President Delays Transfer of Ships To South America

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP).—President Roosevelt intervened and postponed a showdown Tuesday in the conflict boiling within his official family and in congress over the United States lines' proposal to place eight of its ships under the flag of Panama so that they could ply European waters closed to American vessels by the neutrality act.

Although contending that there could be no international episode involving American ships, the ships were sunk while sailing under the Panamanian flag, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed at Hyde Park, N. Y., that he had telephoned the maritime commission and asked that action on the proposal be delayed.

The president argued that neutrality did not enter the case. Earlier in the day, Secretary of State Hull had declared his opposition to the proposal, saying that there should not be even the appearance of any steps that might negate the policy laid down in the new neutrality act.

Opposition to the proposed transfer was voiced by some senators on both sides of the recent controversy over enactment of the administration's neutrality bill.

Senator Clark (D-Mo.), an opponent of that measure's provision for repeal of the arms embargo, served notice that if the ship transfer were carried out he would introduce a bill at the regular session of congress next January to abolish the maritime commission and repeal the law under which it was established.

Failing in that, Clark said, he would oppose any additional appropriations for the commission. "Clearly to me," Clark said, "this proposed ship transfer is a violation of the letter as well as the spirit of the law. It clearly demonstrates the wisdom of congress in session (after the recent special meeting)."

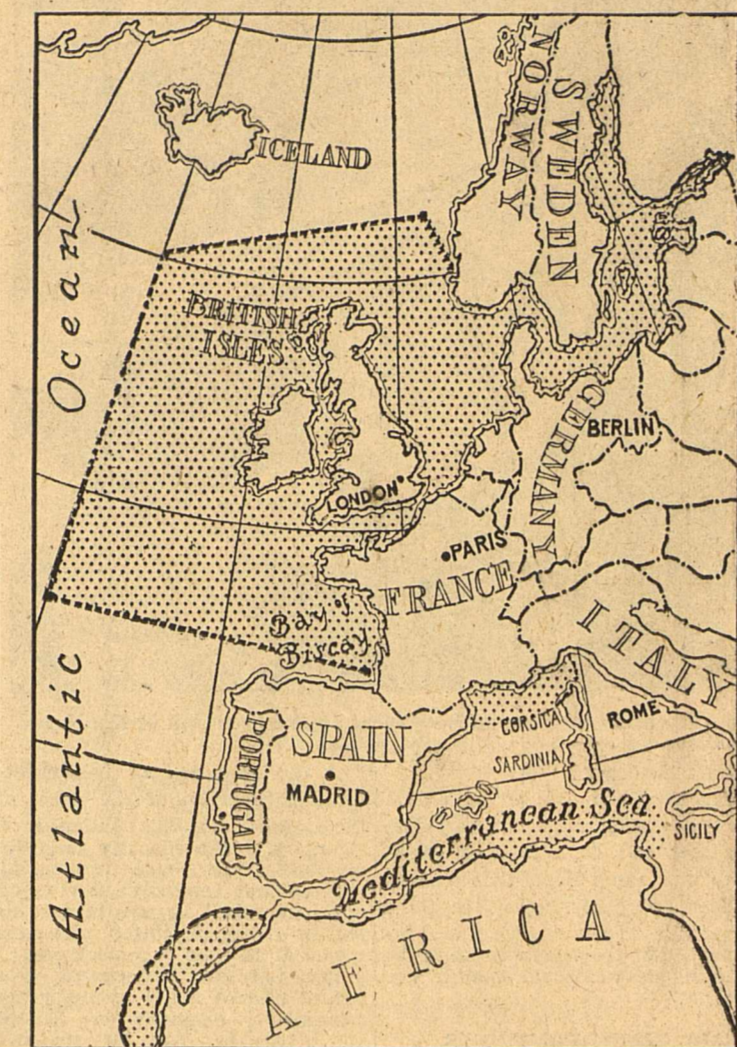

Senator Schwelmbach (D-Wash.), who supported the neutrality act, said he thought the proposed transfer of registry was "outrageous" and "an evasion of the intent of the neutrality act."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), another supporter of the neutrality law, said he did not think that the proposed transfer was in accord with the spirit of the law.

John M. Frankling, president of the United States Lines, held a press conference at which he said that approval of the proposed transfer was imperative if American shipping was to retain its place on the Atlantic after the war was over.

He declared that the sinking of one of the transferred ships would involve this country no more than would the sinking of a British vessel.

Barred to U. S. Ships

Shaded areas in European and African waters are those banned to American ships by President Roosevelt's proclamation that followed signing of the new neutrality bill.

Ranch Girl 'Glad To Be Back' After Trek to New York

Although she had a "marvelous" trip to New York, she was "never so glad to see any place" in her life as she was to see Midland on her return home. So said Miss Walter Fay Cowden, Midland girl who was one of a group of seven Texas ranch girls to spend a month in New York, appearing at Madison Square Garden in connection with the huge rodeo there. She reached home Monday.

In the group with Miss Cowden were Misses Mary Nell and Anna Belle Edwards of Big Spring, Miss Fern Sawyer of Cross Roads, N. M., (representing Brownfield, Texas), Miss Peggy Minick of Crowell, Miss Faye Marburger of Abilene, and Miss Elizabeth Miller of Fluvanna and Snyder. The girls had a schedule of 36 rodeo performances but they managed between appearances to see just about all the sights of the city. They visited the Stork club, "21," and other famous amusement places, always wearing their cowgirl regalia, and going in a group.

Brenda Frazier, famous glamour girl, visited the girls and had her picture made with the cowgirls; Al Smith showed them through the Empire State building; autograph seekers besieged them on the streets; their pictures were made so often that in popping of flashlights ceased to bother them; they had a day at the World's Fair; Paul Whiteman gave them a dinner at the New Yorker; and altogether the trip was one long exciting adventure for the group.

