'Purge' of Jews Upheld By Goebbels

Declares Country To Rid Itself of Entire Population

BERLIN, June 22, (AP)— Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels Tuesday night put the stamp of official approval on the new wave of Nazi anti-Semitism and roused a crowd of 120,000 Berliners to hysterical cries of "out with the Jews — out with the Jews."

Speaking at the annual summer solstice exercises at Olympic Stadium, Goebbels demanded, however, that the state party rather than "the street" — meaning mobs — attend to solution of the Jewish problem.

"But it is a good thing we now know what concerns are Jewish," declared the small propaganda minister referring to the recent smearing of store-fronts with "Jew" in red paint.

"We will see to it that legal measures are taken so that soon Jews will have gone altogether."

"As far as those remaining are concerned let them remember to keep out of the public view. They are beginning to be a nuisance."

"If the foreign press invokes our human feelings, why we will be glad to present the Jews to them."

"If people say 'Why, the Jews aren't doing anything,' I say they provoke us by their very presence."

The government minister's virulent attack came as the open campaign to drive some 500,000 Jews from Germany had shown signs of abating.

But postoffice officials announced a new anti-Jewish measure. They stated Jewish business houses no longer could avail themselves of the convenience of bringing mail such as advertising circulars to post offices for mass stamping and cancellation except in cases where the addresses were Jews.

Yesterday's order forbidding the presence of Jews on stock exchange floors was reflected in a drop in business.

The German press broke its silence on the anti-Semitic drive. Adolf Hitler's own Volkischer Beobachter declared the campaign was "an act of self defense by the people against Jews who are swarming Berlin, especially from Austria."

It said there was an influx of Jews into Berlin, especially from Austria.

Black Case Is Given to Jury Today

Death Penalty Is Demanded by State Attorneys in Plea

ALPINE, June 22, (AP)— A shirt-sleeved West Texas jury today voted death for Francis Marion Black, Jr., who confessed to slaying young Marvin Dale Noblitt off a mountain in a gruesome insurance death plot.

The jury deliberated less than 30 minutes.

ALPINE, June 22, (AP)—The state demanded death today for Francis Marion Black, Jr., accused of slaying young Marvin Dale Noblitt off a precipice in an insurance death plot.

Arguments of both defense and state's attorneys were completed this morning and the case was given to the jury at 11:55 this morning.

Testimony ended after the state last night had presented rebuttal witnesses, among them Dr. W. J. Johnston, superintendent of the state hospital for the insane at San Antonio, who testified he believed Black was sane.

He said, however, he thought the San Antonio filling station operator was unstable.

Judge C. R. Sutton will present his charge to the jury at 9 a. m. tomorrow, after which arguments will begin.

Black took the stand as the last witness for his cause after the defense, in the face of a signed confession, threw the weight of a sanity plea into efforts to save Black from the electric chair.

The mother and wife of the accused man testified for him, drawing a picture of him as a nervous, high strung young man unable to control his temper or to hold a job.

Mrs. Edna M. Black, the defendant's mother, said she had had a "hard time raising" her boy in Kansas. She also told of the boy's father, who she said was epileptic.

Dr. Paul L. White, Austin, psychiatrist, testified Black was unstable, excitable, of weak will power, and given to impracticable ideas.

"I do not consider him insane," he said.

