Woman Arrested; Girl Found Safe

There was joy in the home of Ellsworth Hobbs, North Anawanda, N. Y., WPA worker, when his daughter, Betty Jane, 4, was found safe in Coolville, Ohio. She had been missing 9 days and was feared slain. At top Luther C. Bradford, mayor of Coolville, holds the girl pending arrival of her parents. At left below is Mrs. Anna Le Gare, held on a kidnaping charge. She is said to have admitted taking the child to Coolville with the mother's permission. Betty's mother, Mrs. Amelia Hobbs, shown bottom right, denied giving such permission.

Andrews Deep Test Kicks Out Oil Load After Perforating

By FRANK GARDNER.

Last round of perforations in Frank S. Perkins et al No. 1 E. P. Cowden, southwestern Andrews deep well, apparently produced some results last night as some of the oil load was kicked out of the hole. Five-inch casing had been perforated with 12 shots from 7,701-12 feet. First round, with 12 shots from 7,749-50, had shown no results. Today, operators were preparing to shoot additional zones above 7,701 feet. No. 1 Cowden, which reached a total depth of 8,012 feet in Permian black shale and lime, has 5-inch casing set at 8,004, and cement plug fills hole up to 7,902 feet. It is 660 feet from the north, 1,980 from the west line of section 14, block A-55, public school land.

H. S. Forgeron No. 1 Lockhart & Brown, five miles west of the south end of the Fuhrman pool in south central Andrews, is cleaning out bridge with rotary. Cleaning out had reached 4,473, ten feet off bottom.

In southwest Andrews, Atlantic No. 1 Texaco-University showed 25 feet of drilling mud on a 45-minute drillstem test from 4,220-70. No oil or gas was present.

Ray R. Rhodes No. 1 Emma Cowden, in southern Andrews, last night had drilled past 3,600 feet in anhydrite.

Cochran Well Abandoned. Testing two ballers of sulphur water heavily encountered from 5,063-67, total depth, Honolulu Oil Corporation, Ltd. No. 1-91 Carrie Slaughter Dean, Cochran wildcat three miles northwest of the Dugan pool, was ordered plugged and abandoned. No gas had been found, and slight oil shows amounted to only two-thirds of a barrel daily.

It logged a slight show of oil from 5,005-14, slight increase from 5,035-40, and another increase from 5,040-46. The most that oil ever rose in the hole was 100 feet. The failure is 440 feet from the north, 12-

204 from the east line of league 91, Lipscomb county school land. Devonian No. 1-C-8 Duggan, two miles south of the pool, had drilled to 4,740 feet in lime. It will start coring at 4,950, where first pay is expected. Driller called top of anhydrite at 2,078 feet in Shell No. 2 Dora Roberts, quarter-mile north offset to the recent pool opener in southern western Yoakum. Well is now drilling ahead below 2,150 feet in anhydrite and gypsum.

Correct location of Skelly No. 1 Ellwood estate, new southeast Hockley wildcat, is 2,348 feet from the north, 3,980 from the east line of league 15, Howard county school land. It was announced yesterday, also correctly, as being 3,914 feet from the south line of lease.

Sinclair Moss Pumps Off. Sinclair-Prairie et al No. 1 Paul Moss, Ector discovery, pumped 17 barrels of oil the first eight hours of testing, then pumped off. It is shut down, bottomed at plugged-back depth of 4,120 feet.

Anderson No. 1 Vance, Martin county wildcat, is underreaming 10-inch casing, bottomed at 1,105 feet in redrock. It had a hole full of water at 1,000-15 and more water from 1,040 to 1,100.

E. L. Gelder No. 2 Kessler, east extension to the Kermit sand pool in Winkler, flowed 20 barrels of oil in 20 minutes, then died. It is now preparing to shoot, bottomed at 3,203 in sand. Pay was topped at 3,083-86, with increase at 3,152-60, slight increase from 3,160-70, and an increase in oil and gas from 3,180-97.

Gulf Futch Rates 425 Barrels. Extending the Denver pool of southern Yoakum mile west, Gulf No. 1 J. C. Futch has been completed for a 24-hour flow of 425 barrels, with 302,000 cubic feet of gas. It is bottomed at 5,170 feet in lime and has been both shot and acidized.

Officers Declare Rebellion Ended. MEXICO CITY, June 2 (AP).—Army officers returning to the capital Wednesday from the state of San Luis Potosi said the situation there was completely peaceful.

“It is just a job of hunting down a few fugitives,” one of them said of the government's operations against remnants of the rebel force of Saturnino Cedillo, agrarian leader who was “strong man” of the state.

Twelve army planes which had been rushed to San Luis Potosi at outbreak of the revolt May 21 left for Mexico City today.

Senate Split Follows Talk By President

Opposing Factions Waging Battle to Control Spending

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP).—The senate split into diametrically opposed factions Wednesday after President Roosevelt urged requested legislators to pass the $3,247,000,000 spending-lending bill without attaching strings which would prevent “the selection of those projects which can be got under way most speedily.”

Administration supporters said the president's letter asserting the “unemployment situation has grown worse,” was an argument against a movement to “ear-mark” huge slices of the funds for specific projects. They said the administration wanted a free hand to select projects.

Senate conservatives quickly announced they interpreted the letter as an endorsement of ear-marking. They said they had a list of projects which could be started quickly.

Behind this conflict was a struggle with major political aspects. During senate debate the last few days, critics of the administration charged political use of relief funds. Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) said relief money apparently was to be employed to defeat senators “because some one doesn't like the color of their hair.”

Proponents of ear-marking said these charges showed that congress should keep strict control over appropriations. Administration men, denying political motives, argued that to tie the hands of the president would be to prevent the mobilization of relief dollars quickly in the areas where they were most needed.

President Roosevelt, in his letter to Senator Adams (D-Colo.), who is in charge of the bill, said: “Since I sent my relief message to the congress six weeks ago the unemployment situation has grown worse. Therefore, if the government undertakes to relieve unemployment by the measure now before congress, the time element is an essential to success.”

Senator Copeland (D-NY), author of amendments to ear-mark more than $400,000 of PWA funds for designated projects, asserted: “The president wants only projects that can be started at once, and that is the only kind I am proposing. My amendment ear-marking $325,000,000 for flood control and rivers and harbors work would cover only projects that could be started soon.”

Adams expressed confidence the bill, minus ear-markings, would be passed by Friday.

The senate worked at a slow pace through most of the day, however, voting 58 to 18 to increase the $250,000,000 house-approved appropriation for the national resources committee to $750,000,000.

Petroleum Industry Spends More Than It Takes Out of Texas

MARSHALL, Texas, June 2. — The amount of money spent in Texas by the Petroleum Industry last year exceeded the total value of oil and its by-products according to Charles P. McGaha, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, in an address before the Texas chamber of commerce managers convention, in session here today.

“It has often been said that much of the returns from Texas oil industry goes outside of the state. Nothing could be further from the truth,” said Mr. McGaha. He cited official statistics which show that total expenditures of the Texas petroleum industry last year amounted to $760,322,326, whereas the total value of crude oil and petroleum by-products amounted to $753,000,000, leaving a deficit of eight million dollars.

The economic significance of oil in comparison with other industries of the state is emphasized by the fact that the value of crude oil production alone last year was fifty per cent more than the total value of all farm crops in the state. It practically equaled the combined value of all crops, live stock and live stock products marketed in Cotton, once the principal source of Texas wealth, approximately only thirty per cent of the value of Texas' biggest money crop—oil,” said Mr. McGaha.