Highpoint of the visit was when the girls were presented trophies at the Garden on the last night. But Miss Cowden remembers as a special highlight of her trip the experience of being photographed with Mayor LaGuardia of New York whom she describes as a "grand fellow."

But the Midland girl grew tired of the high buildings and found the abrupt Eastern manners not so much to her liking as Western ways. She was glad to reach Texas and return to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cowden, here.

The bay horse, "Button," which she took North with her, she brought back to Texas in good condition and has already sent to the ranch.

She was away approximately six weeks, spending a month of the time in New York.

New Lime Reef Pool Opener in Northern Ward Gauges Oil Flow

Flow of 114 barrels of fresh oil in 20 hours through open 2-inch tubing was gauged today at Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2-43 George Seely, opener of a new lime reef pool in northern Ward county.

Production is through perforations in 5 1/2-inch liner set at total depth of 2,956 feet to shut off 69,500,000 cubic feet of gas daily. Liner first was perforated with 28 shots from 2,947-53, following which the well was treated with 500 gallons of acid, then it was perforated again with 23 shots from 2,940-47 feet and re-treated with 1,500 gallons. Test is still well underway today.

The discovery is located 990 feet of the northeast corner of section 43, block F. G. & M. M. B. & A. survey, one and three-quarter miles south by southeast of the Magnolia Seely pool.

Magnolia No. 1 J. S. Masterson, quarter-mile southeast extension producer of the Apco pool, which produces from the Barado, Texas, Ordovician, in northern Pecos county, is shut in after flowing 53 barrels of oil in 17 hours through 1-inch choke on 2-inch tubing. The well topped Ellenberger at 4,605 feet, datum of minus 2,971 and highest of any well in the pool, and logged oil-saturated dolomite from 4,515-36 feet, total depth. It has been acidized with 500 and 1,500 gallons in successive stages.

Slightly over two miles southwest of the Apco pool, Olson Drilling Company and Bryce McCandless, No. 1 Mrs. V. W. Crockett, in section 5, block 110, T. C. R. R. survey, is drilling at 310 feet in north-west.

Eight and one-half miles north-west of the Apco, Humble Oil and Refining Company No. 1 Mrs. Bertha D. Young, Ordovician wildcat, drilled to 367 feet in red rock and now is running 1 1/2-inch hole out to 17 1/2-inches preparatory to running 13-inch surface pipe to total depth. It is in section 33, block 10, H. & G. N. survey.

Eight and one-half miles north-west of the Apco, Humble Oil and Refining Company has staked location for No. 2 "Midland" east-edge test in the North Cowden pool of northern Ector county. It is 1,980 feet from the north, 1,300 feet from the east line of section 25, block 35, township 1 north, T. & P. survey. A 4,400-foot rotary rig, it is slated to start up Nov. 20.

Landreth Production Corporation No. 4-A O. B. Holt, North Cowden well, flowed 335.66 barrels of 32.9-gravity oil on official 24-hour potential gauge, with gas-oil ratio of 1,126-1, following a 250-quart nitro shot. It topped the pay at 4,276 feet and is bottomed at 4,333.

Atlantic Refining Company No. 3 Henderson, in the Foster pool of Ector, flowed 1,196.31 barrels a day after shooting pay between 3,990 and 4,200 feet, total depth, with 420 quart. Oil tested 36.1-gravity, and gas-oil ratio was 214-1.

Proposal for Peace Studied By Countries

No Answer Will Be Made Until Offer Is Investigated

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP).—Authoritative sources said today the mediation offer tendered by King Leopold of Belgium and Queen Wilhelmina would receive "careful consideration" by British, French, Polish governments before a reply is made.

The two sovereigns tendered their offices toward working for peace between the major countries now in the European war.

Berlin, Nov. 8 (AP).—Adolf Hitler last night pondered an offer by Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands and King Leopold of the Belgians to mediate the European war.

The surprise offer came shortly after Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goerring, talking informally with foreign newspaper men at a Soviet embassy reception, had declared "Germany is winning" the war against France and Britain.

Officials said Germany's reaction to the peace offer would not be known "until after the highest possible reception would be given this time."

Hitler "vomited" a mediation offer of the same monarchs made three days before the German invasion of Poland started Sept. 1 and officials left no doubt a similarly favorable reception would be given this time.

The initial Nazi reaction, however, was that the neutral nations had missed their best chance to mediate after Hitler's "peace" speech Oct. 6 when he said Germany had no war aims in the West.

Nazis privately displayed little enthusiasm, asserting that inasmuch as Hitler made this gesture, Germany now feels that peace overtures first should be addressed to Britain and France.

German officialdom and the press had presumed that King Leopold's visit to Queen Wilhelmina was to discuss the British blockade which pinches the countries in its attempt to close Germany's sea lanes.

With unanimity the press took the king's trip to The Hague as an opportunity to question the sincerity of the neutrality stand of Europe's smallest nations.

The small nations were accused of not adhering to "the fundamentals" (See FACE PROPOSAL, page 6)

Luckier than the Babes, who didn't awake, Bruce trudged into a deer hunter's camp after 100 passes had searched six days for him.

Lions Observe the Armistice Signing in Program Today

Twenty-first anniversary of the signing of the Armistice was observed at the regular weekly luncheon of the Midland Lions club today noon, a most impressive program, with Judge Charles L. Klapproth as the principal speaker, being presented. The program was arranged by Lion W. E. McCarrier.

A prayer of peace by Rev. W. J. Coleman of the First Presbyterian church instituted the special program, taps being played on a muted bugle by Eugene James during the prayer. Reading of the poem "Flinders Field," by Miss Emily Jane Lamar preceded the Armistice Day address by Judge Klapproth.

