Whitney Taken to Prison Today for Five-Year Term

NEW YORK April 12 (AP).—Richard Whitney, handcuffed to an extortionist and a man convicted of assault, was put aboard a train for Sing-Sing prison today while a crowd of 5,000 persons tried to catch a glimpse of him.

From the Ossining station, Whitney and other prisoners were to be rushed to prison where he will start serving from five to ten years for grand larceny.

Whitney spent the night in the old Tombs prison. After breakfast a jail trustee shaved him and was paid 25 cents by the former president of the New York stock exchange.

Whitney was sentenced by Judge Owen W. Bohan yesterday to serve a 5-to-10-year prison term for grand larceny. Judge Bohan briefly and acidly summarized Whitney's speculations, and finally pronounced a sentence that will keep him behind the bars for at least three years and four months.

Whitney had pleaded guilty to two indictments, charging first degree grand larceny in the misuse of $105,000 in securities of a trust fund left by his father-in-law, the late George R. Sheldon, and $109,000 in securities from the New York Yacht Club of which Whitney was treasurer. He was sentenced to five to ten years on each, the sentences to run concurrently.

Europe Ponders on What Next Actions Of Hitler Will Be

BERLIN, April 12 (AP).—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's next step was debated last night in the wake of the greatest vote of confidence ever accorded him.

His creation of a greater Germany by annexation of Austria March 13 drew the approval of more than 99 per cent of the nearly 80,000,000 Germans who voted in Sunday's plebiscite.

Germans in every walk of life speculated whether now he would be inspired to take rapid-fire action on other Nazi "unfinished" business.

Issues seen as particularly pressing in this connection were:

1. The minority problem of the 3,500,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia.
2. Reunion with Germany of former German territory, such as Memel, now a part of Lithuania, and the Polish corridor with the free city of Danzig.

There have been frequent references in the last two months not only by Hitler but by his right-hand men, such as Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goerring and Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, to Germany's determination to protect German minorities outside her boundaries.

Germans in Danzig and even in Memel meanwhile have left no doubt they long to become a part of the greater Germany.

The question heard most frequently therefore is how long Hitler will take before his next move.

Strikers are Urged to Quit By Daladier

Pleads for End to Fuss Tying Up the Armament Plants

PARIS, April 12 (AP).—Premier Edouard Daladier appealed today to the patriotism of 140,000 strikers, exhorting them to end a tie-up of France's national defense factories and urged them to trust the government to prevent a recurrence of old privileges—apparently his promise to workers against mass firing or general pay cuts.

The ministerial declaration asked strikers to evacuate more than 120 plants and reminded them the serious international situation makes it imperative there be no interruption in the manufacture of arms.

The chamber of deputies today gave the new "national defense" government of Daladier an overwhelming vote of confidence, 576-5. As Daladier worked, rapidly spreading strikes paralyzed the metal industries in the Paris region despite his appeal to the nation for discipline. Workers from a dozen of the capital's largest factories joined some 60,000 strikers already out, swelling the total to nearly 130,000.

Leaders of the strike, which up to tonight had closed nearly 100 factories including a number of nationalized plants working for the national defense, sought to enlist workers in other industries. The huge Renault automobile motor plant was occupied by its 35,000 workers.

Large Crowds Attend Revival Services at The Christian Church

"There is no hope for the man who dies without Christ," Rev. James T. McKissick, who is conducting a revival at the First Christian church declared before a large congregation of people last night, thinking out that it was sin that sets the divorce mills grinding; and breaks homes and causes broken hearts and broken lives; pointing out that sin will always come out and that it cannot be hid, he pointed to the one remedy for sin—Jesus Christ, the Lord "whose blood cleanses us from all sin."

Congregational singing marked the opening of the service. The singing of the old favorite hymns will be one of the features of the revival, according to an announcement by Rev. John E. Pickering, pastor. The pastor has also announced that Thursday night, following the service of worship, a lighted candle communion service will be held, the church being decorated in white. Committees were appointed to care for all the details for this special communion service, which is in memory of "The Last Supper of Our Lord" with His disciples.

The services began promptly at 8 o'clock each evening. The public has a cordial invitation to attend the services.

Livingston Pastor To Preach at the Baptist Church

Plans for special Easter services at the First Baptist church were announced today, with the Rev. A. E. Riemann, pastor of the Central Baptist church of Livingston, Texas, filling the pulpit at the morning hour. He will arrive here tomorrow and will conduct the Wednesday prayer meeting at 7:30 p. m.

Sunday evening, an Easter Cantata will be presented, directed by Chase Murph. Entitled "Victorious King," the cantata is by Nolte and will be sung by the church choir, with special solo numbers. The service begins at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Riemann, who will be here from Wednesday through Sunday, has been pastor at Livingston for seven years. Prior to that he was pastor of the Broadway Baptist church at Galveston and of the First Baptist church at Columbus, Texas.

He is a graduate of Baylor University and completed his degree of master of theology at the Southern Baptist Seminary, Louisville. Mr. Riemann has recently aided the Rev. Murph in a revival meeting, said the visiting preacher is an interesting speaker with pleasing personality and one who has done a fine work in his pastorates.

All children of the community are invited to take part in the hunt which will get underway at 1:30 o'clock.

Road Fund Reports Wanted Thursday at Workers' Breakfast

All committee workers raising funds for Midland's highway program, at work for the past week, have been asked by the chamber of commerce directors to meet at 7 a. m. Thursday, in the Blue Room of Hotel Scharbauer, to make report on solicitations. It was pointed out that the Ector-Winkler-Midland county agreement by which the roads from Midland and Odessa to Kermit are expected to be completed, is hinging on outcome of the fund raising here and should be reported at once.

The chamber directors met Monday evening for transaction of business. Cooperation of Midland people in greeting the delegations from Fort Worth and Dallas, to be here soon, was asked.

It was voted to send Manager Bill Collins to the joint conference of mayors and chamber of commerce executives of the south-west at El Paso April 22 and 23.

