Bombing Raids on Canton Resumed By the Japanese

HONG KONG, June 15. (AP)—Two hundred Chinese civilians have been killed in air bombings at Changchow, Fukien province, Chinese officials said today. The bombings occurred Sunday but shattered communications veiled the news until today.

Meanwhile, both Chinese and Japanese armies were fleeing before the Yellow river flood rolling miles across the flat Honan province. South of the flood area, Japanese bombers resumed daylight air raids on Canton.

The raiders also struck deeper into South China. A bombing attack on Kwelin, Kwangsi province capital, was made as Japanese continued a relentless drive up the Yangtze river. Warships slowly forged upstream toward Matowchen.

Some 126 miles below Hankow, the United States gunboat Monocacy stood by at Kiukiang to protect American citizens and property. The gunboat was one of the United States Yangtze River patrol vessels ordered to remain at their posts despite a Japanese request that third powers remove their ships from a 200-mile stretch between Wuhu and Kiukiang.

Sheriff's Race Draws J. M. Speed As Candidate

Candidacy of J. M. Speed for the office of county sheriff, tax assessor and collector, was announced today subject to action of Midland county voters in the primary election July 23.

Until recently, when he sold his store, Mr. Speed had engaged in the retail grocery business here for ten years. He served for several years on the city council and has been active in civic affairs. He and his family live at 301 North F. street.

Before moving to Midland, he was well known for having been a citizen of Andrews for twenty years. He operated a general store, served as postmaster and was county judge there for two and a half terms. His father, the late John Speed, was sheriff of Andrews county and widely known for law enforcement.

The new candidate said he had no political axe to grind and earnestly solicited the office and promised to serve to the best of his ability in enforcing the peace and in looking after the tax assessments and collections of the county. He said he would, if elected, maintain an efficient personnel in all departments, placing public service first.

Birth of a baby son to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Geisler, at a Midland hospital, was reported this morning. Named Gene Edward, the boy weighed 8 1/2 pounds. He arrived at 6:30 a. m. Mrs. Geisler and the baby were reported to be resting well this afternoon. Gene Edward is the Geislers' second son. Mr. Geisler is manager of the Petroleum Building.

Body of Gunter Will Be Shipped Tonight to Wylie

The body of Herschel Gunter, 27, who died in a Midland hospital yesterday afternoon, was to be shipped tonight to Wylie, Texas, where funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon. Interment rites will be held at Plano.

Gunter succumbed to a bullet wound inflicted May 30, allegedly by T. L. Box. The bullet struck Gunter's spine and traveled upward, lodging in his right lung. He had been paralyzed since that time and physicians had never held any hope for his recovery.

Gunter, an automobile salesman here, was reported to have been shot by Box as the result of an altercation on South Main street. Box was placed in jail here and charged with assault with intent to kill and was indicted by the grand jury last week. He was freed on bond on the charge, but officials said today the charge would be changed to murder and evidence offered the grand jury when it meets again next week.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gunter, a five-year-old daughter, five sisters, Mrs. Alene Manley, Mrs. John Bailey, Miss Reba Gunter, Miss Anna Bell Gunter, Miss Jean Gunter, three brothers, Herman Gunter, W. S. Gunter and Erlene Gunter.

Andrews Prospect Swabbing to Test After Coring Oily Lime

South central Andrews' new production prospect, Olson Drilling Company (formerly H. S. Forgeron) No. 1 Lockhart & Brown, this morning was swabbing to test after running tubing. Last core, from 4,568-84, showed an encouraging amount of porosity and saturation in section from 4,570-83, and it was decided to test at that point before deepening further. Yesterday, it had shown slight saturation and porosity in bottom three feet of a core from 4,530-49. While bottomed at 4,483, the well had been assured of at least small production when it swabbed three barrels of oil hourly after acidizing with 1,500 gallons. It is located five miles west of the south end of the Fuhrman pool, and is 680 feet out of the northeast corner of section 20, block A-1, public school land.

Only eight feet of drilling mud, with no oil or gas present, was recovered when a 45-minute drillstem test was taken from 4,530 to 4,600 in Atlantic Refining Company No. 1 Texaco-University, five miles north of the Goldsmith pool of Ector but in southwest Andrews. Hole is being reamed down before drilling ahead. Well is in the northeast quarter of section 26, block 11, University survey.

