October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month

Survey Shows Widespread Confusion About Breast Cancer Risk

Some Have Unreasonable Fears; Others a False Sense of Security

In a recent nationwide survey, the American Cancer Society found that many women are misinformed when it comes to understanding breast cancer risk.

According to the survey, nearly half of the respondents thought that women in the United States have a 30 to 50% chance of developing the disease, while two thirds believed that the risk is greater than 20%. These misconceptions about how often breast cancer strikes, can lead to unreasonable fears about the disease. In fact, according to the American Cancer Society, the average lifetime risk for breast cancer is approximately 11%.

Women who were also thought that the risk for getting breast cancer is greatest between the ages of 30 and 49, when in reality, that risk increases with age. This could lead to a false sense of security for older women-in their 50s, 60s and 70s—if they mistakenly believe breast cancer is a disease of younger women and neglect getting regular mammograms themselves. According to the Society, 77% of new cases and 84% of breast cancer deaths reported between 1994 and 1998 occurred in women ages 50 and older.

Death Tolls Still Too High While the risks are much lower than what the women in the survey understand them to be, breast cancer death tolls are still too high. By the end of this year, 192,000 women will be diagnosed with breast cancer and 40,600 women will die of this "This important research shows there is a lot of information out there about breast cancer risk, which women are unable to easily understand in terms of their personal risk for getting this terrible disease," said Carolyn D. Runowicz, MD, an American Cancer Society national board member. "The American Cancer Society encourages women to talk to their doctors about what breast cancer risk means to them personally."

Tell-A-Friend

A statewide campaign has been created to call attention to the importance of mammography in the fight against breast cancer. Tell-A-Friend callers are being recruited across the state to call at least five female family members, friends and or acquaintances - including at least one who has never had a mammogram and encourage them to have a mammogram.

Tell-A-Friend kicked off statewide on Monday, October 1. Calls can also be made throughout October, Breast Health Awareness

Organizers hope to recruit 6000 callers with a push to reach 30,000 women including 5000 for their first

Tell-A-Friend calls will be made by volunteers in all corners of Texas. Any interested women are invited to join the American Cancer Society in reaching out with a lifesaving message. Businesses and corporations are encouraged to participate by permitting and encouraging employees to make lifesaving phone calls from the workplace during October.

Interested individuals can call the American Cancer Society at 1-800-ACS-2345 to receive an information and calling packet. Information on Tell-A-Friend is also posted on the American Cancer Society website at www.cancer.org.

Behavioral studies tell us that women are most likely to get a mammogram if they're encouraged to do so by a friend, physician or family member. The survival rate of breast cancer is almost 100% when detected early. Annual screening mammogram for women age 40 and older are the key element of newly revised American Cancer Society guidelines, which also include annual exams by a health care professional and monthly breast selfexamination.

Rodeo Team Shows Well In Ft. Stockton

submitted

The Sonora Rodeo team traveled to Ft. Stockton for another weekend of rodeoing. David Cook was unable to compete due to injuries from the Big Lake rodeo. We hope to have him back soon.

On Saturday, the first rodeo was the make-up rodeo from Sunday in Del Rio that was rained out. Stetson Hall placed 9th in the Calf Roping with a time of 13.5. Stetson also won 3rd in the Steer Wrestling, but Stetson & Laramie had tough luck in the Team Roping with a no time.

Saturday night was the first performance for Ft. Stockton. Stetson had a great run in the Steer

Wrestling, with a time of 9.2 to win 1st. The Hall brothers placed 7th in the Team Roping with a time of

On Sunday, the Hall's dominated the Steer Wrestling with Laramie in first with 10.7 and Stetson 2nd with an 11.4. They also got a check in the Team Roping, with a time of 12.5 to place 5th.

The team will have their final rodeo for the fall in Ozona on October 20 and 21st. They are selling raffle tickets for a 2002 Dodge truck to benefit the Texas High School Rodeo Association. If you are interested in purchasing one please contact one of the boys.

Sonora Students Reaching Out To Attack Victims_

by Marlyn Young, SMS Reading Teacher

This week the students of all Sonora Schools will be participating in a "Shoe Box of Support" drive, benefiting the relief workers of New York City. We are all aware of the terrible disaster that happened September 11, 2001. We are asking the students to bring a regular shoebox and at least 2 items from the list below. They can bring more if desired. The student will decorate the boxes with inspiration messages or in patriotic colors, hoping to help boost the spirit of the relief workers. The supplies have to be at the school by October 4, 2001. On October 5th Marlyn Young will be driving the boxes over to Sunset Mall in San Angelo, where a truck will transport them to New York. The community is encouraged to participate in this drive by donating cups, pens and business items.

