British Declare Nipponese Guilty Of Raiding Ship

By Associated Press.
New Anglo-Japanese friction arose today as British naval officials accused Japanese of molesting a British tugboat, captain at the mouth of the Yangtze yesterday.

The Victoria, under charter to a Japanese firm, was said to have been boarded by Japanese navy men, the captain trussed up, the Union Jack lowered and the Japanese flag hoisted.

Japanese hurled a counter charge today to yesterday's Soviet accusation of violating the Changkufeng truce. Japan charged Soviet violation when Russians started construction of dugouts within the neutral zone.

Russians had accused Japanese troops of encroaching on neutral territory. Both governments announced they would take steps to repel any encroachment, and both claimed their own troops were not at fault.

Intensive Hunt Is Pressed in Arkansas For Hamilton, Aide

DEQUEEN, Ark., Aug. 15. (P).—One hundred officers continued to search a densely wooded ten square mile today along the Arkansas-Oklahoma border for two fugitives believed to be Floyd Hamilton and Ted Walters.

Officers today identified fingerprints on articles in the abandoned car as Hamilton's.

DEQUEEN, Ark., Aug. 15. (P).—A small army of peace officers from three states combed Sunday a 10-square mile area in the wilderness of extreme southwest Arkansas for Floyd Hamilton, Southwestern bad man, and a desperado companion believed to be Ted Walters.

Hamilton and his companion fled to the thickly wooded section following a gun battle with state police Saturday.

Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas officers searched the area on foot and circled it in a revolving cordon of radio-equipped cars.

The area embraces the densely wooded mountain area along the Arkansas-Oklahoma border and the jungles of Coassatot River. The underbrush in the jungles is so dense visibility is limited to a few feet.

Aiding the officers is a pack of bloodhounds headed by the famous Old Boston, crack manhunter of the Oklahoma State Penitentiary.

Captain Cliff T. Atkinson, assistant superintendent of the Arkansas State Police, and Deputy Sheriff Leslie Dillahanty ambushed the fugitives, forced them to abandon a stolen car under a hail of machine gun fire.

Two Cadets Killed When Planes Crash

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 15. (P).—Two Kelly Field cadets were killed when their planes collided in mid-air near Dillig, at the edge of Frio and Lassele counties, today.

Edward Willard of Modesto, Calif., and Robert Whitehouse, Evanston, Ill., were the men killed.

Midland Girls Back From Western Tour

Misses Holly Tippet, Artamase McMullan and Billie McMullan of Midland, Morine Autry of San Angelo, and Mrs. Irene Johnson of Dallas returned Saturday from a 4,000 mile automobile trip through the western states.

They visited Carlsbad Caverns, Santa Fe, N. M.; Manitou, Pike's Peak, Denver, Estes park, Rocky Mountain National park, Colo.; Yellowstone National park, Wyo.; Salt Lake City, Bryce Canyon, and Zion National park, Utah; and the Grand Canyon and Petrified Forest in Arizona.

Insurgents Pound Way to Rebel City

HENDAYE, France (At the Spanish Frontier), Aug. 15. (P).—Insurgent southern armies Sunday reached the gates of Ciudad Real Province, a government stronghold since start of the civil war, pushing their campaign of conquest through Spain's richest mining region.

Two columns bore down on the Almaden mercury mines, their immediate objective, just east of the provincial border.

Forces under Gen. Gonzalo Quiroga de Llano struck east of Cabeza Del Buey, captured by the insurgents yesterday, pushing through Badajoz Province to the limits of Ciudad Real about 15 miles from Almaden.

It's All a Matter of Degree

Smiling broadly, as if anticipating the gage of battle he was soon to fling down to southern conservatives, President Roosevelt received the honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University of Georgia at Athens. Chancellor S. V. Sanford presents the certificate.

Third Roberts Area Well Flows 419 Barrels on 24-Hour Gauge

By FRANK GARDNER.
Gauging of Shell Petroleum Corporation No. 3 Mrs. Dora Roberts, quarter-mile west extension to the Roberts area in Yoakum, was of prime importance among today's North Basin happenings.

The well flowed 419 barrels of 33.3-gravity oil on 24-hour potential test, with gas-oil ratio of 412-1. It had been acidized with 1,500, 3-500 and 3,000 gallons, in successive stages, bottomed at 5,156 feet in time. Location is 1,650 feet from the north and west lines of section 793, block D, J. H. Gibson survey.

Cellar and pits have been dug for No. 4 Roberts, quarter-mile south offset to No. 3. It was staked 2,310 feet from the south, 1,650 from the west line of section 793, block D, and also offsets No. 1 Roberts to the west.

Texas No. 1 Randall, south offset to the discovery in the Walker area west of the Denver pool, is cleaning out at 4,928 following 280-quart shot from 4,983 to 5,130. Total depth is 5,145 feet. Further northeast, Magnolia No. 1 J. H. Lynn is drilling below 4,527 feet in anhydrite and lime.

Gulf No. 1 Lucy K. Moore, extending the Denver pool a mile and a half west, today is running tubing preparatory to acidizing at total depth of 5,100 feet. On last gauge, it made five heads through casing in 24 hours for a total of 171 barrels of oil.

