

Convicts Sought In Northeast Texas

LOCAL FRANCHISE IN WTNM LEAGUE FORFEITED TODAY

Query Announces the Club Will Be Disbanded

NO ATTENDANCE

Lack of Patronage to League Leaders Blamed

Wray Query, holder of the Midland franchise in the West Texas-New Mexico League, today announced that he was surrendering the franchise; that if any local person or persons wanted to continue operation of the club that a deal could readily be made, otherwise the Midland Cardinals would play here no more.

The club was scheduled to appear here yesterday and today but the games were transferred to Wink, Query evidently feeling that more could be made from the Wink guarantee of $50 per game than by playing before a small crowd here.

Forfeiture of the club had been foreseen as long ago as 30 days because of the gradual falling off in attendance at the home games. Never since opening day has the team been lower than first place in the league standings but attendance after the first three weeks started rapidly declining.

It is doubtful if ever before the top two clubs have been forced to give up as in the league this year. Midland and Odessa, who took an early lead over all other clubs and maintained it all the way being forced to quit while the other four clubs managed to stay in. Odessa was in second place, only about three games behind Midland when they dropped out, and now the Cardinals are being forced to quit with something like a five or six game lead over the field.

Just why attendance here would not hold up is largely guess work but the general consensus of opinion is that if night ball had been played here that the club could have made a go of it.

Withdrawal of the Odessa club, thereby giving all other clubs off days, plus the race meet that kept the club away from home for an extra week also contributed to the downfall of the club. But, disregarding both factors, it is doubtful if the team could have been held here through the entire season.

Members of the team belong to the St. Louis Cardinal organization and what is done with the team remains problematical. At least two, maybe more, of them will be placed with Albuquerque in the Arizona-Texas League. The New Mexico club finished third in a four club league during the first half of their campaign and undoubtedly can be strengthened by acquisition of some of the Cardinals. Others will be placed with other Cardinal farm clubs while some of the members with the least imposing records will undoubtedly be returned home and given their release.

Forfeiture of the club once more places Midland in the same position in which they have been in for the past half-dozen years—without organized ball.

Whether or not an attempt will be made to get Midland into the league again next year if it is organized is something that will have to be considered later.

INSURGENTS ARE BEATEN IN FIGHT

Loyalists Strike Heavy Blows on Forces Near Madrid

(By Associated Press) Spanish government troops struck heavily at insurgent forces in the southern and western fringes of Madrid today, with planes paving the way by terrific bombardments. Meanwhile, the non-intervention committee adjourned in London after a three-hour session, still deadlocked on plans to keep arms and men from reaching Spain.

Legislative Reporter Rounds Out 25th Year

PIERRE, S. D. (U.P.)—Steve Travis, veteran reporter, believes he is the only man in the state who has attended every session of the South Dakota legislature in the last 25 years.

Steve, 77, has been in the capital press box in Pierre since the first assembly, which lasted only two days. Since then he has "covered" every regular and every special convocation. A free lance political commentator as well as correspondent for the Pierre Daily Dakotan, Steve has a large following throughout the state.

This Is War in the Air

STRIKE CALLED AT REPUBLIC PLANT IGNORED BY MEN

Workers Refuse to Quit Positions Today

YOUNGSTOWN, July 9. (P) — A call for a new strike in the Republic steel plants by the SWOC was apparently ignored by workers today as no workers leaving the mills.

Guardsmen continued on duty here, as on other Ohio strike grounds.

A deadlock continued at Indiana's Calumet district; chairman of the Johnstown, Pa., citizens' committee had announced a drive to "defend the rights of local self government."

The "walkout" was announced by George Simcox, assistant to Tom White, president of the Republic Steel workers organizing committee lodge there.

"We have key men in the plant and they will bring the men out," Simcox told several hundred strikers and sympathizers at a mass meeting. Republic reported that 6,200 men were working in its Youngstown plant out of an average daily employment of 6,800.

West Mexico Maps Capital Highway Link; Sonora Hopes to Open Country

HERMOSILLO, Sonora, Mex., July 9. (U.P.)—Visions of another world-famous bordertown comparable to Agua Caliente are seen for this small west coast Mexican town following award of a 7,000,000-peso contract for paving a highway from here to the Sinaloa state line.

The contract is hailed by American and Mexican authorities as the first and most important step in the long visualized first-class highways from the international border at Nogales to Mexico City. State tourist bureaus anticipate a 1,000 per cent increase in trade, and already sites have been chosen for two modern hotels.

