Eight-Story Building to Get Started

Occupants Vacate Annex to Begin Dismantling Job

Supervisors of architect and contractor will be here today, preparing to start work immediately on the eight story office building to be erected by the First National Bank. It was announced by bank officials Saturday.

Occupants of the two-story annex were vacating the building over the week-end, to make possible actual dismantling of that portion of the building as quickly as possible.

The main part of the bank building will not be disturbed, the First National Bank continuing operations in its recently remodeled quarters. Exterior remodeling will be effected along with construction of the eight story portion but will not necessitate removal of the banking room.

The D. H. Roettger Jewelry store was moving directly across the street to the former Llano cafe location. The Sparks & Barron insurance and abstract offices were moving to a temporary location in the Ever-Ready Auto Service sales room. Occupants of the Cattle Exchange and second floor offices were moving to other portions of the bank building or to other quarters about the city.

The eight story office building, contract for which was let April 19 to the Ball Construction Co., Fort Worth, will be situated on the west 52 feet of the bank and the Every-body's store lots, having a depth north and south of 75 feet. Full basement will be underneath the 52 by 75 foot structure. Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth is architect.

Three Events Are Slated by Scouts in City Tuesday

Tuesday might well be termed Boy Scout Day in Midland for on that day three separate Boy Scout events will be staged at Boy Scout headquarters on West Illinois street here, according to an announcement made Saturday by Darold Wilson, council field executive, who is spending several days here in the interest of Scouting.

Tuesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, a Cub Day program will be held, the theme of which will be Feats of Skill. Various athletic contests are scheduled, all Cub members and others interested in Cubbing being urged to attend in R. O. Norris, Cubmaster, will be in charge of the program.

A Boy Scout Court of honor is scheduled for eight o'clock Tuesday evening, the affair to be presided over by Guy W. Brennehan, district chairman. Advancement awards will be presented to the members of the two Midland troops at the Court of Honor program.

Immediately following the Court of Honor program, a meeting of Scouters of the Midland District will be held, the purpose of the meeting being to work out a program of expansion both in activities and new units. Scouters from Odessa, Penwell, Andrews, Goldsmith and Midland are expected to attend. Chairman Brennehan will preside.

The public, especially those interested in Scouting, are cordially invited and urged to attend the three Scout events Tuesday.

Bloc to Attempt to Cut Public Works Funds in New Act

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP).—A group of republicans and conservative democrats in the senate said today they would try to eliminate all funds for public works from the $3,154,000,000 spending-lending program recommended by the president. This would reduce it by about one half.

Members of the group, led by Senator Byrd, Virginia, said they would support appropriations for the Works Progress Administration and other direct relief agencies but would oppose "pump priming" public works.

Road Motorcade to Be Here Wednesday

Leaving San Diego Monday morning, the first night out will be spent in Phoenix, the second at El Paso and the third in Abilene. The motorcade will arrive in Roanoke next Sunday afternoon. They will lunch in Peecos Wednesday.

Midland will not send representatives to the convention this year.

Airmail - - - 20 Years Old and Still Growing

Lieut. Torrey H. Webb . . . pictured in the plane in which he flew the first leg of the first airmail flight—New York to Philadelphia—in 1918.

By PAUL FRIGGENS
NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

Lieut. Torrey H. Webb climbed into the cockpit of his little Curtiss biplane, pulled down his goggles, glanced at the dash clock indicating 11:30 a. m.

Seconds later the clumsy "crate" rode the smooth spring air over Belmont Park, L. I., rapidly gaining altitude and speed on the first leg of the first U. S. airmail route, New York to Washington via Philadelphia.

In Washington, at almost the same moment on May 15, 1918, President Wilson and his cabinet left wartime tasks long enough to cheer Lieut. George L. Boyle as he "started away in beautiful shape for Philadelphia" on the northward flight.

At 1 o'clock Pilot Webb and his 344 pounds of mail stowed away in a compartment behind the cockpit, landed at Bustleton, a Philadelphia suburb. Immediately the sacks were transferred to another plane of Lieut. James C. Edgerton. Edgerton roared off for Washington on the second leg. He arrived at 2:50.

The first accident, while Webb was chalking up the first accident of the first airmail flight. Scarcely 25 miles out of Washington he lost his way and landed in a dirt road, breaking a piece from his wooden propeller blade. He was miles from a tele-

Midland Motorcade to Be At McCamey Celebration

A drive to line-up between 40 and 50 automobiles to comprise the Midland motorcade to the annual Rattlesnake Derby and Birthday Celebration in McCamey next Friday will be started the first of the week by chamber of commerce workers who plan to make Friday's good will tour the largest and most successful ever attempted by the local chamber of commerce. Much interest is being manifested locally over Midland's entry in the snake derby, and it is felt that Midland's delegation will be the largest from any visiting town. All merchants and individuals will be asked to place a car in the motorcade.

R. D. (Bob) Scruggs, who has been named grand marshal of the cavalcade by Herb Fox, chairman of the trade extension committee of the chamber of commerce, said yesterday that present plans are for the motorcade to leave Midland at nine o'clock next Friday morning, arriving in McCamey in ample time to be in the parade at noon. C. G. Forester, manager of the McCamey chamber of commerce, informed the local chamber of commerce over long distance Saturday morning that arrangements had been made for the Midland delegation to lead the parade. The Midland good will trippers will make a brief stop in Crane on the way down to pay their respects to Crane business men.

The Friday program at the McCamey celebration is as follows:

phone and had no way to get his cargo to Philadelphia.

The relay plane waited until 2:30, then Lieut. Paul Cuyver set out for New York arriving at 3:37.

