MUSTANGS AGAINST LAZBUDDIE

The football hero and the football queen of 1956 will be crowned Friday night at Mustang Field.

The hero will be selected by Bovina High School pep squad members. The queen will be named by the football squad.

Candidates for queen are Ellen Berry, Patricia Lloyd, Joan Kay Ezell, and Suzie Estes. The hero candidates are Neil Smith, Sonny Brito, Dick Horn and Mike Barraza.

The ceremony will be held at 7:45 p.m. — prior to the football game between the Mustangs and the Lazbuddie Longhorns.

The selected candidates for the two honors will remain a secret to the spectators until the ceremony. The four hero candidates will serve as escorts for the queen candidates.

The hero will be presented with a gift by members of the pep squad.

Bovina Mustang Band, under the direction of W. Wayne Stevens, will perform during the ceremony.

The crowning of the queen will lead off the pre-game festivities.

Though the weekend will be considered Homecoming for ex-students of Bovina High School, the program doesn't call for any other activities except those already mentioned and the football game.

Last year's queen was Pat Burnam, who was a member of the 1956 graduating class. She was crowned during half-time activities of the Bovina-Farwell football game on Veterans' Day, November 11.

The game itself will pit two opponents.

defeated Parmer County teams. Between them, the opposing teams have a total of three wins. The Lazbuddie team, of course, has two of these.

The Longhorns' season statistics show two wins and five losses. The Mustangs own a 1-7 record. Game time is 8 p. m.

Though the Longhorns have the better record and are slightly heavier, the Mustangs will go into the game as slight favorites.

The Mustang schedule has been stronger than that of the Lazbuddie team.

This is the first season that the Longhorns have fielded an 11-man team. Their record shows they have defeated New Home and Friona "B". Included in their loss column is a 14-13 defeat at the hands of the Hart Longhorns.

Bovina dumped Hart by a score of 19-7.

The Mustangs came out of last week's game with the Amherst

Bulldogs in good shape as far as injuries are concerned and are figured to be in top physical condition.

The nearness of the two schools and the potential rivalry is expected to make for a large attendance at the game.

Whittlin'

By Dolph Moten

Much as I hate to admit it, the fact remains that the "aginers" won Thursday's bond election. That was not, I feel, as it should have been. But as I said—the fact remains.

However, I'm not going to blame the bonds' defeat on the unprogressiveness of local people. I've talked to too many folks who are progressive who said, "I'd like to vote for the bonds and I'd like to see Bovina grow, but we just don't have any assurance that the project won't raise taxes nor that it will ever develop."

Even though I'm in disagreement with this theory, I can see that point.

In short, I think the reason the election failed to carry was because of lack of promotion. You can't expect people as a whole to be for something they know nothing about.

Had the voters been informed, I feel sure they would have voted "for" the bonds by as large a margin as they voted "against" them.

As a matter of fact, I'd go so far as to say that the election would still carry if an informed, assured group of voters went to the polls.

Too, I realize that I'm doing a little bit of "Monday morning quarterbacking." But "Monday morning quarterbacking" might be better than none at all, and the election had a minimum of quarter-backing of any kind from a promotional standpoint.

It did, of course, cause some hard feelings here and there. That's to be expected when there is as much difference of opinion in the community on an issue as there was on the bond election.

As a town, I think we'll suffer from that negative vote. However, things could be a lot worse.

And, as I mentioned before, I definitely believe that a second election would carry if it had the proper kind and amount of promotion.

That capital "if" reminds me that there were too many "ifs, ands, and buts" concerning the first election.

Maybe I'd better leave it at that for the time being.

The Texas Aggies are big favorites now to be Southwest Conference champions. Nothing could make this department happier than for the Aggies to play in the Cotton Bowl come January 1, unless maybe it would be a "yes" vote in a city election.

By the time you're reading this, you'll know who will be president of the United States for the next four years.

All I know now is that I'm glad the campaign is over. For the time being at least, the Republicans and "Democrats for Eisenhower" won't be talking to me so long and hard and telling me I'm "misinformed," "surely know better than that silly stuff you write" among other things.