Gov. Roman Yocupicio was hailed as responsible for the inauguration of the highway, and business men recall his inaugural address last September when he pledged highway improvement as one of the vital aims of his administration.

To build a greater American tourist trade and foster a deeper feeling of friendship between the two countries, Yocupicio founded a state tourist bureau shortly after he took office. Today tourist bureaus are in every important city in Sonora. The Mexican dream is to have a first-class highway to enable

REPRESENTATIVE SAYS PRESIDENT'S WIFE TAX DODGER

Declares Loophole Is Used by Her to Save Money

CLAIMS DENIED

Vinson Says Fish Is Speaking From Hearsay

WASHINGTON, July 9. (P)—Representative Fish, New York republican, today told the congress committee that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt availed herself of a tax loophole to save paying taxes.

Representative Vinson, Kentucky democrat, told Fish in return, "your testimony is purely hearsay."

Fish read what he said was a photostatic copy of a contract Mrs. Roosevelt signed in 1935 for radio broadcasts, stipulating after each ten programs the sponsor was to pay $3,000 to American friends in service on a committee in Philadelphia.

Fish said he did not question the returns of Secretary of Treasury Morgenthau since they became official, but said he believed that if the committee investigated tax affairs before that time it would find an "exchange back and forth" by Morgenthau and wife.

He said he planned to make no charges against the president, but would file a copy of a statement he claimed was made by the president in which Roosevelt admitted taking advantage of tax loopholes.

Jamboree News Compiler Reviews Recent Activities

Billy Noble, "Washington Compiler of Historical Occurrences" for The Reporter-Telegram, or in other words, this newspaper's youthful correspondent for the National Boy Scout Jamboree, soon will complete a busy assignment which he has handled in a highly creditable manner.

Each day by Air Mail, Billy's comments on activities of the thirteen Midland boys on the Jamboree trip arrive in time to enliven the paper's columns and to cheer up a small group of anxious and proud parents.

Billy's letter to the editor, received today, reveals that he has derived some pleasure from serving as correspondent. Addressed "to the Editor of the Daily Compilations of Historical Articles, Colloquially called 'The Reporter-Telegram,'" his letter follows:

"With the Jamboree fast drawing to a close, my articles will soon be finished, my connections with the 'Headache' severed. I want you to know I have appreciated the chance to get this invaluable experience."

"Of course some of my articles often fell below par—I was seldom satisfied with any of them—but in a camp of 32 active jabbering boys and in a bustle of activity, it is indeed difficult to write a sensible, invulnerable line—especially for a public newspaper, open to public criticism."

"I am not exactly apologizing for myself or my manuscripts but, nevertheless, they were my creations and I ALONE should be made to account for them. Due to the many excursions and the lack of time between them, it was really difficult to write each and every day. I tried to get the articles in the mail at 12 o'clock each day, so they would get to Midland in successive order. This was impossible at times, which accounts for their conspicuous absence on certain days. Your sincere correspondent, Billy Graves Noble."

MAN, DAUGHTER ARE FOUND SHOT

Slain Pair Are Discovered By Brother; Pistol Near Father

MARSHALL, July 9. (P) — John Ponder, 60-year-old farmer, and his daughter, Pauline, 18, were found shot to death at their farm home eight miles from here yesterday afternoon.

Deputy Sheriff Bus Wells said an automatic pistol was found lying near Ponder's right hand. The slain pair were found by the farmer's son, Clyde, and his daughter, Bernice, when the latter returned home from Marshall. The man was fully clothed. His daughter was in pajamas.

Wells said he knew of no motive for the death. When the son and daughter found the pair, Ponder was lying on the porch and his daughter had fallen down the steps. They apparently had been dead about two hours.

Donovan Gwyn, his wife and baby are visiting with relatives here. Gwyn, a former resident, for the past seven months has been a traffic patrolman in San Antonio.

"Paths of Glory Lead But to the Grave"

Centuries of British sea-power and majesty met in a moving ceremony at Portsmouth when the body of Admiral Sir William Fisher, late commander-in-chief of the British fleet, was borne in a solemn cortege past the historic frigate "Victory," flagship of the immortal Admiral Nelson at Trafalgar. Admiral Fisher was buried at sea.

53 DEATHS OVER THE COUNTRY ARE BLAMED ON HEAT

Mercury in Texas Is Driven Down by Showers

DALLAS, July 9. (P) — While the northern part of the nation sweltered under high temperatures, with 53 deaths reported, the mercury in Texas was driven down by scattered showers over half of the state.

