food stamps who haven't yet signed up for the Lone Star card to do so immediately so they don't lose their customers or disappoint them when they come to buy food."

Sharp said that retailers who accept the Lone Star card reported an immediate increase in food sales after the program was implemented countywide in the Houston area.

"Between February and March, food sales rose by $4.5 million, because these electronic benefits can be spent on food and food alone, not on crack cocaine or other illegal activities in the illegal food stamp market," Sharp said.

"Since August 1, when the program expanded throughout the San Antonio, El Paso, Beaumont and Amarillo regions, the Lone Star card has been working so smoothly that retailers in those cities have rung up more than $95 million in food stamp sales,"

Sharp said.

"But retailers who fail to sign up to adopt the new card risk losing out on these increased sales," Sharp said. "Because of the vast geographical logistics of this expansion - which includes South Texas, Wichita Falls, Midland-Odessa, Abilene, and San Angelo - it's critical that retailers make arrangements now to install the necessary equipment."

"Retailers in these areas who have not yet signed agreements should contact Transactive Corporation, the Austin based operator of the Lone star card, and make arrangements to come on-line by September 22, Sharp said. 'they can contact the company toll-free at 1-800-418-8000.'

The system's upcoming expansion into the South Texas, Wichita Falls, and west Texas regions will reach some 250,000 households in 3,000 retail locations. Food stamps benefits issued in the 79 county expansion area represent nearly $55 million worth of food sales per month, and benefits issued for the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program total $10 million per month. Both programs were required by the federal government before granting Texas permission to institute the novel new system.

The Lone Star card is the largest electronic benefits transfer program ever developed. The system will expand statewide by early 1996. It is administered by the Texas Department of Human Services.

Sharp said the Lone Star card is already proving successful in reducing food stamp fraud throughout the state.

"Just six weeks into the new system, $1 million was taken off the black market in one of the largest food stamp busts in Houston history," Sharp said. "These were taxpayer funded benefits that previously had disappeared into the black hole of the black market."

"By the end of the year, we will have abolished paper food stamp coupons throughout the state," Sharp said. "We are returning the program to its original purpose - feeding hungry children, not feeding a bureaucracy and a black market of fraud."

from the Coahoma 43, the Bronco defense suffered its next major letdown when Coahoma, exploiting the absence of Bronco linebacker Levi Pool, ran off-tackle left behind good lead blocking and broke a touchdown run of 57 yards, putting the Bulldogs ahead 1-2.

After these two breakdowns the Bronco defense appeared to settle down and played much more consistently against a balanced Bulldog attack. Josh Burnham led the defense with three tackles during the series, and he was joined in his outstanding play by Kris Wood, who continues to play well, Curt Dempsey, who recorded several stops at defensive end, and excellent interior line play from Jeff Floyd and Scott Perez.

The Bronco 2nd team offense took the field for their series of plays needing to regain the lead for the Broncos, and despite some errors the offense struggled hard and was able to tie the score at 2-2. Steven Gandar started the series at tailback, and his slashing style was difficult for the Coahoma defenders to adjust to, as evidenced by his 41 yard burst up the middle on 1st and 10 from the Bulldog 39, and a fullback dive by Anthony Mungia got the Broncos a 1st down at the Coahoma 29. Gandar was again called on to carry the ball, but on 3rd and 5 from the Coahoma 23 Gandar lost control of the ball while struggling for extra yardage, and the Bulldogs recovered, forcing Sonora to begin again at its own 30 yard line.

Tailback Adrian Mata occupied the spotlight during the next Bronco series of plays. He bolted 36 yards to the Coahoma 34 on 1st and 10 from the 30, and followed with a tough run from the 25 on a 3rd and 1 play to the Coahoma 1 yard line. Mata capped the drive with his second touchdown of the night, giving the Broncos a 2-2 tie.

The Coahoma 2nd offense was unable to move the ball at all against a very stingy Bronco defense led by John Paul Hudman, Andy Mirike, Curt Dempsey, Anthony Mungia, and Steven Gandar. The fine play of these athletes should be pleasing to Bronco fans, because they demonstrate the depth the Broncos have, a luxury every good team needs in case of untimely injury.

The 1st team Bronco offense took the field to end the scrimmage, and was able to drive the field successfully and score again against the Bulldogs. The Broncos drove 70 yards in 5 plays to seal the scrimmage, gaining good yardage through the air and on the ground during the drive. Caleb Barker connected with Davis Hale on 1st and 10 from the Bronco 30 all the way to the Coahoma 48, and Adrian Mata followed this fine play with one of his own, bulling his way to the Coahoma 29. Fullback Mike House rumbled to the Coahoma 17 on 1st and 10, and on the ensuing 1st down Justin House sprinted off-tackle right behind excellent blocking from Raymond Hubble and John Jones to the 1 yard line. Justin House scored on the next play, sealing the victory for the Broncos.

The Broncos' home opener is Friday, September 8, 1995 at 8:00 p.m. in Bronco Stadium against the always-tough Wall Hawks. Come out and support the Broncos as they begin another exciting season of Bronco Football. The Broncos look to be as tough defensively as they have been in a long time, and their ball-control rushing offense, when combined with the explosive speed of wideouts Andy Mirike and Louis Massey, will make them a very entertaining offensive team. The Bronco non-district schedule is tough (including 4 playoff teams from last season [Mason, Wall, Eldorado, Ozona], and several district teams this year, most noticeably Colorado City and Kermit, appear to be much better than they were last year and gaining ground on Greenwood and Sonora at the head of the district class. The Broncos will need support throughout the season to be successful, so come to as many games as you can, and get ready to cheer the Broncos into the playoffs again this year.