He cited interesting regional statistics which show that the Texas oil and gas industry directly affects the economic welfare of every section of the state. “If you live in Texas,” he said, “you are in the oil business.” Analysis of factors contributing to the wealth of various sections of the state, presented by Mr. McGaha, showed that in West Texas, comprising 48 counties all of which are under development, the petroleum industry produced 37.9 per cent of all the wealth in that area last year. In the Panhandle area, comprising 27 counties, petroleum produced 40 per cent of the wealth in the area; in Southwest Texas, embracing 22 counties, the petroleum industry produced 51 per cent of all the wealth in that area; in the Gulf Coast, comprising 27 counties, 44.4 per cent of the wealth was contributed by petroleum; in North Texas, embracing 21 counties, 21 per cent of the wealth was produced by petroleum; in West Central Texas, embracing 21 counties, petroleum contributed 38.8 per cent of all the wealth in that area; in East Texas, a 37 county area, petroleum accounted for 78.9 per cent of all the wealth produced in that area last year; in East Central Texas, a 10 county area, 30 per cent of all the wealth produced came from oil; in South Central Texas, embracing 27 counties, 21 per cent of all the wealth produced came from petroleum.

“More than 300,000 persons are employed directly or indirectly by the Texas petroleum industry,” said Mr. McGaha, “and this means that at least 1,200,000 persons in Texas depend upon the state's oil and gas business for their livelihood. If we include those who receive lease and royalty payments and those who are employed by industries closely allied with the oil and gas business, it becomes apparent that 2,500,000 persons, or 40 per cent of the Texas population, share directly or indirectly in cash disbursements made by the oil industry and its allied branches. This benefit must therefore reach down into the remotest and smallest hamlet in the state, however far removed from the producing fields.”

NOT DOING SO WELL. Miss Joyce Holman, who is in a San Angelo hospital following an appendix operation a few weeks ago, is reported to be little if any better.

Another blood transfusion was necessary recently and friends said that periods of improvement seem to be followed by a relapse in her condition.

Jap Answer To Hull Is Received

Immediate Probe Is Promised by Nippon Officials

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP).—Japan agreed today to meet almost all demands for restitution of American property in China and agreed to the unqualified return of Americans to their posts there.

TOKYO, June 2 (AP).—Japan assured the United States today a commission would be dispatched immediately to China to investigate what Washington had protested as interference with American rights in Japanese-occupied territory.

The commission would include a colonel representing the army staff and two foreign office officials. Foreign office officials promised to expedite the return of American missionaries and business men to their posts.

Secretary of State Hull, in a note addressed to Japan, Wednesday declared Japan was violating American rights by refusing to allow Americans assume control of their properties in Japanese-controlled areas.

He regarded as flimsy Japan's excuse that peace and order have not been sufficiently restored. He questioned it by calling Japan's attention to the fact that Japanese civilians are freely permitted to go into and reside in such areas—as, for example, at Nanking where some 800 Japanese nationals, including a substantial number of women and children, are reported to be in residence.

Although American businessmen and missionaries have been refused permission even to make a brief inspection of their properties to check losses and take steps to prevent further losses, many Japanese merchants and their families are known to be in the localities to which these Americans seek to return.

Boosters of Pecos Rodeo Visitors in Midland Today

Led by the high school band, approximately 60 Pecos boosters were in Midland today advertising their ninth annual rodeo and celebration that will be held July 2-3-4.

The band, winners in the national band contests held in Abilene last month, paraded through the streets and afterwards gave a highly appreciated concert in the Hotel Scharbauer before taking time off for lunch and return home.

Stops were made by the delegation in Monahan and Odessa while enroute here today. Short talks were made by some of the leading figures in the rodeo, headed by Ben Smith, chamber of commerce manager, and literature advertising the rodeo was distributed at all points.

Rodeo officials said some of the outstanding rodeo performers of West Texas were expected to participate in the affair there this year, as they have done in the past.

A total of $3,000 in prizes and trophies is being given away this year, a new high for prize money at the Pecos show. Officials predicted the largest crowds ever to attend the rodeo would be on hand this year. Afternoon and night performances will be given on each of the three days of the show.

Included in the events are bronco riding, calf roping, Brahma bull riding, matched ropings, steer wrestling, cowgirls' calf roping, wild horse racing, ribbon roping, team tying. As an added feature, C. S. Phillips and his educated horse and scaffold walk ring mule will be exhibited.

Invitation to all Midland residents to visit the Pecos rodeo was voiced by officials.

Refusal to Give Up Remains of Austin Accepted by Allred. AUSTIN, June 2, (AP). — Governor Allred acquiesced today in the refusal of Potosi, Missouri, officials to surrender the remains of Moses Austin, closely identified with early colonization of Texas.

“We don't want a lawsuit and if Texas ever gets the remains of Austin it will be through the graciousness of the people of Potosi,” the governor said.

Japs on Short Rations to Pay Mounting Costs of War

By Reiman Morin.

TOKYO—Correspondence of the Associated Press—Japan is rationing herself with terrible sternness to pay for the war with China.

Presumably the poorest of the world's “have-nots,” the nation has been blowing an estimated $5,000,000 daily through her guns and rifles since the “incident” began July 7, 1937.

Experts place the total expenditures thus far in the neighborhood of $2,000,000,000.

The people are paying high taxes. They are using their savings to buy government bonds. They are working longer hours, wearing synthetic clothing materials and foregoing pitifully few luxuries they normally enjoy.

A steady stream of sentiment-stimulation comes from the government to increase their natural willingness to do this.

The need for American dollars is a powerful factor in Japan's precarious financial structure.

In the United States, where she buys most of her necessities, her purchases on credit have been greatly restricted. She is paying cash for most of the airplanes, munitions, oil, cotton and machinery she gets and to do this she must buy dollars with her yen.

At the same time she is meeting the interest on $316,000,000 obtained from American investors before the war began on bonds sold on the American market.

Adding a final touch to what appears to be a dark picture, Japan's exports have shrunk by some 20 per cent and commodity prices have risen.

Economically, Japan is a shipwrecked sailor in an open boat—but with a fair-sized cask of water. The nation catches a little rain-water in the form of gold production and some export revenue. But mainly it is living off its stores and will not sight land until the China war ends.

Japan grew fat while others grew lean in the years from 1931 to 1934, which brought depression to the rest of the world. With cheap labor and cheap goods she flooded world markets. The reserves accumulated in those days are financing her way today.

Inside Japan, money is controlled down to the last sen. It passes around in a small circle, from government to industry (particularly munitions) to laborer and back again to government in the form of personal and corporation taxes and national bond issues.

The whole problem is to keep money from leaving the country, except for absolute necessities that Japan lacks.

Export control likewise applies to money. Foreign firms have large sums “frozen” in Japanese banks—money earned in Japan but whose remission to home offices is forbidden.

Dozen Major Oil Companies Fined For Price Fixing. MADISON, Wis. June 2, (AP). — Federal Judge Stone today assessed a fine of $360,000 and $25,000 in costs against 13 major oil companies and 11 of their officials on charges of illegally fixing the margin of profit for independent and wholesale gasoline jobbers in the Midwest.

The judge accepted the defendants' pleas of nolo contendere by which they will accept penalties without standing trial.

Huge Posse Hunts For Trace of Boy Missing All Week

PRINCETON, Fla. June 2, (AP). — Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, took charge of the James Cash kidnaping case today while small boats and divers augmented a huge posse combing this area in the rain for a trace of five-year-old victim.