Monday Night

Cemetery Water Line Gets The Green Light

Members of Bovina Cemetery Association met with the city commission Monday night in the city hall during a regular meeting of the commission. Purpose of the two groups getting their heads together was to discuss installing a two inch city water line to the Bovina Cemetery, which is in southeast Bovina.

Boost Bovina Winners Named

Buford Stanberry was the big winner in Saturday's Boost Bovina drawing. He walked off with $15.

Other winners were Mrs. A. B. Kent, $10; and Lillian Barber, $5.

The seventh drawing will be held Saturday afternoon.

$2000 worth of water in advance. Cost of installing the line will be about $2800, city dads estimate. However, it was pointed out during the meeting that the installation will be beneficial to the city as well as to the cemetery.

Cemetery association representatives explained to the commission they had $1500 of the $2000 and could secure the remainder in two or three months. The commission voted to have the line installed now. The $1500 will be paid this week and the two groups will sign a contract saying that the remainder will be paid in 90 days.

Representing the cemetery association were Hubert Ellison, Bill Venable, Buck Ellison, and Luther Grissom. Grissom and Buck Ellison are directors of the association. Another director, Bedford Caldwell, was not present.

Work on the project is expected to begin as soon as pipe needed arrives.

Following the cemetery water discussion, the commissioners moved into a discussion on the month's bills. They agreed to pay all but two of the bills and deferred these until further investigation.

The commissioners—Mayor J. E. Sherrill, Jr., Paul Jones and Emmett Tabor—agreed to pay election officials $10 for holding the city tax bond election Thursday. The election judge, Will Parker, will be paid $12.

They also discussed and agreed

In Parmer County It's—

Stevenson

Texas agreed with the nation in returning President Eisenhower to his second term of office in the general election Tuesday, but it was a different story in predominantly-agricultural Parmer County.

Here, Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, the Democratic nominees for the nation's two highest offices, took a clear-cut victory. It was not, however, an overwhelming one, and pre-election guesses had predicted the margin would be wider.

In Bovina, Stevenson carried easily. This precinct gave him 272. Eisenhower polled 154.

A poll taken by the three Parmer County newspapers last week indicated that Stevenson could be expected to take 69% of the Parmer County vote. That would have been of landslide proportions.

As the case was, the Democratic nominees accumulated 1372 out of the record total vote of 2415. That was 56.8%. The Eisenhower-Nixon share of the Parmer County vote was 42.6%. They drew 1028 votes.

At this early date, only a few are guessing what could be the cause of the strength of the GOP nominees in this county where that party is very inactive. A quick sampling of opinion on the street seems to point to last-minute developments in world conditions.

With his military background and previous experience as president, Eisenhower apparently pulled the strings on some last minute decisions that might otherwise have fallen into the Democratic column.

An aggressive "get out the vote" campaign by area newspapers—in fact, all mass media—plus the effective efforts of local groups who did everything from ringing telephones and mailing reminders, to driving voters to the polls and sitting at home with their children, produced the biggest vote the county has ever had.

Four years ago, when Eisenhower and Nixon were running against Stevenson and Sparkman, Parmer County marked 2168. This week, the total cast in the county soared to 2415 for an all-time record.

The rush to the polls produced an unexpectedly heavy demand for ballots. In two instances, county officials had to "rob" boxes with an oversupply of ballots to meet the needs of voters.

Extras were sent to Rhea and Lakeview, two rural polling points.

Everyone was amazed at the turn-out. Bert Gordon at Lazbuddie reported election officials as saying it was by far the biggest vote ever there. Albert Smith of Farwell had like comments. At Rhea, all but two eligible persons cast their vote, which was probably the highest turn-out in the county.

At Friona, where 918 poll taxes were paid, 813 persons made their way to the ballot box to express their opinions in national and state affairs.

