

Frank Hawks, Companion Die in Crash

Noted Speed Flier Dies After Plane Hits Wires, Burns

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 24. (AP.)—Government air commerce inspectors today probed the scorching wreckage of the "aircar" in which Hawks and a companion met death last night. They hoped to discover how the famous death-defying pilot happened to steer into telephone wires.

EAST AURORA, N. Y., Aug. 24. (AP.)—Commander Frank Hawks and a socialite companion were killed last night in a flaming plane crash less than a year after Hawks gave up the speed flying which made him famous and took up "safe and comfort" flying.

Hawks, who for years escaped death in daring speed exploits, lost his life in the crash of a small safety plane which he had said he would rather fly than any other. He died in a hospital in Buffalo, 15 miles away, soon after he had been dragged from the burning wreckage of his ship.

J. Hazard Campbell, of East Aurora, a stock broker who was taking a demonstration ride in the plane, died in the same hospital from his injuries later last night.

The "Gwinn aircar" in which the two men were flying tripped across a group of electric and telephone wires and plunged into a field a short distance from this village.

A few minutes before they had taken off from an estate nearby, a friend had handed Hawks a four-leaf clover with a wish of "good luck."

Horried farmers pulled the two men away from their burning craft but Hawks died a few hours later in a Buffalo hospital. The aircar burned to a mass of twisted wreckage.

A fire extinguisher in the plane exploded adding to the danger of those seeking to aid the two men.

Hawks and his companion were taking off from the polo field on the E. H. Rogers estate. J. M. Gwinn, president of the Gwinn Aircraft Corporation, said.

Hawks was demonstrating the craft to Campbell, he continued. "Wind conditions were against them. They had to take off the long way of the field and apparently they were up in the air before they saw the wires and it was too late to avoid them."

Rogers, sportsman and socialite from whose estate Hawks took off described the crash as follows:

"Commander Hawks landed on our field about 5 p. m. and offered to take myself or any of our guests for a ride. Campbell climbed in first.

The plane lifted in the air and Hawks tilted it 50 feet above the ground to enable it to pass between two tall trees. As he passed out of sight it looked as though he had not been able to gain sufficient altitude and was trying to bring the plane down.

"Just as he disappeared we heard a loud crash and saw a flash of flame from behind the trees and we knew he had struck the electric wires and telephone poles.

"Myself and members of the family ran to the plane and found Hawks inside the burning machine on the seat. His clothes were on fire so we stripped him and pulled him away.

"Mr. Campbell was thrown from the plane and pinned under a crumpled and burning wing.

"Our first attempt to get aid was hampered because the crash had ripped down all the telephone wires."

By driving several miles down the road, members of the Rogers party summoned ambulances and the injured men were taken to a Buffalo hospital.

Both men were unconscious when found and Hawks never regained consciousness.

Hawks Flew Both Slow and Fast, Usually FAST

Frank Hawks, the noted air speed flier who was killed in an accident yesterday at East Aurora, N. Y., was well known in Midland, having landed at the airport here several times.

His last flight to Midland was made about two years ago when he toured the country in the interest of the Will Rogers Memorial fund. Hawks was a close friend of the noted humorist and often carried Rogers with him on flights.

They spent several weeks together at one time while Rogers was appearing in the interest of raising Red Cross funds for the aid of drought-stricken farmers of the country.

Hawks, a fluent conversationalist, made many friends in his stops here. On his last appearance here, he arrived about an hour before he had been expected and explained it by saying "I wish people would quit trying to figure out how fast I am going to fly. Sometimes I fly slow, sometimes fast — usually FAST."

In talking of his efforts to play polo with Will Rogers and others Hawks said "Every time I get ready to hit the ball I have to stop and do something to the horse."

Trust God, Bar Doctor for Son

By NEA Service. WOODWARD, Okla., Aug. 24.—Relying on faith in the Word of God, instead of on the skill of men, the Rev. and Mrs. James Winstead sit by the bedside of their desperately ill son, Carl Rae Winstead. Permitting no sedatives to ease his almost constant agony, they read to him instead, as shown above, from the Bible.