Your help is needed to make this project a success.

List of supplies to include: Bibles/Inspirational Books, Notebooks/Journals, pens, letters of support, Vicks Vapor Rub, Neosporin, Band-Aids, Face Masks, heavy duty gloves, eye drops, sunscreen, lip balm, cough drops, water bottles/mugs, cotton swabs, baby wipes/handy wipes, hard candies, gum, bandannas, towels, work boots, pre-paid phone cards, blankets, toothbrush, toothpaste, flash-

Broncos Deflate Blizzards At Homecoming

The Broncos ended their predistrict schedule last Friday in a Homecoming bout with the Winters Blizzards. The 2A Blizzards brought a 3 and 1 record into this inter-district match. Defensively, the Blizzards were able to do what the previous four 3A opponents of the Broncos could not do; hold Bronco speedster, William Renfro, to less than a 100 yards rushing.

Eighty-four yards to be exact. What Winters did not prepare for; was the air attack of the Red Hosses. Bronco quarterback, Scottie Moore, completed 9 of 13 passes for 202 yards and 4 touchdowns; with Bronco wide receiver, James Elliott, being his primary target (8 receptions for 165 yards and 3 touchdowns). Offensively, the Broncos had a balanced attack (202 yards passing and 231 rushing) and put 42 points on the score board. Defensively the Big Red Machine limited the high powered Blizzard offense to 264 total yards ( 161 yards passing and 103 yards rush-

After the pre-game ceremonies were completed and the Broncos electing to defer to second half; they were led on the field by Sean Fields carrying and waving the American flag. As one spectator put it "If that does not give you goose bumps -Nothing will!"

Whether it was this action, homecoming hoop-la, or just the "Bronco Express" starting to engage the gears; the Winters

Blizzards ran into a buzz saw. Both team's defenses ruled the first quarter. Neither team could generate enough offense to sustain a drive. Mid-way through the first quarter, the Broncos had an excellent opportunity to put points on the board. After a short punt by the Blizzards, the Broncos found themselves in Blizzard territory at the Winters forty-eight. Staying predominately on the ground, the Broncos began to move toward the Blizzards end zone. Runs by William Renfro, Sean Fields, and Brandon Adkins as well as a pass from Moore to Elliott would get the pigskin to the Blizzards fourteen. At the fourteen, a holding call on the Broncos would force a field goal try. The try by Stetson Hall would be wide and Winters defense had held. Starting at their own twenty, the Blizzards would end up loosing yardage. One play for minus three yards and three procedure calls would move the ball back to the Blizzard eight. At the eight, Winters running back, Eric Lopez, would loose the handle, and Bronco safety James Elliott, would recover the loose pigskin at the Blizzard eight yard line. Threading the needle between two Blizzard defenders; Scottie Moore would find Emmanuel Lopez in the back corner of the end zone for the Broncos first score of the game. With no time showing on the first quarter game clock, Stetson Hall would drill the PAT to give the Broncos a seven point advantage: Winters 0 -Sonora 7.

To begin the second quarter, the Bronco defense did not let up on the Blizzards. Defensive plays by Dustin Martin, Juan Rodriguez, and James Elliott, plus a holding call after gaining only two positive yards and using three and a half minutes of the second quarter. An overly aggressive Blizzard defense would force the Broncos to punt after three plays and only one positive yard gained. With seven minutes and twenty-one seconds left in the second quarter, the Blizzards would set up shop at the Bronco forty-two. Taking a cue from the Red Hosses, Winters only needed a minute and three plays to put points on the board. A forty-two yard scoring bomb from Shane Colburn to Rusty Jackson with Jeffery Oats adding the PAT would tie the ball game with six minutes and twentyfour seconds left in the second quarter. Winters 7 - Sonora 7. The Bronco offense not to be intimidated would take possession after the ensuing kick-off at their own thirtyfour. Using the fullback, Sean Fields as the main mode of transportation, the Broncos aided by a major face mask penalty, advanced the football to the Blizzard twenty on six plays. At the twenty, the Express (William Renfro) would sprint untouched into the end zone on a cross buck draw. Hall would just inch the ball over the cross bar to give Sonora a 14 to 7 lead. The Red Hoss defense led by Chance Armke, Thomas Bloodworth, and Stetson Hall would really increase the pressure on the Blizzards; forcing Winters to punt after three downs. Taking over on the Blizzard forty-seven, the quick strike offense of the Broncos would only need two plays and thirty seconds to break the back of the Blizzards. A nice gain by Renfro on a direct snap from center would be called back due to a holding penalty and with a minute and forty-seven seconds on the clock, Moore would loft up a touch pass to Elliott, who would haul it in for a forty five yard catch and run for the Bronco touchdown. This time Hall would boom the kick through the uprights for the PAT to give the Broncos a fourteen point advantage. Winters 7 - Sonora 21. Trying to get back in the game, Winters would go to the air on eight of ten plays; but to no avail, as the Bronco secondary would cover the receivers like a glove and the Red Hoss defensive line would put tremendous pressure on the Blizzard quarterback and force them to turn the ball over on downs with eleven seconds left. Being in Blizzard territory at the forty-one, the Broncos still had time for a shot at the end zone. A twenty two yard pass play from Moore to Sean Fields would move the ball to the Blizzard twenty-seven. With just seconds left on the clock, the Broncos called time out and the Bronco coaching staff elected to try a forty-four yard field goal into the wind. Bronco place-kicker, Stetson Hall, hit it solid and just missed however, the Broncos would take a 21 to 7 lead to the dressing room.

