

FDR Asks Reduction of Highway Aid

IS 'DEFINITE STEP' TO BALANCE BUDGET

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP).—President Roosevelt asked congress today to reduce greatly the government's immediate financial outlay for aiding steps in highway construction.

Asserting that "definite steps" are necessary to balance the budget, the president proposed in a special message: 1. Cancellation of a $214,000,000 apportionment authorized for states during the 1939 fiscal year.

2. Spreading over the next two fiscal years a $200,000,000 appropriation balance authorized for the present (1938) fiscal year.

3. A limit of $125,000,000 annually on all public road authorizations for aid after the 1940 fiscal year.

4. Revision of the federal aid highway law, eliminating the requirement that the government apportion to various states the annual amount authorized for appropriation.

Western senators led a revolt against the curtailment recommendations.

President Roosevelt asked congress to cut the cost of home building as an anti-depression measure yesterday and congress quickly showed a liking for the proposal.

In a special message, the chief executive suggested amendments to the federal housing act which, he said, would halve the down payment on small homes and reduce the financing charges on them, as well as on more ambitious structures.

He proposed, also, changes in the law to stimulate large scale construction of houses for sale and houses for rent, with a $50,000,000 allocation from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to give the movement impetus.

"WOULD SET TEXAS PROGRAM BACK 5 YEARS"—BOBBITT

AUSTIN, Nov. 30 (AP).—Robert Bobbitt, chairman of the Texas highway commission, today said that the proposed reduction of federal highway aid would "set Texas back five years in its plans for a completed highway system."

Long-Time Resident Of Brazil Describes Strange Customs

By KATHLEEN EILAND.

Brazil—a land where cotton grows on trees; where the climate is semi-tropic and trees never shed their leaves; and where if a new desk is ordered for office or school it appears at the door jauntily perched on the head of the delivery man.

That, since 1923, has been the home of Miss Ray Buster, Baptist educational missionary who is just completing a year's furlough in the United States and has been for the past few days a guest of Mrs. J. H. Barron in Midland.

Miss Buster has many interesting facts to relate of Brazil, that huge and undeveloped territory whose people mingle three races in their bloods and where converts to Protestant Christianity, while in this day and time rarely suffering bodily persecution, do often find ridicule and mockery their lot.

The cotton growing on the trees is the kapok cotton which is often used in pillows. The trees are of large size with thorns on their trunks and the cotton is borne in pear-like bolls which open downward instead of upward as the cotton of our temperate climate does.

Carrying one's burden on top of the head is the usual mode of procedure in Bello Horizonte, the city of 150,000 people where the school in which Miss Buster teaches is located. So common is the practice that when a teacher once asked, "What are your books for?" wishing to stimulate thinking among the children, one bright little Brazilian had the answer on the tip of his tongue "To carry bundles on!" he assured her.

Even a burden as bulky as a piano will be hoisted to the heads of four men and carried from the house to the street, Miss Buster said.

A large percentage of the people is illiterate, there is a great amount of sickness, and great ignorance among the masses.

Bello Horizonte, though established only 45 years ago, boasts beautiful buildings, and is laid out in wagon-wheel design after Washington, D. C., with streets running spoke-wise. It is in a natural setting of beauty, with great hills capping the horizon. This beauty is reflected in the name which may be roughly translated as "pretty" or "beautiful horizon."

Nine Grade School. The school for boys in which Miss Buster teaches kindergarten work was established in 1917. In 1920, after the death of a prominent citizen, it purchased 60 acres of land which have proved of value financially. The school now has a See (RESIDENT) Page 6

Another link is added to the chain of marriages and divorces that Wallis Warfield Simpson started when she left Ernest Simpson to marry the Duke of Windsor. Mrs. Connie de Bower, former Broadway stage beauty, was all set to marry Jacques Raffray of New York following her divorce from Herbert de Bower in Reno, Nev. Raffray's wife divorced him to wed Simpson.

U. S. Boat Taken By Japanese

American Flag Is Lowered, Thrown In River by Men

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. American Consul General Clarence Gauss protested to the Japanese consulate today after a Japanese naval craft seized an American-owned steam launch and lowered the craft's American flag.

William Hunt, head of the China foreign steamship company, owner of the launch, said the flag was tossed into the river.

Secretary Hull gravitated with unceasing anxiety an explanation of Japan's intentions toward an "open door" in China.

Anxiety lest China's open door be shut has prompted the state department to demand that Japan talk things over with the United States before altering the maritime customs service of China.

The move, announced by Secretary Hull, reflected official apprehension here the reported intention of Japan to seize control of the customs might have the effect of restricting the commerce of non-Japanese nations.

Japanese continued their advance on Nanking. The French Ambassador at Shanghai reported Japanese air bombers had destroyed a Catholic orphanage at Kashing, killing 86 of its charges.

At London, British Prime Minister Chamberlain and French Foreign Minister Delbos issued a declaration indicating they planned broad consultations with other powers looking toward a general settlement of world unrest.

France, Britain Unready to Grant Demands of Germans

LONDON, Nov. 30 (AP).—The premiers and foreign ministers of Britain and France Monday decided in a "successful" eight-hour discussion of major world problems they were not yet ready to grant any German political or territorial demands.

French Premier Camille Chautemps said the British and French ministers were in "full solidarity" in their search for peace. "We made a tour of the world," he said as he left Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's official residence.

The diplomats appeared pleased with their first day's work and authorized this official five-point account of the conference:

1. France fully understood the limited scope of Lord Halifax's exploratory talk with Reichsminister Adolf Hitler and agreed with Britain it fulfilled its purpose; 2. The ministers discussed the Colonial question in all its aspects and agreed it required further examination;

3. Both governments expressed themselves as concerned for preservation of peace in Central Europe and discussed Germany's ambitions there; 4. They also expressed their appreciation of the "seriousness" of the Chinese-Japanese war and their "need for vigilance" to safeguard their interests;

5. They pronounced non-intervention the right policy in the Spanish civil war.

Informed sources said the two nations had declared their desire to cooperate with all nations but needed a great deal more preparation before a detailed plan could be drafted.