They have refused to allow physicians to treat him, though medical examination reveals an infection that has already paralyzed one leg and hip and is slowly spreading toward the 8-year-old boy's heart. Should it strike there it would be fatal.

County Attorney J. G. Young tried to force the parents to provide medical attention, but failing to find warrant at law for this action, has said that he will prosecute the parents on manslaughter charges should the boy die.

Fifty feet from the boy's bedside, members of the father's congregation, the assembly of God, Pentecostal church, gather periodically to pray for the boy. The Rev. Winstead told the assembly: "I say to the unbeliever, God is healing my child."

Carl Rae averts his own faith in recovery through prayer while a wave of callers and correspondents appeal constantly to the parents, some urging immediate medical treatment, others commending their stand and offering prayers for the boy's recovery.

Sinclair-Prairie 2-B Paul Moss Shows for Ector Area Extension

By FRANK GARDNER. Half-mile southwest extension to the Harper pool in Ector, was indicated today as Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company No. 2-B Paul Moss filled 500 feet with oil while drilling to 3,987 feet in lime. First show of oil came in from 3,950-65, and increase was logged from 3,969-85. Two hours and 10 minutes were required to drill the screw from 3,975-87, and when bailer was run, oil had risen 300 feet. As drilling progressed, it rose an additional 200 feet.

Three miles northwest of the Harper pool, Bert Fields, Inc. No. 1 Owenwood Pool No. 3 this morning had drilled to 200 feet in red rock, using machine.

On the east side of northern Andrews' Means pool, Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 48 J. S. Means flowed 1,651.81 barrels of oil, with gas-oil ratio of 1.165-1, on 24-hour potential gauge. It topped pay at 4,500, stopped drilling at 4,530, and was acidized with a total of 10,000 gallons.

Farther southeast, Humble No. 4 J. S. Means had drilled to 4,030 feet in lime.

Sulphur water was reported encountered from 1,944-50, present total depth, by Olson (Forgeron) No. 1 Lockhart & Brown, five miles west of the south end of the Fulham pool. It is now shut down. While bottomed at 4,780, the well pumped 16 barrels of oil and six barrels of water daily.

Mallett Oil Rises. Gulf No. 2 Mallett Land & Cattle Company, promising a three-mile north extension of the east side of the Slaughter pool in Hockley, had 3,250 feet of oil in the hole this morning as it drilled to 5,028 feet in lime. No apparent increase in oil had been logged below 4,993-5,004. First show came in from 4,975-85. There was no gas present.

Yesterday, after hole had been swabbed down to bottom of casing, balling test was made, and no water showed up.

S. W. Richardson No. 2 Sue Alice Slaughter, extending the north end of the pool over a half-mile east, is preparing to shoot, bottomed at 4,384 feet in lime. It made its first flow at 4,362, later heading 37 barrels in two hours.

Dickens county's first producer, J. F. Morrisey No. 1 C. D. Bird, was shut in for storage after heading oil over derrick following initial 1,000-gallon acid treatment. Total depth is 2,556 feet in lime.

Osage Drilling Company No. 1 Sun-B. E. Miller, central Gaines failure which tripped unsuccessfully to extend the Seminole pool two and one-half miles farther northwest, this morning was pulling 8 5/8-inch pipe preparatory to plugging. Total depth of 5,597, with no shows encountered, was reached. The well ran approximately 200 feet low on upper markers and over 300 feet low on the lime. It is in section 281, block G, W. T. R. R. survey.

Anhydrite was topped at 2,940 feet by S. C. Yingling No. 1 Gulf-Barrier, east central Yoakum wildcat nine and one-half miles northeast of the Bennett pool. It is nearly 250 feet below normal for the region. Yesterday evening, the test was temporarily shut down for water, bottomed at 2,890 feet in anhydrite.

Texas No. 1 Randall, south offset to the Walker area discovery in Yoakum, was re-acidized with 4,000 gallons and is swabbing at the rate of 21 barrels of fluid hourly, 28 per cent basic sediment and water.