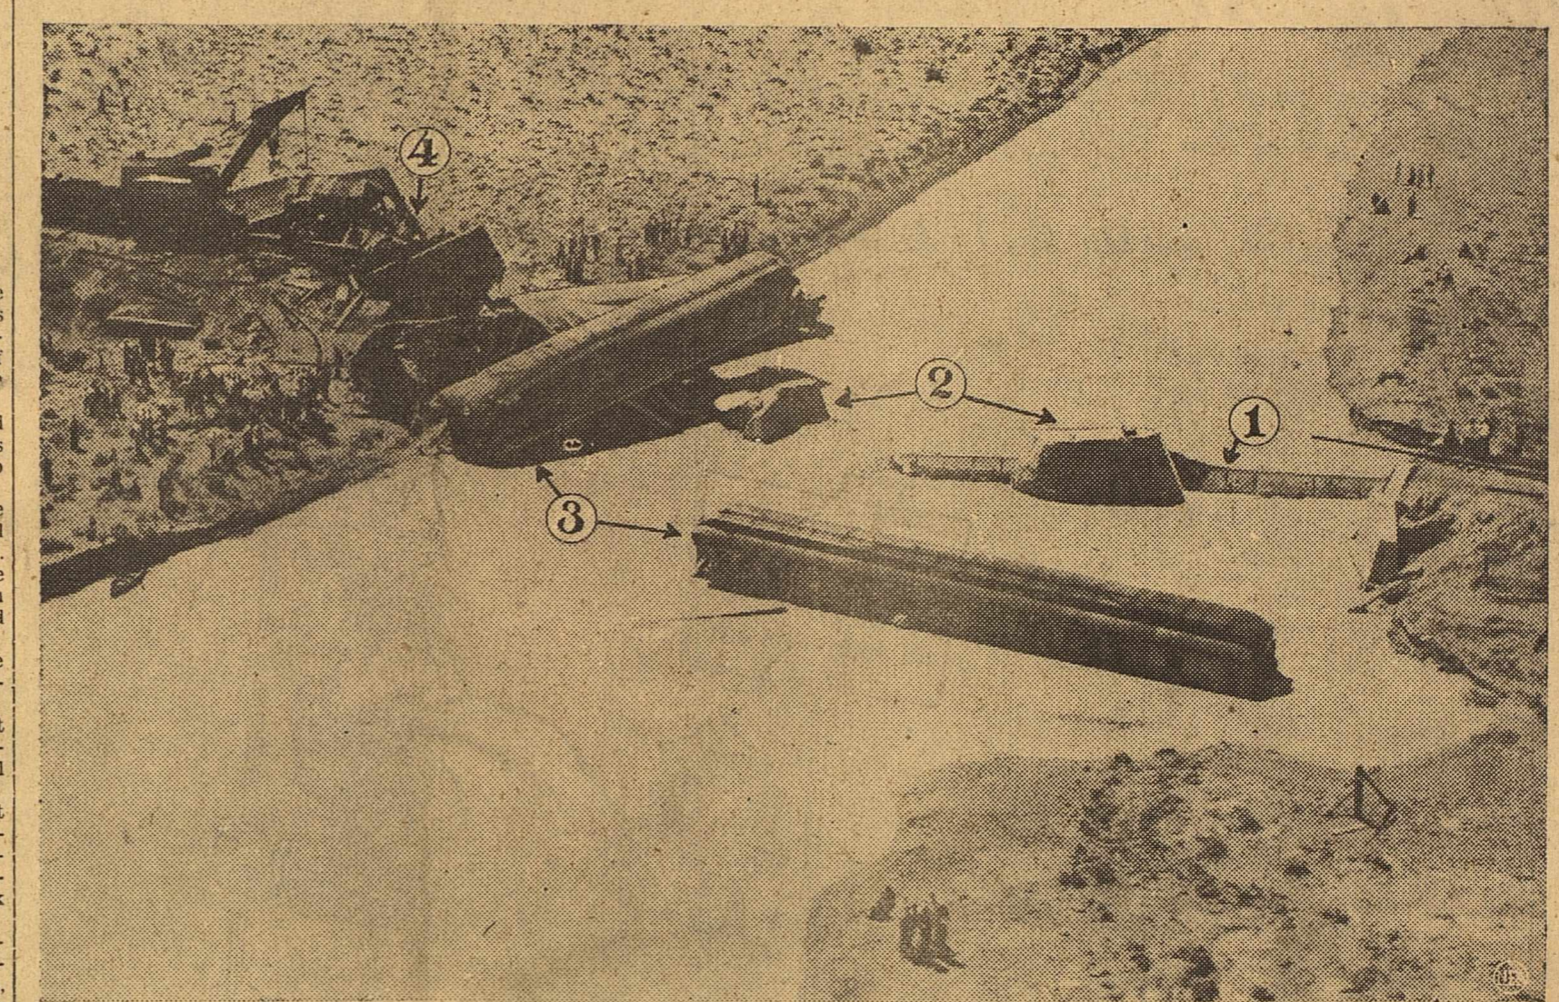

On direct examination Black told how he was arrested as a suspect in the death, and said that he was taken to the court house and persuaded to make a written statement.

He said that District Attorney Allan Fraser told him he might go easier on him if he pleaded guilty.

Chamberlain Says Duce--

Anxious to Put Peace Plan into Effect

Where Scores Drowned as Train Plunged Into Stream

The scene of indescribable horror and confusion resulting from the Milwaukee railroad's crack "Olympian" plunging through a bridge near Miles City, Mont., causing an appalling toll of more than two score deaths, is graphically depicted in the above aerial photograph. Almost entirely submerged beside one of the concrete bridge pilings is one of the cars (No. 1) in which many died. Rescue workers were forced to cut this car open with acetylene torches before being able to reach the bodies inside. Still standing despite the tremendous force of the "flash flood" which swept down Custer creek are the two concrete pilings (No. 2) which supported the bridge. Cars from which some passengers were able to escape are shown (No. 3), piled up on the banks of the creek. No. 4 shows the train's locomotive which succeeded in crossing the bridge, but was overturned and wrecked when the cars behind broke through the structure. The wrecking engine, which pulled the cars from the water with a crane, is shown near the overturned locomotive.

Denies Rome Against Pact With France

No Action Will Be Taken to Protect British Shipping

LONDON, June 22, (AP)— Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that Italy is anxious to put into effect the Anglo-Italian agreement covering Mediterranean issues. He denied Rome was trying to drive a "wedge" between Britain and France.

From Chamberlain's previous statements, it was made clear Britain would do nothing to retaliate for repeated sinking of British ships by planes which the London government believes is Italian craft in the service of the Spanish insurgents.

The Chamberlain statement was made after learning of the sinking of two ships today.

The prospect of curbing or even ending Spain's destructive civil war became more promising than at any time since the first shot was fired July 18, 1936.

Nine major European powers, ending a long deadlock, agreed at a non-intervention subcommittee meeting on steps to remove foreign fighters from the conflict.

Friday the subcommittee will meet again to discuss the cost of the non-intervention plan and a full session of the 27-nation group is to be held shortly to approve the complete scheme.

Britain sought the aid of France and Italy, whose sympathies are with opposite sides in the conflict, to obtain a lull in hostilities while evacuation commissions could operate.

2 MORE BRITISH VESSELS ARE SUNK.

VALENCIA, June 22, (AP)— Two British ships were sunk just outside Valencia harbor today in continuation of a long series of warplane attacks on foreign shipping in the ports of Spain.

The boat Sunion burned six hours before settling. One of the Thornpess crew members, a Chinese, was lost. All the crew members of the Sunion were saved.

The raids brought to 13 the total British vessels sunk during air raids on east coast shipping.

No Wonder He's Not Seeking to Win Re-Election

District Judge Chas. Klapproth is willing to admit he has had a lot of unique experiences during his 12 years on the bench but one yesterday has them all "stumped."

During the divorce trial of a man and woman he found it necessary to have two interpreters—one that could speak Mexican and one that could talk the sign language.

The woman was first placed on the stand and an interpreter that could speak Mexican and English placed questions to her asked by attorneys. If that was tedious, it was nothing to compare with what was to come. The husband, deaf and dumb, was the next witness, and his sister was used to interpret questions to him.

It took just about five minutes to get one question answered, and the system was something like this:

Questions by the attorney were addressed to the interpreter that could speak Mexican and English. He then repeated the question to the sister of the witness and she, in turn, relayed it to him in sign language. His answer to her was in the sign language, she gave it to the other interpreter in Spanish, he repeated it to the court reporter in English and he took it down in shorthand.