Split Payments on Taxes Ending Today

Today is the last day for payment of the first half of split payment taxes on the 1937 assessment. A. C. Francis warned tax payers this morning.

First half payments will not be accepted Wednesday, December 1, but must be made before the office closes today, he said. Balance of the payments will be due next June 30.

Taxpayers have until February 1 to pay taxes on the 1937 rolls if the amount is paid in a lump.

Many large taxpayers as well as average individuals are paying their current taxes under the plan which permits withholding the second half until June 30, 1938.

A total of $11,918.38 have been paid in split taxes to date.

Extral Dog Shoots Man

Everyone knows that when a dog bites a man, it's not news. But when a dog shoots a man with a 12-gauge shotgun, that's news, and it may sound very comical to everyone but Cecil Parthemer, 31, inset, who is fighting for life in a Warren, O., hospital, and his dog, Queen, the remorseful beagle shown above with the fateful weapon on her master's bed.

Parthemer rested his gun on a fence while hunting. The dog jumped up and touched the trigger with her paw, sending a full charge of wadding and shot into Parthemer's chest and armpit.

Higher Rates Are Asked by Railroads

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 (AP).—The Interstate Commerce Commission heard J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, contend Monday that with adequate revenues the railroads should be able to provide the "greatest single stimulus" to lagging industry.

Testifying at a commission investigation of the railroads' proposal for a 15 per cent increase in their freight rates, Pelley said the carriers normally are a billion-dollar-a-year customer of all industries. With adequate revenues, he added, "we may reasonably expect a revival of railroad buying."

Dr. J. H. Parmelee, director of the carriers' bureau of railway economics, said the railroads were caught between declining freight and passenger revenues and rising material prices, wages and taxes.

Their forced curtailment of purchases, he said, was resulting in "a serious economic effect on employment, on the manufacturers of railroad supplies and their employees, and on general business activity."

K. Hillner of Burlington, N. J., told newsmen not all shippers were opposed to the proposed increase. He said iron and steel interests, which he represented, were "for it in principle" but against the railroad's method of asking a flat increase.

Shippers' representatives decided to ask the commission to conduct regional hearings, beginning about Jan. 20, in Memphis, Salt Lake City and other cities. Wilbur Laroe Jr., attorney representing the American Paper and Pulp association, said the purpose was to give interested people a chance "to submit their evidence without a long trip to Washington."

Visiting Missionary Honored Here Today

Miss Ray Buster, missionary from Brazil who is here as the guest of Mrs. J. H. Barron, was honor guest at a breakfast at the home of Mrs. J. M. White, 702 D. Storey this morning at 9 o'clock. The breakfast was attended by members of the executive board of the Baptist WMU in addition to the honor guest and her hostess.

The fruit course was served in the living room after which guests were directed to the dining room where the main course was served in buffet style. Mrs. O. J. Hubbard poured coffee.

Present were: Miss Buster, Mrs. Barron, Misses Myrtle Smith, A. T. Donnelly, O. J. Hubbard, E. Chancellor, Chas. Skinner, W. L. Simmons, H. S. Collins, James L. Daugherty, Fred Wycoff, Ray Hyatt, and the hostess.

Answer to SEC Given By Wall St.

'Clean-Up' Demand Of Douglas Rapped By Exchange Head

NEW YORK, Nov. 30 (AP).—Charles R. Gay, president of the New York stock exchange, last night warned against excessive regulation and "experimentation," and promised when improved methods can be found by impartial study, the exchange would adopt them.

His statement was issued in answer to the ultimatum by William O. Douglas, chairman of the S. E. C., last Tuesday, that the exchange must reorganize or face more drastic regulation.

Gay quoted again from his annual report last August, in which he warned that regulation was making the market dangerously illiquid, and asserted:

"I would be less than candid if I failed to say that recent market developments have confirmed my belief that in the interests of the public and the investor, the question of what are wise restrictions upon the scope of the market is an urgent one."

Usually well-informed Wall Street sources had asserted Douglas' ultimatum to the exchange had followed a long controversy with representatives of the SEC over Gay's August report, which some felt tended to place the blame for the autumn slump at the SEC's doorstep.

In further comment on his annual report, the exchange president said:

"I do not contend that the recent decline in market prices is to be attributed to the condition of the market to which I called attention, or indeed to any single cause."

Seminole South Extension Well Flows 207 Barrels In 24 Hours

By FRANK GARDNER.

Initial production of 207 barrels in 24 hours, flowing through 1-inch choke on 2 1/2-inch tubing, was recorded today by Amerasia Petroleum Corporation, No. 1 Averitt, new quarter-mile south extension to the Seminole pool in central Gaines county. Tubing is set on bottom, with well-packer at 5,010. Gas volume tested 203,000 cubic feet daily. No. 1 Averitt drilled to a total depth of 3,035 feet and was acidized with 1,000 gallons. Operators were undecided as to plans for reacidization.

The Amerasia well is located 1,980 feet from the north, 660 feet from the east line of section 228, block G, W. T. R. R. survey, and offsets to the south the discovery oiler in the pool, W. T. Walsh and Harry Adams Corp. No. 1-A Averitt, which was drilled by Amerasia and later turned back to Walsh and Adams.

In northwestern Gaines, Continental No. 2 Dr. E. H. Jones, wildcat in section 1, block A-8, public school land, is drilling lime at 4,906 feet, having logged a slight increase in gas from 4,900-06. It had previously encountered some gas from 4,825-29 and a slight oil showing from 4,829-35.

Mitchell & Sullivan No. 1 Shell-Riley, Gaines test in section 447, block G, C. C. S. D. & R. G. N. G. survey, is drilling anhydrite at 4,760 feet.