Eyston Drives Speed Racer at 347-Mile Clip

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Aug. 24. (AP.)—Captain George Eyston pounded down a measured mile in an estimated 347.158 miles an hour today, the fastest ever attained by man on land.

Failure of an electric eye timing device on the return journey robbed the Englishman of a new record. He registered 311.42 miles for a record last year.

His seven-ton "Thunderbolt" made 317 miles an hour on the outward mile today and officials agreed his return was much faster.

He will probably try again within a few days.

Boy Drowns, Camp Director Shot by Distracted Father

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 24. (AP.)—The Rev. G. Kearnie Keegan, 31, president of the Louisiana State E-n campment of 500 boys, was in a hospital here last night suffering from bullet wounds that Phillips Smith, Marshal of Mandeville, La., said were inflicted by the father of a boy who drowned near the camp Saturday.

Immediately arrested, Murray McGuire of New Orleans was held at Covington.

Dr. H. E. Gautreaux administered sedatives and said McGuire should not be disturbed for hours.

The 15-year-old boy drowned in Lake Pontchartrain, between New Orleans and the encampment at Mandeville. The body was found and was towed in a small boat by a coast guard cutter aboard which was his father to the Bayou Castaigne boat landing. McGuire was reported to have been without sleep or food throughout the search for his son's body.

At the boat landing the Rev. Mr. Keegan was said to have placed his hand on McGuire's shoulder with the remark: "I'm sorry this has happened."

McGuire, according to Marshal Smith, drew a pistol and fired several shots. Elmer Feldner of Houston, Tex., McGuire's brother-in-law, piloted McGuire's arms and the Rev. L. V. Scharfstein of Grace Baptist Church, New Orleans, took the pistol from McGuire.

Mr. Keegan was away from the encampment Saturday when the McGuire boy was drowned.

En route to a doctor, Mr. Keegan, shot in the right groin and left leg said: "I hope the Lord forgives him; he did not know what he was doing."

From his hospital bed the Rev. Keegan said:

"I don't want the man held and I hope no charges will be filed against him. I realize he was crazed with grief."

Shirley Briggs, vice-president of the encampment, said the McGuire boy had asked the Rev. Keegan for permission to take a boat out into the lake, he had been refused, but took the boat, and was drowned.

Benefactors To Get Lease On Hainan

Nipponese Army Continues Move Along Yangtze

By Associated Press. The Japanese embassy in Paris said today the foreign office was "investigating reports" France had made a loan to China in exchange for a lease on the strategic island of Hainan, near French Indo-China.

They said work had been reported under way for several months on construction of a railway from Nanning, Kwangsi province, to the Indo-China frontier, with Chinese labor, French equipment, engineers and money being used.

In Tokyo, a foreign office spokesman said that if the report was true, it would cause a "great sensation in Japan and necessitate taking steps." He accused the French of already furnishing an avenue for shipment of war supplies through Indo-China.

Heavily reinforced Japanese arm-troops reported to have smashed defenses and captured the strategic town of Juchang on the south bank of the Yangtze.

The town was taken after a 30-day advance of 21 miles from Kuli-kang.

Hand Chopped Off, Eye Gouged Out, They 'Offended'

While Harwell and two young step-sons knelt in prayer, the wife read Matthew 18-8-9, and rose saying the hand and eye offended her, gouged her eye out with the scissors and severed her hand with an axe.

Harwell said she hacked thrice, "apparently without pain." Doctors said she would survive.

Harwell is being held for questioning.