Arriving at Miami from Washington, Hoover hastened to the bureau's Miami office where agents have been questioning several suspects for the 24 hours. He refused to discuss the case but indicated he expected to be in Miami for several days.

A sheet of brown paper, sandwich wrappings and a stained stick were studied last night for a lead in the kidnaping of tow-headed Jimmy as federal officers questioned an unemployed carpenter.

Meanwhile, with hope for return of the boy alive virtually abandoned, authorities broadened serial numbers of the 1,500-odd banknotes in the $10,000 ransom the 5-year-old child's father vainly delivered at the rural rendezvous yesterday.

Sheriff's deputies reported they had found the shoebox in which the ransom was paid at the intersection of two roads where Cash dropped it from his car in response to a pre-arranged signal of blinking lights. Near the box was a piece of paper bearing a crude map of the area.

The brown paper discovered by one of 26 posses grimly combing the palmetto thickets and citrus groves of this thinly populated area near the tip of the Florida peninsula was like that on which the ransom notes were written.

It bore writing but the context was not disclosed. The stains on stick looked like blood.

The man questioned was M. F. Braxton, who was arrested near the Cash home in the midst of the forming posses. Braxton's wife said he had been at Cash's filling station Saturday night but returned home and went to be about 11 o'clock.

Unconfirmed reports said a relative of Braxton, a truck driver and a soft drink stand operator also were held and that a fisherman was sought at Cape Sable, the southern tip of Florida. Federal agents declined to comment.

Pecos Minister Gives Address at Rotary Luncheon

Augmented by the presence of ten Pecos, three Odessa and one Big Spring Rotarians, plus six non-member guests, one of the largest crowds of this season attended the weekly Rotary luncheon here today.

Rev. Bill Turner, pastor of the First Baptist church at Pecos, was the speaker at the luncheon today, taking as the topic of his address “Rotary Tomorrow.”

Rev. Turner pointed out that Rotary was organized in 1905 by men who desired to spread the doctrine of friendship and had proven itself by the unconquerable will to do. Not only has Rotary taken effect in the United States but in many other countries, he pointed out. Many of the accomplishments of Rotary and the things that will be accomplished hereafter were pointed out by the speaker.

A meeting was held after the luncheon and an arrangement committee was named to perfect plans for the joint meeting of Midland and Odessa Rotarians next Friday night at Cloverdale.

Visiting Rotarians at the luncheon included Rev. Turner, Barney Hubbs, Yard Dudley, Jack Hawkins, Rusty Bell, Raymond Pouncey, J. C. Wilson, Gage Van Horn Jr., and Bob Dean, all of Pecos; Tom Murphy, Jerry Hobson and A. B. Kniekerbocker, all of Odessa; and Walter Morrison, Big Spring. Other visitors were Wesley May, D. W. Baseman, Buck Jackson and Bond Bradford, Pecos, and L. W. Taylor and Jas. H. Goodman, Midland.

The Pecos group was here as members of the motorcade from that city that is advertising the annual rodeo to be held there July 2-3-4.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in this article are those of Mr. Dutcher, NEA-Reporter-Telegram Washington correspondent, and are not to be construed as expressing the editorial policy of The Reporter-Telegram.

WASHINGTON, June 2. — If Rep. Otha D. Wearin, New Deal candidate, wins the Democratic senatorial nomination in Iowa over Sen. Guy Gillette, there seems no question that President Roosevelt will insist on holding Congress in session until it gives him a government reorganization bill such as the House recently defeated.

That, at least, is the assurance given by New Dealers interested in the Wearin campaign, who regard the contest as more important to the administration and its policies than any other primary to date and are exerting themselves accordingly. Anti-New Dealers among Democratic senators have been quick to agree as to the significance of the Wearin-Gillette battle, for the administration's effort to defeat the conservative Gillette is its first open attempt to push an incumbent Democrat out of the Senate. The struggle to make the Democratic party a Roosevelt-New Deal party is now off in full swing and everyone is beginning to get into the act.

PSYCHOLOGICALLY IMPORTANT

The Iowa primary is also the first occasion on which the New Dealers have invaded the middle west in that struggle and the psychological effect of victory or defeat, it is admitted on both sides, should be enormous.

Allies are being prepared in advance, however. Opponents of the administration will contend, if Gillette is defeated, that he was swamped by political misuse of WPA and other federal machinery.

And New Dealers already are saying that Wearin can only be beaten, if at all, by the large wad of money which they assert is being spent by conservative groups to save Gillette. Persons outside Iowa are entitled to believe either, neither or both of these tales. NEITHER HAS BEEN SPECTACULAR.

The suddenness with which Gillette and Wearin have become nationally conspicuous figures accentuates the fact that neither had been a celebrity in Congress.

Gillette is 59 years old, a War veteran, lawyer, former congressman and well-to-do farmer. Wearin is 35 years old, a former state legislator, editor and writer on agricultural and historical subjects and six years a congressman.

Wearin has consistently supported the administration and frequently has helped lead the House progressive bloc in some of its battles. Gillette opposed Roosevelt in the Supreme Court fight and voted against the administration wage-hour bill.

NEW DEAL IS WORKIN' FOR WEARIN.

THERE is no evidence that the New Dealers went after Gillette's scalp solely because he opposed Roosevelt on the court bill, although you can't dispute that. Wearin, promoting himself as a candidate on his own at first, was a logical beneficiary—and Gillette a logical victim—of the strategy of the administration group led by Harry Hopkins and Secretary Ickes which seeks to enter New Deal democrats against Republican nominees in every possible contest this fall. Even National Chairman Jim Farley, despite directly contrary reports, has been working for Wearin. Roosevelt's unspoken approval is obvious.

Acadians Mass For Marriages

LOCKPORT, La. (UP).—When the descendants of the Acadians in this mingled swamp and beautiful land section of Louisiana decide to get married they do it in a big way.

Fifty bridesmaids are usually the correct number. But selected by the bride? No. She selects the fifty grooms and they choose their "best girls" for the bridesmaids. The groom? All he does is take the traditional prenuptial bath, attire himself in a black suit and wear his black hat throughout the ceremony, which sometimes lasts three days—that is, except when he is in the church for the actual "I do."

Friends and acquaintances from the whole Cajun (corruption of Acadian) countryside go to the wedding ceremony—summoned these days as a concession to progress by a loudspeaker truck which blares out the news of the approaching event.

So many hundreds come for the wedding feast that it must be prepared outside in huge pots by scores of volunteer cooks. Dinner begins early and continues indefinitely because the huge amounts of food, prepared in gargantuan manner, continue to appear on the white-clothed tables under oaks trees, until the appetite of the most voracious is replete.

Four in the afternoon is the favorite wedding time. First comes the procession to the church, hundreds long, the actual wedding and then a screaming automobile ride up and down the new highways that criss-cross the bayou country. Closing event is a big dance at which whole parishes appear.

Navy Sends Out Goodwill Ship

WASHINGTON (UP).—Commander Edward William Hanson is "goodwill ambassador" on the cruise of the U.S.S. Erie. He is in charge of the 2,000-ton gunboat Erie, which is to visit 10 ports in eight South and Central American countries during a three months' cruise which began April 27 and will end July 21.

The Erie, temporary flagship of the Special Service Squadron stationed at Balboa, Canal Zone, is one of the newest ships of this type. It was completed in 1936. The vessel's armaments include four 6-inch guns.