Two more large producers were completed today in the Bennett pool, southeast Yoakum. The larger, Texas-Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 8 Bennett, rated 2,276 barrels a day after shooting at total depth of 5,240 feet.

Mid-Continent No. 6 Bennett flowed at the rate of 2,177 barrels a day for completion at total depth of 5,227 feet. Potential was based upon flow the second six hours of a 12-hour test; flow the first six hours was 711 barrels. The well topped pay at 5,055, found best pay from 5,120 to 5,220, and was shot with 600 quarts from 5,055 to 5,227.

Honolulu No. 6-677 Bennett, bottomed at 5,260, yesterday was washing hole with 500 gallons of acid. First pressure treatment will be given the well today. Magnolia No. 3 Bennett, on the southeast edge of the oil pool, is drilling at 4,210 in anhydrite.

McKee Heads Mud.
Magnolia No. 1-A McKee, while cleaning out yesterday, headed drilling mud for some time. Flow ceased however, when hole bridged at 4,996 feet. This morning, operators were cleaning out on top of liner. Total depth is 5,306, and 154 feet of perforated liner has been set on bottom. The well is in the Imperial area of northern Pecos and is now testing a section of Simpson, middle Ordovician, sand which showed gas and oil.

Texas No. 1-C State, indicating a mile and a half northwest extension of the new university area in eastern Crane, is drilling below 3,303 feet in lime, with 800 feet of oil in the hole. It recovered 40 barrels of oil in three hours in swabbing down to bottom of casing. Hole refilled 600 feet with oil in six hours.

In the Payton pool of Pecos, British-American No. 3 Cordz flowed 252.30 barrels a day after 100-quart shot. Pay was topped at 1,945, and total depth is 2,028. Gas-oil ratio is 895-1.

Wellwood Hits Water.
Sikely No. 1 W. L. Ellwood estate, southeast Hockley wildcat, is drilling at 5,100 feet in lime, making over a barrel of salt water hourly. It topped water at 5,040 and has logged increases.

New location for the Slaughter pool of southwest Hockley is Snowden & McSweeney No. 1 A. A. Slaughter, 440 feet from the north and west lines of labour 74, league 35, Zavalla county school land.

In eastern Cochran, Texas No. 1 D. S. Wright is standing with 7-inch casing cemented at 4,551 with 75 sacks. Total depth is 4,560 in lime.

Osage No. 1 Sun-Miller, in central Gaines, had drilled to 5,144 feet in hard gray lime.

Gulf No. 1 Swenson, northeast Garza deep test, is coring with 7,085 feet in lime. The test is rumored to be drilling now in pre-Pennsylvanian.

Haskell Wildcat Shows Oil, Gas.
T. P. No. 1 Livengood, Haskell wildcat about seven miles north-east of Stamford, this morning was drilling at 1,225 feet. Core from 832-54 returned lime and dolomite showing oil and gas. No test was made of the section, however.

Stole Gloves in 1917, Sends Cash To Pay for Them

There is such a thing as a conscience—and there is a man in Dallas who probably feels like he has a load off his mind as the result of a week-end action.

This morning the chamber of commerce received the following letter:

"Dear Sir:
"In 1917, I stole a pair of gloves from J. H. Barron & Co. Please see that this $2.50 reaches the right parties. I also stole a bottle of grape juice and some cakes from an elderly man who ran a cafe in your city. See that this $1.50 is given to right parties."
Thank you."

At the bottom of the letter, the writer had drawn a crude outline of one city block as he remembered it. With an arrow pointing out Barron & Co. (where Everybody's store is now located), he indicated that the cafe he was talking of was just south of Barron store, past the Hotel Scharbauer. Persons who were familiar with the town at that time declared belief the man meant as the cafe the old Elite confectionery, located in the Hotel Llano, since the Scharbauer hotel was not built at that time.

J. H. Barron died several years ago but his widow still resides here. Operators of the Elite Confectionery in 1917 were said to have been W. S. and M. R. Hill. Bill Collins, manager of the chamber of commerce, said he would deliver the money to Mrs. Barron and to Messrs. Hill.

BULLETIN

EL PASO, Aug. 15. (P).—Arrest of a 35-year-old patent medicine salesman in West Texas suddenly spurred Texas authorities today on their long unproductive investigation of the Frome murders.

Texas Ranger Frank Mills left here for Seminole to question the suspect concerning the desert slayings. He said he expected important evidence in the Frome case by tonight.

The suspect, who gave his residence as Lubbock, was arrested Friday night after three Hobbs, N. M., night club girls had been brutally assaulted. Officers say the man made a confession later.

Gale Blows Self Out Along Coast

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 15. (P).—Cameron, a small fishing village on the extreme southwest Louisiana coast, was safe today following isolation last night by a gale that spent its force over Lake Charles and largely skipped the Texas coast.

There was no heavy damage reported at Lake Charles, and no details of the principal damage, which probably amounted to several thousand dollars, in the Cameron oil field, just out in the Gulf off Cameron.

Nine Lose Lives as Giant Airliner Falls

RIO DE JANEIRO, Aug. 15. (P).—Five passengers and four crew members were killed today when a huge airliner fell in the harbor here shortly after taking off on a flight for northern Brazil.

The cause of the crash was unknown.