Even Dallas Has Weeds

Midland is not alone with her tall weed problem. Even in cities where blocks and lots are developed to the extent of being congested, weeds still break through where there is a crevice.
Witness the following editorial from a recent issue of the Dallas News:
"Each succeeding summer brings its protest against the nuisance of uncut weeds. During the last few days the South Dallas Improvement League and other organizations have petitioned the City Health Department for weed-cutting campaigns in various parts of the city. Something will be done about it—more or less—at least, enough to silence the protest. Next year the rank weeds, protests and half-hearted weed-cutting will be done over again in approximately the same way.
"The damage from these rank growths is heavy in the spread of malaria, increased suffering by hay fever victims and in other ways, but the weed nuisance is suffered to exist from year to year because there is nothing spectacular about the harm it does. The way to control weed growth is summed up in the old maxim that itself probably arose from controlling weed growth, that is, "by going to the roots." To go to the roots in weed control is to go at them early. When protests against rank weed growth are made before weeds are rank then there will be weed control, at least there will be ten times as much weed control for the same expenditure we have at present.
"A potentially "high pressure minority" is the group of hay fever sufferers, amounting to an estimated 30,000 in Dallas alone. If these could be organized to exert pressure they would probably get results. But seemingly, the hay fever sufferer himself has a way of not taking hay fever seriously until he begins to sneeze."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The renewed vigor with which Mr. Roosevelt has moved to eliminate anti-New Dealers from office is attributed largely to Harry Hopkins by some insiders.
From the time he left Washington on his western trip, the President was exposed only to such conservative or cautious associates as White House secretaries Marvin McIntyre and Steve Early, Basil O'Connor, the family lawyer, and young Elliott Roosevelt of Fort Worth, Texas.
The further he went the less one heard of "purge," the more his opponents were convinced F. D. R. had lost his nerve, and the more it appeared the idea of a hot fight for 1940 party control in this year's primaries was all off.
But Harry Hopkins, with a minimum of publicity, met Roosevelt at the dock at Pensacola and gave him a pep talk. Overnight everything changed. Roosevelt immediately started swinging at Senator Walter George, prepared for a swipe at Senator "Cotton Ed" Smith in South Carolina and began laying plans for attack on Senator Tydings of Maryland, Congressman John O'Connor of New York and probably others.

How much of this F. D. R. had in mind before he landed may never be known. But the speech against George was made at Warm Springs and Hopkins was with him when he wrote it. Hopkins' chief argument to Roosevelt for a fighting policy is that the President has nothing to lose thereby, while if he keeps quiet his political foes are renominated, and re-elected without White House opposition.
Mrs. Elmer F. Andrews, wife of the wage-hour administrator, already is receiving condolences from wives of other officials who warn her that her husband's job will be on the biggest headchoppers of them all.
"Yes, I know," says Mrs. Andrews. "We brought along several barrels of aspirin."

'Hoss Thief'

Talks to F. D. R. and Still Smiles

If President Roosevelt gave Donald Wakefield Smith any bad news the latter failed to show any signs of it when he emerged from the White House, as shown above, after a conference presumed to concern his reappointment to the National Labor Relations Board. Smith's term expires Aug. 27. It has been rumored that the A. F. of L. will oppose his reappointment.

Independent Arab Nation Being Built

JERUSALEM (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Tales of the birth of a ghost-like "independent Arab nation" run by chieftains fighting for the "freedom of our race" are filtering down from the Holy Land hills.
These tales are increasing even as Palestine talks of the possibility of a peace pact to end the 28 months of guerrilla warfare between Arabs and Jews who claim this British mandated land as their home.

Some of the stories of the formation of a hidden "Arab nation" are told by peasants who have been captured by hillmen and released. Others are brought back by police or British military intelligence agents.

All Palestine, the stories have it, is divided by the Arab chieftains into three districts—north, central and south—and at the head of each region is a "commanding officer" with sub-officers and a spy force.

Each district has a military court to deal with Arab peoples and with victims of their raids. Civil courts of the hidden nation administer the needs of the hillmen. Verdicts of death are carried out by a firing squad.

A loose military organization has its signal corps, medical corps and commissary. Over the three regions presides a board of higher strategy. Men, munitions, supplies and money are said to be smuggled into Palestine from bordering states, where strategists of the nation are in hiding.

139 Absentee Votes Cast for Election

Atotal of 139 absentee ballots, 125 of them voted in person and 25 through the mail, have been cast for the run-off primary August 27, county clerk Susie G. Noble announced today.

A total of 139 absentee ballots, been expected, although the total number of absentee ballots cast before the first primary exceeded 425. Interest in the run-off is light here because of no county run-off races being necessary. Only one run-off election will be held for a county office—commissioner of precinct two.