Mc Call Goes On Trial for Kidnaping

Precautions Taken To Insure Safety Of Accused Man

MIAMI, June 15. (AP)—Elaborate precautions were taken for the safety of Franklin Pierce McCall today at his hearing for the ransom kidnaping of James Bailey Cash, Jr., to which he pleaded guilty.

The tiny courtroom and the halls outside were thronged. Half of the crowd was made up of women.

Inside, two policemen searched each man and two matrons searched all women. They even peered into handbags and removed hats.

James Cash, Sr., was the first witness. He identified ransom notes and the boy's pajamas, told of the disappearance, search and discovery of the body.

FBI agents said earlier McCall confessed he placed a handkerchief over the face of the Cash's only child in taking him from his bedroom May 28 at nearby Princeton, Fla. The body was found 12 days later less than a mile from the residence.

State Attorney George A. Worley, who left a sick bed to present the case, requested the trial be started immediately so that Inspector E. J. Connelley of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, his star witness, could get away.

$600 in Prizes to Be Awarded Winners Of Tournament Here

Prizes valued at $600 will be awarded in the Midland Country Club Open Golf Tournament which will open at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, it was announced by Bill Holmes and Don Sivalls today. List of the prizes and the names of donors will appear in this paper tomorrow. Prizes will be displayed through the week end.

Plans for the Galcutta pool and barbecue, scheduled for Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the club house also were completed, according to E. B. Dozier, in charge of arrangements.

The low qualifier Friday will be awarded the medalist prize. Pairings will be announced Friday night, with the match play scheduled for Saturday and Sunday. As many fights as are necessary will be arranged.

Leading golfers all the way from El Paso to Fort Worth have signified their intentions of participating, several of them having been outstanding in the recent tournament at Lubbock. Nearby clubs of Big Spring, Odessa, Colorado and neighboring cities are expected to be well represented.

Last year's winner, Jimmy Walkup of Odessa, has been transferred to south Texas and will not defend his title.

Show In Weiner Parcel.

Slight show of oil was logged from 4,370 to 4,381 by Ted Weiner et al. No. 1 Parcel, closely watched wildcat in eastern Lea county, N. M., less than a mile west of the Andrews county line. Yesterday afternoon, it was drilling ahead at 4,433 feet in lime, with no further shows reported. The test is in section 5-23s-38e, four miles east of the Skelly sand pool.

Gulf Oil Corporation has staked a north offset to Conoco No. 1-J-2 State, Lea county's newest pool opener, which has well gauged flow of 16 barrels an hour, naturally, at 3,800 feet. The Gulf test is No. 3 W. A. Ramsey, and it was staked in the center of the southwest of the southeast of section 35-21s-36e.

Prospects for a two mile north-east extension of the southeast part of the Vacuum pool were considerably brighter as Phillips No. 6 Santa Fe headed 40 barrels of fresh oil in 15 minutes, then died, after recovering load from first acid job, of 1,000 gallons. It has been re-treated with 4,000 gallons and is now swabbing out acid water and load. The well is bottomed at 4,578 feet in lime.

Four miles northwest of the Vacuum pool, Repollo No. 1 State, Lease No. 1,977, is preparing to acidize with 1,000 gallons. It has been plugged back to 4,685 feet, from total depth 5,016, where sulphur water was encountered. The well had been swabbing around 20 barrels of oil daily from shows between 4,644 and 4,680.

How a Typical American Family Would Fare Under Wage-Hour Bill Passed by Congress

BY WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

Congressional debate on the wage-hour bill has stormed furiously around the hourly rate of minimum pay that would be used to "put a floor under wages."

Strong objection was made to any plan that would eventually raise minimum wages as high as 40 cents an hour. Twenty-five cents an hour is the current proposal, rising gradually to 40.

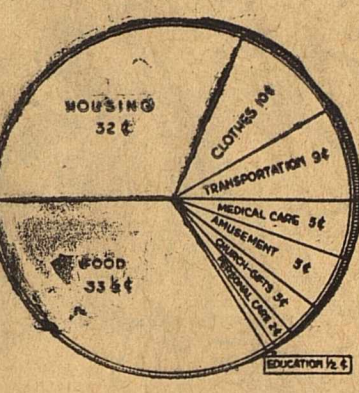

Debate on the economics of the question is long and loud. But what, precisely, do wages like that mean to the man who gets them? What kind of a standard of living is implied by them, and what must be the standard today of those whom it is proposed to raise to 25 cents an hour? WPA rates, by the way, are around 60 cents.