Midland will join towns from Pecos to Sweetwater in erecting and maintaining signs to be placed at the intersection of the Broadway of America with the Mexican border route, at Van Horn, and the Old Spanish Trail, at El Capitan station, advertising the route through here.

Directors present included President Marion Flynn, R. M. Barron, M. C. Ulmer, Russell C. Conkling, H. Paul Barron, H. E. Fox, J. C. Miles, J. C. Smith, Dr. John B. Thomas, R. L. Miller, Roy Parks, W. ## Violence Is Recorded in Senate Vote

Negro Slain, Judge Kidnaped in Chicago Elections Today

CHICAGO, April 12 (AP).—A Negro was slain and a precinct captain assaulted and a precinct captain reported kidnaped today as Chicagoans balloted in the statewide primary election.

The big prize at stake in the nation's first off year election was control of the democratic party in Illinois.

Contenders were the Chicago democratic organization headed by Mayor Edward Kelly of Chicago and the downstate forces of Governor Henry Horner.

CHICAGO, April 12 (AP).—A quarter-hour fight for domination of the democratic party in Illinois plus Gov. Henry Horner's organization against the Kelly-Nash faction in state-wide primary elections today.

A force of 5,000 regular and special police and at least 6,000 watchers was recruited for duty at Chicago polls.

Both factions joined in the unusual precautions against violence amid reports of two sluggings and a shooting and conflicting interpretations of the election laws.

National Committeeman P. A. Nash, who shares leadership of the Chicago organization with Mayor Edward J. Kelly, instructed his watchers to challenge republican voters who seek to cast a democratic ballot. Nash contended all who voted republican in the 1936 primary must do likewise in this election. Gov. Horner appealed to republicans to aid in "smashing the Kelly-Nash machine" by switching to the democratic side. Horner and the Chicago board of election commissioners insisted such action was permissible.

Republican chiefs urged the G. O. P. faithful to stay out of the democratic struggle and compile a huge vote as a protest against the new deal in the nation's first primary.

Both parties will nominate candidates for U. S. senator, 27 congressmen, including two at large, three state offices and places in the state legislature.

Estimates of the votes ranged between 2,000,000 and 2,250,000.

Churches Will Unite In Union Services At School Sunday

Following an annual custom of several years standing, churches of the town will unite in a sunrise Easter service at the high school auditorium, Sunday morning at 7 o'clock, it has been announced by Rev. W. J. Coleman, president of the Midland Ministerial Association, and pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who will be in charge of the observance.

In accordance with a decision that a local pastor will always be asked to speak, Rev. J. E. Pickering, pastor of the First Christian church, will preach the Easter sermon on "The Power of the Resurrection."

Supl. W. W. Levey will have charge of music for the service, with high school singers taking a prominent part in the numbers.

The public is invited to attend the sunrise service which annually calls forth a large attendance.

Plans for Women's Golf Tournament Here Being Pushed

Expecting the entrance for the first real competitive group of women golfers in the Sand Belt area, plans for the staging of the Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament at the Midland Country Club April 28-29-30 and May 1 are going steadily forward, members of the various tournament committees predicting one of the outstanding ladies tournaments ever staged in the Southwest.

Special invitations have been sent to leading feminine golfers of this section of the state and a large number of entries from over a wide area is expected.

Prizes valued at more than $250 are being offered in the various flights, members of the prize committee pointing out that entries in each flight will be eligible to receive an attractive award. Prizes are being offered for each flight. A complete prize list will be announced shortly.

High spot of the tournament entertainment will be a chicken banquet in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer on Thursday evening, April 28. Auctioning of players in the Calcutta Pool will follow the banquet.

Qualifying rounds will be held on the opening day of the tourney, with the finals to be played on Sunday, May 1. With eight golfers to the flight, 18 holes are scheduled on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 36 holes being scheduled in championship play the final day.

Special features of the tourney include cold beverages at every three hole and a long driving contest.

After Beating Reorganization Bill

The triumph of Tammany's Representative John J. O'Connor, center, who lead insurgent democrats to a smashing defeat of the President's reorganization bill, is reflected in this striking picture, taken a few minutes after the house killed the measure by a vote of 204 to 196. With O'Connor, whose rebel bloc delivered the most stunning blow the house has yet given Mr. Roosevelt, are two other rejoicing democrats, Representatives Thomas O'Malley, Wisconsin, left, and Representative Arthur P. Lammeck of Ohio. Coalition of democrats with republicans produced the vote to recommit the bill to committee, which action kills the measure for this session.

Southwest Gains Wildcat Cores Saturated, Fairly Porous Lime

By FRANK GARDNER.

Coring of saturated, fairly porous lime by Eastland Oil Company No. 1 Dunbar, southwestern Gaines wildcat, provided the most interesting development of the day in the north Permian Basin.

Coring was started after the well had drilled soft, saturated section from 4,365-468. It was cored from 4,368-483, showing full recovery of lime, top seven feet of which were saturated and fairly porous. The saturated portion of the core was said to show light brown distillate. Operators are drilling again, in reduced hole, and will resume coring at 4,410 unless more soft formation is encountered above that point.

Some called top of white lime in the No. 1 Dunbar at 4,320 feet, which places it approximately 50 feet higher than Louisiana Oil & Refining Company No. 1 B. B. Ralph, dry hole two and a quarter miles to the south. Location of the Eastland wildcat is 2,310 feet from the south, 330 feet from the west line of section 24, block A-12, public school land.

Gaines Test Blows Out. High gas encountered in the lower Yates zone at 3,030 feet by Finley & Cherry No. 1 Paul W. Dalmont, test in the Kirk area of south central Gaines, blew out 11-pound rotary mud. Circulation was restored after gas had been allowed to blow for a while and, this morning, the well was drilling ahead below 3,085 feet in anhydrite. It topped Yates sand at 2,870, 463 feet above sea level. This marker came in 76 feet higher than the Yates sand in Landreth No. 1 Dalmont, test three miles to the southeast, which is now drilling at 2,205 in anhydrite and shale. The Finley & Cherry well was 56 feet high to the Landreth No. 1 Dalmont on anhydrite, which it topped at 1,810. It is located 1,980 feet from the north, 360 feet from the west line of section 5, block A-21, public school land.