Judge Klapproth, in his inspirational address, emphasized what we as American citizens can do in so far as universal peace in America is concerned. We must face the fact that Armistice today is not in spirit and reality what we thought it would be 21 years ago, he said.

Our primary purpose, the speaker said, should be to establish universal peace at least in our own nation and on our own continent. The speaker stated, however, that he did not believe that we will always have peace. Judge Klapproth said that it is the duty of every American citizen to help stamp out the various isms that are so prevalent in all sections of our nation and also to oppose the building up of a national debt that cannot be over-come either case, if allowed to continue, will eventually bring about national decay, he said.

Referring to the present situation in Europe, Judge Klapproth said that it is our duty as a nation as a people to line up with one of the two trends of thought that are circling the globe—democracy of dictatorship. We cannot permit the democracies of Europe to be under the subjecting of dictatorship, he said, because one democracy cannot live by itself. It is our duty to see that the democracies do not perish from the earth, he stated. Judge Klapproth emphasized the fact that we as Americans should line up with those that believe as we do.

Calling attention to the annual Red Cross Roll Call to be staged here next Tuesday and urging all club members to become affiliated with the American Red Cross, Miss Lois May Lynch, Midland high school student, made a brief but highly inspirational address. Past activities of the Red Cross and plans for the future were stressed in the talk.

Lion A. L. Gilbreth made a few brief remarks pertaining to the observance of American Education Week.

The zone meeting to be held in Colorado City tomorrow evening was announced by President Claude O. Crane, a large attendance from the local club being urged.

Guests present at the luncheon included J. M. Welbourn, Brownfield, and H. B. Spence, Miss Kitty Bell and Mrs. Lena Douglas, Midland.

The indicated Texas cotton production was placed at 2,800,000 bales and Louisiana's 737,000 bales.

Both Heavily Buried Under Strong Voting

"Ham and Eggs" Plan Once More Defeated By California Voters

Pension plans combining increased grants to the aged with unorthodox methods of raising the money were rejected yesterday by top-heavy majorities in California and Ohio.

In other off-year elections, New York voters sanctioned party-line race betting and gave Tammany control of County jobs; while Kentucky chose a democratic governor.

Ohio ballots snowed under a pension proposal to assure an income of $50 a month to those past 60. An incomplete count at noon was 1,521,507 against to 458,755 for the plan.

California returns buried the "ham and eggs" pension program by a tremendous margin but sponsors said a further fight was planned.

The proposition would have paid unemployed past 50 up to $30 a week and would have been financed by script. Incomplete returns showed 1,768,232 against and 916,043 for the plan.

In Kentucky, Governor Keen Johnson, democrat, was elected to the office he reached through the recent resignation of Governor Chandler, who entered the senate. His Republican opponent was Judge King Swope.

Important mayoral elections were showing the following trends: The Republicans appeared to have retained their traditional hold on the Philadelphia city hall. Their candidate, Robert E. Lamberton, was running well ahead of Robert C. White Democrat.

In Detroit, Edward J. Jeffries was making a strong bid to unseat Mayor Richard W. Reading, who was elected two years ago over sharp CIO opposition. The election there was non-partisan.

H. Burton appeared safely re-elected to his third term as mayor of Cleveland over John E. O'Donnell. Both are Republicans and were nominated in a non-partisan primary.

McLevy, Socialist, was re-elected mayor of Bridgeport, Conn., polling more votes than three rival candidates combined.

British Submarine Reported Lost in Explosion at Sea

LONDON, Nov. 8 (AP).—Loss of the submarine Oxley by an accidental explosion was announced in the house of commons today by Winston Churchill.

He did not disclose the place or date of the accident, explaining circumstances made publication inadvisable at this time.

Churchill declared three times at 10:30 a. m. that the submarine was at work at this time as at the outbreak of the war and "a fairly sound and conservative estimate" of German submarine losses was between two and four every week.

NLRB Orders That 5000 Be Returned To Jobs Are Upheld

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8 (AP).—The national labor relations board order directing the Republic Steel Corporation to rehire 5,000 Ohio workers who were involved in the "little steel" strike in 1937 was upheld today by the United States circuit court of appeals.

Attorneys for the corporation announced they would appeal to the supreme court.

1939 Mata Hari

There will be no glamor in the life of Virginia Capt. Rota, youthful and attractive dancer, for at least the next five years. Miss Rota's brief career as a spy, a 1939 Mata Hari, was brutally ended by a Swiss court that sentenced her to five years in prison.

Like so many others, the naive dancer regarded the life of a spy as one, long and glorious adventure. She joined the espionage ring in Switzerland, she said, "just for the fun of it." Her speedy capture and imprisonment have wiped out all the illusions she had about the spying racket.

The life of a spy is neither glorious nor glamorous. It is a thankless profession. There is no reward if you succeed; no one to help if you fail. The mystery which necessarily surrounds it will probably continue to lure a few adventurous souls as long as they are led to believe intrigue is a thrilling business. The story of Mata Hari, despite its wide publicity, is really a rather dull document.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. — A double-barrel blow at the spoils system aimed at using the influence of federal spending to force all states under civil service—is being prepared by Senators Matthew Neely of West Virginia and Carl Hatch of New Mexico.

The famous Hatch bill bars all federal employes from political activity. What these senators propose is a companion piece which would extend the ban to all state employes also.

Ordinarily, the federal government has no power whatever to control the political activities of state employes. But every state in the Union is spending huge sums which come direct from the federal treasury, and the federal government can lay down the conditions under which its money is spent.

That fact gives Senators Neely and Hatch the leverage they need.