It is all very clear and simple. At 25 cents an hour, assuming a 40-hour week, the wage-earner takes in just $10 a week. At 40 cents, this becomes $16. Assuming, again, year-round work, the 25-cent-an-hour man earns $520 in a year; his more fortunate colleague earns $832.

It's simple arithmetic. Do your own figuring on a basis of $500 and $800, since 52 weeks of straight work is practically unknown among people drawing that kind of money.

A careful study of what becomes of the workman's dollar was recently made by several government bureaus. They found that average families with incomes of between $1200 and $1500 a year were spending for various things. Then they reduced the data to a percentage showing that of every dollar, 33 1/2 cents went for rent, and so on.

Applying those same percentages to incomes of $500 and $800 will show how families benefiting by the proposed act would live. The accompanying table shows what they would have for various things necessary to civilized living if they spent their incomes in about the same way as those families with average incomes.

Each dollar of income—if you are an average wage-earner in an average family—will divide up like the pie-cut dollar above, according to government statistics.

But they wouldn't, of course. For those averages were compiled from average incomes. That means between $1200 and $1500 a year. Incomes of $500 and $800 are not spent in quite the same way.

Families with an income of $500 a year must spend more than the average percentage of their income for food. Meals may cost them perhaps 10 cents apiece instead of the 3, 4, or 5 cents which would be their proportionate cost based on the average budget.

At that rate, food for the year for the $500 man would cost $436.50 instead of $166, which would practically wipe out the entire income, let alone anything for such luxuries as medical care, clothing, and education.

FAR UNDER AVERAGE.

Somewhere between those figures the $500 man compromises in order to have a place to live and something to wear. The average wage-earner brings in between $100 and $125 a month, the same government survey showed. Thus at $43 a calendar month for the 25-cent-an-hour man, or even at $69 a month for the 40-cent-an-hour man, the beneficiaries of the "floor-under-wages" law would still be far under the averages.

25c an Hour or $500 a Year	AVERAGE FAMILY FOOD	40c an Hour or $800 a Year
$166 a year. (That is $3.10 a week, or less than 4c a meal for each person.)	HOUSING	$266 a year. (That is $5 a week, or between 5 and 6c a meal for each person.)
$160 a year. (That's $13 a month for rent, light, fuel, water, gas, etc.)	CLOTHING	$240 a year. (At $20 a month you might find a landlord who would be interested.)
$50 a year. (That's $12.50 for each person, including shoes, suits, dresses, underclothing.)	MEDICAL CARE	$80 a year. (That army overcoat dad wore home from France 20 years ago is still warm.)
$25 a year. (Let's say $10 for the doctor, $5 for the dentist, the rest for drugs.)	AMUSEMENTS	$40 a year. (Perhaps $15 for the doctor, $10 for the dentist, the rest for drugs.)
$25 a year. (It costs our family of four about a dollar just to go to the movies.)	TRANSPORTATION	$40 a year. (A dollar to squander almost every week.)
$45 a year. (Nickel street car for dad alone, twice a day, is $26.)	CHURCH-CHARITY	$72 a year. (You might be able to run some kind of a car on $1.38 a week.)
$15 a year. (A quarter in the collection plate every Sunday.)	PERSONAL CARE	$24 a year. (Not a very good prospect for the Community Fund.)
$10 a year. (Beauty and barber shops find slim pickings here.)	EDUCATION	$16 a year. (The wife might work in one permanent.)
$2.50 a year. (This won't even buy a newspaper.)		$4 a year. (Johnny can't have those piano lessons.)

If minimum-pay workers were able to spend in the same proportion as average-pay workers, rates provided by the proposed wage-hour law would enable them to live as in the chart above.

As a matter of fact, it will readily be seen that the $500 or even the $800-a-year family can spend nothing in some of the categories.

Threats to "Lindy" Cause French Cops To Guard Family

SAINT BRIEUC, France, June 15. (AP)—Because of threatening letters to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh from the United States, French police today guarded a 20-mile stretch twisting along the Brittany coast and northern France to safeguard the flier.

Police said Lindbergh had received letters from persons who believe Bruno Hauptmann was innocent of killing Lindbergh's first son, and holding the flier partly responsible for the execution of Hauptmann.

Actual Warfare Refused by British to Protect Shipping

LONDON, June 15. (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain refused Tuesday to use any of Great Britain's new armaments to halt the repeated bombing of British ships in Spanish ports.

He told a critical house of commons effective protection could not be guaranteed British ships calling at war zone ports unless British were prepared to take an active part in hostilities.