Some simple figures complete this story. That first airmail route covered 218 miles; the flying time was 194 minutes; the speed was slightly under 75 miles per hour. The postage rate was 24 cents an ounce and the first 18 letters went to President Wilson.

This was the beginning of the world's greatest air transportation system over which ultra-modern multi-motored planes now fly 70,000,000 miles a year, carrying not only mail but passengers and express at speeds not even envisioned in 1918.

Service Grew Rapidly. The original 218-mile route from New York to Washington has now expanded to 30,450 miles in the foreign system and 32,376 miles in the domestic system.

In addition, there is domestic service in the Hawaiian Islands and star routes, using plane service, in Alaska. Foreign routes serve Mexico, Central America, and South America, the West Indies, Hawaii, Midway, Wake, Guam, the Philippines, the Orient, and Bermuda. The service may be extended to Europe this summer.

In 1918, first year of U. S. airmail service, 713,000 pieces of

Germany Protests Arrest of Citizens By Brazil Officers

RIO DE JANEIRO, May 14 (AP).—The German government today protested to Brazil against the arrest of six German citizens as suspects in the abortive fascist uprising here Wednesday.

The Brazilian government assured the German embassy there was no indication the men were agents of any foreign power or organization.

Large Attendance Marks Presentation Of Second Operetta

Attended by the customary large crowd of interested parents and other citizens, graduating exercises of the south elementary school were presented in the high school auditorium Friday evening. A morning presentation of the program had been given especially for school children in order that adults might see the program at night.

Opening with selections by the rhythm band of south elementary school, primary grades followed the musical numbers with two folk dances.

Declarations by Donald Griffin, first honor student of the tenth grade, and by Beth Frothro, first honor student of the eighth grade, together with a brief talk by Supt. W. W. Lackey formed the second part of the program.

Third and last division of the entertainment was the operetta "Rumpelstilzkin," a colorful song and dance feature founded on the old fairy tale of the boastful miller and his beautiful daughter.

mail were carried. Last year almost 200,000,000 were transported. In addition, more than 1,000,000 passengers flew approximately 529,000,000 passenger miles in 1937 and more than 9,000,000 pounds of express were carried.

Schedules were maintained with 96 per cent performance. Four pilots flew the first route 20 years ago. Today there are more than 1000 pilots, 200 hostesses, 2700 mechanics, 1600 field workers, 3000 trained operators.

A letter can be sent across the continent in a few hours for 6 cents today because a historic flight in 1918 has grown to a mammoth business. Moreover, one of these days the mail may go even faster via the stratosphere route. The stripping of 20 years is still growing.

Chuck Wagon Supper; Fiddlers' Music at C-Ranch Party

The good old days are not entirely gone!

At least that was the regret of neighbors of the C-Ranch who attended a barbecue and party Friday night, with Manager Hilary G. Bedford as host.

Barbed veal, ranch fried steaks, salad, bean, hot-c-g-gun, seven different kinds of pies, as many varieties of cakes, lemonade, iced tea, black coffee and all the trimmings of a chuck wagon supper were served. Ranch families, cowboys and the residents of that section of Andrews, Ector, Midland and Martin counties, which comprises or adjoins the vast C-Ranch territory gathered about the headquarters, perfect spring weather and a moonlit night adding to the enjoyment.

A fiddlers' orchestra furnished music in the guest house, the crowd soon "taking the hint" and enjoying the old dances until a late hour. Bedford himself, took turns with the fiddle and gave a good account of himself.

It was one of those parties like they had thirty years, or even forty, ago. George Ratliff, Bill Gates, Spence Jewell, Bud Ratliff, also the younger generations present, pronounced it the outstanding event of a decade. Bill Wyche and Mrs. Wyche danced the Scottish reel as the old timers, and the two-step brought many to the dance floor who had thought their frolicking days were over.

Production Offices Of Mid-Continent Moved to Midland

Production offices of the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation have been moved from Kermit to Midland, joining the geological and field departments which have had headquarters here for ten years.

Harold Smith, production superintendent, moved here with his family late in the week, having leased a home. His clerical staff also will be in the Midland offices, according to Allen Watts, head of the Midland offices for several years.

Haigh to Address Rotarians Thursday

The story of the University Lands will be told in a talk to the Midland Rotary club next Thursday noon by Berte R. Haigh, geologist in charge of the university's office here. Mr. Haigh, a guest speaker, will outline the history of the lands, their development for oil production and the revenues accruing to the institution as result.

Mexico, Britain In Split

British Minister May Be Recalled By Country Soon

LONDON, May 14 (AP).—Mexico formally severed diplomatic relations with Great Britain today in a protest against Britain's brusque demands for payment of past civil war damage claims.

The Mexican move confronted angry British officials with the first diplomatic rupture initiated by another state in 100 years.

Informed sources said recall of the British minister to Mexico was being "considered."

What a high and unimpeachable government source called a suspension of relations, as opposed to a formal break, was an outgrowth of the government's action in expropriating $400,000,000 worth of foreign oil properties.

Britain took a most forceful tone in demanding return of the properties and Mexicans were not slow to point the contrast between the British attitude and that of Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Ambassador Josephus Daniels who took care to respect all Mexican sensibilities.

Then Britain began demanding payment of an annuity due Jan. 1 of 361,731.17 pesos ($85,000), on account of claims for damages done British interests in revolutions of years ago. The tone of the British messages was regarded as deliberately insulting.

There was a surge of anti-British feeling, which had been brewing as part of the oil controversy. Senators demanded that the government boycott Britain and refuse to sell her oil. Newspapers yesterday called the last claims vote malevolent and said that if Mexico were a great power, Britain's attitude would be sufficient cause for a formal break even if it meant war.