CARNEGIE MILLIONS COULDN'T BUY PEACE AFTER WORLD HAD BEEN TORN UP BY WAR

Editor's Note: Approaching Armistice Day again finds war obscuring the works of the great men of peace. Here is another of series of stories on these leaders.

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent.

Closed and locked are the doors of a recently-busy office in the Boulevard Saint-Germain, in Paris. It is the main European office of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Such work as it can carry on today has been moved to La Baule, a port town. But the head of the League's London office has been called up for military service, its executive head for all Europe has been called to Red Cross work at Geneva.

The Endowment's advisory committee for Europe has scattered, to the winds: the Austrians and Czechs forced to become Germans, once German members newly become a Britisher; the Spanish and Italian members no longer welcome in their own countries, the Hungarian member now become Prime Minister.

Were Andrew Carnegie alive today, as he was when war broke out in 1914, he might say today as then, "all my air castles of world peace have fallen about me like a house of cards."

SCOTTISH IMMIGRANT WORKS IN MILLS

WHITE-HAIRED Carnegie in his castle at Skibo looked back on a long life then. Born in Dumfries, Scotland, he had emigrated to America with his father while he was a mere boy. He got work as a bobbin-boy in a cotton mill, then as a telegraph operator.

From this meager start he drifted into railroad, oil speculation, and finally into iron and steel. He built the Edgar Thompson rail mill, bought the Homestead plant, and by 1901 was ruler of an empire of iron, steel and transport that was one of the chief constituents of the U. S. Steel Corporation when it was formed in 1901.

Carnegie, fabulously rich, had acute views of the responsibilities that went with his wealth. He built 2500 public libraries, founded and aided colleges. He contributed largely to the building of the Peace Palace at The Hague—where the Permanent Court of International Justice has held its sessions—and to the construction of the Pan-American building in Washington.

FOUND ENDOWMENT TO ABOLISH WAR

HIS major move toward peace came in 1910 when with $10,000,000 he founded the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace for "the speedy abolition of international war between the so-called civilized nations."

The endowment was given the broadest powers to work for international peace in any way. Its 27 trustees desired. Much of its federal funds to any state which did not have in operation a civil service plan currently approved by the United States Civil Service Commission. Just to make it airtight, Senator Neely added a section setting minimum standards that such a state plan must have.

It must, for instance, give merit system coverage to every state employe not holding an elective office; it must bar all state employes from contributing to political funds and from taking part in political campaigns; and it must provide stiff penalties for any politician who tries to force political action upon state employes or tries to collect money from them; and it must provide that no one can hold a non-elective state job if his wife, father, mother, brother, sister or child is an active political worker. The Neely bill drew practically no attention—although, if passed it would upset just about every state political machine in the country. It was referred to the Senate Committee on Civil Service. The district championship could use all available backing from the citizens—that the Bulldogs lose 21 of the squadmen next season, including ten of the present eleven boys in the starting line-up—and that they are our home team and deserve the support of every citizen.

The steel magnate wrote Wilson to this effect two months before the war was declared, and closed with the same hope that was in millions of other breasts in those days: "at the next meeting at The Hague we would abolish war forever."

PEACE WORK CONTINUES AFTER CARNEGIE'S DEATH

CARNEGIE died in 1919, too soon to have seen this new "air castle of world peace" also "fallen like a house of cards." The work of his foundation went on.

Elhu Root, Dr. James Brown Scott and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler made the foundation's work a living reality in the peace movement. Present-day improved Pan-American relations owe much to Scott's profound study and work in the field of legal interrelations of the Americas.

Dr. Butler, present head of the foundation, has just suggested that the United States should direct the attention of belligerents to their violation of the Pact of Paris, to which this nation is a signatory. The educator feels the answers would make interesting reading and that such a step on our part would be one "in the direction of bringing "this most dangerous of all wars to a quick end."

The Carnegie Endowment has helped finance many smaller peace movements, especially in Europe where they had been left stranded by the World War.

So Andrew Carnegie, the only man who ever gave away $50,000,000, was unable to buy peace for the world. Even the foundation he left for the promotion of peace is again in a state of more or less suspended animation as it was in 1914-1918.

But it continues to exist, and in the little French seacoast town of La Baule it will carry on as best it can against what Carnegie called "the foulest blot on our civilization,"—war.

NEXT: Woodrow Wilson and Henry Ford who found ashes in the search for peace.

This summer, however, several of these objectors, told Senator Hatch that they had got over their doubts. Hatch went to Attorney General Murphy, who told him he believed it would be perfectly possible to draft such a provision in a constitutional manner. Hatch then began to prepare such a bill for submission this winter.

MAY BACK NEELY BILL.
ABOUT this time he discovered the Neely bill. He is now studying it to see whether it is preferable to his own measure; if he figures it is, he will support it instead of drafting a bill of his own.

Either way, some bill which would knock the spoils system out of state politics will come before the Senate this winter.

What the bill's chance of passage may be is an open question. It figures to draw a good deal of support from certain practical-minded senators who happen to be on the outs with the governors of their states, and who, as a result might be glad to get a chance to cripple the governor's machines.

One somewhat cynical estimate is that it could probably get a score of votes in the Senate for that reason alone.

On the other hand, of course, the state's right cry is sure to be raised against it. In any case, however, the two senators are going to give it a good push. Since the Neely bill has already been reported out of committee it will at least come to a vote.

Cop Becomes Cabby To Get Prisoner

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (U.P.) — Police who like to make arrests with a minimum of commotion might take a lesson from Asheville detectives.

When Charles Brown, negro, arrived from Tennessee on a bus, he was asked: "Want a taxi?" "Sure," replied Brown, stepping into the car, heaving a heavy suitcase in ahead of him.

"Where to?" asked the driver as his companion settled beside him in the front seat.