To start the second half, the Broncos would start at their own thirty. Pass plays to James Elliott and Douglas Yochum along with excellent runs by William Renfro, Sean Fields, and Dustin Martin would move the ball to the Blizzard

Commissioners Approve Wild Animal Ordinance

At the meeting of the County Commissioners on Monday, September 24, 2001 it was approved to allow the EMS department to put up a flag pole in front of their building. Pat Campbell made the request and informed the Commissioners that Cleve T. and Lolabeth Jones had agreed to donate the pole that was in front of the old Post Office building. Sheriff Fincher stated that they too would like a flag pole and would be looking for one to be donated.

The Commissioners approved a Wild Animal Ordinance in Sutton County prohibiting wild animals being kept as pets.

County Judge Carla Garner submitted a request by Coach Johnny Creek for the County to assist in the cost of putting a sprinkler system in at the Baseball field. Garner told the Commissioners that Creek has raised all but $1000 for the system and was going to ask the school to split that remaining cost the County. Commissioners agreed to pay the Garner advised Commissioners that they would have to adjust the DPS budget because of some electrical wiring that had to be done when the breathalyzer was moved from the old Police Department to the office. Sheriff's Commissioners agreed to pay the bill at this time, but advised that no such changes be made in the future without prior approval.

The Commissioners approved for the advertising for bids on two (2) pick-ups for the Road and Bridge Department.

The Commissioners then went in to executive session with the County Attorney.

Editorial Writing

Texas teachers have always looked for ways to improve writing skills. The editorial writing contest will build those skills as well as refine the students ability to prepare a well-balanced persuasive paper.

The Editorial Writing contest is 45 minute contest. Test materials shall consist of a fact sheet from which participants develop an edi-

There will be 3 contestants and 1 alternate representing each grade level, both 7th and 8th grade.

Impromptu Speaking

This contest provides opportunities for students to evaluate speeches given by others; to explore the use of the voice and body in speaking situations; to examine the different purposes for speaking; to organize ideas; to prepare and deliver various speeches; and to develop self-confidence.

Contestants will draw three topics and have three minutes to prepare a speech, which must be presented without any notes. The contest gives participants experience in thinking, organizing, formulating clear thoughts and effectively delivering those thoughts to an

Topics for the meet will be furnished by the League office. Topics, which may be serious or humorous in nature, will, be designed to include subjects that are familiar to the student.

Students may prepare for the contest by designing topics similar to ones used in the contest and speaking to classes and groups.

The maximum time limit for each speech is five minutes. There is no minimum time limit. There will be 3 contestants and 1 alternate representing each of the 7th and 8th

Modern Oratory

In Modern Oratory, contestants select one of the topics, determine the critical issues in the topic and acknowledge both pro and con points citing support discovered in their research. Students will choose a side they will defend and support that side with additional evidence. Along with the skills of analysis, research, note-taking, documentation, evaluation and decision-making come those of delivery and the skill of memorization.

Students will deliver a three to six minute speech without the use of notes on their topics.

The contest rules will list three to five topics or questions from which the student will select one to prepare for modern oratory. In the process of preparing for the contest, the student will need to: define the problem, determine the pro and con issues, research the issue, look at both sides of an issue, research a conclusion; and support that conclusion with documentation.

Contestants must select one of the following topics for developing the oration.

· Does standardized testing improve education?

· Is developing natural resources on federal lands more important than protecting the environment?

· Should American troops participate in international peacekeeping missions?

