New Fighting Flares At Anzio

Allies Block Nazi Attempts To Infiltrate

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES — (AP) —

Fighting again flared on the Anzio front, with artillery gunners breaking up German troops preparing to attack in front of American troops west of Cisterna and Allied troops repulsing Nazi attempts to infiltrate their lines southwest of Carroceto. Allied headquarters announced Thursday.

While four-engined bombers were ranging into Austria and attacking an important German aircraft assembly plant at Steyr, the tactical air force swung over the coast of Italy and Yugoslavia, showering bombs on enemy shipping from which the enemy has been sending supplies into the Italian battle areas.

The air command announced that six Liberators were lost in the Steyr attack. The bomber crews shot down 32 enemy fighters and escorting Lightnings accounted for another.

Patrol actions and sharp exchanges of artillery fire continued on the main Fifth Army front in the Cassino area. Allied shells apparently hit German munitions or gasoline dumps in the mountains northwest of Cassino. Explosions were observed in three places.

Although sharp fighting occurred at some points on the beachhead and enemy movements suggested Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kerkring was regrouping his forces for a third try at driving the Allies into the sea, the German high command did not commit any sizeable forces to action Wednesday and no ground changed hands.

German planes continued to bomb and shoot up beachhead troops until noon, but rain in the afternoon kept them on the ground. Heavy cannonading resounded from both lines throughout the day.

British forces of the Eighth Army beat off a small-scale German attack in the region of Guardigliere, about 20 miles inland from the Adriatic on a highway southeast of Ortona. Other patrols inflicted casualties on the Germans near Anelli.

In sweeps across the Adriatic, planes of the tactic air force wove a close-knit pattern of bombs along the length of the Yugoslav coast, covering Zara Harbor, the harbor near Marina, a landing field near Knin, a motor convoy north of Split and shipping in the Drvenik channel. Spitfires attacked Corfu off the Greek coast.

Altogether seven Allied planes were lost from this theater and 35 German planes were shot down.

Pvt. Bill Collins Is At Camp Barkeley

Pvt. Bill Collins Wednesday was transferred from Fort Bliss, El Paso, to Camp Barkeley, Abilene, Texas, for training with a medical battalion.

Collins, popular Midland Chamber of Commerce manager, reported for active duty with the Army two weeks ago.

House Overrides Tax Bill Veto By 299 To 95

Senate Democrats Uproariously Return Barkley To Majority Post

WASHINGTON — (P) — In a stride against President Roosevelt's tax views, the House Thursday voted 299 to 95 to pass the $2,300,000,000 new revenue bill over his veto.

The Senate is expected to duplicate the House action Friday, putting the tax bill on the statute books, "the President's objections notwithstanding."

WASHINGTON — (P) — An unanimous Democratic vote returned Senator Barkley Thursday to the Senate leadership he resigned in a sensational rebuff to President

Roosevelt's tax veto, and the veteran Kentuckian announced he would continue in the important party post.

Stumping, in effect, their approval of Barkley's bitter denunciation of Mr. Roosevelt's tax message, Democratic senators roared their acceptance of his resignation and just as enthusiastically rejected his leader—a leader greatly enhanced in congressional, if not also party, prestige.

The President, to whom Barkley directed his stinging rebuke in an extraordinary speech Wednesday climaxed by his resignation had joined in asking Barkley to continue, in a telegram saying "your differing with me does not affect my confidence in your leadership nor in any degree lessen my respect and affection for you personally."

After the dramatic party conference, from which Barkley walked sternly after handling in his resignation, the Kentuckian, too, expressed to reporters his "deepest personal affection" for Mr. Roosevelt.

The conference, by unanimous votes, immediately accepted the resignation, then re-elected him leader.

Barkley's acceptance followed in his office, when six senators advised him formally of the overwhelming vote of confidence. They reported Barkley was so moved during his acceptance of the honor that his voice broke and tears came into his eyes.

This was enacted the second chapter in a political drama which raised a serious Democratic challenge to President Roosevelt's leadership in the 1944 election year.

Emerging from Barkley's office where they went as members of a committee appointed to notify the Kentuckian of his unanimous reelection by the Democratic conference, Senators Clark (D-Mo) and Tydings (D-Md) told reporters: "Yes, he's agreed to accept."

Earlier, Barkley had formally submitted his resignation in a speech to the caucus which he told reporters was "strictly in the family."

Denying that there were any fourth-term implications in his historic break with President Roosevelt Wednesday over the tax bill veto, Barkley asserted: "I've always had and still have the deepest personal affection for the President. He stands right along personally and officially with Woodrow Wilson who has been my ideal of a president for the last generation."

Barkley's colleagues backed him to the man in his open break with President Roosevelt over the tax bill veto.

City, County And Schools Announce Summer Recreation Program Plans

The Midland school board at its meeting Wednesday night announced plans for a 12-week, city-wide recreation program for Midland's school-age children during the summer.

The city, county and school district are cooperating in the program and funds to finance it will be provided by the three governmental agencies.

The program will start soon after the close of schools for the summer months. Complete plans and details of the program now are being worked out.

An experienced director will be employed to manage the program. Supervision will be under the school system.

Tournaments To Be Staged
Swimming, tennis, baseball, football, basketball, playground ball, volleyball, badminton, table tennis and other games and sports will be included in the program.

Before its close, tournaments will be scheduled in practically all of the sports. The program will be open without any cost to all children of school age.

Programs will be included for Latin American and negro children.

Pagoda pool, which is owned by the city, the high school gymnasium, school yards and playgrounds will be used in the elaborate sports festival for Midland youngsters.

The school system will employ the trained director and his assistants and provide necessary equipment.

The program will be varied. School Superintendent Frank Monroe said, to retain the interest of Midland students during the summer months, their participation will be voluntary.

Move To Oust Tojo Reported By Chinese

CHUNGKING — (P) — Reports from Shanghai by the Central News Agency declared Thursday that "a movement to overthrow Premier Tojo is spreading throughout Japan," where conditions were said to be growing "increasingly unstable."

Barkley Sends Political Weather Vanes Into Spin

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON — (P) — Political weather vanes spun in all directions Thursday as congressional and other leaders strove to assay the political effects of Senator Barkley's break with the White House on President Roosevelt's fourth term prospects.

"Some anti-fourth termers and lukewarm administration followers believed Barkley's resignation and expected vote of confidence to remain as Senate majority leader would slow up or actually "jeopardize" the President's renomination, or at least buttress the stop-fourth-term movements such as are being led by onetime Roosevelt War Secretary Harry Woodring and former governor of Massachusetts Joseph B. Ely.

But others among Barkley's Democratic colleagues expect his bitter denunciation of Mr. Roosevelt's tax bill veto to result in improved relations between the White House and Congress by "clearing the atmosphere" and to have little or no effect on the President's renomination chances or the election.

"Who else have we got?" was the way they sized up the convention picture in the light of the Kentuckian's unprecedented action.

The answer, in some quarters, was that Barkley himself was a possible candidate behind whom various anti-Roosevelt factions of the party could rally.

Republicans were jubilant.

American Casualties Now Total 157,865

WASHINGTON — (P) — American casualties in the war now total 157,865, of which 36,005 are dead.

Undersecretary of War Patterson reported Thursday that U. S. Army casualties from Dec. 7, 1941, February 7, 1944, totaled 118,123, divided as follows: killed 19,499; wounded 45,545; missing 26,339; prisoners of war 26,745.

Twenty-Two Motorists Receive Tickets Here

Twenty-two motorists failed to heed the warning of the Police Department that enforcement of parking regulations would be resumed Wednesday, due to complaints from merchants and businessmen.

As a result 21 had tickets for overtime parking and a date with the police judge, and one was tagged for parking in a restricted zone.

Chief Jack Ellington said a patrolman has been assigned regularly to the task of enforcing parking regulations and cautioned motorists to observe the restrictions.

CIO BACKS FDR

BOSTON — (P) — President Joseph Salerno of the Massachusetts state CIO issued a statement Thursday declaring that the CIO was solidly behind the President in his veto of the tax bill.

Allied Warplanes Resume Battering Of German Bases

LONDON — (P) — Packs of American Marauders and British Typhoons swept across the channel Thursday to resume the Allied aerial offensive amid strong indications that American heavy bombers may be making another deep penetration of Germany.

The Berlin radio reported extensive air battles over Northwest and Central Germany. Several key central radio stations had left the air.

The Allied daylight assault was resumed after German raiders sharply attacked London Wednesday night and RAF Mosquitos had set sirens wailing in Germany against in a series of scattered attacks over the Western Reich.

Dutch airfields were the targets selected for the daylight pounding by the American Marauders. They struck under a cover of Allied fighters while the RAF's Typhoon fighter-bombers went after military objectives in Northern France.

The renewed assault came on the heels of a U. S. Strategic Air Force headquarters announcement which said that the concentrated American air attacks on German aircraft factories have so reduced Nazi fighter production that every enemy plane shot down in combat now is a vital contribution toward knocking Germany's air force out of action.

68 Persons Marooned By California Storm

LOS ANGELES — (P) — Sixty-eight persons were reported isolated Thursday by mountain snows so thick that parked automobiles disappeared and resort visitors had to tunnel out of cabins.