Interest in the liquor election

The Jown Quack

Do you remember about the election. It will be held Saturday, regardless of rodeo, ducking tank or kangaroo court. The judges, clerks and all officials have been hired and it's too late to back out now, so they will hold the run-off primary and the liquor election at the usual voting places.

The liquor election is to decide whether you would rather buy your drinking whiskey quietly as you do your bromo-seltzer, or openly at the package store. I heard a man making a temperance lecture at a Sunday school class a couple of Sundays ago, and he said the situation was pretty bad either way.

The biggest failure of the liquor election so far is that people are not worked up over it enough to bring out a big vote, so the Midland candidates for district offices will have a better home support. Looks like the fire siren is going.

Will Chaney, who is in a Temple hospital, has undergone an operation amputating one ear, according to a message from T. E. Bizzell who accompanied him. He is reported doing well and will be home the latter part of the week.

Misses Thelma and Viola Jones, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Jones of this city, have returned from Fort Worth where they were graduated from a business college.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Tucker and Ann, made a trip to El Paso during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Simmons left today for a few days' visit in Denver, Colo.

Miss Virginia Culpepper of Temple is the houseguest of Miss Anna Beth Bedford.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Armstrong have returned from a fishing trip to Tineup, Colo. They also visited Mesa Verde National Park while away.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS.

The most popular form of "government interference in business," is in federal purchases of surplus commodities, lately extended from food stuffs to include clothing. The Millers' National Federation recently issued a public statement urging the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation to "buy up flour "for the needy" as quickly as possible and to buy from the greatest possible number of mills.

"Drinking Drivers" Safety Group Talk

Marvin Park, in the role of the "Old Observer," will discuss "Drinking Drivers" on the weekly safety program to be broadcast over station KRLH Thursday morning from 11:50 o'clock until noon, under auspices of the Midland safety council. He will be assisted by Darrell Johnson and Norman Turner.
"Scientific experiments show a measurable loss of efficiency and judgment even when small amounts of alcohol are accumulated in the body," a spokesman for the council explained. The motorist who is usually careful will, after he has had a little alcohol, do things that he otherwise would not attempt. These facts have prompted the warning: "If you want to drive, don't drink. If you want to drink, don't drive."
The public is invited to tune in on the program.

Mrs. Collins Is Hostess to Party For Bridge Club

Gathering at 9:30 o'clock for a morning of bridge games. Chez les Amis club was entertained by Mrs. Bill Collins at her home, 1000 W. Indiana, Tuesday.

Play was continued until noon when a fruit plate was served. Roses and mixed summer blossoms decorated the party rooms where two tables were appointed for the bridge games.

Mrs. W. L. Haseltine was a playing guest and Mrs. Butler Hurley was a guest for luncheon.

Chez les Amis members present were: Misses W. F. Thurmon, John W. Skinner, Hoyt McClendon, W. L. Miller, S. C. Giesey, Bob Clarke, and the hostess.

YWA Plans for Reorganization Meeting Monday

Members of the YWA met on the lawn of the Baptist church Monday evening for a lawn party.

Various games furnished recreation for the group.

Plans were made to meet at the home of Miss Dorothy Hines, 103 W. Maiden Lane on Monday evening of next week, for election of officers and reorganization of the YWA.

Betty Zane Van Dyke Is Honoree at Birthday Party

Honoring her daughter, Betty Zane, on her tenth birthday anniversary, Mrs. Iva Van Dyke entertained with a party at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. T. Moble, 1005 W. Wall, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Moble and another sister, Mrs. Pat Kelly of Texon, assisted the hostess.

Bingo and other games were played, both indoors and outdoors.

Joseph Earl Binyon and Dorothy Fae Lynch were awarded prizes as winners in the games.

Blue and pink were chosen colors for the party and were reflected in appointments for the refreshment table, which was spread with a lace cloth and centered by a cluster of pink roses. Blue and pink candles were placed at either end of the table, and the birthday cake was lighted by pink candles.

Individual cards marked covers for the guests and individual napkins of candy were favors.