In April, 1914, Hanson participated in landing operations at Vera Cruz, Mexico, and was in command of a company of blue-jackets which came under fire in front of the naval academy in that city. That year in 1915 Hanson was attached to the U.S.S. South Carolina. The ship was engaged in patrolling operations in Dominican and Haitian waters during the Haitian revolution. United States forces occupied Haiti as a result of the trouble there.

Hanson also saw service in the World War, commanding the U.S.S. Dale which was engaged in escort duty between Gibraltar and Allied ports. Prior to this, Hanson commanded the U.S.S. Piscataqua which was assigned to special duty towing disabled German merchant ships from Manila to Hong Kong.

Hanson was placed in command of the Erie in July, 1936. In December of that year the vessel was dispatched to Spain to help in the evacuation of United States citizens from the war-torn country.

The special service squadron consists of four vessels, the gunboats Erie and Charleston and the destroyers Taylor and Babbitt. The Charleston, a sister ship of the Erie, was recently re-fitted.

Chief, 97, Says Job Problem Faces Indian

WHITE CLOUD, Kas. (UP).—On a reservation northwest of here, less than 100 miles from the skyscrapers of Kansas City, 540 members of the Iowa Indian tribe live under conditions reminiscent of the days when the red men roamed the plains.

White Cloud, 97-year-old chief, is titular head of the tribe and finds the unemployment problem as pressing as do the lawmakers in Washington. Educated at the old Presbyterian mission at Highland, Kas., Chief White Cloud was a Union soldier during the Civil war.

His sight is almost as good as it used to be when he was a brave, but his hearing has failed somewhat. His teeth, however, are as strong and white as when he was a youth.

Chief White Cloud has a bear-claw necklace that was handed down through 17 generations of chiefs, and a war bonnet that belonged to his father.

The Indian youths, he said, after being educated in mechanical schools and colleges, frequently are forced to return to their reservations because they are unable to find work on the outside. The chief said that the red men have little to look forward to except a WPA or CCC job.

Arctic Birds Sighted Near Syracuse, N. Y.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP).—Robert E. Bartlett, amateur ornithologist, sighted 40 redpolls, Arctic birds seldom seen south of Canada, in a field near Syracuse. He found himself all trussed up with splints and bandages and he is lying helpless in bed. His partner is sitting in a chair beside him, suffering from a terrific bust-head.

"What happened, Bill, what happened?" asked the one in bed. "Well, we were up on the fourth floor of the hotel," replied Bill, "when you made a bet with some fellows that you could sail out the window, fly around the hotel and come back through the same window."

"I did that?" "Yes." "Why on earth did you let me do it, Bill?" "Hell, I was betting on you."

Hague's Town Still Bounces 'Em

"I am O'Connell," shouted Representative Jerry O'Connell of Montana, as he arrived in Jersey City to fire a few verbal blasts at Mayor Frank Hague before a crowd of 25,000, "and I'm going to speak." And from that point no two versions agree as to what happened—except that O'Connell didn't speak and was escorted out of town by police. He charged he was roughly treated. Jersey City authorities denied this, contending their intervention saved O'Connell from being harmed by the crowd.

This brings relief and quickly, too. That tired aching burning soreness goes and you go about your work again happy and comfortable. Discovery of Crater Lake an Accident

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—If a prospector in search of a fabled lost mine had not betrayed his secret in a mining camp, Crater Lake, a world scenic wonder, would not have been an 1833 discovery when Indians still roamed the far west. Today it is the central theme of Crater Lake National Park, in the Cascade Mountains of southern Oregon, 62 miles from here.

With planes showering death and destruction unrelentingly, thousands of Chinese civilians and around 200 foreign missionaries, many of them Americans, were imperiled as the Japanese swept westward along the Lung-Hai railroad in Central China after the capture of Suchow. The formidable planes shown above, spearhead of the Japanese drive, were bombing the countryside constantly and returning to their base only long enough to get new supplies of bombs. The top picture shows a Japanese machine gunner testing his weapon before one of the flights that resulted in some of the heaviest casualties of the entire conflict.

Development of NYA Program Is Studied

SAN MARCOS.—Labor leaders from several sections of Texas met with educators and National Youth Administration officials here last week to study the development in the NYA work program under which youths are enabled to earn their expenses while they receive pre-apprentice training for trades.

W. R. Wilcke and S. S. Disbron of Wichita Falls, W. M. Haralson and W. A. Peters of Waco, H. K. Koetter and Charles A. Johnson of Houston, Trav Lewis of Fort Worth, and Harry W. Acreman, secretary of the Texas Federation of Labor, and Roy Owens and Louis Bradshaw of Austin were among those present.

J. C. Kellam, state youth director, and Dr. C. E. Evans, president of the college, welcomed the visitors, and introduced Garth Akridge, NYA regional representative, and Karl Borders, NYA administrative assistant, of Washington, D. C., who were in Texas on business and attended the meeting.

The youths assigned to this project work four hours a day in order to earn enough money to pay for their room, board, and medical services, and have about $8 a month left over for their own use. In the afternoons they attend instruction and shop classes in the metal trades and woodwork. At the end of this training project the boys will return to their homes, and labor officials have promised to give preference in employment as apprentices to those who made a good record at the project.

Young Woman Survives Rare Heart Operation

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (U.P.)—Miss Gertrude Parks, 25-year-old seminary student, soon will be attending classes again after having survived one of the rarest operations known to medical science.

Miss Parker was a victim of adhesive pericarditis, described by physicians as a thick, leathery sac which grows around the heart. Unless the membrane is removed, the victim faces gradually approaching invalidism and death.

To remove the membrane, several of Miss Parker's ribs first had to be removed. The operation was performed in Strong Memorial Hospital here, as far as could be determined, it was the only operation of this kind performed at the hospital.

East Texas Tomatoes To Eastern Markets

JACKSONVILLE.—First East Texas tomatoes for the big eastern markets are en route today from the great Jacksonville area. Packing sheds will be in full operation when the 25,000 or more visitors gather here June 6 for the three-day National Tomato Show and Festival.

Added attractions for the show include a new U. S. department of agriculture soil conservation service exhibit to be set up at the Jacksonville city hall, where finest lugs of tomatoes also will be displayed in a contest sponsored by the non-profit Tomato's, Inc., sponsoring organization.

Princesses representing cities and states of the Southwest will be welcomed officially June 7 and will be feted for two days. A larger parade than ever before will be held and there will be a gay coronation and pageant at Ragsdale Park that night, followed by the 1938 National Tomato Queen's reception and ball.

at Love's Lookout State Park.

Politicians will have their speech-making under Young Democrats' auspices the afternoon of June 8. Old fiddlers will compete at City Park, there will be a Jacksonville vs. Henderson baseball game, and that night a pagan revel with nearly everyone in Jacksonville and many visitors making fun in costume. King Tomati will sit beside the Queen, for it is the Tomati Gro night.

National Tomato Week starts a day ahead of the Jacksonville festivities and ends June 11.

Students Use Ice Slugs In Nickel Telephone

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. (U.P.)—The value of higher education was demonstrated in its 9th degree, when students here made plaster molds which, when filled with water and placed in the refrigerator, froze into "ice cubes" the size of a nickel.

They were used for making telephone calls, the ice melting afterwards and leaving no trace of how the trick was performed. The invention was hailed as one of greatest boons to humanity until a too-wise telephone inspector solved the problem.

Aurora Borealis Fools Forest Fire Fighters

RALEIGH, N. C. (U.P.)—W. C. McCormick, assistant state forester of North Carolina, is bragging about the alertness and industry of his forest fire wardens.