Elsewhere in the Los Angeles area, the ending of a four-day storm found occupants returning to flood-damaged homes, railroad and highway crews restoring communications, schools reopened and workmen removing 750 wind-topped trees and truckloads of palm fronds.

A group of rangers and others carrying provisions started on snowshoes to the aid of 68 persons stranded in the Charlton flats area of the nearby San Gabriel Mountains.

American Task Force Sails Deep Into Central Pacific, Hits Mariana Islands

By MORRIS LANDSBERG
Associated Press War Editor
The sweeping offensive of American forces carrying their assault ever closer to Japan's home waters pointed up Thursday the growing peril of the enemy's positions in the Pacific.

A heavy U. S. carrier attack hit the Mariana Islands, 1,300 miles south of Tokyo, for the first time even as American fighting men won still another base in Eniwetok, West Marshalls, to extend operations against the core of Japanese island defenses.

The western end of New Britain "is now completely in our hands," Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced in a further development which qualified for "the crumbling of Nipponese strength in the Southwest Pacific."

Several hundred planes attacked Saipan and Tinian Islands, at the southern tip of the 15-odd Marianas, Tuesday in a raid probably made by the same carrier task force which ploughed into Japan's naval stronghold of Truk Feb. 16 and 17.

Salpan, chief of the group, is 120 miles north of Guam, American possession captured by the Japanese early in the war.

Both the Truk and Marianas assaults were commanded by Rear Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, skipper of the carrier Hornet when B-24 Army bombers took off for the 1942 raid on Tokyo.

Radio silence again delayed communication of details of the Marianas attack, but the naval units may have sailed there in search of the heavy Japanese warships which completed the conquest of Eniwetok to gain the second foothold in the Marshalls. Kwajalein was occupied completely Feb. 6.

Parry Island was the last to fall at Eniwetok, 380 miles west of Kwajalein. The Japanese had an estimated 3,000 troops on the entire atoll, but Pacific Fleet headquarters reported only 23 or more Nipponese were taken prisoner. American casualties are believed to have run low.

Marines from the north coast of New Britain effected a juncture with Sixth Army troops from Araware on the south to gain full control of the western portion of the 800-mile long island with the battered enemy fortress of Rabaul at the northeastern tip.

Nation's Agricultural Army To Have 'Task Force,' WFA Says

CHICAGO — (P) — The nation's agricultural army will have its own "task force" in the 1944 food production battle, a WFA expert said Thursday.

Col. Philip G. Bruton, War Food Administration director of labor, said the plan is to establish and maintain a mobile force of about 200,000 able bodied interstate and foreign workers who can be shifted on short notice to save threatened crops in critical labor shortage areas.

"The 'task force' would constitute only a small, emergency unit of the labor force of 12,000,000 persons who will be required at the peak of the nation's harvest if production of another record crop to meet war demands is accomplished, he said.

WFA officials meeting with extension directors and farm labor supervisors from 12 Midwest states in the third of four regional conferences said 4,000,000 of the total would be temporary or seasonal workers, including 800,000 women and 1,200,000 children recruited from cities, towns and villages in the U. S. Crop Corps community mobilization program.

Midland Launches Annual Red Cross War Fund Drive For $16,000 At Lions-Rotary Meeting

Midland launched its 1944 Red Cross War Fund campaign for $16,000 Thursday noon at a joint meeting of the Rotary and Lions clubs in Hotel Scharbauer.

Special gifts committees immediately started solicitation of the funds in the hope of concluding the drive at the earliest date possible. A house-to-house canvass of the residential district will start March 1.

Officials of the Midland chapter of the Red Cross, committee chairmen and active workers were guests at the program which was broadcast.

"We face our greatest disaster today," Mayor A. N. Hendrickson declared, "We are at war."

He explained the vast expansion in the Red Cross program and said "our soldiers need individual attention as surely as do airplane engines and machine guns."

"Through the Red Cross, we provide it. Put your money where you want it to go—to the boy in the service, America has never failed to give the Red Cross what it needs."

Paul F. Osborne, chairman of the Midland chapter, discussed its organization and activities and introduced chairmen of women's committees' and R. N. Skinner, Red Cross field director here.

Osborne also thanked the clubs for their cooperation in the campaign.

Work of the important home service committee was discussed by the Rev. Hubert Hopper, chairman, who said the Red Cross will go down in history for its great work during the war.

The work of the committee which assists men of the armed forces and their families with their problems was declared among the most important in the war effort for morale.

He told of emergency loans, emergency furloughs, applications for disability benefits and other matters in which the Red Cross home service committee aids servicemen and men returning from the armed forces.

Roy McKee, Rotary Club president, presided at the session.

"Americans are determined to fulfill their obligations to their men in the armed forces and so is their Red Cross," Mayor Hendrickson said.

"At His Side"
"As our troops march to victory, the Red Cross will march with them, not to kill, but to save lives, and be 'At His Side.'"

"Never in all Red Cross history have Americans failed to give what the Red Cross needed. With your help and mine, they will not fail in 1944."

Hendrickson explained the organization and work of the Red Cross, asserting it functions as an auxiliary to the Army and the Navy, serving "able-bodied men as well as the sick and wounded."

"All negotiations between belligerent nations are carried on through the International Red Cross in Geneva."

He said the American Red Cross now has 3,756 chapters and 6,000 branches in the United States and discussed the accomplishments of the organization.

Mayor Cites Statistics

During the last year, Red Cross camp and hospital workers gave personal aid to 3,800,000 U. S. servicemen, and 2,500,000 received assistance from chapter home service divisions. The Red Cross, he continued, collected 5,000,000 pints of blood, recruited 350 overseas clubs, recruited 50,000 nurses, enlisted 65,000 volunteer nurses' aides

Russians Grimly Closing Steel Claws On Pskov

LONDON — (AP) — The Berlin radio Thursday announced the Nazi evacuation of Dno, last important base east of the Baltic gateway city of Pskov.

LONDON — (AP) — Russian and German troops are fighting a bitter hand-to-hand battle in the streets of Dno for possession of that last important Nazi base east of the Baltic gateway city of Pskov, a Soviet communique said Thursday.

Pskov itself, 64 miles west of Dno, was threatened from two other directions by Soviet forces driving down from Strugi Krashoye, 44 miles to the northeast, and from the frozen marsh and forest country to the northwest, where troops of Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad Army last were reported 25 miles away.

Strugi Krashoye and 30 other localities were captured Wednesday by Govorov's left wing, the Moscow bulletin said. Gen. K. A. Meretskov's Volkhov Army smashed Soviet forces along the Staraya Russa-Pskov railway for 10 miles to breach the defenses of Dno, liberating more than 150 barilets on the way.

More than 2,500 Germans were killed on the north Russian front, Moscow declared, adding that "many German officers and men were taken prisoner."

West and northwest of Krivoi Rog, iron mine center in the Dnieper Bend far to the south, troops of Gen. Fredrik Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army wiped out 6,000 Germans and captured several Nazi-held communities as they pushed on toward the Bug River.

Here, it appeared, Nazi Marshal Fritz von Manstein might elect to make a stand against the Soviet drive on the approaches to Rumania.

While Moscow gave no details of fighting on other sections of the long front, a German communique admitted Wednesday that the Russians had broken through Nazi lines northeast of Rogachev, on the upper Dnieper River above Gornel, and that "heavy fighting" was "still going on."

Kimble, Andrews And Pecos Given New Explorations

By JAMES C. WATSON
Oil Editor
Locations for wildcats in Kimble, Pecos and Andrews counties have been reported.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Spiller, 1,980 feet from the east and 765 feet from the south lines of section 10, H. W. Chance survey, in North Kimble County, will drill to the Ellenburger.

The operator reports that the formation should come between 4,000 feet and 4,500 feet. Rotary material is being moved to location between Junction and Menard.

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 R. E. Sanders, 690 feet from the south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 32, block 11, H&G-N survey, is 7,800 feet east and south of the same operator's No. 2 L. H. Miller, a producer in the Wentz field in Central Pecos.

Proposed drilling depth is 4,500 feet with rotary, and digging is to start within the week.

Union Oil Company of California and Helmerich & Payne, Inc. No. 1-B M. A. Redus, 660 feet from the south and west lines of section 22, block A-31, psi survey, is one mile south of the nearest producing well in the Union pool of Northwest Andrews County.

Digging to around 7,500 feet for the Clear Fork pay is to start Feb. 28, with rotary.

Shell Oil Company, Inc. No. 1 Scarborough, one mile due north of the new Union location, had reached 7,726 feet in lime and was preparing to run a Schlumberger survey. This test had already shown enough to assure being completed for a producer.

No "Burger" in Wheeler
Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Wheeler, outpost to the discovery of Ellenburger production in East Winkler County, was coring under 10,600 feet. No call on the Ellenburger top had been made—indications were that something might develop within 24 hours.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company and Shell No. 1-A Wheeler was coring under 10,654 feet, and was also hunting Ellenburger. The operators reported a core from 10,550 feet, in which a recovery of two feet and nine inches of sandy shale

Sign In The Sky

A strange and wonderful little story has come out of Italy, sent by a London paper's correspondent with the Mediterranean fleet. Above the port of Anzio, he declares, Allied sailors saw a German plane being chased by its own glider bomb.

"When last seen," the dispatch concludes, "the Nazi plane was taking evasive action, grimly pursued by the missile."