His government, he said, felt it could not recommend action "which might well result in a spread of the conflict beyond its present limits."

Chamberlain warned shipowners to keep out of the danger areas and announced the government was working on two plans to halt the bombings which sank or seriously damaged eleven of the 22 British vessels attacked in Spanish government ports, apparently by insurgent craft, since April 11.

One scheme would involve creation of neutral zones for British ships within Spanish government ports.

Phillips, Coston Let Contract for Grocery Building

Contract for the new brick building on the west side of the court house square was let today by George D. Phillips and M. N. Coston, owners, to Felix Stonehocker of Midland.

The building has been leased for five years to the Safeway grocery store and will be occupied by the firm as soon as completed, Phillips said. Dimensions will be 75 by 110 feet, with first class, fire proof construction throughout, he said. Although the contract price was not stated today, it was expected that building permits would swell this week, construction also having been started by Bill and Ellis Conner on their new Piggly Wiggly store building at Texas and Marienfeld streets. Stonehocker also holds that contract.

Phillips said construction will be started Thursday morning on the new building for the Safeway stores. The lots are located south of Barrow's furniture store, facing east. They were bought several months ago by Phillips and Coston from the I. H. Bell estate.

Arrangements for AAPG Convention Reported Complete

Arrangements for entertainment for visiting geologists attending the mid-year convention of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, to be held at El Paso Sept. 27, Oct. 2, were completed at El Paso last weekend by a committee of Midland geologists and their wives. The West Texas Geological Society, headquartered at Midland, is sponsoring the mid-year affair.

Those going to El Paso were Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hemphill, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Osborne, Mr. Berte Haigh and Mr. James FitzGerald. Messrs. Haigh and FitzGerald were guests Saturday night at a dinner dance at the roof-garden of Hotel Cortez, which will be the official convention headquarters, given by the El Paso chapter of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers. Plans for the coming geologist's meeting were outlined, and the El Paso group assured its full cooperation.

Reduction in Wheat Planting Is Held Up

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Reported rust damage and crop deterioration in the winter wheat belt caused federal officials today to hold in abeyance a drastic reduction in the wheat planting program.

Although the June 1 estimate forecast the largest crop on record, AAA officials said the July estimate might lower the amount considerably.

Bishop Boaz Guest Speaker at Lions Club Luncheon

Bishop H. A. Boaz, who is conducting a revival at the First Methodist church here, was the chief speaker at the Lions club luncheon held today in the court house.

Bishop Boaz spoke briefly on the worth of the service clubs, stating they were rendering a valuable service to the community and to mankind, and that they have broadened friendship and made men more tolerant in all walks of life.

While recognizing the worth of service clubs and fraternal organizations, the church universal has done more for mankind than all these others combined, he said. The church universal is not a perfect organization and many things are done in the name of the church, but with it all it has done more to perpetuate civilization and serve the people than all other organizations, the speaker declared. He admonished the laymen that whatever denomination they belonged to be of some value to it.

W. H. Culwell, in charge of music at the revival, offered several numbers, accompanied by Miss Bea Neill at the piano. Miss Neill is acting as Sweetheart of the club in the absence of Mrs. De Lo Douglas.

Announcement was made the Lions zone meeting will be held here next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in the Crystal ballroom of the Hotel Scharbauer. An interesting program is arranged and all members are urged to attend, officials said. The meeting will take the place of the regular Wednesday meeting.

Thirty members and three visitors, Bishop Boaz, W. M. Culwell and Miss Neill, were visitors today. The luncheon was served by ladies of Valley View.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in this article are those of Mr. Dutcher, NEA-Reporter-Telegram Washington correspondent, and are not to be construed as expressing the editorial policy of The Reporter-Telegram.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The Social Security Board is ready—even eager—to cover 55,000,000 persons under its super-colossal system of old-age insurance.

It only has 39,000,000 such customers now. But the Advisory Council on Social Security, representing employers, employees and public, is studying methods of extending the program to agricultural, domestic and self-employed workers who number about 16,000,000.

All signs indicate that this committee—which Senator Vandenberg of Michigan called "the perfect council"—will recommend in December that Congress vote to include those groups of employees. Recently it recommended inclusion of more than 500,000 workers in non-profit establishments.

To meet the great difficulty of administering old-age insurance for farm workers and domestic employees a system has been suggested under which employers will buy stamps and affix them to cards held by employees, the stamps to be bought from the Treasury and paid for by equal employer and worker contributions.