During a display of the aurora borealis, at least one district ranger and one county forest fire warden were so sure that the brilliant sky display was the glow of a forest fire that they got in their trucks and started out to chase the blaze down and extinguish it. McCormick reported.

"Fortunately, they didn't try to follow the light to its source or they'd be going yet," was the comment of J. S. Holmes, state forester, when the incident was reported to him.

June Bride-to-Be Honored at Bridge And Luncheon by Mrs. Alf Reese Jr.

Miss Margaret Miles, who is being complimented at a series of festivities before her marriage to Johnny Starr on June 10, was honored at a bridge-luncheon for which Mrs. Alf Reese Jr. was hostess at her home, 712 W. Storey, Wednesday morning.

Spring flowers were used in the party rooms where guests gathered at 10:30 o'clock for games of bridge.

Tallies, score pads, and prize wrappings suggested the bridal theme in colors of turquoise blue and white with lily designs.

Prize for high score went to Mrs. Donald M. Oliver and for cut to Mrs. Hugh West. Both were presented by the winners to Miss Miles who also received a gift from the hostess.

A two-course luncheon was served

May Marry WPA Head

Friends of Mrs. Dorothy Hale above, former Broadway actress, say she will soon announce her engagement to Harry Hopkins, WPA Administrator. Hopkins and Mrs. Hale have each been married twice before. Questioned on the rumored romance, Hopkins said he was "dismal to talk."

Twentieth Century Study Club Closes Year Wednesday

Twentieth Century Study club met in concluding session for the year at a bridge-luncheon at the Log Cabin Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Five tables were appointed for the bridge games in which high score was held by Mrs. S. P. Hazlip, second high by Mrs. E. E. Hardy, cut by Mrs. C. P. Lancaster.

At the luncheon hours, bud vases of roses centered the tables.

Members and guests present included: Mmes. Karl Rattiff, M. P. Turner, Ray Miller, R. E. L. Taylor, Lancaster, Hazlip, Oliver Haag, E. W. Childers, R. L. Blunden, Tom Roberts, W. C. Fritz, T. A. Pollard, Stanley G. Morian, F. E. Curtis, Jerry Phillips, Tom Switzer, P. A. Nelson, Hardy, H. E. Voigt, C. T. Vico-llo.

The new handwrought glass with a translucent ground and designs in clear glass is an attractive asset for any woman's table.

And speaking of handwrought articles, there is a generous-sized oval tray deep enough for a basket really made of handwrought brass which seems to call for a firelight-living room on a winter day, or a dining room with wide windows open to summer breezes for its natural setting. Nuts, or red-checked apples, or flowers—it might be used for any of them.

There is something mellow and gracious about brass, especially hammered brass, which wins plus rating in beauty for household appointments, so we think.

You Can't Walk in Beauty When Your Feet Are Painful; Girls Are Advised

BY ALICIA HART.
NEA Service Staff Writer.

She may not plan to go to the beach and often she may not own a single pair of toeless shoes, but the woman who enjoys the feeling of self-confidence that comes from being perfectly groomed from head to foot considers a weekly pedicure as important as a weekly manicure.

She knows that beautiful feet, usually are comfortable feet—that corns, callouses, and other defects which mar the appearance of her feet also cause discomfort. And, finally, that aching corns, weak arches, ingrown toenails, and so on are not uncommon causes of developing lines about the mouth, wrinkles across the brow.

New Flexible File.
So once a week—always after a bath when her toenails are soft and flexible—she treats her feet to a careful pedicure.

Using small, sturdy scissors or nail clippers, she cuts each toenail, then files down the rough edges with an emery board or one of the new flexible nail files—fast in action but so finely cut that it does not injure the nails or, worse yet, jar her nerves.

Oily cuticle remover is then smoothed around each nail and massaged into the callouses. After the cuticle has been pushed back and any ragged bit of dry skin snipped off, she vigorously brushes feet and ankles, using warm water and plenty of soap suds.

Foot Conforming Brush.
One of the new small, foot brushes, designed to conform with the shape of the foot, is a handy thing to have in any bathroom. Use it every day, as well as during your weekly pedicure, and you'll notice that corns and callouses and those hard bumps on heels become softer and softer. The brush has very stiff, yet resilient black bristles and a back of durable, attractive wood. It floats.

After the brushing, feet should be dried ever so carefully, and toenails lightly buffed to give them a healthy shine.

White Lacquer New.
If you use lacquer on your toenails at all, you probably will pick a bright, gay shade. The dusty rose tones, flamboyant reds and those

Mr. and Mrs. Mims Celebrate Fifth Wedding Anniversary

A picnic supper was served and afterward the evening was devoted to games of outdoor table tennis.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. John M. Scrogin, Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Leggett, the host and hostess and their small son.

Methodists Are Hosts to New Members

With an estimated total attendance of more than 100 persons, new members of the M. E. church were entertained by members of longer standing at a "church night" at the annex Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Rev. W. C. Kings, pastor, brought the message for the evening on the revival which will open June 12.

Supper was served and games were played in the recreation room.

The meeting closed with sentence prayers.

Here's Bag of Tricks for Warm Weather Comfort

BY ALICIA HART.
NEA Service Staff Writer.

You'll be more comfortable and more attractive during hot summer months if you—

Carry one of those new compact cleansing pads in your purse and clean your face with them several times a day. Saturated with non-oily preparations, these cool as they cleanse.

Brush your hair with a clean hairbrush every single night. And have a shampoo even oftener than you did during winter months.

Put your body with cologne after your evening bath and your morning shower.

Substitute lightly scented perfume for the heavier odors you like last winter. Or give up perfume except for evening and use toilet water during the day.

Use a fairly hard, fairly indelible lipstick. If you intend to cling to your oily, soft lipstick, then be sure to 'set' the color with cleansing tissues after each application.

Use a bit of special foot powder on your feet before putting on stockings.

Put on clean underwear and clean stockings each and every morning.

Wear washable dresses in the country or suburbs. Furthermore, if your budget won't stand the strain of pretty large dry cleaning bills, better wear washables in town, too.

Dress as simply as possible. Ruffles and other frill-frou touches, flowing veils and extremely fancy shoes aren't likely to be flattering when the thermometer is hovering around ninety-nine.

Comb your hair off your neckline. If you don't want to part with your long bob, find a hairdresser who will design a coiffure which can be worn up or down.

Spend even more time grooming yourself to perfection. (Taking the white trimming off a dark dress and then neglecting to wash and sew it back on, going without a girdle or a slip or going without a hat to places where a hat certainly should be worn honestly won't make so very much difference in the way you look.)

It has been estimated that there are 13,000 elephants in Kenya colony, East Africa.

Mrs. Hale Hostess To Slam Club at Wednesday Party

A novel refreshment plate distinguished the afternoon bridge with which Mrs. A. D. Hale entertained the Slam club at her home, 103 E. Ohio, Wednesday afternoon. She served a salad course moulded in the shape of diamonds, clubs, hearts and spades.

Two tables of bridge and bingo furnished diversion for the afternoon.

High score for members went to Mrs. Joe Dobson, second high to Mrs. W. J. Stewart, and high for guests to Mrs. J. B. Lacy. In the bridge games while Mrs. D. W. McCormick received bingo prize. Prizes were packaged in white with colored ribbons.

Present were: Mmes. W. G. Attaway, Joe Dobson, J. B. Lacy, D. W. McCormick, W. J. Stewart, R. L. Stewart, R. L. Cline, and the hostess.

The club will meet next week with Mrs. Dobson at her home at the Atlantic Tank Farm.

