Crime and Punishment

Does it not seem strange that after thousands of years of civilization, crime is still so prevalent?

One of man's important preoccupations during all those centuries has been to devise means of breaking up crime, and yet his success has been small indeed. There are still many who will kill and rob and injure.

Altogether, the record doesn't speak any too well for the means taken to eliminate crime. That gives point to a recent speech of Judge Atwell Westwick before the National Probation Association. Judge Westwick is on the bench of the Superior and Juvenile Court of Santa Barbara, Calif. He delivered a stirring indictment of "the nonsense, sophistry and cruelty which characterize our traditional legal system."

He began with an interesting definition of crime: "The expression in social life of the physical and social environments playing upon a personality which is essentially abnormal or unusual, by reason of heredity, disease, or development."

Obviously, if that is a good definition of crime, then punishment in the sense of the state's revenge for an act of willful hostility to society, is of no use. In fact, it is hard to get around Judge Westwick's assertion that "however ingenious and inhuman the penalties, the number of offenders seems never to have decreased."

This humane judge, from long experience in juvenile work, believes that the concept of a juvenile court, where medicine, biology, sociology, psychology, psychiatry, and psycho-analysis can all work side by side to effect a cure rather than punishment, might be extended into broader fields of crime work.

We are certainly tending in that direction. The state now sends a man to prison, not to "get back at him" for something he has done, but to try to straighten him out, or at least to keep him out of contact with his fellow-men during a period when it seems likely that he would repeat the offense.

A civilization may be measured by the kind of anti-crime measures it adopts. A crude state of society always adopts crude and savage revenge methods with ruthless punishment for the detected criminal. As it moves toward civilization, the aim must always be, not punishment, but achievement of a state of mental and physical health in which future crime is made less likely.

The Westwicks are pioneers in whose trail society follows as fast as its stumbling steps permit.

Trailing the Trailers

Ever since the invention of the auto-trailer, local laws and regulations have been trying to catch up with it.

Four new court decisions, according to the American Society of Planning Officials, have helped to clarify the problems which have grown up around the trailer.

The Indiana Supreme Court, for instance, has held that cities have a legal right to limit the stay of trailers within their limits, even though parked on private land. This, the court held, was a reasonable exercise of the police power to protect the lives, health, and property of citizens.

A Michigan justice court decision made trailers subject to local housing acts.

New York state's Supreme Court ruled that a portable "trailer" lunch-wagon set up on a foundation and connected with electricity is taxable as real property.

A U. S. district court in Texas ruled in an insurance case that a trailer detached from its auto is a building for legal purposes.

Thus the laws, freedom from which was one of the attractions of "trailing", are beginning to catch up with the trailers.

One More Warning

Every thinking person knows that the armament race is dragging the peoples of the world down to poverty and degradation. People feel this instinctively, their common sense tells them that this stupendous waste of energy and materials can not go on forever.

Not enough of the responsible people of the world, those who should know the truth of the arms situation from facts and not from instinct, have been willing to speak. It is encouraging when one does so.

John G. Winant, director of the International Labor Office, once governor of New Hampshire, is one who speaks. In a blunt foreword to his forthcoming report as director, Winant warns that this mad race will soon absorb so much of the national income of many countries "as will prove intolerable."

He outlines the dragging losses incident to vast armaments, and then notes that "as these manifestations are prolonged, they become steadily aggravated and the wastage they involve is not very different from that which would be produced by war itself."

It is true, as every man knows. When then, will statesmen also realize it, and by some international action do something about it?

Life Is De Luxe On Work Train

MILWAUKEE (UP)—A de luxe train for work gangs is the latest innovation in modern railroading. Eighteen branch line coaches have been converted by the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad into quarters for a maintenance crew. With all the conveniences of home they put the former "sidedoor pullmans" to shame.

Hoboes who joined the road crews every spring long enough to get a couple of "squares" and then departed will even have to polish up on their table manners.

They will be served by white-jacketed waiters, oilcloth will cover the table and there'll be napkins—paper ones and big, but nevertheless napkins. Regular china plates, with cups and saucers and stainless steel knives, forks and spoons are also part of the equipment.

The cars have been painted yellow inside with white enamel ceilings, running water and a shower bath. Workers will sleep on double-decker steel bunks with mattresses five inches thick, while the "high-croops" will have hospital beds. One car has been converted into a white-enamelled kitchen with great stoves, refrigerator and vermin-proof cupboards. The men may buy chewing tobacco, corn-cob pipes, snuff and other things at a canteen.

The de luxe train accommodates 125 men who will consume a ton of meat each week. A commissary company has been hired to operate the train.