Only the very obtuse mind, we feel, would choose to disbelieve this story. If it were contrived by the London correspondent, then he deserves to rank with Mrs. Shelley, who invented Frankenstein and his monster, or Goethe, who told the tale of the sorcerer's apprentice who set the broom to carrying water and then could not make it stop.

We cannot help feeling that a portent to Hitler appeared in the sky over Anzio. The rather amusing spectacle of his bearer of destruction being pursued, fury-like, by his own weapons, seems to us the perfect allegory of Nazism.

When Hitler conceived the godlike project of ruling and judging the whole world, and of dealing out catastrophic punishment to those who disobeyed, he violated the laws of heaven and earth. And most of the earth has risen up against him. Already the bombs with which he destroyed, or hoped to destroy, London and Rotterdam, Warsaw and Leningrad and Belgrade, have pursued him to his own great cities and are smashing them to rubble.

And it may be that the amazing incident of Anzio is a sign that heaven is rising up against him, too. We should like to think that, in this small miracle, God has given notice that he has become bored with Hitler (as Victor Hugo explained the reason of Napoleon's downfall) and that Hitler's usurpation of God's wrath has gone far enough.

A Natural Mistake

Poor Elmer Davis—nobody seems to listen to his admonitions. The other day, after a well-publicized family row in OWI was finally settled, Davis addressed to his overseas branch the hope that OWI could now keep out of the papers for a little while.

Two days later, OWI (overseas branch) was back in the public prints. The Republicans had jumped all over the agency for failing to identify Ohio's Governor Bricker as a presidential aspirant in shortwaving his remarks in Washington to overseas listeners.

Well, we don't blame OWI in this instance, even though the governor made the purpose of his Washington visit pretty clear. For even in this campaign year, an avowed presidential hopeful is so rare a bird as to be readily overlooked. It is now four months to convention time, and the only announced candidate with much visible chance of getting anywhere are Governor Bricker and Willkie, both on the Republican ticket.

Presidential aspiration is no longer a matter of thumped chests, belowed challenges and brass brands. Nowadays it seems to be marked by the modest blush, the averted eye, the indecisive answer.

This being so, OWI might be forgiven if it was looking for presidential candidates under mossy stones, instead of listening to Governor Bricker.

Political Hogwash Abundant

Everyone has his own ideas about what the fifth, sixth or umpteenth freedoms should be after the first four, but even this early in a presidential campaign, you begin to long for a day when there might be freedom from political bunk.

Maybe that's asking for too much. Freedom from fear and from want seem easy of attainment when stacked up alongside the ideal of achieving freedom from hokum and hooey out of the mouths of people running for office.

All you have to do to get a line on the 1944 brand of political palaver is to read, consecutively, the speeches of those citizens who, inspired solely by the highest of motives, have put personal ambition to one side in order to save their country.

No one party has a corner on this malarkey. If you have the idea that the Republicans are dishing out more demagoguery than the Democrats, that's simply because there appear to be more Republicans running for high office.

Changing World

If you don't think that the world is changing, reflect that it wasn't long ago when, in Soviet Russia, blouse, breeches and boots were dressy enough for any occasion, while Englishmen prided themselves on dressing each night for dinner, even in the remotest colonial jungle outpost.

Today, the Russian diplomatic corps has dress uniforms with more gold braid than the village bandmaster's uniform. While wartime London took its dinner jackets out of mothballs for the first time the other night—to attend an aid-to-Russia banquet.

was brought out. It did not show Ellensburg. Standline No. 1 Sealy-Smith recovered 12 feet of lime with light oil bleeding and no porosity on a core at 6,215-53 feet. The hole is now being reamed out to bottom to run a drillstem test.

No Shows In Brewster W. B. Hinton and Floyd C. Dodson No. 1 Texas American Syndicate, Brewster County lower Ordovician exploration, had run a drillstem test at 8,333-8,465 feet. The tool was open for one hour. There was a blow of air at the start, which increased throughout the period. The recovery was 2,010 feet of drilling mud, with no oil, gas or water.

The hole is to be drilled ahead to 8,500 feet, contract depth, and a drillstem test taken. A core had been pulled from 8,440-53 feet. The recovery was four feet of white and tan, fractured dolomite, with black splotches throughout, and light oil shows along the fractures.

Gulf Treats 12 Keystone Gulf No. 12 Keystone, Winkler County lower Permian prospector, recovered seven barrels of fluid in 12 hours of swabbing—44 per cent was fresh water, 54 per cent oil, and remainder residue. The operator was to treat with 500 gallons of acid through perforations in the casing at 4,775-92 feet, where 102 holes had been shot.

Sinclair Prairie Oil Company No. 4-A Walton had regained circulation and was drilling past 9,555 feet. Sinclair Prairie No. 1 Sara Campbell was digging below 9,950 feet.

Standline and Shell No. 2 Blue had reached 9,455 feet.

Gulf No. 46-O Keystone was boring below 7,708 feet.

Standline No. 1-B Cowden, North Central Ector County wildcat, had progressed to 10,465 feet.

Sinclair Prairie No. 1 Grisham-Hunter, Southwest Andrews lower Ordovician prospector, was making hole below 9,971 feet.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Carter, Central Andrews wildcat, was drilling past 10,653 feet in lime.

Humble No. 1 Scarborough, deep prospect in West Andrews, had penetrated to 7,912 feet in shale and lime and was drilling ahead.

Gaines Developments Continental Oil Company No. 1 Jones, Northwest Gaines wildcat, was making hole past 11,483 feet in lime.

Humble No. 1 Cox, West Gaines exploration, had progressed to 11,070 feet in lime.

King and Bay No. 2 Blair was digging below 7,707 feet in lime.

Snel No. 1 Jones was replacing salty mud with fresh water drilling fluid and getting ready to drill ahead from 5,000 feet, after testing shows of oil in the San Andres, which apparently did not develop anything of value.

Yaokum Wildcats Helmerich & Payne, Inc. No. 1 Higginbotham, Yoakum County wildcat, had reached 4,950 feet, and was drilling ahead in lime.

Schermerhorn Oil Corporation No. 1 Moss, Central Yoakum semi-wildcat, was making hole under 1,225 feet.

Seaboard Oil Company No. 1 Waples-Platter, outpost to the Waples-Platter pool, was drilling around 2,500 feet.

Humble No. 1 Fillingim continued to drill in lime and had bored under 5,450 feet.

Blackwell Oil & Gas Company No. 1 House, Northwest Kent County wildcat, was punching under 1,425 feet in lime.

Northern Ordnance, Inc. No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, Borden County prospector, had reached 2,458 feet in anhydrite and was going ahead.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1 Price, Southeast Pecos explorer, had reached 13,575 feet.

Co-Bras

GERMANY SCHEDULES ANOTHER PIG CENSUS

LISBON, PORTUGAL — (AP) — The Nazi press has warned German poultry raisers that hens are not producing enough eggs and has announced another pig and chicken census is scheduled to be held throughout Germany on March 3.

The pig census is primarily for the purpose of determining how many more safely can be slaughtered without endangering the country's future meat supply.

SLAVES OF SINATRA JUST CAN'T TAKE IT

NAUGATUCK, CONN. — (AP) — The SOS has disbanded because, one member explained, "others kidded us so much about it that we couldn't take it any longer."

The SGS consisted of a group of high school girls who met each Wednesday to listen to a certain radio program.

SOS stood for "Slaves of Sinatra."

tions at 4,999-5,009 feet could be squeezed off.

Sun No. 2 Keystone twisted off drill pipe at 2,518 feet, on the total depth of 3,059 feet in lime.

Superior Oil Company No. 1-C University, treated with 2,000 gallons of acid. Packer was set at 6,771 feet over the total depth of 7,015 feet. It kicked off after the acid without swabbing and was flowed into pits for awhile.

After being turned into tanks at 5:30 a. m. Thursday it produced 69 barrels of fluid in two and one-half hours. It was still cut with acid residue. Flowing to clean and test continues.

More Shows In Patillos The Texas Company No. 1 Patillos, Central Andrews exploration, cored in two sections from 4,290-4,300 feet and from 4,300-4,315 feet.

On first cut a 100 per cent recovery was pulled, and on the second section an eight and one-half foot specimen was secured. Both were sandy dolomite with scattered porosity, staining and bleeding oil.

The formation was rather tight and the shows were in streaks. Another core was being cut from 4,315 feet.

The Texas No. 6 Mabee, South-east Andrews extension effort, had reached 4,722 feet in lime after having shows of oil from 4,716-20 feet. A core was cut at 4,720-22 and a two-foot recovery was brought out. The hole had bailed out some free oil.

Texas No. 1 Goldthwaite, Crane Company exploration, cored 9 5/8-inch casing at 1,795 feet, on the bottom of 1,890 feet, in anhydrite, with 200 sacks.

Nazi Scout Planes Fly Boldly Over Smoking London

LONDON — (AP) — Smoke from fires set by German night raiders still rose over London Thursday as Nazi reconnaissance planes flew boldly over the city and touched off the first bona fide day alert the capital has experienced in many months.

Appearance of the German scouts, apparently checking damage done in the fourth sharp raid on London in six nights, underscored an RAF commentator's warning that the Luftwaffe has shifted strong bomber formations to France and presumably is ready to continue the current series of streamlined attacks.