An official reading of 93.4, highest of the year, was recorded at 1:05 p. m. in New York City while at 3 p. m. the weather bureau observatory in Central Park reported 98.

Temperatures mounted to 95 at Albany, N. Y., 94 at Centraia, Ill., 90 at Louisville, St. Louis and Minneapolis.

South Dakotans were plagued by the fourth consecutive day of 90 and 100 degree weather. Readings included Pierre, 100.

Tens of thousands repaired to the ocean, rivers, lakes and woodlands.

For the second time this week light showers fell in Midland this morning, bringing further relief to residents here from the heat of the past month.

At the airport, 10 miles west of town, a light shower totaling .02 of an inch fell this morning, making the total there since Wednesday nine-tenths of an inch. Light showers in the southeast part of the county and a heavier fall in the northwest part of the county last night were reported this morning.

A hard shower, totaling .06 of an inch, fell in Midland shortly after noon today, bringing the total in the city in the past 36 hours to .21.

RUSSIANS WARN JAPANESE TO KEEP MEN FROM SIBERIA

Litvinoff Declares the Amur Islands Are Soviet's

MOSCOW, July 9. (P)—The Soviet government today warned Japan to keep out of Siberia, declaring Russia would use "all possible means" to prevent an invasion of its territory by Japanese-Manchoukuoan forces.

Russian Foreign Comisar Litvinoff rejected a protest of the Japanese ambassador that border clashes were too numerous as "intrusive." He told the Japanese that the Amur islands belong to the Soviet.

Donovan Gwyn, his wife and baby are visiting with relatives here. Gwyn, a former resident, for the past seven months has been a traffic patrolman in San Antonio.

Ole Pals, These Ad Men; Program Cheers up Jimmy

Tender thoughts bring cheer to the sick room!

It was no doubt with this in mind that Tommy Betzel, manager of radio station KRLH, dedicated a recording this morning to Jimmy Harrison, advertising manager of The Reporter-Telegram.

Harrison, ill for the past four days at his home, was notified by telephone when the time came for his special program. With moist eyes for the thoughtfulness of his friendly competitor, he turned to 142 on his dial.

"Quack! Quack!", began the announcement, which said the next recording was dedicated to Harrison.

"I'll be glad when you're dead, you rascal you," said the record. Just tender thoughts from one ad man to another!

Jimmy reportedly took a double dose of cough medicine.

"I'll get dat guy," he was quoted as saying.

NAVY OPERATORS CHART NEW PATHS IN HUNT FOR SHIP

No Trace of Amelia Or Navigator Discovered

HONOLULU, July 9. (P) — Navy operators, empty handed after two days of searching for Amelia Earhart, charted new courses today.

Three planes from the battleship Colorado planned to swing southward, as yesterday, but to come back on a course west of Phoenix and Howland islands.

The search has already encompassed about 136,000 square miles. The planes, spreading out to cover as much territory as possible, flew southward more than 250 miles from bleak Howland island to scan the McKean island area below the equator yesterday.

They then circled over the charted position of Winslow reef, in the Phoenix islands, southeast of Howland.

The coast guard cutter Itasca searched islets, reefs and shoals south of Howland and westward of the Phoenix group.

The navy mine sweeper Swan searched east of Howland.

OLSEN & JEFFERS WELL FLOWS 100 BARRELS AN HOUR

Henderson Pool Is Extended to the South

DALLAS, July 9. (P) — Flowing 100 barrels an hour through drillpipe on short gauge, R. Olsen and O. R. Jeffers No. 1 Hendrick extended the Henderson pool in northern Winkler three-quarters of a mile to the south. Pay was encountered in the Hendrick "big lime" with best porosity evident in the last seven feet down to total depth of 3,039. Gas volume was estimated at 3,500,000 cubic feet.

Operators today are running 2 1/2 inch tubing and will give the well another test. It is located 330 feet out of the northeast corner of section 16, block 26, public school land. The No. 1 Hendrick is only a mile and a quarter west of sand production in the Kermit field but is producing from a different zone and formation.

In the Kermit field, Sinclair-Prarie No. 5 Cummin was completed for initial production of 109 barrels daily, following shot with 270 quarts. It found pay between 2,841 and 3,030.

Littman to Swab Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Lydia Littman, well in extreme northwestern Andrews county, encountered a trace of oil from 4,326-28 and fair porosity and saturation from 4,359-62. Drilling was halted at 4,365 in lime, and 2 1/2-inch tubing was run to 4,356. Operators were preparing to swab the well in through tubing. No. 1 Littman is believed to have logged its shows in the pay horizon of Brown & Reynolds No. 1 C. M. Parcell, discovery well in Lea county, New Mexico, less than a mile to the west.