· Should the Electoral College be abolished?

• Is it appropriate to prosecute juveniles as adults?

There will be 3 contestants and one alternate representing each of the 7th and 8th grades.

Photography Contest

Owing Mills, MD (USA) - The International Library Photography is pleased to announce that over $60,000.00 in prizes will be awarded this year in the International Open Amateur Photography Contest. Photographers from the Sonora area, particularly beginners, are welcome to try and win their share of over 1,300 prizes. The deadline for the contest is December 31, 2001. The contest is open to everyone and entry is FREE.

"Everyone has at least one memorable photo that captures a special moment in time," stated Christina Babylon, Contest Director. "When people learn about our free photography contest, they suddenly realize that their own favorite photos can win cash prizes, as well as gain national exposure," continued Babylon.

To enter, send ONE photograph in ONLY ONE of the following categories: People, Travel, Pets, Children, Sports, Nature, Action, Humor, Portraiture, or Other. The photo must be a color or black-andwhite print (unmounted), 8" x 10" or smaller. All entries must include the photographer's name and address on the back, as well as the category and the title of the photo. Photographers should be sent to: The International Library of Photography, Suite 101-2612, 3600 Crondall Lane, Owings Mills, MD 21117. Entries must be postmarked by December 31, 2001. You may also submit your photo

7th Grade Colts Continue Winning Streak Against Winters

If you have watched the last two 7th grade Colt football games, you probably are getting familiar with the term "shut out". That's because for the 3rd straight week, the Colts have kept the opposing team, which happened to be the Winters Blizzards, out of the little stretch of field called the endzone. Led by Agustin Vaquera, the Colt defense punished the Blizzards' ball carriers.

Vaquera ended the game with tackles followed by Dustin Duhon and Ruben Mendez each with 4 tackles. Robert Guerra had 2 tackles and Pedro Gloria, Alex Perez, and Justin Northcott all got in on the action with 1 tackle a piece. Evan Gulley aided the defense with a key interception in the 1st quarter. The defensive MVP was without a doubt Jose Casillas. Casillas has 1 tackle and 2 interceptions with 1 TD. Offensively the Colts were unstoppable and accumulated 202 yards of total offense. On the first play of scrimmage, Caleb Ramos connected with Pedro Gloria for a 45 yard TD. Ramos had plenty of time to get the ball off, thanks to great pass protection form C.D. Lipham, Alex Perez, Marco Jiminez, Travis Valliant, and Aaron Nitsch. The Colts' second score was on the ground with Vaquera running around the right end for a 45 yard TD. That would be his only carry of the game. Ramos would then run the ball into the endzone on the PAT to make the score 16-0 at the end of the 1st quarter. Ramos would throw another strike for a TD. This time it was to Evan Gulley for 15 yards. Ruben Mendez would add the 2 point conversion to make the score 24-0 at the half. After the half. Robert Guerra would lead the offensive attack.

After Casillas' TD interception made the score 32-0, the Junction here in Sonora. Everyone offense marched down the field and scored one final time. It would be Ruben Mendez who found him-last drive was made possible because of the up front blocking of Hernandez, Steven Lozano, Nathan Mungia, and Ryan Martinez. Mendez ended the game with 40 yards followed by Northcott with 17 yards and Casillas with 10 yards. Caleb Ramos was the offensive MVP with 4 completions for 90 yards tions were to Gloria, Duhon, Abraham Rivera, and Gulley. The Colts will be off this week and will resume play on Oct. 11th against is invited to come out and cheer

8th Grade Colts Find Victory Against The Blizzards

by Nancy Glasscock The 8th Grade team took to the field against a larger Winters' team. The Colts put points on the board first. After a Hilton Bloodworth return of ten yards, a pitch to Uriel Santana and two runs by Chris Perez, the ball was on the three yard line. Embre Smith scored the touchdown on a keeper and Bloodworth scored the PAT making the score 8-0. The next score for the Colts was in the second quarter. The drive started with Bloodworth returning a punt for 20 yards. Several short runs by Chris Perez moved the ball to the 47 yard line. From there, Smith threw a 53 yard touchdown pass to Anthony Longoria. Perez scored the PAT making the score 16

The Blizzards' best player was Number 32. He took one of the Broncos' kickoffs up the far sideline for a good gain before a touchdown, saving tackle was made by Steven Barthelemy. Several Colts made twenty. At the twenty, faced with a fourth and two; Renfro would be dropped for an eight yard loss by a very aggressive Winters defense. Thus turning the ball over on downs. The Red Hoss defense not to be out done forced a turnover on Winters next possession. Thomas Bloodworth, Sean Fields, and Chance Armke would lead the pressure on the Blizzards. Under this tremendous pressure, Winters quarterback, Shane Colburn, would drop the football and Bronco defensive end, Beau Hughes, would recover it at the Blizzard thirty-five. Runs by Renfro would move the ball into Blizzard territory at the forty-one. With four minutes and twenty seconds left in the third quarter; Moore would connect with Elliott on yet another forty-one yard bomb for the Broncos fourth touchdown of the game. Hall would remain perfect and boom the PAT through the uprights. Winters 7 - Sonora 28.