Anti-aircraft guns roared into action as two enemy planes were spotted streaking over the capital at high altitude shortly after the breakfast hour. It was the first real daylight alert since last July 9.

Pope Declares Allies, Axis Can Save Rome

LONDON — (AP) — Rome is faced with a "growing menace" but can be saved from damage or destruction if the Allied and Axis powers adopt a policy of good will toward the Eternal City, Pope Pius XII declared Wednesday night, according to the Vatican radio.

On Tuesday the Vatican radio quoted the Pope as suggesting that the belligerents save Rome from destruction by an agreement similar to those which spared Cairo and Athens.

Police Arrest Woman For Attack On Soldier

Corp. John J. Hayes, negro soldier, was burned severely about the face late Wednesday when a negro woman hurled live water on him.

The woman who gave her name as Beatrice Grady, 23, surrendered to police after Hayes went to a hospital for treatment. She told officers the soldier went to her house, slipped her several times and refused to leave when she ordered him out. He is stationed at the Midland Army Air Field and was taken to the hospital there for treatment.

The woman was booked at the police station for "assault with intent to do bodily harm." Officers are investigating the case.

Court Attorney Joe Mims filed a criminal complaint against the woman. She was arraigned in Justice of the Peace B. C. Girdley's court and bond was set at $1,500.

SWEDEN WILL PROTEST DROPPING OF BOMBS

STOCKHOLM — (AP) — The Swedish foreign office announced a protest would be made to Russia Thursday in regard to bombs dropped on Stockholm Tuesday night, although Moscow already has declared officially they did not come from Soviet aircraft.

The foreign office followed an assertion by the official Swedish telegraph agency that Russian markings were found on the bomb fragments.

chamber, announcing bluntly to a crowd of reporters: "I have resigned."

He added that he had asked Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) to preside over the conference.

A six-member committee waited in Barkley's office, around the corridor from the caucus room, confident of his acceptance in view of the overwhelming vote of confidence.

The committee was composed of Senators: Thomas (D-Tiah) a staunch New Dealer; Connally (D-Texas), George (D-Ga.), Clark (D-Mo.), Tydings (D-Md) and Walsh (D-Mass.)

Connally piloted the passage of the Smith-Connally labor bill through the Senate over President Roosevelt's veto. All the others, except Thomas, have been at odds with the President from time to time.

Barkley told the Senate Wednesday he was quitting to save his "self respect."

Barkley told reporters that no fourth-term implications of any kind were to be drawn from his action.

"Are you for a fourth term?" a reporter asked.

Barkley said he had no comment on that question. "That hasn't got anything to do with this," he said.

Cheers and rebel yells broke out among Democratic Senators as Barkley, who broke with President Roosevelt over the tax bill veto, walked into a party conference which was fully primed to re-elect him majority leader.

Thirteen minutes late for the 9:30 a. m. CWT conference, Senator Barkley walked solemnly down the hall to the tumultuous reception.

"Nothing to say," he told reporters.

To a man, the assembled Democrats arose and gave him a rousing ovation before the door was closed for the executive session.

Barkley emerged Thursday probably the most potent Democratic presidential possibility outside the White House as a fighting mad Congress railed behind him in his sensational break with President Roosevelt.

Mr. Roosevelt himself, moving swiftly to head off a revolt that promised, in the eyes of some observers, to elevate Barkley to the foremost ranks of presidential possibilities this year, expressed a hope that the Kentuckian's resignation would not be accepted. He urged Barkley, in a telegram addressed "Dear Alben," not to resign.

BROTHERS TO GET PAY FOR BOMBING MISHAP WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Roosevelt has signed a bill (HR 3504) for the payment of $7,674 to M. J. G. W., and Ovid Wade, Eldorado, Texas, brothers, for losses which occurred Nov. 28, 1942, when an Army plane in bombing practice dropped a bomb on their ranch, killing 499 sheep and destroying fencing and burning 3,200 acres of grass.

Governor Dewey Will Accept GOP Draft

NEW YORK — (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York will accept a draft nomination for the presidency but he will not alter in any way his determination not to become an active candidate before the Republican convention in June.

That was the interpretation placed Thursday by intimates of the governor on his action in telegraphing his "strongest disapproval" of the course taken by 24 candidates in filing petitions at Madison for election as supporters of Dewey in the April 4 Wisconsin primary.

Dewey apparently sealed the door against any exit from the position he has taken that he is not seeking the nomination, but is not saying beforehand what he would do if it came to him.

Wedding Vows Of Martha Richard And Sgt. Watson Read

Miss Martha E. Richard of Washington, D. C., daughter of Charles A. Richard, Stephens City, Va., and Staff Sgt. Conrad Watson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Watson of Midland, were united in marriage Saturday evening in the LAAP post chapel at Laredo. The double ring ceremony was performed by Chaplain George L. Reuschler. Palms and candles formed the decorations.

The bride wore a melon pink suit with navy accessories and carried a hand corsage of mixed white flowers. The bridegroom's parents were the only attendants.

Sergeant Watson is a graduate of Midland High School. In April 1941, he entered the Army and has seen service in Canadian and Caribbean theaters. Mrs. Watson is a graduate of Stephens City High School and Strayer College, Washington, D. C.

The couple will reside in Colorado Springs, Colo.

Lt. R. B. Allen Weds Miss Lillie M. Roney

The wedding of Miss Lillie Mae Roney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Roney of this city, and Lt. R. B. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allen of Campbellton, Texas, was solemnized Saturday evening in the first Baptist Church. The Rev. Vernon Yearby read the double ring ceremony.

Attendees for the couple were Miss Bernice Allen, the bridegroom's sister, and Thurman Bryant, brother-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Allen was dressed in a navy blue suit with brown accessories and wore a gardenia corsage. Her maid of honor wore a blue suit and gardenias.

The bride was graduated from Midland High School, and the bridegroom attended college in Kingsville, Texas. They will reside in this city until he has finished his bombardier instructor training course at MAAF.

Carefree comfort and tops in styling go hand in hand in this cotton seersucker dirndl dress worn by Frances Rafferty, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star. The patch pockets make it an excellent dress for around-the-house wear, while the embroidered scalloped edging adds a smart touch for street wear.

Mrs. Buffington Reads Play At Study Club

Mrs. L. G. Byerlee was hostess to the Fine Arts Study Club Wednesday evening at her home, 1802 West Wall. A play, "Harriet" by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements, was read by Mrs. B. K. Buffington.

The following were guests: Mesdames Harvey Sloan, George Glass, M. C. Ulmer, H. L. Bray, G. H. Northey, and Lloyd Mills. Members present were: Mesdames Foy Proctor, Nelson Puetz, E. H. Barron, Lee Cornelius, J. Howard Hodge, O. J. Hubbard, Roy Parks, Miss Lydie Watson, and the hostess.

Social Situations

THE SITUATION: You are engaged to a man in service who is stationed in this country and you would like to visit him.

WRONG WAY: Decide to surprise him, going to his camp without letting him know.

RIGHT WAY: Write and tell him that you would like to visit him, leaving it to him to decide the most convenient time. Also, be sure that you have a place to stay before you start out, as in army towns it is usually necessary to make hotel reservations far in advance. (The girl who decides to surprise her service man with a visit, is likely to find him on maneuvers on his way to another camp, or too busy to have any time to spend with her. Besides, a surprise visit makes a girl seem a little too possessive, a little too sure of her man.)

The Marine Corps Romance that began with Calumet

—as told to Kate Smith by Mrs. William D. Sayle

"WHEN I was a girl I toured the Midwest and the South as a Calumet demonstrator," writes Mrs. William D. Sayle, of Crane, Ind. "And that's how I met my husband. He was just out of the Marine Corps (World War I) and he was working for Calumet, too, calling on grocery stores.

"Since those days our whole family have become Calumet fans—my mother, mother-in-law, and my daughter and daughter-in-law. "And now my husband is back in the Marines again. And I am still praising Calumet!"

"YOUR FAMILY is the loyal kind, I can see that, Mrs. Sayle," Kate replies. "Of course, we all understand why in the case of our gallant Marine Corps!

"But we women who do home baking understand your loyalty to Calumet, too—it's because of that famous Double-Action that makes success so sure.

"I'm sending you a rather out-of-the-ordinary Calumet recipe—for an oven-steamed pudding. It's easy, and it's low on the war-scarce ingredients—which is mighty important these days when 'Food Fights for Freedom!'

Try Kate's Oven-steamed Pudding

1½ cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons shortening
1 egg, beaten until thick and fluffy
¾ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

• Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift together three times. Cream shortening. Add dry ingredients, egg, ½ cup milk, and vanilla and beat until smooth. Add remaining milk and beat ½ minute longer. Turn into greased individual molds, filling ½ full, or into greased 1½-quart baking dish. Cover with brown paper and tie securely. Place in pan and add hot water to depth of 1 inch. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 55 minutes, or until done. Serve hot with any favorite fruit or pudding sauce.

• Or turn batter into greased top of double boiler. Cover and cook over boiling water 1 hour, or until done. Note: To vary flavor, add ½ teaspoon grated orange or lemon rind. (All measurements are level.)