The negro gave him an address, lit a cigarette and struck up a conversation.

After a 10-minute ride, the car rolled to a stop—in front of the police station. The negro then realized he had been tricked. The suitcase disclosed that its contents were 12 half-gallon jars filled with liquor.

Fifty Kids Make Toys and Noise; It's "Symphony"

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Half a hundred youngsters under five years old comprise perhaps the nation's most useful "symphony."

Miss Betty Bass, conductor of the orchestra at the University of Chicago's nursery school, said: "The children, some less than two years old, make instruments of sound blocks and chimes, or galls joined by string. Then they are given free rein in amusing themselves with the sounds."

The process, Miss Bass said, made for startling results in harmony and indicated a marked attraction to music in many pupils.

University authorities suggested the elementary instruction in music (a similar course in rudimentary art is conducted) in an effort to discern how early in life children begin to absorb instruction.

Two-year-olds, for instance, have been found to respond to instruction about two weeks after the original lesson. Four-year-olds respond almost immediately, Miss Bass said.

Inmates' Home Has 230 Years' Hairpin Supply

BOSTON (U.P.)—Enough hairpins are stored at the Walter E. Fernald State School to supply its women inmates for 230 years—unless hairdressing styles change radically.

Investigators for Gov. Leverett Saltonstall, seeking means of cutting state costs, discovered 15,266 sets of hairpins "safely deposited" at the Waltham institution. On a basis of the 66 sets used in 1937, they estimated the supply would last until the year 2170.

They also discovered eight years' supply of dried peas and three years' supply of salt at Boston State Hospital.

Eight years' supply of khaki cloth at Fernald school.
Four years' supply of canned cabbage at Northampton State Hospital.
Fourteen years' supply of knitting needles at Wrentham State School.

Students Support Allies

CLEVELAND (U.P.)—A survey by the Case Tech, student publication of Case School of Applied Science, has shown that 433 students of 636 voting believe in a U. S. cash-and-carry plan during the European war. The survey showed that 569 students favored the cause of Great Britain and France, and 409 were against personal involvement in the war.

Four Boys and One Girl Face Electric Chair

D E D H A M, Mass. (U.P.) — Four boys and a girl, none over 18, face trial in Norfolk and Plymouth counties on charges of first degree murder for slayings over a debt and in holdups that totaled only $10.84.

Death in the electric chair is the penalty.

Helen E. Hayes, 17, of Oranquit, Me., and her companion, Harrison C. Howes, Jr., 18, of New Bedford are accused of slaying a dumb caretaker in Stoughton after robbing him of 48 cents.

Another indictment charges Walter L. Teachman, 17, of Wareham with the murder of a WPA worker for a $10 debt.

The other two held for trial are Arthur S. Cary, Jr., 18, and Irwin R. Nelson, Jr., 18, both of Quincy. They allegedly killed a hospital watchman during a series of hold-ups that netted them nothing.

"Bone-Setter" of 40 Years Ago Remembered

GIDDINGS, Texas. (AP). — Old timers here still talk about the feats of Peter Fritsche, a farmer in the Serbin community half a century ago, who "was the best bone-setter in these parts."

Although not a physician, Fritsche probably set more bones and adjusted more sprains and dislocations than most doctors of that time. His skill in repairing broken limbs and reducing practically any fracture or strain, was a boon to the hard-working rural folks of this vicinity, especially since he made no charge for his services.

The former shepherd boy, who acquired much of his healing skill while attending to ailments of his flock, started his bone-setting career during pioneer days when medical help was scarce. He often had to stop his plow to relieve a sprained back, a strained ligament, or a broken rib among the people of his community.

"His methods were by no means painless" but they were effective," one of the oldest residents here recalled. "I should say so," said another. "My wrist was once shattered by a load of gunshot and they talked about amputating my arm, but Peter cut it open and removed the steel pebbles and broken pieces of bones and washed out the infection. After he set the bones and bandaged the wound, my arm soon was as good as ever."

Peter Fritsche died thirty nine years ago but his fame as a healer has become the saga of the countryside.

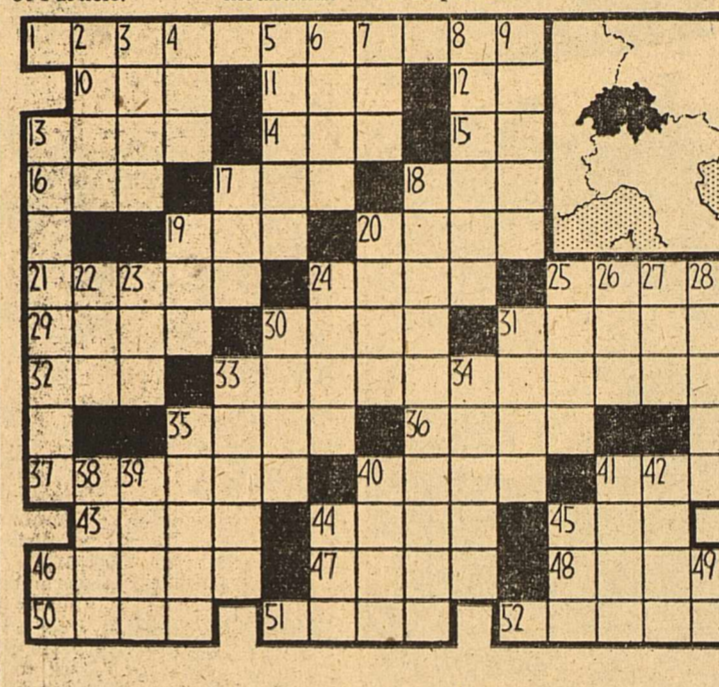

Tenant Farmers Have Leases

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than four out of every five of the 161,395 tenant farmers operating under the Farm Security Administration rehabilitation program have written leases, FSA reports showed. Among other tenant farmers only one in five have written leases. The FSA has advised all farmers to insist on a written rather than an oral lease, on the ground that it tends to avoid disputes and enables them to plan ahead.