Three and out - Bronco defense at its finest. The Bronco defense led by Beau Hughes, Stetson Hall, Chance Armke, and Sean Fields would force the Blizzards to punt after gaining minimum yardage on their next possession. The Bronco running attack of Brandon Adkins, Juan Rodriguez, and Sean Fields would move the ball to the Blizzard twenty. At the twenty, Bronco running back Juan Rodriguez would loose the handle on the football and Blizzard defensive lineman, Zermeno Raul would recover the loose pigskin at the Winters twentythree just as the third quarter buzzer sounded.

Alternating between the run and pass, the Blizzards began to move the ball down the field to open the fourth quarter. Excellent open field running by Winters quarterback, Shane Colburn and passes to Jeremy Hope moved the ball into Bronco territory at the Sonora forty. At the forty, Colburn went to the air one to many times. linebacker, Thomas Bloodworth, intercepted the pass at the Bronco thirty-eight and returned it to the Winters thirty-three. Once again the quick strike offense of the Broncos only needed two plays and less than a minute to light up the score board. A run of eight yards by Dustin Martin and then the Moore/Elliott connection; a twenty-four yard pass to Elliott in the end zone and the Broncos would go up by twentyseven points. The PAT by Hall would add the thirty-fifth point. Winters 7 - Sonora 35. On the ensuing possession by the Blizzards, they would suffer their second turn over of the period. Bronco defensive lineman, Wylie Wagoner, would intercept the shuttle pass from Winters quarterback, Shane Colburn, to give the Red Hosses the football at the Bronco forty-nine. However, the Big Red Machine could not take advantage of the turn, over and would have to turn the ball over on downs. Facing a lot of the Bronco reserves on defense, Winters would only need a minute and six seconds to notch their second score of the game. Two runs by Mark Moreno, and two pass plays to Rusty Jackson would gain the elusive promised land. The touchdown would come on a fifteen yard pass play from Colburn to Jackson with five minutes and forty seconds left in the game. Oats would add the PAT to give the Blizzards fourteen points. Winters 14 - Sonora 35.

The Bronco reserves would answer the Blizzard touchdown with one of their own on the ensuing possession. Short runs by Brandon Adkins and Juan Rodriguez would set up a third and long for the Broncos. Anticipating the pass, the Blizzards elected to come with an all out blitz. Bronco wingback, Dustin Martin, would take the hand off on the counter play and out-race the Blizzard secondary for eightyone yards and the Broncos final touchdown of the game. Hall remained true and added the Broncos forty-second point. Winters 14 - Sonora 42. With three minutes and thirty-two seconds left in the game, the Blizzards were not throwing in the towel. Pass receptions by Jeremy Hope and runs by Eric Lopez would steadily move the football down the field. With fortynine seconds left in the game, Colburn would find Hope in the corner of the end zone for the Blizzards third touchdown. Jeffery Oats would add the PAT to make the score: Blizzards 21 - Broncos 42. For the next forty-six seconds, the Broncos would be satisfied to kneel the ball and run out the clock.

Final: Winters 21 - Sonora 42 The Broncos will enjoy a well deserved rest this week as they will have an open date. The Broncos next opponent will be the Junction Eagles next Friday, as they will start District 2-2A play.

RRC Sets Texas Gas Production Allowables For October

Railroad Commission Chairman Michael L. Williams, Commissioner Charles R. Matthews, and Commissioner Tony Garza today set October natural gas production allowables for prorated fields in the state to meet market demand of 28,895,720 Mcf (thousand cubic feet).

For these fields, the October 2001 allowable represents a decrease of 5,996,454 Mcf when compared to actual production of 34,892,174 Mcf in October 2000. In setting the October 2001 allowable, the Commission used historical production figures from October 2000 and producer forecasts for the October 2001 demand, and then adjusted the figures to account for such factors as well capability, new wells in a field, etc.