Yes sir, it was some affair, but the judge doesn't want an encore on it.

Probe of Politics In Relief Slated

WASHINGTON, June 22, (AP)— An intention to make secret inquiries into complaints of "politics in relief" was disclosed today by Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) of the senate campaign expenditures committee.

He predicted the charges were likely to become a major issue in campaigns this year.

Committee Named to Make Arrangements On Pecos Rodeo Trip

Marion Flynt, chamber of commerce president, today announced the appointment of R. D. (Bob) Scroggs, W. B. Simpson, R. C. Conkling and Roy R. McKee as members of a committee to be in charge of the chamber of commerce sponsored motorcade to the annual Pecos rodeo and celebration on Monday, July 4, the committee, aside from being in charge of necessary arrangements, to contact local business and professional men in the interest of working up the largest delegation ever to represent this city on a similar occasion. It is hoped that between 75 and 100 cars will comprise the caravan. A meeting of the committee will perhaps be held in the morning.

It was pointed out by President Flynt that the motorcade to Pecos will be an excellent good-will and trade extension medium that will result in a much closer relationship between Midland and Pecos. He also said that Pecos has promised to return Midland's visit by bringing a large motorcade to the Midland Cowboy Contest on September 3-4-5. He urged all local business men to make the trip.

The Midland junior cowboy ropers will appear on the program in Pecos on July 4 as a featured attraction, and it is hoped that a large Midland delegation will be on hand to lend them support. The stellar roping team is composed of Clarence Scharbauer Jr., Marion Flynt Jr., Roy Parks Jr., Buster Cole and Billy Wycle Jr.

July 4 has also been designated as Petroleum day at the Pecos show and all local oil men are cordially invited and urged to join the Midland procession.

Rayburn Says Work On Dam Is Scheduled

WASHINGTON, June 22, (AP)— House Majority Leader Rayburn, leaving last night for his home in Bonham, Tex., predicted district ending up within 60 days for the Red river dam at Denison.

He said engineers would probably drill test holes this summer at the dam site but that it was unlikely any further work would be done until congress appropriates money.

Butler Named Zone Chairman of Lions At Meeting Here

John P. Butler, past-president of the Midland Lions club, was elected zone chairman for the ensuing year and Big Spring was selected as the next meeting place at the regular quarterly banquet-meeting of the Lions club of Zone 5, District 2-T, in the Crystal Ballroom of Hotel Scharbauer here last night, more than 50 club members from Snyder, Colorado, Big Spring and Midland being in attendance. Butler succeeds Frank Farmer of Snyder as chairman.

Principal speaker of the evening was Bishop H. A. Boaz of Fort Worth who is conducting a revival at the First Methodist church here, Bishop Boaz basing his brief but highly interesting and inspirational talk on the Lions' slogan, Liberty-Intelligence—Our—Nation's—Safety. The speaker compared liberty in the United States with that in other countries and said that there is no liberty anywhere that will even compare with that enjoyed in the United States. He admonished his listeners not to extend their liberties so as to cross the other person's rights.

Intelligence is perhaps largely responsible for our nation's liberty, he said, adding that intelligence is closely akin to knowledge and that every Lion should keep informed on all current matters. Liberty and intelligence combine to bring about "our nation's safety," he said. In closing, the speaker said, "Real greatness is not to be found in our industries, our railroads or our cities, but in the men, the great men, that we are able to produce. We should make the best men possible out of ourselves."

Joe Pond, Big Spring, immediate past governor of District 2-T, made a brief talk in which he outlined the progress and activities of the district and of Lions International during the past year. He said that Lions International now has over 3,000 clubs with a membership in excess of 100,000.

Activities reports of the various clubs were made by Jake Merritt, Colorado; C. L. Rowe, Big Spring; King Sides, Snyder, and George Phillipus, Midland. The reports disclosed varied activities, each town reporting a gain in membership.

Brief talks were also made by Frank Stubbeman and Dr. John B. Thomas of the Midland club. President Ed M. Whitaker of the local club served as toastmaster, with Zone Chairman Frank Farmer presiding at the business session.

Two vocal solos by Miss Joan Proctor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Proctor, and two clarinet solos by Lion Tom Inman featured the musical part of the program. Both artists were accompanied at the piano by Miss Bea Nell. Group singing preceded the banquet which was led by Lion Tamer Don Gabbert of Midland.

Saturated and Porous Cores in Andrews Test Assure Production

BY FRANK GARDNER.

Production in Ray R. Rhodes, J. D. Tompkins, et al. No. 1 Emma Cowden, southern Andrews wildcat, was virtually assured today as it recovered lime cores showing excellent porosity and saturation. Core was started at 4,160 feet, where cuttings first showed oil, and 18 feet were recovered of a core from 4,160-80. Section from 4,160-80 showed streaks of saturation and porosity. Coring ahead to 4,200, operators recovered only nine feet out of the 20, and the lime was practically all saturated and porous.

Operators announced here this morning that they will pull one more 20-foot core, then will stop at 4,220 and run tubing for a production test. The prospect is located 330 feet from the north, 2,310 from the west line of section 1, block 44, township 2 north, T. & P. survey, about a mile northeast of Sinclair, Prairie No. 2 Emma Cowden, small producer in the two-well Emma pool. The Rhodes, Tompkins et al. test ran higher structurally than either of the Sinclair-Prairie wells.

Olson Drilling Company No. 1 Lockhart & Brown, five miles west of the Fuhrman pool in south-central Andrews, swabbed 30 barrels of oil, cut five per cent with drilling water and four per cent with basic sediment, through tubing in eight hours yesterday. It swabbed 19 barrels overnight, but is still getting occasional slugs of drilling water. Operators said that tubing packer set at 4,530 was not holding. The well is bottomed at 4,584 feet in lime. Owner plans to retreat both upper and lower pays with 2,000 gallons each. Location is 660 feet out of the northeast corner of section 20, block A-4, public school land.