Lions, Rotarians Play First Game at City Park Tonight

Take all the radio, movie and stage comedians, mix them together and they could undoubtedly produce something pretty comical—but sponsors of the donkey softball games here tonight and tomorrow night argue that the local shows will be better than any others that could be put on.

The first game will start tonight at 8 o'clock, at City Park with the Lions and Rotarians furnishing the opposition. The game is scheduled to last seven innings but it might be halted before then, again, it might last longer. It depends upon the stamina of the players as to whether the games goes the regulation distance. There's no doubt about the ability of the donkeys to go the distance. They haven't lost a decision all year.

A look at the starting line-ups of the two clubs tonight is enough to start the laughter even before game time. A movie talent scout sure would have a tough time finding any "Greek God" type examples among Jim Goodman, Dr. Ryan, Frank Stubbeman, Clint Lackey, Bob Hamilton and some of the others that will be taking part.

Local bookmakers are ready and more than willing to bet 2-1 that each man who succeeds in getting astride one of the donkeys, after battling, will get off a lot quicker.

Tammany Leader on Trial in New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (P).—With an assertion "this is a political battle," James Hines, Tammany district leader went to trial today on conspiracy charges growing out of the policy racket brought by District Attorney Dewey. Three hundred veniremen were called this morning and rapidly weeded out.

Germans in New York After Non-Stop Atlantic Hop

In New York after completing a 25-hour, 3942-mile non-stop flight from Berlin, members of the crew of the giant German monoplane Brandenburg, shown top, are pictured above as they awaited repairs on the ship before starting their return hop. Left to right: Walter Kober, radio man; Rudolf von Moreau, co-pilot; a New York policeman; Capt. Alfred Henke, pilot; and Paul Dierberg, flight engineer. They made the flight in the all-metal, four-motored ship to demonstrate feasibility of air service between Germany and America.

LONDON, Aug. 15. (P).—Germany's powerful army was drawn up in war-like array last night for maneuvers beginning today as other European nations watched with apprehension lest some Czechoslovak frontier incident produce a lightning conflict.

Britain and France, disturbed by the Nazis' heavy realism, remained in close contact. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain stayed close to the foreign office dispatch boxes.

Czechoslovakia, always in a state of preparedness ever since her army partly mobilized May 21, trusted in the guiding wisdom of her leaders.

Germany's maneuvers along the Czechoslovak and French borders were expected to last about six weeks and Europe was not expected to breathe easier until they end.

French and German frontier patrols were strengthened as Nazi workers by the thousands labored feverishly at the task of erecting huge secret fortifications to protect her western border.

Czechoslovak authorities cautioned restraint in the face of the jittery situation.

The Nazis' unusual ostentation in calling out reservists, mobilizing automobiles, motorcycles, horses and requisitioning other civilian property for the widespread war games puzzled other powers despite German deprecation of their alarm.

The most obvious conclusion was that the tremendous military display was designed for the benefit of Czechoslovakia, in her negotiations with the Sudeten Germans.

Britain's attention centered anxiously last night on the efforts of Viscount Runciman, her "unofficial mediator."

The growing conviction here was that, beyond the task of trying to solve the minority quarrel, the Runciman mission was to point the way for future English policy toward that European danger spot.

Two More Spouses To Midland Rodeo Are Chosen Today

Names of representatives from Pecos and Canadian in the cowgirl sponsors' contest at the Midland Rodeo, September 3, 4 and 5, were received by the chamber of commerce today, the two additional entries bringing the number of contestants to thirteen.

Pecos will be represented by Mrs. Isora DeRacy who represented Pecos in the 1936 show here. Canadian's entry will be Miss Sydney Yorkley, daughter of Jess L. Yorkley, prominent cattleman of Canadian. Miss Yorkley, 16 years of age, is an experienced horsewoman and is quite adept at calf roping and steer riding. This is the first year that Canadian has sent a cowgirl sponsor to the rodeo.

Pecos will bring a large motorcade here on September 5 to further Mrs. DeRacy's candidacy for first honors.

Previous entries in the contest include Mrs. J. Glyn, Hammack, San Angelo; Mrs. Lura Bates McWilliams, Carlsbad, N. M.; Anna Lee Spores, Roscoe; Mary Beth Todd, Water Valley; Madeline Hancock, Roswell, N. M.; Mrs. Earl Moore, Pampa; Mary Nell Edwards, Big Spring; Alpha Mae Stone, Hobbs, N. M.; Mary Anna Green, Albany; Catherine Nations, El Paso, and Mrs. Phyllis Ingram, McCamey.

Attorney Speaks To Men's Class

E. M. Whitaker, Midland attorney, addressed the Men's class at the Scharbauer hotel Sunday morning in a special program. He spoke on "How to Win Friends."

Miss Clea Dee Tate was pianist for the song service for which Sam Midkiff was leader.

The class plans to make a drive for members in a contest sponsored by J. Howard Hodge, theatre manager. Thirty-seven men were present.

Funeral Services Will Be Held for Mrs. Klebold Tues.

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Klebold, 56, long-time resident of Midland who died Friday in a Big Spring hospital, will be held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock in the First Methodist church here.

Rev. W. C. Hinds, Methodist pastor, will officiate at the services which will be followed by interment in Fairview cemetery.