Texas natural gas storage reported by the Commission for the month of August 2001 is 259,621,379 Mcf compared to 197,985,450 Mcf in August 2000. The September gas storage estimate is 267,863,385 Mcf.

Gas well gas from prorated fields accounts for 9 percent of total gas well production in Texas.

Preliminary statewide production reported for July 2001 is 26,301,908 barrels of crude oil and 373,483,260 Mcf of gas well gas.

The Commission's estimated final production for this month can be obtained by multiplying these preliminary production totals by a production adjustment factor of 1.0392 for crude oil and 1.0998 for gas well gas.

(These production totals do not include casinghead gas or conden-

Statement By Rep. Henry Bonilla Regarding Senate Intentions

D.C. - Rep. Henry Bonilla (R-TX)

After careful onsideration, and discussions family, friends and supporters, I have decided to stay put and not run for the U.S. Senate at this time. I have given this matter very serious hought. This was a difficult decision. Several major factors were considered.

Family. I have a 12 year old son and 16 year old daughter. Running for the Senate would have required me to be away from home almost around the clock for over a year. Rumor has it my wife would have missed me too, but this has not

Current Job. I love my curent job in the House of Representatives. I have a senior position with direct responsibilities over military and intelligence matters. I also chair the subcommittee on Appropriations that funds our

WASHINGTON, nation's agricultural needs. These unique responsibilities demand that I serve our country in these difficult times. Fulfilling these duties will not provide me with sufficient time to run a statewide political cam-

> Political. I believe it is essential that we present a unified GOP ticket in the fall of next year. Had I entered the primary, most agree that millions of dollars would have been spent between the GOP candidates in a bruising battle. My decision will help GOP unity and save millions of campaign dollars that will be better used by our nominee in November.

I thank my wife and children for their constant support in the decision making process. I also thank the countless supporters who pledged to stick with me regardless of my decision.

To my supporters, and to all my constituents, I pledge to continue my work, striving to be the best U. S. Representative for the people of the 23rd Congressional district.

Frequently Asked Questions Regarding Social Security Number Requirements For Hunting License

Recently, Texas Parks & Wildlife has started to require a Social Security Number be furnished as a requirement of purchasing a license through the Texas Outdoor Connection. The collection of the Social Security Number is a new requirement mandated by the Federal Government. TPW has no option but to comply with Federal Law and collect the numbers from the purchasers of licenses. To help deal with these questions, we are providing answers to some commonly asked questions:

What if I refuse to provide my social security number?

TPW cannot force you to provide your social security number, however under Federal Statute we cannot sell you a license.

What Federal Law are we talking about here?

Your social security number is required to be collected for the purpose of child support collection enforcement under Federal Statute 42 U.S.C.A. 666 and Texas Family Code, Section 231.302.

Do I have to provide my child's social security number in order to purchase their license?

A child under the age of 17 years is not required to furnish a social security number.

What if I do not have a social security number? In the rare instance that a U.S. resident does not have a social security number, they are asked to fill out a sworn affidavit that no number

What if my social security number is stolen, who is liable? Like banks, mortgage companies and other organizations that maintain social security numbers as part of their records, TPW and its contractor for license sales take great care in safeguarding this infor-

I am very unhappy with this law, and its effect on me. Who can I talk to about this?

While staff at TPW are willing to listen to your concerns, by the nature of the problem, they are not in a position to effect any change. We would suggest contacting your state and U.S. Senator or Representative and communicating your concerns.

I want to buy a license for a friend or relative, am I required to furnish their social security number?

Yes, the law requires that the purchaser provide the social security number of the person holding the

Turner Clarifies Myths Surrounding Redistricting

Austin - Representative Bob Turner Redistricting, which requires each member of the legislature to represent approximately the same number of people, is a federally mandated requirement that takes place the year after each federal tenyear census is completed. Since population gains and losses vary from region to region of the state, this means loss of representation for most rural areas of the state, while it also means a dramatic increase in numbers of representatives for the fast growing suburban / interstate highway areas of Texas. Rural areas of Central and West Texas suffer severe loss because of this, as does deep East Texas.

The Texas Legislature has the responsibility of drawing the new districts following the census for not only the Texas House of Representatives and the Texas Senate, but also for U.S. Congressional districts in our state and the State Board of Education. The impression has been left with Texans that the legislature fell down in carrying out that responsibility, which is certainly the case with the Senate plan, the Congressional plan and the Board of Education plan. However, the Texas House did, by legislative action and a majority vote, pass House Bill 150, which was the redistricting plan for the Texas House. The House redistricting plan (HB150) was sent to the Senate Redistricting Committee, where it was passed, and voted out by a vote of 8 for and 0 against. It was then sent to the full Senate, where the bill was never acted on.