Wynne Stakes 7 Wells. Toddie Lee Wynne, trustee for the American Liberty Oil Company, has staked locations for seven new wells in the Denver-Wasson area of Gaines and Yoakum. In northwestern Gaines, close to the county line, he located his No. 2 Willard 440 feet from the north and west lines of section 38, block AX, public school land; No. 3 Willard, 440 feet from the north and east lines of the west quarter of section 38; and No. 4 Willard, 440 feet from the north and east lines of the west quarter of section 38.

In Yoakum, northwest of the discovery well in the Denver area, Wynne staked location for the No. 1 Fairman 660 feet from the north and east lines of the south half of the north half of section 797, block D, Gibson survey; No. 2 Fairman 660 feet from the north, 1,980 feet from the east line of the south half of the north half of 797; No. 3 Fairman, 660 feet from the north, 1,980 feet from the west line of the south half of the north half of 797; and No. 4 Fairman, 660 feet from the north and west lines of the south half of the north half of section 797.

Between the Wasson and Denver pools Toddie Lee Wynne No. 1 C. A. Thomas, section 864, cemented 7-inch casing at 4,960 feet and is standing. Total depth is 5,030 feet, in lime. The well drilled continuous pay from 4,900 to total depth, but Schlumberger electrical survey, made before running pipe, showed gas at around 4,950-55, and pipe was set through the gas zone.

Preparations for Polo Game Here are Advanced

Preparations for week end polo games at Midland Fair park were taking advanced shape today, with expectation of a stellar brand of horsemanship and expert mallet wielding to entertain fans of Midland and surrounding area Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Midland's team will be opposed by a picked foursome of players from the north plains, playing under the name of the Panhandle Four. Headed by the hard riding Sheriff Gus White of Lamesa, players will be a crack group from Lamesa, Lubbock, Littlefield and other points, with a record of wins over the fast team of N. M. M. I. youngsters and the Wichita Falls southwestern champions, as well as over Colorado Springs and other formidable teams. Cecil Childers, rated at six goals and one of the foremost players now in the game, will be in the Midland line-up, playing the number four or safety position. He formerly captained the fast El Rancho champions, later playing with the fast Tulsa team, and was in tournaments at Chicago the past summer.

He recently moved to Abilene and will play regularly with the Midland line-up, according to present plans. He is well mounted and will bring his own horses.

Gene Linticum, member of the former Concho Kid team of San Angelo, southwestern champions in 1930, will be here from his ranch near Barnhart, bringing a fast string of ponies of his own raising. When in the game regularly, he carried a handicap of two goals. He probably will play the number two post. Linticum may arrive here Wednesday working out his horses until the games Saturday and Sunday.

Rip Smith, trainer and grounds keeper at Midland Fair park, has been schooling some young horses and will go on the field a match for his opponents. He is an aggressive forward player, has seen fast action with the Wichita Falls club and others and is one of the outstanding horsemen of this section. He will be at number one.

Jay H. Floyd, captain of the local team will play his own horses which have been under schooling at his ranch for several weeks, most of them having seen some experience on the playing field. Floyd, according to Wichita Falls players, has been recommended by the committee for three goals next year but at present is handicapped at only two. He will play at number three.

The two games will be played at 3 p. m. Saturday and Sunday next, at the Midland Fair field which has been speeded up by having all loose dirt scraped off. Sideboards are being replaced today and all will be in readiness for the games. W. Willis Cox, Abilene insurance man and sportsman, will referee both games.

Admission will be 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for children of public school age, with no charge for those under that age. The tickets will go on sale at drug stores, news stands and cafes Wednesday, it was planned.

How Glamor 'Rates' in Game of Romance

After a number of dizzy years in which the American girl was urged by one and all to be a glamorous cross between Cleopatra and Marlene Dietrich, it is comforting to see at least one of her advisers come out with the statement that she ought to forget about glamor and concentrate on being a good egg.

This sage advice is found in the new magazine, "You." "You" complains that Hollywood has made American women glamor-conscious and that the result is pretty bad. For while the benighted male may like to sniff wistfully around the edges of glamor, when he is looking for steady company he is apt to choose someone who is down on what he likes to think of as his own level.

"All right, go ahead and be glamorous," says the magazine acidly. "But don't be surprised if some muss-haired, shiny-faced, too-plump damsel walks off with your man."

That, of course, is precisely what muss-haired, too-plump damsels have been doing since time began. But bewildered womankind may take a little comfort from the fact that the same thing works the other way, too. The man who has taken pains to become a perfect image of Robert Taylor usually wakes up to see the girl of his choice casting a landslide vote for some thin-chested lad in spectacles.

The truth of the matter is that in this dizzy game between the sexes neither side really wants what it thinks it wants.

Man in his blindness may bow down before some imposing female with lacquered hair and sculptured features; when he is wife-hunting he does have sense enough to think of more earthly things. Can the gal cook? Can I unlash and be myself with her around? What is she going to be like to come home to, after a day in which she has done the washing, ministered to a teething baby, had the furnace fire go out on her and stumbled across those letters I got from that girl in college five years ago?

And woman is equally practical when actual wedlock looms in the offing. She knows without being told that no matter how handsome a man may be he is going to look like the old Ned anyway when he stumbles out of bed, unshaven and tousled, at 7 of a winter morning, clad in outing flannel pajamas, grunting testily that he can't find a clean shirt. A perfect profile doesn't help much if the man who is making a home for you is a tight-wad, a grouch, or a philanderer.

So the movie-idol type usually gets left at the post; which is just another way of saying that we do have a little bit more sense than we get credit for having.

We manage to compromise with our day-dreams. We don't discard them entirely, perhaps; we get them out now and then, and cast ourselves in roles of high romance, and have a fine time of it for a while. But in the end we realize that this a workaday world and that it has some pretty bad bumps for people who fail to adjust themselves accordingly.

Utah Accepts an Invitation to the Cotton Bowl Game

DALLAS, Nov. 30. (AP)—The undefeated University of Colorado football team, champion of the Rocky Mountain Conference, late Monday officially agreed to meet the Southwest Conference representative in the Cotton Bowl here on New Year's Day.