WINTER DISARMED

90-hour threat ended by OIL-PLATING your engine today

You can probably agree that these are certainly conservative figures...
— 4 or 5 months of nasty weather right ahead of you now
— 8 or 10 daily cold starts for your car
— 6 to 8 minutes per start, till your engine's near-warm

And yet even that can run up your engine's cold-weather "starting-stretch" to right around 90 hours! . . . The foulest 90 hours that Gangster Winter could fire at your engine—your battery. And don't ever hope to halt him with motor oils whose biggest brag is "fast flow." That's not enough—and it's not your money's worth, considering that "fast flow" is mighty slow Winter lubrication compared to OIL-PLATING.

OIL-PLATING in your engine will lubricate before any oil can circulate. That's because the minute you start up with patented Conoco Germ Processed oil it makes OIL-PLATING "magnetize" to all inner engine surfaces, so that it cannot drain down again. It cannot retire to the crankcase as you park the car. Like any other good plating, OIL-PLATING stays right where it's plated by Germ Process action—all over the working parts. They've "got on" their OIL-PLATING all the while you're indoors. They never "take off" their OIL-PLATING. When you come out to start then, your OIL-PLATING can't be delayed even 90 seconds—or one-ninth of a second! And away you go. The battery hardly knows it was working. And it's a good long while before the gauge-stick calls for an added quart of Germ Processed oil. Your Mileage Merchant has your right Winter grade. Change today—to that Conoco station of his. Bulldogs "Warm Up" for Final Game at Home Friday Night

The Midland high school Bulldogs were "bumping heads" in scrimmage again yesterday afternoon in preparation for their game here Friday night with the Lamesa Golden Tornado.

The Bulldogs are confident they will manage to come out ahead of the visitors and retain a slim chance to cop the district championship. The boys are not overconfident but their general attitude shows spectators they are set to go in and sew up the game as soon as possible.

Nothing would please the coaches better than to have the first string eleven build up a big lead early in the game. Twenty-one members of the Bulldog squad will be making their last appearance before a home team and the coaches would like to give each boy a chance to play for a short while in the final game.

The coaches, like the boys, expect a Midland victory in the final home game. Their main concern is being able to stop Jimmie Vaughn, Lamesa quarterback and second high scorer in the district.

For most of the season, Vaughn and Francis of Midland have been running neck and neck for high

Cowboys Work on Ways of Stopping Pitcher Watkins

ABILENE.—To face two opponents in a row who "throw'em fast and loose," the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys tore into scrimmage today with Head Coach Frank Kimbrough stressing pass defense.

The Cowboys meet the aerial minded West Texas State Buffaloes, sparked by Flippin' Foster Watkins, in an Armistice Day clash here Saturday, then journey to Las Cruces to meet the New Mexico State Aggies a week from Friday.

New Mexico's border Conference eleven—third of three Border loop foes for the Ranchers this year—is known, too, for its aerial menace.

"The Southwest has no better passer than Watkins," Coach Kimbrough told his Cowhands today. Watkins passed to Co-captain Don Kendrick and a lone score in a 7 to 0 win—the third in five games—for the Buffaloes over the Kansas State Teachers, at Pittsburg, Kan., last weekend. The win was the third in five games for Coach Al Gaggert's Buffs. In racking it up, Watkins tossed 33 passes, and completed 14.

Hardin-Simmons, bowling over Dixie Howell's Arizona State Bulldogs, of Tempe, Border Conference leaders, in a 1 to 7 inter-sectional tilt at Odessa, Texas, Saturday night, took a first quarter lead opportunity built it up before the final gun.

The win was the fourth of the year for the Cowboys plus the tie with USP Dons, and a loss to Loyola in Los Angeles.

Saturday's Armistice Day clash with West Texas State is the fourteenth between the two schools since 1921. The Cowboys have won 11, the Buffaloes 2, and the Buffs, accompanied by a special train of student fans come here bidding for their first win over H-SU since 1924.

Hunters Reminded of Numerous State and Federal Game Laws

AUSTIN, Nov. 7 (AP)—With duck and geese hunters getting a 24-hour jump on deer, turkey and javelina hunters next week, the state game commission today reminded sportsmen numerous state and federal laws regulate shooting of the migratory bowl.

Will J. Tucker, commission secretary, said reports showed a bigger supply of ducks than any fall the past five years would be ready for hunters at 7 a. m. Nov. 15.

Major restrictions pointed out by Tucker were: Limits (except Ross' geese and wood ducks on which there are no open seasons) three of one species or not more than three in the aggregate of canvasbacks, redheads, ruddy ducks and buffleheads. Others, limit 10, possession 20. Geese and brandt, four daily, eight in possession. Coot, daily and possession limit 25.

Persons over 16 years old must obtain federal duck stamps and have them attached to the back of their state hunting license which will be procured by all over 17 hunting out of the county of their residence.

It is unlawful to shoot waterfowl over baited areas and to use live decoys. The migratory birds can not be taken from or by the aid of automobiles, sink boxes (battery, power boat, sail boat, any boat under sail, and floating craft or device towed by power or sail boat. Hunting is limited to between the hours of 7 a. m. and 4 p. m.

and may not be a true indication of nation-wide conditions. At the same time, he believes that if all the relief clients could increase food purchases in the same proportion, food surpluses would disappear.