Southwest Andrews Deep Test Enters Black Shale At 7,810

BY FRANK GARDNER.
Frank S. Perkins et al No. 1 E. P. Cowden, southwest Andrews deep test, held the spotlight of the week end as it entered black shale at 7,810 feet. Operators said they believed the shale to be in the lower Permian. Yesterday, the well was drilling ahead below 7,800 feet in black shale, with early coring scheduled. Lime section down to top of shale break was reported to show oil staining. Earlier in the week, the well had shown some saturation and pinpoint porosity in core from 7,661-99 of which only three feet were recovered; and coring from 7,699 to 7,720 recovered seven feet of lime, with no porosity but an odor of oil.

The Perkins wildcat is located in section 14, block A-55, public school land, on a seismograph "high." American Liberty Oil Company, the original operator, moved off rig after well had drilled to 5,001, a foot past first contract. Although it ran high on structure, the well found the upper Permian too non-porous to produce. Perkins, together with J. W. McMillen and Fred S. Wright, both of Midland, revived the enterprise and awarded new contract to Helmerich & Payne, Inc. to deepen to 8,000 feet, with production in the Tubb, lower Permian zone, or possibly in the Ordovician as the objective. No shows were found in the Tubb zone, some 2,000 feet in the lime, and no change was noticed until around 7,600-7,700, over 3,600 feet in the "big lime."

Open-hole had shown intervals of showings from 4,400-83 in H. S. Forgeron No. 1 Lockhart & Brown, Andrews prospect five miles west of the south end of the Fuhrman pool in Andrews, was halted when mud and water, augmented by strong gas flow from the Yates sand horizon, broke in around 7-inch casing set at 4,302 feet. Casing has been cemented with 200 sacks, and drilling of plug is slated to start Tuesday. The well had shown a little free oil on mud in bailing down 3,100 feet from top. Fluid rose rapidly 500 feet after casing seat gave way. Cores from 4,405 to 4,483, present total depth had shown intervals of porous lime and sand carrying oil. Hole will be deepened to 4,600 feet in search of main pay before completion. Location is 650 feet out of northeast corner of section 20, block A41, public school land.

Atlantic No. 1 Texaco-University, southwest Andrews wildcat, five miles north of Ector's Goldsmith field, is drilling below 2,100 feet in anhydrite and red shale. It is reported to be in the Tubb, lower Permian zone, or possibly in the Ordovician as the objective. No shows were found in the Tubb zone, some 2,000 feet in the lime, and no change was noticed until around 7,600-7,700, over 3,600 feet in the "big lime."

Petroleum Exposition at Tulsa Attracts Attention of Permian Basin Oil Men, With Fifty Or More from Midland Attending

Permian Basin oil men were leaving over the week-end for Tulsa to attend the annual International Petroleum Exposition. Approximately fifty had left or were leaving early this week from Midland offices, a check-up Saturday showed. Many will attend the various group meetings and conventions for engineers, geologists, land men, scouts, supply and service men, while others will go strictly to observe the show itself.

J. S. Stinson of the Humble, Bill Douthett of the Magnolia and Pat Riley of the Standard Oil Co. had left earlier in the week to attend the fifteenth annual meeting of the National Oil Scouts Association of America.

Among those whose attendance at the exposition had been announced yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Loskamp, Barnsdall, who left Thursday; E. A. Culbertson, of Culbertson and Irwin; R. E. O'Donnell, R. G. Kelly and Harry Zeigler of Haliburton; C. J. Dickson, Dickson-Moore Corporation; Tom Pickering,

As a sort of assistant president, James Roosevelt has been at the same time a "Great White Father Indian Tribe" to the Indians. So when members of the Blackfeet Indian tribe visited the White House the other day they made "Sonny Jim" one of the tribe and gave him the somewhat significant name of "Eagle Child." Here's the tribal neophyte with two of his new brothers, Harry Oldperson, left, who is only 5 years old, and Joe Butterly, 7.

Dictator States to Form Bloc

United States Is Rapped for Talks By Two Officials

GENOA, May 14 (UP).—Premier Benito Mussolini told 800,000 wildly cheering Italians today that if the democracies wanted to wage a war of ideas against dictatorships, the totalitarian states would close themselves into one bloc.

His hearers, massed in Victory Square where he spoke from a model warship, thought that he referred to the United States when he said: "The aims of our program are clear. We want peace, with every one. Nazi Germany also wants peace. But this peace must be an armed peace."

"We must be prepared to defend this peace, especially when speeches such as those across the ocean are delivered. If the democracies want to make doctrinal war then totalitarian states will close themselves into one bloc."

It was recalled that Secretary of State Cordell Hull in a statement at Washington Thursday said that the United States would continue its policy of non-recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia.

Likewise in Washington last week Secretary of War Harry S. Woodring, in a speech directed at the dictatorship nations, said "a wave of indignation" might sweep over the democracies if they were pressed too far "that would make it extremely difficult to keep the peace."

The crowd's cheers turned to cat-calls and boos as Mussolini made his reference to overseas speeches. Mussolini spoke with even more than his usual candor, the despair of more cautious diplomats.

He said he would remain faithful to his new friendship with Germany and that he wanted to make his treaty with "Great Britain everlasting."

"Talks with France are progressing," he continued. "I do not know whether they will be successful because they want a Barcelona (Spanish loyalist) victory and we want a Franco (Spanish nationalist) victory."

To this—the first hint from any quarter in Italy or France that agreement with France on a treaty of friendship was not absolutely certain—Mussolini added the following regarding Germany's annexation of Austria:

"Italy replied: 'No!' to projected diplomatic steps against Germany. This greatly disappointed anti-fascists. Anti-fascists wanted war between two totalitarian states."

"But Italy has not forgotten sanctions."—The league of nations penalties against her for her war on Ethiopia.