The Amerada prospect is located 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 6, block A-29, public school land.

In southwestern Andrews, American Liberty No. 1 E. P. Cowden, 660 feet from the north and 1,930 feet from the west line of section 14, block A-55, public school land, topped anhydrite at 1,162 and salt at 1,250. Elevation is 3,114 feet. Drilling continued yesterday at 1,700 feet in red rock.

Twenty-three minute drillstem test through 3/4-inch bottom choke in Empire No. 1 J. D. Biles, northwestern Andrews wildcat, showed a slight blow of air, 310 feet of drilling fluid, and no oil, gas or sulphur water. Total depth when tests was made was 4,833 and packer was set at 4,707. Coring was resumed and depth of 4,833 feet in lime had been reached. Location of No. 1 Biles is 660 feet from the north and west lines of section 12, block A-31, public school land.

Blanchard & Porter No. 1 Cox, section 4, block A-30, public school land, is drilling anhydrite and lime at 3,145 feet. Hargrave and Peters No. 1 Riordan, section 10, block A-44, is drilling at 3,325 in anhydrite.

OVERPOWER THREE PATROLMEN; TAKE AUTO NEAR ALTO

Hostage Is Released Shortly Before New Exploit

FOUR CAPTURED

One Other Slain in Break Yesterday From Farm

HUNTSVILLE, July 9. (P)—Four desperate Eastham prison farm escapees, whose latest exploit was overpowering three state highway patrolmen near Alto, drove the officers' car in a wild race in north-east Texas today.

Since nine men escaped yesterday morning, one has been killed, a guard wounded, four recaptured, and J. C. Dunlap, rancher who lives near the prison, was kidnaped as a hostage and released only a few minutes before the patrolmen were held up.

The break at Eastham had been well planned. The nine men had been picking peas. Previously they had mutilated themselves to avoid hard work.

J. D. Reid drove a water wagon to the field. The men asked Guard Etheridge for permission to get a drink. They came out from behind the water wagon pointing two rifles at the guard. They took his gun and fled across the field.

Other guards including Lundy opened fire. Reid was killed in the battle and Lundy wounded.

The three believed in the car with Dunlap are Charlie Chapman, Cass county robber, serving 60 years; Roy (Pete) Traxler, Verdun, Okla., serving life for robbery in Lipscomb county, and Walter Belton, Fort Worth, habitual criminal.

The fourth man is Fred Tindol, Jasper county robber.

Meanwhile, officials at Blue Ridge prison farm near Houston reported Fred Flores, trustee, missing, as the twenty-ninth escapee of the prison system in the past three months.

CLEARANCE SALES REPORT HEAVIEST VOLUME IN YEARS

Many "Out-of-Town" Shoppers Joining Buyers Here

July clearance sales and week end grocery special brought the shoppers to town today!

Midland became the mecca of eager bargain hunters as several leading stores offered unusual attractions in the course of moving their season's merchandise.

Stores were jammed with customers. Merchants had had time to talk declared that their cash registers were clicking more rapidly than in any sale held for years.

Although check up of actual sales had not been made for the day, apparent activity in the stores indicated that new records would be set for volume. Hundreds of out of town customers thronged the streets, accounting for heavy purchases.

AT THE AIRPORT

Planes in today were as follows: A Waco piloted by Hardy Young of Tulsa, in from San Antonio. A Stinson plane owned by the Baker Oil Tools and flown by Ted Huriburt, M. C. Morgan of Tulsa flew a Stinson that is owned by the Lucy Production Corp. George McEntire landed at Sonora Field today with a load of passengers. He had been to Albuquerque, Tucson and El Paso.

Terrell Praises Welcome in City

High tribute to Midland and its citizens for the way he was received here on his visit recently was voiced today by Hon. C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission, in a letter to The Reporter-Telegram.

In part, Mr. Terrell's letter says: "No event in the past several years has given me as much pleasure as my visit to Midland and my meeting with my many friends there. I hope I may come back again before long."

Mr. Terrell was the guest of honor at a combined luncheon of the local Rotary and Lions clubs here July 30.

CLEARING THE RECORD

Another chapter has been added to the Bruno Hauptmann case with the sentencing of Ellis Parker, Sr., and his son to federal penitentiary terms for plotting the kidnaping of Paul Wendel to obtain from him a confession to the Lindbergh baby kidnaping.