Pall bearers will be Bill Conner, Ellis Conner, Jess Barber, Geo. McEntire, Henry Butler, Warren Neece.

Born Annie Wein in Illinois, Mrs. Klebold came to Midland when she was 10 years of age and had lived here practically all her life since.

At the time of her death, she was making her home at the Midland airport with a son, L. A. She had lived at Sloan field for nearly eight years and conducted a business there, supplying meals to fliers among whom she had a wide acquaintance and many friends.

She was an active worker in the Methodist church and member of women's clubs here.

She is survived by four sons, Gaines Klebold, Amarillo; Earl Klebold, Seattle, Wash.; Everett and L. A. Klebold of Midland; a stepson, Eugene C. Hill, Phoenix, Ariz., and a brother, George Wein, Monahans.

Slash in Income Taxes Suggested

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. (P).—Senator Harrison (D-Miss) said today unless business picks up before congress meets it might be necessary to lower income tax exemptions and increase levies in the middle brackets.

Harrison is chairman of the senate finance committee.

Allotment of Loans By PWA to Be Made On Quota Basis Soon

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. (P).—The PWA will soon adopt state quota loans and grants in an effort to equalize participation in the new construction program, officials said today.

The new step was decided on after recapitulation Friday disclosed the program was 15 days ahead of schedule and the funds two-thirds gone, with a relatively large number of states backward in qualifying for projects.

The quota system, officials said, was being aimed chiefly at slowing down allotments to states which have been exceptionally active until the slower ones have an opportunity to file a fair share of applications.

Administrator Ickes said Acting Administrator Gray would be sole judge of the state quotas.

Officials declined to say which states have reached or were approaching the limit of their quota.

O'Daniel to Make Address Over Air Tuesday at Noon

FORT WORTH, Aug. 15. (P).—Moving into a suite of six offices in a downtown building today, W. Lee O'Daniel, governor-elect, announced a radio address over the Texas quality network at 1245 p. m. tomorrow. He declined to disclose the subject.

Speculation arose over whether he will announce further endorsements in the run-off races or strike a further blow for "the six men already blessed."

Other radio addresses are planned for Thursday and Saturday.

In Longview, A. V. Grant, leader of a movement to draft Tom Hunter, Wichita Falls, as an independent gubernatorial candidate opposing O'Daniel, announced the movement had been dropped in view of Hunter's endorsement of Terrell for Railroad Commissioner.

2 Sales of Cattle Made by Crowley

C. W. Crowley, ranching south-east of Midland, made two cattle sales late last week, it was reported. He sold thirty head of cows and calves and one bull to T. P. Robertson of Breckenridge. Crowley also sold twenty head of mixed yearlings to W. L. Clements of Stanton, to be grazed on sudan pasture.

candid eye fiend could get enough pictures to live the life of Reilly on blackmail funds for the next 100 years. For instance, a picture of a mule riding Jim Goodman, and that is likely what will happen the first time he tries to get on one, would not make very good campaign literature.

Clarence Scharbauer has gained the name of being able to keep up with his own cowboys regardless of whether it was riding broncos or building fences. But we'll betcha' he still remembers the trouble he had in not riding one of the donkeys last year.

In fact, there was only one player on hand last year that did really ride a donkey and that was Bill Epley. He put on a show that would make some of the paid performers at the rodeos here green with envy. Bill hooked the donkey fore and aft and whipped him with his sombrero—only to get thrown out between first and second. But Bill will be the hope of the Lions tonight to pace them to a victory. He is listed as their utility fielder and clean up hitter.

It would take too long to relate all the funny things that happened last year or that will happen this year. Just be out at the ball park at 8 and see the game tonight and tomorrow night. Admission is 25 cents and it lets you in to see either game.

The above "contestant" won't be in tonight's softball game between the Lions and Rotarians, but a bunch of his smaller and tougher "cousins" will be there to make life miserable for those brave enough to play.

And the odds are even that the would be rider will land on his head as he tumbles.

The owner of the mules has them trained so well they mind his every command. But he whispers his commands. He apparently didn't like anybody on either the Rotary or Lions clubs last year because every mule evidently, very evidently, had orders to get rid of his rider the quickest possible. And that is what they did until the ninth inning when the owner decided to let the Lions club win one. He told the donkey in that inning to carry the

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Every Washington correspondent expects everyone he meets to ask—or tell him—whether President Roosevelt will seek a third term. He expects this because, for some weeks, no one has failed to do so.

Dependent (this writer) sayeth as follows:

1. Roosevelt may have said something about it to Mrs. Roosevelt. The only other person in whom he might have confided, Louis Howe, is dead. Frequently he has indicated he prefers to quit after two terms. If he has discussed a third term with any living person—from the standpoint of running again "under certain circumstances"—that person's lips are sealed, and this is a surprisingly loose-lipped town.

2. Republicans, anti-Roosevelt democrats and staunch New Dealers—including F. D. R.'s intimate entourage—believe the President probably will be a third term candidate. This fact is significant and important. It is and will be in the background of many major moves and public utterances.

3. Each of those three groups is sure the best strategy is to ballyhoo the likelihood of a Roosevelt candidacy. G. O. P. Chairman John Hamilton, anti-New Deal Senator Ed Burke of Nebraska and pro-New Deal senators and governors keep bringing it up.