A. J. Elder, general superintendent for Wisconsin, said trains of this type make the workers more contented so they do better work. He pointed out that men come back each year and pick their train because they know the chef.

Army regulations require that pilots be equipped with parachutes while flying in army aircraft. Also that two parachutes be worn on all training jumps.

Business of The Country Said Better

Upward Climb Again Started, Babson Finds After Trip

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright, 1939, Publishers Financial Bureau

WILMINGTON, Del., June 16.—During the past two weeks I have traveled about 4,000 miles. It is very evident from my observations that business has started a new upward climb. It is a peculiar coincidence, but it was just a year ago this week that business threw off the shackles of the 1938 recession. Trade reports of the past fortnight indicate that many industries have rounded the turn and are now straightening out on the recovery trail. Summer business should be better than at the current time, although I see no evidence of a "boom."

For June, the Babson chart Index of Business stands at 96. A year ago it was down to 80. This means business is 20 per cent above the low point of last year. In my Business Outlook for 1939, I predicted that business would show a 25 per cent gain for the first half of 1939 over the same period of 1938. I was a trifle too optimistic. For the entire six months, the gain has averaged only 20 per cent. I had expected that by June, business would show a slight improvement over the level of early January. Actually, it has tapered off since the New Year and is now 4 per cent below the January level.

RETAIL TRADE BRISK

However, instead of being a pessimistic influence on the second half outlook, I think this is an optimistic indicator. During the past six months the excess inventories of goods built up as a result of the very sharp upswing in business last Fall has largely been used up. Retail trade in most areas this year has been very steady. The sale of goods has been running ahead of the production of goods. Retail trade this month, for instance, is particularly brisk, the gain over a year ago running from 5 to 10 per cent.

We are entering the second half of the year, therefore, with retail trade satisfactory in most parts of the country and with inventories low. Figures from pivotal industries indicate that business will be better in the weeks to come. The steel industry, for instance, has taken a sensational upturn in the past month. Operations are now at 55 per cent of capacity against only 45 per cent a month ago.

MOST INDUSTRIES PICKING UP

Other industries, while not moving ahead so spectacularly as steel, have turned up in the last few weeks. The number of freight cars moving over the country's railroads are practically at the best figure for 1939. Electric power consumption is rising after a two months' dip. Automobile assemblies have been disappointing so far, but new model production is scheduled to get under way in July—a full month earlier than a year ago. Lumber operators are almost 50 per cent ahead of 1938 at this time, reflecting the encouraging gain in home building.

In fact, construction has been the backbone of the 1938-39 business improvement. Activity is 40 per cent above a year ago and well above June, 1937, when general business was running close to its ten-year peak. There is a tremendous trek of population from city to suburbs and to country towns. Remodeling and new building in some suburbs is almost of boom proportions. Commercial and industrial building, however, is very quiet with the exception of government-sponsored projects.

BUSINESS BEST IN NORTH

At the present time, business is best in the Northern and Northeastern States. My map, which shows business conditions in every city and every state at all times, has changed in recent months. I find that of the twenty-three "gold," or good, states this month, all but four are east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio river, or on the Pacific Coast. Certain farm areas in the Southeast, South, and Southwest, where business was booming a few months ago, are now experiencing quite a slow down.

I do not look for this situation to continue, however, because farm prices are now improving. Quotations today are equal to, or slightly higher than, a year ago. Crops are not expected to be quite so large this year. With the government's efforts to eliminate surpluses, plus the $1,300,000,000 benefit program,

NOTICE OF BOARD OF EQUALIZATION MEETING

In obedience to the order of the Board of Equalization, regularly constituted and sitting, notice is hereby given that said Board of Equalization will be in session at its regular meeting place in the Court House in the town of Midland, Midland County, Texas, at 10 o'clock A. M., on Monday, the 26th day of June, 1939, for the purpose of determining, fixing and equalizing the value of any and all taxable property situated in Midland County, Texas, for taxable purposes for the year 1939, and any and all persons interested or having business with said Board are here notified to be present.

SUSIE G. NOBLE,
County Clerk,
Midland County, Texas.

Now That Starts Again!

farm income in the next few months should top the 1938 level by 10 per cent, barring any unforeseen weather developments. So farmers can be added to the city workers as potentially better retail buyers this Summer.

DOLLARS MUST GO TO WORK

The huge wads of cash choking the treasuries of banks and insurance companies is another factor which keeps me bullish. There is more money available for investment today than ever before in the history of this country. The credit expansion potentialities stagger the imagination. America's problem, of course, is to put this money to work.