Of all the weird situations that cluttered and confused the Hauptmann trial, the Wendel case probably was the most fantastic. Outside of burdening New Jersey with another long, expensive trial and delaying Hauptmann's execution three days, this fiasco only obscured the issue of real justice.

Many persons are convinced that Hauptmann received his just reward; others believe he was framed, and still others never have made up their minds. Circumstance pushed the whole mess onto the state of New Jersey, and every act to clean off the scum that obscures the truth of the case deserves the gratitude of the entire nation.

CAREERS IN AVIATION

Air gliding, subsidized heavily in Europe, has reached enormous proportions there as compared with free-lance development in the United States. Germany has an estimated 50,000 glider pilots as against a mere 500 holding licenses in this country.

On the occasion of the annual gliding and soaring meet at Elmira, N. Y., an aeronautics association official used this comparison to emphasize the importance of developing, through glider training, a larger force of flyers, to be available to this country for future national defense.

This, it seems, is attacking the problem from the wrong angle. There are enough legitimate peacetime opportunities in flying to make it attractive to the average promising youngster looking for a career. Besides, too many young Americans have become keenly aware that there is no real future in war.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

WASHINGTON, July 9. — The White House press conference probably is an institution unique in the world. At least in no other foreign capital do correspondents stand up twice a week and fire questions at Mussolini, Hitler, Stalin, the King or Prime Minister of England or whoever else the top high shot may be.

The new style press conference — it's four years old now — is Roosevelt's own. Coolidge and Hoover used to have a system whereby you wrote your questions and slipped them to a secretary. The President picked out the ones he felt like answering and ignored the rest. Roosevelt, however, decided he would submit to verbal questions and give direct answers, information for background or strictly "off the record" replies.

This method is a good thing for Roosevelt and a good thing for the correspondents. But it is not without flaws. Obviously the President has to depend on himself to avoid answering certain questions—just as Coolidge and Hoover managed to avoid answers by not acknowledging the inquiries.

Lost in Laughter
SOMETIMES Roosevelt says he doesn't want to or isn't ready to answer a question, that he doesn't know the answer, that he hasn't ready the statement, report or newspaper story to which the questioner refers, that the question is an "if question," or that the question is best answered by another question which he thereupon propounds. Sometimes he says something quite irrelevant and starts laughing, whereupon most correspondents join in and the question is lost in the laughter which sweeps the room. Occasionally the question is such that Roosevelt deliberately seeks to turn the laugh on the inquiring correspondent. Perhaps this is one reason why the correspondents' corps generally refrains from asking questions that might be considered embarrassing. Another reason doubtless is that newspapermen think it's sporting of Roosevelt to take on all comers twice a week, and that it's only sporting for them to consider certain questions out of bounds. No one would think of asking him, for instance, how he felt about the marital and commercial alliances of his children with the du Ponts and with Heards.

Asked Sooner or Later
BUT most important questions get asked sooner or later—embarrassing or not—and so it was with the question whether he would accept a third term nomination if it were offered. Back in 1927 newsmen kept slipping written questions to Coolidge asking if he were a candidate for renomination. Coolidge ignored them consistently. Then one day the fellows ganged up and each individual wrote the same question and saw to it there wasn't another in the pile.

Coolidge turned them over one after another, until he reached the end of them. And then he began a 15-minute rambling disquisition on the subject—unless this writer's memory fails—of telephone rates in the District of Columbia. The correspondents were glad to get away from there when he finished. Of course eventually Coolidge was smoked out to the point of asserting that "I do not choose to run."

The Dunce Cap Incident
ROOSEVELT was asked three pointed questions about his own third-term thoughts. Seldom are correspondents so persistent in putting him on the spot.

The first was as to whether he had any comment on Governor Earle's endorsement of Roosevelt for 1940. He merely shook his head. The second was a flat one—would he, if offered it, accept renomination in 1940?

"My gawd, how hot the weather is!" correspondents seemed to hear him say, and then: "You go over in the corner and get a dunce cap an stand with your back to the rest of the boys."

But then the first correspondent came back and asked if the situation were covered by the February Victory Dinner speech in which Roosevelt said he wanted to turn the country over to his successor in 1941 in better shape than it was when Buchanan handed it to Lincoln. Roosevelt then made his second dunce cap nomination.