4. Republicans talk up third term because they believe this will incite antagonism to Roosevelt.

5. Anti-administration democrats talk third term in order to solidify intra-party opposition to Roosevelt—or a hand-picked successor—pending the 1940 democratic national convention.

6. Top-flight New Dealers want everybody to discuss third term, hoping what they call "emotional baloney" will be dissipated by 1940. After a period of whooping and shouting they hope, the issue will be considered from a "cold, practical" standpoint and those for Roosevelt now—and they see a majority—will want Roosevelt again.

TEACING THE CONVERSION

The last viewpoint is especially interesting because it's that of Roosevelt's own close buddies. Conversion of this group is interesting. Its members are for a third term, not because they want Roosevelt or anyone else to serve a third term, but because "they see no other way out" if New Deal policies are to be carried on. As they see it, no other New Dealer now has a real shot at the presidency.

Contributing to their "conversion" was the gradually demonstrated weakness of Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, hand-picked by Roosevelt as his senate majority leader and jammed down the throats of senate democrats who otherwise would have chosen conservative Pat Harrison of Mississippi.

Originally F. D. R. and his pals considered Senator Bob LaFollette as a worthy Roosevelt successor, but resurgent conservatism in the democratic party indicated "no soap." Barkley, briefly, a fair-haired boy with the White House inner circle in its search for a 1940 nominee, showed no strength as a senate leader, preferred compromise to battle (he had few troops) and had to be bailed out by Roosevelt in his Kentucky campaign against the more popular "Happy" Chandler.

Roosevelt told his lieutenants to promote Robert H. Jackson, now solicitor general for New York's democratic gubernatorial nomination. But when nearly all New York democratic machine politicians—including Jim Farley—balked, Roosevelt failed to demand their support for Jackson. Whether he could have forced New York democracy to nominate Jackson is debatable. If Jackson had become governor of New York he would have become F. D. R.'s outstanding heir-presumptive.

HOPKINS HAS FRIENDS

Most New Dealers would like to see Roosevelt back WPA. Harry Hopkins, former New York state relief director, and himself 150 per cent New Deal, for governor. That would indicate he preferred Hopkins, his closest friend and adviser in administration ranks, to Franklin D. Roosevelt for president in 1940. If he doesn't, you can make your own guess. Perhaps he couldn't force Hopkins' nomination, although Hopkins would be a strong candidate for any elective office.

For that matter, it's impossible to predict now whether Roosevelt could force his own nomination in 1940. Readers interested in further angles of the third term issue are invited to submit questions.

John Hamilton Is Working on the Same Idea

The Town Quack

James Roosevelt, answering recent charges that he has used his relationship with the President, his father, to collect huge fees and commissions in the insurance business, has made a public statement of his income and a description of his business operations during the past several years, showing that only nominal earnings have been received.

From the "Around the Supper Table" column, Breckenridge American.

Knowing when and whether to say "yes" or "no" is a rare virtue. Our family, for instance, is always kidding us because we apparently can not say "no" when somebody asks us to do something. But her failure to say "no" thirty years ago when we asked her a question has been responsible for most of her troubles ever since. And most of our joys, if any.

We have often expressed sympathy for ministers' sons, because the world almost invariably expects too much of them and is inclined to condemn them for small faults which are inherent in everybody on account of original sin. Now we are prepared to include President's sons in our circle, for they too, seem to be victims of the general tendency of the public to deny them privilege.

Texas Fifth Among States in Percentage Of Needy Old People Receiving Assistance

(EDITOR'S NOTE: On Aug. 14, 1935—just three years ago—the President signed the Social Security Act. This Act probably affects directly the lives of more individuals than any other law ever passed by the National Congress. This newspaper presents below, therefore the second of a series of articles which explain the National and State programs for social security and recount the progress made in their administration during the first three years.)

(By W. A. Little, Director Texas Old-Age Assistance Commission).

Before August 14, 1935, an aged person with no means of self-support faced the bitter choice either of becoming a burden on his already hard-pressed family, or of giving up his home and going to the poorhouse. But, today, in Texas, as in other states, we have come a long way in three short years toward giving a measure of protection to our aged people.

Since July 1, 1936, when the first Federal grant was authorized by the Social Security Board, some 38 million dollars have been put into this plan by the State and National Governments to help the needy aged of Texas.

During that period, the program has had its ups and down; it has been the subject of a great deal of controversy in the legislature; the problem of financing the program has at times been distressing. But, through it all, payments to the needy aged have been made each month without interruption, and improvements in administration have been made until the program is now running more smoothly than at anytime since its inception.

Miss Kathleen Hewett and W. E. Hogsett Are Wed Sunday

In a ceremony attended by the immediate families of the couple and a few intimate friends, Miss Kathleen Hewett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hewett, and W. E. (Bill) Hogsett Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hogsett Sr., were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mills, 912 W. Kentucky, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Mills is a sister of the groom.

Rev. J. E. Pickering, pastor of the First Christian church, read the ceremony before the living room fireplace which was banked with greenery and summer flowers.

The bride and groom entered together. They had no attendants. The bride chose as her frock a street length dress of black alpaca with white trimmings, fashioned with a full length coat. Her accessories were white and black and she wore a shoulder corsage of marigolds.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held.