The Town Quack

Legion and firemen will sponsor two dances each night and the Derrick Country Club is having Herman Waldman and his orchestra Saturday night.

The Reporter-Telegram reported a sheep deal in which W. B. Elkin sold 6,000 head of yearling ewes, an average from 9,000 head, to J. C. Montgomery of Crockett county for $6.50 per head. That sounded like a good trade to me, although I'm not yet a sheep man. And, sure enough, when the San Angelo paper came out today it termed the sale as "the best sheep deal reported this year." Some of the other sheep men asked Bill Elkin if his conscience didn't hurt him a little bit, but he said if they would look at the sheep they wouldn't ask that.

A local tax paying citizen, who always has an individual slant on everything, remarked about the water restrictions that Cloverdale has no shortage, "neither does Lake Michigan, but we don't have any pipe line from it."

A man who has been touring West Texas and New Mexico said one of the most sensational sights was when the bats started coming out of Carlsbad Cavern late in the evening. He said he stopped at Odessa too, while visiting this section

When I wrote something about the rodeo season being at hand, I failed in some way to mention the immediate rodeo of them all, and that's the one at Kermit which opens today and runs through Sunday. The enterprising fans there have posted prizes of $3,000 on the various events, which is by no means to be sneezed at.

Special features include Virgil Strapp and his clown mule, "Jerb". Strapp appeared at the Century of Progress in Chicago in 1933 and at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show in other years.

Citizen of Wink and Kermit have joined in efforts to make the event a big success, with awards comparable to big rodeos in other places luring the contenders in for bronc riding, bulldogging, Brahma steer riding and roping events. A street parade is to open the contest Friday afternoon. In addition to rodeo events the American

It is just as necessary to get these dollars employed as it is to get our 10,000,000 jobless back to work. We cannot accomplish one task without accomplishing the other.

These dollars will not go into use until confidence is restored. Confidence must be built on honesty, industry, and thrift. Only "righteousness exalteth a nation." Business should be better this Fall than it was this Spring. Moreover, it should also be better than in the Fall of 1938. However, I foresee no real prosperity until there is a change in the goals and principles of the American people.

STRAWS IN BUSINESS WIND

2. Most industries feel upturn
3. Building best in ten years
4. Stocks of goods on hand low
5. Retail trade at good level
6. Sensitive commodity prices rising
7. Farm income higher than in 1938

as his first equipment. Success followed hard work and Dr. Sealy was destined to build one of the most extensive practices in this area and formed the Sealy Hospital, recognized throughout the Southwest as an outstanding institution.

Dr. Sealy had received his degree in the medical department of the University of Texas at Galveston, being an honor graduate in the class of 1904. He broke prior scholastic records at the University, after which followed study and experience at clinics in New York City, Chicago, San Francisco, and New Orleans. He took post-graduate work in several cities in this country and abroad at Glasgow, London, Paris and Rome.

A student of medicine as well as a psychologist, Dr. Sealy gained friends rapidly, and as his practice became established he acquired a name which drew many patients from Central West Texas and out of the state.

Married in 1905

In 1905 he married Miss Bessie Harper, a Santa Anna, at Coleman. His bride was the daughter of Coleman county pioneer and director of the First National Bank at Santa Anna.

The Sealy Hospital was founded in 1917 at a cost of more than $65,000 but in that year the physician volunteered in the World War and soon was commissioned a first lieutenant in the medical corps. He was promoted to captain in May of 1918, and a year later to a major. Dr. Alexis Carrell trained him in New York, and he was placed in charge of a hospital overseas. He received praise for his supervision of the hospital and returned after the war to open his own institution in July 1919. By 1928 the capacity of the hospital was doubled. That year he founded a school of nursing, and two years later erected a $10,000 nurses' home. The nursing school was discontinued in 1938 because of Dr. Sealy's falling health.

Dr. Sealy was born in Lexington, Tex., Feb. 19, 1880, the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Sealy, who were natives of North Carolina and Virginia, respectively. The father, a minister, came to this state in 1866. Dr. Sealy attend school in Milan county, finishing high school at De Villa, the university before the turn of the century he volunteered in the Spanish-American War.

Left an orphan, Dr. Sealy was reared by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Culenwell of Milan county, who brought him to Coleman county in 1897. For the first three years in college he worked his way.

Held Many Positions

Dr. Sealy had been city health officer of Santa Anna for a quarter of a century, and councillor of the fourth district of the Texas State Medical Association for seven years. He was president of the board of education here for four years.

back to 4,600 and sidetracking. Ector Test Shows Trace Water.