Jo Ann Stanley and Peggy Anderson presented piano selections during the afternoon. Present were: The honoree, Jo Ann Stanley, Joyce Forrest, Gloria Fredregill, Dona Ruth Walding, Annie Lee White, Dorothy Fae Lynch, Helen Joy Livingston, Maxine Neill, Charline Wood, Melba Jean Clark, Mildred Jones, Doris Rae Lynch, Marilyn Van Dyke, Peggy Anderson, Bodie Neill, Ruth Lloyd, Joseph Earl Binyon, Charles Clarke, Richie Clarke.

who have never tried to do it. It is a task that is hard enough to be interesting anyway. And when it comes to combining attractiveness with simplicity, correct coloring, ease of keeping (if it is to be the home of a working girl), and an atmosphere of home-likeness, with a minimum outlay of dollars—well, it is a project to challenge the ingenuity and intelligence of any woman.

Hobbies seem to be practically universal these days with the younger adult generation—judging by the statements of girls who are entering the cowgirl sponsors' contest of the Rodeo to open here Sept. 3. Such diverse interests as knitting suits, collecting horse statues, and clipping for scrapbooks are noted—and many of the girls have not been yet interviewed on the subject.

It's a good thing, we think—this increasing interest in something outside the daily round of work and play. The person who has a real hobby will seldom be bored and will usually be much happier for letting his natural trend of interest have free play in this way. More power to the nooby-horse riders.

G. A. Members Entertained with Summer Party

The Girls' Auxiliary of the Baptist church was entertained with a summer party at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Chas. Skinner, Monday night.

During the evening, star checkers, pick-up-sticks, dominoes, and checkers were played and the girls made candy.

Present were: Anita Tindle, Wanda Lee Tindle, Lena Fay Shelburne, Dorothy Shelburne, Vernelle Howell, Irma Tunnell, Annie Lee White, Evelyn Britten, Patsy Ruth Pope, Jean Ann Preskitt, two visitors, Mozelle Price and Pauline Carr, and the hostess.

Vienna, devised a simple test, now known to practically everyone as the Schick test, by means of which it can be determined in any given individual whether that person is capable of having diphtheria or not.

This was of importance because in schools, orphanages, and other places where many children congregate it is very useful to know which children are capable of having diphtheria, and on the other hand, which are not. Closely following upon the heels of the Schick test came the discovery of toxin-antitoxin which was capable of protecting those whom the Schick test had shown to be unprotected. Within the last few years, there has been available, in addition to toxin-antitoxin, a similar preparation known as toxoid.

All this may seem rather confusing to the average person, because of so many similar names applied to all these products. Yet the parent need remember but one or two simple facts which are as follows:

(a) That diphtheria once acquired is curable by antitoxin given on the first day of illness and that treatment with antitoxin is progressively less successful on each successive day thereafter.

(b) That diphtheria is preventable by the use of either toxin-antitoxin or toxoid. The choice to be made by the physician.

The question of diphtheria is of particular interest to rural people. In the cities physicians and health departments have gone far toward the complete conquest of diphtheria, but outside the cities where organization is not so compact, there is great need for realizing that diphtheria can be conquered. The use of antitoxin, toxin-antitoxin, and toxoid has greatly reduced diphtheria deaths and the number of cases all over the country as a whole. The decrease is more marked in the cities than in the rural areas, for reasons just stated. Quite obviously, a rural child is entitled to precisely the same health advan-

Miller. Cruising the Mediterranean: An excellent piece of collaboration by two famous travelers who know how to extract the most from their own travel experiences, and how to lead others into similarly enriching ones. Based on 80,000 miles of travel in the past ten years, it contains far more of human interest, color and culture than anyone has before attempted to give in one volume.

Fish. Invitation to Travel: This is a travel book different from any existing guide or book of travel description. Beginning with a practical and delightful discussion of the state of mind and spirit that makes for successful traveling, the author then gives three complete itineraries, for a month each in England, in France, and in Italy.

Horn. The Hermitage: A comprehensive, detailed and authoritative book about the home and home life of General Jackson. Mr. Horn describes the house and the history of its construction, giving a striking and interesting picture of the construction methods of the time. Of particular interest is the description of plantation life at the Hermitage during General Jackson's life.