Chinese 'Lifeline,' Lunglei Railway, Cut by Japanese

Friction Between Interior and State Departments Denied

SHANGHAI, May 14 (AP).—A Japanese army communique said today the vital Lunglei railway, objective of Japan's central China campaign, had been cut east of Tangshan. It was reported mobile troops had reached the line and blown up a bridge. Transportation of war supplies to China's huge army defending the region was thereby disrupted.

In reaching the railroad the Japanese attained a goal for which they have been battling for five months. A Japanese army spokesman said 400,000 Chinese troops were trapped in the Suchow area and faced with the choice of surrender or annihilation.

While the Japanese were furiously pressing their advance in central China, warships landed troops near the south China port of Foochow—evidently for an attack on the Canton-Hankow railway.

Japanese planes swarmed overhead, protecting the ground troops as they planted the Rising Sun flag on the Lunglei railway.

At least 200 planes were reported supporting the operations, bombing and machine gunning Chinese defenses and dumping huge quantities of explosives on Suchow, junction point of the Lunglei and Tientsin-Pukow railways.

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP).—The White House reported today President Roosevelt and several advisors are studying moves toward coordinating more closely the diplomatic service and the commerce department's foreign trade reports.

Stephen Early, press secretary, denied friction existed between state and commerce departments which had led Secretary Roper of the commerce department to offer his resignation.

Mexico Tea and Art Exhibit Draws Large Attendance

Eighteen Midland Artists Display Works At Home of Mrs. Clyde Cowden Saturday Afternoon from Three o'Clock Until Six

Displaying approximately 60 paintings by its members, Palette club entertained with a Mexican tea and art exhibit at the home of Mrs. Clyde Cowden, 111 North D street, Saturday afternoon from 3 o'clock until 6 o'clock.

Oil, water colors, pastels, charcoals, and pencil sketches were among the canvases of the eighteen Midland artists comprising the exhibit.

A cosmopolitan breadth of subject was demonstrated in the collection which ranged from desert and ranch scenes, through still life, landscapes, a coast scene, foreign lands, and forest views to portraits. A corresponding range in size was indicated from the huge bronze-gold toned canvas of the forest view, "Autumn," painted by Mrs. Clarence Hale and presented by her to her daughter, Mrs. Cowden, to small water colors.

Miss Nell Shaw's painting, "Provincetown, Mass.," an original showing the red roofs of Provincetown clustering among the dark green of the foliage-clad hills, was accepted by the Texas Fine Arts group for circuit display, was one of the most interesting canvases.

Mrs. D. G. Stookey's portrait of her son, hung while the paint was still wet, was featured by an unusual background treatment of the canvases.

The complete list of contributors to the exhibit and titles of their paintings follows:

Mrs. Myrtle Golladay—three originals, "Still Life," "Study in Charcoal" and "Old State University Building," the latter showing the famous south entrance.

Mrs. Ben W. Smith—three originals, "New Mexico Mountain," "Alamo," and "Winecups," a floral scene.

Mrs. James R. Day—an original, "Blue Bonnet Time," and "Winter Evening," and "The Tramps."

Mrs. Mary S. Ray—"Mountain Scene," "Canterbury Bells," "Clemons," and "Breath of Spring."

Mrs. Emma Gilmore—"In the Mountains," "Poppies," and "Dutch Windmill."

Miss Nell Shaw—two originals, "Provincetown, Mass.," and "Texas Wildflowers" and "Siberian Girl."

Mrs. D. G. Stookey—three original portraits, "My Son," "Retrospection," and "Dr. S. W. Stookey."

Mrs. J. G. Gossett—"Still Life," "Heather," and "Still Life."

Mrs. L. B. Lancaster—two originals, a crayon sketch, "New Mexico," and "Red Peppers."

Mrs. Willie Stell Oliver—"New York Skyline" and two originals, "Wild Galliard" and "Long Horn," the latter a large canvas of the typical Texas steer.

Mrs. Clarence Hale—"Autumn," "Snow Scene," and "Bowl of Roses."

Mrs. N. W. Bigham—"Roses," "The Birches," and an interesting palette knife original, "Susane."

Mrs. R. M. Barron—"Driftwood," "The Old Oak," and an original "Mountain Highway."

Mrs. John Hix—"Weeping Magdalene," "Bowl of Roses," and "Normandy Scene."

Mrs. F. H. Lanham—"The Camp Fire" and two originals, "Home in New Mexico" and "Old Spanish church and Grotto."

Mrs. Berte R. Hinch—two originals, "Concho River" and "Desert," and "Mid Afternoon."

Mrs. G. H. Butler—two originals, "Rio Grande Valley" and "Ranch

Mrs. F. H. Schouten, Federation president and delegate to the recent district convention in Pecos, reported on that meeting, particularly complimenting the Pecos clubwomen for their hospitable courtesies to visitors.

Mrs. Schouten's report of the Federation's work for the year won second prize at the convention and is reproduced below.

The group voted to make a $10 gift to the Permanent Headquarters building in Austin.

The Federation treasurer's report showed a balance in the general fund of $48.29 and a balance of $250.90 in the Student's Loan Fund.

Mrs. M. R. Hills, chairman of the Easter Sale committee, reported a net profit of approximately $125.00 was derived from the seal sale drive. The money received will be spent in Midland county on some phase of the crippled children's work.

Midland Students Will Enter Piano Tourney Wednesday

Miss Lydie G. Watson, will enter 17 pupils from the Watson school of music in the National Piano Tournament contests at Big Spring Wednesday, she announced Saturday.

The 17 pianists will play a total of 183 solos, with five-year-old Lois Black playing 10 pieces.

Two other pupils prepared tournament programs but will not attend.