Minor candidates failed to develop any strength in the election. T. Coleman Andrews, on the Texas Constitution Party ticket in Texas, drew 15 votes in the county. He pulled six of these from conserva-

Bovina's $25,000 city bond election Thursday was defeated. Final totals for the two propositions—one for water tax bonds and the other for sewer tax bonds—was 88-60 and 90-58.

A total of 149 voters went to the polls. City and election officials considered the total number of voters to be "better than average."

Propositions voted on were: No. 1, FOR or AGAINST the Issuance of Waterworks System Tax Bonds. No. 2, FOR or AGAINST the Issuance of Sewer System Tax Bonds.

Had the bonds been voted, the money would have been used for the installation of water and sewer lines in the Gardner (Pesch) Addition in Bovina as well as for repair and additions in other parts of town for the two systems.

The election was held in the American Legion Hall. Will Parker, judge; C. R. Elliott, R. A. Hartsell, and Bob Berggren held the election.

The election was called in October after the city commission had been presented with a petition bearing a sufficient amount of voters' signatures.

Girl Basketballs In Scrimmage Games

Coach R. E. Everett's Bovina High School girls' basketball team is getting the jump on the boys' squad. The Fillies have already played in four scrimmage games and are practicing regularly.

The Fillies, runners-up in District 3-B for the past two seasons, are short on height this year, according to Coach Everett, but should have "more experience than usual."

Only four members of last year's squad were lost by graduation. They were Pauline Lloyd, Janie Alverson, Dee Pounds and Julia Kelso. All were starters.

Eight lettermen returned from last year's squad. Also returning this season are eight squadmen. Everett admits that the number of returning lettermen and squadmen sounds favorable, "but you must remember that the majority of squad members this year will be sophomores."

The traveling will be composed of 12 or 15 players.

In the first three scrimmage games, the girls lost to Kress and won over Cotton Center twice. They played Farwell Tuesday night in another scrimmage. Thursday night, they go against Amherst.

When football season is over and the boys' club becomes active, boys' and girls' games will be played on the same nights, Everett explains.

For Softball—

Jaycees Discuss Lighting Park

Bovina Junior Chamber of Commerce considered building a lighted softball park in Bovina at a regular Saturday noon meeting in Bovina Restaurant.

Robert Read was made head of a committee to get estimates on how much fences, etc. would cost.

Dolph Moten was appointed head of a committee to find a location of the park, which will, if built, be large enough to play baseball in and will have lights for softball and Little League play.

The club also agreed to order trophies.

What Do You Think?

We've talked, written, cried, and hollered about paving and curbing and guttering for several months now. Some of the curbs and gutters have come to be a reality; none of the paving.

However, there has been some paving repair. All this time, there has been a run-down, unsightly situation right in front of us. Why it hasn't been brought fully into the light before now, we don't know. Maybe because of lack of interest, but we doubt that.

The problem is the condition of the "gutters" of North (Main) Street right in the heart of town.

The street is paved, of course, and that is one whole of an advantage. Maybe that's why we couldn't see its need for improvement. The gutter is what needs improving.

In some places, the street and the sidewalk run together. In others, the sidewalk is a foot or more higher than the street. Not being an engineer, we'll leave the details to others. But we do feel that the heart of Bovina could be vastly improved.

Too, the cost would be slight considering that only paving would have to be done. Most other areas in town we've written about would require paving as well as curbs and gutters and this would make the cost much more.

Such an improvement would and could possibly inspire some business building owners to improve the looks of their property.

This ball, we think, has a good chance to get rolling if it can get just a little shove. It certainly, we're sure everyone would agree, would help the looks of downtown.

What do you think Mr. Main Street Property Owner, wouldn't this improvement have many more advantages than its one disadvantage?

Amherst Bulldogs Bite Mustangs, 32-6

Playing a good, determined brand of ball for the first half Friday night at Mustang Field, Bovina's Mustangs weakened in the last two periods and the Amherst Bulldogs emerged with a 32-6 win.

It was the fourth District 3-B game for the locals and their record now is 1-3. Season's record is 1-7 for Coach Bob Wills' boys.