McKee Hits Water.

Forty-one hundred feet of sulphur water in 16 hours encountered from 6,262-6, total depth, in Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-A J. H. McKee, northern Pecos deep test, spelled fms to its chances of developing production from the Ellenburger, lower Ordovician, which it topped at 6,102. It is shut down today awaiting orders. It is possible that operators will plug back and test shows in the Simpson, middle Ordovician, from which the well headed high-gravity oil last winter.

The wildcat, one of the most closely watched ever drilled in West Texas, is located near the Pecos River, 2,310 feet from the south, 430 from the west line of section 24, block 9, H. & G. N. survey.

Wildcat location over a mile northwest of the southwest extension to the Pecos Valley pool and about three miles south of the pool proper has been staked by W. T. "Toll" Bartlett, of Kermit, and associates for their No. 1 L. L. Byrne. It is 330 feet from the southeast and southwest lines of section 26, block 10, H. & G. N. survey. Drilling will start this week with cable tools to a projected depth of 1,750 feet unless production or sulphur water in the low 3,820 feet in anhydrite. Some lime is encountered at shallower

Railroad Not to Blame for Wreck, Jurymen Declare

MILES CITY, Mont., June 22 (AP)— A coroner's jury returned last night a verdict holding no one to blame for the wreck of the Milwaukee railroad's Olympian train while weary searchers hoaked their way through the twisted steel of a sill-filled sleeper in their hunt for more victims of a tragedy that has listed 36 known dead so far.

Two additional bodies were found in the sleeper last night.

While the jury deliberated after hearing six railroad men witnesses, the body of another victim was found floating in the Yellowstone river at Sidney, Mont., more than 130 miles downstream from Custer creek into which the train plunged through a flood-battered bridge early Sunday.

Sheriff Edgar Taylor at Miles City reported a short time later that the bodies of an unidentified man and a woman were found in the Yellowstone river at Fallon, 47 miles east of Miles City.

With the five bodies recovered, railroad officials listed 26 identified of 36 known victims. They named 16 as missing but said some of these probably were among the unidentified dead.

Land Commissioner Visitor Here Today

"Critics of my oil leasing policy," Land Commissioner William H. McDonald said here today, "have failed to arouse serious opposition to my plan to get the greatest possible amount of money for the state, rather than merely the highest initial cash bonus."

McDonald is at present touring West Texas in the interest of his candidacy for a second term.

"My political opponents are having difficulty arguing against two producing oil wells on state lands that were leased on a high royalty and overriding oil payment basis, rather than on a high cash bonus basis," the commissioner declared.

"While they are arguing," he continued, "those wells keep right on flowing with the result that the school fund profits far more than it would if high cash offers had been accepted."

The commissioner, who carried 173 counties while his opponent was carrying 76 in the last election, is stressing three points in his campaign:

His land leasing program in coastal and submerged areas produced more than $2,000,000 in bonuses for the school fund. Millions will accrue to the schools from royalties as development progresses, he states.

During his first year in office his department collected $3,000,000 more for the state than had been received in any previous year in the history of the land office.

The filing, bookkeeping systems in the land office have been revised to insure more efficient service to patrons.

Improvements on the Rodeo Grandstand at Big Spring Started

BIG SPRING, June 22.—Now that it looks as if the weather man has lifted his jinx from the main grandstand, directors of the Big Spring cowboy reunion and rodeo are going ahead with plans to renovate the $15,000 plant for the fifth annual celebration here July 2-4.

High winds in May ripped away a portion of the grandstand roof. The damage was promptly repaired only to have a second gale tear out a section of the roof and stands the next week.

"The wind blowing less gustily, directors feel it is now safe to replace the damaged parts and to go ahead with their remodeling program in anticipation of big crowds for the holiday event."

Robbers Are Sought After Man, Woman Held Up Last Night

DENISON, June 22, (AP)—Officers of northeast Texas and southwestern Oklahoma today sought two men who last night held up and robbed Carl McCraw and Miss Monica Siragosa, Denison, on the Denison-Sherman highway.

An hour later, the men put them out of Miss Siragosa's car near Colbert, Okla.

Texas Towns Among First to Receive Spend-Lend Money

WASHINGTON, June 22, (AP)— The Public Works Administration began its spending-lending program today with allotments of over $41,000,000 in grants and over $9,000,000 in loans for 291 projects.

"Among Texas allotments were: Greenville, municipal building; Eureka, sewerage system; Denton, college dormitories; Borger, athletic field; Haskell, hospital; Houston, recreation center; Ladonia, gymnasium; Lubbock, courthouse; Lefors, Iowa Park and Big Spring, water-works."

AUSTIN, June 22, (AP)— The supreme court made a final decision on Jesse Polanco, Bexar county, today, saying he must die in the electric chair for the murder in May 1936 of George Forbes, bus driver.

many rounds pass by. Anyhow, 1938 heavyweight fighting does not appeal to me. Seems that there is too much interest in the gate receipts. If a fight could be staged where in the winner takes all, the public would receive 100 cents on every dollar invested. Some of the championship fights of the last few years have had more of the appearance of shadow boxing exhibitions instead of battles. But to listen to an announcer you'd think that terrific blows were being struck; and when you see the same scene in a movie the "terrific blows" turn out to be glances off the shoulder. If the boys who control the Garden have any say about the fight tonight, the championship won't be taken across the waters. My 8¢ cents on Schmeling! Gene Howe in his Tactless Texan column at Amarillo has brought up the question as to why banquets are not held at the time when he usually eats supper. He laments the fact that he has to wait until 8, 8:30 or 9 o'clock to start feeding himself. The answer is easy. The extra time is allowed for a fellow to shave and take a bath. The "board walk" at the First National Bank—not Atlantic City—has just about cut the onlookers out of a place to do their looking now. The board fence has been built all around now and it appears that some of the sideline will have to go back to the shower house. New French Rookie Stumps British Sergeant. As Rescue Workers Entered Ill-Fated 'Olympian'