Household Hints

BETWEEN-MEAL SNACK.
Mix equal portions of peanut butter and mashed bananas. Moisten with a little orange juice and use as a filling for graham cracker sandwiches.

HOSIERY SAVER.
Heavy sports skirts often are hard on hosiery. To prevent runs and stop that "scratchy" feeling sew a two-inch facing of thin silk on the inside of the skirt hem.

SUMMER HEAT.
Cover vegetable chops with grapefruit sections and then broil them 15 minutes. Baste several times with the drippings that cooks out of the meat.

HAVE CANDY TOOLS HANDY.
Before starting to make candy, gather together all the necessary utensils. Use heavy kettle of cast aluminum, copper or iron. Use wooden paddles for beating. Have a marble slab or other smooth surface for kneading candies. Use a thermometer and have plenty of waxed or oiled paper on hand.

VINEGAR WITH SPICE.
Spiced vinegar lends a piquant flavor to meat and fish sauces or salad dressings. To make it mix three cups of vinegar, one teaspoon of salt, half a teaspoon each of mustard, cinnamon, cloves, celery seed, paprika, mace and crushed bay leaf, four parsley sprigs and two tablespoons of granulated sugar. Boil together for two minutes. Strain and store in a covered jar in the refrigerator.

TO GLAZE HAM.
An unusual and tasty glaze for ham may be made by mixing one cup of dark brown sugar, a third of a cup of orange marmalade, three tablespoons of vinegar and one teaspoon of powdered cloves. Spread the mixture over the cooked meat, then bake it for 15 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve it warm or cold.

STRAWBERRY HINT.
Want to help keep your strawberries plump and red when they are cooked? Add a teaspoon of vinegar to each two cups of berries. But remember, prolonged cooking will destroy color, flavor and texture of berries whatever you do.

JUDGING FISH.
To determine the freshness of fish, see that the gills are red, the scales stick close together, the eyes are bright and bulging, the fish is free from too strong an odor, the flesh looks clear and is firm to the touch.

Feminine Fancies

Cleverest thing in the way of dining room furniture that we have seen recently was a table which seemed to fit exactly into the scheme of modern living in tiny apartments.

Broad leaves folded down on either side of a narrow stationary surface only about 18 inches in width. Beneath this table surface were built-in drawers for silver and cupboard space for linens or dishes.

This compactness of design means much in the home where every square foot of space must be accounted for and the ordinary full-size dining table could not be employed because of its place displacement when not in use. Also having silver and cloths at hand when the table is set means the saving of many tiring steps for the housekeeper whether she stays home all day or rushes home from an office at night to cook the dinner.

Comics which have delighted adult and child are now being used to advantage on accessories for the infant's bed. The petted darling of the family may sleep safely in his crib on a sheet which is decorated with a wide band of bright-colored cloth whereon appear such beloved figures as "Pilot" and his friends. The matching pillow cases are similarly embellished.

"Woe is me! The world is fallen upon evil days!" It's an ancient plaint but one that is probably being chanted with gusto by certain erstwhile favorites of the king of Cambodia, just now. For at 63, the doughty monarch, Sisowath Monivong, King of Cambodia, has announced that he will fire 100 of his dancing-girl wives. As an economy measure, it is explained!

We fear his majesty will find that economy will not seem much reason to these beauties for being tumbled off their eminent perches—especially as 100 more have not been fired.

We'd advise the king to stay afar off from all gossip sessions of that cast-off 100 or he'll undoubtedly, king or not, hear things about himself that will make his royal ears burn.

Knowing what history has provided and literature has taught about the fury of a woman scorned, it must be admitted the king has courage or he would never dare face the com-

Dutch Rag Man Missed Art Fortune By Peddling Van Goghs for Nickel

AMSTERDAM. (U.P.) — A rag-and-bone-man named Couvreur from the town of Breda in southern Holland has revealed why so few canvases of Vincent van Gogh have been found. This Dutch painter, who ended his tragic life a lunatic, was a prolific producer during his younger years, although his fame is based on the genius he showed during the latter years of his short life.

Thirty-five years ago, Couvreur relates, on a cobble-stoned street of Breda, he was loading his handcart with odds and ends he had bought from a carpenter who asked him as a favor to take away some rubbish. He explained it was cluttering up his loft where he had stored it after it had been left there for some time.

Collector of Old Shoes Declares Garbage Cans Can't Be Overlooked

ST. LOUIS. (U.P.) — Treasure often can be found in the garbage can if the searcher knows what to look for, according to Charles E. Osterkamp, shoe company official, who has been active along that line for years.

Osterkamp is a collector of old shoes. It is a hobby he started years ago and because of it he has collected a wide variety of footwear representing almost every country and many periods of development. He finds his hobby difficult, for shoes are not generally considered family heirlooms. They are not handed down from one generation to the next, but mostly end up at the city dump after a short life.

The shoe was handmade on a straight last. The leather upper was pegged to a wooden sole. Osterkamp said the workmanship indicated it was probably 100 years old.

From a dealer in Colorado, Osterkamp received a shoe that was torn into ribbons. It wasn't an unusual shoe in point of style, but it had been worn by a man who was struck by lightning. The man was not injured, but the lightning tore the shoe from his foot and left it a tattered mass of leather.

Some of Osterkamp's prize shoes are: A pair of size 34's built for Robert Wadlow, giant Alton, Ill., youth when he was't as big as he is today.

A bearskin moccasin contributed by a pioneer family which said an ancestor wore it on a hunting trip with Daniel Boone in Kentucky. A wooden woman's paper-soled slipper. A wooden platform for a Chinese coolie. A coolie shoe of straw. A hand-sewed moccasin from Ukraine.

They Led Fight for Wage-Hour Bill

Fighting along the home stretch, leaders in the drive for passage of the wages and hours bill are pictured above as they conferred before the House brought the controversial measure to the floor for a final vote. With Mrs. Mary Norton (D.—N. J.), chairman of the House Labor Committee and author of the bill, are Representatives Gerald L. Boileau (Prog.—Wis.), left, and Arthur D. Healey (D.—Mass.).

Texas Commercial Failures Unchanged

AUSTIN. — The number of commercial failures in Texas during April was unchanged from the month before but was moderately below the corresponding month last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Total liabilities were, however, sharply below both comparable periods. "Reports from Dun and Bradstreet, Inc. show a total of seven commercial failures during April, the same as in March, compared with eighteen during April last year," the Bureau's statement said. "Total liabilities of these firms, $168,000, were 32.3 per cent under the month before and 84.1 per cent below April, 1937. Average liability per failure, $10,000, was 33.3 per cent below March and 50 per cent below April a year ago."

Every day, for more than an hour, there are three days of the week on our earth at one time. When it is 11:30 p. m. Monday at the western end of the Aleutian Islands, it is 12:30 a. m. Tuesday at Apia, Samoa, and 12:20 a. m. Wednesday at the Tonga Islands.

Traffic Deaths in State During April Set New Low Record

AUSTIN, June 2. — April traffic deaths reported in Texas were fewer than in three years, state police announced. Ninety-four persons died from crash injuries during the month, bringing the 1938 total to 530 deaths, a saving of 45 lives compared with the same period of last year.

The April fatality list dropped 53 deaths under March when 147 lives were lost. "Traffic experts of the safety department attributed the sharp decline to public opinion aroused over heavy losses of life during the past year, selective enforcement in high accident toll areas and a persistent drive against traffic law violations, generally. It was pointed out that a nine per cent increase in gasoline consumption in 1938 indicated more travel on Texas streets and highways. Vehicles traveled an estimated distance of six billion miles in the four-month period.