The Texas Constitution prescribes that a Legislative Redistricting Board (LRB) consist-Legislative ing of the Speaker of the Texas House, Lt. Governor (or presiding officer of the Senate), General Land Commissioner, State Office Comptroller of Public Accounts and the Attorney General has the responsibility of creating plans, if they were not approved by the entire legislature and signed into law by the Governor of this state. This has now been done and their plans are before the U.S. Department of Justice where they must be reviewed and either approved or disapproved for constitutionality and compliance within their prescribed guidelines. The Justice Department is currently doing this evaluation, also known as preclearance.

As a result of the makeup of the plans approved by the LRB for redistricting, numerous lawsuits have now been filed for such issues as retrogression (i.e., creating a loss in possible representation for minorities, etc.) or determining if counties were unnecessarily divided and portions placed in more than one district when it could have been avoided. They will also determine if the new districts were created with counties who share the same or similar common interests. These are just a few of the possible infractions that could cause the Department of Justice to invalidate the LRB plans. Currently the Congressional redistricting process is being heard in the State District Court in Austin, and will then likely progress to the Federal District Court in Tyler Texas as its next step. October 15 has been set as the beginning date for the federal hearing to take place. This date has also been established as the deadline for State District Court action on the Texas House and Texas Senate plans as well. These cases are based on a number of possible abnormalities, any of which could possibly cause the plans approved by the LRB to be disqualified.

Perhaps the most confusing and false impression that has been left since the LRB approved their plans and forwarded them to the Justice Department, is that members who are currently serving in either the House or Senate are now mysteriously not representing the districts to which they were elected or that they are already representing the proposed districts of the LRB plan. This is certainly not the case. Those who were elected in the 2000 general elections continue to represent their respective districts until the new legislature is sworn in on January 9, 2003.

It is very possible that the dis-tricts proposed by the LRB will be changed substantially before the filing date for reelection, which begins the first week in December of 2001, and extends through the first week in January of 2002. Thus, it is very probable that at the beginning of the period for filing comes, those incumbent members, as well as those who wish to run for the offices will not know what the makeup of the districts will truly be. This creates a great amount of confusion for not only the current membership of the legislature, and those who might wish to run for a position, but is also very confusing for the populace in general.

In addition, despite what may have been said or heard, I have no intention or desire to move to a neighboring county. The land on which I currently reside, is the same land which the Turner family has been ranching for nearly 100 years, a tradition of which I am very proud of and a life that my family and I greatly enjoy. I am deeply honored to have the privilege of serving the good people of this area. I assure you, however, that no political process or party will ever determine the place that my family and I choose to

Potter Visits Middle School Book Fair/Open House_

The Scholastic Book Fair on Sept. 17th thru the 21st was a great success, providing exciting books for our children and raising approximately $900.00 for Sonora Middle School. Harry Potter (played by Emily Butler) greeted the guests for our first annual Open House that was held Tuesday evening on the 18th of Sept. Over 75 parents and family members visited the Book Fair and Open House that evening. Our classroom libraries received several donated books of which we are most grateful. Sonora Middle School staff would like to thank all the parents and students who came for the evening to visit their teachers and enjoy refreshments. A special thanks goes to our local businesses: Alco, Pizza Hut, and Team Graphics. These wonderful people donated items for Door prizes that were given away at the Book Fair Tuesday evening. Our winners of the door prizes were as follows:

Harry Potter Notebooks - Kathleen Freeman, John Duke Hudson, Emily Newton, Steven Pacheco, and George Villanueva; Personal Pan Pizzas - Zenon Acosta, Rose Butler, Jennifer Creek, Tina Covey, Swade Draper, Antonia Gallegos, Jessica Hines, Bobby Jackson, Ed Newton, Erin Newton and Hunt Wagner; Bronco State Champion T-Shirts -Jamie Cooper, Pam Munn and Tissie Wagoner; Shelby Onofre won the Bronco stickers and last but not least a $10.00 Gift Certificate to spend at the Book Fair was won by Elsa Vasquez. The bookfair could not have been successful without the help of wonderful volunteers. We would like to thank the following people who gave up their time during the week to help keep us on our toes: Rose Butler, Toni Charo, Vallree Draper, Charlotte Higdon, Sharon Holman, Lori Newton, Letricia Parker, and Kay Word.