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or easily passing water with smarting and burning sometimes shows there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Turn Leftovers Into Nutritious Croquettes

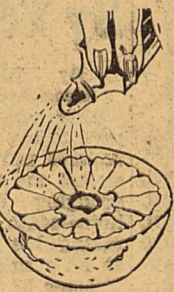

Vegetable croquettes use left-overs deliciously.

By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Staff Writer

Try Salt on Grapefruit For a New Taste Thrill

With vitamin-rich grapefruit now in season, the nation's largest manufacturer of table salt has launched a novel advertising idea aimed at promoting the use of this fruit as one of the two government nutrition experts say should be included in a balanced daily war-time diet.

Crisp, piping hot croquettes please everyone. As a nutritious way of using leftover meat and fresh vegetables, they are important in the war kitchen.

Meat Croquette Triangles Two cups cubes or ground cooked meat, 1 cup very thick white sauce, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 1 teaspoon ketchup, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon water, fine crumbs, lard.

Combine meat, white sauce, onion, parsley, ketchup, and Worcestershire sauce; season with salt and pepper. Spread mixture in 3 or 4 inch square pan. Chill thoroughly. Cut in squares; cut each square in half diagonally. Beat eggs with water. Dredge meat triangles in crumbs; dip in egg, dredge again in crumbs. Melt lard in large deep skillet; heat to about 370 degrees F. or when 1-inch cube of bread browns in 40 to 50 seconds. Fry triangles about three minutes, turning once to brown on both sides. Drain on unglazed paper. Serve with ketchup or sauce if desired. Makes 12.

Vegetable Croquettes for Lenten Dinners Use any cooked or canned vegetable such as corn, green beans, carrots, peas, green lima beans, or a combination of these vegetables. Substitute an equal amount of chopped vegetable for the meat specified in the above recipe and follow directions for preparing croquettes above. Croquettes may be cut in squares, rolled in balls, cones or any shape desired.

Nelson And Wilson To Visit Texas War Plants This Week

BEAUMONT —(P)— War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson and WPB's vice chairman Charles E. Wilson were expected to reach here by plane Thursday night from Washington to inspect Texas war plants.

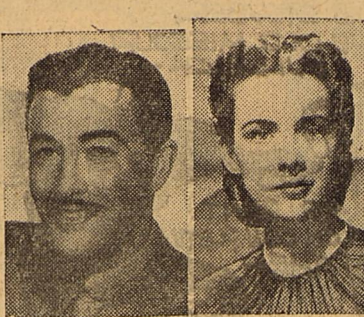

Their Texas schedule calls for an inspection of the Beaumont area Friday morning, a trip to Houston in the afternoon, visits to Baytown Saturday afternoon and to Texas City and Velasco Sunday.

The two men plan to spend Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights in Houston and to leave there Monday morning for Washington.

Nelson had planned originally to meet in Dallas Saturday with southwestern civic and industrial leaders but his itinerary was changed. In Washington, he said he might stop over briefly in Dallas either on his way to Beaumont or on the return journey.

State Democrats To Close Funds Drive With Big Dinner

DALLAS —(P)— State Democratic leaders here say the response to a month-long campaign to raise $106,000 in Texas for the Democratic Party has been "generous," but add no definite figures are available because reports from some districts are incomplete.

The campaign will be climaxed here with a dinner Saturday night, when Democrats from over the state gather to hear an address by Robert E. Hannegan, chairman of the National Democratic Committee.

Hannegan, with Ambrose O'Connell, national committee vice-chairman, and Ed Pauley, committee treasurer, was expected here at noon Thursday.

Former governors of Texas and the governors of Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana and Arkansas have been invited to the banquet. Gov. Coke Stevenson of Texas, former Gov. Pat Neff of Waco, Gov. Homer N. Adkins of Arkansas and Gov. Robert S. Kerr have accepted.

Texas Hospital Group Names Payne President For 1945 Term

DALLAS —(P)— Lawrence Payne, administrator of Baylor University Hospital here, has been named president-elect of the Texas Hospital Association and will assume his duties in 1945.

Other new officers selected here Wednesday during the organization's convention included Harold Prather, Sherman, first vice-president; R. O. Daugherty, Houston, second vice president; Sister M. Anella, Abilene, third vice president; Tol Terrell, Fort Worth, and Thomas Head, San Angelo, members of the board of trustees; Robert Jolly, Houston, and Harry Hatch, Amarillo, delegates to the house of delegates, American Hospital Association.

Miss Eva M. Wallace, Fort Worth, president-elect the past year, was installed at a dinner Wednesday night.

HOUSE MEMBER WORRIES OVER FOREST INDUSTRIES

WASHINGTON —(P)— Representative Brooks (D-La.) said Wednesday that a slow down of production in the forest industries "is affecting the war effort in all parts of the United States."

Brooks is chairman of a subcommittee studying a bill to defer from military service workers in logging, cutting of pulpwood and other forest industries.

Women's Jumper

Lots of women would like to wear a smart jumper frock but think it is too youthful a style. This one is just right, because of the clever handling of the shoulders, the trim, well-fitted belt and the slimming line of the buttoned skirt front.

Pattern No. 8552 is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 jumper, requires 3 3/8 yards of 39-inch material; blouse, 2 1/4 yards.

For this attractive pattern, send 15 cents, plus one cent for postage, in coins, with your name, address, pattern number and size to the Reporter-Telegram, Today's Pattern Service, 830 South Wells-St., Chicago, Ill.

Ready NOW, the spring issue of Fashion, just 15 cents. Complete. Full of brand new wardrobe ideas.

Pepper Martin Again Will Wear St. Louis Cardinal Uniform

OKLAHOMA CITY — (AP) — John Lenard Martin, alias "Pepper" — the culprit of many a stolen base, is going back to the old gang of his, the St. Louis Cardinals.

Martin, "the Wild Horse of the Osgage" who held a lifetime batting average of .297 when he quit the big leagues in 1940, disclosed his plans to climb into a Cardinal uniform again after a series of conferences with President Sam Breadon.

'Flying Dutchman' To Observe 70th Birthday

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Honus Wagner, oldest active man in a major league baseball uniform, observes his 70th birthday Thursday — but with only 33 candles on his cake.

"This is my 33rd year in National League uniform," smiles the bandy-legged "Flying Dutchman" of baseball's rough-and-ready era. "Besides I don't feel 70 anyway. I feel more like 33."

Bowling

The Yellow Cab Field No. 2 team, bowling approximately 90 pins a game over its average, easily won three games from the Scharbauer Hotel keepers and bettered its lead in the City Bowling League leadership.

Tech Sgt. Billy Delabano of the Yellow Cab team started with a 223 game Wednesday evening and had a 586 series, only one pin shot of Sgt. Bill Stribling's high series for the night.

Honolulu broke the three way tie for second place by winning two games from Robertson's Sinclair while Mackey Motors' team worked hard to win one of its three games from Weaver Wilson's Service.

Plamor Palace improved its league standing by taking two games from Cameron's Drug bowlers.

NEW YORK — (AP) — All that Gil Dodds needs to be to break the indoor mile record Saturday is to run six inches nearer the inside rim of the track — and maintain his usual speed.

Expert observers, noting that Gil usually runs 18 inches from the border, figure that he travels eleven yards more than the mile, which is measured a foot from the rim.

Glen Cunningham used to run inside that line.

Puerto Rican boxers, who won two New York Golden Gloves titles last year, are coming up again with a team that includes five southpaws — and they expect to win four titles.

Class A Basketball Regional Play Starts

By The Associated Press

All district champions have been named and regional play begins Thursday night in the Class A division of Texas schoolboy basketball.

The winners of the eight regional tournaments will go to Austin next week for the state meet.

Included in the field of district champions is Sidney Lanier of San Antonio, which won the 1943 state title.

In the Region 1 tournament opening Thursday night at Plainview, district champions and runners-up will compete from Districts 1, 3 and 4, while District 2, which played in two sections, will send both its champions, Phillips and Lakeview. Other teams in the tournament will be Dimmitt, Matador, Lovelland, Friona, Sudan and Floydada.

Other regional tournaments:

- Region 2. Throckmorton, Kermit, Dublin and Cross Plains.
- Region 3. Crowell, Nocona, Alvarado and Gatesville.
- Region 4. Buckner home (Dallas), Plano, Quinman and Mount Vernon.
- Region 5. London, Sabine, Huntsville and Huntington.
- Region 6. Cypress-Fairbanks, Nederland, Texas City, and El Campo.
- Region 7. La Grange, Lampasas, Lockhart and Sidney Lanier.
- Region 8. Hondo, Beville, Benavides and La Feria.

ADVANCED AIR HEADQUARTERS, ITALY — (AP) — There is nothing like victory to keep up the morale of a fighter squadron, but a little quiet merrymaking on the side is important, too. This is as true of the 99th all-Negro squadron as of any other.

The 99th is the black pearl of the Allied Air Forces in Italy. It has a mascot, a seven-piece swing band, a five-man choral society and 17 virtues.

Its officers live in a clean Italian villa that belonged to a Neapolitan doctor, and the men in a stone and brick schoolhouse.

This is the first roof the 99th has had since it came abroad.

The 99th's villa has only one fireplace, so the boys have been busy improvising stoves out of fuel cans. Even so, some of the men are hospitalized with colds and such.