The championship of the Southwest Conference will be decided here Saturday in a game between the Rice Institute Owls of Houston and the Southern Methodist University Mustangs. A win for the Owls would give them the title, whereas a loss would place the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs, who have already completed their schedule, in first place.

Colorado players voted in favor of accepting the Cotton Bowl invitation.

Both Gov. James V. Allred of Texas and Gov. Teller Ammons of Colorado commented favorably on such a post-season game.

The classic was instituted last year, the Texas Christian Horned Frogs defeated the Marquette Golden Avalanche in the first game.

Panthers' Rating as Number One Team Is Nearly Unanimous

BY ALAN GOULD.
NEW YORK, Nov. 30. (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh's rating as the No. 1 college football team of the year fell on a trifle short of being unanimous Monday in the final round-up of votes for the Associated Press national writers' poll.

The final weekly tabulation of nation-wide opinion disclosed Pittsburgh the top choice of 29 out of 33 experts and clear belief that California, Fordham and Alabama, in that order, complete the "big four" of 1937.

It remains to be seen whether the poll's indicated pairings for the two major post-season engagements, California-Pittsburgh for the Rose Bowl, and Fordham-Alabama for the Sugar bowl, will be made official.

Last year, when Minnesota was ranked No. 1 Pittsburgh and Washington, the third and fifth ranking teams, were paired for the Rose Bowl, while Louisiana State and Santa Clara, seventh and sixth, respectively, drew the Sugar Bowl bids.

The final tabulation, with points tallied on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

First Ten—	Points
1. Pittsburgh (29 first, 2 ties for first)	327
2. California	277
3. Fordham (1 first, 2 ties for first)	253
4. Alabama (1 first)	246
5. Minnesota	104
6. Villanova	103
7. Dartmouth	102
8. Louisiana State	97
9. Notre and Santa Clara, tied, each	90
Second Team—	Points
11. Nebraska	35
12. Yale	18
13. Ohio State	14
14. Holy Cross and Arkansas, tied, each	9
16. Texas Christian	8
17. Colorado	7
18. Rice Institute	6
19. North Carolina	5

There is a pressure on Lewis which explains his support.

But some of the powerful building and metal trade unions behind Green appear to prefer no wage-hour legislation at all. They lobbied against the bill last summer, arguing in effect that higher wages for unskilled labor mean less chance of increased wages for skilled craftsmen, as if to say there is just so much money in the "wage pot."

Labor Board "Unsafe."

GREEN then suggested three amendments, and indicated that he would support a bill containing them. Late in August Green was demanding that Congress stay in session "until it passes the wages and hours bill."

Green's recent change of front is based largely on his charge that the Labor Relations Board has so badly administered the Wagner Act that the A. F. of L. no longer considers it safe to entrust to a government board the many decisions necessary under wage-hour legislation as now written.

Green's most specific charge was that the NLRB has tried to abrogate contracts between employers and unions. The C. I. O. retorts that the contracts the NLRB is charged with abrogating were generally engineered by employers with A. F. of L. organizers who represented very few employees and who were simply capitalizing on the belief of many employers that it is safer to deal with A. F. of L. unions than those of the C. I. O.

The A. F. of L. organizers in these cases followed the policy of their leadership in eagerly denouncing the C. I. O. as a dangerous, lawless group, and cashed in on the resentment against the C. I. O. which was prevalent at the time in certain circles.

The NLRB decisions in cases of A. F. of L.-C. I. O. disputes is important because it colored the whole attitude of organized labor toward government boards, and it is in a government board that administration of the proposed wage-hour bill would center.

Hold Everything!

"Why, Eddie! You're talented!"

Also ran: Vanderbilt and Auburn each 3, Cornell, Harvard and Washington, each 1.

Pittsburgh, undefeated and tied only by Fordham, topped the rankings throughout the last four weeks. California, the Western Rose Bowl choice, ran second during the stretch drive after being the nation's No. 1 team for three weeks. The slump in Golden Bear stock followed a scoreless tie with Washington.

Alabama and Santa Clara compiled the only all-winning records of teams listed in the first 10.

Villanova, like Pitt and Fordham, showed only one tie on its season's record. Dartmouth was deadlocked twice. Minnesota was rated several notches above Notre Dame and Nebraska, although defeated by both.

Louisiana State's only setback was by a 7-6 score at the hands of Vanderbilt.

Notre Dame, although tied by Illinois and beaten by both Carnegie and Pittsburgh finished strong. The Fighting Irish won five of their last six games.

Large Attendance Marks Union Missionary Meeting

One hundred twenty-two women of the various churches of Midland were present for the Fifth Monday union meeting of missionary societies at the First Christian church Monday afternoon, with the missionary society of that church as host.

Featuring the program was a reading of "The Vision of Sir Launfal" by James Russell Lowell presented by Mrs. James H. Goodman. With pleasing and sincere interpretation, Mrs. Goodman read the famous story of the young knight's search for the Holy Grail and his final attainment of spiritual truths in the form of two divisions, each with prelude.

Mrs. Glenn Brunson presided at the meeting, while Mrs. J. K. Graves brought the afternoon's devotional. Special musical numbers were a vocal solo, "Calvary" (Rodney), by Mrs. M. A. Park, and a piano selection, "Remembrance" (Davies), by Billy Graves Noble.

Closing prayer was offered by Mrs. Geo. Raliff. The program was followed by a social hour during which refreshments were served in buffet style. Billy Graves Noble presented piano numbers during the service hour.

Miss Ray Buster Speaks to G. A.'s Monday Afternoon

Miss Ray Buster was guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Girls' Auxiliary with Martha Jane Preston, 707 N. Marienfeld, Monday afternoon. She discussed missions in Brazil, where she herself is a missionary, being now on a furlough.

G. A. members practiced the play which they will present at the church Wednesday night in observance of the week of prayer. Guests, other than Miss Buster, were Mrs. J. H. Barron and Mrs. Myrtle Smith. Thirteen girls were present.