The Midland entrants will start playing at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the First Baptist church at Big Spring. Nearly all of the group will enter for national honors, three pupils from the school having won these honors last year.

Those entering will be: Marjorie Barron, Lois Black, Alice Ruth Cross, Martha Ann Cleveland, Joyce Dameron, Eloise Gabbert, John Hubbard, Mary Mayfield, Margaret Mims, Ann Ulmer, Dorothy Rose Ohio, Wilma Dee Vaughn, Pauline Wingo, and Jean Walsh.

Please be turned over to Collins. He won't give you anything but I will put your name in the paper and believe it or not, a lot of folks like to see their name in print.

I'll admit this is not much of a story but I don't think that sleek, slimy monstrosity that will represent Midland Friday is much of a racer.

Miss Elaine Meaders, Bride-Elect of Bill Crothers, Is Honored Saturday

Miss Elaine Meaders, whose marriage to Bill Crothers will take place in Fort Worth June 18, was honored with a linen shower for which Miss Catherine O'Dell and Miss Agatha Bruner were hostesses at the home of Mrs. Addie Abell, 806 W. Storey, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Garden flowers were used in the party rooms, where a table centerpiece of a miniature oil derrick set the theme for the party, chosen because of Mr. Crothers' profession as a geologist.

Miss Mary Wilson presided at the guest register, which had a cover design drawn by Miss Ruth Anderson.

Each guest was asked to write a favorite recipe for the bride's recipe file.

Miss Wilson read an original poem, appropriate to the occasion.

The honoree was conducted through the home on a sightseeing tour and on returning to the reception room was presented with the shower gifts which had been taken from their hiding places.

At the tea hour, the party plate reflected the oil business theme in individual molds of ice cream shaped like well derricks.

Registering during the afternoon were: Miss Mary Wilson, Miss Francis Gillette, Mrs. Robert L. Clarke, Mrs. De Lo Douglas, Misses Louise McLean, Pauline McMurrey, Vada Crawley, Mrs. Alma Thomas, Misses Jean Farnham, Jessie Scott Prief, Hove Jenkins, Mrs. Bill Conner, Miss Louise Rippey, Mrs. Frank Falcon, Misses Alma Heard, Betty Crawford, Ruth Anderson, Modine Hagler, Annie Frank Stout, Leta Legg, Geraldine Dabney, Mrs. Lillie Koon, Miss Vera Heifer, Mrs. Georgia Goss, Supt. ### Customers: Don't Stampede If You Hear A Rattle Snake Rattle in C of C Office

By JESS RODGERS.

If you have never heard a rattlesnake rattle-skip this. But if you have and know good and darn well you won't ever forget it—go ahead and read it.

If you walk into the chamber of commerce office and hear a rattlesnake rattle (I like the way the words sound but not the way the snake sounds) don't break down any doors getting out of the place. The snake is safely (Bill Collins hopes) penned up in a wooden and wire cage.

The snake is one brought in by L. V. Robinson to be used by the local chamber of commerce as the Midland entry in the rattlesnake derby at McCamey next Friday.

One thing is lacking and that is a name for the snake. The writer suggested he be named "Bob Scruggs" in honor of the big fat man that will lead the Midland motorcade to McCamey Friday morning, but several were against the idea of that as the snake might develop Bob's slowness in getting around. And that is somewhat slower, a great deal slower, than lightning.

The snake has got to have a name. And just any old name won't do. The name "Miss Midland" can't be used because nobody is sure it is that kind of a snake. The same rule works on calling it "Mr. Midland." And it wouldn't do to call it just plain Midland and have it fail to rattle when the race starts. Somebody might say "there it lays out there in the sun not moving, just like Midland." And we know that would be all wrong. Nope, we can't use that name.

Maybe a description would help. He? looks just like a rattlesnake is supposed to. If you have never seen one he? still looks like one should so take a look at it. He just lays all curled up in his cage like a coon hunter's hound dawg all the time, every once in a while wiggling his tail and making it sound like a sewing machine going into action. Some folks say that is when a rattlesnake is ready to eat; other folks say they are always ready to eat, noise or no noise, if there is a human being in reach. I never heard of a rattlesnake eating anyone, but what do they bite folks for unless they want to eat them? In fist fighting it is always a good idea to get hit in the first blow, but in fighting a rattlesnake it is not a good idea to get in the first bite.

I wish the snake had a name. The lazy cuss just lays around all day and won't even stretch out and let a fellow see how long he is. He? looks too fat to run—maybe that is why Marion Flynt, his trainer, is letting him? go on a waterless and foodless diet until the day of the race. Again, maybe Marion is scared to feed him?

Robinson told Collins he pulled the snake's fangs out so far no one has investigated to see if they are gone. And it is a cinch Bill Collins is not going to. I'm like Bill. I don't like snakes either. In fact, I hate snakes. Boy, what a time Saint Patrick would have had in this country. And how I wish he had made a trip over here. To look at one snake makes me have bad dreams. If I watched that snake derby I would have dreams that would make a man with the delirium tremens turn green with envy.

But we've still gotta have a name for that snake. Any suggestions will

PIONEERS EVEN SERIES WITH CARDS; CLUBS MEET TODAY AT 3

FRANKLIN TO BE ON MOUND FOR THE RED BIRDS IN GAME THIS AFTERNOON

The Midland Cardinals dropped back to within two and one half games of the cellar last night when they lost the second game of their series with the Clovis Pioneers by a score of 5-10.

The two clubs will meet again this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the "sugar" game of the series. Benny "Chief" Franklin, the only Cardinal pitcher to boast a 1.000 average, compiled through two successive wins, will take the mound for the home team and attempt to place them another game ahead of the New Mexicans.