Sample analysis showed anhydrite to have been topped at 2,090, datum of plus 1,469, by Blackstock No. 1 Wasson, northwest Gaines Wasson area test. Driller had called the point at 1,950, which appeared to be too high. At last reports it was drilling at 2,205 in anhydrite, salt and red rock.

H. C. Wheeler No. 1 F. E. Gardner, Andrews test two and one-half miles west of the Means pool, is drilling solid lime at 4,363 feet, while H. S. Forgeron No. 1 Lockhart & Brown, five miles west of the south end of the Fuhrman pool in Andrews, is still shut down at 2,850 feet in anhydrite.

Denver Extension Re-Treated. Extending the north end of the Denver pool of southern Youkum three-quarters of a mile to the northwest, Shell No. 1 F. W. Hensley, swabbed an estimated 150 barrels in nine hours, cut 15 per cent with basic sediment and two per cent with water, while unloading 2,000 gallons. It is unloading again today after re-treating with 5,000

Building Permits Continue Brisk For This Month

Building permits for April continued briskly up to today, as apartment house, residence and business building projects were under construction, bringing the total thus far for April to $37,040.

Mrs. W. C. Cochran is erecting at her property on West Wall street an additional apartment house to cost $12,000. Two stories in height, it will have her home on the first floor and two apartments in the second. It will be of brick veneer construction, located at 521 West Wall, corner of Pecos street.

C. E. Trammell is erecting a brick business house at 413 West Wall street, 25 by 75 feet, permit being taken for $3,140. Nature of the business to be conducted there has not been announced by Trammell, who recently bought the 25 by 100 foot lot from Mrs. J. A. Haley.

Permit for a $7,000 brick veneer home has been taken out by Paula Vogel, the new structure to be located at 1607 West Texas street.

Mrs. Hal Peck is building a two story brick veneer home, with permit of $6,000, at 1200 West Missouri street.

E. W. Childress is building a new $3,000 home in Elmwood addition.

A brick addition is being built to the warehouse of the Southwest-Em Bell Telephone Co. to cost $1,000.

C. A. McClintic is adding a wash rack at his service station at 223 North Colorado, to cost $400.

Late News

ALBANY, N. Y., April 12 (AP).—Governor Lehman today signed a bill banning in New York marriage after July 1 of persons with communicable syphilis.

WASHINGTON, April 12 (AP).—A major congressional struggle was developing today over President Roosevelt's business recovery program amid reports Vice President Garner had taken a firm stand against government spending. An announcement that the president intends to explain the program by radio led many observers to believe he was determined to marshal public support against his opposition in congress.

EL PASO, April 12 (AP).—Officers reported no developments today in the Frome murder case. Border authorities throughout the night combed the Laredo section for a black coupe bearing a woman wanted for questioning, but no clue was uncovered.

HAS APPENDECTOMY.

Mrs. Vance Harris of Monahans underwent an appendectomy at a Midland hospital last night. She is reported doing well today.

Reserve on Water Will Be Insured

To Allow Storage Of Approximately 2 Million Gallons

Purchase of an additional 300,000 gallon elevated storage tank for the city water system has been announced by city officials; also the buying of approximately $6,000 worth of equipment to be used in paving and street work under proposed WFA projects to be announced soon.

The storage tank, bought from the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Co., is to be ready for use in 90 days, according to terms of the contract. The large tank was chosen after bids had been received on three sizes, ranging upward from 200,000 gallons capacity. The tank and tower, which will be from 100 to 105 feet in height, will cost $20,000.

The new storage will be for the purpose of maintaining an ample reserve supply of water in the city limits at all hours, as the pressure last summer became weaker during the late hours of the afternoon when consumption was at its height.

Weys in operation at the Cloverdale plant are capable of supplying water for several times the present population. The concrete reservoir storage there is 1,000,000 gallons, another 500,000 gallon concrete reservoir, built last summer, is located at the eastern city limits and the present elevated tower, at the city hall site, holds 100,000 gallons. The total, after installation of the new tank, will be 1,900,000.

Records show that Midland citizens use more water per capita than most cities or towns in Texas.

Purchase of the street paving equipment will make possible the laying of several miles of asphalt pavement at lower cost than has been available heretofore and city officials expect to announce definite plans by which property owners may secure paved streets at an early date.

Included is complete rock crushing equipment, capable of turning out rocks of any desired size for paving work. Also a new Ingersoll Rand compressor, a truck hauler, was bought to be received in a few days.

A mixing plant to use native soil in composition with asphalt, in place of caliche, is included in the equipment, this type of base having proved various West Texas towns and cities.

bulldozer was bought for use in moving dirt ahead of the grader, maintainer and other street machinery, also for moving and cleaning up much of the refuse of the present city dumping ground east of the city.

Mayors, managers and engineers of several cities were contacted by city officials prior to purchasing the equipment, ascertaining what type of machinery has accomplished most at greatest degree of economy.

Speech of LaGuardia At WTCC Convention Not to Be Broadcast

WICHITA FALLS, April 12.—At his own insistence, Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, chief executive of New York City, who will make his first visit to the Southwest, and to Texas, to address the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention here on April 26, will speak to his visible audience only.

The colorful mayor of America's No. 1 metropolis, by personal request to WTCC officials, will speak in Memorial auditorium without the restraint of addressing a radio microphone, and an unseen audience.

Mayor LaGuardia speaks with greater fluency and forcefulness to an audience he can see, friends said.

New York's mayor and U. S. Senator Tom Connally, of Texas, who address the WTCC conclave on Wednesday morning, April 27, will speak before the convention's general sessions.

Gov. James V. Allred will be present to greet Mayor LaGuardia and Senator Connally, he said today.

The trio of distinguished visitors will be guests of honor at a Wichita Falls Chuck Wagon gang dinner, Tuesday noon, April 26. Harley Goble, Chuck Wagon boss, forwarded invitations to the event today.