At The Library

Bugles Blow No More, by Clifford Dowdley: A stirring picture of life in Richmond during the four years' duration of the War Between the States.

And More Also, by Elizabeth Carrae: Felicity Bridgewater had an unhappy childhood because of her parents' divorce and she made a youthful vow that no child of hers should experience the same unhappiness. And when, years later, she found the secret to be re-enacted, herself now in the role of her mother, she did not forget. How Felicity solved her own problem makes interesting reading.

Laughter in the Sun, by Pamale Frankau: "One summer's hilarious adventures in a troubled paradise on the French Riviera."

The Seven Who Flew, by Frederick Prokosch: The Harper Prize

Novel of 1937. "That welcome rarity: a distinguished novel that is not only an uncommonly beautiful book of prose, but a document of and for our times." (Airted Kazin, N. Y. Herald Tribune Books.)

The Romance of Rosy Ridge, by Mackinlay Kantor: Another legend of the Missouri countryside by the author of "The Voice of Bugle Ann." You Can't Have Everything, by Kathleen Norris: A novel of today, vibrant with the tempo of modern life, divorce, and its complexities, adventure and travel in far places, climaxed in deep appreciation of home ties and awakening knowledge that 'one can't have everything.'

One Year of Love, by Alice Ross Culver: Judy knew Allan loved her, but the suspicion of an old infatuation made her afraid. A triangle story of a stormy first year of marriage with an exciting denouement.

was perfected here today with Fred Wemple, Midland, elected president and permanent chairman of the organization. Representatives of Garden City, Kermit, Goldsmith and ton Hill: When the rising young architect met the 'girl next door' he promptly abandons all idea of selling his childhood home and returning to New York. One of Mrs. Hill's best.

Twenty-Four Hours A Day, by Faith Baldwin: Christine Carstairs, costume designer, remains with the firm after her marriage to its president. But the business is with them twenty-four hours a day, and Christine finds that being her husband's employee as well as his wife has its difficulties. How Larry and Christine salvage their marriage on the verge of shipwreck makes a tender and powerful climax to the story.

Young Henry of Navarre, by Heinrich Mann: translated from the German by Eric Sutton: Based upon the life of Henry of Navarre who became King of France in 1589—the of the struggle between Catholics and the Huguenots, the massacre of St. Bartholomew's night, and the growing dissatisfaction of the peasants and townspeople. Reckless, tricky, yet sympathetic, Henry is cleverly depicted and the glamour as well as the sordidness of his private life is well told.

Storm Over Eden, by Helen Topping Miller: A good, light, love story with a Southern town and the Texas oil fields for background.

Cathedral Close, by Susan Good-year: A convincing picture of life in an English Cathedral Close done with artistry and true characterizations. The clever wife of the new Dean, an intense individualist, at first stands aloof from the cathedral circle, but ends by conforming to the community's habits and appreciating the beauty she finds there.

Doctor's Wife, by Maysie Greig: Two women loved Dr. Bob Bradburn. And in the story of which one was to give him the more lasting happiness, Miss Greig has woven drama, thrills, tragedy, all the multi-colored aspects of true romance.

Ex-Teacher Here Reviewer of Book

J. H. Williams, principal of the Sweetwater high school and former principal of Junior High School here will present a review of Douglas Southall Freeman's biography of Robert E. Lee in the ballroom of Hotel Wooten at Abilene, Dec. 3.

The book has been highly praised by critics as being a real monument to the great Southerner and Mr. Williams has given months of study to preparation of the review.

His presentation will be sponsored by the council of the First Christian church of Abilene.

Owner of Flat Seeks Renters With Children

BERKELEY, Cal. (U.P.)—Otis R. Marston, apartment house owner here, reversed the usual order of things when he advertised for tenants with children.

A sign hanging before a brand new apartment house building here said: "For Rent. Children Preferred."

Marston, a property owner for more than 20 years, revealed that he had finally convinced himself that it is more profitable to rent an apartment, flat or home to a family with children.

"It's taken me a long time to realize that children aren't half so destructive as adults, but now I know it's true."

He explained: "In my experience, all the children have ever done was scuff a little paint or plaster off a wall. Adults have cost me a small fortune in one item alone, and that's replacing sink bowls they ruined by jabs with ice-picks."

Marston added that he might reserve the new building for families with children.

YWA Members Practice Program For Wednesday

YWA members worked on the program which they will present in connection with the Girl's Auxiliary at the Baptist church Wednesday evening in observance of the week of prayer, at their weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. W. L. Simmons, 711 N. Lorraine, Monday evening.

Present were: Misses Esther Gustafson, Alta Merrell, Kathryn Beauchamp, Lucille Scarborough, Marcella Strawn, Audrey Mae Iglehart, Jane Doran, Doris Tidwell, Berne Kidwell, Freddie Lou Barber, Lela Paddy.

Stamp News

WITH release of the Virgin Islands stamp Dec. 15, the Postoffice Department is expected to announce the 1938 philatelic program.

Indications are now that three commemoratives may be issued further marking the 150th anniversary of the Constitution. This special series would depict the three departments of the government.

The legislative branch would be represented through illustration of the meeting of the first congress under the Constitution; the executive department stamp would portray the ceremonies incident to Washington's inaugural as first President of the United States; and the third stamp, the judicial, would depict the creation of the United States Supreme Court in 1789.

Convening of a special session of Congress revives hopes for the passage of the measure permitting the printing of black and white illustrations of United States postage stamps. The Senate passed this bill at the last session but the House failed of favorable action.

Popularity of the "souvenir" sheets abroad is increasing. Germany, Spain, Belgian Congo and Rumania have issued miniature sheets recently. Some of the sheets may be denied recognition in the American catalog since this trend is too pronounced.