Buying power of relief families under the stamp plan is increased by $20.80 a year per person. If each of the 20 million people now receiving some form of relief in the United States went under the stamp plan, his studies indicate that the annual increases of purchases would include 301 million pounds of butter, 352 million dozen eggs, 26 million bushels of wheat, over 6 million bushels of corn, 140 million pounds of rice, 227 million pounds of dried beans, 87 million pounds of dried prunes, and enormous amounts of fresh fruit and vegetables.

State Park Called Economic Keystone

BASTROP (AP) — Bastrop state park, developed at a cost of approximately $1,500,000 in land, labor and material, has become the keystone in the economic life of this community.

"But," said J. V. Ash, Bastrop business leader, "we would not sell it for twice the investment it represents."

Bastrop has obtained considerable national recognition through this expensive and well-equipped play ground, Ash said, adding that tourists and vacationists from many states have visited it.

"This 3,330-acre amusement site also have become the recreational center for thousands of persons in this area. The revenue derived from tourists, pleasure-seekers and picnic groups has greatly benefited the town."

A 9-hole golf course with difficult hazards, a large swimming pool, dancing pavilions, lakes providing fishing and boating, well shaded picnic and camping areas and many other facilities are provided.

"One of the interesting projects in the park is the CCC woodcraft mill and shop where furniture for practically all of the state parks in Texas is manufactured from native black walnut, red cedar, pine, and oak," said Ash, who also is vice chairman of the State Parks Board.

"This furniture is fashioned to conform with the atmosphere of each

Says South Is Curing Its Own Economic Ills
 KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The South is waging a six-line attack on its own social and economic problems and the sociological history of the United States is written this program of rehabilitation will be one of its most vivid chapters, in the opinion of Dr. William E. Cole, University of Tennessee sociologist.
 "When the social history of the United States for the 20th century is written," Cole said, "nothing will be more outstanding in it than the interest of the nation in the problems of the South; the way in which the South has organized its own forces for the solution of its problems; and the actual development of the South."
 Cole maintained that the current interest in Dixie's underdeveloped social structure was based primarily on the acknowledgement of the fact that when any region of the nation exists subnormally all other sections are pulled down with it.
 "U. S. Gibraltar"
 Another reason for the renewed interest in Southern problems, he said, was the dissipation of some of the resources of other regions, and still a third reason was the emergence of a Southern leadership which is content to live and labor in the South rather than seek its fortunes elsewhere.
 President Roosevelt has characterized the South as the "nation's number one economic problem."
 Cole described the South as an "economic and geographic Gibraltar of America."
 "The South," he continued, "is

RR Commission Is Active News Source

AUSTIN (AP)—Most active news source among the state government departments at this time probably is the railroad commission.
 Since August news has been breaking from the commission with almost monotonous regularity and there is no indication of a let-up. Oil is one big reason. Politics is a second.
 There have been strings of oil hearings on one matter and another and dozens of orders pertaining to the oil industry, which the commission regulates in Texas.
 Actions of the commission with regard to oil are of great interest not only in Texas but also throughout much of the remainder of the country because between 40 and 50 percent of the nation's crude supply comes from Texas.
 A week or so ago the commission made headlines all over the state with its very important order abolishing differential freight rates in Texas.
 A little later it was on front pages again as the result of the re-election of Olin Culberson as head of its gas utilities division and Culberson's replacement with Senator Clay Cotton of Palestine.
 A third running through much commission news is political because each of the three commissioners has, or is believed to have, a stake in next year's political melee.
 Chairman Lon A. Smith is expected to be a candidate for re-election. Ernest O. Thompson is considered a certain candidate for Governor, and Jerry Sadler is known to be thinking seriously of running for the governorship.
 There are types of news emanating currently from the commission.
 1. Oil orders granting special allowances to various fields, setting dates for hearings on allowables, promulgating rules for fields, prescribing the allowable crude production for all the state and prorating the total output among the fields, shutting down fields and providing for exceptions.
 2. Statements by Smith, Sadler and Thompson on oil freight rate, gas utility and other matters, especially on oil.
 3. Orders concerning truck, bus, railroad and gas utility rate regulation.
 4. Regular monthly prorating and special oil hearings.
 5. Suits filed for and against the commission, mostly on oil matters. Examples are recent suits by the Humble and other companies attacking the new prorating formula for East Texas.
 A peculiarity in commission news is the shift in values since Jan. 1 when the election of Jerry Sadler changed the lineup by which commission policies long had been established.
 Until January Thompson and C. V. Terrell for years had usually voted together; when Sadler replaced Terrell, Sadler and Smith became, for many purposes, a dominating majority.
 Statements by Smith and Sadler have added value because they may often do pre-emptive commission action.

Since January, moreover, Smith has been chairman and as such is considered the official spokesman. Before January for two years Terrell was chairman and for the two years before that Thompson was chairman.
 Thompson occupies an extraordinary post as a news source because he is chairman of the interstate oil compact commission and is the official spokesman for that body.
 well protected geographically, and is a source of food, minerals, water power, man power, which would be invaluable in case of a national emergency.

The Program
 He listed six lines of attack the South is now making on its own problems. They were:
 1—The South contains, in the Tennessee Valley, the only instance in the nation where an attempt is being made to develop, in a coordinated fashion, all the resources of a region.
 2—Outstanding work is underway in public health, involving co-ordination of state, county and city health departments, the TVA and medical societies and education institutions.
 3—Development is going forward, slowly but progressively, of industries built around sources of raw materials which are virtually inexhaustible.
 4—Attempts are being made to link or balance agriculture with industry which may produce an economy sounder than either an urban-industrial or a rural-farm economy.
 5—Rapid progress is being made in improvement of race relations. There is increased recognition of the distinctiveness of the negro culture and the fact that all people of the South must move up the economic ladder together, if either race is to progress.
 6—In education, with an economic base far below that of other sections, the South is making rapid gains, although there is great need for increased federal aid for education.