Resent Picture Edict

THE two correspondents joined the general laughter. Mr. Roosevelt is usually conceded the right to razz at these conferences—or even to fib if he does it only to duck a question, not misinform. Just the same there's a certain restraint in questioning, inspired by the average correspondent's desire not to be criticized by colleague or to "get in wrong" at the White House. This has nothing to do with the "Roosevelt charm," which attracts some news men, is ignored by many and definitely annoys others.

Much more restraint has been caused by White House Press Secretary Steve Early's order to Secret Service men to keep—temporarily—certain cameramen from photographing the President, than by anything that has happened at a press conference.

The cameramen are those of Acme Newspictures and Associated Press, which distributed photos taken by congressmen at the Jefferson Island party. Early had said no newspaper pictures were to be taken there and thinks his edict was defied. On the same principle, Early might punish certain newspapermen who wrote about something Early didn't want disclosed. Protests are resounding in the Early ears.

They saw the capitol, the senate and house buildings, the congress in session, the White House, the Pan American building, various other government buildings, museums, zoos, Mount Vernon, Arlington cemetery, Annapolis in fact every point of interest available for them here.

FATE SWITCHED THEIR SOULS, AND THEN ---

By Bruce Catton

It is a strange and fascinating yarn that V. A. Van Sickle has spun in his new novel, "The Wrong Body" (Knopf; $2).

He presents us with a racketeer, railroaded to execution on a "bum rap," and the state governor who did the railroad. The racketeer has been turned over to a doctor for experimentation. The doctor believes he can kill him with carbon monoxide gas and then bring him back to life; if he succeeds, the racketeer—having been duly "executed"—will go free.

Just as the experiment takes place, the governor is killed by escaping gas from his auto heater. He is rushed to the same doctor, and two revivification experiments proceed side by side. Both men are restored to life—but the racketeer's soul comes back in the governor's body, and the governor's soul comes back in the racketeer's body!

Then things begin to happen. The racketeer (now accepted as the governor) decides to get revenge on the man who railroaded him by indulging in a wild orgy of graft and political chicanery that will ruin his—the governor's—reputation forever. And the governor (who is now, you remember, going about in the rack-

From this point the story becomes a furiously-paced melodrama (oh, well, maybe it was melodrama to begin with) which is quite certain to hold your attention to the final paragraph. It would take too long here to recite the remainder of the plot; I shall only say that it makes a rapid-fire story which keeps the reader on the edge of his chair right up to the end.

THE SAFE, SENSIBLE WAY TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

Every one knows the dangers of constipation. Pills and drugs usually bring only temporary relief. That's because common constipation is due to meals low in "bulk."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains "bulk" that does not break down in the body as does that of many leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water and forms a soft mass that gently sponges the intestines.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food—not a medicine. In addition to "bulk"—it gives vitamin B to tone up the system, and iron for the blood. It is a healthful way to get rid of constipation and all its evils.

Eat two tablespoons daily with milk or cream—three times a day in severe cases. Or use it in making bran muffins, breads, in salads or soups. Guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

When it's 110° in the shade... Texas Temperatures Demand the Surplus Power of ELECTRIC Refrigerators for Safe Food Preservation

.....it's 50° or less in your ELECTRIC Refrigerator.....

When your automobile strikes hard going, you shift to low and go ahead. When the thermometer reaches 100° or more, your ELECTRIC Refrigerator calls on its surplus power and goes right on with its food-guarding job.

Whether you realize it or not, hot Texas weather places a tremendous burden on refrigerators not built to maintain safe temperatures in extremely hot weather. That is why ELECTRIC Refrigerators, with the reserve power built in them, are able to keep food fresh and freeze an ample supply of ice cubes, regardless of how hot it is out of doors.

In buying a new refrigerator, select one that will maintain safe temperatures below 50 degrees. No method of refrigeration is cheap which gives only part-time protection to perishable foods and doesn't refrigerate properly on extremely hot days.

Your electric refrigerator dealer will be glad to tell you why ELECTRIC Refrigerators have ample power to provide safe temperatures, no matter how hot the weather.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, July 11.

The Golden Text is: "What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?"
These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb" (Revelation 7:13, 14).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled. Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God" (Matthew 5:6, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual Life and its demonstration" (page 241).

Among Lee Grissom's Unusual Habits Is the One of Winning for Losing Club

LEE GRISSOM

THIS TOWERING FRESHMAN SOUTHPAW, CALLED THE RIGHT HAND MAN OF THE CINCINNATI REDS, HAS PITCHED FOUR SHUTOUTS AND HAS WORKED IN HALF OF HIS TEAM'S GAMES... HIS BRILLIANT WORK GAINED HIM A PLACE ON NATIONAL LEAGUE ALL-STAR SQUAD...