Centering the lace-laid refreshment table was the wedding cake, placed in a mound of fern and pink verbenas. Mrs. John B. Mills and Miss Tommye Hewett, sister of the bride, presided at the service.

Mrs. Hogsett graduated from the Lawton high school at Lawton, Okla., with the class of 1935. She is well-known in Midland as a singer over station KRLH and has made a number of vocal recordings.

Mr. Hogsett, also well-known here, has lived in Midland for 11 years, being a graduate of Midland high school with the class of 1933. During his school years he was a member of the football team and following graduation attended Texas Technological college at Lubbock.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hogsett will make their home in Monahans where he is associated with the Gulf Oil corporation.

Approximately 20 guests attended the wedding, those from out of town being Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Fryon of Odessa and Harrell Flynt of Monahans.

Sand Belt Team Ends Season in Third Place

Hang Up 20-18 Win Over League's Top Club Here Sunday

The Midland Sand Belt golf team won its final match of the year yesterday by defeating the Odessa club here in a series that had been postponed from earlier in the season, but were unable to roll up enough points to wind up better than third in the league standings. Score on the matches here yesterday was 20-18.

Final compilation shows Odessa winner of the championship with 264 points, Big Spring second with 260 points and Midland third with 252 points. The three clubs finished in the same order last year. Final scores have not been procured on the Crane, Colorado and Stanton clubs.

In the first flight matches here yesterday, Forgeron beat Morgan Neal and Elton Dozier lost to Eddie Morgan, Odessa winning low ball.

Riley beat Hill and Stacey lost to Strawn, Midland winning low ball, in the second flight. In the third flight, Jim Smith won over Williams and Frank Johnson lost to Stoker, Odessa winning low ball.

Midland made a clean sweep in the fourth flight matches to assure their coming out on top when Paul Oles and Harry Sindorf defeated Farmer and Hicks, respectively.

Figures announced by league secretary Pat Riley show Jake Morgan of Big Spring was high point league scorer with a total of 27 points during the year, followed by Shirley Robbins, a teammate, who had 25 points. Riley was third with 21 points. P. Thurman of Midland, one up. Contenders for the title played in a foursome match and did not reach the 13th green until night.

Morgan and Thurman tied for the runner-up position, but on a toss of a coin the tournament chairman, Roy Shahan, awarded the second place trophy to Morgan. Fourth man in the final foursome was Peyton Slade of Dallas.

Grady Kidd of Monahans carried away the championship flight consolation title, defeating E. B. Dozier of Midland.

Old-Fashioned Baker Seeks To Settle Detroit Tigers

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service.

Delmar David Baker, new manager of the Detroit Tigers, is an old-fashioned baseball man who can make up his mind.

"I'm going to pick a first string catcher and the men whom I consider best for other positions that are open, and let them play out their strings," says Mickey Cochran's successor. "We'll get nowhere shifting players in and out of jobs."

Del Baker would like to start rebuilding the Bengals at once, but the athletes needed are with farm clubs and subsidiaries well up in their respective races, and he doesn't choose to hurt them in order to speed up his own task.

"I've handled minor league clubs myself," he explains.

Baker, who caught for the Tigers before the war, says that ball players of today have just as much natural ability as those of 20 years ago, but that they don't play the game up to the hilt.

"When I was managing in the minor leagues, I used to tell the boys that if they did not run out batted balls, or if they missed a signal, they would not be accepted in the big show," he says. "I believed that I knew what I was talking about because I remember having seen players fined, reprimanded, and shipped for loafing or missing a sign."

HEADS-UP BASEBALL DISAPPEARS.

"You can imagine my surprise when I came back from Beaumont as a Detroit coast in 1933, to see how lax big leaguers had become. Now they miss signals every day and do all manner of loafing without anything much being said about it. It's all taken as part of the

"When I played, outfielders backed up every play. Now, partly because of the lively ball and partly because of laziness, they lay back and let base runners run."

"I recall a play at Fenway Park, Boston, that never happens any more. Oscar Vitt, then playing third base for the Tigers, was on second with Ty Cobb at bat. Cobb faked a bunt to draw in Larry Gardner, the Red Sox third baseman, and make it easier for Vitt to steal.

"Forest Cady was catching for Boston. He started to throw, but seeing that third was uncovered, tried to hold the ball. It slipped out of his hand and carried into left field. Vitt, of course, attempted to score, but Duffy Lewis, playing left field, picked up the ball and threw him out at the plate."

HITTING ALONE NOT ENOUGH.

"Players are base hit crazy today. If the average player bats 300 or more, he has had a good year in his estimation. He conveniently overlooks fumbles, poor throws, and skulls."

Baker makes only one promise to Owner Walter O. Briggs, Sr., and everybody interested in the Detroit club. The Tigers will hustle. But he also intends to try to do something about fielding a balanced outfit.

In each of the last two years, Baker replaced Cochran, and the Tigers responded to his command. Baker was offered managerial positions with other clubs, notably Cleveland, but declined.

Though Baker always has remained in the background, he is recognized as a shrewd hand in the development of talent. He has schooled young Tigers in the technical phrases. His signal-stealing that undoubtedly helped Hank Greenberg to gain a place as a ranking home run hitter was a factor in two championships.