Meantime, as Wichita Falls launched its local registration drive, with a goal of 3500 registrants, and a West Texas registration roll call continued, with an announced goal of 2500, indications were that the outstanding program would attract the largest attendance in years, officials said.

MOVE HERE.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bourland and son have moved here from Portales, N. M., where he has bought the Continental service station on West Wall and Pecos, formerly operated by T. O. Buchanan. Buchanan has again taken over the Continental station at the corner of Wall and Mariefield.

WASHINGTON, April 12. — The war between the government and the public utility holding companies will be resumed very shortly. Some companies will be "good," now that the Supreme Court has compelled them to register with the Securities and Exchange Commission under the holding company act. Others, including some of the largest, will continue to try to beat the acts in the courts. Not the famous so-called "death sentence" but the act's provisions covering inter-company service charges will provide the next battlefield. These charges levied by holding companies upon operating companies with or without regard to the value of services rendered, have been the devices by which certain holding companies are alleged to have milked consumers of billion of dollars. Service at Cost. H. C. HOPSON, head of the huge Associated Gas & Electric network, who gained great notoriety during his hide-and-seek game with the Senate lobby committee, is expected to be in the forefront of utility executive resisting application of the service charge provisions. The act provides that service by parent companies must be rendered at cost and that costs must be mutualized or pro-rated so that certain favored companies will not escape their share. Holding companies are required to make applica-

This Closes the Hunting Season

The Town Quack

Early next week this town is going to be so busy it can't keep up with itself. On Monday, the contract will be let for the new eight-story building of the First National Bank, and it has been reliably reported that at least nineteen contractors are placing bids for the structure. There will be 75 to 100 people here Sunday and Monday as a result of this letting, all of them trying to muscle in on the construction of one of the finest buildings to have been built in Texas for some time.

On Tuesday, the 19th, 100 business executives of Fort Worth will spend an hour here, early in the afternoon. And when I say executives, I mean big shots. They are not sending the birds, but the heads of Fort Worth's biggest institutions are making an extended trip by special train through West Texas and New Mexico. We printed the list of men who will make the trip in our Sunday paper, so if you haven't thrown it away look over the list and see if some of your good friends or business connections are in the party. They will arrive at 2:15 p. m., walk up to the Crystal ball room of Hotel Scharbauer and will have a short meeting to which the public is invited. Herb Fox, manager of the telephone company, is chairman for the program and will appreciate your help in meeting and entertaining these visitors.

The new water tower is going to give the city plenty of reserve storage and plenty of pressure at all hours of the day. We had plenty of water all the time, but the peak load each afternoon of the summer days crowded too much water through the pipes in a given length of time, thereby reducing the pressure.

The city is buying some equipment whereby street paving can be laid at a lower cost than on previous occasions, we are informed. When this program is announced, any street which isn't paved will be because of the failure of property owners to sign it up. We ought to complete from five to ten miles of pavement before 1938 is over.

person to arrive at a wreck often depends the lives of the victims. If he is untrained he is apt to stand wringing his hands, or worse still, do something that harms, rather than helps.

"Each vehicle operated by the highway department has been provided with a first aid kit for emergency treatments. Each of the drivers, when the instruction course has been completed, will be qualified to render first aid. In the course of these travels, the operators will encounter many instances where they can render valuable assistance to a traveler who has been injured and who sorely needs first aid treatment. Thus will highway department employees become 'Good Samaritans of the Roads.'

"Two maintenance employees, G. T. Kellum and S. F. Salters, of Crane, were credited in official reports with saving a wreck victim's life after attending their first class. "Some private citizens, at their own request, have been permitted to participate in first aid instruction. If sufficient interest is manifested and the request made, the department will provide lay instructors to teach first aid courses to the general public.

"If you can, arrange to attend one of these courses. One cannot help but be impressed. It is, however, a grim business. But death on the highway also is a grim business and must be fought as such. The average citizen attending a first aid course is certain to become more safety conscious, to realize the necessity of enlisting in the war against needless death and suffering. He also will obtain a knowledge that may save his own life or the life of some unfortunate victim. He also may become a 'Samaritan of the Highways.'

Safety Program of Highway Dept. Is Pushed in State

AUSTIN — "The Texas highway department has hit the safety trail in a well planned program that promises to pay huge dividends as the years roll by," writes Charles E. Simons, editor, in the April issue of Texas Parade.

"The program is something that was not gotten up overnight. Incidents already had occurred to prove the effectiveness of the plan along which the department is working.

"Passage by the legislature of a law authorizing the highway department to establish a system of workmen's compensation insurance for employees turned the spotlight on the program. Reasoned E. M. Belcher, director of the insurance division of the highway department, that did not give full recognition to preventing accidents through education.

"The insurance division is not motivated wholly by humanitarian principles. Safety is a matter of cold dollars and cents. An injured workman costs the highway department, and the taxpayers of the state, generally, money. Most of the men who work for the department, including the county maintenance men, are skilled. In them the state has invested considerable money teaching them their jobs. If their services are denied the state through injuries, the state is losing its interest in this investment. In case of a fatal accident, this investment is wiped out. Experience in private industry has proved that a safe workman is an efficient workman and that if a man is working safely, he also is working efficiently.

"The personal safety program as outlined by Belcher has two prime objectives:

"1. The reduction of accident frequency and severity.

"2. Increase in the general efficiency of employees.

"To accomplish these objectives a plan has been developed with careful thought to make every employee of the department safety conscious. "Employees have entered wholeheartedly and enthusiastically on this program. Every department head in the Austin headquarters office, their assistants and key men have enrolled for the American Red Cross standard first aid course. Some of the division engineers have qualified as lay instructors in first aid and other division engineers are planning to take this course.

"The standard course in first aid has been made mandatory for all field employees and about one-half the field personnel already has taken the instructions. The remaining employees will be given the course as quickly as classes can be arranged and instructors obtained. When this work has been completed, the department will have scattered throughout Texas more than tion to SEC for approval of service contracts and although SEC rules permit a 30-day exemption after registration, under the law the service must be furnished at cost during that period.