The Pioneers took a lead in their half of the first inning last night by scoring two runs but the Cardinals tied it up in their half and went ahead one run in the second. Clovis went ahead once more in the fourth when they made two more runs but the Cardinals again tied the score at four all. But Clovis made two runs in the sixth and the Cards could never catch up.

The Cardinals made only seven hits off Christy, a hurler who got his release from Wink Friday and made his debut for the Pioneers last night, and three of them were home runs. In the first inning, Morris hit one over the fence with Brown on head of him, Beers got one with the bases empty in the fourth and Suytar hit one with the hassocks blank in the ninth.

Center fielder Wyss of the visitors had a "batter's dream" night with six hits in as many times at bat. He got three singles, two doubles and a home run.

Warren started on the mound for the Cardinals and was getting along so-so until a liner from the bat of Wyss struck him on the knee in the fifth. He was able to finish out the inning, striking out three men in doing so, but was forced to quit in the sixth. Nelson took up the burden and gave up the final four runs, three of them coming unearned in the ninth.

Cardinals Beat Pioneers Here in Series Opener

The Midland Cardinals took the first of a three game series with the Clovis Pioneers here Friday night, 5-4, thanks to some very effective pitching by Parks, a home run by Suytar and some well defensive work by outfielder Buzz Brown. Parks struck out 12 of the invaders, walked only one man and was in trouble only three times during the game.

Suytar came to the bat in the eighth inning with the score 3-1 in favor of Clovis and two Cardinals on base. He missed two strikes completely, barely fouled the next one, watched a ball go by and then leaped into the next one and sent it far over the left field fence. The blow unsettled Jones, Pioneer hurler, and before he could recover Nelson had rapped him for a triple and Zemek a single to score the run that decided the game. Clovis came back with two runs in their half of the ninth before they could finally be retired.

The Pioneers outthrew the Red Birds, 9-6, but the home club made their hits count while Clovis was wasting most of theirs.

Brown had five put-outs in center field and made a perfect throw home following a base hit in the fourth to cut off a run.

Pickering, chairman of the nominating committee of the state convention, reported Rev. C. A. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian church of Odessa, was elected President of the state convention. Rev. Johnson is well known in Midland, having held a revival at the local church last year.

James H. Goodman, who has charge of laymen's work in all the Christian churches of district 13 was elected as a member of the board of governors of the Laymen's League. They will meet during the month of June to perfect plans for carrying on the men's work in local churches to the best advantage.

Rev. Pickering reported there were some 1,100 visitors and delegates to the convention and that the next meeting place will be in Wichita Falls. Midland has the assurance of the convention that due to the fact she had to give up the convention because of lack of hotel accommodations in 1937, she will be given first consideration when the local church and the chamber of commerce feel that the city is able to care for the convention in a splendid and acceptable way.

Mr. Arnett has frequently preached in this area.

Just an Old Southern Custom

The June wedding season comes on—and above is a scene that will be re-enacted many times at nuptials in southern states as the bride and groom toast their marriage from an antique, double wedding cup of gold. Pictured raising the cup in historic Immanuel Episcopal church at LaGrange, Tenn., are Hubert Fisher, Jr., and Mary Ann Poston, both of Memphis. The bridegroom drinks champagne from the larger container while the bride sips at the same time from the smaller one. This particular wedding cup has been in the family of Judge Charles N. Burch for many generations.

Clergymen Hit His Priest Pose

Announcing that its members regretted only the means used, the Seattle Methodist Ministers Association has issued a statement criticizing the donning of priest's robes by Joe McCauley, above, state patrol officer, to get a confession from Mrs. Mary Eleanor Smith in connection with the slaying 10 years ago of Ensign James Eugene Bassett. McCauley persuaded the 73-year-old woman convict to "make peace with her Maker." She implicated her son, Decastro Earl Mayer, in her statement and pleaded with him to confess, but he refused.

ANOTHER 'HAIG'

He looks like his illustrious father, and still more significant, is beginning to play golf like him. Walter Hagen, Jr., is the sophomore star of Notre Dame's links squad, and critics say he's well on his way to emulating the deeds of "The Haig," himself.

Mr. Kelley Is 109, His Wife 105

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Kelley's formula for longevity—an unwavering faith in the Creator, hard work and moderation in all things—seems to be a good one, for they have been married 81 years; Mr. Kelley is 109, Mrs. Kelley 105. Pictured above, they celebrated the other day with a trip to Longview, Texas, from their farm 12 miles away. Mr. Kelley was turned down when he tried to enlist in the Confederate army during the Civil War.

In 'Bloody Harlan County' Trial

Concentrating its legal experts in London, Ky., the federal government is bringing court action to enforce the National Labor Relations act in "bloody Harlan county" under criminal indictments charging 69 defendants with conspiracy. Former Sheriff Theodore R. Middleton, left, is one of those charged with intimidating the miners. Thomas Ferguson, a United Mine Workers' organizer, is shown below exhibiting the bloody shirt he wore the night he was shot as he left a union meeting, according to his testimony before the Senate Civil Liberties committee.

Streamlined speed and luxury will ride the rails of two great railroad systems—the New York Central and the Pennsylvania—after the inauguration June 15 of 16-hour-runs between New York and Chicago. In the top photo the New York Central's new "Twentieth Century," powered by steam, flashes down the track in a test run near Elkhart, Ind. The lower photos show interior views of the master bedroom, displacing the old Pullman berth. In the day time, as shown at the left, beds are folded away, allowing ample lounging space. The cutaway view at right shows the same room made ready for sleeping—with each bed accommodating two people. The Pennsylvania railroad also is installing steam-powered streamliners of this type.