Baker spends the off-seasons in the little town of Sherwood, Ore., where he was born and raised and where he grows and markets hops. He has the homely philosophy of the farmer.

A head man, he will be an even greater uplifting influence in the Tigers' morale.

Cards Lose to Hubbers, 6-5

Talk About Vander Meer!

This bird's-eye view of a southpaw letting one go is Howard Pollet, pitcher for the Zatarian Paposes, Louisiana state American Legion champions. Three major league clubs are after his services. In the regional final against Opelousas the youth hurled a no-hit, no-run game, struck out 20, and kept every batted ball in the infield. He has fanned 122 in 80 innings.

Unable to Overcome Early Lead Taken On Watkins' Homers

LUBBOCK, Aug. 15 (Special). — Squatty Watty Watkins, Hubber centerfielder who is right near the top in stolen bases but way down the line in home run hitting, blasted two balls out of the park here Sunday afternoon to account for three runs and give the Hubbers a 6-5 victory.

The Sunday game wound up the series here, the locals coping two of the three games. The Cardinals left here today for Clovis where they will be the next three days.

At the time of the last Watkins blow, the Hubbers were ahead 5-0 and the blow turned out to be badly needed as the Cards started getting to Charley Bryan for a lot of safeties late in the game.

Watkins got his first home run in the first inning to score Joe Gedzius ahead of him. In the second the Hubbers picked up three more runs and Watkins' final homer came in the fourth, all before Midland could score.

In the fifth and sixth, a half dozen hits, including doubles by Ballinger and Pitcher Cliff Neighbors brought in five runs. A double play, Al Carr, right fielder, to First Baseman Bob Mosel, stopped a Cardinal rally in the ninth.

Depressions No Worry To Hairpin Industry

BUFFALO, N. Y. (U.P.)—Depressions may come and depressions may go, but they have little effect on the hairpin industry.

That at least, is the assertion of Roy S. Bain, president of the Smith Victory Corp. here, one of the largest firms in the business. Bain said his plant is turning out more hairpins than ever before, despite the popularity of bobbed hair.

"We are making millions of bobby pins a day, and tons of invisible hairpins," he asserted. "And strange as it may seem, the old standard type of pin is still in use—especially in the West and Southwest.

"Mexicans and Indians are best customers for these pins." They let their hair grow and the heavy pins are best suited to hold it in place."

Weighty Problem for City Fathers

When 250-pound Joseph Unterreiner, shown above with his mother, introduced the "lie down strike," and refused to budge from the local council hall until given first-class medical care, a stout problem faced city fathers of Turtle Creek, Pa., a Pittsburgh suburb. Unterreiner held the city responsible for an injury that incapacitated him 10 years ago, although the state Supreme Court invalidated a verdict of $17,000 in his favor.

How to Keep Ghost In Good Spirits

Everyone knows the common "bad luck" signs—like the peril of walking under a ladder or of a black cat crossing your path. But in remote places visited during his travels, Ben Lucien Burman, famed novelist, has run across even more fantastic superstitions of this sort. They provide laughs in this third of four articles which Burman has written, under the title of "I'm Not Superstitious. But—" for the Reporter-Telegram.

By Ben Lucien Burman.
There's a lot of bad luck always going around. Maybe you're better off if you don't know the signs, because then you don't know what evil fate is in store for you. On the other hand, once in a while it gives you time to prepare.

Spiders are one of the best forewarners of disaster. They write letters in their webs, which if you study closely, you may be able to read. They warned McKinley of his assassination, and wrote a big "D" for "Death" in the webs that they spun around his picture all over the Republican sections of the Cumberland Mountains. One old man I know wrote off and told McKinley to be on his guard, but the President paid no attention.

In 1914 the spiders in the hills and along the Mississippi Valley wrote "W" everywhere, and the war broke out two weeks later. In 1929, there were plenty of spiders that wrote a big "T" standing for "Trouble," but the old mountain people and river people I know didn't pay any attention, and knocked the webs down with a stick. The spiders wrote the letters in again.

If you could get a nice trustworthy spider, it might be a good idea to start speculating on Wall Street.

It's so easy to create bad luck for yourself. If two people make up the bed of a sick person, you can prepare at once to go to a funeral. That person will die. If you watch a group of departing friends, and don't turn away once until they're out of sight, one of them will soon be lying in his coffin.

But all signs don't necessarily lead to tragedy. If you pay attention to them in time.

"If you're a driving down the road way out in the country and get some whiskey with you," says my friend Uncle Jesse, "don't get scared if the reins of the buggy you're riding in starts to jerking all of a sudden, though there ain't nobody there. And if it's an automobile and the horn starts blowing terrible loud, don't go worrying. Cause it's just a ghost wanting a drink.

"But you better git out right away, and pour some of that whiskey on the ground for him. And give him a good drink too, or you'll never see your home again."