RRC: Teach Children After-School Rules For Propane Appliance Safety

(Austin)- Texas Railroad Commission Chairman Michael L. Williams and Commissioners Charles R. Matthews and Tony Garza today reminded adults to discuss propane gas appliance safety procedures with children for when they are home alone after school.

It's estimated that there are close to one half million latchkey children in Texas so it's imperative that they know what to do in the event of an emergency," said Chairman Williams. "Teaching our children the basic propane safety rules will allow them to recognize those emergencies when an adult isn't home."

"It should go without saying that propane appliances are not toys," said Commissioner Matthews. "Children should never play near or around propane tanks. In addition, appliances should not be used without adult supervision."

'Children need to remember ABC when it comes to propane appliances-always be careful," said Commissioner Garza. "By teaching children how to identify common noises and smells from propane appliances they'll learn to recognize anything out of the ordinary. It's a lesson that can't be repeated enough."

Propane gas has an odorant added to help identify any gas leak. Show your children how to identify that "rotten egg" smell by using a scratch and sniff" brochure available from Texas propane suppliers.

The Railroad Commission of Texas' Alternative Fuels Research and Education Division (AFRED) can provide consumers with basic safety tips, as well as additional propane uses and rebates by calling toll-free, (800) 64-CLEAR (800-642-5327).

Propane safety tips are also available on line at the Texas Railroad Commission web site:

DPS Issues Private Plane Cautionary Advisory

The Department of Public Safety is reminding private plane owners to be extra vigilant in light of the recent terrorist attacks.

Specifically, DPS is advising private plane owners to periodically check on their planes to make sure they are accounted for and to be on the lookout for suspicious activity.

If any plane is either missing or unaccounted for, plane owners are urged to immediately call their local police department or sheriff's office. If unable to contact local authorities, citizens also can call the roadside assistance line, 1-800-525-5555, and DPS will assist you in contacting the appropriate authori-

"We have no specific information related to attempted thefts, but are asking plane owners to check on their aircraft more often than they have in the past, simply as a precautionary measure," said DPS Director Thomas A. Davis Jr.

Monarch Fest 2001 Saluting Butterflies' Incredible Journey

At the beginning of October, lovely and majestic Monarch butterflies will flutter through Hill Country yards, pastures and along roadsides en route to their winter home in the mountains of Mexico.

In celebration of the winged beauties' passage through Central Texas, Fredericksburg Butterfly Ranch and Habitat is hosting their second annual Monarch Fest from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, October 6.

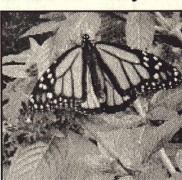

Visitors can observe Monarch tagging and release demonstrations, see graceful butterflies dancing by a peaceful pond in the habitat, witness the magic of the butterfly life cycle in the caterpillar house, and learn the basics of butterfly gardening. Mass releases of tagged Monarchs will be at 11:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Special guided tours of the Ranch will take place throughout the day, or guests can enjoy a relaxing stroll through the habitat and gardens at their leisure.

Fun and educational activities will entertain the whole family. Children are encouraged to come dressed as butterflies and enter a drawing for special butterfly prizes.

Each spring and fall, millions of the orange and black butterflies make the long, perilous trek across the continent to and from their over-wintering home in Mexico and along the southern California bor-

In a combined effort with Monarch Watch at the University of Kansas, Monarchs will be "tagged" and released throughout the event as part of a large-scale international mark and recapture program to aid in the study and research of their migration. Tagging consists of placing a tiny official Monarch Watch self-adhesive tag on the butterflies' wings.

Deborah Payne, Ranch owner and butterfly specialist who is in her fifth season of raising butterflies, will tell the incredible story of how and why millions of Monarchs journey thousands of miles each year to spend the winter in Mexico. Admission for Monarch Fest is

$3 for adults, $2 for seniors, $1 for kids 3-12 and free under age 3. The active working butterfly ranch at 508 W. Main in Fredericksburg specializes in native Texas butterflies, larval and nectar plants, all featured in a 1500 sq. ft. walk through butterfly house. Both young and the young at heart can enjoy watching as butterflies are nurtured through their fascinating life cycle from tiny eggs, to caterpillars, to chrysalises and finally into graceful adult butterflies.

The butterfly gift shop is open year round, and the habitat is open seasonally from March through November. Hours are Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sundays 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., and the habitat closes at 4:30 p.m. daily.

Payne also sends butterflies for release to events across the country, such as weddings, birthdays, anniversaries, memorials, and many other special occasions.

Group and school tours are welcome. For additional information about Monarch Fest, to book tours, or for butterfly ordering information, call (830) 990-0735 or visit website www.livebutterfly.com.