Chairman Arthur J. Altmeyer of the SSB is going to England to study the social security system there and will give special attention to the stamp system as the British have adopted it for similar types of labor.

SECRETS THAT AREN'T SECRETS

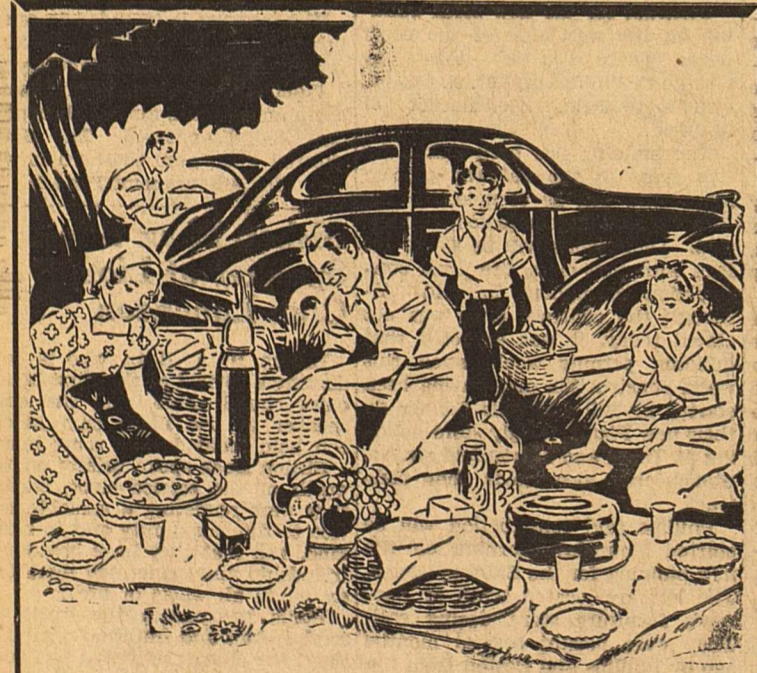

Usually no one will believe it, but sometimes in Washington occurrences which seem innocent and meaningless are just as innocent and meaningless as they seem.

The plan for a commission to study British labor laws was heralded in a Washington morning newspaper as a prelude to White House request for revision of the Wagner labor act. Chairman John L. Lewis of the C. I. O., who had been told the inquiry was a routine

The Town Quack

With all the oil development in counties to the south, west and north of Midland, it seems that there still would remain a big play for this country when someone strikes oil in Midland county. Of course I wouldn't be the one to geologize, but the fact remains that Midland county has never had a fair test. It has been practically condemned for years just because two or three dry holes were drilled in scattered areas of the south and southeast parts of the county. The drillers had a lot of encouragement, even in those tests, and there is a vast amount of the county which hasn't been tested at all. A lot of people will never be satisfied until Midland county is pretty thoroughly explored. Quite a bit of leasing was under way down in the east part of the county about a year ago, and maybe something will come of it yet.

I guess Midland is one of the biggest towns in Texas not to have city mail delivery. In surveys conducted heretofore, the postoffice department turned down the application because the residential area was too badly scattered and there were not connecting sidewalks and street crossings. Much of the area then undeveloped has been built up with good homes since that time. Many were 57 emergency workers listed, 41 of them male and 16 female. Partially unemployed were 138, with 116 of them male and 22 female. Tabulating the totally unemployed in age groups, the report for Midland county was as follows: 15 to 19, 15; 20 to 24, 30; 25 to 34, 34; 35 to 44, 33; 45 to 54, 18; 55 to 64, 10; 65 to 74, 5; not reported, 3. In the list of partially unemployed, the age group reporting the largest number was from 25 to 34, with 44 listed.

NICELY tailored shorts on a ribbed wool waistband are worn over a fitted maillot in the same novelty knit wool zephyr to make this brief swimsuit suitable for lounging on the beach. The draped top flatters any figure, and the well cut shorts will hold their original line if it takes all summer.

There are still a lot of things happening to make us proud of being a member of the human race, for all its faults and limitations.

Feminine Fancies

The English language is undoubtedly an intricate one. The word "pouf" to us had always meant an exclamation of airy scorn—until we recently found homekeepers advised to place a "pouf" in the bay window of the livingroom (or dining room or bedroom). Referring to Webster we found a "pouf" defined as 1. A kind of headdress worn by women in the latter part of the 18th century. 2. A piece of furniture like an ottoman, usually circular and having cushioned seats on all sides. 3. The looped or puffed part of a dress.