The pedestrian death toll remained high during April with 25 reported killed in 135 motor-pedestrian collisions. There were 1,135 persons reported injured in 1,002 accidents, the state police report revealed. Col. H. H. Carmichael, state police director, praised the work of civilians and organizations toward reducing accidents. "Texas cities are setting the pace in the reduction of fatal accidents," declared Colonel Carmichael. "Drivers are more conscious of the 3-and-safety clubs, newspapers, radio and other groups are performing outstanding services to supplement the work of enforcement officers in the war against high accident tolls." State officers predicted an improved traffic situation for 1938 with the amended driver's license law removing three per cent of tested drivers from the highways, the inauguration of widespread vehicle inspection programs, and the assignment of 100 additional officers to duty after June 1.

Pinocle Player Tells How He Scored 1,650

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y. (U.P.) — William Buckley, who several months ago scored 1,650 points on a pinocle hand, has received a score of letters from curious players seeking to learn how the "unorthodox" score was made.

Buckley made his score under special rules prevailing at the Saranac Lake Moose Lodge card contests. The score was made when he laid down eight aces, a run in trump and won every trick after he had melded 1,150 points. Winning every trick gave him 50 points, but under local "house rules" he earned an additional 250 points for melding his entire hand. This bonus jumped the score to 1,650. Buckley was playing in a four-handed game at a regular Moose card party.

Farm Cart Barrier on Czech Border

(NEA Radiophoto) Typical of the frenzied defense precautions by Czechoslovakia against the threat of Nazi invasion after the killing of two Sudeten Germans by Czech frontier guards was this makeshift barricade of overturned farm carts at the border town of Eger. With threat of war averted by the firm stand of Britain, France and Czechoslovakia against Germany, Konrad Henlein, leader of the Nazi Sudeten minority, went to Eger to attend the funeral of the two slain Germans.

Grotesque, but Effective

In their relentless battle against a smoldering blaze which, for 54 years, has been burning out the underground wealth of coal fields near New Straitsville, O., the 300 or more WPA fire-fighters equip themselves as shown above to meet explosive and poisonous gas hazards. The picture is labeled to indicate the various safety devices worn by members of the crew. So effective has the fire-fighting project been that the disastrous inferno, started by a mine firing during an 1884 strike, is almost under control.

It's the Same Old Story: Cards Drop Another Game to the Lubbock Hubbers

LUBBOCK, June 2. (Special).—The Lubbock Hubbers stopped the Midland Cardinals' winning streak here Wednesday with a 10-8 victory in a game threatened but never stopped by rain. Midland has not defeated Lubbock this year.

Ernest Terry pitched six hit ball but the Hubbers made four errors behind him to keep the score close. Meanwhile the Lubbock club worked on Warren and Froschauer for 14 hits, including two homers by Malcolm Stevens and one by Al Carr. The homer by Carr placed him in a tie with Sugar of Midland for the league leadership. Each has 13.

The Hubbers tallied four times in the third for a five run lead but the Cardinals climbed within one run of the lead with two runs in the fifth, two in the seventh and three in the eighth.

The victory protected Lubbock's lead in the West Texas-New Mexico League over Wink.

Amarillo Fete To Be Held as Rogers Tribute

AMARILLO, Texas (UP).—The Southwest, which knew Will Rogers as a neighbor, even before he became the nation's ambassador of good will, next Aug. 15-21 will honor his memory with a gigantic pageant.

Carl Hinton, president of the Highway 66 association and secretary of the Amarillo chamber of commerce, said Vice President John N. Garner was considering an invitation to attend the celebration. Garner was a close friend of the late cowboy philosopher.

The six-day program will include a pageant depicting the Southwest that Rogers loved, an air congress, and a 50th birthday celebration of Potter county's founding, U. S. highway 66, the "Will Rogers Memorial highway," will carry delegations to Amarillo from Los Angeles, Chicago, and intervening cities, Hinton said.

Seventy congressmen, headed by Marvin Jones of Amarillo, reportedly will urge President Roosevelt to visit the celebration.

A pageant will be given during the six days, showing the buffalo, the Indian, ranchers and cattle, and the Southwest of today. Irvin S. Cobb, noted humorist, has been invited to take part in the memorial as have several other actor friends of Rogers.

Unlike Ruth, Gehrig Says He Is Not After Home Runs

By HARRY GRAYSON Sports Editor, NEA Service.

Just when his sour beginning this spring had some of the New York critics hinting that Henry Louis Gehrig might be cracking up the Iron Man started pasting the ball at such a clip that he was moved up to fifth place in the Yankee batting order.

Still his severest critics said that Columbia Lou was having trouble manufacturing his former power as he headed for his 2000th consecutive game. They suspect that he is swinging for base hits now. He doesn't appear to be pulling the ball as of old.

"I've hit a lot of home runs," he asserts, "but seldom try to hit one. Babe Ruth cut up at a ball and lifted it over the fence. He tried to hit home runs."

"I merely try to hit hard. Sometimes my hard drives are good for home runs. That's incidental. My consecutive-game record is incidental, too."

"As I look back over the seasons, the thing that impresses me most is the realization that I always have tried to do my best, and that I have helped the Yankees to win."

HAS HIGHEST LIFETIME BATTING AVERAGE.

Many consider Gehrig the greatest all-round first baseman who ever played the game, and that's taking in considerable territory.

Columbia Lou has the highest lifetime batting average in the American League, .344. Paul Waner, now reposing in the Pittsburgh Pirates' dugout, is the only current major league athlete ahead of the Iron Horse in that respect, with .348. Gehrig showed the way to American League hitters with .363 in 1934.

Gehrig has batted in more runs than any other American League player—1375. He has hit the most home runs—465. He has compiled 400 or more total bases on 112 occasions, and 300 or more in 21 times. He holds the league and lifetime record for scoring runs—more than 100 per season 12 times.

The Yankees have a tough time on this trip, with Bill Dickey underweight and overworked, with George Selkirk kept on the sidelines by his wrist injury of last season, with Frank Crosetti unable to hit or drive a ball, and other handicaps.

But I doubt that the club will collapse through any fault of Gehrig's.

BLAME SLOW START ON MOVIE WORK

They were overlastingly giving up on Ruth while the Bambino was drifting toward the sere and yellow of his career, but I seem to recall that he was still quite a hitter at 35, and drawing top pay.

Gehrig will be 35, June 19, but he has lived as wholesome a life as any athlete with whom I've ever come in contact.

They blamed his winter in the movies for Gehrig's rather slow start this spring, but he quickly demonstrated that he wasn't suffering from klieg eyes.

Lou Gehrig will stir up plenty more trouble for the opposition, before he takes that final third strike, but if he never does another thing, he'll owe the Yankees and baseball exactly nothing.

The game could use a lot more like Ol' Rawhide.

Agarita Berries Are Ripening in State

DALLAS (AP).—The agarita berries, looked on as the forecaster of crops and seasons, are ripening like a bright red rash on the lush pastures of West Texas this spring, says a statement by the Farm Security administration. To believers in signs and omens, this abundant crop of berries is a promise of a fruitful year for farmers. To those who scoff, the agarita berry is still a promise of abundance for it is being used for jelly and jam to be stored for winter food.

The April freeze, which the believers recall, followed thunder in February, damaged gardens and fruit seriously. Gardens recovered rapidly and are providing an abundance of fresh vegetables for current use and a surplus for canning, home management supervisors for the Farm Security administration report.