Using acetylene torches, rescue workers are pictured above as they broke into the only coach to remain upright after the fast train, "Olympian," piled into flooded Custer Creek in eastern Montana, carrying more than two score persons to their deaths. The creek's receding waters are shown lapping at the windows of the coach, which still contained the bodies of some of those who were drowned in the disaster. The train, one of the fastest operating on American railroads, crashed into the creek after a sudden flood had weakened a bridge.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed in this article are those of Mr. Dutcher, NEA-Reporter-Telegram Washington correspondent, and are not to be construed as expressing the editorial policy of The Reporter-Telegram.

WASHINGTON, June 22. — Boss Frank Hague has received at least a mild slap on the wrist from President Roosevelt with the promotion of District Judge William Clark of New Jersey to the Third Circuit Court of Appeals.

Clark has been hearing the suit for an injunction, which would forbid Hague to suppress civil rights in Jersey City. His nomination was sent to the Senate at a time when it was generally believed in Washington that he would grant an injunction against Hague. Clark is a Republican and Hague wasn't consulted as to his nomination at any stage. Subsequently it appeared the Hague machine wanted Senate confirmation held up until Clark had ruled in the injunction suit. Senator Ed Burke of Nebraska was the only one who seriously sought to aid that effort.

Ex-Governor Silzer, who came down here to protest Clark's nomination, is a Hague Democrat who owed his nomination and election to Hague, although dissatisfaction at certain Clark comments when he defended Ellis Parker and Dutch Schultz, the racketeer, may have been enough to inspire Silzer.

"NEW BLOOD FOR CIRCUIT COURT." CLARK is a 47-year-old liberal whose decisions have seldom been reversed by higher courts during his 15 years on the bench. The most notable exception was his decision in 1930 that the prohibition amendment was invalid because it had been ratified by legislature rather than constitutional assemblies.

Senator Schwartz of Wyoming, in debate on the truth-in-fabric bill: "Yes, it is quite often true that there will be 30 per cent virgin wool and 70 per cent reclaimed wool in these goods. Let me give an illustration."

Whoopee! Home Was Never Like This!

Having climaxed a 13,000-mile trip from her West China home with an airplane flight from San Francisco to New York, the baby giant panda pictured above, seems to be excitedly pleased with her new quarters in New York's Bronx Zoo. The panda's name is Pandora, and her 38 pounds of liveliness indicates no ill effects from her long journey.

Senator Bob Reynolds of North Carolina: "Mr. President, if the senator will yield, I can give the best illustration."

Senator Schwartz: "I will yield if the senator will promise not to talk about the pretty girls in North Carolina."

Senator Reynolds: "Absolutely. The finest illustration of a finely woven suit is the one I am wearing. It is made in the Little Gem City of the Mountains, Asheville, N. C., where the finest woolen suits in the world are made."

He is part of an infusion of new blood into the Third Circuit Appeals Court sitting at Philadelphia, whose elderly conservative justices—three of whom recently resigned—consistently turned out anti-New Deal decisions, and all 14 of whose rulings to reach the Supreme Court at its recent term were promptly reversed.

Both Senator William H. Smathers and Hague's personal senator, John Milton, are backing candidates to succeed Clark—the latter's man being his own son-in-law and one of Hague's lawyers. Chances now are about 50 to 1 that Smather's choice will get that district judgeship.

HEALTH BILL PIGEON-HOLED. Congress voted for investigation of phosphates, monopoly, TVA, taxation, forest resources, automobile distribution, un-American activities and campaign expenditures. But Senator Robert F. Wagner's bill for an inquiry into the problem of bringing health services to people in cheaper form didn't even get out of the Senate Finance Committee.

NOT MUCH PRAYING. Whether the Senate might have done better with a little more prayer must forever remain an open question.

Any way, it didn't get much prayer. Chaplain ZeBarney T. Phillips, who gets $1680 a year for his Senate work, opened sessions only three times, Jan. 5, April 20, and June 7—at a compensation rate of $500 a prayer. That's because the chaplain prays only at the opening of each legislative day—and Senate legislative days, through a parliamentary device, often last for months.

Game License Required To Shoot Cans in Idaho

BOISE, Ida. (UP)—Tin cans will receive the same protection from the state game department that the wild life does. Feminine Fancies

After months when stylists stressed persistently that three or four colors were the smart thing in one's costume or maybe even more colors than that, it is somehow a relief to read that some of the biggest dress designers are using only two colors in their gowns.

Probably it is true, that everything tends in the long run to become normal. Necessity for having a multiplicity of colors can become as much of a strain in planning a costume as can an overdose of one shade can become boring.

Linen, an eternal summer favorite, is at its best in a jacket dress with skirt of white and dress top and bolero of all-over cutout embroidery in leaf design, each leaf being outlined in red. Collar, revers and cuffs on the bolero and bow at the neck of the dress are of white, edged with braid effect. A red patent belt lends the final bit of color.

A lovely dress and one that will be a joy to wear through a dozen varying activities of summer.

Floor mops are growing high-toned. Or is it that cellophane which started out as a wrapping for more valued things is losing its caste?

At any rate, we notice that various kinds of mops now come, each in its own prim cellophane wrapping.

Just another example of the widening of horizons in the use of industrial products. Once upon a time we thought of cellophane only as a wrapping for Christmas gifts, candy boxes, and similar packages. Then it was introduced in the realm of grocery packing. Now we find it employed for dozens of things, providing an attractive and dustproof container through which the purchaser may see what he is buying.

A New York lighting engineer has upset some of our orthodox beliefs about the psychological effects of variously-colored lights.