Naturally No. 2 is the only definition that applied to the treatment of a window.

Quite an interesting idea, too, that of having a circular cushioned seat with a back rest in the center placed in the embrasure of a window where one may sit at ease and watch the rest of the world go by.

The idea is brought forward from the horsehair sofa days of the Victorian era. Another example of the brilliant moderns finding that grandmother was not so dumb.

One of the things we wonder about is why food always tastes so much better when cooked over a picnic fire than when cooked sedately at home on the newest style electric stove.

Maybe it is what the learned ones would call atavism—a reversion to the primitive days when man always ate food cooked outdoors and was so hungry he had to enjoy it.

For whatever reason, we have found that most people eat more when on an outing than when at home.

Which leads us to remark that it must have been hard on the girls who went on picnics in those by-gone days when you weren't a lady if you did not "dine sufficiently on the wing of a dove."

CARDINALS SPLIT PAIR WITH SPUDDERS; END SERIES TONIGHT

CLUB DROPS INTO CELLAR BY LOSS TO THE VISITORS

The Midland Cardinals and the Wink Spudders battled through two games yesterday to see which club wouldn't drop into the cellar and when it was all over it was the local club that was once more on the bottom—along with Clovis.

But so close are the bottom five teams of the league to each other that the Cardinals have a chance to jump into second place with a win tonight. Should the same three clubs that won games last night, Midland, Clovis and Lubbock, repeat, Midland and Clovis will be tied for second and Hobbs will be in the basement, a bare point behind Wink and Big Spring.

The Cardinals dropped the first game yesterday by a score of 1-5 when they failed to solve the left handed slants of pitcher Lucas but they bounced right back in the game of yesterday by a 9-4 victory.

Tommy Warren hurled the winning game for the Red Birds after Frank Nelson lost the first one. The Cardinals were out in both games but they bunched them for runs in the nightcap. Warren helped his own cause by driving in three runs and scoring a couple on two triples.

The two clubs wind up the four game series here tonight and the Cardinals then will meet the Clovis Pioneers tomorrow night in the first of a three game series.

The Payoff

NEW YORK—Joe Louis may be the victim of fighting styles in his matches with Max Schmeling.

Max Baer stopped Schmeling. Louis knocked out Baer. Schmeling knocked out Louis.

Fighting largely is a matter of styles.

The history of all sports is full of cases where rather ordinary athletes have had the Indian sign on opponents apparently their superiors.

Louis may be able to bent out fellows who would stir up plenty of trouble for Schmeling, yet it may well turn out the Brown Bomber is tailor-made for the German's right hand smash.

"Bend to the right and keep your chin down," the late Tom O'Rourke told Schmeling, prior to his first edition with Louis two summers back.

Schmeling did, and Louis was so confused that he floundered like a novice.

"He fought me sideways," explained the negro youth, after the ferocious Frankfurter had so surprisingly dealt him a savage beating and his first knockout.

And there is evidence that the Schmeling camp is less worried than Louis' about the encore at Yankee Stadium, June 22.

Schmeling Lets Louis Do Worrying

First of five articles on the second edition between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling.

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

SPECULATOR, N. Y.—Mine host, Bill Osborne, who established this Adirondack resort as a famous training camp by bringing Gene Tunney here in 1936, tells you what Max Schmeling will do to Joe Louis in their return 15-round match at Yankee Stadium.

The gas station man asks, "Did you ever see that German look so good?"

You get it in the grocery store, and in the little inn at night. Chipmunks hop out of their holes, and chatter, "Play Schmeling." The pine trees sigh it. Trout jump out of the blue waters of Lake Pleasant, and gurgle, "The Dutchman's a cinch." There are reports that the squirrels of Hamilton county have bet their last acorn on the ferocious Frankfurter.

In other words, the entire atmosphere is drenched with utter confidence in Herr Moxie. There is absolutely no doubt in the minds of everybody at Speculator that June 22 will be a decidedly blue Wednesday for the Brown Bomber.

Louis' name is spoken with a soft reverence. . . not unlike the muted voices in a funeral parlor. Everybody here actually is sorry for the guy.

And speaking to Schmeling himself somehow clinches the convictions of the villagers.

IT'S JUST A BREEZE

With astonishing confidence and apparently simple faith, the Pretzel Pounder tells you

"I crossed the Atlantic eight times . . . traveled 55,500 miles . . . waited two years for this second crack at Louis. You don't think I'm going to lose now, do you?"