Simplification. NO one knows which of about 130 holding companies already registered are seeking to comply with the law, A. G. & E. registered March 29. In case that company doesn't bring suit against the act meanwhile and does not bring in a report showing compliance, SEC probably will hold hearings as a preliminary to court action.

The "death sentence" won't reach the courts for a year or more. Its application is complicated and SEC officials are going slow with it. Actually this section requires SEC to simplify corporate structures, make sure that voting power is properly distributed and see that physical properties are geographically integrated. In other words, SEC must take holding companies apart and put them together again. Officials hope this will result not only in lower rates but will also make utility stocks the soundest possible gilt-edged investment.

Company Revolt.

ALREADY Mr. Hopson and SEC officials are mutually interested in a curious case in nearby Virginia, where the Virginia Public Service Co. operates as an A. G. & E. subsidiary with headquarters at Alexandria, across the river from Washington.

President Alexander Speer of the subsidiary company has refused to obey A. G. & E. orders which he said would mean the "milking" of his company by the A. G. & E. The Virginia State Corporation Commission has forbidden A. G. & E. to discharge Speer pending an inquiry. And A. G. & E. has gone to the courts seeking an injunction against the commission's order.

Speer says upper-layer A. G. & E. companies tried to extract unjustifiable service charges from the Virginia companies, sought to impose policies which would cause the operating company's service to deteriorate and told him that the interests of the holding company were paramount.

Remote Control

THE Speer case is unique and SEC officials have kept in close touch with it. A. G. & E., which spent hundreds of thousands of dollars fighting the holding company act, has subsidiaries in 23 states. It has been shown to have as many as 10 layers of holding companies between Mr. Hopson's top company and certain home town operating companies. The act would permit but one holding company between the controlling company and the operating subsidiary.

been employed so that intensive training may be given, he said. Five Resident Training projects are now in operation, one at Southwest Texas State Teachers College for 50 boys interested in general shopwork; another at Luling Foundation Farm for 12 boys interested in farming; a third at Texas Technological College for 50 West Texas farm boys; and two at Prairie View State Normal and Industrial College for Negro boys and girls interested in domestic service training. Two other Resident Training Projects are scheduled to start in April, one at Buchanan Dam for 100 boys who will receive training in subsistence agriculture and farm mechanical work, and the other at Center Point, in East Texas, for youths interested in farming.

"We recognize that many steps in this training program are new," Mr. Kellum said. "Here is a great field for training and education. The NYA has already helped thousands find their way, bridging the gap between the end of school and a regular job."

NYA Program Aids Many Students Now

DALLAS, Texas. — The National Youth Administration Work Program has developed so that training boys and girls for useful and practical adult occupations at which they may earn a living is a fundamental objective, J. C. Kellum, State Youth Director, said in a talk here this week.

"We require that every project provide work discipline and some occupational training for the boys and girls employed," he said. "The young people are asking for practical training. They want to learn to do some one thing well. They want to learn to handle a plow, use a typewriter, sell bonds, fly an airplane, or build something." Mr. Kellum said that off-job training classes are also operated for youths assigned to projects, with the cooperation of the State Department of Education and various public schools, the Adult Education program, and other public agencies. ## Business Women Hear Paper on Label Reading

A. M. East, city engineer, presented a paper on the importance of the consumer's reading labels as a means of availing himself of the protection afforded by the Pure Food and Drugs Act as the special feature of the meeting of the Business and Professions Women's club at the courthouse Monday evening.

Mr. East was formerly engaged in public health work and dealt with foods in their relation to the law.

Careful reading of labels, the speaker said, will inform the purchaser as to quantity of food in containers, whether or not the food is artificial, and whether or not the product is sub-standard. In the case of some products, he declared the inferior brand is actually more expensive than a better grade.

Mr. East was introduced by Miss Betty Wilson who was in charge of the program on "Consumers' Protection Through Government Supervision of the Manufacture and Sale of Foods and Cosmetics."

A roundtable discussion on foods, drugs, and cosmetics, their compositions and the laws governing them followed the talk.

Miss Maria Spencer was program chairman and Mrs. Frances Stallworth presided.

Mrs. Stallworth appointed the following nominating committee to report on new officers at the meeting of the club in May: Miss Fannie Bess Taylor, chairman, Miss Laura Jesse, Miss Norene Kirby.

Make Springtime Feel at Home

A French bedroom, with all the furniture in mellow brown walnut typical of the period, is another lesson in cool comfort for summer. The sparsely figured paper with cloud-blue ground and sprays of gold makes an ideal hot weather backdrop. Sheer, peach colored batiste finished with ball fringe falls in ruffled cascades over the Venetian blinds. Notice the summer implications of the handsome flower painting, the ivy and fresh flowers here and there.

By MARIAN YOUNG, NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK. — It's spring—and the pale golden sunshine and soft breezes that pour through your open windows deserve to find a more suitable background for their light-hearted charm than heavy, dark draperies, formally austere vases, quantities of warmly clad pillows and other wintry effects.

This is the time to begin planning a summer-decoration scheme for every room in the house.

Contrary to expectations, it isn't necessary to discard heavy winter furniture in order to give the house a summer character. There are subtle things that can be done to walls and windows to create cool illusions. "Reducing" Clothes For Furniture.

The same chairs look gay, not to mention pounds lighter, when hot weather slip covers hide their upholstered backs and seats. Windows seem wider and more in the spirit of spring and summer when light, frothy curtains replace more or less formal draperies. Clear crystal and pale pastel glass bowls substituted for the heirloom vases you prize so highly can change the feeling of a room.

You begin—practical creature that you are—by commandeering the entire family to your cause. Father agrees to oil the screen, locate the awnings and brush them, take down the storm windows. Little brother is coaxed, even bribed to clean out the basement, carefully pack away his ice skates and so on. Once you have each member of the household agreeing to help convert the winter palace into a veritable vacation spot, you can begin throwing out and clearing away. Throw out the winter's accumulation of magazines and the debris in your desk. Clear away winter bric-a-brac. In order to look summery, a room doesn't necessarily have to look bare. But it certainly should not seem cluttered, the furniture crowded together.