September shipments by Texaco and Gulf refineries at Port Arthur totaled 9,662,020 barrels of crude oil and refined products, officials announced.

Cotton Loan Price Is Announced at 8 By Agriculture Head

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Agriculture Department announced Tuesday it would make loans available to growers on this year's cotton crop at a base rate of 8.3 cents per pound.

The loan program provides allowances for location differentials under which cotton stored near principal markets will be eligible for a higher rate than cotton stored under loan at remote points.

The base rate of 8.3 cents will apply to 7/8-inch middling cotton.

In figuring loans on cotton the Government will allow each borrower 40 points for tare.

Under the location differential provision, the loan rate will vary from a low of 8.70 cents per pound in parts of Western Texas and in New Mexico to a maximum loan rate of 9.30 cents for some points in North Carolina and in Virginia.

Rates in all Gulf of Mexico and California points will be 9.20 cents.

Announcement of the new loan program comes at a time when about 10,000,000 bales of surplus cotton from previous crops are stored under Government loan programs.

The full loan rate will be available only to co-operating cotton producers who have not on any farm knowingly planted or permitted the planting of cotton in 1939 in excess of the cotton acreage allotment established for the farm during the past season.

Non-cooperating farmers — those who exceeded their planting allotments — will be eligible to receive a loan at 80 per cent of the rate applicable to co-operating producers and only on that part of their production in excess of their marketing quotas.

The program also will provide a schedule of premiums and discounts under which cotton grading above and below middling 7/8 will be eligible for a variation in rates. This schedule will be announced later.

Loans will be available until May 1, 1940.

Local banks and other lending agencies may make loans to producers upon cotton stored in approved warehouses and sell their notes to the Commodity Credit Corporation from time to time prior to 30 days from the maturity of such notes.

The farmer loans will bear 3 per cent interest instead of 4 per cent as in the past.

NO CHANGE REPORTED IN PRICE OF COTTON.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8 (AP). — The government cotton report had little effect on the cotton market here today. The market opened 25 to 55 cents higher and held that trend around mid-day.

Four Landings At Airport Today

Commercial planes led landings at Midland Municipal Airport today, a checkup early this afternoon showed. Three landings were made by this type of ship. In excellent humor at the Soviet reception celebrating Russia's revolution anniversary, Goering reiterated statements about German economic and military strength after two months of war.

In reply to a question he said "we certainly are not afraid of American planes," which might be sold to the Allies. Told of talk that 8,000 planes might be sent to Britain and France, Goering declared:

"In the first place, it isn't possible to build 8,000 planes so fast and in the second place, even if it were, that does not mean yet that they are over here."

Ten Brothers and Sisters Hold Re-union Here

Ten children of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Jones of Lubbock, together with the families of those in the group who are married, held a family reunion here Sunday and Monday. Twenty-four were present for the family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Jones Sunday.

Pictures were made of the brothers and sisters and of the entire group.

This was the first time in 11 years that the family, of whom four members live here, have been together in a re-union.

Present for the gathering were: C. C. Jones and family of Lubbock; John Paul Jones and family of Stannett, Texas; W. W. Jones and wife of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. City of Flint Prize Crew Sent to Prison

BERLIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—The sixteen Germans who made up the prize crew aboard the American freighter City of Flint left here last night for Oslo, en route to internment in the fortress of Kongsvaer, near Sweden's border.

The foreign office at Oslo said Germany had been informed again that Norway's decision to free the City of Flint and hold the prize crew was irrevocable.

The City of Flint's crew worked on her in Bergen harbor amid unconfirmed reports that Norway would purchase part of the cargo.

Capt. J. A. Gainard of the City of Flint, commented "I am a sailor, not a salesman," when asked about disposition of the cargo.

Two Treated After Wreck This Morning

Two Midland men, Dr. J. O. Shannon and C. Pirtle, were in a local hospital this afternoon receiving treatment for injuries suffered this morning about 11 o'clock when a collision occurred between cars driven by the two occurred at the intersection of E. California S. Terrell streets.

Shannon was reported to have been the more seriously injured of the two, receiving a head injury along with severe bruises. X-ray pictures failed to show any fractures for either of the men.

Shannon was reported to have been driving south and Pirtle east at the time of the accident. Pirtle's car struck head-on in the middle of Shannon's car, causing extensive damage to both.

Lock of Lumber Will Force Mill Shutdown

CONRONE, (AP)—Lack of large-truck lumber will force the big Conroe Lumber Company sawmill here to shut down some time in November.

Some 450 men will lose their jobs and an estimated $40,000 monthly pay roll will be lost to Conroe.

For years the mill has been cutting timber for many miles around here, but all except small private tracts now have been cut.

J. H. Castleman, superintendent, said there was little hope the mill would open again, because the supply of good timber will be exhausted for years to come.

When the $1,500,000 structure was completed in 1915 it was one of the largest, finest mills in the south.

Although the mill proper will suspend work in November, Castleman said the planer would run until the present stock of lumber, about 6,000,000 feet—is disposed of. The planer, it is estimated, thus will be kept busy until about January 1.

Vaccination this year reduced deaths of horses from encephalitis, or blind staggers, in Dallas and Hartley counties almost to the vanishing point. Last fall 200 animals in the two counties were selected, but this year only one case—a colt weaned too early—has been identified.

Residential building at Dallas is $2,000,000 ahead of last year and non-residential and engineering construction through October also were substantially ahead of their 1938 levels.

Springfield, Ill., was the first city designated for use of the Food Order Stamp Plan for distributing surplus foods since Secretary of Agriculture Wallace announced further expansion of the plan.