One of the brightest elements of the 99th is 11-year-old Junior Davis, who was annexed in North Africa after a bomb had left him orphaned and homeless. He got his name from Col. Benjamin O. Davis, former commander of the squadron. Junior is the pride of the camp and is as near to heaven as men will ever be in his life. When the battle for Sicily was underway they flew him to Sicily, and he was on the invasion of Italy.

The 99th says it wants to adopt Junior after the war and take him to the United States.

The special service division of the squadron, where the band hangs out, is on the ground floor of the school house. There is a library and a congregation of musical instruments. Sergeant P. Alexander, Waterbury, Conn., is the arranger, composer and leader of the orchestra.

"In Sicily we gave a public demonstration for the people right in the street. It was the first time they'd ever heard swing," he said. The band plays the hospitals regularly wherever the squadron moves, averaging three bookings a week. It has a "slot" singer who doubles in jive and operates generally in the low-down blues manner. It also has another soloist who sings only sentimental numbers. "Talk about Bing Crosby," says Master Sgt. Alexander Crawford, Dayton, O., who handles the bull fiddle.

A pilot of another squadron was flying over Sicily one day when a strange thing happened. He switched on his radio and what did he hear but some fancy barbershop harmonizing. Everywhere he turned he ran into close harmony and it startled him because he wanted to ask for important information and the close harmony boys were drowning him out. He had picked up three pilots of the 99th, coasting wing to wing somewhere out in the blue. The song they were harmonizing was "I Love You Truly."

'For God's Sake Let Us Be Friends,' Mexican Consul Says

TEMPLE, TEXAS — (AP) — The Mexican consul at Austin, Luis L. Duplan, says that "we must practice the good neighbor policy across the border, but across the track, too."

"Mexico and the United States were made neighbors," he said in an interview here Wednesday while visiting McCloskey General Hospital with Mrs. Duplan. "We have been and will be neighbors as long as the world lasts. For God's sake let us be friends."

He said 15,000 citizens of Mexico living in this country when war was declared are serving with the U. S. armed services, and many thousands more of Mexican blood and ancestry also are fighting with Americans.

The consul and his wife talked, at the hospital, with soldiers of Mexican blood and citizenship wounded in action with the U. S. Army, most of them in Italy with the 39th Division.

The War Today — Tojo Gives Allied Chiefs Pointer By Telling People Of Truk Disaster

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

This column has found nothing good to say about Gen. Hideki Tojo, Japan's militaristic premier, but it strikes me that we must give him grudging credit for the great horse-sense he has displayed in taking his people into confidence at once in the matter of Nippon's disaster at Truk.

Indeed it must be admitted reluctantly that, just as the Allied nations probably could learn some useful tricks from the devil himself, so in this instance they could get a pointer from Tojo. The general didn't wait for weeks or months before disclosing the seriousness of the defeat to his public.

"Naturally Tojo didn't tell the exact truth; he isn't capable of it. However, he wasn't so far off the beam, and he served the people hot mustard.

He told them Japan had suffered "losses greater than the enemy's," in fact he bluntly stated that she had lost 18 ships (we claimed 19). He said that "the war situation is truly grave" that events "by no means permit optimism," and that "the empire is literally standing at the crossroads of a rise or fall."

Of course, Japan's head gangster is wholly selfish in thus exposing the facts. He needs the support of all Japan, for he knows that armies and navies are helpless unless of public is back of them. Winning wars is a complete partnership.

Japanese vice admiral Ogasawara made the quip that "most probably if it had been America they would have kept it secret for a year." Well, "military necessity" or what not has impelled the authorities to keep back important information for long periods in some cases, and presumably that's what he was tilting at.

In short, there's a disposition in some official quarters — and this is true on both sides of the Atlantic — to view their publics as lacking understanding. The man in the street hasn't the stability to withstand adverse news, and he is likely to get over-optimistic if he receives good reports.

Personally in traveling about our country I've found the general public mighty understanding and quite capable of thinking for itself. Anyway, the rank and file feel that this war is their show and they want full participation in it. News is the prime essential. In a general way the American public understands the position, but many people are telling me that they lack the "feel" of the thing, and most of them say they think they've been "shielded" too much from distressing news. They ask for that full partnership.

California Governor May Ask Extension Of Water Treaty Hearing

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Representative Hinshaw (R-Calif.) said Wednesday he had learned that Governor Warren of California would ask Chairman Connally (D-Texas) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to postpone hearings on the recently-signed water treaty between the United States and Mexico from March 20 to some date in April.

Hinshaw said the governor wanted more time to collect data to support contentions that the treaty would extend benefits to Texas at the expense of California and jeopardize agricultural and municipal expansion in Southern California.

McEACHERN ARRAIGNED ON ROBBERY CHARGE

CARLSBAD, N. M. — (AP) — Robert McEachern, who fled from the Huntsville, Texas, prison while serving a life sentence for murder, Wednesday pleaded innocent to charges of robbery with a deadly weapon and his bond for appearance in district court was raised from $2,000 to $5,000.

McEachern was captured last week at Artesia. The New Mexico charge resulted from a hold-up at a grocery store here.

TOMORROW FAIR

By Winifred Halsted

Copyright, 1943, Winifred Halsted—Distributed, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Kitty Bishop comes to the suburban home of her brother, Ben Graham, and his wife, Peg, to recuperate from her sudden divorce from Collins, a meteorically successful young lawyer. Kitty had rebelled when the increased importance of her career made him apparently neglect her. She makes a hit with ebullient Mac MacGregor and her-necker Randall Seaton. Mag Seaton is jealous.

AS the days sauntered by, Collins' blank silence began to bother Peg as much as his earlier close supervision of Kitty's affairs through Ben.

One evening while Kitty was upstairs keeping Sara Ann awake by hilarious and prolonged good-nights, and Jane and Bunnie were temporarily out from under foot, Peg seized her chance to ask Ben out loud if he heard from Collins during the day.

"Now Peg," remonstrated Ben, "what do you expect?"

"Be detached," she said coldly, "be aloof. You aren't fooling me. I tell you what I wish. I wish I had a shotgun."

"What in the world do you think you—" "I don't know what to think. They may be divorced but he could ask how she was, couldn't he?" I think Collins Bishop is being very rude."

This particular criticism struck Ben as so funny that he laughed until he heaved. Peg said angrily that she had never supposed he could be so indifferent to Kitty's happiness.

"I'm not," Ben was injured. "It was you that struck me funny. You sound as though you expected him to come around and buy a party call or something."

"Well . . . but what would you do, Ben? Pretend you're Collins and imagine how your mind would work. Go on, use a little imagination. You know, like the story: pretend you're a donkey and where you'd go if you were a donkey."

"I'm not Collins and I'm not a donkey. Thank God twice, because I'm not suited to either life. There's this side of it, Peg. If I were Collins and you were Kitty, and you were away from me and there was any possibility I didn't feel good about it, I certainly wouldn't talk to you, even on the telephone, if I didn't have to."

"Why not?" "What do you think your voice would do to me?"

"Why, Ben!" said Peg. She was overcome. "Why, Ben . . ."

"Bless you, my children," said Kitty affably, and they leapt guiltily apart. "I'm no prude, if his intentions are honorable. I shan't raise an eyebrow. Hear anything from Collins today, Ben?"

"No," grunted Ben.

The blush that always gave Peg away tinted her brilliantly. "I did," said Kitty. "He's in San Francisco. I wish you'd stop worrying, Peg. . . . It was a very polite letter. Guess what—he's been busy. I shall write politely back and say I haven't got the storage warehouse receipts."

Jane burst in, a stumpy pencil clutched like a weapon in her fist. She went at her lessons with the murderous crouching approach of Joe Louis and long division was driving her mad by not collating at her first swing.

Ben sighed patiently, realizing that he and Jane would have to get the best of their homework before he earned his dinner.

WHILE Ben worked away at long division, Collins Bishop sat hunched in a corner of the airline bus on his way from La Guardia Field into New York.

He had returned from an unexpected and hurried trip to San Francisco by air, overtaking his letter to Kitty, and his head was still full of the motor hum of planes, and of tags and knots of legal phrases that circulated wearily in his mind. Nevertheless, ured though he was, the prospect of the adequate but spiritually antiseptic hotel room he looked forward to drew his mouth into a somber line. He decided it was the vastness, not the legal intricacies of the war order contracts he'd been working on, and the still greater vastness of problems and conflict they implied, that wore him down. Then he tried to persuade himself he was depressed because it upset the psyche to jounce across the continent so fast. At any rate, it distracted him from his real troubles to make up theories. He was tired of coming back from somewhere to nobody. But Collins knew it weakens to question a course once you've chosen it. He set his jaw.

THE morning dawned bland and sunny as though spring along the eastern seaboard were always that way, instead of usually producing a crop of colds in the head that outloomed the daffodils. Kitty felt perfectly in tune with the April day. She beamed encouragingly upon Sara Ann who was busily throwing all the magazines in sight on the floor. She marveled at Peg, born a good citizen and entangled like a maypole in strands of community activities. Kitty was content for the moment not to do anything but savor the fact that she felt happier than she had in a long time. Around the middle of the afternoon Peg announced that she had to go downtown and speak sharply to the Grand Atlantic.

"Want to come?" she asked Kitty.

On the way to the Grand Atlantic Kitty reflected how much she liked Doremus and his friendly informality. And, having been a migratory city child, she was fascinated by her pleasant but confused impression that Peg and all the village functionaries had been in seventh grade together.