Focus Interest On the Windows. In the living room the first bow

A huge, three-tiered fern stand—as cool looking as a fountain and summery as a garden—is the chief decorative note of this lovely dining room. White leather covers make the heavy chairs seem more in the summer mood. The same effect could be achieved with white chintz or white linen slip covers. The tall white screen is decorated in two shades of green.

to summer may well involve making windows the center of interest. Plan a charming little group around every window and give each a new, light costume, even though you have to use nothing more costly than sprigged marquisette or bargain chintz. Also Venetian or Mayfair blinds, and the latter are quite inexpensive.

You may think that, with a heavy dining room suite in brown walnut or one of the other dark woods, that little can be done to make the dining room summery. But one New York decorator solved such a problem nicely by giving the floor a covering of ivory linoleum, bordered with a simple band of blue.

Flowers Give Summery Air She then papered the walls in Wedgwood blue with festoons and a large shell-vase motif in creamy white. Woodwork was painted off-white. The windows received ruffled white nixon curtains.

hung criss-cross fashion from ceiling to floor. No re-papering job will be necessary next fall. Heavy drapes and a rug which covers the entire surface of the floor will change the character of the dining room from summer to winter.

Naturally, arrangements of ferns and frivolous flowers are a simple way out of the pre-summer decoration dilemma. A three-tiered fern stand, filled with beautiful, feathery ferns, is the keynote of one striking summer dining room. The walnut chairs were covered with white leather (white fabric could be substituted) and a white screen, decorated in two shades of green was added. Thus, without even taking up the rug, the desired effect was achieved.

Golf Celebrates 50th Anniversary in The U. S. But It Is Much Older

BY ART KRENZ, NEA Service Golf Writer. NEW YORK. — What's this about America celebrating 50 years of golf? Why not go back 150 years as New York does in calculating its golf playing history? It appears that the Rivington Royal Gazette, published in Manhattan, April 21, 1779, has the first printed record of the Royal and Ancient in this country. It was an advertisement to players:

"The season for this pleasant and healthy exercise now advancing, gentlemen may be furnished with excellent clubs and Caledonian balls by inquiring at the Printers."

There is no trace to whom the equipment was sold or where the game was played. The year 1838 also is vastly more than the golden anniversary of the organization of the first golf club in this country.

Indeed, Charleston, S. C., produces evidence that golf was played in an organized way on this side as early as 1794, or 144 years ago. History relates that a colony of Scotsmen migrated to Charleston and Savannah in 1736. It is reasonable to suppose that they carried their favorite weapons with them, but the first notice of the South Carolina Golf Club appeared in the Charleston City Gazette, Oct. 13, 1795:

"The anniversary of the Golf Club will be held on Saturday next at the Clubhouse on Charleston's Green, where the members are requested to attend at one o'clock.—William Milligan, secretary."

St. Andrew's Has Longest Continuous Golfing History.

SO it would seem that what America really is celebrating this year is the 50th anniversary of the St. Andrew's Golf Club in Westchester, N. Y.

St. Andrew's has the longest continuous golfing history of any club in the United States, although the Savannah Golf Club, formed Oct. 28, 1899, is the lineal descendant of the club of the same name, which was organized as early as 1795 and which flourished in 1811.

The St. Andrew's Golf Club was formed in Yonkers, N. Y., Nov. 14, 1888, at the residence of John Reid, its first president who was to become known as "the father of American golf."

Reid, born a Scotsman, was first to invite public indignation by carrying golf clubs on the streets of Yonkers in company with Robert Lockhart. The latter was the emissary whom Reid had sent to Scotland in 1887 with instructions to see Old Tom Morris and obtain the implements requisite to play golf.

Reid, Harry Holbrook, H. Tallmadge, K. Putnam, and John B. Upham put their names on the first minutes as charter members of St. Andrew's.

The club's first course of six holes was laid out at the corner of Broadway and Shonnard Place, Yonkers.

Sporting goods houses took advantage of the movement, and imported clubs and ball from overseas.

John C. Ten Eyck, a Yonkers lawyer, won the first handicap singles medal offered in America in November, 1890.

"Apple Tree Gang" Grows Into Famous Organization.

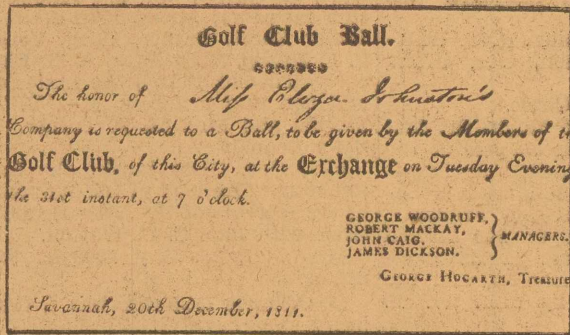

AFTER four years on the meadow at Shonnard Place, 36 acres were taken at the foot of Palisades Avenue.

The old apple tree upon which the golfers hung their duds along with an occasional demijohn is still there. It now stands in the back yard of George J. Daniels.

This tree gave the intrepid pi-

First authenticated picture of a game of golf in America. It was taken in 1888 on the original course of the St. Andrew's Club in Yonkers, N. Y. John B. Upham is putting. Harry Holbrook is at the extreme left, and John Reid on the right. The youngsters, the first real caddies in this country, are Holbrook's sons, Frederick, left, and Warren.

Invitation at left is proof that golf was played in an organized way, under club auspices, in Savannah, in 1811. Right is a notice to golf club members, published in The Columbia Museum, Savannah, Jan. 16, 1818.

The members of the "Golf Club" are requested to attend, at Sylvia Whitefield's, THIS DAY, the sixteenth instant, at two o'clock precisely, on business of importance to the Club—Punctual attendance is particularly requested. By order of the presidents, DONALD McLEOD, sec'y. jan 16 a 216

oneers the derisive name of the "Apple Tree Gang."