"Two years ago I told everybody that Louis was an amateur. He hasn't improved much, but still I can't convince some people that I'll knock him out again."

"Everybody was sorry for me the last trip. The shoe is on the other foot this time. Now you can ask Louis the questions you asked me two years ago."

"They tell me that the poor negro boy is worried. Of course he's worried. He'll never get over what I gave him in our first fight. Fighters can't recover from beatings like that."

makes good in the National . . . something more in the way of evidence that there really is another minor.

Debs Garmis, released in 1935 as an outfielder by the tail-end St. Louis Browns, is the star third baseman of the Boston Bees . . . fielding well and pacing his club in batting with .330.

Garmis attributes his comeback to the switch to the infield.

"You get a lot more action," beams the Texan. "You're right in there where things are happening. It makes you feel more like you're in the game."

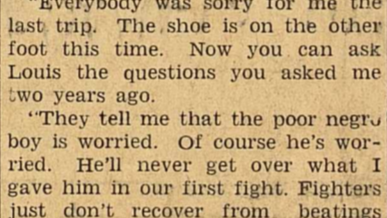

Garmis doesn't gripe about the expansiveness of the Boston National League park, either. The size of this park and the winds blowing in from the outfield handicap long fly ball hitters.

"But I don't hit that type of ball very often," explains Garmis. "I swing for hits . . . not for distance. Short drives over or through the infield aren't bothered by winds and the size of a park."

WHY IS MCGOWAN ASSIGNED TO ALLEN?

It strikes me that the boys missed a point in writing about Johnny Allen.

"I SUSPECT THAT HE'LL SPEND A RESTLESS NIGHT, JUNE 21.

"When we met before, Louis was riding the crest of the wave. He had knocked out Levinsky, Carnera, and Baer. He considered himself invincible. He didn't know the meaning of the word 'feint.' When I first feinted him, he paid no more than a bit of attention to it. All I got was a punch in the mouth in the way of a receipt. Louis believed he had it then. There is no doubt in his mind now."

"I saw the biggest difference in him in the Tommy Farr fight. Farr had little or nothing. All he is is a lunker."

"Well, when he lunged at Louis, and you know what I mean when I say 'lived.' No monkey business. Just waiting . . . for Louis."

"I'm going to be the first man to win the heavyweight championship twice."

The pine cones in the Adirondacks may fall with a thud in the fall, but right now they're clicking like castanets, "Play Schmeling."

The Black Uhlan looks surprisingly good, declares that he feels better, and talks the best fight since John L. Sullivan ankleed into bars offering to whip any man in the house.

Eighty Countries to Be Represented When Rotarians Gather at San Francisco June 19

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — Rotary International's 200,000 members, scattered through 80 different countries and geographical regions, in all five continents, are sending delegations and representatives here for the 29th annual convention, June 19 to 24.

Convention Manager Howard H. Faigner predicts: "It will be the greatest international assembly Rotary has ever had on a large scale."

International President Maurice Duperrey, well known industrialist and official economic adviser to France, will report his observations during the past twelve months in which he covered 40 different countries and 200 cities. He has been received by the chief executives of nineteen nations, and will present "A Bird's Eye View" of the world in his main address at the convention.

On June 18 there will be dedicated one of the largest and oldest sequoias in the Santa Cruz redwood reservation to Rotary International, in commemoration of the organization's services in the interest of international peace. It is a special honor, since only five other trees have been dedicated.

San Francisco's city authorities have turned over the main Civic Center plaza, and the Municipal Auditorium, with its huge accommodations, to Rotary for the full week. The Fox Theatre, seating 5,000, will be used for the plenary sessions in which future policies will be framed. The Civic Opera House and Veterans' Building are also reserved for the international gathering, which will be unique in the city's history.

The general theme of the elaborate program will be the Rotarian ideal of good neighborliness and a better international understanding amongst citizens everywhere, and a discussion of the practical ways and means for "implementing" this idea with useful service in the community and in each nation.

Unusually large delegations have been reported aboard ships coming from China and Japan. Rotarians from South America and South Africa have made more extensive reservations than usual at the hotels. The clubs from Germany and Austria will be missing this year, and these will be the only European countries not represented at this great international assembly which is noted for the influence which it exerts unofficially and quietly in all quarters of the globe.

California was the first state in the Union to take up the "idea" of Rotary which Paul Harris, noted Chicago lawyer, had developed into the luncheon club form, and put the organization on the national basis. San Francisco's Club became Number 2 on the list. Oakland followed third.