First downs were more even than the score. Amherst racked up 12 and Bovina had eight. The Mustangs were penalized four times for 38 yards. The winners lost 85 yards via penalties with yardage being stepped off against them nine times.

Score by quarters was 6-0, 13-6, and 19-6. The Bulldogs counted a TD in each of the first three periods and two in the fourth. The Mustangs managed for their score in the second.

Amherst scored early in the first quarter. After the Mustangs elected to receive the opening kickoff and failed to make a first down, Neil Smith's punt rolled dead on the Amherst 20. Three plays later, the Bulldogs' Joe Peaterman crashed through the line and was away for the touchdown. Ledford Enloe's attempted place kick for the extra point was low and left the score at 6-0.

Following the kickoff, the Mustangs started back up field in an attempt to add a touchdown of their own. However, a Smith pass was intercepted on the Amherst 45. In five plays, the heavier, more experienced Bulldogs had shoved the ball to the Mustang 19. On the next play, an astute Mustang pounced on a fumble on the five to put the Bovina lads on the offensive deep in their own territory.

Smith, almost trapped behind the goal line, dodged a couple of tacklers and made it out to the 10. In two more plays he had a first down and was on the 21 yard line. Then, from single wing formation with Smith in the deep slot, he faked beautifully to James Lawlis. With the Bulldog lineman after Lawlis, Smith was in the clear before he got to the line of scrimmage. However, he was caught from behind and knocked out of bounds on the Amherst 36. A Smith to Dick Horn pass went incomplete. Smith carried to the 32, the 28, and for a first down on the 25. Burnett made one to the 24 as the first quarter ended.

A Smith to Horn screen pass made four to the 20. A personal foul by a Bulldog cost his team 15 yards and put the ball on the five. Smith took a pitchout from that point and went around the right side of the line for the score. Burnett's attempted place kick for the extra point was blocked and the score was tied at 6-6.

After Brito's kickoff, the Amherst team couldn't make progress because of a flock of penalties and fourth down caught them with 30 yards to go. The punt rolled dead on the Mustang 10. Fighting back, Coach Wills' footballers slammed back to the 37 before a fumble caused them to lose possession of the ball. The Bulldogs couldn't move and punted out of bounds on the Mustang seven. A penalty against the Mustangs for illegal use of the hands moved the ball down to the one. Burnett charged out to the 10 but fumbled and Amherst recovered on the 17. It took five plays for the Bulldogs to make their second touchdown. Enloe kicked the extra point and the score was 13-6.

The Bulldogs took Brito's second half kickoff and kept the ball in their possession for 11 plays and three first downs. They lost it on the Bovina nine via the fumble route.

Another penalty moved the Pones back to the one. Smith left-footed a punt to Enloe on the 30. He returned to the 19. Four plays and a first down had the ball across the double stripe and the score was 19-6. The extra point kick was low.

The fourth touchdown was made by the Bulldogs early in the fourth quarter. After Donnie Spring had punted out of bounds on their 34, they set up a 63 yard drive in eight plays that was climaxed by a pass from Keith Blair to Jerry Gee in the end zone that made the score 25-6. Enloe added the PAT to make the score 26-6.

The winners charged right back for their fifth. Following the kickoff, they recovered a Mustang fumble on the Bovina 29. Four plays put the ball across the goal line and the score at 32-6. The extra point was blocked and the scoring was over for the evening. However, Amherst was in possession of the ball on the Mustang three as the game ended.

The game was played in the coldest weather of the season. The grandstand crowd, as could be expected, was small. Only a handful of die-hard fans were brave enough to "stick it out" in the stands. However, the crowd was about average — most of the people retreated to the comforts of their automobiles. Cars were parked on three sides of the field and the majority of them had several occupants.

Mrs. Joe Langer spent several days last week in Truth or Consequences, N. M. She returned home Monday.

The Intermediate and Young People's department of the First Baptist Church had an "Advertisement party" in the church annex Monday evening.

The invitations set the theme of the social by being of the advertising nature. It was followed out by the greeting party at the door, who pinned advertisements of either automobiles, foods, clothes or furniture on the back of each guest. The four groups were thus divided into teams for games.