Interesting new issues: Manchukuo—four values, commemorating completion of the capital city, Hsinking; Greece—13 values depicting Grecian gods, chariot-racing and St. Paul preaching at Athens; Russia—special airmail block commemorating aviation records won by Soviet flyers in last year. The Soviet North Pole set of four values will appear in January. (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

Hostess Plays Self in Films

"Act natural" was all the director told beautiful Daphne Lane, above, in her first role as an air stewardess in a forthcoming production, for that is her daily job—hostess on an airliner. Called the "most beautiful" air stewardess by Artist McClelland Barclay, Daphne will have a small but important part in "The Lady Misbehaves."

When the deer arrow of the Philippine Negrito strikes its mark, the head detaches itself from the shaft, remaining fastened only by a stout cord; the dragging shaft catches in the underbrush and halts the wounded animal.

Don't Bully Constipation

Many purgatives over-stimulate your intestines. That's why you suffer from griping. Why not try a NATURAL laxative food—Kellogg's All-Bran!

If you have common constipation, All-Bran will keep you "regular" as the clock's tick. Instead of OVER-STIMULATING your intestines, it gives them two things they need. First, All-Bran supplies "bulk"—it absorbs water and softens like a sponge. This water-softened mass aids elimination. Second, it's a good source of vitamin "B,"—the amazing vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract.

Eat crunchy, toasted All-Bran with milk or cream and fruits. In muffins it's delicious. But however you eat it, use it REGULARLY: eat two table-spoons of All-Bran and drink plenty of water. If you do this every day you can avoid common constipation and cathartics, too! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. At every grocer's.

Schmeling Asked for Warm-Up; Thomas May Give Him Real One When They Meet Dec. 13.

FIXING FOR A FIGHT DOWN ON THE FARM

Harry Thomas squares off with a woodchopping companion on the Eagle Bend, Minn., farm of his parents, where he did preliminary training for his 15-round battle with the ex-champion.

An unruly calf is a lively sparring partner for Thomas, who was raised on the farm and further developed as a railway fireman and engineer.

Harry Thomas makes hay while the sun shines on a golden opportunity—a 15-round match with Max Schmeling at the Garden, Dec. 13.

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—Because he is a swinging puncher like Max Baer, some of the boys have an idea that Harry Thomas may stir up some trouble for Max Schmeling in what generally is expected to be nothing more than a warm-up for the ex-champion at the Garden, Dec. 13.

It will be recalled that Baer, bringing roaring roundhouse blows via the Holland Tunnel, smacked Schmeling all over the place and stopped him in 10 rounds one scorching June night in 1933.

The man warning Schmeling in sternest tone is Jack Hurley, who managed Thomas for a spell. Hurley is the chap who brought out Billy Petrolle, the old Fargo Express, and is a pugilistic prognosticator of some repute.

While Schmeling's staunchest admirers were feeling sorry for the Black Uhlan, Hurley was telling the cockeyed world that the Pretzel Pounder would belt Joe Louis all the way back to the Buckleaws.

Hurley also predicted that Jim Braddock would treat Louis similarly. The Dakota cauliflower dealer was wrong on that occasion, but the error can be traced to the fact that he'd make Freddie Bartholomew a favorite over Louis, so little does he think of the Brown Bombardier.

Thomas Blocks With Hard Head.
Hurley isn't exactly picking Thomas, but insists that Schmeling selecting the Minnesotan from a list submitted by Mike Jacobs once more illustrates just how little Joe Jacobs has to say about his matches.

"Joe Jacobs wouldn't make this mistake," asserts Hurley.

"Granting that Schmeling can beat Thomas, it's still a bad match for the German as likely to break his right hand on Harry's head. Harry keeps his noggin down as well as anybody you ever saw."

"If Schmeling could hook with his left, I don't suppose he'd have too much difficulty with Thomas, but all he can do is put lumps on top of Harry's coco with his straight right, and that won't get him very far."

"Thomas is an awkwardly clever plodder capable of flattening anybody with either fist. He can take it like the Michigan football team. As slow as he is, he's as fast as Schmeling. He isn't afraid, and he likes to fight."

Knocked Out Louis in Workout.
Thomas is in New York for the first time, after preliminary work on his parents' farm near Eagle Bend, Minn., and in a Chicago gymnasium. He professes not to consider the distance—15 rounds—to his disadvantage.

Thomas—real name Pontius—talks a good fight without meaning to be boastful.

"Yanked from the cabin of a Southern Pacific locomotive in 1932 by his uncle, Dan Thomas of Los Angeles, Thomas is said to have been the first to demonstrate that Louis couldn't shake off a solid sock around the head.

When Louis traveled to Los Angeles to drop Lee Ramage like a broken airplane for the second time, Thomas was engaged as a sparring partner.

"I hit Louis on top of the head in our first and only round and he went into a tailspin and stayed there," explains Thomas. "They fired me, and I've wondered ever since just what would happen if I nailed Louis on top of the head with my hand in a small glove. I wouldn't bother to aim for his temple. I'd just hit him on top of the head."

Rough and Ready and Looks Part.
Young Jim Norris, son of the wheat operator who controls the Chicago Stadium and Detroit Olympia, brought Thomas to Chicago three years ago. The veteran Nate Lewis now represents him in the management of the 28-year-old blond heavyweight.

If Thomas were as versatile inside the ropes as he has been outside of them, he'd be a whiz.

Raised on the Eagle Bend farm, he played considerable end and wrestled at Trinity College of Morningside, Ia. He was in turn a minor league catcher, cowboy, and locomotive fireman and engineer.

A rough and ready sort who looks the part, Thomas stands six feet one, and weighs 195 pounds.

He has bowled over or halted 60 of 71 opponents and lost only five decisions. He knocked out Dynamite Jackson and Pal Silvers in 1936, took 10-round awards from Art Sykes and Charley Belanger, lost to Unknown Winston in six, and was outstaggered by the string-bean negro, Jack Trammell, in 10.

He knocked out Billy Jones in St. Louis this year, dropped a disputed decision to Roscoe Toles in Detroit and recently repelled Max Marek in Chicago.

Harry Thomas isn't another Jack Dempsey, or anything like that, but neither is he a palooka, a ham-donny, a stumblebum, or roundheel.

To his credit, Max Schmeling hasn't handpicked anything of the kind.