"Well, Peggy," said the butcher in the Grand Atlantic, "what'll it be today?"

Kitty wandered off to look for the Clapp's strained vegetables. Peg had instructed her to find and, rounding a beautiful pyramid of cans, came face to face with Mag Seaton.

"After winning the first trick, South led a spade, and Scheuer (West) allowed North's queen to win. Now all North had to do was to lead the jack of hearts, which South would win with the ace and lead another heart. But North made the mistake of playing back a spade. Dummy's nine was played, forcing South's king and West won with the ace. A diamond was ruffed in dummy and a trump led.

Now South made the mistake of playing low and Scheuer won with the queen. He led a club, cashing the king and ace, discarding a diamond from his own hand. He ruffed a small club, and at this point was careful to play his spade before South could discard on the club. The jack of spades held and another club was ruffed, then the ten of diamonds was ruffed with dummy's last trump. Now South could win only his ace of hearts.

45th Division Soldier Compiles Booklet For Men Returning To That 'Strange Land,' United States

By DON WHITEHEAD

ALGIERS—(P)—There is no longer any need for American soldiers returning to the United States to feel uneasy about what they will find in that strange land.

All the answers are condensed in a booklet known as "Soldier's Guide to the United States," compiled by an anonymous member of the 45th Division somewhere in Italy.

Following is an expurgated condensate of this new guide:

Introduction:
You have been assigned to duty in the United States and the helpful rules of conduct contained in this pamphlet will be of great assistance in cementing a greater friendship with the civilian population. The impression you create will cause the native to judge all soldiers, therefore it is important to be polite, courteous, generous but at all times firm. Naturally, having been overseas, you have automatically become a leading authority on practically everything, and your opinions will carry great weight. A practical plan of entering into any conversation is to preface all remarks as follows:

"Now when we landed in North Africa," or "when we landed in Sicily." This will silence all other conversation and secure instant attention.

Historical background:
The United States was discovered and immediately had trouble with the Indians. It seems that eventually they were all placed on certain tracts of land where oil was subsequently discovered. Of course the Indians were immediately chased out and later rounded up and placed in the 45th Division.

Food:
The staple articles of diet are meat and potatoes, and pie. Everything is rationed, but you will soon make your black market connections and do all right.

Drink:
The natives are moderate drinkers and the sight of a drunken man creates consternation. The shortages being what they are, naturally they want to know where the hell he got it.

Dress:
Clothing is strictly rationed and a vest is a rare sight indeed.

Entertainment and sports:
Cinemas range from first class to mediocre. Baseball and football are the leading sports.

Traffic keeps to the right of the road as in Sicily.

The family and women:
Like ourselves, to the American family life is everything. It is true, of course, that in recent years young girls have acquired more liberty in their movements. Don't think, however, that you are going to find it easy to pick up a respectable girl without running a risk of a first class row.

Language:
The American language is difficult but you will soon pick up enough to make your wants understood. As to pronunciation, some vowels are pronounced separately and then again others are not.

Other points to note are:

OY is pronounced ester.

OF is pronounced enl.

C before AO U is pronounced as C before A O U.

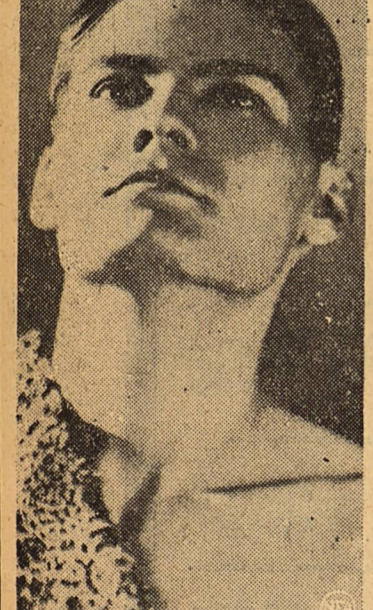

Z is pronounced, but you won't run into this one often.

Weights and measures:
One kilo equals two pounds, two pounds equal one kilo. One quart—you won't see this much; practically everything comes in fifths now.

With the above hints you should get along quite well with the Americans.

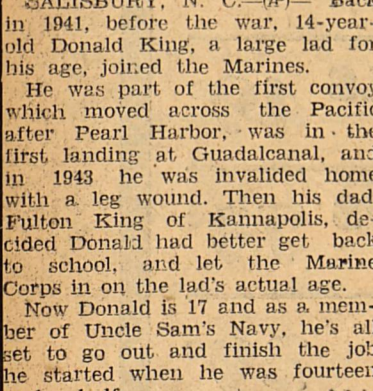

ANSWER: When it's a tailor's goose, or smoothing iron.

Tillman's Sally Ann Bread Contains Important Vitamins And Minerals

Bread is basic. The word "basic" is the watchword of wartime America. It is the byword of America's bread.

Our fighting forces start with basic training. They are taught the use of basic weapons—produced by basic industries, working with basic materials.

America is fighting for basic principles—and Uncle Sam is recommending that we eat basic foods. The word "basic" is heard everywhere.

Bread, a fundamental in everyone's diet, is basic and long has had that rating. It is one of the finest sources of food-energy.

And Tillman's Sally Ann Bread, known as "Tomorrow's Bread Today," bases its modern methods of production on "better bread for better nutrition."

Contains Important Vitamins

Sally Ann Bread contains important amounts of vitamins and mineral factors. It is inexpensive and helps to make other foods go further.

Nutritionists recommend bread and the government includes enriched and whole-grain bread in the "basic seven" food groups which should be eaten every day.

Sally Ann Bread contains 10 per cent more natural protein per pound of bread—plus increased growth development through fortification of wheat protein. It is protein rich. Added are calcium, phosphorus, iron and other minerals. It has, for example, 30 per cent more iron than ordinary enriched bread.

Bywords at Tillman's Bakery, 119 South Main Street, are such slogans as more nutrition per pound of bread, greater uniformity, better keeping qualities, and consumer acceptance. On those sound planks, the business has developed.

Nutrition Food

The enrichment standard is based primarily upon the dietary needs of the population as a whole. Nutritionists believe increased amounts of vitamins and iron, which reach the public through low cost, universally accepted staples like bread, will contribute materially to the maintenance of good health and vitality in people.

Sally Ann Bread is something much more than a delicious con-

Death Of Texas Marine In Pacific Breaks Up 'Pop-Son' Battle Team

(The following story was written by Sergeant David Dempsey, of New York City, a Marine Corps combat correspondent, and distributed by The Associated Press).

NAMUR, KWAJALEIN ATOLL, MARSHALL ISLANDS — On this windswept coral island in the Pacific, death ended the story of a boy's devotion to his dad.

It is a story of the efforts of father and son to be together through two years of Marine Corps service. The son, a young Marine who stowed away on a ship to get overseas "because he wanted to be with pop," was killed in action. He is Pfc. Jack H. Brown, 19, of Childress, Texas. The father, Corp. Earl Brown, 44—a veteran of the U. S. Army in World War I—made two trips to the Marine base at San Diego, Calif., and wrote to Washington to convince authorities that he wasn't "too old." He wanted to be with son Jack, who enlisted in March, 1942.

Jack and Pop finally got in the same company at a West Coast Marine training camp. When it was time for the outfit to ship out, young Brown was hospitalized with a minor illness and transferred to another unit not scheduled to go over. Pop boarded the ship alone.

Just before the ship was to sail, son Jack was found stowed away. He was taken off and placed under arrest.

Corporal Brown's wife, Madie, telephoned the general in command of the camp, told the story of her husband and son's efforts to be together. The general ordered the charges against the boy dropped and allowed him to join the combat outfit with his father.

Jack hit the beach first, went into one of the bitterest actions of the battle, and was killed during the night when our forces held off a desperate Jap counterattack. It was his first time under fire but his buddies say he fought like a veteran.

"Pop" will go on fighting.

Woman War Reporter Rare Sight In East

By NEA SERVICE

NEW YORK—New Yorkers are staring with frank interest these days at a new and rare type of feminine U. S. Army uniform—that of a woman war correspondent.

The wearer is Rosette Hargrove, staff writer in Britain for NEA Service, the world's largest newspaper feature organization. She has just arrived here on brief leave from her London post.

Mrs. Hargrove for many years was known to American newspaper readers in another role—as a Paris fashion authority whose peacetime dispatches from the French capital were widely published in the hundreds of U. S. and Canadian papers that are NEA clients.

When the Germans advanced upon Paris, she fled across the channel to England—with her then 12-year old daughter—in a slow, coal-carrying vessel. She then joined NEA's London staff and has covered a wide variety of general assignments throughout the war.

She will visit several cities during her stay in America. Her correspondent's garb is virtually a replica of a U. S. Army officer's uniform, with regulation war correspondent's insignia on the left sleeve.

Living Up To A Motto

Living up to the motto, "The Largest and Best Assorted Stock of Furniture in West Texas," during war time is no easy task but Barrow has made every effort to live up to the slogan and has succeeded admirably in the face of severe difficulties.

By combining volume buying with business contacts built up during more than 35 years of service, Barrow has been able to secure well rounded stocks of furniture and home furnishings despite government restrictions that have slowed manufacturers' production and deliveries.

New merchandise is coming in daily. Many of the items arriving were only recently ordered by Barrow representatives who attended the recent furniture marts.