From the Palisades course the "Apple Tree Gang" went to Grey Oaks, on the Putnam division of the New York Central, where they built a nine-hole course, 2283 yards in length.

By this time the formalities of good golf had crept into the game. It had become general throughout the east, so much so in fact, that Reid offered what was known as the Amateur Championship Medal for 1894. It was won by W. H. Sands.

With the game thoroughly established in America, and all classes displaying an inclination to take it up, it became necessary to move into more commodious territory, so that an 18-hole course could be laid out. The most desirable spot was the little valley between Mount Hope and Scarsdale, five miles north of Grey Oaks.

In October, 1897, the opening of the present Mount Hope course of St. Andrew's was celebrated by a tournament in which 76 players drove off for the 36-hole qualifying round.

The dreams of John Reid and Robert Lockhart in less than 10 years had come true and swept the continent.

Officials Stress The Laws Governing Venereal Diseases

Control and prevention of syphilis is the state's most stressing problem in medicine and society. Through the centuries this disease has been kept alive by secrecy and false modesty aided and abetted by ignorance. What is being done to discover, cure, and control syphilis?

It was under this apple tree in the back yard of the home of George J. Daniels in Yonkers, N. Y., that a group of men fathered 50 years ago to try out John Reid's gift golf clubs which had just arrived from Scotland. The tree, then standing in what was a cow pasture across the street from Reid's home, gave the name to the "Apple Tree Gang," which later became the St. Andrew's Golf Club.

The state has made an effort to meet this problem by passing laws on this subject, of which the following are excerpts:

"The State Law on Venereal Diseases, Article 4445-Revised Civil Statutes of Texas. Venereal Disease—Syphilis, Gonorrhoea and Chancroid, hence designated as Venereal Diseases are hereby declared to be contagious, communicable and dangerous to public health. "Any physician making a diagno-

BY JESS RODGERS. And still they come. When manager Fincher Withers counted noses on his prospective Midland Cardinals this morning he had 16 men in camp and an additional 28 men due to arrive today and tonight to open spring training officially in the morning.

All hands have been ordered to report to Withers at the clubhouse at 9 o'clock in the morning for a "get acquainted" session after which the first work will start.

The first day's work will consist of exercise, most of it coming thru running around the park, and getting the legs in shape. Batting drill will probably start Friday, giving the boys two days in which to partially get their eyes on the ball before their first game Sunday.

And speaking of the first game, Withers announced today that the Hollywood baseball school team, scheduled to play here Sunday, will also stay over and play Monday. Games with the local Mexican team will be played Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The team will then get to rest, as far as actual competitive play is concerned, on Saturday night when they journey to Crane. Crane will return the game here the next day.

Players reporting yesterday were George Zemek, Chicago semi-pro who is out for the shortstop position; Doyle Chaffin, Toga, Texas, first baseman; Jimmy Morris, outfielder who was with Hobbs last year; Oscar Bates, catcher, also with Hobbs last year; and a younger brother, Thomas Bates, a pitcher; Peter Wanski, Chicago semi-pro hurler, who blew into the camp unannounced and unsigned; and two local youths, Clarence Didericks and James Hart, both outfielders. Chaffin, a personable 17-year old youngster who bats and throws left-handed, landed here Thursday but has been keeping himself under cover until the weather cleared up. He has been staying at the home of an uncle, Raymond Young, here. He has picked out about the hardest place on the team to win a spot by announcing for first base. He will have to compete with Ellsworth Suytar, a 6 feet five inch rookie from California.

Morris, a fleet outfielder who hit just below .300 with Hobbs in 1937, appeared yesterday and had not been on the field an hour before he was on the injured list. He was shagging balls in the outfield when he crashed into the walls, suffering a painful but not serious injury. Wanski had not previously been known by Withers, but when he blew in with some other boys from Chicago and presented his credentials Withers told him he could have a try-out. If he lives up to some of his recommendations he is liable to win a place on the team.

Taking advantage of the last day in which to get work done on the field without interfering with the players, Withers today was rushing to completion many improvements. The bleachers have been painted up and moved to the east side of the stand, the entrance gate has also been placed on the east side, the infield has been dragged, rolled and placed in the best condition ever. The outfield has been gone over several times and is in fair condition now, but more work will be done on it before the season is opened.

Rich Texan Says to Give While Living

HOUSTON (AP).—The money he has shooed out to education and charity may put a spade again in the hands of H. R. Cullen, but if it does, he is ready to swing it.

In frayed pants and shirt sleeves, the oil man walked in his rose garden recently and expounded a philosophy that prompted him to give $250,000 to the University of Houston for a building where the poor man's son and daughter might obtain schooling. "Nobody is so small or so big he is not capable of giving and receiving benefits," said this unusual millionaire who got but three years of schooling. "The rich man ought not to wait until he dies to share his wealth in brightening the lives of other men."

"I consider it the first duty of financially successful men to begin their benefactions at home and provide for their dependents. When this has been done the further problem presents itself: what shall I do with my surplus earnings? In seeking solution of this problem my first impulse was—and the first impulse of most men similarly situated, I believe is—to accumulate a large fortune and leave it after death to some worthy cause."

Cullen said he had a life expectancy of 20 years and he felt that intervening years might bring legal restraints upon his desire to help others but if the desire were carried out now these probabilities would be avoided. In the days when he sweated in the mud and seemed doomed all ways to find the bone of all oil men, salt water, he gave freely, once overdrawing his bank account to give to the Salvation army.

$10,000 G-Man Takes $2 Risk

Aha, the nation's chief "catcher" gets "caught" by a cameraman. It is J. Edgar Hoover who is pictured above as he laid aside the cares of his $10,000 job as chief of the federal G-men and placed a $2 bet on opening day at Bowie, Md., race track.

Did he pick a winner? Well, you know how secretive these G-men are.

"Fear is the most hideous hound of the rich man and the poor man. It ought not to keep a man from doing what he thinks is his duty," he said.