Halloween decorations carried out the season's theme with crepe paper streamers, skeletons, jack-o-lanterns and candle light. Refreshments of sandwiches, hot chocolate, cookies and Halloween candy were served. Sponsors for the evening's entertainment were Mr. and Mrs. Don Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kelley. There were about 55 young people present.

Mrs. Burke Improving

Mrs. Alvin Burke, who makes her home with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Langer and family, is reported to be much improved at this time. Mrs. Burke was released recently from Clovis Memorial Hospital where she had undergone treatments for several weeks.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

This is a continuation of our article of last week on what Soil Conservation Districts are.

Erosion has a chain of reactions. Soil washes off a field and finally piles up in a reservoir behind a man-made dam. A gully creeps up the slope without regard to fences, property lines, county lines, or state lines. Dust from a bare field buries a neighbor's wheat. Water rushes off over-grazed pastures to flood the land and towns below.

The only American answer to these problems is for people to cooperate in their solution. The machinery for such cooperation is a soil conservation district.

The wording of the laws permitting the formation of soil conservation districts varies from state to state. But the state laws do follow a general pattern. The administration of the laws is in the hands of state committees, boards, or commissions. The men who make up these committees are usually state agricultural department heads, or active farmers or ranchers, or both. They receive no federal funds nor are they under any form of federal control.

Soil conservation districts are governed by local citizens. The members of the governing bodies are called supervisors in Texas. Generally, supervisors donate their time and pay their own expenses. They are not on the federal payroll.

Most state laws provide that each soil conservation district shall have five supervisors, as does Texas. The supervisors must be local citizens and must also be active landowning farmers or ranchers.

Through their district governing body, local people formulate their own soil conservation program.

This governing body directs the activities of the district. It also coordinates the conservation efforts of various state and federal agencies and other organizations. Where funds permit district-owned equipment, as in Texas, the governing body controls the use of it. The governing body also handles the district money and signs the checks.

In brief, soil conservation districts are a true example of local self-government. The people of a community join together voluntarily and legally to solve their own problems in their own way.

Taken from: "The Why, What and How of Soil Conservation Districts."

Several predictions have been made in recent years about how swine and cattle will once again return to the pasture and feedlot of the farms of the irrigated plains.

To a certain extent, some of these predictions have come true, but the change has been slow indeed. We still are predominantly an area of "land" farmers, where the plow and the irrigation well rule supreme. The world-known agricultural combination of the cow, sow, and hen still isn't often to be found hereabouts.

In cases where cattle feeding has been re-introduced, we have noticed a tendency to specialize. That is, rather than be a farmer-stockman, we will see either farmer or stockman. The rural resident with dual interests is gradually declining.

Ex-County Agent Honored at Meeting

Ollie Linder, Hale County Agricultural agent, was one of six Texas agricultural agents to receive Distinguished Service Awards at the National Association of County Agricultural Agents annual meeting last week.

The meeting, which was held at Houston, was the first national meeting of the organization to be held in Texas. The Texas agents receiving the awards were the largest number from any state to be so recognized.

Each recipient of the Distinguished Service Award has been an employee of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service for 10 years or more and all have made many outstanding contributions to agriculture and improved rural living during their tenure of service.

Linder was county agricultural agent of Parmer County before moving to Plainview.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

This afternoon we had the pleasure of watching a new combination washer and dryer work. A factory representative had charge of the demonstration at a county hardware store. As the clothes were being washed and dried, the man explained the various phases of the operation.

As we sat and watched, we wondered why he was going to such great lengths to point out the advantages of such a machine over the conventional type machine. He had a good point to bring up for just about any criticism which could be offered.

We left with the conclusion that homemakers would just have to be educated to accept the advantages of automatic laundering. Not too many years ago a lot of homemakers would not buy washing machines because they thought there was no way to clean clothes except by the iron pot, wash board, lye soap method. Maybe that is our attitude toward the automatic machines.