Green, which is the “safety” light, we had always fondly believed likewise brought soothing and calm and coolness in its glow.

But no—Mr. Thomas S. Kelly, the engineer mentioned above, says that green has a depressing effect on guests. Therefore, if you get tired of your guests some night, turn on the green light, quoth he, and they will straightway bid you goodnight.

Too, we had always supposed that moonlight was the light par excellence for inducing romance. But Mr. Kelly advises pale orchid lights for the maid who would intrigue her swain. That shade, he says, inspires romance.

We imagine that if Mr. Kelly would distribute advice free along with colored bulbs, he could sell a lot of the light globes in orchid color—especially to young girls in the spring time.

Probably a few young men would not be above purchasing them—on the theory that one shouldn't pass up any possible aid in winning the One and Only Damsel of their hearts.

Rabbit Fever Is Discussed in Paper Read at Program

Editor's Note: The following paper on “Rabbit Fever” was taken from the American Medical Association and was read by Miss M. Elizabeth Wilson, county health nurse, at the weekly program of the Midland county public health board broadcast over station KRLH this morning at 11 o'clock. It is reprinted here for its interest and general educational value.

By W. W. BAUER, M. D.

How do you like your rabbit? Are you a Hasenpfeffer fan who relishes the rich sweet-sour gravy which only an experienced German cook can make as it ought to be made? Or do you prefer your bunny fried the way they treat chickens in Maryland, or will you have him in a pie? At any rate, all recipes begin the same way—first catch your hare.

That's often where the trouble starts. There was once a doctor, with no experience in hunting rabbits, who undertook to tell rabbit hunters that game which didn't show pep and expertness in getting away wasn't safe to handle. He tried to tell them how many yards away a rabbit ought to be before it was shot, and the ignorance he displayed about hunting rabbits was something awful. I shall take no such chances, but be content with emphasizing the caution that a rabbit which is listless is better left alone, or killed and then buried without even trying to save the skin.

The reason for all this caution is a most uncomfortable disease long known to the meat market trade as rabbit fever, and now joining in the scientific name of tularemia, from Tulare county, California, where the principal investigations into its character were made by officers of the United States public health service. It affects ground squirrels in California and Utah, jack-rabbits and snowshoe rabbits in the west, and the familiar cotton-tail bunnies east of the Mississippi. It is also known as deer-fly fever. It is transmitted by the deer-fly, stable-fly, bed-bug, squirrel flea, mouse louse, rabbit louse, and woodtick. Injuries to the skin sustained while handling infected rabbits, or the presence of abrasions on the hands, favors infection. Obviously, the most dangerous time is when the rabbits are being skinned or dressed. Cooking destroys the germs.

Rabbits suffering from the disease are restless and do not run when started from their cover, or sun so listlessly as to be easily captured or killed, or appear thin and in ill health.

The fever itself has many of the characteristics of typhoid fever. It lasts several weeks, is very prostrating, and may require months, or even a year, for recovery. One attack gives immunity for a long period of time, as shown by studies of the blood of butchers who have had the disease; some of them still showed immunity after 18 years. Of course, that is no inducement for having it, since it is a most disagreeable experience. Investigators making studies of the condition have been infected on a number of occasions, when working with infected carcasses or transmitting insects. The disease does not seem to be contagious from man to man.

When the infection has been introduced through a break in the

LOUIS REMAINS 2-1 FAVORITE TO RETAIN HIS CHAMPIONSHIP

MILLION DOLLAR GATE FORESEEN FOR THE BATTLE

By Alan Gould.
NEW YORK, June 22, (AP). — The greatest heavyweight boxing rivalry in a decade reaches its climax tonight in what promises to be a half-million-dollar setting at the Yankee stadium.

The 15-round match between Joe Louis, 24-year-old American negro holder of the world championship, and Max Schmeling, 32-year-old German challenger, may not crack any fist records. Nevertheless it has whipped the fight faithful to a high emotional pitch, created more international sporting excitement and proved the biggest box-office magnet of any title bout since Gene Tunney rode the famous "long count" to victory over Jack Dempsey at Chicago in 1927.

Three million dollars was the goal Tex Rickard nearly achieved, at the peak of his fantastic career as promoter eleven years ago. Tonight, Mike Jacobs, exticret broker who "staked" Rickard for years, will be all smiles if the gross "gate" touches the magic million-dollar mark.

With the advance sale reported slightly over $800,000, the promoter figured to have a reasonable chance of achieving his goal.

Due to the combined influence of the ballyhoo, the current wave, and the fascinating uncertainties of the fight itself, there is good reason to suspect 80,000 or more fans will crowd into the huge American League ball park, paying anywhere from $3.45 to $30 to see whether Schmeling can repeat his sensational 12-round knockout of two years ago.

Louis still was a 1 to 2 shot to win, in the latest betting odds, with 17 to 10 quoted against chances Schmeling would make ring history by becoming the first ex-champion to regain the world heavyweight title.