"If I have to go back and swing a spade in a ditch, I can do it." The philosophy of giving will strengthen American social ties, he

Record Enrollment Foreseen at A. & M.

COLLEGE STATION (AP).—A record enrollment of approximately 2,000 students is foreseen for the Texas A. & M. college summer session by Dr. C. H. Winkler, session director. Last year's registration totaled 1,649.

The session will be divided into two terms, the first lasting from June 7 to July 10, and the second from July 18 to August 27. In addition to the regular program of college work there will be a number of short courses, conventions and conferences. These will include the summer cotton school, national meeting of the Society for Promotion of Engineering Education, two farmers' short courses, fire department instructor's conference, firemen's training school, coaching school, Texas school administration conference and the conference of county superintendents and rural school supervisors.

said. "Ninety per cent of all Christianity is treating your fellow man right."

"Wealth has been careless in many instances," he said, "there has been much class prejudice developed."

"Rich men ought to do all they can to smooth away feelings of injustice and resentment against wealth. When they give while they are living they are cementing a bond between the poor, middle class and the rich."

DON'T MAKE THE SAME MISTAKE TWICE THIS TIME, USE . . . CONCRETE
EVERY STREET—business or residential—that has developed bumps, ruts or chuckholes, cries for paving with concrete. Don't let the old mistakes be made again. Concrete is smooth, safe and clean—and stays that way through decades of hard service. Concrete actually costs less than any other pavement of equal load-bearing capacity—and costs far less for upkeep. It saves motorists money by reducing car operating expense. Its non-skid surface is safe to drive on night or day, wet or dry. Its cleanliness and attractive appearance improve property values. Urge your public officials to use concrete when they pave your streets.

Diabetes Takes 600 Texas Lives in Year
 AUSTIN.—Diabetes, the price moderns pay for soft, luxurious living, took a toll of 600 lives in Texas last year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. "While the controllable diseases, such as typhoid fever, malaria, diptheria and smallpox, are causing a smaller number of deaths each year in this country, diabetes, which was notably absent in the early pioneer days, is now taking a staggering number of lives," Doctor Cox said. "Up until the highly mechanized age diabetes was not a health problem, but the disease became noticeable in direct ratio to the development of luxury living, soft eating, soft habits, and general disregard for basic hygienic laws evinced itself among the population. Diabetes is nature's back-slap at coddling and pampering the body," he said. "Diabetes is a class disease, it appears. Certainly it seems to attack the indoor desk man more often than the outdoor person whose work is more vigorous or who takes more exercise. Whatever the actual cause of the development of the disease may be, vocation or economic conditions are factors, for those who can not indulge in luxurious living and whose occupation calls for physical effort are not frequently affected. "There would be fewer victims of ravishing diabetes," Doctor Cox added, "if those who are indulging in soft, anti-natural living would realize the folly of their ways. Especially middle aged persons and those beyond it should exercise care. Simple living, an annual physical examination, and, if already showing the results of indulgences, obtaining and abiding by the advice of the family physician, could drastically cut down the power of this disease and its threat to an alarming proportion of adult America."

Governor to Crown Mineral Wells Queen

MINERAL WELLS (P).—Gov. James V. Allred is expected to crown a "Queen of Health" at the second annual Health Festival here June 17, 18 and 19. Miss Ellen Sue Yeager, selected in a vote conducted by a newspaper, will act as good will ambassador throughout Texas on behalf of the festival. She will present to officials of cities and towns invitations to attend.

Amateur entertainers furnished by 39 junior chambers of commerce will compete in a show to be staged in honor of the queen for cash prizes plus one week paid engagement on a Texas radio program.

Boat races in connection with the festival will be held on Lake Mineral Wells for cash prizes totalling $800. Drivers from seven states, including Gar Wood Jr., son of the speed boat record-holder, will compete. Other entertainment planned includes an old-time fiddlers' contest and review drills by Camp Dallas R. O. T. C.

The White House announced Monday that President Roosevelt will send a message to congress Thursday on relief and the general economic situation and follow it up that evening with a personal radio address explaining the message.

Stephen T. Early, press secretary, said the message would go to congress at noon Thursday if the president found time between conference to prepare it.

He emphasized when asked whether the message would deal with new public works spending as well as increased appropriations for work relief, that it would touch on the whole economic picture.

Early said a "big if" was involved as to the exact day for the measure, but that if it went to the capitol Thursday, it was possible the president would go on the air Thursday night.

Indications of the probable trend of the message came today in a round of White House conferences on relief and public works, and a press conference statement by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau.

Morgenthau, a White House visitor earlier, told reporters conditions had changed radically since he came out November 10 against federal "pump-priming" expenditures.

 Mrs. Frank Williamson, health board chairman of work with negroes, today urged in connection with National Negro Health Week being observed here this week that all colored residents of Midland cooperate in the observance by grubbing off all vacant lots, cleaning all cafes and beauty shops, and burning trash or otherwise cleaning up living quarters and yards.

Committees for the week have been appointed among colored citizens and a program will be presented at the negro school Thursday night as part of the observance of the week.

Mrs. Williamson announced that she would make her inspection of the colored community next week and urged that the clean-up be made this week.

Britain, Italy Busy Selves Studying Pact
 LONDON, April 12 (P).—Great Britain laid the groundwork Monday for a new friendship with Italy which she hoped would wear Premier Benito Mussolini from his working agreement with Adolf Hitler.

She showed her willingness to recognize conquest of Ethiopia against which in 1935 she led the league of nations' 52-country boycott of Italy. Recognition of Italy's African empire is one of the chief terms of the Anglo-Italian friendship agreement being drafted in Rome.

Without waiting for formal signing of the pact, the British government asked the league of nations to put the question of Ethiopia on the agenda of the league council meeting opening May 9.

Britain intends to request that the league free its members of the pledge not to recognize the results of the Italian conquest. Formal recognition of Ethiopia as Italian then could follow.

France's new government, headed by Edouard Daladier, was expected to act quickly to seek better relations with Italy in an apparent move by the two democracies to draw Rome away from the Berlin influence.