The whole idea boils down to our unwillingness to give up our old habits for new ones. A lot of times the newer ways of doing things are much easier for us once we get in the groove. Seems like it is always harder for us to get away from old habits than it is to form new ones.

If you want to make a quick candy roll, try this one: Grind 1 1/2 cups pitted dates, 3/4 cup shredded coconut, 1/2 lb. figs or dried apricots, 1/2 cup nut meats, and 1/4 orange with rind. Mix thoroughly, then put in greased pan to chill. Cut into squares or roll into small balls then dust with powdered sugar.

We heard a teacher make a remark recently that has caused us to think a great deal. He said, "Part of growing up is learning to make the best use of our time." We wonder if most homemakers we know have learned that yet. Not too many years ago, a homemaker could keep her work done well and still have time left over. Not so any more. Any homemaker who has children, and some of those who have none, can very easily find an outlet for her extra time and energy. There is always a need for helpers in church activities, youth club work, Boy and Girl Scout programs, and extra school activities. All of these are good, but too many homemakers do not know when to stop.

What we need to know is when to say, "No," when asked to do a job which takes time away from our regular job that should not be taken. Someone once said, "If you want something done, ask a busy woman to do it. Those who are not busy do not have time."

One homemaker with whom we talked last week said, "I just have five nights a week filled with club work, Cub Scout activities, and other things. Beginning the first of the year I am going to drop some of them so I will have some time at home." Maybe in the not too far distant future someone will start a movement to get the homemakers back in the home.

It has been a long time since we heard a man complain that his wife stayed too close to home to keep up with what was going on in the community. Seems like one extreme follows another.

Both the words Czar and Kaiser come from the Latin word Caesar. Khaki is a Hindustan word meaning "dust colored."

Six FB Delegates To State Meeting

Six voting delegates from Parmer County Farm Bureau will leave for Houston Saturday afternoon to attend the 23rd annual Texas Farm Bureau Convention in the Rice Hotel, November 11, to 14. The delegates are Gilbert Kaltwasser, Harry Hamilton, Roy V. Miller, Jack Patterson, Walter Schueler and M. T. Glasscock.

Service agents Raymond Euler and Aubra Ellison are also going. Three wives are accompanying their husbands on the trip. They are Mrs. Gilbert Kaltwasser, Mrs. Walter Schueler and Mrs. Harry Hamilton.

The delegates are going with instructions to support resolutions voted by the membership in annual convention in Bovina September 24. Subjects up for consideration at the convention pertain to a proposed water development program for Texas, the Texas right to work laws, noxious weeds in feed grains, the national farm program, minimum parity supports on non-basic commodities, reduction of state cotton acreage reserve, segregation in schools, and consideration of a state sales tax to replace the present school tax system, and many others.

Boling FHA Supervisor For Parmer County

Bill Boling is the new FHA supervisor of Parmer County. He replaces Walter Johnson of Hereford, who formerly oversaw Parmer-Deaf Smith offices.

Parmer County has been considered a separate and permanent FHA office since September 10.

Boling moved here Saturday from Perryton, where he was assistant supervisor of the Ochiltree County office. He and his wife and family are now residing in Texico.

Boling has two children: Cheryl, 4, and Johnny, 1.

John Zahn will continue in the FHA office in Farwell as assistant emergency loan supervisor.

Boling, who started his new duties Monday of this week, is familiar with Parmer County. From July of 1954 until October of 1955, he served in the capacity now held by Zahn.

THE PARMER FARMER

Sorghum alnum, the new drought-resistant, tall grass that resembles sudan and Johnson grass in appearance at least, is still making headlines in farm publications and newspapers across the country.

From indications we noticed earlier in the season, the soil and climatic conditions of Parmer County are very favorable for production of this new crop, and especially for seed purposes.

If the drought hangs on and the news of sorghum alnum continues to spread in the dryland areas all four directions from here, the irrigated Plains should be in a very good position to produce abundant seed. The price, of course, depends on the demand. So far, prospects appear good.

We happened by the Wells farm a little north of Friona the other day and remembered to look at where some of the tall grass had been raised this year.