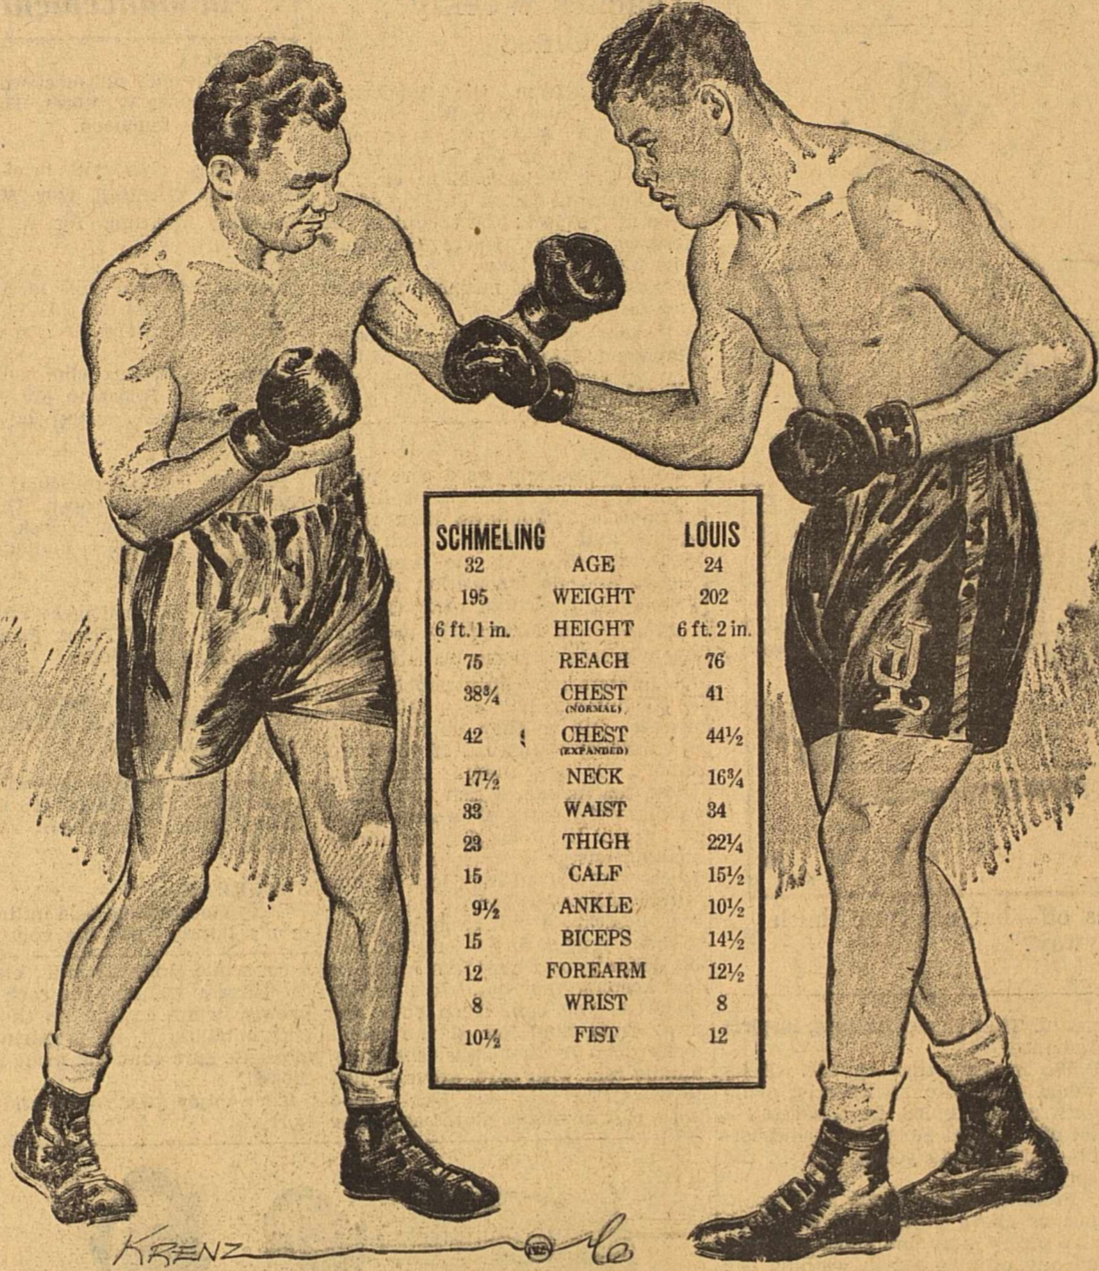

The German was declared champion, by a 2 to 1 vote of the New York boxing commission, in 1930, after winning on a foul from Jack Sharkey at the Yankee stadium. Subsequently Schmeling became generally recognized as world champion but lost the crown to Sharkey in 1932 in the Madison Square Garden bowl.

Schmeling's return to pugilistic heights, after being rated a has-been, is one of the ring's most dramatic episodes, particularly as it was achieved at the expense of Louis. Two years ago the young negro, product of the Alabama cotton fields and the Golden Gloves amateur ranks, was the reigning sensation. Unbeaten, he was the beneficiary of an extravagant ballyhoo and build-up, in the course of which he was described as a composite of all the heavyweight greats of the past.

Then along came Schmeling, the supposed set-up, with a lethal right hand that smashed the myth of the Bomber's invincibility, made the fight experts look foolish and abruptly changed the heavyweight picture. A year ago, Louis won the championship by knocking out Brad-dock, but the negro himself was among the first to admit he could not claim undisputed supremacy unless he turned the tables on his conqueror.

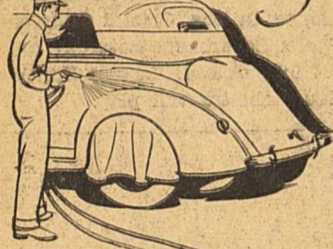

So, to climax a few million words of argument and collect their share of nearly a million dollars, Max and Joe will climb into the ring around 8 p. m. (CST) to resume their personal debate.

Urge Employers Pay Unemployment Taxes

AUSTIN, June 16.—The attention of Texas employers liable for unemployment compensation taxes on their 1936 payrolls was directed today by Orville S. Carpenter, chairman-director of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission, to a statement yesterday by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering concerning the recently enacted Federal Revenue Act. Commissioner Helvering has called attention to the provisions of the recently enacted Revenue Act of 1938, Carpenter said, "which allows the ninety per cent credit against the Federal tax if the State tax is paid before July 26, 1938, and also authorize funds in cases where the tax has been paid previously but too late to enable the taxpayer to obtain the ninety per cent credit.