"If you're passing a graveyard aching tobacco, and you hear a crying, something like a wildcat off in the swamps, only sad, don't let that scare you neither. That's just a ghost wanting a chew. Git out the buggy, and go to the graveyard fence, and put down a nice big plug of tobacco. Next day if you pass it and look, you'll see it all kind of chewed up with the gum marks of the ghost that's been working on it. And in a couple of weeks or so, it'll all be gone away. You won't never see no teeth marks. Jest gum marks. Cause there ain't no kind of ghost that's ever got teeth, not even the ghost of a dog. I was bit by ghost once, on the arm. And it was like you was being chewed by a banana."

I was talking to Uncle Jesse one day, when another of the roustabouts of the Tennessee Belle who was sweeping the deck, almost touched his shoe with a broom. Uncle Jesse leaped away as though the broom were a water moccasin.

When I asked the reason he quickly informed me.

"Worst luck in the world being swept over your shoe with a broom" he said. "Cause if you do, it means sure you'll go to jail. I had a friend used to kind of carry whiskey for a man when you wasn't supposed to sell it, and nothing happened to him. He was getting along fine. Jest making a heap of money. And then one morning he was going to the grocery to get a can of salmon, for his little girl was kind of ailing. And the boy that was a sweeping up the grocery didn't have no sense at all, and jest brushed him all over the shoe with the broom he was

Snyder Rodeo Will Be Opened Friday

SNYDER, Aug. 15.—Second annual Scurry county rodeo Friday and Saturday, Aug. 19-20, promises to be the rip-roaringest ever seen in Snyder. Performances will begin at 2 and 8:30 p. m. each day. Spectacular parades will precede each afternoon's show.

Cowhands from all over will be on hand to win their share of the $775 in cash prizes and the $150 in merchandise prizes offered by Snyder merchants.

Extra spills and thrills are guaranteed at each performance, since the ever-popular bulldogging event has been added as an exhibition event. Steers for this contest and riding come from Curley Daugherty's herd at Olton. Same wild horses that cut up so much last year will again be in the arena here Aug. 19-20. They come from Red Lyons, Byers.

Added attractions, besides the regular cow milking, bronc riding, calf roping and steer events, will include: Silver King, educated horse owned by J. I. Stewart of Big Spring; John Lindsay, rodeo clown, and his trick mule; and young D. M. Cogdell, local trick roping youth, who was featured here last year and at recent Big Spring rodeo.

At the head of the Scurry County Rodeo association, sponsoring organization, are J. M. Stewart and H. H. Eiland, president and secretary. Joe York is arena director, and Dean Cochran concession man.

Two booster trips to advertise the rodeo have been arranged today and Tuesday by Ollie Stimson and Bud Miller. On the trip entertainment from the loud speaker system will feature string music by the Rainwater boys of Ennis creek. Local business men and ranchers will compose the group.

Today's trip will follow the north and west route with major stopping points Post, Slaton, Lubbock, Brownfield, Tahoka, Lamesa, Big Spring and Colorado. The eastward trip Tuesday will first hit Roby, Rotan, Hamlin and Stamford, returning by way of Anson, Abilene, Merkel, Sweetwater and Roscoe.

Ma Zebra Finds Offspring Real Problem Child

A Ponebra or a zeony? Even the mother zebra shown here with her new offspring is puzzled. Attendents at Cleveland's Brookside Zoo just called it "Whatizzit." The father was a pony, and the strange animal was the result of an attempt to produce a quagga, an African animal believed to be a cross between a zebra and a wild ass.

Play Spot Entrepreneur Makes Bonanza of Back Yard

Jimmy Fede, Newark, N. J., lad shown ministering to several of his younger patrons, is coining money these days as a playground proprietor. Jimmy charges his 25 customers 10 cents each for the right to play in his back yard, and throws in a snack of hot corn, bologna and cheese sandwiches, and soda. No roughhouse stuff goes in Jimmy's resort (his ma frowns on it), so he teaches the boys fencing, makes the girls bring their sewing. Jimmy says rising food costs may force him to increase the fee to 15 cents, in which case he will add meat balls and spaghetti to the menu.

Radio-Phone to Link Hudson Bay Section

MOOSONEE, Ont. (U.P.)—A chain of radio-telephone stations are to be set up along the bleak coast of Hudson Bay by Father Schulte, German "Flying Priest of the Arctic."

The new stations, which will be paid from the proceeds of lectures given by Father Schulte in Canada and the United States, will be at Fort Albany, Attawapiskat, East Main, Fort George, Churchill and Igloo Inlet.

The "flying priest" serves 1,500,000 square miles in the Arctic and sub-Arctic, and the stations will aid him constantly in his work.

Family Becomes Rich On Wedding Day

LOCKPORT, La. (U.P.)—There wasn't much weeping at the wedding of Miss Mabel Trosciar after the lawyer called to say the family was richer by $1,000,000.

Her marriage to Irvin Orgeron, of Lockport, was a simple affair because neither family was rich when the preacher began the ceremony.

MAKES GOOD RECORD.

Miss Mary Adella Kendrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kendrick, who is enrolled as a freshman in Texas Tech this summer is making an outstanding record, according to information received here.

In the speech arts play which is to be presented this week, she is the only freshman to have been assigned a part, other roles being taken by more advanced students. She plans to continue her work in the college this winter.

But the state supreme court awarded the Trosciar family title to 60 acres of land in the Lafourche parish Harang oil field, estimated to be worth at least a million dollars.

The family got as many congratulations as the bridegroom.