An Albanian Bearing Gifts—From His Queen

Maybe it's just an old Albanian custom, but in any event the picture above proves that it pays to get married on the same day as the king. This aged Albanian is bearing gifts on his donkey cart for the 14 other couples who were married at Tirana on the wedding day of King Zog and Countess Geraldine Apponyi. The queen gave each of the brides a bed, a mattress, blankets and pillows, part of which are shown piled on the cart.

Chasing 'Enemy' From Manhattan

Darting through the sky above America's largest city, these swift pursuit planes gave New Yorkers a demonstration of the sort of defense the U. S. Army would put up if real enemy bombing planes attacked Manhattan. Actually, the planes were chasing an imaginary enemy during G. H. Q. air maneuvers at Fort Totten, Long Island. The East river is seen in the foreground, the Hudson in the background, and Central Park Reservoir in the center.

At The Library

The seventh installment of International Mind Alcoe books has just been received. Of this collection Miss Amy Hemingway Jones, division assistant, says:

"Certainly with the world in such strain and crisis as it is at present, readers of the International Mind Alcoe will welcome books which recognize this fact and offer material for more serious thought than the more popular books we have been sending. First of all is the little book entitled:

"War in China," by Varian Fry: In the brief pages of this book will be found a concise statement of what is going on in China and of the circumstances and influences that have brought about the present situation in the Orient. It will also summarize for you the attitude taken by the United States in the past and present and will thereby give you plenty of food for thought as to what our action should be in the future. The book is illustrated with sixteen maps and charts and can be read in an hour.

"Assignment in Utopia," by Eugene Lyons: This book which has maintained its place as a best seller since its publication is exactly the opposite type of book to the one described above. Far from being precise and scientific it overflows with the author's personal experiences and his passionate reaction to them. It will take many hours to read the 650 pages, but the reader will find them of absorbing interest.

"Defense of the Empire," by Sir N. Angell: Most of the problems treated in this book, in the clear convincing style with which all readers of Norman Angell are familiar, are dealt with here as British problems. The author has one great message he wishes to drive home—that war is utterly futile. His various books simply attack the problem from different angles. Whether you read this book to learn more of the position of the British empire or of the positions of countries in general while the possibility of a world war hangs over us, you will find what you seek.

"A Wayfarer in Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania," by E. C. Davies: Not so long ago we were reading in all our papers of Poland's treatment of Lithuania, that little republic on the Baltic sea. Here is an entertaining book describing not only Lithuania, but the two other Baltic countries who are her neighbors. It has a good map and charming photographic illustrations.

"The Family of Nations," by Nicholas Murray Butler: The title of this book would seem almost a mockery if we did not look ahead beyond the present confusion and chaos to a time when it will at last be recognized that the only sure progress for the world is through the gradual formation of what shall be a real family of nations. The author sets before us an ideal supported by practical suggestions which must eventually appeal to the hopes and to the reason of mankind.

Other International Mind Alcoe books received are:

"A Wayfarer in Norway," by Beckett.

"An Essay on the Nature of Contemporary England," by Belloc.

"The American as He Is," by Butler.

CONDITION OF TEXAS RANGES WELL ABOVE AVERAGE ON MAY 1

GOOD GRAZING FOR SUMMER MONTHS ASSURED CATTLE

The condition of ranges in Texas was well above average on May 1. Moisture conditions for the most part continued favorable during April, and ranges promise good to excellent summer grazing over the greater portion of the state, according to the monthly livestock and range report of the bureau of agricultural economics, issued through the office of V. C. Childs, agricultural statistician. With the exception of the extreme western part of the state, where surface moisture has been depleted by continuous high, drying winds, ranges are reported to be in very good condition. In the extreme southern area of South Texas and in the "dust bowl" counties of northwest Texas, subsoil moisture was deficient on May 1, but surface moisture conditions had been improved by recent rains. The reported condition of Texas cattle ranges on May 1, 1938, at 88 per cent of normal, was 8 points above the condition a year ago and 8 points above the 10-year average condition for May 1.

In the sheep and goat area of the Edwards plateau, range conditions are very favorable, and good summer range feed is generally assured. However, there are a few local areas in the extreme western portion where there is a deficiency in surface moisture.

The cold wave of early April did little damage to range feeds. However, ranges were damaged somewhat by high winds and dust storms in the Panhandle area during and following the period of cold weather.

The condition of cattle improved 3 points during April, and was reported at 86 per cent of normal on May 1, compared with 82 per cent a year ago, and 81 per cent the 10-year average for May 1. The cold wave resulted in some losses in the high plains area, but these losses were not excessive. In other areas the shrinkage was light, and cattle mended rapidly as a result of favorable conditions during late April.

The movement of Texas cattle to northern pastures is expected to be very light this spring, but a larger than usual number of grass-fat cattle are expected to be available outside of the usual southern grass-fat cattle area. In the west central portion of Texas, cattle are already in marketable flesh; shipments direct to market from this area are expected to be relatively heavy this spring. The interstate movement, however, is expected to be influenced to a greater than usual degree this year by the local demand from farming areas.

Sheep, generally, are in very good flesh and the condition on May 1, at 89 per cent of normal, compares with 87 per cent a year ago, and 83 per cent the 10-year average. A large lamb crop is being dropped, and lambs are making very good growth. Sales and contracts of wool have been fairly active during April; but due to the decline in prices of sheep and lambs, ranchers are in no hurry to dispose of their surplus holdings. Losses of sheep during the cold wave were restricted largely to lambs dropped during the period April 7, 8, and 9, and to a few freshly shorn sheep.

The condition of goats on May 1, 1938, was reported at 88 per cent of normal, compared with 85 per cent a year ago, and 84 per cent the 10-year average.