HE'S A FARM BOY AND DEVELOPED HIS SALARY WING PITCHING HAY ON HIS FATHER'S FARM IN GERBER, CALIF.

BY RICHARD McCANN
NEA Service Sports Writer
CINCINNATI, July 6.—Lefty Lee Grissom, there's no denying, is a most unusual man, indeed.

When the Cincinnati Reds' ball park was dunked in the waters of the Ohio river during the dreadful winter flood, Mr. Grissom took a rowboat and sculled around in the outfield, infield, and grandstand.

When he met a pretty girl pouring coffee for relief workers in the flood area, Lefty fell in love with her on sight and married her before the beautiful Ohio had subsided.

When he heard Lefty Grove had let them pull a flock of his teeth to cure a sore arm, Mr. Grissom had some of his yanked, too, "just in case it might help me be better."

All of which, you must admit, makes Mr. Grissom a most unusual fellow, indeed. But the most unusual thing about Mr. Grissom is none of the things. Rather, it's the fact that he's a winning pitcher with the Cincinnati Reds, of all people.

This, dear reader, is a most unusual happening these days. Most unusual...

Scores Four Shutouts

PITCHING for a stumbling club that can't make up its mind to submit to eighth place, or make a fight of it for seventh, Mr. Grissom has won almost half of his team's games, has pitched four shutouts, and has struck out an average of more than five batters per game.

His earned-run average, the true measuring rod of a pitcher's ability, is well under 3.00.

Two of his shutouts were in succession. Of course, the victims were the Boston Bees and Philadelphia Phillies, but do not get the idea that Mr. Grissom is what the trade calls a spot pitcher. Among his accomplishments this season have been a two-hitter against the league leading Chicago Cubs and a five-hitter against the New York Giants.

A long, lanky gink, Mr. Grissom is something of a screwball, as you may have gathered reading about that rowing and teeth-pulling business.

After the fashion of Max Baer and Dizzy Dean he is frequently guilty of glorified eccentricities which, jumbled together, make up that thing known as color.

One of his habits is fighting. With others and with himself. This is where Mr. Grissom differs from that other great battler, Mr. Dean. Lefty fights his own battles.

His bout with Catcher Al Todd of the Pittsburgh Pirates was one of the best in a season full of fights. Grissom got the newspaper decision in Cincinnati; Todd got it in Pittsburgh.

Todd, by the way, grudgingly admitted that "that Grissom feller is a right tough hombre at that. He isn't all talk."

Which isn't what Todd had to say about Dean after he belted the Great One out with one punch while they were playing in the Texas League several years ago.

Pitched Hay for Dad
THERE are conflicting stories as to how Mr. Grissom learned to pitch.

On a Monday he will tell you that he developed "my mighty left arm" throwing rocks at mules. On a Tuesday he'll say, "That's a dad-burned lie. I ain't never thrown nothing at nobody. I developed my mighty left arm pitching hay."

Mr. Grissom actually did pitch hay—and not so long ago—on his father's farm, Los Robles, near Gerber, Calif.

Until seven years ago they say that Grissom had never played baseball, so busy was he about the farm. But one day in 1930 some of the farmers around and about decided to organize a team and, because they needed a ninth man, swore in Grissom for duty.

Thanks to the mules, or the hay, Grissom took to the game naturally. Gene Valla, a former Coast League player, spotted him firing them by those Gerber sandlotters, took to coaching him, and finally persuaded the Reds to buy him for $2000 in 1933.

A blistering speed-ball pitcher, Grissom was a strikeout sensation wherever he went in the minors.

In 1934 with Beckley of the Middle Atlantic League he struck out 165 batters in about 25 games, and in 1935 with Fort Worth he led the Texas league with 166 strikeouts. In one game he fanned 16 batters in eight innings. He gave up on three hits, but all of them came in one inning, and he lost, 3-2.

Grissom has been having some of the same sort of luck with the Reds but it hasn't kept him from winning seven ball games and the distinction of being one of the best rookies of the 1937 season.

STORIES IN STAMPS

BY I. S. KLEIN

Bewitched Falls of Guiana

QUIETLY, smoothly the Potaro river, that forms the boundary of Brazil and British Guiana, suddenly breaks downward into one of the most pretentious waterfalls in the world. Before white men discovered these falls, now called Kaieteur, the native Indians feared them and regarded them as bewitched.