The firm has a good assortment of bedroom and living room suites

Manana Dawns In Mexico Boom Comes To Industrial Region And Playground Below Rio Grande

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY—Travelers who drop over the mountains into Mexico City, expecting to find a sleepy old town, are likely to be kept awake by the traffic.
The siesta is finished. Manana came with the World War.
Mexico City is now a bustling city of 2,000,000.

The real estate boom is comparable to those experienced by Southern California and Florida in the early 1920s. There are large sections of the city that out-do Hollywood and Beverly Hills. Blocks of palatial new homes, and never two alike. Apartment houses.

Skyscrapers pop into the air. Jose A. Cuevas and other engineers are beating the earthquake threat with floating houses in the watery hill soil.

Narrow Mexican streets are being widened into boulevards.
You can't get into a hotel without a reservation.
War Seems Far Away

Night life is as gay as the last time you saw Paris. Indeed Mexico City, free and easy, has taken its place as the Paris of the Americas.

A dollar is worth 4.85 pesos, but don't kid yourself too much about this apparently favorable exchange. A drink of Scotch for example, costs 3 1/2 pesos, or about 70 cents, the same as in the States. At the ritzier taverns it's nothing to see a 15-peso dinner advertised. But if you want to get away from the American pace, you can eat and live reasonably.

There is no general rationing. The war seems very far away, and every day is spring in this historic city 7,200 feet above sea level.

The government is stabilized and industry, free of tax for five years, is moving in. Mexico, rich in minerals, has what industry needs—fuel, labor and hydroelectric power. Mexico can ship to as many places as easily as any spot on earth.

There are steel mills in Monterrey. American Rolling Mills is building a $6,000,000 sheet steel plant on the border. Tom L. Girder of Republic Steel is on the ground.

Wealthy refugees are contributing to the upswing—industrially and otherwise.

There is no shortage of material of any kind. The Land of Montezuma is one of brick and cement. Labor is skilled and plentiful. Workmen who would get $2 an hour in the States are paid from five to nine pesos a day. Sam Rosoff, the subway builder, is constructing a 17-kilometer water tunnel some miles outside Mexico City which will reclaim 1,000,000 acres of desert. A railroad terminal, subway and natural gas plant are planned.

Oil, mining and cattle are the main industries, but a sizable buyers' market has developed in silverware, Mexican jewelry, textiles, fabrics, leather goods and novelties. The breeding of thoroughbred horses has come with the finest race track in the world.

The Spanish-speaking motion picture industry has assumed major proportions.

Why it took a World War to make tourists discover Mexico is difficult to understand. It is a gorgeous country with matchless mountains and beach resorts. You could spend a year in Mexico City alone and see something entirely new and historic every day.

With the boom come night clubs. Ciro's and Sams Sotei are the sickest and there is nothing like them in New York.

Many Wealthy Visitors
To give you a rough idea of the kind of money represented by visitors in Mexico, here is a partial list of people I saw during one night at Ciro's: Bernard E. Smith, the Sell-Fin Short Ben of Wall Street; Clint and Kenneth Murchison, John L. Sullivan and T. P. and Bill Morgan of Texas Oil and horses; Doyle Cotton of Oklahoma oil; Buffalo Kennedy of Tampico oil and cattle; Duncan McMartin, of tin and the Royal Canadian Air Force; C. Leroy King, wholesale druggist; Henry S. Horkheimer, Baltimore broker; Fred Weicker, Mexican rancher who is on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange; Sam Rosoff; Tom Girdler; Peter Rathbone, president of RKO; Charles Skouras, president of Fox West Coast Theaters; Lou Angerer, head of United Artists Theaters; Bryan Foy, 20th Century-Fox pro-

Start Leap Year Day With Special Breakfast

The Leap Year Girl serves a hearty breakfast.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Tuesday is Leap Year Day—the extra day calendar makers allow "designing" women every four years. Loving wives should know that a bountiful breakfast keeps a man happy—also well and on the job. So begin serving better breakfasts.

Oatmeal Bacon Muffins
(Makes 12)

One and one-third cups milk, 2 cups rolled oats, 1 cup flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 tablespoons bacon drippings, 1 egg, 1/4 cup chopped crisp bacon.

Add milk to rolled oats. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar; blend in bacon drippings. Add oat mixture. Beat egg, add. Stir until mixed. Add bacon.

ducer; Joe Schenck; Fred L. Mills of Chicago; Pat Doherty, of the Pruett starting gate and owner of immense Nevada ranch; Charles Getherson of Diesel engines; and Fred Ingles of Los Angeles. Also King Carol of Rumania, Madame Lapesque and A. C. Blumenthal, who owns the joint.
War hasn't hurt Mexico a bit.

Pour into greased muffin pans filling 2/3 full. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) about 25 minutes.

Oatmeal With Apples
(For Leftover Cooked Oatmeal)
(Serves 4 to 6)

Two large apples, 3 tablespoons sugar, 2 cups cooked oatmeal.

Peel, core and slice apples. Place in bottom of a casserole. Sprinkle with sugar or honey and spread with cooked oatmeal. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes or until apples are tender. Serve with cream and sugar.

Rains Save Dairy Production But Only Subsidies Can Save Prices

By ANN STEVICK
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—It isn't raining rain, or violets either; it's raining ice-cream for you—next summer. That's how ice-cream manufacturers see the midwest rains which broke up the long drought. With continued drouth cutting feed supplies for dairy cattle, drastic cuts would have been almost certain.

The War Food Administration is estimating on the bright side of next summer's milk supply. They expect the 60 per cent ice cream quota to stay through the summer, and calculate that no further cut in civilian cream consumption will have to be made till next November. However, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics has warned that there will be a good deal less wheat for feed in the first six months of 1944. Milk production may fall off to the point where cuts will have to be made in the output of all dairy products. The price of milk is certain to increase unless a change of congressional heart takes place on subsidy payments for dairy feed.

Experimental work has shown that such ingredients as oat meal, soy flour and other cereals could be satisfactorily used to bolster milk supplies for ice-cream. However, most state laws do not allow have passed laws allowing the use of minute percentages of substitute materials for the duration. If the milk shortage is severe, there may have to be more leniency in state regulations to help out the ice-cream supply.

Post-War Peanut Plan
Peanut butter which stays fresh over a long period and in hot weather is a post-war possibility. It can be done with glycerin. When war needs for glycerin are cut back, there will be a surplus for such uses. Chocolate candy bars that maintain their composure in tropical weather are already being made for military consumers. You will have them too after the war.

Odds And Ends
There have been more fresh coconuts in markets than ever before because the shortage of prepared coconut from the Philippines and other South Pacific Islands encouraged the importation of coconuts from the Caribbean Isles, even at high prices. The new ceiling prices on fresh coconuts will probably bring on more production of the grated product. Demands from bakers and confectioners, as well as the armed forces, will use up most of it. . . . Some 2140 motorcycles will be made for essential civilian use in 1944, but police agencies and private protection agencies will have first call, so a mere civilian would have to show drastic need to get one.

FUNGUS GROWTH "VISIBLE"

The world's fastest growing plant is said to be a fungus native to Hawaii. It increases in size so rapidly that its growth can be seen with the human eye.

Used Cars Take OPA For Ride

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—At the Office of Price Administration, they're wrestling with one of the toughest problems in months—how to stop skyrocketing prices of used cars.

Already there have been reports from some areas that the high prices of used cars are slowing up the war effort. Workers who must travel long distances to their jobs and can't afford this high-priced transportation are finding work nearer home, regardless of whether it is essential.

According to information received here, three-year old used cars in some sections are selling 75 to 80 per cent over the cost of the car when it was new. In some instances, this has brought the cost of some of the least expensive cars to around $1,500.

What is the answer? Price ceilings and maybe rationing. Why hasn't OPA done something about it before? The resistance of industry. Dealers say ceiling prices would force many of them out of business, necessitating the closing of many repair shops, carried as a sideline. These repair shops are badly needed to keep the nation rolling. It is estimated that at least 20,000,000 cars must be kept moving if wartime transportation is to be maintained adequately.

A second factor is the fear of creating a new black market that could be worked between individuals. It would be almost impossible to prove that a "premium" was paid over the ceiling price.

The third problem is one of price-

ing. Although a base value can be established for used cars, it is impossible to establish the value of a used car by the make, the year it was turned out, and the number of miles on the speedometer.
The talk now is that there might have to be two types of ceilings—one on guaranteed reconditioned cars sold by dealers and another on cars sold by individuals.

Also there is no assurance that ceilings can be established that will keep used cars rolling into the market—an essential factor if war work is to be maintained. Serious shortages of used cars in the big war industrial centers would affect the whole war program.

GERMAN PRISONERS MAKE OWN DYES

RUSTON, LA.—(AP)—German prisoners at a camp near here have shown remarkable ingenuity in coloring underwear for soccer uniforms, reports Col. Alexander Adair, camp commanding officer.

Source of some of the colors is still a mystery, he admits, but it was learned that the prisoners were getting yellow by using malaria pills that had been issued to them in Africa, red from mercurochrome and blue by boiling their outer garments.

Explorers called New Guinea "Island of Gold" in the 14th century, but the name was not justified until 20 years ago when British explorers hit "pay dirt."