Western Range States

Western ranges and pastures were improved by rains during April, so that spring range feed prospects are the best in several years. Most of the great plains sections that were dry in 1937 have ample moisture to start new feed. New feed has a very good start and made a satisfactory growth except in local areas where new grass was delayed by cool weather. In the great plains area of eastern Montana, the western Dakotas, western Nebraska, western Kansas, and eastern Colorado, there is ample moisture to make new feed. In much of this area, subsoil moisture is short and later feed will depend on more moisture. New feed is generally good in Oklahoma and Texas, except that moisture is short in western Texas and western Oklahoma, with a shortage of subsoil moisture in northwest and South Texas. Cool, dry weather has delayed the new feed in much of New Mexico and southern Arizona. Feed prospects are good in the mountain and western sections of Colorado.

"Jezebel" and Henry

most of Wyoming, and in central and western Montana. New feed and moisture conditions are good in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah and Nevada. California has very good range and pasture conditions. Most high summer ranges are well supplied with snow and summer feed prospects are very good. Light feeding the past winter has resulted in considerable carry-over of hay in western irrigated sections. The condition of ranges is 84 per cent of normal, compared with 82 per cent last month, 75 per cent a year ago, and the 10-year (1928-37) average of 80.0 per cent.

Cattle are in good condition, but made only limited gains during April. Little gains were made in the northern areas east of the main range due to stormy weather, but generally good gains were made in Oklahoma and Texas and the states west of the Continental Divide. Losses during April were light, with local losses of early calves in the north and a few cattle in local areas of Oklahoma and north Texas during April storms. Calf crop prospects are generally good. Local trading has been fairly active in Texas, but the movement of cattle to northern pastures will be relatively light. Texas is expected to have a good supply of grass-fat cattle. California cattle are making excellent gains and there should be a fairly large volume of well-finished grassers for delivery in May, June, and July. The condition of cattle and calves is 86 per cent of normal, compared with 85 per cent last month, 80 per cent a year ago, and the 10-year (1928-37) average of 83.0 per cent.

Sheep generally made little if any gains during April. There was some gain in condition in Texas, California, and the states west of the main range, but slight shrinkage in the northern states east of the divide, and in New Mexico and Arizona. Ewe bands are generally in very good condition, with favorable prospects for the late lamb crop in the north. April losses were light, being confined to a few sheep and lambs in Montana and a few lambs in other local northern areas. Texas has a very good crop of lambs that are making good gains. Texas lost a few lambs and freshly shorn sheep during the early April storms. The Texas sheep shipments during April were much below the record movement of 1937. The condition of sheep and lambs in the western states is 89 per cent of normal, the same as last month, compared with 85 per cent a year ago, and the 10-year (1928-37) average of 85.9 per cent. Wool sales were rather limited during April, with some old clip moving and a small amount of the new clip.

After the recent cold spell, I was out at Mr. Fromhold's flower shop and asked him what could be done about the shrubs, flowers, etc., and he regretfully told me that there was nothing much could be done about them however he said that it was not the freeze so much that did the damage as it was the wind. The wind carries static electricity which did more harm.

All soil in West Texas needs fertilizing—that applies to every county where you have to water or irrigate or where you do not get your normal rainfall. We should add a commercial fertilizer of which the main ingredients are nitrogen and phosphoric acid. After a commercial fertilizer has been put out, it must be soaked down thoroughly.

The way a lawn should be planted is in the fall, when Italian rye seed should be planted and should be put on very even so as to get a nice coat and have your winter lawn.

And in the spring, plant your bermuda seed right in with your Italian rye seed or grass and after sowing the bermuda seed, mow your lawn and soak down thoroughly. The grass falling down on seed will keep the seed from blowing away. In mowing your lawn, instead of using basket or catch-all to catch the grass, let the cut grass stay on the lawn which adds a humus to the lawn which prevents it from drying out so much in summertime. After bermuda seed has been put out, it will need a thorough soaking about every other day which will help the seed in germinating in about four to six weeks during the hot weather.

In the course of time, bermuda seed will kill out the Italian rye grass and you should have a nice lawn of bermuda by the time that summer sets in.

In a new lawn, this time of the year, we suggest spading the lawn up and levelling off with a rake and then sowing bermuda seed, bermuda grass seed, and covering it over with the back end of rake to barely cover seed. Then soak down every day during hot weather. One of the main features in keeping the lawns during the summer is—when you water your lawn, give it a good soaking as the water seeps into the ground, the roots will go down for the moisture. By just watering your grass lightly, keeps the roots of the grass up to the top of the ground or soil and the heat from the sun burns the roots which kills out our grass.

The mature fertilizer carries seeds of weeds and thus fills our lawns with weeds.

If planted now on a new lawn, sow bermuda grass seed and cover with sacks tacked down which will give you a quick germination, and keep the lawn thoroughly soaked.

EVERYBODY'S

Letters to Editor

To the Editor,
The Reporter-Telegram,
Midland, Texas.

To our many friends in the beautiful golden West—We wish to make known our deep appreciation for all their love and sympathy expressed in so many beautiful ways. The year spent among you will be one of the fairest flowers in our garden of memory.

Dear Friends of ours, kind and true,
A message we would leave with you
None that I know will seem to do
Except the one, God bless you.

If e'er for you life's sky is drear
No ray of hope or comfort near
Our Lord will wipe away each tear
He will sustain and bless you.

And so swiftly pass the days
With hearts attuned to His own praise
We'll closer draw to Him always
This is our prayer, "God bless you."

And then in that bright Over There
We'll meet again and know no care
No pain of partings and no fear
Oh, Friends of mine, God Bless you.
Lovingly,
Ileana B. Hollon
Suzabel Mace
Lila Patterson.