Loewenstein. Conquest of the Past: Hubertus Zu Loewenstein, the famous "Red Prince," direct descendant of twelve Roman-German emperors, was born in the ancient family castle of Schoenwerth, in the Austrian Tyrol. From a childhood spent in the strict, unchanging atmosphere of a feudal kingdom, through the years of doubt and chaos of the Great War, the narrative rises to a climax in those last desperate days before Hitler took over supreme power, when the prince staked his life in fighting the Brown Shirt troopers who were determined to drown in blood all opposition to Nazi rule.

Schwartz. Story of Musical Instruments: This is an interesting story of the sixteenth-century evolution of musical instruments. The author elaborates his theme with pertinent stories and incidents and draws into such chapters as those on the saxophone and trombone much modern jazz orchestra history of the sixteenth-century evolution about instruments never before adequately chronicled. Mr. Schwartz enlivens his subject with a quiet wit which keeps the book fascinating throughout to the listener, the composer, and the musician.

Rural Schools of Martin County Open

STANTON, Aug. 24. (Special).—With August drawing to a close, schools are again the center of interest in Martin county. Rural schools have announced opening dates, several setting dates several weeks early in order to close for the cotton picking season.

The Courtney independent school, one of the largest in the county, opened its doors Monday morning, for a six weeks session before closing for cotton picking. Other schools opening Monday were South Plains, in the Tarzan community, Wolcott, and Lenoah. The Valley View and Budget schools opened Monday Aug. 15. Pleasant Valley will open Aug. 29.

Three of the county schools have recently consolidated to make one large independent school district. They are Three League, Flower Grove and Loyola. Plans are being drawn for a large modern school plant to house the new school, which is to be called Flower Grove. It will be located in the Loyola community. The combined old buildings will be used until the larger unit is ready. Opening date has been set for September 5. Others schools to open on that date are Merrick, Brown and Goldsmith.

FEMININE FANCIES

By KATHLEEN EILAND
Practicality in compact form would seem to be the characteristic of an electric cooker recently noticed. Not much larger than a good-sized water pail, the cooker may be used for preparing foods with little attention during the cooking time. No more water than is desired for serving should be used as it does not evaporate. The cooker is designed to be used at various heats.

But convenience in actual cooking is not the trump card of this piece of kitchen equipment. That comes in the fact that the cooker doubles for a thermos jug by keeping things hot or cold, and because of its size may go gaily along on picnic expeditions or motor trips.

A new twist to serving canned pork and beans is to prepare them in salad style by adding grated onion, cheese, and apple to taste.

Somebody has been doing some clever advertising for the cigarette companies. Recently we discussed a bangle bracelet featuring replicas of packages of famous brands of cigarettes.

Now comes the "cigarette dress"—by which we mean the gray-and-red checked sports frock of celanese, which boasts buttons down the blouse front and cuff links on the short sleeves which are miniature representations of a certain well-publicized brand of cigarettes.

One of the most fascinating things we know of is the task of trying to make a home or apartment attractive on a slim budget. We recommend it for a new thrill to people

On the political "march through Georgia" in which he sought the political defeat of Senator Walter George and election of his opponent, Lawrence Camp, President Roosevelt got a rousing welcome at his "second home," Warm Springs. "JAKE SUYTAR NIGHT" AT CITY PARK TONIGHT; WINK HERE

BIG FIRST BASEMAN WILL PLAY EACH POSITION DURING GAME WITH SPUDS

The Midland Cardinals, gone from home since August 12, return home tonight for the first of a three-game series with the fourth place Wink Spudders.

Tonight will be Jake Suytar Night, and honor will be paid the elongated first baseman who has had a prominent part in keeping the Cardinals near the top all year with his powerful hitting.

Suytar will play every position on the field tonight starting on the mound and moving around as the game advances. Already this year he has participated in a couple of games behind the bat for the Cardinals but all the rest of the time has been spent at the initial sack.

The Cardinals already have a place in the play-off cinched and will meet the Clovis Pioneers in a best three out of five games series. The winner will then meet the winner of the play-off between Lubbock and Wink or Big Spring.