Paul Harris, founder of the organization, in a recently issued greeting message, said: "This is a transcendent year in Rotary. The reason is the present world-wide unrest. The air is full of propaganda, skillfully appealing to prejudices. Rotarians, as ambassadors of good-will, must exercise a stabilizing influence. In so doing, we can render our country and civilization a sorely needed service. Rotary stands for friendliness, kindness, tolerance — virtues needed in national affairs. We are entering a period of fuller internationality. We must do so cautiously. As ambassadors of good-will, we naturally align ourselves in opposition to the domination of prejudice and passion, and with the forces of reason, decency, common sense. There is no profit in war, or in loss."

President Duperrey outlined his ideas in the following statement: "The international spirit, such as Miss Richards' latest grip does not concern spills on tanbark from bucking bronchos. She wagered in Greenwood, Miss., that she could take off in an airplane across the runway instead of lengthwise. The plane "cracked up" in a cornfield and her license to fly was revoked for six months.

Steals the Show in Iowa Primary

Polling almost twice as many primary votes as the man he will oppose, in the November elections, former Senator L. J. Dickinson, above, is wearing a big smile after winning the Republican nomination for U. S. senator in Iowa. Dickinson defeated his primary opponent, Representative Lloyd Thurston, by a wide margin. Senator Guy M. Gillette won the Democratic nomination.

Crew Describes Hoodoo Voyage

SIDNEY (UP)—A strange story of a "hoodoo" voyage in a supposedly haunted ship was told by the crew of the British tramp steamer Stonepool on her arrival here from Cardiff Wales.

Several years ago a seaman hanged himself in one of the cabins of the Stonepool, and members of the present crew blamed the tragedy for some of the evil things that happened to them on the recent voyage. One seaman told of seeing ghastly eyes peering out of the dark another of having his hands plucked away from the rigging causing him to fall to the deck and injure himself. Two of the Stonepool's crew, both in a critical condition, were taken to hospital as soon as the vessel reached here. One a Maltese fireman, underwent an operation for appendicitis. When he was taken ill three weeks before, there was no ice aboard to make packs to relieve his pain and he suffered severely until the Stonepool reached here. The other hospital case was an engineer, who was temporarily blind, deaf, and speechless. His condition, it was said, was due to long hours of work in remedying engine-room faults, which brought on nervous prostration.

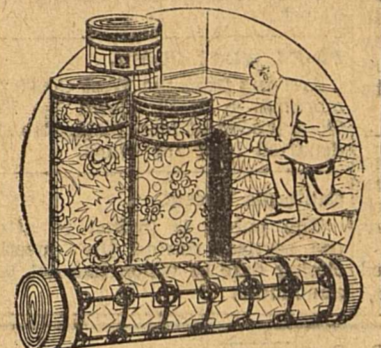

The Stonepool broke down 14 times during the voyage, and on two occasions the danger lights were hoisted while the vessel floundered helplessly in heavy seas. One night the entire crew worked for many hours flooding No. 4 hold to keep the stern under water in rough seas. The Stonepool was in ballast with her propellers racing out of the water.

Plant of Midland Neon Sign Company Does Complete Job

Building a neon sign from scratch, as is done by the newly opened Midland Neon Sign Co., requires artistry, construction, craftsmanship and manual labor, or such is the impression of a layman who sees the project for the first time.

H. C. Kyle, in the sign business here for several years, and his associates have opened the Neon business at 207 South Pecos street, the former location of the Midland Bottling Co. The sheet metal and construction work, including all welding, is done in the shop, also the electric wiring.

A specially constructed truck, with crane, is used to transport the completed signs to be installed for the customers. The complete job is done by the staff and employees of the local company.

led previous opposition to the measure voted for it in its present form. The final tally was 290 to 89.

In the Senate, some southerners questioned its constitutionality but it soon passed that chamber also without a record vote.

The bill would provide a minimum pay rate of 25 cents the first year and 30 cents the second from the start, boards appointed for each industry would study the situation and recommend higher pay levels up to a maximum of 40 cents, if found feasible.

They would, however, be empowered to make exemptions for parts of an industry in which unemployment would result and they could take into consideration such factors as local wage scales, freight rates and the like.

After seven years, the 40 cent rate would be mandatory, except that exemptions could be made upon a positive showing that unemployment would result.

This satisfied the longstanding southern opposition to the bill, which demanded lower minima in the South than elsewhere, despite the fact that the compromise measure says exemptions shall not be granted on a geographical basis.