Trace of salt water was reported present today in Barnes, Conking and White No. 1 E. R. Thomas estate, western Ector wildcat six miles south and west of the Goldsmith pool. After shutting down for two hours at 4,542 feet, bailer was run, and one-quarter bailer of salt water was recovered, together with slightly less than one-quarter bailer of oil. Source of water is uncertain, but it is believed to be coming from 4,470-80. Some thought it might exhaust. At last reports, the test was drilling ahead below 4,542 feet in line.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 O. B. Holt, deep pay discovery a half-mile west of the North Cowden pool in northern Ector, is preparing to plug back to 5,177 feet from total depth of 5,200 to shut off water. Operators later probably will acidize the deep pay. On last test, No. 1 Holt swabbed 37 1/2 barrels of oil and bailed 180 gallons of water in 16 hours. Increase in water had been logged in soft, sandy lime from 5,187-93.

T. P. No. 3 Holt is drilling at 4,287 feet in lime. It will standardize at 4,450.

Railroad Commission hearing on spacing program for the Foster pool of Ector, originally scheduled for Thursday, June 22, has been postponed to Monday, July 10.

Arrow Drilling Company has staked two more locations on its H. C. Foster, Account No. 2, lease on the east side of the Foster pool. No. 15 Foster, to spud June 19, is 330 feet from the north, 1,709.8 from the east line of the southeast quarter of section 3, block 42, township 2 south, T. & P. survey. No. 16 Foster, to spud June 20, is 330 feet from the north, 1,049.3 from the east line of the same quarter-section.

Northwest of the pool, Sloan and Zook Company and Ferndale Drilling Company No. 1 J. L. Johnson cemented 7-inch pipe on bottom at 3,755 feet in anhydrite and is standing while cement sets.

Andrews Wildcat.

Richmond Drilling Company and William F. Hanagan No. 1 University, wildcat in southwestern Andrews, this morning was drilling at 3,860 feet in anhydrite.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 20 R. M. Means, in northern Andrews' Means pool, set 24-hour potential of 3,124.48 barrels of 28-gravity oil and gas-oil ratio of 278-1. It was acidized in three stages of 1,500, 3,500 and 5,000 gallons, respectively. Pay lime was entered at 4,500, and total depth is 4,533.

Magnolia No. 1 Leta Jones, a half-mile northwest of the Fuhrman pool in Andrews, is drilling anhydrite below 3,600 feet.

In southeastern Dawson, Magnolia No. 1 J. B. Fry is drilling at 3,520 in anhydrite.

Road is being built to Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Jeanette B. Rayner, northeastern Gaines wildcat on the east edge of Cedar Lake. Contract for drilling of the test has not yet been let. It is understood that 12-inch hole will be carried to top of the lime and that deeper pay will be sought should the shallower Permian zone prove unproductive. Location is 660 feet out of the southwest corner of section 3, block C-30, public school land.

Magnolia No. 19 Hardwicke-University, quarter-mile north extension of the Church & Fields pool in eastern Crane, pumped 132 barrels of oil on 24-hour potential test. It is bottomed at 3,140 feet in lime and was shot with 470 quarts of nitro.

Gulf No. 5 M. B. McKnight, western Crane wildcat, is drilling lime at 4,002 feet.

H. L. Cain No. 1 Texaco-Masterson-Lehn, Pecora test between the Masterson and Pecora Valley pools, is drilling at 875 in shale and anhydrite.

A half-mile to the southeast, Leidecker & Cain No. 1 Texaco-Lehn, discovery producer, slopped oil over 5-inch casing after re-shooting with 50 quarts from 1,690 to 1,740. Total depth is 1,783 feet in lime. Operators now are cleaning out casings.

Magnolia No. 2 Abel-Eaton, northern Pecora Ordovician test, is drilling at 2,959 feet in lime.

Sharp Kick Dispenses Justice on the Scene

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—The administration of justice needs no courtroom for Municipal Judge Edgar Norris.

Returning from lunch one day, Judge Norris was attracted to the scene of some heated words between a motorist and a police officer. The motorist had put a nickel in a parking meter but returned five minutes later to find the officer placing a tag on his car.

Judge Norris, after hearing the complaint at the curb, gave the meter a kick. The flag flew up. "Case dismissed," he said.

Broadening of the Income Tax Base Is Urged by President

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today the income structure would have to be broadened at the base but doubted congress would take any action this session.

Responding to a question at his press conference, the president said he believed the base should be broadened a little bit to cover more taxpayers, but added this would not bring in much additional revenue.

He also expressed an opinion the income tax rate in the middle brackets probably should be raised a bit.