Right now, Wink is two games and a half ahead of the Big Spring club and will be hearing down in the series here in an effort to keep ahead. Should the Spudders win all three of the games here they would be a cinch to come in ahead of the Big Spring club.

The Cardinals lost their final game in Big Spring last night when they were on the short end of a 6-0 score. Johnny Soden, Baron curve ball artist, limited the Cards one hit and was never in trouble. Meanwhile, the Earons were getting to Franklin and Beers for an even dozen hits and half as many runs.

Auto-Minded Nazis Flock To Buy "Baby Hitlers"

By NEA Service.

BERLIN. — On New Year's Day, 1940, Fritz, Mrs. Fritz and Hans, Johann and Adolf Fritz will get into their shiny new Volkswagens, start the motor and go for a spin on one of Germany's highways. Simultaneously, other Fritz's, on families, will do the same thing. And as 1940 progresses, thousands of good Germans will proudly begin driving their own cars.

For Germany has launched on what may very well prove to be the important achievement of Hitlerism—making available low-cost cars for people to whom automotive travel was formerly out of the question.

At Pfullersleben, one of the largest factories in the world is already under construction. When completed it will turn out approximately 1,500,000 Volkswagens or "people's cars" a year. The Nazi gasoline wagons which are also known to Fritz and his fellows as "Baby Hitlers" and "Strength Through Joy Autos," will cost 990 marks or about $400 in American money.

And, although the first of these cars won't roll off the assembly line until the end of 1939, good Fritz by the thousands is already paying for his Volkswagens at the rate of 5 marks a week. He is also paying 1 mark a week for insurance and a small extra charge which will entitle him to quarterly overhauls and garage service. At this installment rate, Fritz will have paid for his gas buggy in a little under four years.

But Fritz can't get his Volkswagen until he has paid the purchase price in full. In the meantime, the government will have the use of millions of marks paid in by the people. Nominally, these funds are supposed to go into construction of the factory and the 20 villages which will surround the plant and house approximately 120,000 Volkswagen workers, and into working capital for automobile production. But they can also go into military uses if Hitler is so minded.

For his $400 and some, the German purchaser will receive a car whose body is made of plastic materials. Plastics are handsome but not very good protection against smash-ups. It is true that Germany has a low accident record. The tires on the Volkswagens will be of "buna", the artificial rubber developed by Germany's great substitute industry, the seats of artificial leather, the tires casings of artificial silk.

They are in America. For the average wages of 97 per cent of the population does not exceed $100 a month, and 5 marks a week comes to about $10 monthly.

American Pilot of Chinese Plane Is Forced Down Today

HONG KONG, Aug. 24. (P).—An American pilot of a China National Aviation Corporation airplane reported today Japanese warplanes had forced the plane to land on a river near Canton and had machine gunned it, killing and wounding at least 14 of the 17 passengers aboard.

H. Woods, Hays, Kansas, pilot, reached Macao unhurt. All others aboard the plane were Chinese. Several were missing.

The Japanese were believed to have been seeking to kill Dr. Sun Fo, head of China's legislative council, who had just returned from Europe where he attempted to enlist Soviet and other foreign aid.

He had cancelled earlier reservations aboard the plane.

Ex-Gangster Says Hines Took Bribe

NEW YORK, Aug. 24. (P).—George Weinberg, a soft-spoken ex-convict of 37 who quit a dubious career of petty gambling to share the riches offered by Dutch Schultz, accused James J. Hines, veteran Tammany district leader, of accepting $500 a week or more to protect the slain gangster's $200,000 Harlem policy racket.

Imperturbably, Weinberg said he personally paid Hines the money, sometimes at Hines' own home, sometimes on the sidewalk outside, and in return saw Hines keep a promise that police raids would drop off and that the few racket cases which reached court would be "taken care of."

The Tammany district leader, charged with conspiracy and continuing a lottery, even managed to "break" six police officers who persisted in raiding the policy combination's "banks" and "drop stations," Weinberg testified.

Weinberg, under the gentle prodding of District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, named Magistrate Hulon
