Will We Remember?

If victory in Europe is in sight as General Montgomery says, it is coming none too soon. For a Germany somewhat farther removed from defeat would surely unveil new types of destruction more frightful than anything yet seen. The flying bomb is a good sample.

These missiles have taken nearly 5,000 lives. They have destroyed or damaged 1,000,000 dwellings. They have forced evacuation of more than 500,000 persons from London, and preparations to evacuate a million more.

Hitler's "secret" weapons" are no longer a joke. Some have failed, like the small remote-control tank. Others, such as the one-man torpedo and the radio-controlled bomb, have been only slightly effective. But the jet-propelled fighter plane is not to be laughed off. Neither is the possibility of the "V-2," probably a rocket bomb or a big pilot-guided version of the flying bomb.

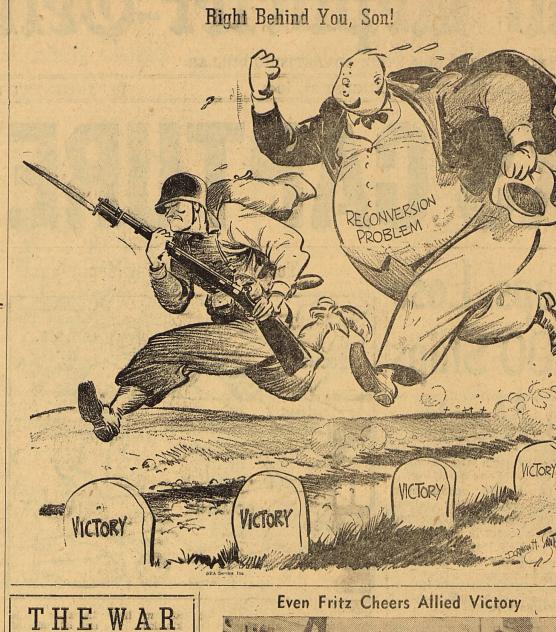

What else may be in store is limited only by the time and ingenuity at Hitler's disposal. Certainly no humanitarian considerations will deter the Nazis from fulfilling their promise to make the last days of the Third Reich a bloody nightmare for Europe. Hints of chemical or bacierial attacks are too frequent to be entirely ignored.

Fortunately Hitler did not give up hope of victory by traditional warfare until too late. When he did, in the happy significance. case of the flying bomb, British espionage and British air power threw him off schedule and relayed the robot attacks until after the French invasion. Even so, the flying quarters of the winding River bomb, though apparently too inaccurate for anything short of large city areas, has brought much disruption and has tied up a sizable segment of air power to fight it.

Time, power and ingenuity are on our side today. Hitlerites. While Hitler puts his last hope on secret weapons, the United Nations are crushing his armies and finding anti- launched a great offensive from dotes for the new destruction he has displayed.

Poland Gropes Cautiously Up From Nazi Heel

By DANIEL De LUCE LUBLIN, POLAND-(P)-A Po-land unbroken in spirit after five years as a Nazi slaughterhouse gropes courageously Thursday for a new life of freedom and peace.

In Lublin, 35 miles behind the Red army front and 700 miles from Moscow, a provisional government of Poles exercises wide authority without the appearance of foreign interference.

Catholicism continues as the state religion and priests teach in the public schools. Church property and ands are untouched

A peasant market thrives in an open square where the Germans had razed to the ground a section of Lublin's medieval ghetto, and the only control on prices there is the law of supply and demand.

Forming New Army Thousands of young Poles, most of them still in civilian clothes, for uniforms are scarce, drill in the cobblestoned streets under grizzled veterans of guerrilla warfare-recruits for a Polish army that is ex-pected soon to be a half million men and women. A few score Jews, all that are left of the pre-war ghetto poulation of 40,000, never can offace the memory of the German terror but in this new Poland—whose national committee includes a prominent Zionist-there are no barriers of race or creed against them.

Anti-aircraft guns bark on the outskirts of Lublin and high flying German observation planes are a daily sight. The stench from the infamous Majdanek Prison Camp, where it is estimated 600,000 or more death within view of Lublin's cath-ederal spire, becomes a nauseating, reminder when the wind is from the Poland still is in the agony of war. Lublin citizens know their kinfolk have been dying by thousands in the smoldering ruins of Warsaw. But here, where Poles sit in the highest government offices, Polish judges and police conduct the administration of justice and Polish newspapers forecast an era of pro-sperous democracy, Polish price and hope are reborn.