The Ferocious Frankfurter asked for a warm-up. He'll get one.

He had been received from Rose Bowl officials.

"We had invitations from the Sugar Bowl and the Cotton Bowl which we wanted to place before the boys," said Weber, "so we just tossed in the the Rose Bowl for consideration also—in the event we should be invited."

"The boys decided they didn't want to play in any of them and so far as we are concerned, if California should invite us we should have to reply negatively."

Some of the Pitt players attempted to bring the squad together for reconsideration of the decision but had not been successful late today.

The vote was understood to have been close.

HSU, Howard Payne Rivalry Ranks With Oldest in the State

ABILENE, Texas. — The Hardin-Simmons university and Howard Payne College gridiron rivalry is one of the traditions in Southwest football.

Annually, since 1917, with the lone exception of 1934, the Cowboys and the Yellow Jackets have met in Abilene, or in Brownwood.

The year, the undefeated and untied Cowboys do the entertaining in the H-SU homecoming game on December 4.

The Cowboys nemesis, the Jackets are called, as Hardin-Simmons has won but five of the combats, in 1922, 1927, 1935 and 1936.

Howard Payne has won twelve. Three were ties.

The Cowboys have won both years under Coach Frank Kimbrough's tutelage. In 1935, by 14 to 0 count. At the 1936 H-SU Homecoming, the Cowhands went into the fourth quarter with a 3 to 0 lead, then ran at large to win, 31 to 0.

But, the Cowboys have never defeated the Jackets three years in succession, and Coach McAdoo Keaton has his Wasps at work to maintain this custom, viewed as a fine one on the campus at Brownwood.

The game will pit two sets of flashy backs, with Minor, Wilson and Rogers, pace setters for the Howard Payne Texas conference champs, flashing their wares to match the glamor boys of the Cowboy corral, McKinney, Cherry, Mahuron, Hinrichs and company.

This year, the Cowboys have won eight in a row to boost a two-year winning streak of sixteen. Howard Payne is undefeated in the Texas Conference, winning seven in a row to bag the championship. A non-conference win opened the season, over Southwest Texas Teachers, and a loss to Arkansas State is the lone blot on the Brownwood record.

The records don't count either way when Cowboy meets Jacket, and the prospective fray is assured of attracting a homecoming throng of several thousand.

Here are the scores of the H-SU and H. P. C. Battles:

1917—H-SU, 0; H. P. C. 41
1918—H-SU, 0; H. P. C. 20

WINK-IRAAN CLUBS WILL MEET IN WINK SATURDAY AFTERNOON AT 2:30

Region 2 semi-final games will be wiped from the slate this week, leaving only the final game for next week, when Roscoe and Brownfield meet Friday afternoon in Roscoe and Wink and Iraan meet Saturday afternoon in Wink.

Superintendent Johnson of Wink and Superintendent Bickley of Iraan met yesterday afternoon in Odessa and agreed without preliminaries on Wink as a site for the game.

The two schools once before—in 1932, met in bi-district game, Iraan winning the toss on where the game was to be played. But, since Iraan had no football field at the time, Wink consented to play on a neutral field—McCamey.

Superintendent Bickley yesterday said that it was Wink's time to say where the game was to be played and that he was agreeable to any site they might choose. Wink attendance records showed that city far outdrew any other in the district and Johnson immediately declared in favor of the home field.

Sentiment was against playing the game on a neutral field from the start, the general belief being that Wink will have no trouble in winning over the Pecos county club and that a large crowd could not be procured anywhere other than in either Wink or Iraan to see the two teams play.

The game will start at 2:30 Saturday afternoon and general admission will be 25 cents for students, 50 cents for adults and reserved seats 25 cents.

In the eastern half of the region, the Roscoe Ploymboys are heavy favorites to win out over the Brownfield club.

The Brownfield team finished fast, nosing out Lamesa after the Dawson county team had apparently clinched the championship. A 6-7 defeat to Littlefield by Lamesa gave the Brownfield boys their district title. Last year, Littlefield, champion of district 5, defeated Snyder, champion of district 6, and entered the regional play-off with Midland on the local field.

This year, the winner of district 6 appears stronger than any club Brownfield can place on the field and will be heavy favorites in the game. Roscoe has gone through the season undefeated and their record is marred only by a tie. However, in their tie game, they left their two ace backfield players and some of their other first team boys on the bench.

Iraan does not have a record com-dormitory in imposing modern architecture, the visitor explained—because then they can understand the "Talkies"! Moving pictures in Bello Horizonte are equipped with captions written in Portuguese, the language of the country, but the conversation of the actors is in English. Hence the popularity of English courses.

Most missionaries in Brazil, however, do not attend the moving pictures, believing that they are too worldly. Brazil has a population of 44,000,000 of which Miss Buster estimates that 43,000,000 are, nominally at least, Catholics. Catholicism is the state religion.

Carnival. Among the customs of the people which distress the mission workers is the chief festival, the "Carnival"—a three-day time of license in the early spring, when there are no restrictions. So unbridled are the actions of the populace at this time that the best people do not permit their daughters to go into the Carnival, Miss Buster explained. In fact, girls of the higher classes are carefully reared and protected and are constantly chaperoned, even if only by a little brother.

When a young man comes to call, he goes into the living room with the rest of the family. However, this custom does not mean that there is not any indulgence in lovemaking, Miss Buster said, explaining that young couples "hold hands" and otherwise display their affections quite openly.

Miss Buster's year of furlough is almost up. She will sail from New Orleans for Brazil on January 1 and looks forward to remaining there for six years before again visiting the United States. While in Midland, she has addressed several church groups on her experiences and on conditions in Brazil.

Business, Spending Money Put Cash in Many Pocketbooks

By W. R. BOYD, JR., Executive Vice President, American Petroleum Institute.

If you can visualize a railroad freight train 305 miles long, with its 37,500 cars stretching 1,612,500 feet, you will have a mental image of the volume of total purchases of economic necessities by the people of the American petroleum industry in one year.