This crop had been raised for its seed, primarily, but we noticed that a binder was in the field, and apparently the forage is being put to good use.

Like dual-purpose cattle, dual-purpose crops enhance the profit picture.

The harvest continues to amaze us. It certainly is different from last year. The long lines of trucks that were in front of almost all the area elevators just a year ago have not materialized yet.

Mechanization and improved roads has done a lot to increase the tendency of a crop to "rush in" from all points at a simultaneous moment. However, this year's harvest is even and unhurried, compared to the past two years.

Is the weather really getting milder?

Evidence continues to accumulate that would indicate this is so. Species of animals that formerly had the southernmost parts of the country as their only habitation are now migrating northward.

The change of just a very few degrees in the average temperature of the northern hemisphere would bring about great changes, say the climatologists.

Even a slight warming would increase the melting of the polar ice cap to such an extent that the level of the great oceans that lap our shores would rise several feet. That event, in the case of many harbor cities, would be catastrophic.

More and more, as time goes on, it seems that we are less affected by the great natural and man-made forces in the world than any other place we know of. Isolation in this sense, then, could some day be a real blessing to the Plains.

"The Place Where Most People Trade" WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1956

We will be expecting you to come see the new Oldsmobile on display at Parmer County Implement Friday, November 9. Oldsmobile for '57 is completely and beautifully new, all the way through. In fact, it introduces more product changes than have ever been made in any year for the past two decades. For 1957, Oldsmobile offers extra comfort, extra convenience and extra safety—plus Rocket performance at its liveliest. There's nothing like a Rocket for quick, responsive action—for a wealthy reserve of power through every driving range—for cruising speed economy. More than ever, the Rocket puts the accent on your kind of performance.

Farming is such a gamble—it's too hot or too cold, or too wet or too dry—that many farmers are a bit inclined to be pessimistic. Of one such, it is related that a friend was visiting the place and looking out over a wonderful field of corn, remarked:

"Just look at those stalks—higher than a man's head and six fine ears of corn to every stalk."

"Yes," the farmer conceded, with unsmiling face, "But a crop like that sure does pull on my land."

GOOD PRACTICE

Floyd Crume, work unit conservationist for the Parmer County SCD, inspects a field east of Bovina. This is a good example of utilizing crop residue, says Crume. The stubble had been cut with a stalk cutter and then was disced into the soil.

Use That Stubble, Advise SCS Men

Some farmers may be overlooking a good method of helping sustain production on their farms—especially under irrigated conditions—according to the Parmer County Soil Conservation Service.

This can be done by using the grain stubble as a soil conditioner; that is, chopping it into the top few inches of the soil, points out Floyd Crume, SCS conservationist. Stubble handled in this manner serves two purposes, he says. It decreases wind erosion, and it increases the ability of the soil to absorb moisture (both irrigation water and rainfall) during the fall and winter months.

In order for the stubble to be sufficiently decomposed, and to keep the soil in good condition, a high nitrogen-type fertilizer should be applied to the mulched-in stubble, advises Crume.

After making representative clippings of some of the fields of the Parmer County Soil Conservation District, SCS technicians conclude that there are about two pounds of stubble left in the field for each pound of grain harvested.

In other words, if a farmer cuts 3,000 pounds of grain per acre, he should have around 6,000 pounds of stubble per acre left in his field. Crume points out that by figuring that it takes about 20 pounds of high-nitrogen fertilizer to decompose a ton of stubble, a farmer can arrive at the amount of fertilizer that he needs to apply.

Also, he should have a soil analysis run to determine the amount of available nitrogen already present in the soil, suggest the SCS technicians.

To select the best beef buy for the food budget, figure the number of servings from each pound to find the actual cost of the various cuts. Servings determine the actual cost, according to the extension foods and nutrition specialists.

One beef cut may cost more per pound than another cut, but in the end will give more servings per pound and at a lower cost per serving than the cheaper cut.