"There are still something over one hundred known persons and firms in the state who have not yet paid their 1936 state unemployment taxes," Carpenter added. These employers are particularly reminded that this section applies to them and that they now have an opportunity to pay the state tax and obtain credit against the Federal tax."

Carpenter said that all known firms and persons who may be entitled to a refund of Federal taxes paid by them have been advised by personal letters from the commission.

In his statement from Washington, Commissioner Helvering explained that the relief provisions contained in the Revenue Act of 1938 are applicable only to the calendar year 1936.

"In a great many instances employers of eight or more who were denied the ninety per cent credit have filed claims for abatement or refund. In other cases the Bureau of Internal Revenue has information which will permit the prompt adjustment of the returns," Helvering stated.

The Commissioner pointed out that the Bureau probably does not have a record of some employers who paid the full amount of the Federal tax and also made full contributions to the Texas Unemployment Compensation Fund. In such cases the Commissioner emphasized the taxpayers affected have four years from the date the Federal tax was paid to file claims for refund.

Such claims will be considered for allowance provided the contributions to the Texas Unemployment Compensation fund have been made on or before July 26, 1938. Where refunds are made under the relief provisions of the Act, the law provides that no interest shall be allowed.

CARDS COME FROM BEHIND TO DEFEAT SPUDDERS MONDAY NIGHT BY 10 TO 5

WINK, June 22, (Special). —The Midland Cardinals came from behind here last night to defeat the Wink Spudders 10-5 in the first of a three game series.

The Cardinals took a two run lead in the first game when big Jake Suytar hit his sixteenth homer of the season with a man on base. The hit tied Suytar with Stevens and Carr of Lubbock for the home run leadership of the league.

The Spudders came back in their half of the inning, making four runs and driving Tom Warren from the mound under an avalanche of base hits. Frank Nelson, who pitched the Cards to a victory Sunday, took over hurling duties at the start of the second and was invincible until the ninth inning when the home club got to him for one run.

"Red" Roberts went all the way for the Spudders but did not have his usual amount of stuff, the visitors reaching him for 14 hits. Suytar and Ballinger led the hitters, each getting three bingles in four trips to the plate.

WATCH THE COLOR OF YOUR SKIN

A Yellow Tint may Mean You are Bilious and Need Calotabs.

The trained eye of your physician can tell at a glance that you are bilious or, as we Southerners say, you have so-called "Torpid Liver." To make sure of his diagnosis he looks for a coated tongue, poor appetite and digestion. In the absence of more serious symptoms he tells you that you are bilious and need a little calomel.

When you see the symptoms of biliousness why wait until you are really ill? Take Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablets that make calomel-taking a pleasure. Calotabs act like calomel and salts combined helping Nature to expel the sour stagnant bile and washing it out of your system.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of water—that's all. Next morning your system feels clean and refreshed, your head is clear, your spirits bright, and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish and go about your work or pleasure.

Genuine Calotabs are sold only in checker-board (black and white) packages bearing the trade mark "Calotabs." Avoid imitations. Family package only twenty-five cents; trial package ten cents at your dealer's. (Adv.)

Spending-Lending Measure Is Signed By the President

HYDE PARK, N. J., June 22. (AP)—President Roosevelt signed the $3,750,000,000 lending and spending bill Tuesday and asserted that business is not and has not been as bad as a lot of people believed it to be.

The President, at a press conference packed with news development, gave as backing for his statement on business a Department of Commerce estimate that the national income for this year would be slightly above $60,000,000,000. Earlier government estimates were $55,000,000,000.

The President was waiting for the newsmen when they came in. He had a sheaf of papers in his hand.

With those papers as notes, he announced: (1)—That dirt would begin to fly on $350,000,000 of public works administration projects within sixty days, now that the big $3,750,000,000 bill has been signed.

(2)—That the prospect for business during 1938, based on national income figures for the first three months of the year, was definitely improved.

(3)—That he had signed 45 bills and vetoed seven and would act on ten more tonight, but still would have 337 to pass upon after that.

Mr. Roosevelt also took occasion to say that reference to the last Congress as a "disgraceful Congress" were ridiculous in view of the fact that a large portion of the money appropriated was for loans for which the government would be repaid.

Answering questions, the Chief Executive touched briefly on international affairs.

Lehman Announces Senate Candidacy

ALBANY, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—New York's democratic Governor Herbert H. Lehman announced last night he would accept the nomination to succeed the late United States Senator Royal S. Copeland "if my party desires me to be a candidate."

The governor's announcement came unexpectedly within a few hours after funeral services for New York's late senior senator who died Friday night in Washington.

Lehman's third term as governor of New York will expire next Dec. 31.

The stocky chief executive referred to by President Roosevelt as "my good right arm" when they both were in the state service, has shown a coolness toward the President in recent months. This first became apparent when he opposed Roosevelt's supreme court reorganization bill.

The surprise announcement clears the way for a possible wide open scramble among numerous already mentioned democratic possibilities for New York's first four-year governorship.

CANDIDATE SPEAKING.

A carnival ice cream sale, and candidate speaking will be held at Valley View Friday night at 8 o'clock, sponsors have announced. The general public is invited to attend and candidates are urged to be present.

Annie Ruth Long, five-year-old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Long of Midland county, was brought to a Midland hospital late Tuesday for treatment of a rattlesnake bite on the hand. Two shots of anti-toxin were administered.

Where Two Died When Train Plunged Through Bridge

Weakened by torrential flood waters of the Salt Fork of the Red river, the lofty bridge pictured above collapsed under the weight of a Fort Worth & Denver freight locomotive, allowing the train to plunge 60 feet into the murky water below. Engineer M. V. Griggs and Fireman C. E. Burton were drowned. Brakeman Dick Brown jumped as the bridge gave way, grasped a floating log and reached shore five miles downstream. He was in critical condition. The huge locomotive was buried in quicksand and completely submerged near the right of the picture. The accident occurred near Shamrock, Tex., as the train was en route from Childress to Pampa.