That train would not be laden with the $376,000,000 worth of supplies and equipment purchased by the industry itself, but would contain merely the food purchased at oil-town stores by those who earn their living in this industry, and by their dependents.

Few realize, when they talk about "big business," and discuss gross income and dividends, that the amount of money remaining in the till is comparatively small when stacked against the enormous amounts passed on in the form of wages, or spent to meet operating expenses, or paid in taxes. Big business makes money, sometimes; but it spends money, always, and that money goes into many pocketbooks.

In the case of the petroleum industry, earnings are only a fraction of wages, and a small amount when compared with taxes. As in the case of other far-flung industrial enterprises, the money passes on, and is distributed in the channels of trade, the only economic method for distributing wealth.

Communities known as "oil towns" because of their proximity to oil-producing, refining, or other operations, often owe their existence to the fact that oil money goes into the hands of oil workers, and finally into local trade. Oil industry employees and their dependents spend the money for food, clothing, shelter, and other necessities, and so "little business," or local trade, shares the financial productivity of "big business," or industry.

Spending Oil Money in Home Town. Oil-town storekeepers and tradespeople long have regarded oil company employees as good customers. Oil folks and their families maintain high standards of living. Their wages are among the highest paid by industry, their employment comparatively steady.

And not only the oil towns, but all communities benefit by their trade, for every community today has a local oil business in one form or another. It may be only a service station, or a bulk plant, or a pipe line pumping station, but oil money eventually finds its way into the town.

This money is not necessarily part of the $2,400,000 per day the industry spends for supplies and equipment. It is part of the $1,500,000,000 a year the industry pays in wages. In fact, when total wage payments and total expenditures for supplies and equipment are considered, the grand total is more than $2,000,000,000. That is just one indication of the enormous economic contribution of the petroleum industry to trade in the United States. How the Money is Spent. Some people keep busy spending money, and others keep busy finding out how they spend it. Some of these money researchers recently studied the spending by oil-company employees in the large cities and small towns of a mid-western state. Their reports present a satisfactory cross-section of the local trade derived from oil money and employees.

In northwestern Yoakum, Stogner and Pipkin No. 1 Blades, section 103, is drilling at 2,600 in anhydrite and salt.

Northeast of the Denver area, Murchison & Pikes No. 1 Sawyer is drilling at 3,036 feet in anhydrite and red rock.

In the Bohago area of Yoakum, Skelly and Sun No. 1 Kiser is plugging back at 5,279 feet. It had swabbed six barrels of fluid hourly, 50 percent water, when plugged back to 5,282 from 5,300.

Shell No. 1 Cox, southeast Wason pool well, which found sulphur water in drilling to 4,995, cemented back to 4,970 with 20 sacks and is standing. Humble No. 1 Riley is on potential test, flowing 13 barrels an hour, five and one-half percent water.

6 Waddell in Ellenburger. Gulf No. 6 Waddell et al, west edge test in the south line of deep production in western Crane's Sandhills Ordovician pool, topped Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, at 6,071 feet, datum of minus 3,526, it was learned today. On the marker, it is 116 feet lower than its east offset, the No. 5 Waddell, a 8,179-barrel well, which topped Ellenburger at 5,556. No. 6 was only 15 feet low to No. 5 on the Simpson, middle Ordovician. It is now coring ahead at 6,093 feet, in lime. Operators will either take drillstem test or run tubing after the present core has been pulled.

Gulf No. 3 McKnight, also seeking Ordovician pay, is drilling lime at 4,738 feet.

CONDITIONS BETTER. J. T. Gay, suffering from severe burns, is reported much improved by hospital officials today. G. R. Harris, who was admitted for treatment of pneumonia Saturday is also improved.

Furthermore, a goodly portion of the oil money spent in trade for rent and professional services went to pay sales taxes, real property taxes, income taxes and other levies, greatly increasing the revenue of more than $1,000,000,000 a year that government receives from the operations of the petroleum industry itself. It is impossible to estimate how many tax collectors and government employees the money supported, but it may be regarded as a growing number.

It was found that 30¢ of every wage dollar went for food. About 20¢ went for rent, 11¢ for clothing, furniture, and similar items, and 6¢ for electricity, gas, telephones, etc. Doctors and dentists, drug stores, garages, and miscellaneous professions and trades received 20¢ of the wage dollar. And 13¢ thriftily was tucked away in the bank, or invested in insurance.

Applying expenditures at these rates to the industry's 1,000,000 wage-earners and the 3,000,000 people they support, we find that home-town trade shares $450,000,000 spent for food, $300,000,000 for rent; $165,000,000 for clothing and furniture; $90,000,000 for public utility service; and $300,000,000 for professional services, drugs, motor vehicle upkeep, and miscellaneous expenses. Here's That Freight Train Again.

It is not difficult to estimate volume of purchases. In the case of food, oil workers buy more than 500,000,000 pounds of meat, 300,000,000 pounds of bread, 290,000,000 quarts of milk, 77,000,000 pounds of butter and cheese, 52,000,000 dozens of eggs, 15,000,000 pecks of fruit, 524,000,000 pounds of potatoes, 263,000,000 pounds of fresh vegetables, and 555,000,000 pounds of flour and meal.

Naturally, this annual supply of food has to be transported, so here comes that freight train again! So vast a shipment weighs close to 1,500,000 tons, so the railroad people put together a real train and put a good many thousand railroaders to work, just to feed the oil people. No estimate can be made of the extent of business which goes back to the farmers who produce all these eatables, nor is it possible to estimate how many motor trucks supplement railroad service. Equally impossible of estimate is the trade of wholesalers, jobbers, handlers, commission merchants, storage plants, and other middlemen all along the line.

Customers for 29,000 Stores. When we get into the retail field, however, we can depend upon the government's 1935 census of business to help out. Based upon census figures, it is estimated that the oil people supported 29,000 retail stores employing nearly 70,000 clerks, delivery boys, and other workers. Another big item is the $300,000,000