One day, the Indian legend says, an old man of their village was placed into a canoe and allowed to ride down into the mysterious fog that enveloped the whirling waters below. Two rocks prove the legend. One, shaped like a huge box, is called the "old man's canister." The other, like a large canoe, is the "old man's bateau."

These falls are 800 feet high, nearly five times the height of Niagara, and 400 feet wide. So quietly flows the river above, and so abrupt is the fall, that the cataract was not discovered until about 60 years ago, although explorers had traveled that way many years earlier.

A British Guiana stamp of 1934 shows the falls.

Scottish Lass, London Girl Taking Trailor Trip in U. S., But Insist on 4 O'clock Tea

DALLAS, July 9.—Miss Esme Clark, a bonnie lass from Scotland, and Miss Malvina Bolus, native Londoner, are tripping in the most American of fashions, by trailer, but they insist upon 4 o'clock tea no matter where they may be.

The two, in a luxurious cruiser, parked near the Pan-American Exposition recently and added their delightful accents to the mixture of dialects prevalent at the cosmopolitan show.

"It is wonderful," they said, "but you must excuse us now. It is tea time."

A lovable lady who was mentioned only as Aunt Elwoodine of some place in England, bought them their rolling bungalow and told them to get traveling out of their systems.

"But I am afraid her hopes are for naught," they laughed. "We are going back and touch her a little later for a trip to some of those delightful South American countries which have exhibits here."

Miss Bolus is a journalist, which is what they called newspaperwomen in England, and secretary to Agnes Macphail, the only woman member of the Canadian House of Commons and well known here, where she has spoken several times.

Miss Clark has lately been a hostess and entertainer in leading Miami Beach hotels.

Their trailer is cream colored, fitted inside with everything from telephone to electric refrigeration. Bottled gas is used as a fuel for cooking and heating. There is a radio, fan and everything one would expect to find in a comfortably furnished apartment, including a bathroom.

Decorations are in chromium and blue.

"Take it and go," Aunt Elwoodine told the girls. "Come home when you get your fill of it, and don't let me hear any more of this travel nonsense out of you."

Dallas is a midway stopping point between the Eastern seaboard and California. The girls were as far as San Antonio when they decided to come to the exposition and they turned northward.

Miss Bolus is collecting material for a series of articles to be published in the London Express. She expects to write them when she returns to Canada in the fall to her secretarial duties.

NEGRO EXECUTED IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Ernest McCarthy Dies for Assault on Woman in Fort Worth
HUNTSVILLE, July 9. (AP) — Ernest McCarthy, Fort Worth negro, was electrocuted in the state prison here early today for assault on a white woman.
The Board of Pardons and Pardoners, which had conducted a final hearing for commutation, declined to recommend clemency.
McCarthy was given the death penalty by a Tarrant county district court jury for the crime committed March 10, 1936. The 20-year-old negro received one 28-day reprieve to permit the board to investigate his pleas of innocence.
Evidence presented by his attorney before the appeals board was to the effect there was doubt as to positive identification, that serious discrepancies existed in the trial testimony and that a signed confession was obtained by threats and beating.

Karloff Yields to Evolution Process

Boris Karloff has yielded to the process of evolution. "Frankenstein" and "The Mummy" have joined the dinosaur. The star has sloughed off the make-up of the monster and emerged as a man.
The transformation takes place in his latest starring picture, Universal's "Night Key," which opens at the Yucca theatre today.
Playing his first "straight" role since he rose to stardom, the actor has discarded his weird characterizations of the past and portrays a warm, human sympathetic role.
Cast as an inventor, he is the central figure of an intense drama written around a burglar alarm system which protects thousands of banks and business firms. Karloff demonstrates that in addition to being a master of "trick" characterizations, he is also a dramatic actor of high accomplishments.
In "Night Key" the actor wears simple make-up. Scraggly hair, a pair of thick-lensed glasses, a mustache and a baggy suit of clothes—that is all his make-up bag of tricks contains this time. It took only an hour and a half to get him ready for the camera. Compared with the nine hours that it required for "The Mummy," the star regarded this as tantamount to working with no make-up at all.
The actor has an unusual story for his bow into straight dramatics. He is seen as an inventor of burglar alarm systems. When his partner robs him of a new, improved system, he turns with fury on the patent thief. With an instrument which neutralizes burglar alarms, he enters one store after another to prove the ineffectiveness of the system operated by his foe. A gang chief, seeing the value of such an instrument to him, seizes the inventor and makes him an unwilling partner in crime.