The home-grown crop of vegetables on farms financed by FSA is so bountiful borrowers are being encouraged to build dugouts, in which root vegetables may be stored safely.

Gardens of FSA borrowers are, on the whole, larger and better fenced than last year, supervisors report, the statement says. Canning budgets, planned at the beginning of 1936 to create a wider margin of safety between the farmer

Japanese Hold Age Old Rites

VANCOUVER (UP).—Onlookers at the waterfront watched curiously an age-old Japanese ceremony, when 250 members of the Vancouver section of the Nishiren-Shu religion pray for the souls of every Vancouver man who had lost his life at sea, or in a lake or river, during the previous year.

The members of the sect, which conducts, this picturesque ceremony annually, declare they hold to the original Buddhist belief.

"We do not pray for the Japanese alone," an interpreter said. "We pray for every Oriental and every white man who has been drowned. We watch the newspapers throughout the year and collect the names. Then we pray for their souls."

Dressed in his most important robes and thumping an oaken drum with a fan-shaped, hollow object, the Rev. Y. Arakawa chanted the ceremony.

The names of all those drowned were written on papers or sticks. Then these were cast into the water, for the double purpose of assuring the drowned that their souls were being taken care of, and of bringing their names to the attention of the Nishiren-Shu God.

The members stood in prayer with hands held downward. The

$35 a Month to Live in Model Suburb

Greendale, newest residential suburb of Milwaukee, Wis., is open—but you can't live there if your annual income is more than $2200. The above photo shows the first avenue of houses to be made available to tenants in the Federal Farm Security Administration-constructed town, which eventually will accommodate 572 families. The street is lined with one-family four-room residences equipped with garages, electric stoves and refrigerators, and renting for $35 a month. Dead-end thoroughfares eliminate traffic hazards. During the old service that devout Japanese had carried intact across the Pacific, several young Japanese of a newer generation played baseball in nearby Hastings Park.

Odd Requests Made to U. S.

WASHINGTON (UP).—A request for permission to haul ashes and cinders from the volcanic lava beds in the Craters of the Moon National Monument, Idaho, has been received by the General Land Office.

Commissioner Fred W. Johnson notified the applicant, a Bear River City, Utah, woman, that her request could not be granted without specific action by congress. She did not say for what purpose she wanted the ashes.

The Land Office recently received several strange requests which it had received, containing suggestions for use of products on the public domain.

A North Carolina man asked permission to collect medicinal roots and herbs on the public land area. Another wanted the privilege of taking cascara bark from trees in Oregon.

Several applicants wanted the right to harvest Arizona and New Mexico cactus for home decorative purposes, while another wanted to use the Yucca plant in New Mexico for the manufacture of twine.

In California, an applicant wanted the right to gather greasewood on the Mojave Desert, to be burned and used in the manufacture of potash, while another wanted to collect a supply of gypsum for fertilizer.

One applicant wanted to raise sunken logs from the Mississippi river bed, while another wanted permission to cut Christmas trees on government lands.

Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes stated in each case that public lands have been set aside for conservation purposes and that private exploitation is forbidden without direct authorization by congress.

Ancient Indian Ruin Being Excavated

CANYON (AP)—An ancient Indian ruin on Antelope creek northeast of Amarillo, being excavated by West Texas State college, shows a definite relationship with the Pueblo culture of the Southwest and the Plains culture of the east. Evidence indicates they were inhabited prior to the coming of Coronado and about the year 1300 A. D.

Their homes were well made and durable. Sponsors of the project intend to reconstruct several rooms from one of these ruins in the West Texas museum. Nazi Press Attacks Czechs After Pair Injured in Brawl

BERLIN, June 2. (AP). — The German press attacked Czechoslovakia anew last night over a "provocative" incident at the troubled frontier town of Eger. Eger, on Czechoslovakia's extreme western tip where the country joins far into Germany, was the scene of a cafe brawl in which two Sudeten Germans were wounded when a

Czechoslovakia army sergeant fired his revolver. Some Nazi quarters responded with a bitter charge of "continued monstrous Czech provocations," and the Berlin press referred to the "intolerable situation" of the Sudeten Germans, a 3,500,000 German minority living in Czechoslovakia along the German border.

In other quarters, however, the episode, one of a long series involving Czechoslovaks and Sudeten Germans in recent weeks, was viewed more calmly and was minimized as an act of "a drunken Czech." The Berlin newspapers Nachtausgabe, taking a belligerent view of the new Eger incident, warned London, Paris, and Praha to note that we are keeping a record of every incident, every provocation, and every border violation, and that some day we will present a bill of responsibility to those who, whether in Praha or other capitals, have assumed command of the Czechs.

Blacksmith Says Was Born Too Soon

AMARILLO, Texas. (AP). — One Georgia blacksmith was born many years too soon.

A plains farmer, who started his career between the home hewed handles of a Georgia stock told the story. When he was a boy on a Georgia farm a drummer tried to sell the keeper of the country general store a double shovel. Suspicious, the merchant called in the blacksmith and asked his opinion.

The blacksmith examined the new plow and a few moments later pronounced with a professional air: "Won't work; too much machinery."

Many farm boys growing up now never heard of a Georgia stock or a double shovel, unless some candidate for a state office has told the story of how he used to follow the things in stump patches on farms that had a mortgage or two.

West Texas farmers have gone modern. There are no Georgia stocks, double shovels or stump patches, but there are beach umbrellas and radios.

Many tractors are equipped with beach umbrellas, more for the protection of the farmer than the tractor, and any number of radios bring swing to the field. A radio equipped

Action as Police Smashed C. I. O. Picket Line

This action-packed picture shows a part of the hostilities that occurred when a flying wedge of police smashed a C. I. O. picket line around the J. L. Case Company plant at Rockford, Ill. With police using clubs and the pickets retaliating with stones, several casualties were reported. One deputy sheriff was taken to a hospital with a fractured skull. The police claimed that they had used 35 or 40 men to break the picket line of 700.

tractor is not unusual. The tractor exhaust is muffled so the radio can be heard.

Unlike the man who followed the Georgia stock, the farmer of today sits in a shade and covers many acres on his tractor as he listens to his favorite radio program, if he has a favorite.

The radio makes about the same volume of noise the farmer created in "cussing" his mules.

Very little walking is done by today's farmer. He rides—usually a tractor—from the spring breaking until he "lays the crop by." The farmer still has to get his own breath.

Southern Veteran, 92, "Respector of Yankees" NEW BERN, N. C. (U.P.). — William Penn Lane, 92, last Confederate veteran in Craven county, has but one regret as his long life draws to a close. "I still regret the fact I never got to see Gen. Robert E. Lee," Lane avers. "He was just about the greatest man that ever lived." The aged veteran said he is a strong Unionist, "a respector of Yankees," and a slavery opponent, "although my Civil War opinions were just the opposite. Lane likes Stark Young's "So Red the Rose," but dislikes Margaret Mitchell's "Gone With the Wind."

Cat Mixed in Mails Forced to Walk Home REGINA, Sask. (U.P.). — Peter, a Manx cat belonging to Postmaster R. Jarvis of Hudson Bay Junction, has no more love for travel. Harmless—But Would You Try It?

Irwin A. Moon, youthful science lecturer, insists that a million volts of static electricity is harmless to a human body. Even so, few persons would trade places with him, above, as he allows the current to pass through his body and emerge from his finger-tips to form a high frequency corona above his head. Moon, whose home is in Los Angeles, is shown as he put on his spectacular demonstration before a science group in Chicago.