Pay particular attention to appearance of the meat. High quality beef has certain characteristics that indicate top grade, including a large amount of meat in relation to bone, a fairly thick coating of firm, creamy-white fat, lean that is firm and fine-textured, a fair amount of marbling (little streaks of fat intermingled with the lean),

Twenty one state Farm Bureaus had already exceeded their 1955 membership on September 30. This is two months before the end of the fiscal year. We are happy to report that Texas Farm Bureau is one of the 21. We are sorry to report that it is not the highest in membership in the nation. It should be.

If you didn't vote Tuesday it surely wasn't because it slipped your mind. Boy Scouts probably did as much as any other organization to get you to come out and say what you thought where it counts, at the polls. And we don't remember hearing as much encouragement from so many radio programs. We hope you voted and that you have paid your poll tax so you can vote in 1957, too.

We doubt that Senator Joseph W. Bailey seriously thought it could happen when he said on the Texas senate floor in 1912: "I suppose the time will come when we will contrive some way to pension the taxpayer. Just exactly how a system for that can be devised is past my comprehension. But with modern legislative legerdemain I have no doubt a way will be devised to make everybody support everybody else without anybody working for himself or for others." The quote was printed in the Texas

Tax Journal.

Farmer's Union To Elect Officers

There will be a meeting of the Farmer's Union at the Friona school cafeteria Tuesday evening, November 20, at 8 p.m. All farmers who are interested in the activities of this organization are urged to attend by W. L. Edelman, president.

New officers will be elected, an annual report will be given, and delegates to the state convention will be named. The organization hopes to have a good representation at the state convention which will be held in Abilene December 7 and 8.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Here is an easy way for some of you ladies to increase your Christmas shopping purse: Come in and file for refund of the five cent state tax paid on the gasoline used for farming. That is five dollars for each hundred gallons of gasoline. Several farmers still allow some of their invoices to expire for exemption, even after they have received a notice 30 or so days before the expiration date. So you ladies can help balance the budget by coming in and filing as soon as you receive the card headed, "Important Notice." All you need to bring with you is the affidavit received with your last refund check. If it is your first claim, we will furnish the affidavit.

Rhea Farm Bureau had Cecil McNeil, safety officer of the State Highway Patrol, at their monthly meeting Friday night. He spoke and showed a film on traffic safety. Mrs. F. T. Schlenker arranged for the timely program.

Frankly, it wasn't easy to remain Democratic during the campaign. People who agree with what you write seldom, if ever, bother to say so. On the other hand, those who disagree are extremely quick to say so. Therefore, about all the political conversations I could get involved in were with Republicans and/or "Democrats for Eisenhower."

It wasn't easy and I'm glad it's over. But it was a lot of fun and four years from now if my by-line is still under this column's name, I'll be ready to go again.

Maybe before then.

Cemetery Water Line Gets Green Light

to consider buying a circulator heater for the city hall from John Wilson. The heater under consideration has been used for about a year. Wilson, who was present, said he would take $50 for it.

In the last business attended to, the officials agreed that Wilson, recently-appointed water superintendent, would attend a water and sewage works operation school in Lubbock November 12, 13, and 14.

phies to be presented to the best all-around football player and to the best sportsman on the 1956 Mustang squad. The trophies will be presented later this year. Bob Willis was appointed to order the trophies.

The club discussed having a boxing program during the winter months. No decision was reached concerning this project.

Plans were made to set up the Jaycee vote-encouraging booth in downtown Bovina on general election day—Tuesday.

Stevenson Carries Parmer County Vote

tive Farwell.

William R. Bryant, Republican nominee for governor, drew only 164 votes in Parmer County, but even this amount was sufficient to put him ahead of W. Lee O'Daniel, who polled 121. O'Daniel sought write-in.

Parmer County voters added eight patches to an already patch-ed-up constitution as they endorsed every proposed amendment to the state charter. This was a surprising development, in view of the fact that only two of the eight changes had organized local backing.

One more amendment will be voted on next Tuesday. It will, if passed, result in additional state aid to persons permanently disabled "by reason of his mental or physical handicap."
